The Singapore Subsidiary acquired the business/ assets of Affle Global on July 1, 2018, which has been accounted with effect from April 1, 2018, i.e., the beginning of the earliest period of consolidated financial statements presented under IND AS pursuant to the fact that our Company, the Singapore Subsidiary, the Indonesian Subsidiary and Affle Global are under the common control of Affle Holdings, our corporate Promoter.

The Restated Ind AS Consolidated Summary Statements have been compiled from the audited consolidated financial statements of the Group as at and for the year ended March 31, 2019. As there are no audited financial statements of the Group for the comparative period, no comparatives are presented in the Restated Ind AS Consolidated Summary Statements.

On February 16, 2015, the Ministry of Corporate Affairs, Government of India (“MCA”) issued the Ind AS Rules for the purpose of enacting changes to Indian GAAP that are intended to align Indian GAAP further with IFRS. The Ind AS Rules provide that the financial statements of the companies to which they apply shall be prepared in accordance with Ind AS. Further, SEBI issued a circular (no. SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL/CIR/P/2016/47) dated March 31, 2016, which provides certain clarifications on the accounting framework to be applied by issuer companies filing draft offer documents with it. We have transitioned to the Ind AS accounting standards with effect from April 1, 2016.

Indian GAAP and Ind AS differ from accounting principles with which prospective investors may be familiar in other countries, including International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRS”) and the Generally Accepted Accounting Principles in the United States of America (“U.S. GAAP”). Accordingly, the degree to which the Restated Financial Statements included in this Red Herring Prospectus will provide meaningful information is entirely dependent on the reader’s level of familiarity with Indian accounting policies and practices. Any reliance by persons not familiar with Indian GAAP, Ind AS, the Companies Act, the SEBI ICDR Regulations and practices on the financial disclosures presented in this Red Herring Prospectus should accordingly be limited. We have not attempted to quantify the impact of IFRS or U.S. GAAP on the Restated Financial Statements included in this Red Herring Prospectus, nor have we provided a reconciliation of the Restated Financial Statements to those under U.S. GAAP or the IFRS and we urge you to consult your own advisors regarding such differences and their impact on our financial statements.

Although proforma financial information giving effect to the Vizury Transactions is not required under the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Issue of Capital and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2009 as amended (the “SEBI Regulations”). The Proforma Financial Statements for the Vizury Transactions have been prepared by considering that identifiable assets were acquired, and the liabilities assumed were measured, at their acquisition date fair values. The Proforma Financial Statements, because of their nature, address hypothetical situations and therefore do not represent our actual financial position or results of operations. For more details, see “Financial Information-Proforma Financial Statements” on page 228. Our Statutory Auditors have provided no assurance on the Proforma Financial Statements and have performed no services with respect to it.

4. Our Statutory Auditors have included an emphasis of matter and certain modifications to the information required to be disclosed pursuant to the Companies (Auditor’s Report) Order, 2015, as applicable, on the financial statements as at and for the year ended March 31, 2015 and Companies (Auditor's Report) Order, 2016, as applicable, on the financial statements as at and for the years ended March 31, 2019, 2018, 2017 and 2016 in their reports on our Company's audited financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2019 and certain previous fiscal years.

In its report on each of (a) the audited unconsolidated financial statements of our Company as at and for the year ended March 31, 2018, (b) the audited unconsolidated financial statements of our Company as at and for the year ended March 31, 2019 and (c) the audited consolidated financial statements of our Company as at and for the year ended March 31, 2019, our Auditors included an emphasis of matter, drawing attention to a note in the financial statements which indicates that our Company has accounted for a business combination under common control using the purchase method in accordance with previous generally accepted accounting principles, resulting in the recognition of goodwill amounting to ₹ 59.24 million, as prescribed under a court scheme, instead of using the pooling interest method as prescribed under Ind AS 103 Business Combinations, since the approved court scheme prevails over applicable accounting standards.

Our Auditors have also included certain modifications in the annexures to their audit reports on the financial statements of our Company as at and for the years ended March 31, 2015, 2016, 2017, 2018 and 2019 pursuant to the Companies (Auditor's Report) Order, 2015, as applicable, on the financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2015 and Companies (Auditor's Report) Order, 2016, as applicable, on the financial statements for the years ended March 31, 2019, 2018, 2017 and 2016 that pertained to: (a) undisputed statutory dues, including provident fund, employees' state insurance, income-tax, duty of custom, duty of excise, goods and service tax, cess, professional tax and other statutory dues, have generally been regularly deposited with the appropriate authorities though there has been a slight delay in a few cases (for Fiscal 2019); (b) undisputed statutory dues, including provident fund, income-tax, sales-tax, customs duty, excise duty, and cess, have been regularly deposited with the appropriate authorities though there have been significant delays in few cases of service tax and ESI (for Fiscal 2018); (c) undisputed statutory dues, including provident fund, income-tax, service-tax, cess and other statutory dues, have not been regularly deposited with the appropriate authorities and there have been serious delays in a large number of cases (for Fiscal 2017); (d) idle/surplus funds not being gainfully invested in fixed deposits (during Fiscal 2016), (e) undisputed statutory dues, including provident fund, income-tax, service tax, cess and other material statutory dues, have not been regularly deposited with the appropriate authorities and there have been serious delays in large number of cases (during Fiscal 2016), (f) undisputed statutory dues, including provident fund, income-tax, service tax, cess and other material statutory dues, have not been regularly deposited with the appropriate authorities and there have been serious delays in a large number of cases; (g) the provisions relating to employee's state insurance, sales tax, wealth tax, custom duty, excise duty and value added tax are not applicable to the Company (during Fiscal 2015); and (h) certain undisputed statutory dues being outstanding for over six months (in Fiscal 2015). For further details, see "Financial Information" on page 227. Potential investors should consider these matters in evaluating our financial position, cash flows and results of operations.

5. If our ability to collect significant amounts of data from various sources is restricted by consumer choice, restrictions imposed by customers, publishers and browsers or other software developers, or changes in technology it may have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

Our ability to optimize the delivery of mobile ads for our customers depends on our ability to successfully leverage user data, including data that we collect from our customers, data we receive from our publisher partners and third parties and data from our own operating history. Using cookies, device identifiers and similar tracking technologies, we collect information about the interactions of consumers with our customers' and publishers' digital properties (including, for example, information about the placement of ads and consumers' shopping or other interactions with our customers' websites or ads, information about apps used, clicks or other actions initiated, in-app actions and purchases by users). Our ability to successfully leverage such data depends on our continued ability to access and use such data, which could be restricted by a number of factors, including consumer choice, restrictions imposed by customers, publishers and web browser developers or other software developers, changes in technology, including changes in web browser technology and new developments in, or new interpretations of, laws, regulations and industry standards.

Consumer resistance to the collection and sharing of the data used to deliver targeted advertising, increased visibility of consent or “do not track” mechanisms as a result of industry regulatory and/or legal developments, the adoption by consumers of browsers settings or “ad-blocking” software and the development and deployment of new technologies could have a material adverse effect on our ability to collect data or reduce our ability to deliver relevant ads, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

Further, there is a risk that web browser developers, such as Apple Inc. (“Apple”), Microsoft Corp. (“Microsoft”) or Alphabet Inc., which owns “Google”, may implement changes in browser or device functionality that impair our ability to understand the preferences of consumers, including by limiting the use of third-party cookies or other tracking technology or data indicating or predicting consumer preferences. These web browser developers may have significant resources at their disposal and command substantial market share and any restrictions they impose could foreclose our ability to understand the preferences of a substantial number of consumers. For example, Apple launched its Intelligent Tracking Prevention (“ITP”) feature in its Safari browser in September 2017, which blocks some or all third-party cookies by default on mobile and desktop and therefore makes it more difficult for third-party providers, such as us, to access data on Safari consumers.

(Source:<https://techcrunch.com/2017/09/15/apple-defends-new-ad-tracking-prevention-measures-in-safari/>)

Further, Apple has announced measures to address concerns regarding privacy and data collection by social media companies. In June 2018, Apple further announced that it would make it more difficult for websites to track users, build profiles of them and provide ads to them around the internet. (Source: <https://www.apple.com/newsroom/2018/06/apple-previews-ios-12/>). Safari users will further be notified where an application attempts to track their data. Similarly, search engines and other service providers that explicitly do not allow the tracking of data, such as DuckDuckGo, Inc., have been growing and may continue to grow in popularity. There can be no assurance that developers will not release technology that further inhibits our ability to collect data or that regulators will not challenge the transparency of our solutions. In addition, the adaptations to our offering that we have implemented or may implement in response to browser changes like Safari’s ITP feature may prove objectionable to regulators, customers, consumers or others and changes in legal regulations or interpretations of legal regulations regarding data protection could prevent or prohibit the implementation of such adaptations. If we are blocked from serving ads to a significant portion of mobile users, it could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

Furthermore, by restricting our access to data, browser features such as Safari’s ITP feature diminish the overall quantity of the data we collect on consumers and by extension, our ability to consistently predict consumer engagement towards advertising content. If we are unable to mitigate the impacts of any such browser features on our business for a substantial period of time, as a result of such diminution in collected data, the accuracy, effectiveness and value of our solutions could be materially impacted.

Beyond browser-based tracking, both Apple and Google provide advertisement ids. While these are explicitly for advertisement purposes, the rules may change affecting the capabilities for tracking user behaviour across events and sessions. Currently, Apple and Google enable users to reset these ids or even disable them.

Further, third party and user-data is also amenable to tampering, inflated or altered, and our use of such data could reduce the accuracy of our recommendation and predictive algorithm.

Any of the foregoing limitations on our ability to successfully collect, utilize and leverage data could also materially impair the optimal performance of our solutions and severely limit our ability to reach and engage consumers with our customers’ ads, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

6. Regulatory, legislative or self-regulatory developments regarding data protection could adversely affect our ability to conduct our business.

The legal, regulatory and judicial environment we face around data protection and other matters is constantly evolving and can be subject to significant change. Various governments have enacted, considered or are considering legislation or regulations that could significantly restrict our ability to collect, process, use, transfer and pool data collected from and about consumers and devices. Trade associations and industry self-regulatory groups have also promulgated best practices and other industry standards relating to targeted advertising. Various governments, self-regulatory bodies and public advocacy groups have called for new regulations specifically directed at the digital advertising industry and we expect to see an increase in legislation, regulation and self-regulation in this area. Additionally, public perception and standards related to the privacy of personal information can shift rapidly, in ways that may affect our business or influence regulators to enact regulations and laws that may limit our ability to provide certain products and services. Any failure or perceived failure by us to comply with Indian or foreign laws and regulations, including laws and regulations regulating privacy, data security, or consumer protection, or other policies, public perception, standards, self-regulatory requirements or legal obligations, could result in lost or restricted business, proceedings, actions or fines brought against us or levied by governmental entities or could adversely affect our business and our reputation.

In particular, legislative, judicial and regulatory developments in Europe, including the General Data Protection Regulation, or GDPR, the review of the E-Privacy Directive Amendment and country-specific laws pursuant thereto, may reduce the amount of data we can collect or process from persons in the European Union, which in turn could materially impact the accuracy, effectiveness and value of our services in Europe. As at March 31, 2019, our Affle Consumer Platform had approximately 330 million consumer profiles in Europe. For Fiscal 2019 on a consolidated basis, our revenue from contracts with customers from countries in Europe was 11.0% of our total revenue from contracts with customers. The GDPR came into effect on May 25, 2018 and significantly increased the level of sanctions for non-compliance. Data protection authorities will have the power to impose administrative fines of up to a maximum of €20 million or 4% of the data controller's or data processor's total worldwide global turnover of the preceding financial year.

The Indian Supreme Court, in a judgment delivered on August 24, 2017, held that the right to privacy is a fundamental right, following which, the GoI set up a Committee of Experts under the chairpersonship of retired Justice B.N. Srikrishna ("Srikrishna Committee") to examine issues around, and draft a legislation on data-protection in India. The Srikrishna Committee submitted its final report and a draft Personal Data Protection Bill, 2018 ("Data Protection Bill") to the Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology on July 27, 2018. The Data Protection Bill proposes a legal framework governing the processing of personal data, where such data has been collected, disclosed, shared or otherwise processed within India, as well as any processing of personal data by the State, Indian companies, Indian citizens or any person or body of persons incorporated or created under Indian law. The Data Protection Bill defines personal data and sensitive personal data, prescribes rules for collecting, storing and processing of such data and creates rights and obligations of data-subjects and processors. The Data Protection Bill underwent public consultation until late 2018. As on date, the Data Protection Bill, in a potentially updated form, is expected to be tabled in the seventeenth Lok Sabha in its first session. Additionally, the Indian government has across sectors, displayed its intent to require data including personal information to be located locally within India. See "Regulations and Policies" on page 171 for further details.

Data protection laws in the United States are a combination of legislation, regulation and self-regulation rather than just government enforcements. Laws such as The Health Insurance Privacy, Portability and Accountability Act are for specific sectors and there is no common regulatory body that acts as a common data protection authority. The country also does not have a common legislation at the federal level regarding this but has ensured data privacy through the United States Privacy Act, the Safe Harbor Act and the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act. In some cases, legislations have been developed when self-regulation was challenging. (Source: Frost & Sullivan Report)

In addition, although the consumer information we retain relates primarily to purchase intent and does not permit us to personally identify individual consumers, the interpretation of “personally identifiable information” (“PII”), personal data (both directly and indirectly, identifying information) and sensitive data and our obligations relating thereto, may vary from one country to the other. In some countries, operating a local data centre is compulsory for the processing of PII. Moreover, in certain countries, the legal requirements surrounding PII are so new that their impact on doing business is not yet clear.

If all types of PII (whether they allow direct identification of a person or whether they only permit the singling out of a person without identifying them) are treated the same way, thus requiring an opt-in for the processing of browsing data, our business could be materially impacted. Evolving definitions of PII may require us to change our business practices, diminish the quality of our data and the value of our platform, or hamper our ability to expand our business to new geographic markets.

Clarifications of and changes to these existing and proposed laws, regulations, judicial interpretations and industry standards can be costly to comply with and we may be unable to pass along those costs to our customers, which may negatively affect our results of operations, cash flows and financial condition. Such changes can also delay or impede the development of new products, result in negative publicity and reputational harm, require significant incremental management time and attention, increase our risk of non-compliance and subject us to claims or other remedies, including fines or demands that we modify or cease existing business practices, including our ability to charge per action or click. Additionally, any perception that our practices or products are an invasion of privacy, whether or not such practices or products are consistent with current or future regulations and industry practices, may subject us to public criticism, private class actions, reputational harm or actions by regulators, which could disrupt our business and expose us to increased liability.

Regulators globally are also imposing greater monetary fines for privacy violations and some regulators may pass legislation that would impose fines for privacy violations based on a percentage of global revenues. Responding to an investigation or enforcement action could divert attention and resources of our management, which would cause us to incur investigation, compliance and defence costs and other professional fees and adversely affect our business, operating results, financial condition and cash flows.

We strive to comply with all applicable laws and regulations and industry standards relating to privacy and data collection, processing, use and disclosure. However, these laws, regulations and standards are continually evolving and often unclear and inconsistent across the jurisdictions in which we do business, and the measures we take to ensure our compliance with these may not be successful. For example, our ability to comply depends in part on our customers’ adherence to privacy laws and regulations and their use of our services in ways consistent with mobile users’ expectations. We rely on representations made to us by publishers and data platforms that they will comply with all applicable laws, including all relevant privacy and data protection regulations. We make reasonable efforts to enforce such representations and contractual requirements, but we do not audit our customers’ compliance with our recommended disclosures or their adherence to privacy laws and regulations.

If our customers fail to adhere to our contracts in this regard, or a court or governmental agency determines that we have not adequately, accurately or completely described our own products, services and data collection, use and sharing practices in our own disclosures to consumers, then we and our customers may be subject to potentially adverse publicity, damages and related possible investigation or other regulatory activity in connection with our privacy practices or those of our customers. If customers, publishers or networks on whom we rely fail to obtain the legally required consent, we could potentially be liable under these guidelines and could suffer damages, fines, penalties and reputational harm.

7. If we fail to predict an engagement by consumers with mobile ads with a sufficient degree of accuracy, it could have a material adverse effect on business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

Our Consumer Platform primarily provides the following services: (1) new consumer conversions (acquisitions, engagements and transactions) through relevant mobile advertising; (2) retargeting existing consumers to complete transactions for e-commerce companies through relevant mobile advertising; and (3) an online to offline (“O2O”) platform that converts online consumer engagement into in-store walk-ins. Our Enterprise Platform primarily provides end-to-end solutions for enterprises to enhance their engagement with mobile users.

Our Consumer Platform comprises the following:

- our “Affle” branded consumer intelligence platform that deliver consumer acquisitions, engagements and transactions through relevant mobile advertising (the “Affle Consumer Platform”);
- our “RevX” branded mobile only self-serve programmatic platform that delivers consumer acquisitions, engagements and transactions through relevant mobile advertising (the “RevX Platform”);
- our “Vizury” branded retargeting media business for e-commerce companies and our push notifications offerings for e-commerce companies on a software as a service model (the “Vizury Commerce Business”); and
- our “Shoffr” branded online to offline platform that converts online consumer engagement into in-store walk-ins and transactions (the “Shoffr Platform”).

For Fiscal 2019 on a Proforma Basis, revenue from our Consumer Platform contributed 97.2% of our revenue from contracts with customers. For Fiscal 2019 on a consolidated basis, revenue from our Consumer Platform contributed 97.0% of our revenue from contracts with customers.

We primarily earn revenue from our Consumer Platform on a cost per converted user (“CPCU”) basis, which comprises user conversions based on consumer acquisition and transaction models. Our consumer acquisition model focuses on acquiring new consumers for businesses, which is usually in the form of a targeted user downloading and opening an App or engaging with an App after seeing an advertisement delivered by us. Our Consumer Platform’s transaction model is usually in the form of a targeted user submitting a lead acquisition form or purchasing a product or service after seeing an advertisement delivered by us. Our Consumer Platform also earns revenue through awareness and engagement type advertising, which comprises cost per thousand impressions (“CPM”), cost per view (“CPV”) and cost per click (“CPC”) models.

We have to pay for mobile ad inventory regardless of whether or not the consumer takes an action needed for us to earn revenue (e.g., download an App). As the amount of data and number of variables we process increases, the risk of our systems not working at the required level increases. Although the accuracy of our prediction and recommendation algorithms used by our Consumer Platform usually improves as we gather more data, the calculations that the algorithm must compute become increasingly complex as we gather more data and there is a chance that its accuracy will decrease. If we fail to predict engagement by consumers with mobile ads with a sufficient degree of accuracy, this may result in the delivery of ads that are less relevant or irrelevant to consumers, which would lower profitability per action, up to and including negative margins. This may have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

8. The market in which we participate is intensely competitive and we may not be able to compete successfully with our current or future competitors.

The market for mobile advertising solutions is highly competitive and rapidly changing with multiple regional and global players. Although it is dominated by digital giants such as Google and Facebook, there are over a hundred companies around the world who offer one or more components of this solution. However, only a few companies/groups operate internationally, including, among others, us, InMobi, Criteo, Tradedesk, Freakout, Mobvista and YouAppi. (Source: Frost & Sullivan Report). For more information on competition, see “Industry Overview–Advertising Technology Market” on page 134.

Some of these companies could leverage their positions to make changes to, among other things, their web browsers, mobile operating systems, platforms, exchanges, networks or other products or services that could be significantly harmful to our business and results of operations, cash flows and financial condition. Some of these companies also have access to a significantly larger pool of data than we do and this larger pool of data may allow them to foreclose opportunities that might otherwise be available to us.

Our current and potential competitors may have significantly more financial, technical, marketing and other resources than us, be able to devote greater resources to the development, promotion, sale and support of their products and services, have more extensive customer bases than us and have longer operating histories and greater name recognition than us. As a result, these competitors may be able to respond more quickly to new technologies, introduce new competitive services making our technology less advanced, add new functionality to their services, acquire competitive products and services, form strategic alliances with other companies, develop deeper customer relationships or offer services at lower prices. We may also face competition from companies we do not yet know about. If existing or new companies develop, market or resell competitive high-value marketing products or services, acquire one of our existing competitors or form a strategic alliance with one of our competitors, our ability to compete effectively could be significantly compromised and our results of operations, cash flows and financial condition could be harmed. Additionally, we may be required to incur additional marketing and branding expenses to retain our competitive position.

Any of these developments would make it more difficult for us to sell our solutions and could result in increased pricing pressure, reduced gross margins, increased sales and marketing expense and/or the loss of market share, any of which may have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

9. If we are unable to protect our proprietary information or other intellectual property, our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition could be adversely affected.

We generally seek to protect our proprietary information through confidentiality, non-disclosure and assignment of invention agreements with our employees and confidentiality provisions in agreements with parties with whom we do business. Further, our standard form employment agreement contains non-compete clauses that prohibit employees from providing services similar to those of our Company, or utilising business information or knowledge acquired during employment with our Company in business that competes with our Company, or solicit or recruit employees of our Company for a stipulated period after expiry or termination of their employment with us. However, we may not execute these agreements with every party who has access to our confidential information or contributes to the development of our intellectual property. Further, non-compete provisions in agreements subject to Indian laws may not be enforceable to the same extent as they are in other jurisdictions. In addition, we may not be able to ensure that such non-compete, non-disclosure and confidentiality agreements are not breached, and we may not have adequate remedies or be able to effectively enforce these provisions in case of for any such breach.

Breaches of the security of the cloud-based systems and infrastructure or other IT resources that we utilise could also expose us to a risk of loss of proprietary information.

We cannot be certain that the steps we have taken will prevent unauthorized use or reverse engineering of our technology or information. Moreover, our intellectual property may be disclosed to or otherwise become known or be independently developed by competitors. If, for any of the above reasons, our intellectual property is disclosed or misappropriated, it would harm our ability to protect our rights and may have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

Although we also rely on copyright laws to protect works of authorship created by us, including software, we do not register the copyrights in any of our copyrightable works. The (Indian) Copyright Act, 1957 recognizes that software, both in source and object code, constitutes literary work and amenable to copyright protection. The owner of such software becomes entitled to protect his works against unauthorised use and misappropriation of the copyrighted work or a substantial part thereof. Any such acts entitle the copyright owner to obtain relief from a court of law including injunction, damages and accounts of profits.

Reproduction of a copyrighted software for sale or hire or commercial rental, offer for sale or commercial rental, issuing copies of the computer programme or making an adaptation of the work without consent of the copyright owner amounts, subject to certain fair use exceptions, to infringement of the copyright. Since we have not registered our copyrightable works, we may be unable to effectively enforce and contest any infringement of such works in a timely manner.

We hold three patents in the United States and have applied for 10 patents in India. As part of our acquisition of the Vizury Commerce Business, we acquired the two pending patent applications in India; and three pending patent applications in the United States, only one of which we intend to pursue. We have registered our “affle” corporate logo as a trademark in India, which is valid until October 2025. While Affle International has granted our Company the right to use the “Affle” trademark in or outside India, we are yet to apply for trademark registration over the “Affle” name in India. As part of our acquisition of the RevX Platform Business, we acquired the ‘RevX’ trademark. A subsidiary of RevX Inc. made applications to register the trademark in India under Class 35 and Class 42 on February 15, 2018. However, the Trade Marks Registry issued examination reports citing an objection on account of similarity with an existing trademark. Replies in response to the examination reports were filed on February 27, 2018 seeking to waive the objection and successfully register the trademark under Class 35 and Class 42. However, the applications are still pending. Effective trademark and patent protection are expensive to develop and maintain, both in terms of initial and ongoing registration requirements and the costs of defending our rights and there may be certain areas of our business that we cannot protect through the use of trademarks or patents. Further, as intellectual property rights protection is limited by territory, successfully obtaining intellectual property rights protection in one jurisdiction may not necessarily provide protection in another jurisdiction and we may have to seek such protection in multiple jurisdictions where we and our customers operate. The process for obtaining intellectual property rights protection in certain jurisdictions can be lengthy and may entail substantial costs.

Any of our existing or future patents, trademarks or other intellectual property rights may not provide sufficient protection for our business or may be challenged by others or invalidated through administrative process or litigation. In addition, in the event that our trademarks are successfully challenged, we could be forced to rebrand our solutions, which could result in loss of brand recognition and could require us to devote resources to advertising and marketing our new brands. Further, we cannot assure you that competitors will not infringe our trademarks, or that we will have adequate resources to enforce our trademarks. In addition, patents in India have a term of 20 years from the date of the application. There can be no assurance that we will be able to protect our intellectual property rights in the future, including by successfully maintaining or renewing our intellectual property registrations.

Our existing patents and any patents issued in the future may be successfully challenged, invalidated or circumvented by third parties, may give rise to ownership claims or to claims for the payment of additional remuneration of fair price by the persons having participated in the creation of the inventions and may not be of sufficient scope or strength to provide us with any meaningful protection or competitive advantage. Further, as we continue to expand our business geographically, it may become desirable for us to protect our intellectual property in an increasing number of jurisdictions, which is expensive and may not be successful and which we may not pursue.

Once we file a patent application in one country, we have a limited period of time to file it in all other countries in which we want to have patent protection over a certain invention. If we fail to file in those other countries, we will be precluded from having patent protection for that invention in those countries. Without patent protection, others will be free to utilize that invention in those countries. Further, the laws of certain countries do not protect proprietary rights to the same extent as the laws of India and, therefore, in certain jurisdictions, we may be unable to protect our proprietary technology adequately against unauthorized third-party copying, infringement or use, which could adversely affect our competitive position.

In addition, as we continue to develop new solutions and expand our platforms using new technologies, our exposure to threats of infringement may increase. Likewise, any of the services provided by us could also be subject to intellectual property infringement claims. To protect or enforce our intellectual property rights, we may initiate litigation against third parties. Any lawsuits that we initiate could be expensive, take significant time and divert management’s attention from other business concerns. Additionally, we may unintentionally provoke third parties to assert claims against us. These claims could invalidate or narrow the scope of our own intellectual property. We may not prevail in any lawsuits that we initiate, and the damages or other remedies awarded, if any, may not be commercially valuable. Accordingly, despite our efforts, we may be unable to prevent third parties from infringing upon or misappropriating our intellectual property. The occurrence of any of these events may adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

10. Our business may suffer if it is alleged or determined that our technology or another aspect of our business infringes the intellectual property rights of others.

The mobile advertising industry is characterized by the existence of large numbers of patents, copyrights, trademarks, trade secrets and other intellectual property and proprietary rights. Companies in our industry are often required to defend against litigation claims that are based on allegations of infringement or other violations of intellectual property rights. Our technologies may not be able to withstand any third-party claims or rights against their use.

Our success depends, in part, upon non-infringement of intellectual property rights owned by others and being able to resolve claims of intellectual property infringement or misappropriation without major financial expenditures or adverse consequences. From time to time, we may be the subject of claims that our products and underlying technology infringe or violate the intellectual property rights of others, particularly as we expand the scope and complexity of our business. To the extent that our employees, contractors or other third parties with whom we do business use intellectual property owned by others in their work for us, disputes may arise as to the rights to such intellectual property.

Regardless of whether claims that we are infringing patents or other intellectual property rights have any merit, these claims are time-consuming and costly to evaluate and defend and the outcome of any litigation is inherently uncertain. Some of our competitors have substantially greater resources than we do and may be able to sustain the costs of complex intellectual property litigation to a greater degree and for longer periods of time than we could. Claims that we are infringing on patents or other intellectual property rights could:

- subject us to significant liabilities for monetary damages;
- prohibit us from developing, commercializing or continuing to provide some or all of our offering unless we obtain licenses from, and pay royalties to, the holders of the patents or other intellectual property rights, who may not be willing to offer them on terms that are acceptable to us, or at all;
- subject us to indemnification obligations or obligations to refund fees to, and adversely affect our relationships with, our current or future customers, advertising agencies, media networks and exchanges or publishers;
- cause delays or stoppages in providing our solutions;
- divert the attention and resources of management and technical personnel;
- harm our reputation and market standing; and
- require technology or branding changes to our solutions that would cause us to incur substantial cost and that we may be unable to execute effectively or at all.

In addition, we may be exposed to claims that the content contained in advertising campaigns violates the intellectual property or other rights of third parties. Such claims could be made directly against us or against the advertising agencies we work with, our customers, or media networks, exchanges and publishers from whom we purchase advertising inventory. Generally, under our agreements with advertising agencies, media networks, exchanges and publishers, we are required to indemnify the advertising agencies, media networks, exchanges and publishers up to contractually specified limits against any such claim with respect to an advertisement we served. We generally require our customers to indemnify us for any damages from any such claims, but such indemnities are often capped and may not allow us to recover the full amount of losses suffered by us on account of infringing advertising content. Further, there can be no assurance that our customers will have the ability to satisfy their indemnification obligations to us and pursuing any claims for indemnification may be costly or unsuccessful.

We do not maintain any liability insurance. As a result, we may be required to satisfy our indemnification obligations to advertising agencies, media networks and exchanges and publishers or claims against us with our assets, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

11. Our business is concentrated around key customers, which account for a significant amount of our revenue. If we fail to keep these customers or fail to diversify our customer base, our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition may be materially adversely affected.

The table below shows revenue from our top 10 customers, our top customer for Fiscal 2019 and our second top customer for Fiscal 2019 on a consolidated basis and as percentage of our revenue from contracts with customers for Fiscal 2019 on a consolidated basis.

	Fiscal 2019 (consolidated)
	Revenue	Percentage of revenue from contracts with customers
Revenue from our top 10 customers	1,608.77	64.5
Revenue from our top customer	548.73	22.0
Revenue from our second top customer	519.62	20.8

The table below shows revenue from our Company's top 10 customers, our Company's top customer for Fiscals 2019, 2018 and 2017 and as percentage of our Company's revenue from contracts with customers on an unconsolidated basis.

(in ₹ millions, except for percentages)

	Fiscal 2019		Fiscal 2018		Fiscal 2017
	Revenue	Percentage of revenue from contracts with customers	Revenue	Percentage of revenue from contracts with customers	Revenue	Percentage of revenue from contracts with customers
Revenue from our Company's top 10 customers	858.72	72.9	686.24	81.9	416.31	63.4
Revenue from our Company's top customer	548.73	46.6	512.34	61.2	225.34	34.3

If we fail to keep these customers or fail to attract a broader range of customers, it would have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition. Furthermore, our entry into new markets has largely been in order to cater to existing major customers. If we fail to retain these customers, we may have fewer prospects for expansion of our business to new markets.

12. A significant amount of our business is conducted through advertising agencies. If we cannot maintain our relationships with these advertising agencies, or if these relationships cease to be effective, it may have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

Four of our top 10 customers for Fiscal 2019 on a consolidated basis were advertising agencies. Most of our agreements with these parties are typically for a period of one year or two years. There is no guarantee that these agreements will be extended, renewed or replaced.

