

Sir Tom Scholar

Chair of Nomura International plc and Nomura Europe Holdings plc, and of Santander UK plc

Tom Scholar is the chair of Nomura International plc and Nomura Europe Holdings plc, and of Santander UK plc. He was previously Permanent Secretary to the UK Treasury (2016-22). In his earlier civil service career he was the UK's Executive Director at the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank (2001-07), Chief of Staff to the Prime Minister (2007-08), managing director and then second permanent secretary to the Treasury leading the department's work on financial stability and international issues (2008-13), and senior adviser to the Prime Minister on European and global economic issues, and the UK's G7, G20 and EU Sherpa (2013-16).