

Darren Phua

Head of Fixed Income Advisory,
International Wealth Management

Darren is the Head of Fixed Income Advisory at Nomura based in Singapore. Darren has more than two decades of experience in financial industry spanning market risks, credit trading, portfolio management and fixed income sales across various regulatory regimes and jurisdictions.

His appointment preceding Nomura was as Head of ASEAN Credit Sales for HSBC where he led a team in charge of sales coverage to both institutional investors and private banks in credit investments.

Prior to that, Darren was based in Shanghai with HSBC China Bank Limited as Head of Fixed Income Sales, tasked to build up the fixed income business, to time with the opening up of China's capital market.

Darren holds a Bachelor of Arts and Social Sciences (Merit) from National University of Singapore where he majored in Economics and Political Science.