If we have an unsuccessful engagement with an advertising agency on a particular advertising campaign, we risk losing the ability to work not only for the company for whom the campaign was run, but also for other companies represented by that agency. Further, our agreements with advertising agencies may rely on those agencies building good relationships with advertisers, over which we may have no control. If we fail to maintain, renew, or replace these agreements, or if these advertising agencies fail to connect us with enough advertisers, it would adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

Additionally, our customers may move from one advertising agency to another and, accordingly, even if we have a positive relationship with an advertising agency, we may lose the underlying customer's business when the customer switches to a new agency. The presence of advertising agencies as intermediaries between us and our customers thus creates a challenge to building our own brand awareness and maintaining an affinity with our customers, who are the ultimate sources of our revenue. In the event we were to become more dependent on advertising agencies as intermediaries, this may adversely affect our ability to independently attract and retain business. In addition, an increased dependency on advertising agencies may harm our results of operations, cash flows and financial condition as a result of the increased agency fees we may be required to pay and/or as a result of longer payment terms from agencies.

13. If we fail to innovate, adapt and respond effectively to rapidly changing technology, our solutions may become less competitive or obsolete.

Our continued success will depend on our ability to continuously enhance and improve our solutions to meet customers' needs. If we are unable to enhance our solutions to meet market demand in a timely manner, we may not be able to maintain our existing customers or attract new customers, which would have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

14. The proper functioning of our solutions may be impaired by fraudulent or malicious activity, including non-human traffic.

It is possible that fraudulent or malicious activity, including non-human traffic, could impair the proper functioning of our solutions. For example, the use of bots or other automated or manual mechanisms to generate fraudulent clicks or misattribute clicks on ads we deliver could overstate the performance of our advertising. Although we have developed and implemented an ad fraud detection and prevention platform called mFaaS, preventing and combating fraud requires constant vigilance and we may not always be successful in our efforts to do so. It may be difficult to detect fraudulent or malicious activity, particularly because the perpetrators of such activity may have significant resources at their disposal, may frequently change their tactics and may become more sophisticated, requiring us to update, upgrade and improve our processes for detecting and controlling such activity. Such fraudulent or malicious activity could result in negative publicity and reputational harm and require significant additional management time and attention. Further, if we fail to detect or prevent fraudulent or malicious activity in a timely manner, or at all, our customers may experience or perceive a reduced return on their investment or heightened risk associated with the use of our products, resulting in refusals to pay, demands for refunds, loss of confidence, withdrawal of future business and potential legal claims.

Similarly, if we show advertising that is fraudulent, we may lose the trust of our customers, which would likewise harm our brand and reputation. If potential customers perceive that our solution is vulnerable to bots or similar non-human traffic, fraudulent app downloads, clicks or other malicious activity, we may not be able to maintain our existing customers or attract new customers, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

15. Our business depends on our ability to maintain the quality of content for our customers and publishers.

If we are unable to keep our customers' ads from being placed in unlawful or inappropriate content, our reputation and business may suffer. In particular, we could be treated as a spammer and blocked by internet service providers or face regulatory liability. In addition, if we place ads on websites containing content that is not permitted under the terms of the applicable agreements with a customer, we may be unable to charge the customer for actions or clicks generated on those sites, the customer may terminate their campaign, blacklist us and require us to indemnify them for any resulting third party claims, or the customer may allege breach of contract. For example, the contracts we currently have with our customers typically prohibit the placement of advertising content on unsafe, obscene or illegal websites. Further, publishers rely upon us not to place ads on websites that are unlawful or inappropriate. If we are unable to maintain the quality of our customer and publisher content as the number of customers and publishers we work with continues to grow, our reputation and business may suffer and we may not be able to retain or secure additional customers or publisher relationships.

16. We may not be able to effectively integrate the businesses we acquire, which may adversely affect our ability to achieve our growth and business objectives. In addition, acquisitions, including our recent acquisitions, involve numerous risks, any of which could harm our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

One of our strategies is to seek to acquire additional businesses. For example, we acquired the Vizury Commerce Business effective September 1, 2018, the Shoffr Platform Business on May 18, 2019, effective February 19, 2019, and the RevX Platform Business on June 28, 2019, effective April 1, 2019. For more details, see “Our Business—Strategies—Continue to selectively pursue acquisitions” on page 155.

Our acquisition initiatives typically commence by the execution of a non-binding agreement with the target entity, which are followed by signing definitive agreements after completion of legal and financial due-diligence and finalisation of commercial and other conditions. Accordingly, we may enter into non-binding agreements to commence such acquisitions from time to time, including, shortly after listing of the Equity Shares pursuant to the Offer.

There can be no assurance that we will be able to identify an appropriate acquisition candidate and we may not be successful in negotiating the terms and/or financing of the acquisition.

Any acquisition or investment may require us to use significant amounts of cash, issue potentially dilutive Equity Shares or incur debt. In addition, acquisitions, including our recent acquisitions, involve numerous risks, any of which could harm our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition, including:

- risks arising from change of control provisions in contracts of any acquired company, local law factors and risks associated with restructuring operations;
- our inability to turnaround or grow a business, which may also result in our inability to meet acquisition finance costs;
- underestimated costs associated with the acquisition or over-valuation by us of acquired companies;
- incurring of debt or loan liabilities in order to finance an acquisition and execution of financing agreements with restrictive covenants in under such financing arrangements;
- insufficient indemnification from the selling parties for legal liabilities incurred by the acquired company prior to the acquisition;
- failure to discover issues around an acquired company's intellectual property, customer relationships, accounting practices or regulatory compliances;

- difficulties in integrating the operations, technologies, services and personnel of acquired businesses, especially if those businesses operate outside of our core competency;
- the need to integrate operations across different geographies, cultures and languages and to address the particular economic, currency, political and regulatory risks associated with specific countries;
- cultural challenges associated with integrating employees from the acquired company into our organization;
- the potential loss of key employees of acquired businesses;
- ineffectiveness or incompatibility of acquired technologies or services;
- inability to maintain the key business relationships and the reputation of acquired businesses;
- failure to successfully further develop the acquired technology in order to recoup our investment;
- unfavourable reputation and perception of the acquired product or technology by the general public;
- diversion of management's attention from other business concerns;
- liability or litigation for activities of the acquired business, including claims from terminated employees, customers, former shareholders or other third parties;
- foreign exchange controls and other changes in regulatory environment;
- implementation or remediation of controls, practices, procedures and policies at acquired businesses, including the costs necessary to establish and maintain effective internal controls; and
- increased fixed costs.

If we are unable to successfully overcome the potential difficulties associated with the integration process and achieve our objectives following an acquisition, the anticipated benefits and synergies from it may not be realized fully, or at all, or may take longer to realize than expected, and it could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

17. Our international operations and expansion expose us to several risks.

We have three international offices: one in Singapore; one in Indonesia; and one in Dubai (UAE). For Fiscal 2019 on a consolidated basis, our revenue from contracts with customers outside India was ₹ 1,405.41 million, which was 56.4% of our total revenue from contracts with customers. One of our strategies is to expand our international business through local business development efforts and through referrals from our existing customers. Having international operations involves a variety of risks, including:

- localization of the product interface and systems, including translation into foreign languages and adaptation for local practices;
- compliance with (and liability for failure to comply with) applicable local laws and regulations, including, among other things, laws and regulations with respect to data protection and consumer privacy, consumer protection, spam and content, labour and tax legislation, intellectual property laws, anti-competition regulations, import and foreign currency legislation, which laws and regulations may be inconsistent across jurisdictions;
- more stringent regulations relating to data security and the unauthorized use of, or access to, commercial and personal information, particularly in the European Union;

- taxation in a variety of jurisdictions with increasingly complex tax laws, the application of which can be uncertain and subject to change;
- the intensity of local competition for mobile advertising budgets and inventory;
- unexpected changes in laws and regulatory requirements, trade laws, tariffs, export quotas, customs duties or other trade restrictions;
- changes in a specific country's or region's political or economic conditions;
- challenges inherent to hiring and efficiently managing an increased number of employees over large geographic distances, including the need to implement appropriate systems, policies, benefits and compliance programs;
- risks resulting from changes in currency exchange rates and the implementation of exchange controls;
- lower payment cycles and reduced ability to timely collect amounts owed to us by our customers in countries where our recourse may be more limited;
- limitations on our ability to reinvest earnings from operations derived from one country to fund the capital needs of our operations in other countries
- restrictions on foreign ownership and investments;
- limited or unfavourable intellectual property protection;
- exposure to liabilities under anti-money laundering laws, international and international sanction requirements and anti-corruption laws, including the U.S. Foreign Corrupt Practices Act of 1977 and similar laws and regulations in other jurisdictions; and
- restrictions on repatriation of earnings.

In particular, the Indonesian Subsidiary is subject to oversight by (i) the Indonesian Investment Coordination Board (Badan Koordinasi Penanaman Modal or the “BKPM”), a non-departmental government institution overseeing foreign investment in Indonesia, (ii) the Ministry of Law and Human Rights of Indonesia (Menteri Hukum dan Hak Asasi Manusia), and (iii) the Ministry of Communication and Informatics (Menteri Komunikasi dan Informatika or “MOCIT”). The policies of government bodies, such as the BKPM and the MOCIT, are subject to changes from time to time, depending on the then policies of the government of Indonesia. In the event that the policies of government bodies, such as the BKPM, changes, our business in Indonesia may be materially and adversely affected. A change of BKPM policy may result in restrictions and changes in the scope of business operations that the Indonesian Subsidiary may carry out as a foreign investment limited liability company in Indonesia. Furthermore, the complexity and ambiguity of laws and regulations in Indonesia, as well as the corresponding guidelines, interpretations and policies may have an impact on our business. Furthermore, as a foreign investment limited liability company in Indonesia, the Indonesian Subsidiary is subject to continuing reporting and compliance obligations in Indonesia vis-a-vis the BKPM, among others. Accordingly, the Indonesian Subsidiary incurs reporting and compliance costs on an annual basis. In the event of changes to laws and regulations and their corresponding interpretations as well as policies of supervising government bodies, the Indonesian Subsidiary's costs of compliance may also increase.

In addition, we may not possess the same familiarity with the economy, customer preferences and commercial operations in some of the markets where we propose to expand our operations. Further, expanding our geographical footprint poses risks and potential costs, including the risk that we fail to attract a sufficient number of customers, or to anticipate competitive conditions that are different from those in our existing markets, as well as significant marketing and promotion costs. We may face the risk that our competitors and the established players in such geographies may enjoy better brand visibility, may be more experienced in such markets and may enjoy better relationships with customers and publishers, providing them with early access to information regarding attractive marketing opportunities, making them better placed to launch services with other advantages of being a first mover.

Additionally, operating in international markets also requires significant management attention and financial resources. We cannot be certain that the investment and additional resources required in establishing operations in other countries will produce desired levels of revenue or profitability.

Further, while we have obtained a significant number of approvals, licenses, registrations and permits from the relevant authorities, we are yet to obtain a few approvals, licenses, registrations and permits. We cannot assure you that we will apply for and receive these approvals and clearances in time or at all. There can be no assurance that the relevant authority will issue an approval within the applicable time-period or at all. Any delay in receipt or non-receipt of such approvals, licenses, registrations and permits could result in cost and time overrun or which could adversely affect our related operations. For further details, see “Government and Other Approvals” on page 473.

18. Our business depends substantially on the continuing efforts of Mr. Anuj Khanna Sohum, our individual Promoter, Chairman, Managing Director and CEO, and our other Key Management Personnel and our business operations may be disrupted if we lose their services.

Our success to-date is attributable to the contributions and expertise of Mr. Anuj Khanna Sohum, our individual Promoter, Chairman, Managing Director and CEO, as well as our other Key Management Personnel who have valuable and extensive experience and knowledge in our other businesses and industry. Our continued success and growth will depend, to a large extent, on our ability to retain the services of Mr. Anuj Khanna Sohum and our other Key Management Personnel. If Mr. Anuj Khanna Sohum or any of our other Key Management Personnel were to reduce or cease their involvement with us, it may take time for us to hire a suitably qualified replacement with the necessary experience and expertise and this may adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition. Further, we do not currently maintain key-person insurance and do not expect to obtain such insurance in the future. The turnover of our Key Management Personnel for Fiscal 2019 was one person out of 11 persons.

In the event that we need to increase employee compensation levels substantially to attract and/or retain any Key Management Personnel, our costs may increase and our results of operations, cash flows and financial position may be materially and adversely affected.

Our Company’s CEO, Mr. Anuj Khanna Sohum, currently receives a nominal yearly salary of ₹ 253,200 from our Company (subject to review at the end of each financial year) and is entitled to variable salary of up to 5% of our Company’s available net profits (in accordance with the Companies Act, 2013). There can be no assurance that Mr. Anuj Khanna Sohum will remain the CEO of our Company upon the end of his current term. If we were obligated to pay our CEO (Mr. Anuj Khanna Sohum, or if he were to leave our Company, his replacement) fair market salary, this would be an additional expense and would adversely affect our results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

19. Our business involves the use, transmission and storage of confidential information and the failure to properly safeguard such information could result in significant reputational harm and monetary damages.

Our business involves the storage and transmission of confidential consumer, customer and publisher information, including certain purchaser data, as well as financial, employee and operational information. Security breaches could expose us to unauthorized disclosure of this information, litigation and possible liability, as well as damage to our relationships with our customers and publishers. If our security measures are breached as a result of third-party action, employee or contractor error, malfeasance or otherwise and, as a result, someone obtains unauthorized access to our data or the data of consumers, our customers, publishers, employees or other third parties, our reputation could be damaged, our business may suffer and we could incur significant regulatory liability. For example, under the Information Technology Act, we are subject to civil liability for wrongful loss or gain arising from any negligence by us in implementing and maintaining reasonable security practices and procedures with respect to sensitive personal data or information on our computer systems, networks, databases and software. Our Company also subject to the Information Technology (Reasonable Security Practices and Procedures and Sensitive Personal Data or Information) Rules, 2011, which impose limitations and restrictions on the collection, use, disclosure and transfer of personal information.

Techniques used to obtain unauthorized access or to sabotage systems change frequently and generally are not recognized until launched against a target. As a result, we may be unable to anticipate some of these techniques or to implement adequate preventative measures. In addition, the perpetrators of such activity often are very sophisticated and can hire other parties with significant resources at their disposal. If an actual or perceived security breach occurs, the market perception of our security measures could be harmed, and we could lose both customers and revenue. Any significant violations of data protection or other security breaches could result in the loss of business, litigation and regulatory investigations and penalties that could damage our reputation and adversely impact our results of operations, cash flows and financial condition. Moreover, if a high profile security breach occurs with respect to another provider of commerce marketing solutions, our customers and potential customers may lose trust in the security of providers of commerce marketing in general and advertising solutions in particular, which could adversely impact our ability to retain existing customers or attract new ones.

Additionally, third parties may attempt to fraudulently induce employees, consumers, our customers, our publishers or third-party providers into disclosing sensitive information such as consumer names, passwords or other information in order to gain access to our data, our customers' data or our publishers' data, which could result in significant legal and financial exposure and a loss of confidence in the security of our offering and, ultimately, harm to our future business prospects. A party who is able to compromise the security of our facilities, including our data centres or office facilities, or any device, such as a smartphone or laptop, connected to our systems could misappropriate our proprietary information or the proprietary information of consumers, our customers and/or our publishers, or cause interruptions or malfunctions in our operations or those of our customers and/or publishers. We may be required to expend significant resources to protect against such threats or to alleviate problems caused by breaches in security. Finally, computer viruses, malware, ransomware, worms, or trojans may harm our systems or cause the loss or alteration of data and the transmission of computer viruses or malware via our technology could expose us to litigation and a loss of confidence in the security of our technology. We do not have an errors and omissions insurance policy.

20. Failures in systems and infrastructure supporting our system and operations could significantly disrupt our operations and have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

In addition to the optimal performance of our services, our business relies on the continued and uninterrupted performance of our software and hardware infrastructures. We currently license and/or utilise platforms from certain third parties and if we were to suffer any software glitches, malfunctioning, low performance, hacking, disruptions and or shut down of these services it could materially impact the functioning of certain and/or all modules of our platforms, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition. We currently lease space from cloud data providers for our computing requirements some of these are global in nature and span different locations around the world. Most of our processing servers are located in the United States, Singapore and India. We also rely on bandwidth providers and internet service providers to deliver ads. Sustained or repeated system failures of our software or hardware infrastructures (such as massive and sustained data centre outages) or of the software or hardware infrastructures of our third-party providers, which interrupt our ability to deliver ads quickly and accurately, our ability to serve and track ads, our ability to process consumers' responses to those ads or otherwise disrupt our internal operations, could significantly reduce the attractiveness of our solutions to customers, reduce our revenue or otherwise negatively impact our financial results, impair our reputation and subject us to significant liability.

In addition, while we seek to maintain excess capacity to facilitate the rapid provision of new customer deployments and the expansion of existing customer deployments, we may need to increase data centre hosting capacity, bandwidth, storage, power or other elements of our system architecture and our infrastructure as our customer base and/or our traffic continues to grow. Our existing systems may not be able to scale up in a manner satisfactory to our existing or prospective customers and may not be adequately designed with the necessary reliability and redundancy of certain critical portions of our infrastructure to avoid performance delays or outages that could be harmful to our business.

For a description of the systems and technology infrastructure we use in our business, see “Our Business-Technology Infrastructure” on page 163.

Our failure to continuously upgrade or increase the reliability and redundancy of our infrastructure to meet the demands for our solutions could adversely affect the functioning and performance of our technology and could in turn affect our results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

Any steps we take to increase the security, reliability and redundancy of our systems supporting our technology or operations may be expensive and may not be successful in preventing system failures. If we are unable to prevent system failures, the functioning and performance of our solution could suffer, which in turn could interrupt our business and harm our results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

In addition, the occurrence of a natural disaster, an act of terrorism, vandalism or sabotage, a decision to close any data centre or the facilities of any other third-party provider without adequate notice, or other unanticipated problems at these facilities could result in lengthy interruptions in the availability of our technology or operations. The testing of our services during actual disasters or similar events has been limited. If any such event were to occur, our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition could be adversely affected.

21. If we are unable to use software licensed from third parties or if we make use of open source software under license terms that interfere with our proprietary rights it could disrupt our business.

Our technology platform and internal systems incorporate software licensed from third parties, including some software, known as open source software, which we use without charge. Although we monitor our use of open source software, the terms of many open source licenses to which we are subject have not been interpreted by the courts of many jurisdictions and there is a risk that such licenses could be construed in a manner that imposes unanticipated conditions or restrictions on our ability to provide our technology offering to our customers. In the future, we could be required to seek licenses from third parties in order to continue offering our solution, which licenses may not be available on terms that are acceptable to us, or at all. Alternatively, we may need to re-engineer our offering or discontinue using portions of the functionality provided by our technology. In addition, the terms of open source software licenses may require us to provide software that we develop using such software to others on unfavourable terms, such as by precluding us from charging license fees or by requiring us to disclose our source code. Any such restriction on the use of our own software, or our inability to use open source or third-party software, could result in disruptions to our business or operations, or delays in our development of future solutions or enhancements of our existing platform, which could impair our business.

22. The loss of certificates, keys and passwords may result in a loss of access to our servers and the services of third parties, which may result in a loss of data, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

Due to security considerations, access to our servers and services of third parties are controlled by multifactor authentication, which include certificates, keys and passwords. These certificates, keys and passwords are typically stored on our employee’s computers. The loss of these certificates, keys and passwords may result in a loss of access to our servers or the services of third parties, which may result in a loss of data, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

23. Our Vizury Commerce Business has historically relied on a few publishers for access to inventory. If these publishers do not continue to sell inventory to our Vizury Commerce Business or our Vizury Commerce Business fails to diversify the publishers it purchases inventory from, our Vizury Commerce Business may be materially adversely affected and our results of operations, cash flows and financial condition may be materially adversely affected.

Our Vizury Commerce Business primarily relied on two publishers for access to inventory in the seven months period ended March 31, 2019. If these publishers do not continue to sell inventory to our Vizury Commerce Business or our Vizury Commerce Business fails to diversify the publishers it purchases inventory from, our Vizury Commerce Business may be materially adversely affected and our results of operations, cash flows and financial condition may be materially adversely affected.

24. Vizury Interactive Solutions Private Limited, Vizury Interactive Solutions Pte Ltd and Vizury International Solutions FZ-LLC are entitled to continue to use their legal names following our acquisition of the Vizury Commerce Business.

Vizury Interactive Solutions Private Limited, Vizury Interactive Solutions Pte Ltd and Vizury International Solutions FZ-LLC are entitled to continue to use their legal names following our acquisition of the Vizury Commerce Business. Although the agreements for the acquisitions provide that those companies may not compete with our Vizury Commerce Business for a period of two years from August 22, 2018, the use of the word “Vizury” in their legal names could lead persons to confuse them with our Vizury Commerce Business. If they experience any negative publicity, it could have a material adverse effect on our Vizury Commerce Business’ reputation, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition. For details on our acquisition of the Vizury Commerce Business, see “History and Certain Corporate Matters” on page 181.

25. RevX Inc. and its Indian subsidiary (which has the word “RevX” in its name) are entitled to continue to use their legal names following the Singapore Subsidiary’s acquisition of the RevX Platform Business. The Singapore Subsidiary only purchased RevX Inc.’s customer contracts and not the customer contracts of RevX Inc.’s Indian subsidiary. RevX Inc. and its Indian subsidiary may continue to compete with us provided they do not use the RevX Platform. In addition, the “RevX” brand is currently owned by RevX Inc.’s Indian subsidiary and it may continue to use the brand name until such time as it sells it.

RevX Inc. and its Indian subsidiary (which has the word “RevX” in its name) are entitled to continue to use their legal names following the Singapore Subsidiary’s acquisition of the RevX Platform Business. The Singapore Subsidiary only purchased RevX Inc.’s customer contracts and not the customer contracts of RevX Inc.’s Indian subsidiary. As per the terms of the RevX BTA, RevX Inc. and its Indian subsidiary may continue to compete with us provided they do not use the RevX Platform for a period of five years from June 28, 2019.

In addition, RevX Inc.’s Indian subsidiary is currently the legal owner of the “RevX” brand. The RevX BTA, as amended, obligates RevX Inc. to acquire the brand name and transfer it to our Singapore Subsidiary on or before July 31, 2019. RevX Inc. has entered into an agreement with its Indian subsidiary dated June 26, 2019 pursuant to which its Indian subsidiary has agreed to transfer the “RevX” brand name to RevX Inc. on or before July 31, 2019 and in which its Indian subsidiary agreed that it has no objection to the Singapore Subsidiary using the “RevX” brand worldwide while RevX Inc.’s Indian subsidiary is the legal owner of the brand. We are not in contractual privity with RevX Inc.’s Indian subsidiary, and as such we cannot get a court order to compel it to sell the “RevX” brand name. However, we would have a claim for damages against RevX Inc. if it fails to transfer the “RevX” brand to us on or before July 31, 2019.

The word “RevX” as part of the legal names of RevX Inc. and that of its Indian subsidiary could be confused with our RevX Platform Business. Moreover, the use of the brand name “RevX” by RevX Inc.’s Indian subsidiary, before it sells it, could also lead persons to confuse it with our RevX Platform Business. If they experience any negative publicity, it could have a material adverse effect on our RevX Platform Business’ reputation, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

For details on the Singapore Subsidiary's acquisition of the RevX Platform Business, see "History and Certain Corporate Matters" on page 181.

26. Businesses may delay or reduce their spending on marketing in periods of economic uncertainty, which could materially harm our business.

Historically, economic downturns have resulted in overall reductions in advertising spending and businesses may curtail spending both on advertising in general and on solutions such as ours. Therefore, any macroeconomic deterioration in the future could have a material effect on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

27. We have limited knowledge and records of documents relating to corporate actions undertaken by our Company prior to January 2006.

Until January 2006, our Company was owned and managed by Mukesh Tulsyan, Raj Pal Singh Rana and certain other shareholders. Subsequently, in January 2006, the entire equity share capital of our Company (then known as Tejus Securities Private Limited) was acquired by Anuj Khanna Sohum, our individual Promoter, along with certain other individuals (collectively, the "Tejus Acquirers"). We have been unable to trace the complete set of documents pertaining to corporate, accounting, financial, legal and other statutory records, including any supporting documents and/or RoC filings for the period from incorporation in August 1994 up to January 2006 (prior to the acquisition by the Tejus Acquirers). Therefore, we are unable to conclusively ascertain, among other things, all amendments to the Memorandum of Association of our Company up to January 2006. Further, we do not have any supporting documents to ascertain whether our Company had at any point in time prior to January 2006 entered into any arrangement or scheme of amalgamation, acquired any business or undertaking, undertaken a revaluation of its assets, carried out a public offering of debt securities, experienced strikes, lock-outs or time/cost overruns, defaulted on or rescheduled its borrowings from financial institutions or banks or changed its registered office. The relevant documents are also not available at the office of the RoC (which included inspection of filings of the Company available with the RoC), as certified by Jagdish Patel & Co, Company Secretaries, pursuant to their certificate dated May 7, 2018, based on the search performed by them. Consequently, disclosures on changes in our issued, subscribed and paid up share capital from incorporation up to January 2006 have been made in reliance of the annual returns filed with the RoC, to the extent available. We cannot assure you that these form filings and corporate records will be available in the future or that we will not be subject to any penalty imposed by the competent regulatory authorities in this respect or incur additional expenses arising from our inability to furnish correct particulars in respect of the RoC filings or other corporate records or for any misrepresentation of facts which may occur as a result of the non-availability of relevant documents.

28. There have been instances in the past where we have not made certain regulatory filings with the RoC and failed to comply with some of our reporting obligations in respect of inward remittances and our issuance of equity shares.

Copies of the shareholders' resolutions dated April 28, 2014, April 28, 2014 and September 25, 2014, authorizing the Company to enter into related party transactions with AD2C (India) Private Limited, Affle Holdings Pte. Ltd. and Appstudios Technologies Private Limited, respectively, were not filed with the RoC as required under section 188 of the Companies Act, 2013. In respect of the delay, we have filed applications for condonation of delay dated September 24, 2015 with the Secretary, Ministry of Corporate Affairs. By orders dated March 2, 2016, the Assistant Director, Ministry of Corporate Affairs condoned the delay without imposing any penalty and permitted our Company to file the requisite forms. We have subsequently filed copies of the aforementioned orders and shareholders' resolutions with the RoC on March 16, 2016. In addition, we were delayed in reporting certain details in connection with the 2017 Scheme in Form CAA.8 in terms of section 232(7) of the Companies Act, 2013. We filed the Form CAA.8 with the RoC on August 23, 2018, which was taken on record by the RoC. We cannot assure you that such delays will not reoccur or that we will not be subject to any penalties for delays in future.

Further, our Company filed an application dated March 29, 2017 before the RBI for compounding of contraventions of the provisions of FEMA and the Foreign Exchange Management (Transfer or Issue of Security by a Person Resident outside India) Regulations, 2000, for (i) delay in reporting receipt of foreign inward remittances towards subscription to equity; (ii) delay in submission of Form FC-GPR to the RBI after issue of shares to a person resident outside India; (iii) delay in issuance of equity instruments to the foreign investor beyond the prescribed time period of 180 days from the receipt of inward remittance. The RBI passed an order dated August 2, 2017, compounding the violations and levying a penalty of ₹ 0.46 million and the compounding application was accordingly disposed of. Our Company has paid this penalty to the RBI. There can be no assurance that we will not be subject to regulatory actions including imposition of fines and other penalties in respect of such non-compliances in future.

29. The Indonesian Subsidiary failed to comply with certain regulations in respect of the transfer of shares in 2014

In 2014, pursuant to Deed of Shareholders' Resolution No. 22 dated November 21, 2014, the shareholders of the Indonesian Subsidiary approved the transfer of 99,000 shares from Affle Media Operations Pte Ltd to Affle Holdings, which was not announced in (i) the national Indonesian language newspaper regarding the change of control and (ii) in writing to the employees, relating to the transfer of shares. Under Article 127 of the Indonesian Company Law No. 40 of 2007 ("Indonesian Company Law"), the board of directors of the acquiror and the acquiree companies shall announce the acquisition plan in at least one national Indonesian language newspaper and publish in writing to the employees of the acquiree company by no later than 30 days prior to the invitation of the general meeting of shareholders to approve the acquisition. The creditors of the acquire company have 14 days from the date of such announcement to register their objections or claims. All objections must be settled by the board of directors or presented to the general meeting of shareholders to be resolved before the acquisition can proceed.

There can be no assurance that the Indonesian Subsidiary will not receive any objections to the transfer of shares or claims from the creditors and/or the employees at that time in the future. In a case where the Indonesian Subsidiary has received a claim, it will be exposed to financial/ payment liabilities, and there will be no risk of cancellation in relation to the transfer of shares. The subsequent share transfers from Affle Holdings to Affle Global and from Affle Global to the Singapore Subsidiary were made in full compliance with the Indonesian Company Law.

30. We are exposed to foreign exchange risks

Our exposure to the risk of changes in foreign exchange rates relates primarily to our operating activities (when revenue or expense is denominated in a foreign currency). To the extent that our revenue or receipts and costs or payments are not perfectly matched in the same currency or there are time gaps between revenue recognition and actual receipts and between cost recognition and actual payments, we will be exposed to foreign exchange fluctuations. We do not use derivative financial instruments such as forward exchange contracts or options to hedge its risk associated with foreign currency fluctuations or for trading or speculation purposes.

Following the Affle Global Transaction and Vizury Commerce Transactions, we earn more revenue in foreign currency, which increases our foreign currency risk. Given that the reporting currency of our Company's financial statements is Rupees, in order to prepare our consolidated financial statements, we need to translate the financial statements of our Subsidiaries from USD or Indonesian Rupiah to Rupees, as the case may be, based on the average exchange rates prevailing over the relevant period of the profit and loss account and based on the closing exchange rates for the balance sheet. Therefore, appreciation of the USD against the Rupee and the Indonesian Rupiah against the Rupee may adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.

31. We may be subject to increased taxes in India relating to past transactions with associated companies

Under Indian law, we are required to appoint an independent consultant to issue a certificate on whether our transaction with associated enterprises, as defined per 92E of Income Tax Act, 1961, were undertaken on an arm's length price. For Fiscal 2018 the required certificate has been filed with relevant authorities. For Fiscal 2019 we are yet to appoint an independent consultant to review the transactions with associated companies and associated enterprises and issue a certificate, after the end of Fiscal 2019, stating that such transactions were undertaken at an 'arm's length price' for the said fiscal year. While we believe that all transactions with associated companies and associated enterprises were undertaken at a negotiated contracted price on usual commercial terms, if the independent consultant finds otherwise, our Company may be subject to more income tax than recorded in our statement of profit and loss for the year ended March 31, 2019 and as will be recorded in our statement of profit and loss for Fiscal 2019. Adjustment, if any, arising from the transfer pricing study shall be accounted for as and when the study is completed.

