

Daniel Caderas

Head Global Tactical Asset Allocation APAC
BlackRock

Daniel Caderas, CFA, CAIA, FRM, Managing Director, is a member of the Global Tactical Asset Allocation (GTAA) team within BlackRock's Multi-Asset Strategies & Solutions group. He is a portfolio manager and researcher with a focus on global macro across discretionary and systematic strategies. Daniel leads the GTAA APAC business. He is based in Singapore.

Daniel joined BlackRock in 2017. Prior to BlackRock he was a fund manager at Schroders where he managed Multi-Asset portfolios across total return, benchmark relative and absolute return mutual funds and segregated mandates, based in Europe and Asia. Before that Daniel worked for Interactive Brokers's European market making and proprietary trading unit Timber Hill as a cross-asset equity finance trader in Switzerland. He started his career as a trader and sales trader in equity finance and equity derivatives trading & sales with Julius Baer in Switzerland.

Daniel earned a BSc degree in Business Administration with a major in Banking & Finance from University of Applied Sciences Zurich in 2009. He is a Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA), a Chartered Alternative Investment Analyst (CAIA) and a Certified Financial Risk Manager (FRM).