Co-Founder
Tor Investment Management

Christopher Mikosh is the Portfolio Manager and Co-Founder for Tor Investment Management, a leading independent alternative credit manager focused on the Asia-Pacific corporate and real estate credit markets. Chris has over 30 years of direct credit investing and trading experience.

Prior to TOR, he was Managing Director of the Asian Special Situations Group (ASSG) at Goldman Sachs (2000–2012). While at Goldman, Chris sat on the Asia Risk Committee and the Board of Goldman Sachs (Asia) Finance, the firm's main investing entity in the region. Chris also sat on the Liquid Investing Committee for Non-Japan Asia, the Liquid Investing Committee for Japan, and the Illiquid Investing Committee in the US. Prior to Goldman, Chris spent four years at Lazard Frères as a desk analyst and then as Head Trader of the distressed and high-yield debt desk. Prior to that, he spent two years as a banker in Chase Securities' high-yield origination group.

Chris earned a dual BS in Finance and Computer Science/Management Information Systems from Boston College. He is a member of the board of the Christina Noble Children's Foundation.