32. Our Subsidiaries may not pay cash dividends. Consequently, our Company may not receive any return on investments in our Subsidiaries.

Our Subsidiaries are separate and distinct legal entities, having no obligation to pay dividends and may be restricted from doing so by law or contract, including applicable laws, foreign exchange regulations, charter provisions and the terms of their financing arrangements. We cannot assure you that our Subsidiaries will generate sufficient profits and cash flows to be able to pay dividends, or if they do, they will not be restricted from doing so. Our Company did not have any subsidiaries until April 1, 2018. Our Company has not received any dividends from our Subsidiaries in the past. Although our Company does not currently intend to pay cash dividends, if in the future our Company changes this policy, our Company's ability to pay cash dividends may be adversely affected if it does not receive dividends from our Subsidiaries.

Further, dividends received from our Singapore Subsidiary are liable to be taxed in India. If the dividend paying company is resident of a country with which India has signed an agreement for avoidance of double taxation, the taxability of dividend income will be determined by the provisions of such agreement. Our Company is entitled to certain benefits pursuant to a double taxation avoidance agreement entered into between India and Singapore. For instance, Singapore does not impose any withholding tax on dividends paid by a Singapore company to a non-resident company.

Our Company owns its 100% equity interest in our Indonesian Subsidiary through our Singapore Subsidiary. Our Singapore Subsidiary is entitled to certain benefits pursuant to a double taxation avoidance agreement entered into between Singapore and Indonesia. For instance, Indonesia imposes a 10% withholding tax on dividends paid by a Indonesian company to a Singapore company if the recipient owns directly at least 25% of the capital of the company paying the dividends.

Should the above mentioned tax treaties be suspended or revoked or adversely modified, the amount of money our Company receives from dividends paid by the Subsidiaries, if any, would be adversely affected and our results of operations, cash flows and financial condition on a consolidated basis would be adversely affected.

33. We are exposed to the credit risks of our customers.

We may extend credit terms to our customers ranging from 35 to 70 days on a case-by-case basis depending on, amongst others, their creditworthiness and the length of the customer relationship. The impairment allowance of trade receivables and contract asset for Fiscal 2019 on a consolidated basis was ₹ 10.56 million. The impairment allowance of trade receivables and contract asset for Fiscals 2019, 2018 and 2017 on an unconsolidated basis were ₹ (11.59) million, ₹ 11.22 million and ₹ 11.21 million, respectively.

Our customers may be unable to meet their contractual payment obligations to us, either in a timely manner or at all. The reasons for payment delays, cancellations or default by our customers may include insolvency, bankruptcy, insufficient financing or working capital due to late payments by their respective end-customers. We may not be able to enforce our contractual rights to receive payment through legal proceedings. In the event that we are not able to collect payments from our customers, our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition may be adversely affected.

34. We are dependent on the credit terms given by our suppliers.

Our suppliers typically grant us credit terms of 30 days. In the event that our suppliers terminate or shorten the credit terms granted to us and we are unable to seek alternative sources in a timely manner and/or at competitive costs, our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition may be adversely affected.

35. We have not purchased any insurance policies that cover us for any business-related risks. If we were to incur a material liability or loss, it could have a material adverse effect on our results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

We have not purchased any insurance policies that cover us for any business-related risks. For instance, we are not insured against liabilities for any damage to property, acts or omissions, consequential damages or business interruption. If we were to incur a material liability or loss, it could have a material adverse effect on our results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

36. Our Promoters and Promoter Group will continue to have the ability to control or influence the outcome of matters submitted to Shareholders for approval and their interests may differ from those of other Shareholders.

Our Promoters and Promoter Group currently own 92.17% of the outstanding Equity Shares. Immediately upon the closing of the Offer, our Promoters and Promoter Group will hold [●]% of the outstanding Equity Shares (assuming all the Equity Shares offered in the Offer are Allotted). As long as our Promoters and Promoter Group continues to hold a significant ownership stake in our Company, they will have the ability to control or influence the outcome of any matter submitted to our shareholders for approval, including matters relating to sale of all or part of our business, mergers, or acquisitions or disposal of assets; the distribution of dividends; appointment or removal of our directors or officers; and our capital structure or financing. This control could delay, defer or prevent a change in control of our Company, impede a merger, consolidation, takeover or other business combination involving our Company, or discourage a potential acquirer from making a tender offer or otherwise attempting to obtain control of our Company, even if it is in the best interests of other shareholders. Our Promoters and Promoter Group may have interests that are adverse to the interests of our shareholders and may take positions with which our other Shareholders do not agree.

37. We have entered into and may continue to enter into related party transactions. There can be no assurance that such transactions, individually or in the aggregate, will not have an adverse effect on our financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

We have entered into certain related party transactions in the past, including in relation to the rendering of services to related parties by our Company, the reimbursement of expenses to our Company by related parties and the reimbursement of expenses to related parties by our Company. For further details, see “Related Party Transactions” on page 225.

While we believe that all such transactions have been conducted on an arm’s length basis or on terms favourable to us, there can be no assurance that we could not have achieved more favourable terms had such transactions not been entered into with related parties. Furthermore, our Company expects to enter into related party transactions in the future.

38. Default or non-compliance with our Company’s credit facility may adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

Our Company avails a credit facility in the ordinary course of its business. As at July 4, 2019, our Company has a total sanctioned limit of ₹ 135.00 million under the credit facility and ₹ 77.88 million was outstanding under the facility. Our Company is required to comply with certain conditions and covenants under this arrangement, including submitting periodic financial results and stock statements, opening credit accounts and facilities with such lender. Further, our lender may cancel any undrawn portion of this facility on demand at any time. For details of certain restrictive covenants in connection with this facility, see “Financial Indebtedness” on page 463.

Failure to observe the covenants and conditions under the credit facility may lead to the termination of the credit facility, acceleration of all amounts due under the credit facility and the enforcement of any security provided, which could adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

39. The amount of goodwill as at March 31, 2019 could be adjusted in our financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2020.

Our goodwill as at March 31, 2019 on a consolidated basis includes an amount of ₹ 75.15 million pertaining to the purchase consideration paid by our Company to Vizury India based on provisional purchase price allocation available with our Company, for which detailed purchase price allocation analysis is under process. While such provisional accounting is permitted under Ind AS 103, any adjustment, resulting from such final purchase price allocation shall accordingly be incorporated in our financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2020. Consequently, the values of assets acquired (including identified intangibles) and the resultant goodwill could be materially different once the purchase price allocation valuation is completed and this could potentially reduce our reported profit for Fiscal 2019 due to the amortization of identified intangibles.

40. We earn more revenue in the third quarter due to the festive season.

Our business earns relatively more revenue in the third quarter of each fiscal year, as compared to the other quarters, as Diwali, Christmas and Black Friday occur in this period and e-commerce companies increase their digital ad spend in that period.

EXTERNAL RISKS

41. Any downturn in the macroeconomic environment in India could adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

India is our key market. For Fiscal 2019 on a consolidated basis, our revenue from contracts with customers in India represented 43.6% of our total revenue from contracts with customers. Therefore, any downturn in the macroeconomic environment in India could adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition. In addition, an increase in India's trade deficit, a downgrading in India's sovereign debt rating or a decline in India's foreign exchange reserves could increase interest rates and adversely affect liquidity, which could adversely affect the Indian economy and thereby adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

42. Changing laws, rules and regulations and legal uncertainties, including adverse application of tax laws, in the jurisdictions in which we operate may adversely affect our business and results of operations.

Our business is subject to various laws and regulations, which are evolving and subject to change. For details, see "Regulations and Policies" on page 171. We are also subject to corporate, taxation and other laws in effect in India, Singapore and Indonesia, which require continued monitoring and compliance. These laws and regulations and the way in which they are implemented and enforced may change. There can be no assurance that future legislative or regulatory changes will not have any adverse effect on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

RISKS RELATING TO THE EQUITY SHARES AND THE OFFER

43. Our historical results of operations, financial condition and cash flows are not indicative of future performance.

Due to the Vizury Transactions, which were effective September 1, 2018, our historical results of operations and cash flows will not be reflective of our future results of operations and cash flows. Due to our acquisitions of the RevX Platform Business on June 28, 2019, effective April 1, 2019, and the Shoffr Platform Business on May 18, 2019, effective February 19, 2019, our historical results of operations, financial condition and cash flows will not be reflective of our future results of operations, financial condition and cash flows. As we acquired the Shoffr Platform Business on May 18, 2019, effective February 19, 2019, the financial results of the Shoffr Platform Business for the period from February 19, 2019 to March 31, 2019 are not required to be reflected in our consolidated financial statements as at and for the year ended March 31, 2019. Also, we acquired the RevX Platform Business on June 28, 2019, but with effect from April 1, 2019, this acquisition had no effect on our consolidated financial statements as at and for the year ended March 31, 2019. For details on these transactions, see “History and Certain Corporate Matters” on page 181.

44. Our Proforma Financial Statements are illustrative in nature and have not been prepared in accordance with accounting or other standards and practices generally accepted in any jurisdiction and accordingly should not be relied upon as if they had been prepared in accordance with those standards and practices.

In order to give potential investors a better understanding of what the consolidated results of operations for our Company and the Vizury Commerce Business would have been had we been operating as one group for all of Fiscal 2019, we have prepared the unaudited proforma combined statement of profit and loss for the year ended March 31, 2019 for illustrative purposes, which gives effect to the Vizury Transactions as if they occurred on April 1, 2018. For details, see “Proforma Financial Statements” on page 228.

The Proforma Financial Statements are illustrative in nature and have not been prepared in accordance with accounting or other standards and practices generally accepted in any jurisdiction and accordingly should not be relied upon as if they had been prepared in accordance with those standards and practices. Accordingly, the degree of reliance placed by investors on such proforma information should be limited. In addition, the rules and regulations related to the preparation of proforma financial information in any jurisdiction may also vary significantly from the basis of preparation as set out in our notes to the Proforma Financial Statements.

The Proforma Financial Statements have been prepared on the basis of the assumptions set forth in the notes to the Proforma Financial Statements. The Proforma Financial Statements addresses a hypothetical situation and do not represent our actual consolidated or combined financial results and is not intended to be indicative of our future results of operations. As the Proforma Financial Statements are prepared for illustrative purposes only, it is, by its nature, subject to change and may not give an accurate picture of the actual financial results of operations that would have occurred had such transactions by us been effected on the dates they are assumed to have been effected, and is not intended to be indicative of our future financial results of operations. In addition, if the various assumptions underlying the preparation of the Proforma Financial Statements do not come to pass, our actual results could be materially different from those indicated in the Proforma Financial Statements.

Accordingly, the Proforma Financial Statements are illustrative only and should not be taken as an indication of our future results of operation, financial condition or cash flows, especially in light of our acquisitions of the RevX Platform Business on June 28, 2019, effective April 1, 2019, and the Shoffr Platform Business on May 18, 2019, effective February 19, 2019 both of which have not been considered in the Proforma Financial Statements.

45. The determination of the Price Band is based on various factors and assumptions and the Offer Price of the Equity Shares may not be indicative of the market price of the Equity Shares upon listing on the Stock Exchanges. Further, the current market price of some securities listed pursuant to certain previous issues managed by the BRLMs is below their respective issue prices.

The determination of the Price Band is based on various factors and assumptions and will be determined by our Company and the Promoter Selling Shareholder in consultation with the BRLMs. Furthermore, the Offer Price of the Equity Shares will be determined by our Company and the Promoter Selling Shareholder in consultation with the BRLMs through the Book Building Process. These will be based on numerous factors, including factors as described under “Basis for Offer Price” on page 101 and may not be indicative of the market price of the Equity Shares upon listing on the Stock Exchanges. The price of our Equity Shares upon listing on the Stock Exchanges will be determined by the market and may be influenced by many factors outside of our control and may decline below the Offer Price. There can be no assurances that Bidders who are Allotted Equity Shares through the Offer will be able to resell their Equity Shares at or above the Offer Price. For further details, see “–Investors bear the risk of fluctuations in the price of Equity Shares and there can be no assurance that a liquid market for our Equity Shares will develop following the listing of our Equity Shares on the Stock Exchanges” on page 46. Further, the current market price of securities listed pursuant to certain previous initial public offerings managed by the BRLMs is below their respective issue price. For further details, see “Other Regulatory and Statutory Disclosures–Price information of past issues handled by the BRLMs” on page 481.

46. Investors bear the risk of fluctuations in the price of Equity Shares and there can be no assurance that a liquid market for our Equity Shares will develop following the listing of our Equity Shares on the Stock Exchanges.

There has been no public market for our Equity Shares prior to the Offer. The purchase price of our Equity Shares in the Offer will be determined by our Company and the Promoter Selling Shareholder, in consultation with the BRLMs, pursuant to the Book Building Process. This price will be based on numerous factors, as described under in “Basis for Offer Price” on page 108. This price may not necessarily be indicative of the market price of our Equity Shares after the Offer is completed. You may not be able to re-sell your Equity Shares at or above the Offer price and may as a result lose all or part of your investment.

Our Equity Shares are expected to trade on NSE and BSE after the Offer, but there can be no assurance that active trading in our Equity Shares will develop after the Offer, or if such trading develops that it will continue. Investors may not be able to sell our Equity Shares at the quoted price if there is no active trading in our Equity Shares.

The price at which our Equity Shares will trade at after the Offer will be determined by the marketplace and may be influenced by many factors, including:

- Our financial condition, results of operations and cash flows;
- The history of and prospects for our business;
- An assessment of our management, our past and present operations and the prospects for as well as timing of our future revenues and cost structures; and
- The valuation of publicly traded companies that are engaged in business activities similar to ours.
- quarterly variations in our results of operations;
- results of operations that vary from the expectations of securities analysts and investors;
- results of operations that vary from those of our competitors;
- changes in expectations as to our future financial performance, including financial estimates by research analysts and investors;
- a change in research analysts’ recommendations;
- announcements by us or our competitors of significant acquisitions, strategic alliances, joint operations or capital commitments;
- announcements of significant claims or proceedings against us;
- new laws and government regulations that directly or indirectly affect our business;
- additions or departures of Key Management Personnel;

- changes in the interest rates;
- fluctuations in stock market prices and volume; and general economic conditions.

The Indian stock markets have, from time to time, experienced significant price and volume fluctuations that have affected market prices for the securities of Indian companies. As a result, investors in our Equity Shares may experience a decrease in the value of our Equity Shares regardless of our financial performance or prospects.

47. We do not currently intend to pay dividends on our Equity Shares and, consequently, your ability to achieve a return on your investment will depend on appreciation in the price of the Equity Shares.

We have never declared or paid any cash dividends on our Equity Shares and do not currently intend to do so for the foreseeable future. We currently intend to invest our future earnings, if any, to fund our growth, both organic and inorganic. Because you are not likely to receive any dividends on your Equity Shares for the foreseeable future, the success of an investment in Equity Shares will depend upon any future appreciation in their value. Consequently, investors may need to sell all or part of their Equity Shares after price appreciation, which may never occur, as the only way to realize any future gains on their investment.

Any future determination as to the declaration and payment of dividends will be at the discretion of our Board and subsequent approval of our shareholders and will depend on factors that our Board and shareholders deem relevant. Our Company may decide to retain all of our earnings to finance the development and expansion of our business and, therefore, may not declare dividends on our Equity Shares.

48. Our Company will not receive any proceeds from the Offer for Sale portion

The Offer includes an offer for sale of up to 4,953,020 Equity Shares aggregating up to ₹ [●] million by the Promoter Selling Shareholder. The proceeds from the Offer for Sale will be paid to the Promoter Selling Shareholder and our Company will not receive any such proceeds. See “Objects of the Offer” on page 101.

49. Our Company’s management will have flexibility in utilising the Net Proceeds of the Fresh Issue.

We intend to use the Net Proceeds of the Fresh Issue as described in “Objects of the Offer” on page 101. Further, our management will have broad discretion to use the Net Proceeds of the Fresh Issue and investors will be relying on the judgment of our Company’s management regarding the application of the Net Proceeds of the Fresh Issue. Pursuant to Section 27 of the Companies Act 2013, any variation in the objects of the Offer would require a special resolution of the Shareholders and our Promoters or controlling Shareholders will be required to provide an exit opportunity to the Shareholders who do not agree to such proposal to vary the objects of the Offer, in accordance with the Articles of Association of our Company and as may otherwise be prescribed by the SEBI.

50. Any future issuance of Equity Shares by us or sales of Equity Shares by the Promoters could adversely affect the trading price of our Equity Shares and in the case of the issuance of Equity Shares by us result in the dilution of our then current shareholders.

As disclosed in “Capital Structure” on page 90, an aggregate of 20% of our fully diluted post-Offer capital held by our Promoters shall be considered as minimum Promoters’ contribution and locked in for a period of three years and the balance Equity Shares held by the Promoters following the Offer (assuming all of the Offered Shares are sold in the Offer) will be locked-in for one year from the date of Allotment. Except for the customary lock-in on our ability to issue equity or equity-linked securities discussed in “Capital Structure” on page 90, there is no restriction on our ability to issue Equity Shares. As such, there can be no assurance that our Company will not issue additional Equity Shares after the lock-in period expires or that the Promoters will not sell, pledge or encumber their Equity Shares after the lock-in periods expire. Future issuances of Equity Shares or convertible securities and the sale of the underlying Equity Shares could dilute the holdings of our Shareholders and adversely affect the trading price of our Equity Shares. Such securities may also be issued at prices below the then trading price of our Equity Shares or the Offer Price. Sales of Equity Shares by the Promoters could also adversely affect the trading price of our Equity Shares.

51. You may be subject to Indian taxes arising out of capital gains on the sale of our Equity Shares.

Under current Indian tax laws, unless specifically exempted, capital gains arising from the sale of Equity Shares in an Indian company are generally taxable in India. A securities transaction tax (“STT”) is levied on and collected by an Indian stock exchange on which equity shares are sold. The Finance Act, 2018, seeks to tax on such long-term capital gains exceeding ₹ 100,000 arising from sale of equity shares on or after April 1, 2018, while continuing to exempt the unrealised capital gains earned up to January 31, 2018 on such Equity Shares. Accordingly, you may be subject to payment of long-term capital gains tax in India, in addition to payment of STT, on the sale of any Equity Shares held for more than 12 months. STT will be levied on and collected by a domestic stock exchange on which the Equity Shares are sold.

Further, any gain realized on the sale of listed equity shares held for a period of 12 months or less will be subject to short-term capital gains tax in India. Capital gains arising from the sale of the Equity Shares will be exempt from taxation in India in cases where the exemption from taxation in India is provided under a treaty between India and the country of which the seller is resident. Generally, Indian tax treaties do not limit India’s ability to impose tax on capital gains. As a result, residents of other countries may be liable for tax in India as well as in their own jurisdiction on a gain upon the sale of the Equity Shares.

52. QIBs and Non-Institutional Bidders are not permitted to withdraw or lower their Bids (in terms of quantity of Equity Shares or the Bid Amount) at any stage after submitting a Bid.

Pursuant to the SEBI ICDR Regulations, QIBs and Non-Institutional Bidders are not permitted to withdraw or lower their Bids (in terms of quantity of Equity Shares or the Bid Amount) at any stage after submitting a Bid. Retail Individual Bidders can revise their Bids during the Bid/Offer Period and withdraw their Bids until Bid/Offer Closing Date. While we are required to complete Allotment, listing and commencement of trading pursuant to the Offer within six Working Days from the Bid/ Offer Closing Date, events affecting the Bidders’ decision to invest in our Equity Shares, including adverse changes in international or national monetary policy, financial, political or economic conditions, our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition may arise between the date of submission of the Bid and Allotment, listing and commencement of trading. We may complete the Allotment, listing and commencement of trading of our Equity Shares even if such events occur and such events may limit the Bidders’ ability to sell our Equity Shares Allotted pursuant to the Offer or may cause the trading price of our Equity Shares to decline on listing.

53. Public companies in India, including us, are required to compute income tax under the ICDS. We may be negatively affected by ICDS.

The Ministry of Finance, Government of India had issued a notification dated March 31, 2015 presenting the ICDS, which creates a new framework for the computation of taxable income. The ICDS was applicable from April 1, 2016, with Fiscal 2017 being the first assessment year. The ICDS deviates in several respects from concepts that are followed under general accounting standards, including Indian GAAP and Ind AS. For example, where ICDS-based calculations of taxable income differ from Indian GAAP or Ind AS-based concepts, the ICDS-based calculations have the effect of requiring taxable income to be recognised earlier, increasing overall levels of taxation or both. There can be no assurance that the adoption of the ICDS will not adversely affect our results of operation and financial condition.

ICDS is being defined as Income Computation and Disclosure Standards.

MACROECONOMIC OVERVIEW

Banking on the resurgence of global majors and the continuing policy stimulus-driven growth in China, India and similar economies, the outlook for global GDP growth for 2018 is 3.7%. While the U.S. is expected to see a modest growth pick-up due to stronger business and consumer confidence, both Europe and Japan are forecast to have stronger and sustained momentum with diminished political uncertainty and growing private consumption respectively.

Among all large economies, India is likely to demonstrate a rapid and sustainable growth, at a CAGR of 9.46% from 2016 to 2021, driven by strong manufacturing-led industrial expansion and consumption demands from the private sector. According to Frost & Sullivan's analysis based on data from 2017 IMF WEO Update, the country's GDP is well positioned to cross USD 3,000 billion (INR 200 trillion) by 2020; in the event of accelerated manufacturing and investment, this figure could even potentially balloon to USD 3,600 billion (INR 240 trillion).

THE GROWING IMPACT OF E-COMMERCE

E-commerce comprised one-tenth of the total global retail sales at USD 2.29 trillion (Source: eMarketer 2017), with about a fifth of this contribution coming from the United States. The U.S. has over 200 million e-commerce users (comprising 74% of its Internet users) and generated about USD 460 billion in 2017. This market is expected to grow to 250 million by 2022, exceeding USD 640 billion in revenue.

The Indian e-commerce market had revenues of USD 38.5 billion in 2017 and is likely to grow at a CAGR of 12.4% to USD 69.2 billion by 2022. However, with further increase in avenues for digital payments, accelerated broadband penetration, and an increasing number of product options across the breadth of the country, the market has the potential to grow to USD 130 billion over the same time period.

M-commerce (goods and services purchased via mobile) contributed about 55% of the total Indian e-commerce market in 2017. With increasing data speeds, along with falling data access prices, this is likely to grow to over 70% of the e-commerce market by 2022.

Regional Focus across India

Transactions from Tier 2 cities and beyond are growing 3X faster than metropolitan cities, unleashing an untapped market for the next growth phase. Initiatives by the government including the Jan DhanYojana-Aadhaar-Mobile (JAM) scheme, and Unified Payments Interface (UPI) have led to the adoption of digital payments. While they are yet to drive critical mass in adoption, they will be essential in boosting large-scale uptake among rural users.

Targeting the e-commerce shopper in India

The Growing Influence of Amazon Over the Internet

Apart from the U.S., which continues to be its single biggest market, the company has had considerable success in Germany, Japan, the U.K., China and India, and through its international shipping feature enables selling to customers across 100 countries.

China's Growth Trends: Holding up a Mirror to India

India with its 1.3 billion people represents a significant market potential for any business, but for sceptics, its prospects are marred by its challenges, such as inadequate infrastructure, poor access to broadband and technology, and regulatory and taxation roadblocks. However, several initiatives taken over the last decade including electrification, BharatNet, Aadhar, GST, telecom spectrum allocation, higher FDI approvals, among others, have triggered rapid change that will eventually cause significant growth, and native business catering to local demand will stand to benefit.

China faced similar scepticism in the late nineties and early 2000s, but grew to become a formidable world economy over the past two decades riding on the back of investment in public infrastructure, manufacturing, its rural economy and technology. Such stimulus boosted GDP per capita 4x from 2000 to 2010 and increased FDI inflows. Once on this trajectory, China's growth only spiralled leading to transformation across sectors including information, communication and technology.

China's Internet penetration grew by leaps and bounds from 2006 onwards, also reflecting a similar trend in e-commerce adoption.

By 2016, China's digital economy accounted for USD 3.4 trillion contributing to over 30% of the country's GDP. China's digital economy has been fuelled by its state-driven and local enterprises that have constantly customized their offerings to suit the highly populous but fragmented demographic.

THE ADVERTISING AND THE AD TECH INDUSTRY

India is one of the very few markets in the world where advertising spends are likely to grow at double digits. While adversely impacted by demonetisation and the introduction of GST in 2017, the industry grew by 9.6% in 2017 compared to 11.9% in 2016, increasing spends driven by e-commerce, major events such as IPL and World Cup FIFA, as well as campaigns for the upcoming elections in 2019 will likely boost higher growth at 12.5% to reach USD 8.1 billion in 2018, and a CAGR of 13% to USD 13.2 billion by 2022.

Digital advertising spend in India has ramped up in growth over the past three years. It gained USD 1.1 billion in revenue in 2017 and will likely grow at a CAGR of 28.6% to USD 4 billion.

A segment that is fuelling growth for digital segment is mobile advertising, driven by 4G penetration, cost-effective data packages, proliferation of the mobile apps and social media, M-commerce and rapid growth in smartphone penetration. Mobile advertisement spend is expected to grow at a CAGR of 32.7% to reach USD 1.93 billion in 2022. Among types of advertising, there is a gradual shift from display and paid search ads to other forms - especially online video, and social media. The availability of smartphones and access to free data has increased the viewership for video-on-demand content (such as Hotstar, Prime and Netflix) and enabled easy access to social media.

In terms of contribution towards digital advertising spend by sector, banking and financial institutions (BFSI) is currently the largest in India, accounting for 22% of all digital spend (Source: Dentsu Aegis Reports and Frost & Sullivan Estimates). There is significant momentum on part of banks and financial institutions to push digital banking, digital payments, and other services such as insurance. It is followed by e-commerce, fast-moving consumer goods (FMCG) and telecom.

Digital advertising by e-commerce is forecast to grow at a CAGR of 35% to equal 22% of the total digital ad spend, while FMCG is forecast to comprise 19% in 2022 (Source: Dentsu Aegis Reports and Frost & Sullivan Estimates). In the near term, Frost & Sullivan anticipates that advertisers from both sectors will make higher investments to cultivate and nourish consumer habits on digital platforms.

ADVERTISING TECHNOLOGY MARKET

The ad tech market today has evolved beyond the advertiser-publisher to include a number of intermediaries controlling one or more than one part of the value chain. The solutions offered by these companies range from Demand Side Platforms (DSP), Supply Side Platform (SSP), Data Management Platforms (DMP) to ad networks, ad exchanges and so on.

Frost & Sullivan estimates that the global ad tech market earned revenue of USD 34 billion in 2017 and is likely to grow at a CAGR of 10% over the next five years.

The global advertising technology market is highly competitive, with multiple regional and global players. Although it is dominated by digital giants such as Google and Facebook, there are over a hundred companies who offer one or more components of this solution. However, only a few –such as Affle, InMobi, Criteo, The Trade Desk, FreakOut, Mobvista and YouAppi – operate internationally.

India has become an attractive destination for many of these companies. Frost & Sullivan estimates that the Indian ad tech market with a market size of USD 304.9 million in 2017 will likely grow at a CAGR of 39% to USD 808 million in 2022. As digital advertising and in turn programmatic ad spend will grow at a rapid rate, it will help drive growth of the ad tech market. Retail, digital payments, gaming, travel, hospitality and e-commerce are the prime verticals contributing to the market growth currently.

However, less than 10% of Indian internet users today are active (that is those who make a purchase at least once a month) e-commerce customers. This makes it more challenging landscape for marketing tech to be able to discern the users who have the highest propensity to transact online.

Business Models in Ad Tech

Business Models in Ad Tech, 2018

S. No	Business model	Metrics	Typical Pricing Range
1	Media-based Pricing Model	Cost per media (for example, number of banners, videos)	USD 0.15 –USD 5 per thousand impressions
2	Performance-based pricing Model	Cost per click, Cost per sale, Cost per view, Cost per Action (such as app downloads)	USD 0.1 –USD 0.3 per click
3	Flat Fee Model	A flat rate for each media / channel	Varies
4	Software as a Service	Monthly fee based on technology stack, number of users targeted and so on	USD 15,000 –USD 35,000 per month

Today, brands prefer performance-based models, where they are charged based on harder metrics such as number of clicks or converted users. This way, ad tech companies have more incentives to ensure targeted reach for the brand. In fact, with bots faking clicks as well, some companies such as Affle and Criteo, have embraced action or performance driven sales, where customers don't pay for clicks, but for actions such as app installs, purchases, etc. This assures transparency for brands and increased revenues for vendors. In some cases, companies use a revenue sharing model where a percentage of the sale value from the client's product goes to the vendor.

The ad tech market has been extremely dynamic in terms of requirements, spiking the need for constant innovation. But very few companies in the ad tech market hold patents, especially in the mobile ad tech solution space. Among the competitors considered for the analysis, Affle, InMobi, and Criteo hold patents across their product line, but only Affle and InMobi have patents that relate to the mobile advertising segment.

Competitive Landscape

Very few companies such as us, Criteo and the Trade Desk have products that span the entire value chain. While some companies are more focussed on buy-side platforms, some others are focused on the publisher side. While competitors are dispersed geographically, China, South East Asia and India prove to be regions with high potential in the near future.

Capturing India

India with its rapidly growing Internet user base has become an attractive destination for international ad tech vendors, including Criteo, Mobvista, FreakOut – who have set up recently, alongside existing companies such as Affle, RevX, InMobi, among others. However, India presents its unique set of challenges such as a disjointed demographic which is just getting habituated to digital applications (such as use of e-commerce, digital payments, etc.). Only 10% of Internet users are active (i.e., making a purchase at least once per month) e-commerce customers. Frost & Sullivan believes that this makes it a more challenging landscape for marketing tech to be able to discern the users who have the highest propensity to transact online.

It can be a hard market to sustain, even for market participants who are globally successful. With an average CPC at USD 0.1 to 0.3, the price points are quite low compared to the global market. Frost & Sullivan believes that achieving profitability in such a price-sensitive market is possible only for companies that are familiar with the dynamics of consumer profiles and have a track-record of working alongside brands locally for years.

Ad tech, while being extremely attractive, hinges on the success of data acquisition and several vendors globally have demonstrated low profitability or losses even in high CPC markets. Frost & Sullivan believes that India, with its constraints of low CPC, inadequate availability of data and technology will pose significant challenges for scalability and growth, even for established international companies.

In addition, we are in the process of integrating the consumer profiles and the related consumer data points of our RevX Platform (which we acquired on June 28, 2019) and our Shoffr Platform (which we acquired on May 18, 2019) with our Affle Consumer Platform. For details on our acquisitions of the RevX Platform Business and the Shoffr Platform Business, see “History and Certain Corporate Matters’ on page 181.

OVERVIEW

We are a global technology business. We have two business segments: our Consumer Platform; and our Enterprise Platform. Our Consumer Platform primarily provides the following services: (1) new consumer conversions (acquisitions, engagements and transactions) through relevant mobile advertising; (2) retargeting existing consumers to complete transactions for e-commerce companies through relevant mobile advertising; and (3) an online to offline (“O2O”) platform that converts online consumer engagement into in-store walk-ins. Our Enterprise Platform primarily provides end-to-end solutions for enterprises to enhance their engagement with mobile users.

Our Consumer Platform comprises the following:

- our “Affle” branded consumer intelligence platform that deliver consumer acquisitions, engagements and transactions through relevant mobile advertising (the “Affle Consumer Platform”);

- Our “RevX” branded mobile only self-serve programmatic platform that delivers consumer acquisitions, engagements and transactions through relevant mobile advertising (the “RevX Platform”);
- our “Vizury” branded retargeting media business for e-commerce companies and our push notifications offerings for e-commerce companies on a software as a service model (the “Vizury Commerce Business”); and
- our “Shoffr” branded online to offline platform that converts online consumer engagement into in-store walk-ins and transactions (the “Shoffr Platform”).

Our Consumer Platform aims to enhance returns on marketing spend through delivering contextual mobile ads and reducing digital ad fraud, while proactively addressing consumer privacy expectations.

As at March 31, 2019, our Affle Consumer Platform had approximately 2.02 billion consumer profiles, of which approximately 571 million were in India, 582 million were in Other Emerging Markets (which comprises Southeast Asia, the Middle East, Africa and others) and 867 million were in Developed Markets (which comprises North America, Europe, Japan, Korea and Australia). During Fiscal 2019, our Affle Consumer Platform accumulated over 300 billion data points, which power our prediction and recommendation algorithm for our Affle Consumer Platform. We are in the process of integrating the consumer profiles and the related consumer data points of the Vizury Commerce Business, the RevX Platform and the Shoffr Platform with our Affle Consumer Platform.

Our Consumer Platform is used by business to consumer (“B2C”) companies across industries, including e-commerce, fin-tech, telecom, media, retail and FMCG companies, both directly and indirectly through their advertising agencies.

Our Consumer Platform utilises user-intent indicators derived from behavioural signals, marketing attribution and transactional data, which are received in real time and accumulated over time, which increases our ability to predict a user’s likely interests. The accuracy of the prediction and recommendation algorithms for our Consumer Platform improve with every advertisement we deliver, as the systems incorporate new data, while continuing to learn from previous data. In addition, our Consumer Platform enhances our customers’ ad content with rich media experiences, including interactive videos, games and augmented reality. This paired with data-centric scientific targeting and retargeting enables a higher likelihood of consumer engagement, such as downloading an App or completing a transaction.

For Fiscal 2019 on a Proforma Basis, our revenue from our Consumer Platform contributed 97.2% of our revenue from contracts with customers. For Fiscal 2019 on a consolidated basis, our revenue from our Consumer Platform contributed 97.0% of our revenue from contracts with customers. We primarily earn revenue from our Consumer Platform on a cost per converted user (“CPCU”) basis, which comprises user conversions based on consumer acquisition and transaction models. Our consumer acquisition model focuses on acquiring new consumers for businesses, which is usually in the form of a targeted user downloading and opening an App or engaging with an App after seeing an advertisement delivered by us. Our transaction model is usually in the form of a targeted user submitting a lead acquisition form or purchasing a product or service after seeing an advertisement delivered by us. We also earn revenue from our Consumer Platform through awareness and engagement type advertising, which comprises cost per thousand impressions (“CPM”), cost per view (“CPV”) and cost per click (“CPC”) models. These models are relevant for brand advertisers who want to build awareness and recall and engage users online to transact with them offline/online. We understand our customers’ business drivers and work with them to choose audience engagement models that are the most relevant for them, thereby delivering measurable business outcomes for them.

Our Consumer Platform benefits from broad access to mobile ad inventory through our relationships with publishers and data platforms. We encourage publishers to provide us with access to their mobile ad inventory by offering a platform through which they can tap into our advertisers’ marketing budgets and manage their inventory yields. We also have access to mobile display advertising inventory through real-time-bidding advertising exchanges. For each campaign, we bid for the consumer profiles we believe have a higher likelihood to transact on the basis of our data intelligence. Our proprietary optimization algorithms enable us to buy media efficiently and at high scale, giving us the ability to drive high volumes of CPCU-led campaigns at efficient prices.

We also provide end-to-end solutions for enterprises to enhance their engagement with mobile users, such as developing Apps, enabling offline to online commerce for offline businesses with e-commerce aspirations and providing enterprise grade data analytics for online and offline companies (collectively, the “Enterprise Platform”). For Fiscal 2019 on a Proforma Basis, our revenue from our Enterprise Platform represented 2.8% of our revenue from contracts with customers. For Fiscal 2019 on a consolidated basis, our revenue from our Enterprise Platform represented 3.0% of our revenue from contracts with customers.

Our solutions are sold through our sales and marketing team, which as at May 31, 2019 comprised 51 persons across our six offices, one sales agent in Malaysia and through referrals from existing customers. Our customers include the companies for which we undertake a mobile ad campaign as well as the advertising agencies acting for such companies.

Our business is asset light and scalable as shown by the fact that our employee benefit expenses, depreciation and amortization expenses and other expenses have remained relatively unchanged despite significant changes in our revenue in the last three fiscal years. For details, see “Summary Financial Information—Restated Ind AS Unconsolidated Summary Statements” on page 74.

We have three registered patents in the United States with multiple patent claims in areas of advertising via data communication clients, online search system, method and computer programme and method and system for extending the use and/or application of messaging system. We also have 10 pending patent applications in India covering various algorithms in the area of digital fraud detection. As part of our acquisition of the Vizury Commerce Business, we acquired two pending patent applications in India and three pending patent applications in the United States, only one of which we intend to pursue, which is in the field of partner pixelling for user identification.

As at May 31, 2019, we had 236 full time employees across our six offices located in Gurugram (India), Mumbai (India), Bengaluru (India), Singapore, Jakarta (Indonesia) and Dubai (UAE).

In connection with the Offer, we undertook a corporate restructuring in which our Company incorporated the Singapore Subsidiary and it acquired all of Affle Global's business, intangible assets and all of the equity interests in the the Indonesian Subsidiary, effective July 1, 2018. Affle Global was engaged in the same business as our Company outside India and Indonesia and used our Company's solutions. The Indonesian Subsidiary was engaged in the same business as our Company in Indonesia and used our Company's solutions. Affle Holdings, our corporate Promoter, owns 100% of the issued shares in Affle Global. For more details, see "History and Certain Corporate Matters" on page 181.

With effect from September 1, 2018, (a) our Company acquired the Vizury Commerce Business in India, associated records, the brand name "Vizury" and other intellectual property rights and domain name credentials in India, by way of a slump sale on an "as-is-where-is" basis from Vizury India and (b) the Singapore Subsidiary acquired the brand name "Vizury" and certain other intellectual property in connection with the Vizury Commerce Business in Dubai and Singapore from Vizury Dubai and Vizury Singapore, both of which are affiliates of Vizury India. In order to give potential investors a better understanding of what the consolidated results of operations for our Company and the Vizury Commerce Business would have been had we been operating as one group for all of Fiscal 2019, we have prepared the unaudited proforma combined statement of profit and loss for the year ended March 31, 2019 for illustrative purposes, which gives effect to the Vizury Transactions as if they occurred on April 1, 2018. For details, see "Proforma Financial Statements" on page 228 and "Risk Factors—Our Proforma Financial Statements are illustrative in nature and have not been prepared in accordance with accounting or other standards and practices generally accepted in any jurisdiction and accordingly should not be relied upon as if they had been prepared in accordance with those standards and practices" on page 45.

For selected financial results of Affle Holdings, our corporate Promoter, for Fiscals 2018, 2017 and 2016, see "Our Promoters and Promoter Group" on page 215.

On May 18, 2019, but with effect from February 19, 2019, the Singapore Subsidiary acquired the Shoffr Platform Business by way of a slump sale on an "as-is-where-is" basis. For more details, "History and Certain Corporate Matters" on page 181. We believe this acquisition strengthened our business by providing integrated consumer journeys and allowing brands to transparently attribute the impact of digital advertising on in-store footfalls and transactions. As we acquired the Shoffr Platform Business on May 18, 2019, effective February 19, 2019, the financial results of the Shoffr Platform Business for the period from February 19, 2019 to March 31, 2019 are not required to be reflected in our consolidated financial statements as at and for the year ended March 31, 2019.

As we acquired the RevX Platform Business on June 28, 2019, but with effect from April 1, 2019, this acquisition had no effect on our consolidated financial statements as at and for the year ended March 31, 2019.

STRENGTHS

Our Consumer Platform has a leading position in India; a high growth market with substantial barriers to entry.

According to Frost & Sullivan, we are a leading ad tech solution provider in India. As at March 31, 2019, our Affle Consumer Platform had approximately 571 million consumer profiles in India. We provide services across the value chain in digital advertising, spanning the areas of DMP, DSP/SSP, fraud detection and ad network. We are one of the very few companies that have products spanning the entire value chain. Further, we have increased our breadth of our service offerings, especially to e-commerce and mobile app driven companies, following the acquisition of our Vizury Commerce Business and our RevX Platform. While some companies are more focussed on buy-side platforms, others are focused on the publisher side. (Source: Frost & Sullivan Report).

The ad tech market in India is fast growing, with a market size of US$304.9 million in 2017 and will likely grow at a CAGR of 39% to US$808 million by 2022. (Source: Frost & Sullivan Report).

We believe that the Indian market presents high barriers to entry given its unique challenges, such as a disjointed demographic, which is just getting habituated to digital applications (such as the use of e-commerce, digital payments, etc.) and low CPCU. In the last two calendar years, only about 25% of all Internet users in India have shopped online. Frost & Sullivan believes that this makes it a more challenging landscape for marketing tech to be able to discern the users who have the highest propensity to transact online. India can be a hard market to sustain, even for market participants who are globally successful. The range of CPCU in India is quite low compared to the global market. Frost & Sullivan believes that achieving profitability in such a price-sensitive market is possible only for companies that are familiar with the dynamics of consumer profiles and have a track record of working alongside brands locally for years. (Source: Frost & Sullivan Report). Therefore, we believe our extensive consumer profile data, proprietary technology and local knowledge makes us better placed compared to global peers to deliver profitability in India.

Proven international track record

For the Fiscal 2019 on a Proforma Basis our revenue from contracts with customers outside India was ₹ 1,571.88 million, which was 58.5% of our total revenue from contracts with customers. For Fiscal 2019 on a consolidated basis, our revenue from contracts with customers outside India was ₹ 1,405.41 million, which 56.4% of our total revenue from contracts with customers.

Our key international markets are Other Emerging Markets (which comprises Southeast Asia, the Middle East, Africa and others) and Developed Markets (which comprises North America, Europe, Japan, Korea and Australia). We have three international offices: Singapore; Jakarta (Indonesia); and Dubai (UAE). As at May 31, 2019, our international offices had 11 sales staff and our India offices had 13 sales staff focussed on international markets. As at May 31, 2019, we also had one sales agent in Malaysia.

The global ad tech market is expected to grow at a CAGR of 10% from US$34 billion in Fiscal 2017 to US$54 billion in Fiscal 2022. (Source: Frost & Sullivan Report).

Profitable, low-cost business model built on an asset light, automated and scalable platform

Our Affle Consumer Platform is the result of over 13 years of focused research and development and investment. Our Affle Consumer Platform is supported by a flexible and scalable infrastructure, built in-house using cloud computing infrastructure. Our Affle Consumer Platform consists of our proprietary machine and deep learning algorithm for prediction and recommendation that operates in real time and at significant scale.

Over time, as we have attracted more marketing budgets and delivered advertisements, our data assets have grown. As a result, the accuracy of our prediction and recommendation algorithm for our Affle Consumer Platform has improved, enabling us to deliver even more precisely targeted and personalised advertisements. As our ability to generate actions improves with increased user intelligence and targeting, we believe more businesses will use our Affle Consumer Platform and increase their marketing spend with us. We expect this network effect will continue to fuel our growth.

For Fiscals 2019 and 2018 on an unconsolidated basis, our revenue from contracts with customers was ₹ 1,177.94 million and ₹ 837.56 million, respectively, an increase of 40.6%, our Total Operating Expenses were ₹ 930.43 million and ₹ 669.91 million, respectively, an increase of 38.9%, and our EBITDA was ₹ 247.51 million and ₹ 167.65 million, respectively, an increase of 47.6%. More importantly, our revenue growth in India, which is a low CPCU market, did not impact our EBITDA margin on an unconsolidated basis, which was 21.0% in Fiscal 2019 and 20.0% in Fiscal 2018. As at March 31, 2019 and 2018 on an unconsolidated basis, our total assets were ₹ 935.85 million and ₹ 580.31 million, respectively, an increase of 61.3%. The EBITDA and EBITDA margin presented above should be read in conjunction with “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” on page 435.

As at May 31, 2019, we had 236 employees, of which 209 were in India.

As at March 31, 2019, our Affle Consumer Platform had approximately 2.02 billion consumer profiles. For Fiscal 2019, our Affle Consumer Platform accumulated over 300 billion data points. This gives us a deep data-driven understanding of consumer intent and behaviour.

As at March 31, 2019, our Affle Consumer Platform had approximately 2.02 billion consumer profiles, of which approximately (a) 571 million consumer profiles were in India, (b) 582 million consumer profiles were in Other Emerging Markets; and (c) 867 million consumer profiles were in Developed Markets. For Fiscal 2019, our Affle Consumer Platform accumulated over 300 billion data points. We continually accumulate consumer profiles and data points. We are in the process of integrating the consumer profiles and the related consumer data points of our Vizury Commerce Business, the RevX Platform and the Shoffr Platform with our Affle Consumer Platform. Subsequent to the completion of this integration, we believe we will see a significant qualitative increase in our consumer profiles and the related data points.

Consumer profiles and data points are the primary building block that support our Consumer Platform. Our Consumer Platform uses predictive algorithms to recommend mobile users who are most likely to engage with a particular advertisement and on that basis, we choose to display targeted and personalised mobile display advertisements to particular users. By dynamically matching what we believe to be users' intent or interest with relevant advertisements, we are able to deliver more relevant and engaging experiences to consumers, which are therefore more likely to lead to the desired action, such as the downloading of an App or the purchase of a product or service, on the basis of which we earn revenue. Therefore, having significant number of consumer profiles and data points enables us to expand into markets and deliver results to our customers for our Consumer Platform more quickly and at lower costs.

Growth driven, global customer base

We work with customers who we believe are likely to grow, which we believe will help us to grow in the various countries in which our customers provide services. We are engaged to run ad campaigns either directly by the advertisers or indirectly via advertising agencies.

Global advertising spend is managed largely through six major advertising agency groups: WPP (GroupM); Publicis; Omnicom (OMG); Dentsu Aegis Network (DAN); Interpublic Group (IPG) Mediabrands and Havas. (Source: Frost & Sullivan Report). We currently work with all of the top six global advertising agency groups and with other mobile focussed advertising agencies, such as M&C Saatchi Mobile, and with domestic advertising agencies, such as Interactive Avenues and Madison.

We have run mobile advertising campaigns for some of the largest e-commerce and mobile App companies / brands in the world, such as Amazon, Flipkart, Goibibo, Zee, Dunzo, Dailyhunt, Meesho, Games 24x7, Shipt, Jabong, BookMyShow, Wynk, ALTBalaji, PhonePe, Gojek, Spotify, Sivvi, and well-known companies in other industries such as Airtel, Reckitt Benkiser, Johnson & Johnson, McDonalds, Nissan, Air Asia, Axis Bank, Citibank, and BTPN.

Addressing digital fraud and data safety issues that are prevalent in the industry

Our mFaaS platform helps to detect fraud on a real time basis, thus minimising wastage of marketing spend. It processes large volumes of click and conversion data using multiple algorithms to detect patterns of indicative or definitive fraud. We believe mFaaS sets us apart from our competitors as its offers a real time solution for addressing fraud, which is a major issue for online advertising. mFaaS also helps advertising agencies, advertising networks and publishers to optimise the spend on marketing for their customers by helping weed out significant amounts of fraudulent traffic. mFaaS has been recognised and awarded as the industry-wide Best Big Data Technology Platform of the Year at the IMAI India Digital Awards in 2017 and was awarded Gold for the Best Technology Platform at the DIGIXX Awards 2019. We have filed 10 patent applications in relation to mFaaS in India, all of which are still pending.

mTraction (v4.0) CDP is accredited under the Accreditation@SG Digital (SG:D) programme by the Info-communications Media Development Authority ("IMDA"), a Singapore government statutory board under the Ministry of Communications and Information. Factors considered for technical assessment include a security assessment, reliability and usability and maintainability assessment. Business sustainability, scalability, leadership and management are other areas of assessment. (Source:

<https://www.imda.gov.sg/industry-development/programmes-and-grants/startups/accreditation-at-sgd> accessed on May 8, 2018). Our accreditation by IMDA strengthens our belief that we follow the highest standards in product development, business practices, data security and scalability.

Our Vizury Commerce Business and RevX Platform expand our engagement with e-commerce companies to include retargeting services and our Vizury Commerce Business expands our reach in the Middle East and Africa

Our Affle Consumer Platform, which is mainly focussed on delivering new consumer acquisitions, has run mobile advertising campaigns for some of the largest e-commerce and mobile app companies in the world. Our Vizury Commerce Business and the RevX Platform offer retargeting services for e-commerce companies. As a result of our acquisition of the Vizury Commerce Business and the RevX Platform, we have the opportunity to avail of business synergies where the Vizury Commerce Business and the RevX Platform can offer retargeting services to customers of our Affle Consumer Platform and vice versa. In addition, our Vizury Commerce Business is primarily focussed on the Middle East and Africa, which is a market in which we are planning to expand our Affle Consumer Platform in.

STRATEGIES

Enhance our Affle Consumer Platform's revenue from existing and new customers in India and acquire new consumer profiles beyond Tier 1 cities

The ad tech market in India is fast growing, with a market size of US$304.9 million in 2017 and will likely grow at a CAGR of 39% to US$808 million by 2022. (Source: Frost & Sullivan Report). Revenue from contracts with customers from the Consumer Platform on an unconsolidated basis has grown by 40.0% from ₹ 769.40 million in Fiscal 2018 to ₹ 1,076.83 million in Fiscal 2019. We intend to continue to grow our Affle Consumer Platform business in India by increasing our revenue from our existing customers by deepening our relationships with them. For example, we have conducted mobile ad campaigns in India for a number of well-known e-commerce and mobile App companies, such as Amazon, Flipkart, Dunzo, Zee, Dailyhunt, Jabong, BookMyShow, and PhonePe. The Indian e-commerce market was US$38.5 billion in 2017 and is likely to grow at a CAGR of 12.4% to US$69.2 billion by 2022. However, with further increase in avenues for digital payments, accelerated broadband penetration, and an increasing number of product options across the breadth of the country, the market has the potential to grow to US$130 billion over the same time period. Over the last two calendar years, approximately 25% of all internet users in India have shopped online and the number of e-commerce shoppers is forecast to grow at a CAGR of 33.7% from 100 million in 2017 to 320 million in 2022. Frost & Sullivan expects this growth to be driven by retailers and brands diversifying their presence and widen their distribution with integrated online-offline models to gain access to customers beyond those in Tier 1 and Tier 2 cities. (Source: Frost & Sullivan Report). We also intend to continue to grow our Affle Consumer Platform’s revenue by gaining new customers in the fast-growing e-commerce market, through our existing sales team in India and through referrals from existing customers.

Historically, we have primarily focused on gaining consumer profiles in Tier 1 cities. In addition to focusing on consumers in Tier 1 cities, we intend to increase the number of consumer profiles in Tier 2 cities, Tier 3 cities and rural markets, which are areas that our customers have not placed much emphasis on to date. We have partnered in the past with Micromax Informatics Ltd. in order to enhance our consumer intelligence and we intend to continue to do that in the future, which we believe will enable us to increase our consumer intelligence in Tier 2 cities, Tier 3 cities and rural markets. In addition, we will encourage our Affle Consumer Platform’s customers to put more emphasis on ad campaigns that focus on consumers in Tier 2 cities, Tier 3 cities and rural markets, which will increase our consumer profile base in those areas.

Expand our international business through local business development efforts and through referrals from our existing customers

As at March 31, 2019, our Affle Consumer Platform had approximately 2.02 billion consumer profiles, of which approximately 571 million were in India and 1,449 million were outside of India (approximately 582 million in Other Emerging Markets and 867 million in Developed Markets). For the Fiscal 2019 on a consolidated basis, the average CPCU was ₹ 25.3 in India, ₹ 60.2 in Other Emerging Markets and ₹ 114.1 in Developed Markets. Even though the number of our Affle Consumer Platform’s consumer profiles outside India was 71.7% of our Affle Consumer Platform’s total consumer profiles and the average CPCU for the Fiscal 2019 on a consolidated basis was more outside India, our revenue from contracts with customers outside India for the Fiscal 2019 on a consolidated basis was 56.4% of our total revenue from contracts with customers. For the Fiscal 2019 on a consolidated basis, our average monetization factor, which is the percentage of converted users we delivered relative to the number of consumer profiles on our Affle Consumer Platform (the “Monetization Factor”), was 6.9% in India compared to 1.8% in Other Emerging Markets and 0.6% for Developed Markets. We intend to increase the Monetization Factor for our Affle Consumer Platform’s consumer profiles outside India by increasing our business development efforts to gain more customers outside India and through referrals from our existing customers.

We currently have business development teams outside India in Singapore, Jakarta (Indonesia) and Dubai (UAE) (we opened an office in Dubai in March 2019). Our plan for increasing our business development efforts outside India is to build a business development team in North America during Fiscal 2020 to service the North American market. This is to win more advertising campaigns with local and international companies operating in the region by demonstrating our successful track record internationally and through our on the ground presence to deliver better support and build more trust with the market participants.

Drive further penetration in our top customers and deliver more converted users for large e-commerce companies

One of our goals is for our Consumer Platform to deliver more converted users for large e-commerce companies, such as Amazon, Flipkart and Gojek globally by being part of their expansion plans. We delivered converted users for Amazon and its related group entities in 21 countries across North America, South America, Southeast Asia, Europe, the Middle East and Africa in Fiscal 2019 on a consolidated basis. Amazon has been helping sellers in countries where it does not have a presence reach out to customers in countries outside their home geographies. It hosted merchants from more than 100 different countries last year and helped them connect with customers in 185 nations. (Source: Frost & Sullivan Report).

We intend to continue devoting substantial resources on our research and development efforts. As at May 31, 2019, we had 100 full-time employees in our research and development team. We expect to expand our research and development efforts by recruiting more employees. We plan to continue to invest more in research and development into: artificial intelligence, machine learning and deep learning in identifying and classifying our consumer profiles; a combination of data science and artificial intelligence, machine learning and deep learning in identifying fraud; moving to cloud agnostic platforms to enable multi-cloud deployments; and using database lakes that utilise multiple best of breed database technologies to distribute the data load and reduce costs and in some cases increase the speed of processing.

Continue to develop our award-winning fraudulent data detection and prevention platform

We believe mFaaS sets us apart from our competitors as it offers a real time solution for addressing fraud, which is a major issue for mobile advertising. Our fraud detection technology needs to continually evolve to counter and stay ahead of persons engaged in ad fraud. We intend to continue to build more fraud checks to detect and prevent mobile advertisement fraud and hence ensuring actual returns to our customers. We have also applied for 10 patents in India covering various algorithms in the area of digital fraud detection, all of which are pending. For more details, see “-Intellectual Property” on page 167.

Continue to selectively pursue acquisitions

We have successfully acquired and integrated businesses, including Markt in March 2018, which we acquired as it had an offline to online commerce platform through which we could enhance our platform propositions for e-commerce companies. We acquired the Vizury Commerce Business effective September 1, 2018, the Shoffr Platform Business on May 18, 2019, effective February 19, 2019, and the RevX Platform Business on June 28, 2019, effective April 1, 2019.

There are over 100 companies around the world that offer one or more components of the digital advertising technology. Only a few companies/groups operate internationally, such as us, InMobi, Criteo, Trade Desk, Freakout, Mobvista and YouAppi, among others, thereby providing us with opportunities for consolidation. (Source: Frost & Sullivan Report).

We look to continue acquiring businesses, assets, and technologies that complement our existing capabilities, revenue streams and marketing presence and which we believe will result in sustainable financial growth. Our pre-deal assessment examines the key attributes of the potential target, with a focus on the target’s knowledge, customers and expected future financial results. We look for targets that (a) have complementing teams, technology and data that strengthen our strategic focus and facilitate an efficient expansion into other emerging markets, (b) have complementing customer relationships such that an acquisition and the integrated technology and data that accompanies it would foreseeably result in enhanced growth and an increase in recurrence and retention of customers and (c) will enhance value for our shareholders, through increasing the profitability of the target and an increased price-to-earnings multiple of the target post-acquisition.

Cross-sell our solutions

The solutions in our Enterprise Platform enable offline to online commerce for currently offline businesses. Our Enterprise Platform solutions create a new segment of potential customers for our Consumer Platform. Having developed a relationship with them through helping them build an e-commerce business, we believe are ideally placed to help them get customers for their online business through our Affle Consumer Platform and to re-target those customers through the solutions in our Vizury Commerce Business and the RevX Platform. Global e-commerce revenue was US$2.29 trillion in 2017, which comprised only 10% of the total global retail sales, thereby providing significant opportunity in the medium to long term to enable the shift to e-commerce globally. Other assumptions:

On an ongoing basis, our working capital requirements are projected to increase compared to our historical period on account of revenue growth from the combined operations pursuant to corporate restructuring (impact of the acquisition of all the assets of Affle Global including the equity interests in the Indonesian Subsidiary and excluding its shares in the Company) and subsequent acquisitions.

Trade receivables and contract asset	This is based on the average standard payment terms across our customers. Our Company's general credit terms vary across geographies and type of customer, and our assumptions are based on past trends. Our outstanding trade receivables (calculated as closing trade receivables divided by net revenues from operations over 360 days) derived from the Restated Unconsolidated Financial Statements, was, 112 days, 101 days and 96 days for Financial Years 2019, 2018 and 2017, respectively and 88 days derived from the Restated Consolidated Financial Statements for Financial Year 2019. Our Company has assumed trade receivables turnover ratio as 94 days for each of the Financial Years 2020 and 2021, respectively.
Loans, other financial assets and other current assets	The days of outstanding for loans, other financial assets and other current assets derived from the Restated Unconsolidated Financial Statements (calculated as short-term loans and advances, other current assets divided by total revenues over 360 days) was 13 days, 6 days and 13 days for each of the Financial Years 2019, 2018 and 2017, respectively and 9 days derived from the Restated Consolidated Financial Statements for Financial Year 2019. Our Company has assumed days of outstanding for loans, other financial assets and other current assets as 9 days for each of the Financial Years 2020 and 2021, respectively.
Cash and bank balances	Our Company is required to keep sufficient cash balance to address the growth in operations. We have assumed a certain level of safety cash required for our operations. In addition, working capital requirement during the peak seasons in the year will be higher than the year ending working capital requirement.
Trade payables	This is based on the average standard payment terms of our vendors. Our trade payables predominantly comprise of payables towards cost of sales i.e. Inventory and data costs and agency charges. Days of outstanding trade payables (calculated as trade payables divided by total expenses (excluding depreciation, finance cost and tax expense) over 360 days) derived from the Restated Unconsolidated Financial Statements, was 125 days, 118 days and 93 days for Financial Years 2019, 2018 and 2017 respectively and 104 days derived from the Restated Consolidated Financial Statements for Financial Year 2019. Our Company has assumed trade payables as 87 days and 76 days of total expenses (excluding depreciation, finance cost and tax expenses) for Financial Year 2020 and 2021, respectively. We have assumed lower number of Trade Payable days to factor in our global expansion and conservatively factor reduced payment terms from new customers.
Other financial liabilities, other current liabilities and contract liability	Our other current liabilities predominantly comprise of outstanding statutory dues and salaries payable. Days of outstanding other current liabilities (calculated as other current liabilities divided by total expenses, excluding depreciation, finance cost and tax expense over 360 days) derived from the Restated Unconsolidated Financial Statements, was 24 days, 25 days and 42 days for Financial Year 2019, 2018 and 2017 respectively and 16 days derived from the Restated Consolidated Financial Statements for Financial Year 2019. Our Company has assumed Other current liabilities at 19 days and 15 days of total expenses (excluding depreciation, finance cost and tax expenses) for Financial Years 2020 and 2021, respectively since these are mostly operational expenses excluding supplier payments.

Provisions	Our provisions predominantly comprise of provision for employee benefits. Days of outstanding provisions (calculated as provisions divided by total expenses, excluding depreciation, finance cost and tax expense over 360 days) derived from the Restated Unconsolidated Financial Statements, 1 day, 1 day and 1 day for Financial Year 2019, 2018 and 2017 respectively and 1 day derived from the Restated Consolidated Financial Statements for Financial Year 2019. Our Company has assumed provisions at 1 day each of total expenses (excluding depreciation, finance cost and tax expenses) for Financial Years 2020 and 2021, respectively.

MACROECONOMIC OVERVIEW

Global Economic Outlook

Banking on the resurgence of global majors and the continuing policy stimulus-driven growth in China, India and similar economies, the outlook for global GDP growth for 2018 is 3.7%. While the U.S. is expected to see a modest growth pick-up due to stronger business and consumer confidence, both Europe and Japan are forecast to have stronger and sustained momentum with diminished political uncertainty and growing private consumption respectively.

Exhibit 1: GDP Real Growth, Global, 2014-2021 (%)

Digitization, improvement in the labour force and stronger productivity can help sustain the growth momentum and provide a favourable environment for businesses to thrive. Companies, however, need to stay focused on strengthening their growth through an apt combination of technology, innovation and skills.

Economic Outlook- India

Among all large economies, India is likely to demonstrate a rapid and sustainable growth, at a CAGR of 9.46% from 2016 to 2021, driven by strong manufacturing-led industrial expansion and consumption demands from the private sector. According to Frost & Sullivan’s analysis based on data from 2017 IMF WEO Update, the country’s GDP is well positioned to cross USD 3,000 billion (INR 200 trillion) by 2020; in the event of accelerated manufacturing and investment, this figure could even potentially balloon to USD 3,600 billion (INR 240 trillion).

Growing Online Population

In 2017, Internet users represented 48% of the global population, with mobile phones being the primary mode of access, especially in emerging markets. With upgrades to the cellular infrastructure, proliferation of smartphones and the availability of several content options, there has been a steady growth in consumers using the Internet. (Source: ITU Facts and Figures 2017)

Exhibit 3: Internet Penetration, 2014-2021 (%)

While China and India are lower in Internet penetration than many other countries in the world, they have the largest Internet user base followed by the United States. China led the world with a user base of over 770 million in 2017, followed by India at over 445 million and the U.S. at over 310 million.

South East Asia is another fast-growing Internet market with over 330 million users, and over 53% penetration in 2017; the user base in the region is set to expand to 480 million by 2022. The Internet economy in the region will likely grow to USD 50 billion in 2018 and to USD 200 billion by 2025.

Improved Connectivity & Increasing Smartphone Penetration

Lower data prices and the availability of almost unlimited content for entertainment, multimedia, information and business applications has led to an impulsive usage of the Internet, leading to significant growth in mobile data traffic, especially from these economies.

According to the 2017 Ericsson Mobility Report, worldwide mobile data traffic per month was 8.8 (Exabytes) EB in 2016 and is expected to grow at a CAGR of 42% to 71 EB in 2022, while the data traffic per smartphone is estimated to grow at a CAGR of 33% from 2.1 GB in 2016 to 12 GB in 2022.

India has been mirroring similar trends with an increasing share of data revenue vis-à-vis traditional voice services. The share of data wallet- saw an increase of 81%, as compared to a drop of nearly 19% in voice revenue, over 2013-2016. (Source: IAMAI, Nokia Mbit Index 2017)

Source: IAMAI, Nokia Mbit Index 2017

According to comScore Global Mobile Report released in 2017, a mobile phone user in India spends an average of 2,844 minutes on the device every month. Of this, 92% of the time is spent on apps. Another study cited in LiveMint January 17, 2017, from App Annie’s Retrospective Report, India overtook the United States in terms of the total number of Google Play downloads (surpassed only by China), and Android contributed to 78% of the total mobile traffic in 2017.

Exhibit 6: Share of Mobile Minutes for Apps and Mobile Web Per Visitor, Number of Minutes

India’s Internet growth, however, will largely be driven by the anticipated increase in users and usage in rural areas. Currently, the rural Internet density (i.e., the number of Internet subscribers per 100 people) is at 14.89, compared to 76.76 for the urban population (Source: TRAI Performance Index Report May 2017). India is expected to have 730 million Internet users by FY 2020 with a 60% penetration; 75% of the new user growth is set to come from rural areas. (NASSCOM, 2017)

Regardless of the location, the mobile phone will be the key driver for the growing Internet access in India. According to TRAI, almost 77% of urban and 92% of rural users consider the mobile phone as the primary device for accessing the Internet, largely because of the large-scale availability and affordability of smartphones.

According to a publicly available study by Capgemini, “Lessons from the Indian mobile market,” as of the end of FY 17, 18% of the world’s mobile phone subscribers reside in India. The subscriber growth is forecast to outperform the regional and global averages over the coming years as the country cements its position as the world’s second-largest mobile subscription market after China. Frost & Sullivan expects this to increase the demand for mobile handsets and also create a replacement demand in the long term.

Increasing smartphone adoption is one of the primary drivers that have boosted Internet consumption in India. According to Frost & Sullivan, although the country has overtaken the United States as the world’s second biggest smartphone market in terms of volume, it had only 22% smartphone penetration in 2017.

Exhibit 7: Smartphone Penetration, 2017 (%)

Source: Frost & Sullivan Analysis

Source: Frost & Sullivan Analysis

Feature phones had a volume share of 66.2%, and smartphones, 33.8%, of the total Indian mobile phone market in 2016. Significant rural and semi-urban markets are the key contributors to the uptake of economically priced feature phones. However, the decline in prices of smartphones has blurred price points between feature phones and low-end smartphones, encouraging higher adoption of the latter. The smartphone segment is expected to grow by a CAGR of 27.1% by volume until the end of 2021. This growth will ensure smartphones will overtake feature phones in volumes by 2020.

THE GROWING IMPACT OF E-COMMERCE

E-commerce comprised one-tenth of the total global retail sales at USD 2.29 trillion (Source: eMarketer 2017), with about a fifth of this contribution coming from the United States. The U.S. has over 200 million e-commerce users (comprising 74% of its Internet users) and generated about USD 460 billion in 2017. This market is expected to grow to 250 million by 2022, exceeding USD 640 billion in revenue.

Exhibit 9: Internet Users versus E-commerce Users, USA, 2015-2022

Source: Industry Sources and Frost & Sullivan Analysis

The e-commerce market in India, on the other hand, is in its early growth stages. With the proliferation of high-speed internet and the ubiquity of affordable smartphones, the market has grown significantly over the past three years. Although it started as an urban trend restricted only to the tech-savvy and the young population demographic, e-commerce has caused an all-encompassing revolution in the retail industry.

Since 2015, about one-fourth of all Internet users have already shopped online and this number is likely to grow at a rapid pace with the increase in the number of e-commerce companies supporting all product and service categories.

The Indian e-commerce market had revenues of USD 38.5 billion in 2017 and is likely to grow at a CAGR of 12.4% to USD 69.2 billion by 2022. However, with further increase in avenues for digital payments, accelerated broadband penetration, and an increasing number of product options across the breadth of the country, the market has the potential to grow to USD 130 billion over the same time period.

Exhibit 10: E-commerce Market Size and Forecast for India 2017-2022 (USD billion)

Source: Frost & Sullivan

M-commerce (goods and services purchased via mobile) contributed about 55% of the total Indian e-commerce market in 2017. With increasing data speeds, along with falling data access prices, this is likely to grow to over 70% of the e-commerce market by 2022.

Regional Focus across India

A majority of 60% of all online sales in India in 2017 were contributed by the 8 metro cities, while the remaining sales were generated from 3,133 Tier 2 and Tier 3 cities (including 1,233 rural hubs- which are nodal points supporting businesses in rural areas).

Exhibit 12: E-commerce Sales, by Region, India, 2017

Source: Frost & Sullivan analysis

However, transactions from Tier 2 cities and beyond are growing 3X faster than metropolitan cities, unleashing an untapped market for the next growth phase. Initiatives by the government including the Jan Dhan Yojana-Aadhaar-Mobile (JAM) scheme, and Unified Payments Interface (UPI) have led to the adoption of digital payments. While they are yet to drive critical mass in adoption, they will be essential in boosting large-scale uptake among rural users.

Targeting the e-commerce shopper in India

While e-commerce in India has an established market now, primary vendors find it challenging to increase active usage, drive frequency in purchase, and boost average spending. Both Flipkart and Amazon reported a registered user base of over 100 million each in 2017, but only 10% of their registered users are active, and about one in six make a purchase when online. (Source: Frost & Sullivan research)

E-commerce spending in India is still reserved and currently at an annual average of USD 385 compared to USD 1,700 in the U.S.

Exhibit 13: Estimates of Number of E-commerce Users and Average Spend Per Shopper, 2017-2025, India

Source: Assocham, Economic Times, Frost & Sullivan

Frost & Sullivan believes that while the growing popularity for online shopping in India is undeniable, it is not going to replace brick and mortar stores anytime soon. Retailers and brands are therefore trying to diversify their presence and widen their distribution with integrated online-offline models to gain access to customers beyond those in Tier 1 and Tier 2 cities. Either with their own online platform or through aggregator sites such as Amazon and Flipkart, they are offering their catalogues across all product categories. For instance, large retail brands such as Croma, Shoppers Stop, Lifestyle, Metro Cash & Carry, and ITC are exploring options of making their products available on existing e-commerce platforms in order to have a digital presence without investing completely in the operations side of the business.

Not surprisingly, therefore, the majority of the investments in this space over the past year have been towards building and optimizing marketplaces, while the rest has been in building mobile wallets and e-commerce platforms. A significant percentage of this investment is targeted towards initiatives such as driving higher consumer adoption among non-users, reducing churn, increasing active usage among existing customers, boosting consumer spend across all categories (necessary and discretionary), driving frequency and conversion of the intent to purchase.

Frost & Sullivan believes that the primary challenge for brands and retailers (both offline and online) is how to seek and target the right customer through digital avenues. India has 100 million e-commerce shoppers, but the demographic is highly fragmented. Frost & Sullivan believes that digital attention as well as preferences across apps and websites is extremely divided and therefore, a one-size-fits-all marketing strategy as applied in television or newsprint doesn't work.

Hence, there is growing adoption of advanced digital advertising technology, which can help crawl the widely spread user base across applications to push e-commerce adoption. Digital avenues provide a transparent way of estimating the return on investment (RoI) on every single customer acquisition and therefore marketers are under intense pressure to ensure performance-based marketing. Further, digital selling allows a brand or a retailer to closely track purchasing trends in real time based on actual consumer actions such as impressions, clicks, downloads or payments, which, while being an advantage, also make every advertiser highly accountable for their marketing spends.

Frost & Sullivan believes that e-commerce in India will be driven by both necessity and aspiration. On one hand, the adoption in metros will continue to grow, and existing users will increase their average spend across brands and categories; on the other, the increasing smartphone and data access penetration will bolster adoption rates among semi-urban and rural consumers.

The Growing Influence of Amazon over the Internet

What started as an online book business in 1994 has become a global household name in e-commerce and cloud services. From food products to electronics to apparel to video streaming content, Amazon today sells over 562 million products across 10 categories globally (Source: Scrapehero, Jan 2018). In India alone, the company sells over 100 million products. (Source: Economic Times, March 2017)

Amazon has been a disruptor in many markets it has entered, and India is no exception. Since starting operations in the country, the company has gradually captured share in the e-commerce market fighting the erstwhile incumbents with aggressive marketing and strategic campaigns. Amazon continues to grow its presence and competes strongly with Flipkart and PayTM. However, Frost & Sullivan believes that Walmart's purchase of a majority stake in Flipkart could give the latter an ability to leverage the strengths of Walmart in offline retail, and present new business opportunities to further increase its market dominance.

Amazon has invested ₹ 26,000 million in India to augment its fulfilment infrastructure and enhance consumer and seller experience. Working on a hybrid model (inventory and marketplace models), the company collects commission from sellers, while generating revenue from services like listing fee (promoted products), logistics fee and other additional service offerings such as analytics. It also leverages its Prime membership for speedy delivery options, bundled with value-add services like Prime Music and Prime Video, to name a few. This value-for-money subscription fee of ₹ 999 per annum has resulted in the company garnering over 10 million subscribers in the country, making it its largest international market outside the U.S. (Source: Entracker, April 19, 2018).

Apart from the U.S., which continues to be its single biggest market, the company has had considerable success in Germany, Japan, the U.K., China and India, and through its international shipping feature enables selling to customers across 100 countries. (Source: Techcrunch, April 2018)

China's Growth Trends: Holding up a Mirror to India

India with its 1.3 billion people represents a significant market potential for any business, but for sceptics, its prospects are marred by its challenges, such as inadequate infrastructure, poor access to broadband and technology, and regulatory and taxation roadblocks. However, several initiatives taken over the last decade including electrification, BharatNet, Aadhar, GST, telecom spectrum allocation, higher FDI approvals, among others, have triggered rapid change that will eventually cause significant growth, and native business catering to local demand will stand to benefit.

China faced similar scepticism in the late nineties and early 2000s, but grew to become a formidable world economy over the past two decades riding on the back of investment in public infrastructure, manufacturing, its rural economy and technology. Such stimulus boosted GDP per capita 4x from 2000 to 2010 and increased FDI inflows. Once on this trajectory, China's growth only spiralled leading to transformation across sectors including information, communication and technology.

Exhibit 16: Internet Users and Online Shoppers in million, China, 2000 to 2016

By 2016, China's digital economy accounted for USD 3.4 trillion contributing to over 30% of the country's GDP. (Source: China Daily, 2017) China's digital economy has been fuelled by its state-driven and local enterprises that have constantly customized their offerings to suit the highly populous but fragmented demographic.

Can India replicate China's success?

While India has lagged behind China in manufacturing, it has demonstrated rapid growth in its digital economy. While China had the most app downloads at 65 million in 2017, India followed closely at 58 million, and should overtake China soon. Both countries have largely been mobile-first in consumer adoption thereby driving significant mobile broadband access. With the infusion of investment into higher speed broadband penetration, India is poised to accelerate growth in the digital sector.

Currently, India's Internet user base is the second largest after China. (Source: ITU Facts and Figures, 2017) While China still remains the leader with 51% smartphone penetration, India has a 22% smartphone penetration rate and, in terms of volume, has overtaken the United States as the world's second biggest smartphone market. The country has been a steady growth in internet consumers, with improvements in its cellular infrastructure, influx of cheaper smartphones, and the availability of several content options.

THE ADVERTISING AND THE AD TECH INDUSTRY

Overview

The advertising industry globally has been undergoing a transformation. The number of avenues to market to a consumer has expanded widely beyond print display, television and radio to digital media. Digital, while absorbing a significant percent of ad spend today, has evolved to become more complex and includes several forms such as search, video and rich media, social media, classified, and so on. For advertisers, the complexity has compounded as a result of increasing avenues to target consumers in an omni-channel world. (Source: Frost & Sullivan)

Growth Outlook of the Advertising Industry

Backed by a stimulating economic growth, technology advancements, and increasing digital users via the Internet, Frost & Sullivan believes that the outlook for the advertising industry is highly positive. Global advertising spends in 2017 were about USD 569 billion, out of which the U.S. had the largest pie, accounting for 36.94%.

According to Dentsu-Aegis 2017 reports on advertising spends and Frost & Sullivan estimates, the industry will grow at a CAGR of 3.9% (2017-2022) to USD 689.63 billion, backed by economic stability and sustained spending from U.S., India, Japan and China, among other countries.

Digital advertising – that is advertising online – comprised 34% of total advertising spend globally, and 37% of the U.S. market in 2017. By 2022, digital spend will comprise over 50% of total advertising spend globally. (Source: Dentsu Aegis Reports and Frost & Sullivan Estimate)

Frost & Sullivan believes that ad agencies are at the forefront of driving digital marketing and advertising trends today. The revenue (which is usually a small percentage of billings and/or ad spends done through them) of the top six ad agency groups; WPP (GroupM); Publicis; Havas; Interpublic (IPG); Dentsu Aegis (DAN); and Omnicom (OMG), collectively equaled close to 4.5% of the total global advertising spend in 2017 (Source: Company Annual reports and Frost & Sullivan analysis). But their cumulative digital revenue comprised 13% of total global digital advertising. While many brands are moving their digital ad spend budgets in-house, several are still dependent on agencies and their affiliates to pull off multi-channel, multimedia creative production, placement, and distribution of advertisements.

Today’s advertisers are vying for the attention of billions of customers across digital devices, publishing platforms, channels, as well as applications; and hence targeted and performance-driven marketing are critical to drive growth in this business.

Digital advertising involves not just targeting suitable consumer profiles, but also smart ad-serving to offer tailor-made communication to drive certain actions. It also includes programmatic trading- an automated process driven by artificial intelligence to do real time bidding for ad space – as an alternative for direct advertising that is heavily dependent on human negotiations.

However this entire process can be driven only by harnessing the power of data. Advertisers today seek solution providers who are armed with large datasets of millions of consumer profiles and an effective Data Management Platform (DMP), which can apply analytics to identify behaviour patterns, segment customers and thereafter conduct effective marketing.

Overview of the Indian Advertising Industry

India is one of the very few markets in the world where advertising spends are likely to grow at double digits. While adversely impacted by demonetisation and the introduction of GST in 2017, the industry grew by 9.6% in 2017 compared to 11.9% in 2016, increasing spends driven by e-commerce, major events such as IPL and World Cup FIFA, as well as campaigns for the upcoming elections in 2019 will likely boost higher growth at 12.5% to reach USD 8.1 billion in 2018, and a CAGR of 13% to USD 13.2 billion by 2022.

Digital advertising spend in India has ramped up in growth over the past three years. It gained USD 1.1 billion in revenue in 2017 and will likely grow at a CAGR of 28.6% to USD 4 billion.

A segment that is fuelling growth for digital segment is mobile advertising, driven by 4G penetration, cost-effective data packages, proliferation of the mobile apps and social media, M-commerce and rapid growth in smartphone penetration. Mobile advertisement spend is expected to grow at a CAGR of 32.7% to reach USD 1.93 billion in 2022 (Source: Dentsu Aegis Reports and Frost & Sullivan Estimates).

Among types of advertising, there is a gradual shift from display and paid search ads to other forms - especially online video, and social media. The availability of smartphones and access to free data has increased the viewership for video-on-demand content (such as Hotstar, Prime and Netflix) and enabled easy access to social media.

Exhibit 25: Change in Percentage of Digital Advertising Spend by type (2014-2017), Global

In terms of contribution towards digital advertising spend by sector, banking and financial institutions (BFSI) is currently the largest in India, accounting for 22% of all digital spend (Source: Dentsu Aegis Reports and Frost & Sullivan Estimates). There is significant momentum on part of banks and financial institutions to push digital banking, digital payments, and other services such as insurance. It is followed by e-commerce, fast-moving consumer goods (FMCG) and telecom.

Digital advertising by e-commerce is forecast to grow at a CAGR of 35% to equal 22% of the total digital ad spend, while FMCG is forecast to comprise 19% in 2022 (Source: Dentsu Aegis Reports and Frost & Sullivan Estimates). In the near term, Frost & Sullivan anticipates that advertisers from both sectors will make higher investments to cultivate and nourish consumer habits on digital platforms.

The attractiveness of the digital medium - comparing cost of acquisition

Ad inventories are typically priced based on a cost per thousand impressions (CPM) basis across media. However, doing a comparison across media is always a challenge due to the differences in targeting capability and also benchmarking on an appropriate creative length/size. For example, if print CPMs are computed on the basis of the cost of a full page ad, the CPMs can be very high vis-a-vis a similar CPM being done for a smaller ad size.

CPM is an advertising metric that measures how much money an advertiser must spend to reach an audience base of 1,000. Traditionally, televisions and newspapers / magazines (grouped under print) were the only sources of advertisements and thus had a higher reach, justifying a higher price. While these avenues continue to hold significance even today, the cost per impression for TV and print is much lower than that for digital sources such as mobile app, website or mobile site.

However, the number of consumer-targeting options available for advertising on digital sources compensates for the higher CPM as the ‘spillover’ (that is the number of uninterested or unlikely customers) is minimized. Given that individual level targeting is not available on TV & Print, an advertiser needs to buy a lot more impressions to reach the relevant audience (given the spillover), versus buying only the optimum targeted impressions in case of digital media.

HOW DOES DIGITAL ADVERTISING WORK?

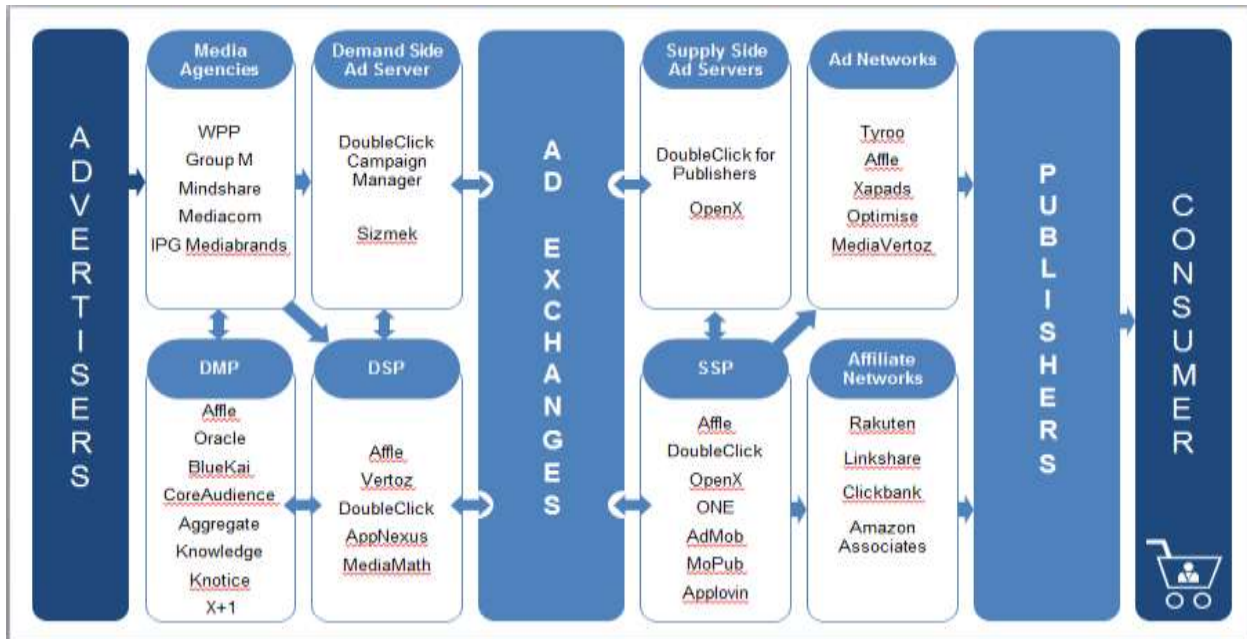

Digital advertising has evolved rapidly over the last decade. The sophistication in tracking and measuring every single metric of a digital advertisement in real time makes brands highly accountable for their digital ad spends. Therefore, there is increased emphasis on performance marketing, which requires leveraging large datasets of consumer information to drive targeted campaigns as well as real-time analysis.

Value Chain of Digital Advertising

The digital advertising value chain comprises publishers at one end and advertisers at the other; and multiple ad tech companies who act as facilitators for interactions between the two.

The illustration below identifies key constituents of the value chain with some examples of companies that offer solutions and services for that particular constituent. The figure also depicts the flow of ad impressions and revenue.

Exhibit 27: Digital Advertising Value Chain

Note: The key constituents of the value chain are defined below.
(Source: Frost & Sullivan)

Key Constituents of the Advertising Value Chain

Advertisers: Advertisers are brands/companies who are trying to reach users on all available platforms –newspaper, television, radio, computers, smartphones and other devices. This will include any brand like Pepsi; e-commerce companies like Amazon; and mobile app and game developers.

Media Agencies: Media agencies purchase ad spaces (inventory) for advertisers so that the advertisers can target the right audience at the right price and time.

Advertisement Server: An advertisement (ad) server is used by other value chain participants to manage and serve online advertisements.

Demand Side Platforms (DSP): They aggregate the demand from advertisers around the world and conduit it automatically to enable super-fast bids on publisher inventory.

Ad Networks: Ad networks are involved in aggregating inventory from similar publishers to match it with the advertisers' demand.

Supply Side Platforms (SSP): These platforms aggregate the inventory from publishers around the world and enable automatic exposure to advertisers.

Publishers: Publishers are media companies like The Hindu, Huffington Post and others who publish some form of content for the end user. In the digital age, this classification also includes entertainment websites, independent news portals and other information portals and blogs. On the mobile side, this refers to communication, social and gaming apps.

Data Management Platforms (DMP): The platform packages user data from publishers so that advertisers can target specific audience segments.

Ad Impression: Impression is a measurement of responses from a Web server to a page request from the user browser. Each time an ad is fetched from its source, it is counted as an impression and not when it is clicked.

How Does the Value Chain Function?

Advertising traditionally is driven by transactions between an advertiser/ brand and an advertising agency or a publisher across media. An advertiser makes decisions based on two primary factors: one, the price of the space (whether print, television, radio spot, signage or others), and two, the reach of the publisher – that is the number of consumers it exposes its visibility to.

Online or digital ads function on the same principles, but because of the numerous avenues of publisher platforms, the diversity of user devices and applications (gaming, social media, video, etc.), the complexity of advertising online compounded. Advertising technology (Ad tech) companies have simplified advertising in the digital world with the help of data analytics, artificial intelligence and machine learning.

The core objective of the advertising value chain still remains the same. Advertisers want to publish their message across platforms for two reasons: to drive sales and/or enable awareness of the product or service. They seek to publish the ad on the right platform at a nominal price to reach the target audience. Publishers are ready to monetise ad spaces without impacting the user experience. Some major publishers have their own ad platforms whereas others depend on third-party platforms like SSP.

Ad tech companies have enabled automation of the various activities involved in the advertising process. Automation can happen at both ends – at the advertiser's end, it enables the process of obtaining proper ad space across multiple platforms; at the publisher's end, it enables the tracking of the impressions delivered.

Digital advertising is tendered either through direct advertising or through programmatic advertising. Direct advertising involves significant human intervention to auction ad spaces and fix pricing, whereas programmatic advertising is completely based on automation.

Programmatic advertising is defined as the purchase and sale of advertising in real time using software and algorithms without human intervention. Based on the requirement of the buyer, a bidding algorithm notifies when an inventory is available. At the publisher's end, the algorithm enables the selection of the highest bidder in real time. This is called real-time bidding (RTB). The revenue flows automatically from the advertiser to the publisher. A part of the revenue is obtained by each constituent of the value chain.

ADVERTISING TECHNOLOGY MARKET

The ad tech market today has evolved beyond the advertiser-publisher to include a number of intermediaries controlling one or more than one part of the value chain. The solutions offered by these companies range from Demand Side Platforms (DSP), Supply Side Platform (SSP), Data Management Platforms (DMP) to ad networks, ad exchanges and so on.

Exhibit 29: Global Ad Tech Market in Revenue, 2016-2022

Source: Frost & Sullivan estimates

Frost & Sullivan estimates that the global ad tech market earned revenue of USD 34 billion in 2017 and is likely to grow at a CAGR of 10% over the next five years.

The global advertising technology market is highly competitive, with multiple regional and global players. Although it is dominated by digital giants such as Google and Facebook, there are over a hundred companies who offer one or more components of this solution. However, only a few –such as Affle, InMobi, Criteo, The Trade Desk, FreakOut, Mobvista and YouAppi – operate internationally.

India has become an attractive destination for many of these companies. Frost & Sullivan estimates that the Indian ad tech market with a market size of USD 304.9 million in 2017 will likely grow at a CAGR of 39% to USD 808 million in 2022. As digital advertising and in turn programmatic ad spend will grow at a rapid rate, it will help drive growth of the ad tech market. Retail, digital payments, gaming, travel, hospitality and e-commerce are the prime verticals contributing to the market growth currently.

However, less than 10% of Indian internet users today are active (that is those who make a purchase at least once a month) e-commerce customers. This makes it more challenging landscape for marketing tech to be able to discern the users who have the highest propensity to transact online.

Business Models in Ad Tech

Exhibit 30: Business Models in Ad Tech, 2018

S.No	Business model	Metrics	Typical Pricing Range
1	Media-based Pricing Model	Cost per media (for example, number of banners, videos)	USD 0.15 –USD 5 per thousand impressions
2	Performance-based pricing Model	Cost per click, Cost per sale, Cost per view, Cost per Action (such as app downloads)	USD 0.1 –USD 0.3 per click
3	Flat Fee Model	A flat rate for each media / channel	Varies
4	Software as a Service	Monthly fee based on technology stack, number of users targeted and so on	USD 15,000 –USD 35,000 per month

Source: Frost & Sullivan analysis

Percentage of media or CPM has historically been the predominant pricing model for ad tech companies and continues to be followed by some companies even today. This is the easiest and safest business model for marketers as it takes into account just the cost of the media unit and the audience reach for a particular channel. For instance, if the cost of a display ad on a site is USD 5,000 and the ad is expected to reach close to 10,000 users, the advertiser has to pay (USD 5,000/10,000 users) * 1,000, or USD 500 to advertise to 1,000 people. However, growth in traffic as well as ad fraud meant this model lost its preference among brands and agencies.

Today, brands prefer performance-based models, where they are charged based on harder metrics such as number of clicks or converted users. This way, ad tech companies have more incentives to ensure targeted reach for the brand. In fact, with bots faking clicks as well, some companies such as Affle and Criteo, have embraced action or performance driven sales, where customers don't pay for clicks, but for actions such as app installs, purchases, etc. This assures transparency for brands and increased revenues for vendors. In some cases, companies use a revenue sharing model where a percentage of the sale value from the client's product goes to the vendor.

Alternatively, in order to make the cost of technology visible to clients, some companies such as TradeDesk are embracing a Software-as-a-Service (SaaS) model. It works well for advertisers who like to fix monthly advertising budgets instead of on a campaign-by-campaign basis. As shown in the table below, very few competitors such as Vserv and TradeDesk offer the SaaS model as an option.

Challenges in the Ad Tech Market

The potential for growth for ad tech over the next five years is firmly established; however, Frost & Sullivan believes the market faces the risk of constant disruption through the following factors:

Dominance by large incumbent tech companies such as Google and Facebook

Google and Facebook contribute about 80% of ad tech revenue. With their respective native platforms that have access to billions of user profiles worldwide, they will continue to dominate the landscape not just in market share, but also user practices, pricing policies and general terms and conditions. The recent backlash from states across the world insisting on greater consumer privacy has reset the paradigm of digital advertising. Any significant change by either of these companies with their platforms can have an impact on the rest of the market.

Fake Apps and Fraud Users

Despite the size of the growth opportunity, digital advertising today is highly challenged by ad frauds, such as botnets, ad stacking, ghost sites, fake installs, click injection, click-spam, compliance fraud, pixel stuffing and domain spoofing (Refer to Types of Ad Frauds). Ad frauds are caused when a fraudster makes the advertiser pay for fake ad traffic, fake leads and uneventful ad placements. New ad formats and channels (video ads and ads on mobile) are slowly becoming breeding grounds for ad fraud. According to the Media Rating Council (MRC) standard of viewability, an ad impression is considered viewed if 50% of the ad space is seen by a 'human' for 1 second for a static ad, and 2 seconds for a video ad. So, when an ad impression is created by fraudulent means at unwarranted times and places, it implies a wasted investment. The report states that 16% of apps downloaded between January 2017 and June 2017 in India were fraudulent, compared to a global average of 11.5%.

Consumer Data Acquisition and Analytics

Programmatic ad tech business, in particular, thrives on user data. The more user profiles a company has, better their chances of promising higher reach for their customers and thus more revenues. Traffic acquisition cost (TAC) is a significant part of any ad tech firm's expenditure, as well as key to its profitability metrics. It depends on how much access a vendor has to user data. A fraction of ad tech vendors today have the ability to directly acquire data of customer profiles. Others need to spend to acquire data from data aggregators or third party vendors; but the quality cannot be validated as this aggregated data is typically anonymized.

The quality and the size of the database determine relevant and customized marketing across all platforms. Frost & Sullivan finds among the core ad tech vendors in the market, very few, such as Affle and Criteo, have their own datasets of over a billion customer profiles. Affle, for instance, had approximately 1.18 billion user profiles as on March 31, 2018, including approximately 431 million user profiles in India; Criteo has 1.4 billion user profiles. Among other companies, The Trade Desk acquired Adbrain in 2017, a cross-device identity graph company, to boost its demand side platform with a wide "deterministic data-set." (Source: <https://adexchanger.com/online-advertising/trade-desk-snaps-adbrain-ad-tech-pursues-cross-device-roots/>)

M&A to Widen Product Portfolios

The past few years have seen a few acquisitions in the ad tech market by key players- Criteo (of Tedemis, Hooklogic, AdQuantic); InMobi (Sprout, MMTG Labs, and more recently AerServ), and Affle (Markt, MobiMasta). Among others, FreakOut focused on expanding its geographical presence, acquired three companies in 2017 including adGeek in Taiwan, EMC and Inbound in Indonesia (Source: FreakOut Holdings Annual Report 2017). The Trade Desk acquired Adbrain to strengthen its proprietary data set and to pursue cross-device advertising (Source: <http://www.thedrum.com/news/2017/10/25/the-trade-desk-acquires-adbrain>).

Frost & Sullivan believes that such consolidation trends will continue as ad tech vendors strengthen their product portfolio to cater to the growing needs of their customers. While currently the market is intensely competitive with hundreds of players focusing on specific niches in the value chain, Frost & Sullivan believes that eventually customers will want to engage only with vendors who have an end to end value chain of services that can streamline their needs and drive advertising with efficacy.

Ad tech continues to evolve requiring scale in capabilities as well as capacity. For example, the growing spend on online video advertising has triggered a need for more interactive rich media advertising. Another example is that the diversifying operations across hundreds of countries require brands to engage with customers across geographies. Acquisition will be the fastest route for companies to achieve these goals.

Capturing India

India with its rapidly growing Internet user base has become an attractive destination for international ad tech vendors, including Criteo, Mobvista, FreakOut – who have set up recently, alongside existing companies such as Affle, RevX, InMobi, among others. However, India presents its unique set of challenges such as a disjointed demographic which is just getting habituated to digital applications (such as use of e-commerce, digital payments, etc.). Only 10% of Internet users are active (i.e., make a purchase at least once per month) e-commerce customers. Frost & Sullivan believes that this makes it a more challenging landscape for marketing tech to be able to discern the users who have the highest propensity to transact online.

It can be a hard market to sustain, even for market participants who are globally successful. With an average CPC at USD 0.1 to 0.3, the price points are quite low compared to the global market. Frost & Sullivan believes that achieving profitability in such a price-sensitive market is possible only for companies that are familiar with the dynamics of consumer profiles and have a track-record of working alongside brands locally for years.

Ad tech, while being extremely attractive, hinges on the success of data acquisition and several vendors globally have demonstrated low profitability or losses even in high CPC markets. Frost & Sullivan believes that India, with its constraints of low CPC, inadequate availability of data and technology will pose significant challenges for scalability and growth, even for established international companies.

Growing Control on Browser User Tracking

The browser market is dominated by large payers like Apple & Google. Apple launched its Intelligent Tracking Prevention ("ITP") feature in its Safari browser in September 2017, which blocks some or all third-party cookies by default on mobile and desktop and therefore makes it more difficult for third-party providers, to access data on Safari consumers. Further, Apple has announced measures to address concerns regarding privacy and data collection by social media companies. In June 2018, Apple further announced that it would make it more difficult for websites to track users, build profiles of them and provide ads to them around the internet. (Source: <https://www.apple.com/newsroom/2018/06/apple-previews-ios-12/>).

With large companies like Apple & Google having the power to impose restrictions and regulations related to browser tracking, Frost & Sullivan believes that companies who are mobile app focused and target ads inside mobile apps have a more de-risked business model and would enjoy a greater chance of success.

Comparative Analysis

Among them, there are just a few international companies that work closely with advertisers and brands facilitating targeted advertising. Companies such as Criteo, Affle, RevX and InMobi have been working for major global brands including Airtel, Amazon, Coca-Cola, Rakuten, JC Penney, ESPRIT, Zalora, Namshi, Flipkart and many others.

This section provides a comparative analysis of the key financial metrics, business models, segments served and so on by leading sell-side (including a DSP and DMP) ad tech solution providers in India and globally. Since the market has more than 100 participants covering various aspects of the value chain, Frost & Sullivan has considered only the following companies for the purpose of this analysis: Affle, InMobi, Mobvista, Vizury, Vserv, RevX, The Trade Desk, FreakOut and Criteo; companies whose value proposition is stronger in the DMP-DSP side of the value chain.

Comparison of Leading Competitor Profiles

The following table shows a comparison of leading competitors in terms of their value chain coverage, USP, verticals focussed and geographical presence.

Exhibit 32: Company Profiles, Ad Tech, 2017

Company	Value chain Coverage	Vertical Focus	Geographical Presence
Affle	In-house DSP/SSP, Fraud Detection, DMP, In-house	E-commerce, entertainment, banking and financial services	India, U.S. & Europe, SEA
InMobi	DMP, DSP, SSP, Fraud Detection	Retail, finance, gaming, e-commerce, food and beverages, hospitality,	India, China, USA, Dubai, London, France, Malaysia, South Korea, Australia, Indonesia, Japan

Very few companies such as Affle, Criteo and the Trade Desk have products that span the entire value chain. While some companies are more focussed on buy-side platforms, some others are focused on the publisher side. While competitors are dispersed geographically, China, South East Asia and India prove to be regions with high potential in the near future.

The ad tech market has been extremely dynamic in terms of requirements, spiking the need for constant innovation. But very few companies in the ad tech market hold patents, especially in the mobile ad tech solution space. Among the competitors considered for the analysis, Affle, InMobi, and Criteo hold patents across their product line, but only Affle and InMobi have patents that relate to the mobile advertising segment.

Financial Metrics Comparison

Analysis for this section has been done on the basis of fiscal 2017 annual reports as filed by or shared by the respective companies for their international group holdings and not just revenue from India. It should be noted that individual companies have different fiscal year endings.

Ad tech is a large volume business with intense competition. Despite the rapid growth in digital advertising, several market participants globally have struggled to achieve profitability, according to Frost & Sullivan's analysis, few companies have reflected double digit profit margins, annual growth rate, ROCE and ROE.

Notes:

Profit margin is calculated as Profit after Tax (PAT) divided by revenues.

Frost & Sullivan has included numbers as provided by Affle from Affle Holdings' consolidated financial statements for fiscal 2017 in this report. According to Affle, its Restated Ind AS Summary Statement for fiscal 2017 did not include the consolidated financial statements of Affle Global Pte. Ltd. ("Affle Global") (which consolidated the financial statements of PT Affle Indonesia). However, in connection with Affle's proposed initial public offering in India, Affle undertook a corporate restructuring in which Affle incorporated a new Singapore subsidiary, Affle International Pte. Ltd. (the "Singapore Subsidiary") and it acquired all of Affle Global's business, intangible assets and all of the equity interests in PT Affle Indonesia effective July 1, 2018. Affle Global was engaged in the same business as Affle outside India and Indonesia and used Affle's solutions, and its assets included all of the equity interests in PT Affle Indonesia. PT Affle Indonesia is engaged in the same business as Affle in Indonesia using Affle's solutions. Affle Holdings Pte. Ltd. owns 100% of the issued shares in Affle Global. Following this corporate restructuring, Affle on a consolidated basis effectively has the same operations as Affle Holdings, which has been used for Frost & Sullivan's analysis.

Notes:

*NM: Not meaningful.

Return on capital employed (ROCE) is a financial ratio that measures a company's profitability and the efficiency with which its capital is employed. ROCE is calculated as: $ROCE = \text{Earnings before Interest and Tax (EBIT)} / \text{Capital Employed}$. Where $\text{Capital Employed} = \text{Total Assets} - \text{Current liabilities}$.

Exhibit 35: Advertising Technology Market, ROE, 2017

Notes:

*NM: Not meaningful. EBIT and Capital Employed in negative.

Return on equity (ROE) is the amount of net income returned as a percentage of shareholders' equity. The formula used for calculating return on equity is $\text{Return on Equity} = \frac{\text{Profit after Tax}}{\text{Shareholder's Equity}}$.

The market shows inconsistent growth rates across vendors, reflecting the heightened level of competition. Companies such as Affle Holdings, Criteo, and The Trade Desk reported high growth rates of 38.3%, 27.7%, and 51.9% respectively, implying a stable and sustainable market presence. FreakOut, which reports over 90% of its revenue from Japan demonstrated a growth rate of 107% in 2017, largely because of its M&A activities, acquiring three companies outside Japan.

TYPES OF AD FRAUDS

Botnets: Botnets are a distributed network of computers/ dedicated servers on rented data centres that are controlled by a botmaster to defraud advertisers. The computers are generally infected by malware without the knowledge of the owner. A study jointly published by the ANA-White Ops estimated the cost of bot fraud to be USD 6.5 billion in 2017.

Ad Stacking: Ad stacking is a scenario where multiple ads are stacked one above the other. Only the ad on the top of the stack will be visible but all other ads of the stacks will be counted for ad impressions.

Ghost Sites: These are fake websites that are built in by fraudsters based on information from other available websites. These websites enter the RTB process through ad networks or ad exchanges and thus make deals with advertisers. When ads appear on these sites, bots perform click fraud and the advertiser pays based on cost per click.

Fake Installs: A fake install is accomplished by fraudsters who use device emulation software in virtualised environments (on server hardware) to do fake installs. The aim is to claim advertising revenue. Fake installs defraud everyone along the advertising chain – taking money away from advertisers, publishers and networks.

Click Injection: Fraudsters publish a low-effort Android app which uses something called “install broadcasts” which can detect when other apps are downloaded on a device and trigger clicks right before the install completes. The fraudster will receive the credit for (typically organic) installs as a consequence.

Click Fraud /Spam: Click spam happens when the fraudster executes clicks for another person in his device without his/her knowledge. In this case, the ad would not have been displayed or clicked on.

Domain Spoofing: Domain spoofing happens in two ways.

a. When a user unknowingly clicks the download button by mistake and downloads an application that is infected by malware. The malware thus takes control of the web browser and starts injecting ads that are unwarranted for.

b. Fraudsters gain access to the ad code of a publisher, delete the code and replace it with another domain identifier. Advertisers might think they are buying top-tier inventory but will have their ads published on unwarranted websites.

Compliance Fraud: The identity fraud happens when the ads are served in the wrong environment or format or against the agreement with the advertiser. Since the ads are not served to the targeted audience, they do not generate any revenue.

Pixel Stuffing: Pixel stuffing is the process of serving any ad on a 1 by 1 pixel frame. This makes the served ads invisible to the human eye.

INFORMATION PRIVACY

Information and communication technologies are revolutionising the way people, businesses and governments interact with one another across the globe. With all major transactions routed through or planned to be routed through the Internet, information privacy and data protection have become imperative.

As we are slowly but steadily moving towards a connected economy, rules and legislations have to be framed to suit the dynamism of the information and communication technology (ICT) environment. While a number of these rules already exist, most of them are incompatible with one another and are not suited to the dynamic ICT climate. Questions pertaining to jurisdiction, data management and commercial use of data are still unanswered to a large extent.

International bodies such as the United Nations Organisations (UN), The Council of European Convention 108 (CoE) and the OECD have modified/or are in the process of modifying legacy data protection regulations to suit the digital world. A global body called the International Data Protection Authority is involved in governing national data protection laws and addressing international disputes centred on data privacy. Except the CoE, all other initiatives have failed to create a major impact globally.

By country, Australia and Canada have some of the advanced data protection laws in the world to suit the new-age online consumer. In countries like USA and India, the laws are sectoral and a combination of statutes, rules, guidelines and self-regulation.

Australia

Australia has amended and expanded data privacy legislations over the years to suit the latest developments. Though the law excludes some small businesses and completely excludes employee records, they are on par with international data protection models.

Data Privacy: The Privacy Act 1988 (Cth) requires private-sector organisations to comply with the Australian Privacy Principles in their collection, use, disclosure and handling of an individual’s personal information. The legislation was significantly amended in 2012 (came into effect in 2014), resulting in increased penalties and a wider range of powers for the regulator.

Storage and Transfer of Data: There are no registration requirements for private sector organisations under the Australian privacy law. The international transfer of personal data is restricted unless organisations can meet certain requirements. These include consent, storage standards and the legal protection of the data in the recipient country.

France

France has implemented data protection policies successfully under the EU regime. The National Commission on Computer Science and Freedoms (Commission nationale de l’informatique et des libertés) (CNIL) is an independent administrative authority protecting privacy and personal data. CNIL is probably one of the most visible and active privacy regulators in the world.

Data Privacy: Chapter IV of the Data Processing Act sets out the required formalities for data processing. Depending on the type of data processing involved, the data controller must comply with one of four different sets of formalities, ranging from simple notification to authorisation. These rules are complex. Authorisation is generally restricted to activities that are “deemed potentially harmful to privacy and liberties”.

Storage and Transfer of Data: Article 23 of the Data Processing Act 1978 sets out complex rules for the notification and authorisation of cross-border transfers: transfers within the EU do not require notification or authorisation; transfers to countries formally declared as ‘adequate’ by the EU requires notification only; and transfers to all other countries require authorisation.

Canada

Canada has stringent data protection laws compared to other countries or regions. Data Privacy : There are four private sector privacy statutes that govern the collection, use, disclosure and management of personal information in Canada: (i) the Federal Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act, S.C. 2000, ch. 5 (“PIPEDA”); (ii) Alberta’s Personal Information Protection Act, S.A. 2003, ch. P-6.5 (“PIPA Alberta”); (iii) British Columbia’s Personal Information Protection Act, S.B.C. 2003, ch. 63 (“PIPA BC”); and (iv) Québec’s An Act Respecting the Protection of Personal Information in the Private Sector, R.S.Q. ch. P-39.1 (“Québec Privacy Act”) (collectively, “Canadian Privacy Statutes”). Apart from this, there are laws that govern specific sectors like healthcare. According to the laws, an individual must be informed about the existence, use and disclosure of his or her personal information, and must be given access to that information. Also, the organisation should correct the information in case of any inaccuracies and an individual has the right to withdraw consent to processing and marketing his or her personal information anytime.

Storage and Transfer of Data: In general, Canadian Privacy Statutes permit the transfer of personal information without consent for data management / processing purposes if the transferring organisation remains in control of the personal information in the custody of the third-party service provider.

The United States of America

Data protection laws in the United States are a combination of legislation, regulation and self-regulation rather than just government enforcements. Laws such as The Health Insurance Privacy, Portability and Accountability Act are for specific sectors and there is no common regulatory body that acts as a common data protection authority. The country also does not have a common legislation at the federal level regarding this but has ensured data privacy through the United States Privacy Act, the Safe Harbor Act and the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act. In some cases, legislations have been developed when self-regulation was challenging.

India

Like the U.S., India also does not have country level regulations and authorities to control data transfer and management. The most prominent provisions are contained in the Information Technology Act, 2000, that was amended by the Information Technology Amendment Act, 2008. In particular, Section 43A, which addresses ‘reasonable security practices and procedures’ is complemented by the Information Technology (Reasonable Security Practices and Procedures and Sensitive Personal Data or Information) Rules, 2011. In regards to data transfer, data can be transferred only to a country where it is clear that the sensitive data will be adequately protected. However, the scope of this provision only applies to sensitive information, restricted to corporate entities undertaking automatic processing of data and the power of consumers to take enforcement action is restricted. A comprehensive law called Right to Privacy Law 2014 that will address the gaps in the existing provisions is being framed by the government. See “Regulations and Policies” on page 171 for further details.

EU GDPR

The General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) is a legal framework that sets guidelines for the collection and processing of personal information of individuals within the EU. The GDPR sets out the principles for data management and the rights of the individual, while also imposing fines that can be revenue-based. The GDPR covers all companies that deal with the data of EU citizens, and so is a critical regulation for corporate compliance officers at banks, insurers and other financial companies. GDPR became effective across the EU on May 25, 2018.

Various regions and countries are becoming protectionist by implementing laws that address data security and privacy challenges. If a number of strong rules and regulations come into force in various countries and are implemented successfully, other countries will either follow these model laws or will frame laws and regulations according to their political, economic, social and administrative structure. Implementation of GDPR and strong laws in countries like Canada and Australia will pave way for more such effective initiatives across the globe.

OUR BUSINESS

To obtain a complete understanding of our Company, prospective investors should read this section in conjunction with “Risk Factors”, “Industry Overview” and “Management’s Discussions and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” on pages 20, 113 and 435, respectively, as well as the financial, statistical and other information contained in this Red Herring Prospectus.

The Restated Ind AS Consolidated Summary Statements comprise the consolidated financial results of our Company, the Singapore Subsidiary and the Indonesian Subsidiary as at for the year ended March 31, 2019. Our Company did not have any subsidiaries or associates in Fiscals 2018 and 2017 and, hence did not prepare consolidated financial statements for any of those fiscal years. The Singapore Subsidiary was incorporated on April 1, 2018 and it acquired the business, intangible assets and all of the equity interests in the Indonesian Subsidiary from Affle Global with effect from July 1, 2018 (the “Affle Global Transaction”), which has been accounted with effect from April 1, 2018, i.e., the beginning of the earliest period of consolidated financial statements presented under IND AS pursuant to the fact that our Company, the Singapore Subsidiary, the Indonesian Subsidiary and Affle Global are under the common control of Affle Holdings, our corporate Promoter.

Our Company acquired the Vizury Commerce Business in India, associated records, the brand name “Vizury” and other intellectual property rights and domain name credentials in India by way of a slump sale on an “as-is-where-is” basis from Vizury India with effect from September 1, 2018 and the Singapore Subsidiary acquired the brand name “Vizury” and certain other intellectual property in connection with the Vizury Commerce Business in Dubai and Singapore from Vizury Dubai and Vizury Singapore, both of which are affiliates of Vizury India, with effect from September 1, 2018 (collectively, the “Vizury Transactions”). In order to give potential investors a better understanding of what the consolidated results of operations for our Company and the the Vizury Commerce Business would have been had we been operating as one group for all of Fiscal 2019, we have prepared the unaudited proforma combined statement of profit and loss for the year ended March 31, 2019 for illustrative purposes, which gives effect to the Vizury Transactions as if they occurred on April 1, 2018. For details, see “Proforma Financial Statements” on page 228 and “Risk Factors—Our Proforma Financial Statements are illustrative in nature and have not been prepared in accordance with accounting or other standards and practices generally accepted in any jurisdiction and accordingly should not be relied upon as if they had been prepared in accordance with those standards and practices” on page 45.

Each consumer profile represents a unique device id. The number of consumer profiles and the related data points have been added or refreshed during Fiscal 2019. The number of consumer profiles and the related data points in this Red Herring Prospectus as at March 31, 2019 are for our Affle Consumer Platform only and do not include the consumer profiles and the related data points of our Vizury Commerce Business. We are in the process of integrating the consumer profiles and the related consumer data points of our Vizury Commerce Business. In addition, we are in the process of integrating the consumer profiles and the related consumer data points of our RevX Platform (which we acquired on June 28, 2019) and our Shoffr Platform (which we acquired on May 18, 2019) with our Affle Consumer Platform. For details on our acquisitions of the RevX Platform Business and the Shoffr Platform Business, see “History and Certain Corporate Matters’ on page 181.

OVERVIEW

We are a global technology business. We have two business segments: our Consumer Platform; and our Enterprise Platform. Our Consumer Platform primarily provides the following services: (1) new consumer conversions (acquisitions, engagements and transactions) through relevant mobile advertising; (2) retargeting existing consumers to complete transactions for e-commerce companies through relevant mobile advertising; and (3) an online to offline (“O2O”) platform that converts online consumer engagement into in-store walk-ins. Our Enterprise Platform primarily provides end-to-end solutions for enterprises to enhance their engagement with mobile users.

Our Consumer Platform comprises the following:

- our “Affle” branded consumer intelligence platform that deliver consumer acquisitions, engagements and transactions through relevant mobile advertising (the “Affle Consumer Platform”);
- Our “RevX” branded mobile only self-serve programmatic platform that delivers consumer acquisitions, engagements and transactions through relevant mobile advertising (the “RevX Platform”);
- our “Vizury” branded retargeting media business for e-commerce companies and our push notifications offerings for e-commerce companies on a software as a service model (the “Vizury Commerce Business”); and
- our “Shoffr” branded online to offline platform that converts online consumer engagement into in-store walk-ins and transactions (the “Shoffr Platform”).

Our Consumer Platform aims to enhance returns on marketing spend through delivering contextual mobile ads and reducing digital ad fraud, while proactively addressing consumer privacy expectations.

As at March 31, 2019, our Affle Consumer Platform had approximately 2.02 billion consumer profiles, of which approximately 571 million were in India, 582 million were in Other Emerging Markets (which comprises Southeast Asia, the Middle East, Africa and others) and 867 million were in Developed Markets (which comprises North America, Europe, Japan, Korea and Australia). During Fiscal 2019, our Affle Consumer Platform accumulated over 300 billion data points, which power our prediction and recommendation algorithm for our Affle Consumer Platform. We are in the process of integrating the consumer profiles and the related consumer data points of the Vizury Commerce Business, the RevX Platform and the Shoffr Platform with our Affle Consumer Platform.

Our Consumer Platform is used by business to consumer (“B2C”) companies across industries, including e-commerce, fin-tech, telecom, media, retail and FMCG companies, both directly and indirectly through their advertising agencies.

Our Consumer Platform utilises user-intent indicators derived from behavioural signals, marketing attribution and transactional data, which are received in real time and accumulated over time, which increases our ability to predict a user’s likely interests. The accuracy of the prediction and recommendation algorithms for our Consumer Platform improve with every advertisement we deliver, as the systems incorporate new data, while continuing to learn from previous data. In addition, our Consumer Platform enhances our customers’ ad content with rich media experiences, including interactive videos, games and augmented reality. This paired with data-centric scientific targeting and retargeting enables a higher likelihood of consumer engagement, such as downloading an App or completing a transaction.

For Fiscal 2019 on a Proforma Basis, our revenue from our Consumer Platform contributed 97.2% of our revenue from contracts with customers. For Fiscal 2019 on a consolidated basis, our revenue from our Consumer Platform contributed 97.0% of our revenue from contracts with customers. We primarily earn revenue from our Consumer Platform on a cost per converted user (“CPCU”) basis, which comprises user conversions based on consumer acquisition and transaction models. Our consumer acquisition model focuses on acquiring new consumers for businesses, which is usually in the form of a targeted user downloading and opening an App or engaging with an App after seeing an advertisement delivered by us. Our transaction model is usually in the form of a targeted user submitting a lead acquisition form or purchasing a product or service after seeing an advertisement delivered by us. We also earn revenue from our Consumer Platform through awareness and engagement type advertising, which comprises cost per thousand impressions (“CPM”), cost per view (“CPV”) and cost per click (“CPC”) models. These models are relevant for brand advertisers who want to build awareness and recall and engage users online to transact with them offline/online. We understand our customers’ business drivers and work with them to choose audience engagement models that are the most relevant for them, thereby delivering measurable business outcomes for them.

Our Consumer Platform benefits from broad access to mobile ad inventory through our relationships with publishers and data platforms. We encourage publishers to provide us with access to their mobile ad inventory by offering a platform through which they can tap into our advertisers’ marketing budgets and manage their inventory yields. We also have access to mobile display advertising inventory through real-time-bidding advertising exchanges. For each campaign, we bid for the consumer profiles we believe have a higher likelihood to transact on the basis of our data intelligence. Our proprietary optimization algorithms enable us to buy media efficiently and at high scale, giving us the ability to drive high volumes of CPCU-led campaigns at efficient prices.

We also provide end-to-end solutions for enterprises to enhance their engagement with mobile users, such as developing Apps, enabling offline to online commerce for offline businesses with e-commerce aspirations and providing enterprise grade data analytics for online and offline companies (collectively, the “Enterprise Platform”). For Fiscal 2019 on a Proforma Basis, our revenue from our Enterprise Platform represented 2.8% of our revenue from contracts with customers. For Fiscal 2019 on a consolidated basis, our revenue from our Enterprise Platform represented 3.0% of our revenue from contracts with customers.

Our solutions are sold through our sales and marketing team, which as at May 31, 2019 comprised 51 persons across our six offices, one sales agent in Malaysia and through referrals from existing customers. Our customers include the companies for which we undertake a mobile ad campaign as well as the advertising agencies acting for such companies.

Our business is asset light and scalable as shown by the fact that our employee benefit expenses, depreciation and amortization expenses and other expenses have remained relatively unchanged despite significant changes in our revenue in the last three fiscal years. For details, see “Summary Financial Information—Restated Ind AS Unconsolidated Summary Statements” on page 74.

We have three registered patents in the United States with multiple patent claims in areas of advertising via data communication clients, online search system, method and computer programme and method and system for extending the use and/or application of messaging system. We also have 10 pending patent applications in India covering various algorithms in the area of digital fraud detection. As part of our acquisition of the Vizury Commerce Business, we acquired two pending patent applications in India and three pending patent applications in the United States, only one of which we intend to pursue, which is in the field of partner pixelling for user identification.

We have received numerous awards from organizations in the advertising technology space, including:

- Five awards at Indian Digital Media Awards in 2019, comprising “Best Use of Experiential Tech for Digital & Physical Experiences”, a special award for DishTV (Gold), “Best Use of AR or VR”, a special award for DishTV (Gold), “Best Use of Web Based Games” for 5 Star (Silver), “Most Effective Use of AI, Data Analytics, Machine Learning for a Campaign and Business Optimisation” for Goibibo (Bronze) and “Best Campaign - Use of Mobile and Mobile Monetization”, for Goibibo (Bronze).

As at May 31, 2019, we had 236 full time employees across our six offices located in Gurugram (India), Mumbai (India), Bengaluru (India), Singapore, Jakarta (Indonesia) and Dubai (UAE).

In connection with the Offer, we undertook a corporate restructuring in which our Company incorporated the Singapore Subsidiary and it acquired all of Affle Global’s business, intangible assets and all of the equity interests in the the Indonesian Subsidiary, effective July 1, 2018. Affle Global was engaged in the same business as our Company outside India and Indonesia and used our Company’s solutions. The Indonesian Subsidiary was engaged in the same business as our Company in Indonesia and used our Company’s solutions. Affle Holdings, our corporate Promoter, owns 100% of the issued shares in Affle Global. For more details, see “History and Certain Corporate Matters” on page 181.

With effect from September 1, 2018, (a) our Company acquired the Vizury Commerce Business in India, associated records, the brand name “Vizury” and other intellectual property rights and domain name credentials in India, by way of a slump sale on an “as-is-where-is” basis from Vizury India and (b) the Singapore Subsidiary acquired the brand name “Vizury” and certain other intellectual property in connection with the Vizury Commerce Business in Dubai and Singapore from Vizury Dubai and Vizury Singapore, both of which are affiliates of Vizury India. In order to give potential investors a better understanding of what the consolidated results of operations for our Company and the Vizury Commerce Business would have been had we been operating as one group for all of Fiscal 2019, we have prepared the unaudited proforma combined statement of profit and loss for the year ended March 31, 2019 for illustrative purposes, which gives effect to the Vizury Transactions as if they occurred on April 1, 2018. For details, see “Proforma Financial Statements” on page 228 and “Risk Factors—Our Proforma Financial Statements are illustrative in nature and have not been prepared in accordance with accounting or other standards and practices generally accepted in any jurisdiction and accordingly should not be relied upon as if they had been prepared in accordance with those standards and practices” on page 45.

For selected financial results of Affle Holdings, our corporate Promoter, for Fiscals 2018, 2017 and 2016, see “Our Promoters and Promoter Group” on page 215.

On May 18, 2019, but with effect from February 19, 2019, the Singapore Subsidiary acquired the Shoffr Platform Business by way of a slump sale on an “as-is-where-is” basis. For more details, “History and Certain Corporate Matters” on page 181. We believe this acquisition strengthened our business by providing integrated consumer journeys and allowing brands to transparently attribute the impact of digital advertising on in-store footfalls and transactions. As we acquired the Shoffr Platform Business on May 18, 2019, effective February 19, 2019, the financial results of the Shoffr Platform Business for the period from February 19, 2019 to March 31, 2019 are not required to be reflected in our consolidated financial statements as at and for the year ended March 31, 2019.

On June 28, 2019, but with effect from April 1, 2019, the Singapore Subsidiary acquired the RevX Platform Business by way of a slump sale on an “as-is-where-is” basis. For more details, “History and Certain Corporate Matters” on page 181. We believe this acquisition strengthened our Affle Consumer Platform for both new user acquisition and retargeting. As we acquired the RevX Platform Business on June 28, 2019, but with effect from April 1, 2019, this acquisition had no effect on our consolidated financial statements as at and for the year ended March 31, 2019.

STRENGTHS

Our Consumer Platform has a leading position in India; a high growth market with substantial barriers to entry.

According to Frost & Sullivan, we are a leading ad tech solution provider in India. As at March 31, 2019, our Affle Consumer Platform had approximately 571 million consumer profiles in India. We provide services across the value chain in digital advertising, spanning the areas of DMP, DSP/SSP, fraud detection and ad network. We are one of the very few companies that have products spanning the entire value chain. Further, we have increased our breadth of our service offerings, especially to e-commerce and mobile app driven companies, following the acquisition of our Vizury Commerce Business and our RevX Platform. While some companies are more focussed on buy-side platforms, others are focused on the publisher side. (Source: Frost & Sullivan Report).

The ad tech market in India is fast growing, with a market size of US$304.9 million in 2017 and will likely grow at a CAGR of 39% to US$808 million by 2022. (Source: Frost & Sullivan Report).

We believe that the Indian market presents high barriers to entry given its unique challenges, such as a disjointed demographic, which is just getting habituated to digital applications (such as the use of e-commerce, digital payments, etc.) and low CPCU. In the last two calendar years, only about 25% of all Internet users in India have shopped online. Frost & Sullivan believes that this makes it a more challenging landscape for marketing tech to be able to discern the users who have the highest propensity to transact online. India can be a hard market to sustain, even for market participants who are globally successful. The range of CPCU in India is quite low compared to the global market. Frost & Sullivan believes that achieving profitability in such a price-sensitive market is possible only for companies that are familiar with the dynamics of consumer profiles and have a track record of working alongside brands locally for years. (Source: Frost & Sullivan Report). Therefore, we believe our extensive consumer profile data, proprietary technology and local knowledge makes us better placed compared to global peers to deliver profitability in India.

Proven international track record

For the Fiscal 2019 on a Proforma Basis our revenue from contracts with customers outside India was ₹ 1,571.88 million, which was 58.5% of our total revenue from contracts with customers. For Fiscal 2019 on a consolidated basis, our revenue from contracts with customers outside India was ₹ 1,405.41 million, which 56.4% of our total revenue from contracts with customers,

Our key international markets are Other Emerging Markets (which comprises Southeast Asia, the Middle East, Africa and others) and Developed Markets (which comprises North America, Europe, Japan, Korea and Australia). We have three international offices: Singapore; Jakarta (Indonesia); and Dubai (UAE). As at May 31, 2019, our international offices had 11 sales staff and our India offices had 13 sales staff focussed on international markets. As at May 31, 2019, we also had one sales agent in Malaysia.

The global ad tech market is expected to grow at a CAGR of 10% from US$34 billion in Fiscal 2017 to US$54 billion in Fiscal 2022. (Source: Frost & Sullivan Report).

Profitable, low-cost business model built on an asset light, automated and scalable platform

Our Affle Consumer Platform is the result of over 13 years of focused research and development and investment. Our Affle Consumer Platform is supported by a flexible and scalable infrastructure, built in-house using cloud computing infrastructure. Our Affle Consumer Platform consists of our proprietary machine and deep learning algorithm for prediction and recommendation that operates in real time and at significant scale.

Over time, as we have attracted more marketing budgets and delivered advertisements, our data assets have grown. As a result, the accuracy of our prediction and recommendation algorithm for our Affle Consumer Platform has improved, enabling us to deliver even more precisely targeted and personalised advertisements. As our ability to generate actions improves with increased user intelligence and targeting, we believe more businesses will use our Affle Consumer Platform and increase their marketing spend with us. We expect this network effect will continue to fuel our growth.

For Fiscals 2019 and 2018 on an unconsolidated basis, our revenue from contracts with customers was ₹ 1,177.94 million and ₹ 837.56 million, respectively, an increase of 40.6%, our Total Operating Expenses were ₹ 930.43 million and ₹ 669.91 million, respectively, an increase of 38.9%, and our EBITDA was ₹ 247.51 million and ₹ 167.65 million, respectively, an increase of 47.6%. More importantly, our revenue growth in India, which is a low CPCU market, did not impact our EBITDA margin on an unconsolidated basis, which was 21.0% in Fiscal 2019 and 20.0% in Fiscal 2018. As at March 31, 2019 and 2018 on an unconsolidated basis, our total assets were ₹ 935.85 million and ₹ 580.31 million, respectively, an increase of 61.3%. The EBITDA and EBITDA margin presented above should be read in conjunction with “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” on page 435.

As at May 31, 2019, we had 236 employees, of which 209 were in India.

As at March 31, 2019, our Affle Consumer Platform had approximately 2.02 billion consumer profiles. For Fiscal 2019, our Affle Consumer Platform accumulated over 300 billion data points. This gives us a deep data-driven understanding of consumer intent and behaviour.

As at March 31, 2019, our Affle Consumer Platform had approximately 2.02 billion consumer profiles, of which approximately (a) 571 million consumer profiles were in India, (b) 582 million consumer profiles were in Other Emerging Markets; and (c) 867 million consumer profiles were in Developed Markets. For Fiscal 2019, our Affle Consumer Platform accumulated over 300 billion data points. We continually accumulate consumer profiles and data points. We are in the process of integrating the consumer profiles and the related consumer data points of our Vizury Commerce Business, the RevX Platform and the Shoffr Platform with our Affle Consumer Platform. Subsequent to the completion of this integration, we believe we will see a significant qualitative increase in our consumer profiles and the related data points.

Consumer profiles and data points are the primary building block that support our Consumer Platform. Our Consumer Platform uses predictive algorithms to recommend mobile users who are most likely to engage with a particular advertisement and on that basis, we choose to display targeted and personalised mobile display advertisements to particular users. By dynamically matching what we believe to be users’ intent or interest with relevant advertisements, we are able to deliver more relevant and engaging experiences to consumers, which are therefore more likely to lead to the desired action, such as the downloading of an App or the purchase of a product or service, on the basis of which we earn revenue. Therefore, having significant number of consumer profiles and data points enables us to expand into markets and deliver results to our customers for our Consumer Platform more quickly and at lower costs.

Growth driven, global customer base

We work with customers who we believe are likely to grow, which we believe will help us to grow in the various countries in which our customers provide services. We are engaged to run ad campaigns either directly by the advertisers or indirectly via advertising agencies.

Global advertising spend is managed largely through six major advertising agency groups: WPP (GroupM); Publicis; Omnicom (OMG); Dentsu Aegis Network (DAN); Interpublic Group (IPG) Mediabrands and Havas. (Source: Frost & Sullivan Report). We currently work with all of the top six global advertising agency groups and with other mobile focussed advertising agencies, such as M&C Saatchi Mobile, and with domestic advertising agencies, such as Interactive Avenues and Madison.

We have run mobile advertising campaigns for some of the largest e-commerce and mobile App companies / brands in the world, such as Amazon, Flipkart, Goibibo, Zee, Dunzo, Dailyhunt, Meesho, Games 24x7, Shipt, Jabong, BookMyShow, Wynk, ALTBalaji, PhonePe, Gojek, Spotify, Sivvi, and well-known companies in other industries such as Airtel, Reckitt Benkiser, Johnson & Johnson, McDonalds, Nissan, Air Asia, Axis Bank, Citibank, and BTPN.

Addressing digital fraud and data safety issues that are prevalent in the industry

Our mFaaS platform helps to detect fraud on a real time basis, thus minimising wastage of marketing spend. It processes large volumes of click and conversion data using multiple algorithms to detect patterns of indicative or definitive fraud. We believe mFaaS sets us apart from our competitors as it offers a real time solution for addressing fraud, which is a major issue for online advertising. mFaaS also helps advertising agencies, advertising networks and publishers to optimise the spend on marketing for their customers by helping weed out significant amounts of fraudulent traffic. mFaaS has been recognised and awarded as the industry-wide Best Big Data Technology Platform of the Year at the IAMAI India Digital Awards in 2017 and was awarded Gold for the Best Technology Platform at the DIGIXX Awards 2019. We have filed 10 patent applications in relation to mFaaS in India, all of which are still pending.

mTraction (v4.0) CDP is accredited under the Accreditation@SG Digital (SG:D) programme by the Info-communications Media Development Authority (“IMDA”), a Singapore government statutory board under the Ministry of Communications and Information. (Source: <https://www.imda.gov.sg/industry-development/programmes-and-grants/startups/accreditation-at-sgd> accessed on May 8, 2018). Our accreditation by IMDA strengthens our belief that we follow the highest standards in product development, business practices, data security and scalability.

In addition, our Vizury Commerce Business is primarily focussed on the Middle East and Africa, which is a market in which we are planning to expand our Affle Consumer Platform in.

STRATEGIES

Enhance our Affle Consumer Platform's revenue from existing and new customers in India and acquire new consumer profiles beyond Tier 1 cities

The ad tech market in India is fast growing, with a market size of US$304.9 million in 2017 and will likely grow at a CAGR of 39% to US$808 million by 2022. (Source: Frost & Sullivan Report). Revenue from contracts with customers from the Consumer Platform on an unconsolidated basis has grown by 40.0% from ₹ 769.40 million in Fiscal 2018 to ₹ 1,076.83 million in Fiscal 2019. We intend to continue to grow our Affle Consumer Platform business in India by increasing our revenue from our existing customers by deepening our relationships with them. For example, we have conducted mobile ad campaigns in India for a number of well-known e-commerce and mobile App companies, such as Amazon, Flipkart, Dunzo, Zee, Dailyhunt, Jabong, BookMyShow, and PhonePe. The Indian e-commerce market was US$38.5 billion in 2017 and is likely to grow at a CAGR of 12.4% to US$69.2 billion by 2022. However, with further increase in avenues for digital payments, accelerated broadband penetration, and an increasing number of product options across the breadth of the country, the market has the potential to grow to US$130 billion over the same time period. Over the last two calendar years, approximately 25% of all internet users in India have shopped online and the number of e-commerce shoppers is forecast to grow at a CAGR of 33.7% from 100 million in 2017 to 320 million in 2022. Frost & Sullivan expects this growth to be driven by retailers and brands diversifying their presence and widen their distribution with integrated online-offline models to gain access to customers beyond those in Tier 1 and Tier 2 cities. (Source: Frost & Sullivan Report). We also intend to continue to grow our Affle Consumer Platform's revenue by gaining new customers in the fast-growing e-commerce market, through our existing sales team in India and through referrals from existing customers.

Historically, we have primarily focused on gaining consumer profiles in Tier 1 cities. In addition to focusing on consumers in Tier 1 cities, we intend to increase the number of consumer profiles in Tier 2 cities, Tier 3 cities and rural markets, which are areas that our customers have not placed much emphasis on to date. We have partnered in the past with Micromax Informatics Ltd. in order to enhance our consumer intelligence and we intend to continue to do that in the future, which we believe will enable us to increase our consumer intelligence in Tier 2 cities, Tier 3 cities and rural markets. In addition, we will encourage our Affle Consumer Platform's customers to put more emphasis on ad campaigns that focus on consumers in Tier 2 cities, Tier 3 cities and rural markets, which will increase our consumer profile base in those areas.

Expand our international business through local business development efforts and through referrals from our existing customers

As at March 31, 2019, our Affle Consumer Platform had approximately 2.02 billion consumer profiles, of which approximately 571 million were in India and 1,449 million were outside of India (approximately 582 million in Other Emerging Markets and 867 million in Developed Markets). For the Fiscal 2019 on a consolidated basis, the average CPCU was ₹ 25.3 in India, ₹ 60.2 in Other Emerging Markets and ₹ 114.1 in Developed Markets. Even though the number of our Affle Consumer Platform's consumer profiles outside India was 71.7% of our Affle Consumer Platform's total consumer profiles and the average CPCU for the Fiscal 2019 on a consolidated basis was more outside India, our revenue from contracts with customers outside India for the Fiscal 2019 on a consolidated basis was 56.4% of our total revenue from contracts with customers. For the Fiscal 2019 on a consolidated basis, our average monetization factor, which is the percentage of converted users we delivered relative to the number of consumer profiles on our Affle Consumer Platform (the “Monetization Factor”), was 6.9% in India compared to 1.8% in Other Emerging Markets and 0.6% for Developed Markets. We intend to increase the Monetization Factor for our Affle Consumer Platform’s consumer profiles outside India by increasing our business development efforts to gain more customers outside India and through referrals from our existing customers.

We currently have business development teams outside India in Singapore, Jakarta (Indonesia) and Dubai (UAE) (we opened an office in Dubai in March 2019). Our plan for increasing our business development efforts outside India is to build a business development team in North America during Fiscal 2020 to service the North American market. This is to win more advertising campaigns with local and international companies operating in the region by demonstrating our successful track record internationally and through our on the ground presence to deliver better support and build more trust with the market participants.

Drive further penetration in our top customers and deliver more converted users for large e-commerce companies

For Fiscal 2019 on an unconsolidated basis, our Company’s top customer was an advertising agency group. The revenue from our Company’s top customer grew at a CAGR of 56.0% over the last three fiscal years.

One of our goals is for our Consumer Platform to deliver more converted users for large e-commerce companies, such as Amazon, Flipkart and Gojek globally by being part of their expansion plans. We delivered converted users for Amazon and its related group entities in 21 countries across North America, South America, Southeast Asia, Europe, the Middle East and Africa in Fiscal 2019 on a consolidated basis. Amazon has been helping sellers in countries where it does not have a presence reach out to customers in countries outside their home geographies. It hosted merchants from more than 100 different countries last year and helped them connect with customers in 185 nations. (Source: Frost & Sullivan Report).

We intend to continue devoting substantial resources on our research and development efforts. As at May 31, 2019, we had 100 full-time employees in our research and development team. We expect to expand our research and development efforts by recruiting more employees. We plan to continue to invest more in research and development into: artificial intelligence, machine learning and deep learning in identifying and classifying our consumer profiles; a combination of data science and artificial intelligence, machine learning and deep learning in identifying fraud; moving to cloud agnostic platforms to enable multi-cloud deployments; and using database lakes that utilise multiple best of breed database technologies to distribute the data load and reduce costs and in some cases increase the speed of processing.

Continue to develop our award-winning fraudulent data detection and prevention platform

We believe mFaaS sets us apart from our competitors as it offers a real time solution for addressing fraud, which is a major issue for mobile advertising. Our fraud detection technology needs to continually evolve to counter and stay ahead of persons engaged in ad fraud. We intend to continue to build more fraud checks to detect and prevent mobile advertisement fraud and hence ensuring actual returns to our customers. We have also applied for 10 patents in India covering various algorithms in the area of digital fraud detection, all of which are pending. For more details, see “-Intellectual Property” on page 167.

We have successfully acquired and integrated businesses, including Markt in March 2018, which we acquired as it had an offline to online commerce platform through which we could enhance our platform propositions for e-commerce companies. We acquired the Vizury Commerce Business effective September 1, 2018, the Shoffr Platform Business on May 18, 2019, effective February 19, 2019, and the RevX Platform Business on June 28, 2019, effective April 1, 2019.

There are over 100 companies around the world that offer one or more components of the digital advertising technology. Only a few companies/groups operate internationally, such as us, InMobi, Criteo, Trade Desk, Freakout, Mobvista and YouAppi, among others, thereby providing us with opportunities for consolidation. (Source: Frost & Sullivan Report).

We look to continue acquiring businesses, assets, and technologies that complement our existing capabilities, revenue streams and marketing presence and which we believe will result in sustainable financial growth. Our pre-deal assessment examines the key attributes of the potential target, with a focus on the target's knowledge, customers and expected future financial results. We look for targets that (a) have complementing teams, technology and data that strengthen our strategic focus and facilitate an efficient expansion into other emerging markets, (b) have complementing customer relationships such that an acquisition and the integrated technology and data that accompanies it would foreseeably result in enhanced growth and an increase in recurrence and retention of customers and (c) will enhance value for our shareholders, through increasing the profitability of the target and an increased price-to-earnings multiple of the target post-acquisition.

Cross-sell our solutions

The solutions in our Enterprise Platform enable offline to online commerce for currently offline businesses. Our Enterprise Platform solutions create a new segment of potential customers for our Consumer Platform. Having developed a relationship with them through helping them build an e-commerce business, we believe are ideally placed to help them get customers for their online business through our Affle Consumer Platform and to re-target those customers through the solutions in our Vizury Commerce Business and the RevX Platform. Global e-commerce revenue was US$2.29 trillion in 2017, which comprised only 10% of the total global retail sales, thereby providing significant opportunity in the medium to long term to enable the shift to e-commerce globally. (Source: Frost & Sullivan Report).

OUR PRODUCTS AND SERVICES

Our Consumer Platform

Our Consumer Platform comprises our Affle Consumer Platform, our Vizury Commerce Business, the RevX Platform and the Shoffr Platform.

Our Consumer Platform delivers consumer acquisitions, engagements and transactions through contextual mobile advertising for B2C companies across industries, including e-commerce, fin-tech, telecom, media, retail and FMCG companies, both directly and indirectly through their advertising agencies. Our Consumer Platform aims to enhance returns on marketing spends by delivering relevant mobile advertisements and by detecting and reducing digital fraud, while proactively addressing consumer privacy.

We utilise user-intent indicators derived from behavioural signals, marketing attribution and transactional data, which are received in real time and accumulated over time, which increases our ability to predict a user's likely interests. The accuracy of the prediction and recommendation algorithms for our Consumer Platform improve with every advertisement we deliver, as the system incorporate new data, while continuing to learn from previous data. We enhance advertisers' ad content with rich media experiences, including interactive videos, games and augmented reality. This paired with data-centric scientific targeting and retargeting enables a higher likelihood of consumer engagement, such as downloading and opening an App or completing a transaction.

Our Consumer Platform primarily earns revenue on a CPCU basis, which comprises user conversions based on consumer acquisition and transaction models. Our Consumer Platform also earns revenue from awareness and engagement type advertising, which comprises CPM, CPV and CPC models. These models are relevant for brand advertisers who want to build awareness and recall and engage users online to transact with them offline/online.

In addition, we are also in the process of integrating the consumer profiles and the related consumer data points of the RevX Platform, which we acquired on June 28, 2019, and the Shoffr Platform, which we acquired on May 18, 2019, with our Affle Consumer Platform.*

Affle Consumer Platform

The key focus areas for our Affle Consumer Platform are on audience, data, quality and experience. Set forth below is diagrammatic representation of our Affle Consumer Platform.

MAAS

MAAS is our mobile audience as a service platform. It is an integrated mobile advertising platform, which leverages audience data and helps optimise mobile advertising spends for our customers. When our customers execute their campaigns on the MAAS platform they also get access to our other platform modules, which blend and integrate with MAAS.

The key component of MAAS is its optimiser module, which helps us to optimise return on investment for our customers by leveraging multiple data points from our platform and from our customers. Our MAAS platform has several components and offers different interfaces for customers, operations and data-based optimisations.

mKr8 is our mobile ad authoring platform that allows the creation of engaging rich media and video advertisement units that can be used across multiple media channels. Using mKr8, we can build dynamic advertisements on the basis of phone sensors (such as camera, location, and accelerometer) and global sensors (such as weather conditions, stock markets and air quality).

mSSP is our supply side platform that is intended to enable publishers to maximise monetization from their mobile advertisement inventory. It connects to multiple advertisers to source demand and allows publishers to place these on their mobile applications and websites via application programmatic interfaces (“APIs”) or real time bidding platforms. mSSP allows for multiple advertisement formats to be served, including App install advertisements, native advertisements (which are a form of paid media where the advertisement experience follows the natural form and function of the user experience in which it is placed), banner advertisements (which are advertisements embedded into a web page that are intended to attract traffic to a website by linking to the advertiser’s website) and video advertisements.

mSSP allows publishers to manage all their advertisers via a single dashboard and offers complex bidding techniques, such as header bidding with server-side auctions to reduce latency constraints of traditional header bidding and allows publishers to evaluate bids from hundreds of exchanges, demand side platforms and networks, and direct demand in real-time.

mDMP is a data monetization platform that enables insight-driven audience marketing using Appographic data (Apps used by a user), intent data (click or other action initiated by user), behavioural data (in-App actions) and transaction data (purchases by users). It helps process, visualise and synchronise data across marketing and inventory channels. mDMP allows marketers to reach out to the right audience by choosing from a wide range of segments. Below is a diagrammatic representation of how mDMP works.

Our mFaaS platform processes large amounts of data to detect patterns of indicative or definitive fraud on a device, network and shared eco-system knowledge level. It detects and flags potentially fraudulent conversions and transactions on 15+ reason codes, which include click spamming, conversion hijacking, App version frauds, BOT/simulator activity and many internet protocol (IP) related fraud types. mFaaS utilises two primary interventions as part of its core detection technology: (a) device-based detections, including use of the gyroscope and other sensors for human compared to rack identification; and (b) server-side detections, including IP pools and device attributes. mFaaS helps to detect fraud on a real time basis, thus minimising wastage of marketing spend. mFaaS is designed such that it can be used by advertisers, advertising agencies, advertising networks and publishers to optimise return on marketing spend by helping weed out fraudulent traffic.

We use mFaaS in our mobile advertising display campaigns for customers and also licence it for a fee to customers.

Vizury Commerce Business

Our Vizury Commerce Business is focussed on retargeting. Retargeting is a type of digital marketing activity that focuses on getting lapsed/interested users to transact online by targeting them with personalized product ads after they have shown interest in those products by either browsing about them or adding them to the shopping cart. The chart below shows a simple representation of how retargeting works.

User is an inactive user of an App or the user checks out a product in the App but leaves without buying the product

We intelligently target this user across other Apps with dynamic, deep-linked ads

An ad leads the user back to the specific product in the App and drives transactions for the advertiser

Mobile App Retargeting

Mobile App retargeting is the targeting of advertisements to App users who have dropped off an App without making a purchase with the objective of driving them back to the advertiser's App. These ads are delivered on other Apps, Facebook and also through push notifications on the advertiser's App.

Mobile App Re-engagement

Mobile App re-engagement is the targeting of advertisements to App users who have been inactive with the objective of re-engaging them with the advertiser's App.

Web Retargeting

Web retargeting is the targeting of advertisements to website users who have dropped off a website without making a purchase with the objective of driving them back to the advertiser's website.

RevX Platform

The RevX Platform offers services and solutions that enable marketers to engage, acquire and retain consumers through personalised dynamic ads. The RevX Platform is an intelligent cloud for mobile advertising and analytics that combines audience intelligence, App store intelligence and artificial intelligence to drive marketing outcomes in a brand-safe, programmatic ecosystem.

Although we acquired the RevX Platform effective April 1, 2019, the acquisition was only completed on June 28, 2019. We are confident that when we layer our DMP-based audience intelligence and mFaaS-based ad fraud filters on the RevX Platform, we will be able to boost the ROI of the platform significantly. Also, we believe the self-serve features of the RevX Platform could help us drive the adoption of programmatic advertising amongst fast-growing industry segments. Our acquisition of the RevX Platform completes our CPCU-based offerings by adding newer functionalities and machine learning-driven algorithms.

App Retargeting & Re-engagement

App retargeting & re-engagement is the targeting of advertisements to mobile users who have dropped off an advertiser's App without making a desired action with the objective of driving them back to the advertiser's App to complete that action. It is done by first segmenting the audience into different consumer types, such as shopping cart abandoners, casual browsers and purchasers. Predictive models process these data signals on a continuous basis and help segment users who are most likely to convert. These users are then shown dynamic personalised ads based on their purchase/interest habits.

This solution helps App advertisers to

- Grow transaction volumes from users who have shown interest in particular products but not completed the transaction;
- Engage and re-activate lapsed users; and
- Enhance the ROI on new user acquisition-based marketing efforts by specifically advertising to users who have installed an App but not transacted

New User Acquisition

The RevX Platforms leverages real-time bidding-based ad request signals together with App store intelligence driven App usage signals to predict users who are most likely to convert and transact with a new App. These predictive algorithms help to segment and then advertise to users who have high likelihood of conversion. Also, once the campaign starts, based on the profiles of converting users, similar segments of ‘like’ users are targeted based on their App and content usage to further enhance ROI.

Shoffr Platform

The Shoffr Platform drive sales of customers products and services from online marketing to offline conversion, including customer relation management, catalogue management and order management, via enablement of programmatic, personalization and data science. The platform’s features are listed follow:

Store Inventory

The platform allows for two methods to expose a store’s inventory to its customers - either by integrating the store inventory with the Shoffr Platform or letting customers find stock availability via push notifications to store staff.

Short Links

The platform helps promotes products via short links published across owned and paid media. White-labelled landing pages are made available to find and reserve products at bricks and mortar stores.

API

The catalogue and order management API allows a business to launch chat and/or voice bots, alongside a “reserve at store” feature on existing web stores and Apps.

StoreBoard App

The StoreBoard App enables employees at a store to confirm the availability of a product’s stock, fulfil orders, review customer history, review product performance, create reservations for walk-in customers, and track their footfalls.

Enterprise Platform

Our Enterprise Platform consists of the following:

App Development

We develop Apps for third parties using our ARC (Affle Reusable Components) platform, which allows us to leverage pre-built components so that we can build high quality enterprise grade Apps in a cost-efficient way. Our Apps include government automation Apps, e-commerce and retail Apps, travel Apps, self-care Apps, ticketing Apps, healthcare Apps, social/chat Apps, OTT/streaming Apps and workforce management Apps.

mTraction CDP is an end-to-end user data, intelligence, and engagement management platform for enterprises across multiple sectors and industries. Its data analytics suite enables insights on usage analytics, marketing attribution, and utilises these for rules-based customer engagement to maximise the return on a customer's marketing spend.

mTraction CDP allows the capturing of usage events and attribution of data points using its software development kits ("SDK") or server to server ("S2S") integrations and to visualise these as complex data sets, e.g., cohorts of revenue and user retention. Its segment builder allows creating user segments on the basis of each of these data points and sends customised messages to users using its push notifications module.

mTraction CDP offers private cloud type of deployment options making it an attractive product for enterprises and governments that have access to a lot of personally identifiable user data and need a secure and trusted platform to store, segment and utilise it.

Markt

Markt is our commerce platform that enables offline, businesses and enterprises to conduct end-to-end online commerce. It is an enterprise grade, omni-channel, commerce platform consisting of multiple custom-built modules that offer web service APIs for easy and fast integration. The platform is modular in nature and can integrate with any custom interfaces or systems. Markt's key modules include a catalogue management system, inventory management, order management, payments handler, and delivery management.

Markt supports two primary implementation scenarios: offline to online store enablement; and offline to online marketplace enablement.

ACCESS TO DATA

Access to high quality data assets fuels the accuracy and predictive nature of the algorithm for our Affle Consumer Platform, the algorithm for our Vizury Commerce Business and the algorithm for our RevX Platform. These data assets include: (a) first party data received from our customers, such as usage and transactions on their Apps and websites; (b) second party data collected by us based on the performance/engagement of advertisements delivered on a particular publisher's App or website; and (c) third-party data, such as customer demographic and behavioural data derived from third-party cookies and device id information.

Our proprietary algorithm for the Affle Consumer Platform, which process and extract user insights from this data, is a result of over 13 years' experience.

We obtain large volumes of consumer intent data, browsing behaviour and transaction data through integration with a diverse set of customers and publishers, which enables us to track users' behaviour and build meaningful user personas. The combination of these data sets gives us actionable insights into consumer purchase behaviour that we use to deliver relevant advertisements to drive engagement and ultimately drive sales for our customers. As at March 31, 2018, our Affle Consumer Platform had approximately 2.02 billion consumer profiles and during Fiscal 2019, our Affle Consumer Platform accumulated over 300 billion data points.

The following chart shows the number of our consumer profiles our Affle Consumer Platform had as at March 31, 2019 by markets.

We are in the process of integrating the consumer profiles and the related consumer data points of our Vizury Commerce Business, the RevX Platform and the Shoffr Platform with our Affle Consumer Platform. Subsequent to the completion of these integrations, we believe we will see a significant qualitative increase in our consumer profiles and the related data points.

ACCESS TO INVENTORY

Our Consumer Platform

Our Consumer Platform has access to extensive mobile advertising inventory through our relationships with publishers and through real-time bidding mobile advertising inventory exchanges and platforms. In some cases, we have negotiated direct and privileged access with publishers, giving us the opportunity to purchase on an impression by impression basis and in real time: (a) inventory that a publisher might otherwise only sell subject to minimum volume commitments; and/or (b) particular advertising impressions before such inventory is made available to other potential buyers. Across both our direct publisher relationships and inventory purchasing done on advertising exchanges, we leverage our ability to quickly and accurately value available advertising inventory and utilise that information to bid for inventory on a programmatic, automated basis. Our ability to efficiently access and value inventory enables our Consumer Platform to deliver effective advertisements at the right price for our customers and continue to do so as the size and complexity of campaigns increases.

We purchase inventory from our direct publishers generally through insertion orders consistent with industry standard terms and conditions for the purchase of internet advertising inventory. Pursuant to such arrangements, we purchase media on multiple purchase models for users that we recognise on the publishers' network. Such arrangements are cancellable upon short notice and without penalty.

Through the direct relationships we have with publishers, we take steps to determine that the publisher's inventory meets our content requirements and that of our customers to ensure that their display advertisements are not shown in inappropriate content categories, such as adult or political content. With respect to our inventory purchased through real-time bidding mobile advertising inventory exchanges and platforms, we utilise third-party software to verify that the inventory where the advertisement placement is shown conforms to our advertising guidelines and the content expectations of our advertisers.

In addition to the above means of accessing inventory, our Vizury Commerce Business and the RevX Platform have integrations with several well-known global publishers, which allows us to optimize advertising targeted to users of those platforms. Our Vizury Commerce Business primarily relied on two publishers for access to inventory in the seven months ended March 31, 2019.

TECHNOLOGY INFRASTRUCTURE

Our ability to deliver our solutions depends largely on our sophisticated technology infrastructure. Our infrastructure comprises open source and cloud-based technologies. We utilise the latest tools in the industry, which includes the following.

Front-End

Our Affle Consumer Platform uses a modular front-end, built on MEAN Stack, which comprises Mongo, Express, Angular and Node.JS, to ensure consistency and high code reusability between our products.

Our Vizury Commerce Business uses a modular front-end, built on Angular, Node.JS and MySQL to ensure consistency and high code reusability between our products.

Our RevX Platform has a modular front end built on Angular, JAVA on top of Cloud Data Lakes, making the code reusability between our products.

User Profiling and Behavioural Analysis

Affle Consumer Platform

We use an artificial intelligence-based rules engine to detect behaviour analysis from various sources and use that data to determine a user's interests and if the user is a fraudulent user. We use Appographic, click, install, engagements, location and device information and store this information in an efficient and cost-effective method. Some customers expect us to track the number of installations over a period to ascertain the genuineness of users, while others appoint a third-party service provider to do the same.

Vizury Commerce Business and the RevX Platform

We collect user behavioural data from the advertisers through embedded website code, mobile SDKs and third-party mobile measurement partners. We consume this data and along with the data from third-party ad exchanges and predict the propensity of the user to engage in the advertisement based on a sophisticated machine learning algorithms.

Shoffr Platform

We collect product catalogue and store inventory from large retail brands through integrations with their ERP or E-commerce tools. We expose this inventory across various social media platforms to allow users discover, engage and convert as store walk-ins. We help brands to measure and track their user engagement in order to optimize the digital marketing spend for a better ROI.

Data Translation Engine

We use server-less technologies and server-based technologies to process data in an efficient manner.

Big Data Storage

We store information in our database pools. We use multiple layered security controls to protect our data assets, including security by design and, in the case of Affle Consumer Platform, security controls based upon governance, and a security quality assurance team.

Security by Design

Where possible, we utilise automated processes to minimise the risk to systems and with the appropriate identity and access management controls. In addition, we also employ security measures such as:

- HTTPS to ensure transport security.
- Encryption at rest where possible (data being encrypted at storage) (currently for our Affle Consumer Platform only).
- Virtual private cloud.
- Logs on all modifications to production, which is shared and reviewed periodically (currently for our Affle Consumer Platform only).
- Access to the machines is disabled unless there is an emergency and/or maintenance (currently for our Affle Consumer Platform only).
- Use of third-party tools and services to monitor our servers for abnormal behaviour and intrusion detections (currently for our Affle Consumer Platform only).

Governance

Through the years of audits of our system, including passing the accreditation review by IMDA twice, we have developed processes in place not only for the tech team but also on security governance for our Affle Consumer Platform. These include strict measures on identity and access management, which starts from our infrastructure (local and cloud), compute machines, databases, security/monitoring services, our products, third-party products and our email. We also have clear escalation procedures and checks-and-balances on processes in place for our Affle Consumer Platform.

Quality Assurance Team

Our quality assurance team for our Affle Consumer Platform has a dedicated section on security. This section conducts periodic penetration testing, periodic security static code analysis and periodic testing for the OWASP (Open Web Application Security Project) security guidelines.

Disaster Recovery

We have a comprehensive disaster recovery and business recovery plan. The information we collect is stored on cloud storage and, in the case of our Affle Consumer Platform, archived on tapes. Our information is then stored onto our databases, on servers that are located in the United States, Singapore, India and Ireland and in India. These servers are backed-up automatically daily. A backup of the codebase is also stored offsite for added security. This adds to five layers of security.

The total failure of our systems would require two servers across two physical locations to completely fail, and the raw storage, tape backups (in the case of our Affle Consumer Platform and the Shoffr Platform) and our snapshot backups to also fail.

Connectivity to Customers

All our products have several integration mechanisms for our customers/partners, including SDKs, APIs, embedded website code, S2S integrations and data synchronisations.

OUR CUSTOMERS

Affle Consumer Platform

We work with customers who we believe are likely to grow, which we believe will help us to grow in the various countries in which our customers provide services. We are engaged to run ad campaigns either directly by the advertisers or indirectly via advertising agencies.

Global advertising spend is managed largely through six major advertising agencies: WPP (GroupM); Publicis; Omnicom (OMG); Dentsu Aegis Network (DAN); Interpublic Group (IPG) Mediabrands and Havas. (Source: Frost & Sullivan Report). We currently work with all of the top six global advertising agency groups and with other mobile focussed advertising agencies, such as M&C Saatchi Mobile, and with domestic advertising agencies, such as Interactive Avenues and Madison.

We have run mobile advertising campaigns for some of the largest e-commerce and mobile App companies / brands in the world, such as Amazon, Flipkart, Goibibo, Zee, Dunzo, Dailyhunt, Meesho, Games 24x7, Shipt, Jabong, BookMyShow, Wynk, ALTBalaji, PhonePe, Gojek, Spotify, Sivvi, and well-known companies in other industries such as Airtel, Reckitt Benkiser, Johnson & Johnson, McDonalds, Nissan, Air Asia, Axis Bank, Citibank, and BTPN.

Case Studies

BookMyShow (Movie/Event Ticketing App/Website in India)

Background

Bigtree Entertainment Pvt. Ltd. (“Bigtree”) is India's premiere comprehensive ticketing, information and analysis solutions provider. It owns and operates BookMyShow, a movie and event ticketing App/website. (Source: <http://www.bigtree.in/> accessed on July 2, 2018).

Objectives

Bigtree engaged us to grow BookMyShow’s consumer base and help acquire more users for its mobile App in India and also do real time tracking and data analytics of its mobile App users.

Solution and Results

We utilized our Affle Consumer Platform to help BookMyShow meet its objectives. With the existing consumer profile information, we used our predictive algorithm to identify potential users who were interested in movies and likely to purchase from BookMyShow using its mobile App. The relevant and recent movie ads for BookMyShow were then shown to these identified users inside apps and/or websites that they frequently visited.

Our Affle Consumer Platform further built its consumer intelligence each time a user (a) clicked on BookMyShow’s ad (thus showing intent); (b) downloaded BookMyShow’s App (thus showing interest); (c) had an active session on BookMyShow’s App (showing purchase intent); or (d) made a purchase from BookMyShow (showing conversion of the targeted user to becoming a consumer for BookMyShow). We tracked all of this data, which was integrated with BookMyShow’s App.

This campaign was executed in the period from April 2017 to March 2018 during which we helped deliver over 350,000 App users for BookMyShow.

ALTBalaji (Video on Demand Platform in India)

Background

ALT Digital Media Entertainment Limited (“ALTBalaji”) owns and operates ALTBalaji, a subscription-based video on demand platform that was launched in India in 2017. (Source: <https://www.altbalaji.com/about-us> accessed on July 2, 2018).

Objective

ALTBalaji engaged us to grow its consumer base and acquire more users for its mobile App in India during its launch phase. ALTBalaji wanted to target only those users who were likely to subscribe and pay for mobile entertainment content.

Solution and Results

We utilized our Affle Consumer Platform to help ALTBalaji meet its objectives. With the existing consumer profile information, we used our predictive algorithm to identify potential users who were frequent users of video and entertainment content on their mobile and had shown some affinity to e-commerce in the past. ALTBalaji’s ads were then shown to these identified users inside Apps and/or websites that they frequently visited.

Our Affle Consumer Platform further built its consumer intelligence each time a user (a) clicked on ALTBalaji’s ad (thus showing intent); or (b) downloaded and paid for ALTBalaji’s App (thus showing interest).

This campaign was executed in the period of April 2017 to March 2018 during which we helped deliver more than 1.5 million App users (paid) for ALTBalaji.

Vizury Commerce Business

Our Vizury Commerce Business’ customers include many well-known e-commerce companies in the Middle East, Africa and India.

RevX Platform

We acquired contracts with nine customers of RevX Inc. as part of our acquisition of the RevX Platform Business, which included contracts with e-commerce companies, primarily in Southeast Asia and the Middle East, and a well-known marketing platform for mobile brands, which is a reseller partner of the RevX Platform. We did not acquire the customer contracts of RevX Inc.’s Indian subsidiary as part of our acquisition of the RevX Platform Business.

Shoffr Platform

Our Shoffr Platform currently has one direct customer and two customers (a well-known toy manufacturer and a well-known jewellery company) are being billed by Shoffr on a back-to-back with us.

SALES AND MARKETING

Our solutions are sold to customers through our sales and marketing team, which as at May 31, 2019 comprised 51 persons across our six offices and one sales agent in Malaysia, and through referrals from existing customers.

The agreements we enter into with our customers for our Affle Consumer Platform are typically for a period of between one to two years and many contain an option for automatic renewal for further periods of one year. Typically, our agreements with advertising agencies contain provisions for volume related discounts. Some of our agreements with advertising agencies contain restrictions on the use of revenue generated through those agreements, such as a requirement that a certain percentage of that revenue is used to purchase services from the advertising agency.

The agreements with customers for our Vizury Commerce Business vary in length but they typically include the right of either party to terminate the agreement without cause by giving the other party 30 days' written notice of termination. Typically, the pricing is dynamic, which is determined for each campaign based on mutual agreement.

The agreements with customers for our RevX Platform vary in length and are entered into as insertion orders. Typically, pricing for longer contracts is determined for each campaign based on mutual agreement, while shorter contracts contain the pricing terms. All agreements regardless of duration include either the right for unilateral termination with two days' notice at our option, or a mutual termination clause with 48 hours' notice, and some agreements include both.

COMPETITION

The global advertising technology market is highly competitive, with multiple regional and global players. Although it is dominated by digital giants such as Google and Facebook, there are over a hundred companies around the world who offer one or more components of this solution. However, only a few companies/groups operate internationally, including us, Tradedesk, Freakout, InMobi, Criteo, Mobvista, YouAppi, among others. For more information on our competition, see "Industry Overview—Advertising Technology Market" on page 134.

Our Company has signed a non-compete agreement dated July 14, 2018 with Affle Holdings, our corporate Promoter. Under this agreement, so long as its remains our Promoter, Affle Holdings has agreed not to (a) engage in any business activity that competes with our Company in any geography; (b) solicit any employees or independent contractors of our Company; and (c) induce any employee or independent contractor of the Company to terminate or breach his contractual relationship with our Company.

TECHNOLOGY DEVELOPMENT

We invest substantial resources on research and development to enhance our solutions and technology infrastructure, develop new features, conduct quality assurance testing and improve our core technology. For details, see "—Strategies—Continue to invest in and develop our technological capabilities" on page 154. We expect to continue to expand the capabilities of our technologies in the future and to invest significantly in continued research and development efforts. As at May 31, 2019, we had 100 employees specifically engaged in research and development activities.

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

We regard our patents, trademarks, domain names, copyrights, trade secrets, proprietary technologies and similar intellectual property as critical to our success. We seek to protect our intellectual property rights through a combination of patents, copyright and trademark protections.

We own three patents in the United States, details of which are in the table below.

We have registered our “” corporate logo as a trademark in India, which is valid until October 2025. Further, through an agreement dated July 14, 2018, Affle International has granted our Company the right to use the “Affle” trademark in or outside India.

As part of our acquisition of the Vizury Commerce Business, we acquired the trademark “VIZURY”. The “VIZURY” trademark has been registered in India, whose registration is valid until August 2021.

As per the RevX BTA, a subsidiary of RevX Inc. is the legal owner of the "RevX" brand name and the applications to register the trademark in India under Class 35 and Class 42, which were made on February 15, 2018 and are still pending. The RevX BTA, as amended, obligates RevX Inc. to acquire the brand name and transfer it to our Singapore Subsidiary on or before July 31, 2019. RevX Inc. has entered into an agreement with its Indian subsidiary dated June 26, 2019 pursuant to which its Indian subsidiary has agreed to transfer the "RevX" brand name to RevX Inc. on or before July 31, 2019 and in which its Indian subsidiary agreed that it has no objection to our Singapore Subsidiary using the "RevX" brand worldwide while RevX Inc.'s Indian subsidiary is the legal owner of the brand.

PRIVACY AND DATA PROTECTION

Privacy and data protection laws play a significant role in our business.

There are laws in India that govern activities such as the collection and use of data by companies like us. The Indian Supreme Court, in a judgment delivered on August 24, 2017, held that the right to privacy is a fundamental right, following which, the GoI set up a Committee of Experts under the chairpersonship of retired Justice B.N. Srikrishna ("Srikrishna Committee") to examine issues around, and draft a legislation on data-protection in India. The Srikrishna Committee submitted its final report and a draft Personal Data Protection Bill, 2018 ("Data Protection Bill") to the Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology on July 27, 2018. The Data Protection Bill proposes a legal framework governing the processing of personal data within India, where such data has been collected, disclosed, shared or otherwise processed, as well as any processing of personal data by the State, Indian companies, Indian citizens or any person or body of persons incorporated or created under Indian law. The Data Protection Bill defines personal data and sensitive personal data, prescribes rules for collecting, storing and processing of such data and creates rights and obligations of data-subjects and processors. The Data Protection Bill underwent public consultation until late 2018. As on date, the Data Protection Bill, in a potentially updated form, is expected to be tabled in the seventeenth Lok Sabha in its first session. Additionally, the Indian government has, across sectors, displayed its intent to require data including personal information to be located locally within India. See "Regulations and Policies" on page 171 for further details.

As we deliver ads and have consumer profiles throughout various other countries, our activities are also subject to the laws of foreign jurisdictions. As we continue to expand into other foreign countries, we may be subject to additional laws and regulations that may affect how we conduct business.

The European Union's ("EU") General Data Protection Regulation ("GDPR") is a legal framework that sets guidelines for the collection and processing of personal information of individuals within the EU. The GDPR sets out the principles for data management and the rights of the individual, while also imposing fines that can be revenue-based. The GDPR covers all companies that deal with the data of EU citizens. GDPR became effective across the EU on May 25, 2018. (Source: Frost & Sullivan Report)

Various regions and countries are becoming protectionist by implementing laws that address data security and privacy challenges. If a number of strong rules and regulations come into force in various countries and are implemented successfully, other countries will either follow these model laws or will frame laws and regulations according to their political, economic, social and administrative structure. Implementation of GDPR and strong laws in countries like Canada and Australia will pave the way for more such effective initiatives across the globe. (Source: Frost & Sullivan Report).

International bodies such as the United Nations Organisations, The Council of European Convention 108 and the OECD have modified/or are in the process of modifying legacy data protection regulations to suit the digital world. A global body called the International Data Protection Authority is involved in governing national data protection laws and addressing international disputes centred on data privacy. (Source: Frost & Sullivan Report)

A number of regional initiatives by the EU (EU Directive and EU GDPR), Asia Pacific Economic Cooperation (APEC), African Union, ECOWAS (West African Economic and Monetary Union) and The Commonwealth have focussed on region-specific rules and regulations. Trade agreements have emerged as a new source of both data protection law and guidance on managing the potential conflict between data protection law and cross-border data flows. (Source: Frost & Sullivan Report).

For more information, see “Risk Factors–Regulatory, legislative or self-regulatory developments regarding data protection could adversely affect our ability to conduct our business.”, “Regulations and Policies” and “Industry Overview–Information Privacy” on pages 25, 171 and 142, respectively.

Functions	Number of Employees
Management	11
Research and development	100
Sales and marketing	51
Data platforms and operations	46
Finance, human resources, administrative staff and others	28
Total	236

Our success depends on our ability to attract, retain and motivate qualified personnel. We believe we have developed a corporate culture that encourages initiative, technical superiority and self-development.

PROPERTIES

We do not own any real property. We lease/license six properties for our operations, comprising our corporate office in Gurugram (India), and commercial offices in each of Mumbai (India), Bengaluru (India), Singapore and Jakarta (Indonesia) and Dubai (UAE).

INSURANCE

We have group medical insurance policies. We also maintain a directors’ and officers’ liability policy to cover certain liabilities that may be imposed on them. In addition, we have also obtained a public offering of securities insurance policy. We have not purchased any insurance policies that cover us for any business-related risks, such as insurance against damage to property, liabilities for any acts or omissions, consequential damages or business interruption, as we believe they are not necessary given the nature of our business and the nominal value of our fixed assets. Although we believe that having insurance policies that cover us for business-related risks are not necessary, we are currently looking into taking out some insurance policies that cover us for certain business-related risks.

CORPORATE SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY

We have a CSR committee in place, whose mandate is to formulate and recommend a CSR policy to the Board, which will indicate the activities to be undertaken by the Company as specified in Schedule VII of the Companies Act, 2013. As per the terms of reference of our CSR committee, it shall recommend the amount of expenditure to be incurred on the above-mentioned activities and to do such other acts, deeds and things as may be required to comply with applicable laws.

REGULATIONS AND POLICIES

The following is an overview of the certain sector specific Indian laws and regulations which are relevant to our Company's business. Tax related statutes and applicable shops and establishment statutes, labour laws and other miscellaneous regulations and statutes apply to us as they do to any other Indian company. Additionally, this also includes sector specific international regulations which are relevant to our Company's business and applicable to our Subsidiaries.

The description of law and regulations set out below are not exhaustive and are only intended to provide general information and is neither designed nor intended to be a substitute for professional legal advice. For details of government approvals obtained by our Company in compliance with these regulations, see the section titled "Government and Other Approvals" beginning on page 473. The statements below are based on the current provisions of Indian law, and the judicial and administrative interpretations thereof, which are subject to change or modification by subsequent legislative, regulatory, administrative or judicial decisions.

Laws relating to intellectual property

The Trade Marks Act, 1999

In India, trademarks are protected under statutory and common law. Indian trademark law permits the registration of trademarks for goods and services. The Trade Marks Act, 1999 ("Trademark Act") governs the statutory protection of trademarks and for the prevention of the use of fraudulent marks in India. Certification marks and collective marks can also be registered under the Trademark Act. An application for trademark registration may be made by individual or joint applicants and can be made on the basis of either use or intention to use a trademark in the future.

Applications for a trademark registration may be made in one or more international classes. Once granted, trademark registration is valid for ten years unless cancelled. If not renewed after ten years, the mark lapses and the registration has to be renewed. The Trademark (Amendment) Act, 2010 has been enacted to amend the Trademark Act to enable Indian nationals as well as foreign nationals to secure simultaneous protection of trademarks in other countries, and to empower the Registrar of Trademarks to do so. It also seeks to simplify the law relating to the transfer of ownership of trademarks by assignment or transmission and to bring the law generally in line with international practice.

The Patents Act, 1970

The Patents Act, 1970 ("Patents Act") governs the patent regime in India. Being a signatory to the Agreement on Trade Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights, India is required to recognize product patents as well as process patents. In addition to the broad requirement that an invention satisfy the requirements of novelty, utility and non-obviousness in order for it to avail patent protection, the Patents Act further provides that patent protection may not be granted to certain specified types of inventions and materials even if they satisfy the above criteria.

Section 39 of the Patents Act also prohibits any person resident in India from applying for a patent for an invention outside India without making an application for a patent for the same invention in India. The term of a patent granted under the Patents Act pursuant to Section 53 is for a period of twenty years from the date of filing of the application for the patent. A patent shall cease to have effect if the renewal fee is not paid within the period prescribed for the payment of such renewal fee.

The Copyright Act, 1957

The Copyright Act, 1957 ("Copyright Act") governs copyright protection in India. Under the Copyright Act, copyright may subsist in original literary, dramatic, musical or artistic works, cinematograph films, and sound recordings. While copyright registration is not a prerequisite for acquiring or enforcing a copyright in an otherwise copyrightable work, registration constitutes prima facie evidence of the particulars entered therein and may expedite infringement proceedings and reduce delay caused due to evidentiary considerations. Upon registration, the copyright protection for a work exists for a period of 60 years following, the demise of the author. Reproduction of a copyrighted work for sale or hire, issuing of copies to the public, performance or exhibition in public, making a translation of the work, making an adaptation of the work and making a cinematograph film of the work without consent of the owner of the copyright are all acts which expressly amount to an infringement of copyright.

Information Technology Laws

Information Technology Act, 2000

The Information Technology Act, 2000 (“IT Act”) regulates and governs the communications made and services provided in the electronic form. It provides legal recognition to transactions carried out by means of electronic data interchange and other means of electronic communication. The IT Act prescribes punishment for publication of, obscene and offensive materials through electronic means. The Information Technology (Amendment) Act, 2008, which amended the IT Act, gives recognition to contracts concluded through electronic means, creates liability for failure to protect sensitive personal data and gives protection to intermediaries in respect of third party information liability.

Under Section 67 of the IT Act, publication or causing publication of lascivious material or material which is likely to corrupt persons, in electronic form, is punishable with imprisonment up to three years and with fine which may extend to ₹ 500,000 on a first conviction, and in the event of a second or subsequent conviction with imprisonment up to five years and also with fine which may extend to ₹ 1 million. Further, under Section 69A of the IT Act and the Information Technology (Procedure & Safeguards for Blocking for Access of Information by Public) Rules, 2009, directions can be issued by the Government or intermediary, blocking public access to any information generated, transmitted, retrieved, stored or hosted in any computer resource. Pursuant to Section 44 of the IT Act, a person may be imposed with a fine of up to ₹ 0.10 million in case of failure to furnish any document, return or report to the controller or the certifying authority or fails to maintain books or records.

The Department of Information Technology (“DoIT”) has also notified the Information Technology (Intermediaries Guidelines) Rules, 2011 in respect of Section 79(2) of the IT Act (the “Intermediaries Rules”). The Intermediaries Rules require persons receiving, storing, transmitting or providing any service with respect to electronic messages to not knowingly host, publish, transmit, select or modify any information prohibited under the Intermediaries Rules and to disable such information after obtaining knowledge of it. Further, Section 72A of the IT Act provides a penalty of three years imprisonment or/and a fine up to ₹ 0.5 million on a person or intermediary who discloses any personal information about a person that it may have been obtained while providing services under the terms of a lawful contract, without such person’s consent.

Section 43A provides for a company to pay compensation to the affected person if it fails to protect the sensitive personal data handled, possessed or dealt by it. In April, 2011 the DoIT notified the Information Technology (Reasonable Security Practices and Procedures and Sensitive Personal Data or Information) Rules, 2011 (the “Personal Data Protection Rules”) in respect of Section 43A of the IT Act which prescribe directions for the collection, disclosure, transfer and protection of sensitive personal data by a company or any person acting on behalf of a company. Further, the Personal Data Protection Rules require every such company to provide a stipulated privacy policy, which is to be published on its website, for dealing with personal information, including sensitive personal data and ensuring security of all personal data collected by it.

The Committee of Experts on a Data Protection Framework for India constituted by the GoI under the chairmanship of Justice Shri B. N. Srikrishna submitted a draft Personal Data Protection Bill, 2018 (the “Data Protection Bill”) and the Data Protection Committee Report (the “Report”) in July 27, 2018 to the MEITY. The Report notes that the right to privacy is a fundamental right and draws parallels and comparisons between the provisions of the GDPR and the Data Protection Bill. The Data Protection Bill, if enacted, will replace the above-mentioned Section 43A of the IT Act and the rules made thereunder.

The Data Protection Bill seeks to provide a legal framework for regulating and governing any processing of personal data within India by the State, Indian companies or Indian citizens or any person or body of persons incorporated or created under Indian law. In its extraterritorial application, the Data Protection Bill applies to the processing of personal data by data processors outside India in specified circumstances. Additionally, the Data Protection Bill also applies to any processing of personal data by Indian Companies, irrespective of where it is processed.

Laws Governing Foreign Investments

Foreign investment in India is governed by the provisions of FEMA along with the rules, regulations and notifications made by Reserve Bank of India (“RBI”) thereunder, and the Consolidated FDI Policy issued by the Department of Industrial Policy and Promotion, Ministry of Commerce and Industry, Government of India from time to time. Under the current FDI Policy (effective August 28, 2017) 100% foreign direct investment is permitted under the automatic route in companies, such as ours, which are involved in the electronics and IT sector. In terms of applicable regulations notified under FEMA and the SEBI (Foreign Portfolio Investors) Regulations, 2014 (“SEBI FPI Regulations”), investments by Foreign Portfolio Investors (“FPIs”) in the capital of an Indian company under the SEBI FPI Regulations are subject to individual holding limits of 10% of the capital of the company per FPI and the aggregate holding limit of 24% of the capital of the company. However, the aggregate limit for FPI investment in a company can be increased up to the applicable sectoral cap (which is 100% in the case of our Company) by passing a resolution of the company’s board of directors, followed by a special resolution by the shareholders and prior intimation to the RBI which has not been done by our Company. Therefore, the current individual investment limit and aggregate foreign investment limit for registered FPIs in our Company is 10% and 24%, respectively, of the total paid up equity share capital of our Company.

- a. Power over the investee (i.e. existing rights that give it the current ability to direct the relevant activities of the investee)
- b. Exposure, or rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee, and
- c. The ability to use its power over the investee to affect its returns

Affle (India) Limited (formerly known as Affle (India) Private Limited)
(Amount in INR million, unless otherwise stated)

Annexure V

Notes to the Restated Ind AS Consolidated Summary Statements – Accounting Policies

The Company re-assesses whether or not it controls an investee if facts and circumstances indicate that there are changes to one or more of the three elements of control. Consolidation of a subsidiary begins when the Company obtains control over the subsidiary and ceases when the Company loses control of the subsidiary. Assets, liabilities, income and expenses of a subsidiary acquired or disposed of during the year are included in the Restated Ind AS Consolidated Financial Information from the date the Company gains control until the date the Company ceases to control the subsidiary.

Restated Ind AS Consolidated Financial Information are prepared using uniform accounting policies for like transactions and other events in similar circumstances. If a member of the Group uses accounting policies other than those adopted by the Company for like transactions and events in similar circumstances, appropriate adjustments are made to that Group member's financial statements in preparing the consolidated financial statements to ensure conformity with the Company's accounting policies

The financial statements of all entities used for the purpose of consolidation are drawn up to same reporting date as that of the Company, i.e., the year ended on March 31, 2019.

Consolidation procedure:

- (i) Combine like items of assets, liabilities, equity, income, expenses and cash flows of the parent with those of its subsidiaries. For this purpose, income and expenses of the subsidiary are based on the amounts of the assets and liabilities recognized in the consolidated financial statements at the acquisition date.
- (ii) Offset (eliminate) the carrying amount of the Company's investment in each subsidiary and the Company's portion of equity of each subsidiary. Business combinations policy explains how to account for any related goodwill.
- (iii) Eliminate in full intragroup assets and liabilities, equity, income, expenses and cash flows relating to transactions between entities of the Group (profits or losses resulting from intragroup transactions that are recognized in assets, such as inventory and fixed assets, are eliminated in full). Intragroup losses may indicate an impairment that requires recognition in the consolidated financial statements. Ind AS 12 Income Taxes applies to temporary differences that arise from the elimination of profits and losses resulting from intragroup transactions.

List of entities consolidated

The list of entities consolidated by the Company, which are included in the consolidated financial statements are as under:

S. No.	Entity	Percentage of ownership interest as at
		March 31, 2019	March 31, 2018
1	Affle International Pte. Ltd.	100%	-
2	PT Affle Indonesia*	100%	-

* Affle International Pte. Ltd. owns the shares in PT Affle Indonesia.

Profit or loss and each component of other comprehensive income ("OCI") are attributed to the equity holders of the Company and to the non-controlling interests, even if this results in the non-controlling interests having a deficit balance. When necessary, adjustments are made to the financial statements of subsidiaries to bring their accounting policies into line with the Company's accounting policies. All intra-group assets and liabilities, equity, income, expenses and cash flows relating to transactions between members of the Group are eliminated in full on consolidation.

A change in the ownership interest of a subsidiary, without a loss of control, is accounted for as an equity transaction. If the Company loses control over a subsidiary, it:

- Derecognizes the assets (including goodwill) and liabilities of the subsidiary

Affle (India) Limited (formerly known as Affle (India) Private Limited)
(Amount in INR million, unless otherwise stated)

Annexure V

Notes to the Restated Ind AS Consolidated Summary Statements – Accounting Policies

- Derecognizes the carrying amount of any non-controlling interests
- Derecognizes the cumulative translation differences recorded in equity
- Recognizes the fair value of the consideration received
- Recognizes the fair value of any investment retained
- Recognizes any surplus or deficit in profit or loss
- Reclassifies the Company's share of components previously recognized in OCI to profit or loss or retained earnings, as appropriate, as would be required if the Company had directly disposed of the related assets or liabilities

iii) Business combinations and goodwill

Business combinations are accounted for using the acquisition method. The cost of an acquisition is measured as the aggregate of the consideration transferred measured at acquisition date fair value and the amount of any non-controlling interests in the acquiree. For each business combination, the Company elects whether to measure the non-controlling interests in the acquiree at fair value or at the proportionate share of the acquiree's identifiable net assets. Acquisition-related costs are expensed as incurred.

At the acquisition date, the identifiable assets acquired and the liabilities assumed are recognized at their acquisition date fair values. For this purpose, the liabilities assumed include contingent liabilities representing present obligation and they are measured at their acquisition fair values irrespective of the fact that outflow of resources embodying economic benefits is not probable. However, the following assets and liabilities acquired in a business combination are measured at the basis indicated below:

- a) Deferred tax assets or liabilities, and the assets or liabilities related to employee benefit arrangements are recognized and measured in accordance with Ind AS 12 Income Tax and Ind AS 19 Employee Benefits respectively.
- b) Liabilities or equity instruments related to share-based payment arrangements of the acquiree or share – based payments arrangements of the Company entered into to replace share-based payment arrangements of the acquiree are measured in accordance with Ind AS 102 Share-based Payments at the acquisition date.
- c) Assets (or disposal groups) that are classified as held for sale in accordance with Ind AS 105 Non-current Assets Held for Sale and Discontinued Operations are measured in accordance with that standard.
- d) Reacquired rights are measured at a value determined on the basis of the remaining contractual term of the related contract. Such valuation does not consider potential renewal of the reacquired right.

When the Company acquires a business, it assesses the financial assets and liabilities assumed for appropriate classification and designation in accordance with the contractual terms, economic circumstances and pertinent conditions as at the acquisition date. This includes the separation of embedded derivatives in host contracts by the acquiree.

If the business combination is achieved in stages, any previously held equity interest is re-measured at its acquisition date fair value and any resulting gain or loss is recognized in profit or loss or other comprehensive income, as appropriate.

Any contingent consideration to be transferred by the acquirer is recognized at fair value at the acquisition date. Contingent consideration classified as an asset or liability that is a financial instrument and within the scope of Ind AS 109 Financial Instruments, is measured at fair value with changes in fair value recognized in profit or loss. If the contingent consideration is not within the scope of Ind AS 109, it is measured in accordance with the appropriate Ind AS.

Affle (India) Limited (formerly known as Affle (India) Private Limited)

Annexure V

Notes to the Restated Ind AS Consolidated Summary Statements – Accounting Policies

Contingent consideration that is classified as equity is not re-measured at subsequent reporting dates and subsequent its settlement is accounted for within equity.

Goodwill is initially measured at cost, being the excess of the aggregate of the consideration transferred and the amount recognized for non-controlling interests, and any previous interest held, over the net identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed. If the fair value of the net assets acquired is in excess of the aggregate consideration transferred, the Company re-assesses whether it has correctly identified all of the assets acquired and all of the liabilities assumed and reviews the procedures used to measure the amounts to be recognized at the acquisition date. If the reassessment still results in an excess of the fair value of net assets acquired over the aggregate consideration transferred, then the gain is recognized in other comprehensive income (OCI) and accumulated in equity as capital reserve. However, if there is no clear evidence of bargain purchase, the entity recognizes the gain directly in equity as capital reserve, without routing the same through OCI.

After initial recognition, goodwill is measured at cost less any accumulated impairment losses. For the purpose of impairment testing, goodwill acquired in a business combination is, from the acquisition date, allocated to each of the Group's cash-generating units that are expected to benefit from the combination, irrespective of whether other assets or liabilities of the acquiree are assigned to those units.

A cash generating unit to which goodwill has been allocated is tested for impairment annually, or more frequently when there is an indication that the unit may be impaired. If the recoverable amount of the cash generating unit is less than its carrying amount, the impairment loss is allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill allocated to the unit and then to the other assets of the unit pro rata based on the carrying amount of each asset in the unit. Any impairment loss for goodwill is recognized in profit or loss. An impairment loss recognized for goodwill is not reversed in subsequent periods.

Where goodwill has been allocated to a cash-generating unit and part of the operation within that unit is disposed of, the goodwill associated with the disposed operation is included in the carrying amount of the operation when determining the gain or loss on disposal. Goodwill disposed in these circumstances is measured based on the relative values of the disposed operation and the portion of the cash-generating unit retained.

If the initial accounting for a business combination is incomplete by the end of the reporting period in which the combination occurs, the Group reports provisional amounts for the items for which the accounting is incomplete. Those provisional amounts are adjusted through goodwill during the measurement period, or additional assets or liabilities are recognized, to reflect new information obtained about facts and circumstances that existed at the acquisition date that, if known, would have affected the amounts recognized at that date. These adjustments are called as measurement period adjustments. The measurement period does not exceed one year from the acquisition date.

iv) Business combinations under common control

Common control business combination means a business combination involving entities or businesses in which all the combining entities or businesses are ultimately controlled by the same party both before and after the business combination, and that control is not transitory.

The Company accounts for its business combination under common control using pooling of interest method of accounting as per Appendix C of Ind AS 103. The acquiree's identifiable assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities that meet the definition for recognition are recognized at their carrying amount at the acquisition date. Transferor's reserves are preserved and are appeared in the financial statements of the transferee in the same form in which they appear in the financial statements of the transferor. Acquisition date is the beginning of the preceding period in case the common control is established prior to such date. However, if business combination had occurred after such date, the acquisition date is considered only from that date.

The consolidated financial statements incorporate the financial statements of the combining entities or businesses in which the common control combination occurs as if they had been combined from the date when the combining entities or businesses first came under the control of the controlling party.

Affle (India) Limited (formerly known as Affle (India) Private Limited)

Annexure V

Notes to the Restated Ind AS Consolidated Summary Statements – Accounting Policies

The consolidated income statement includes the results of each of the combining entities or businesses from the earliest date presented or since the date when the combining entities or businesses first came under the common control, where there is a shorter period, regardless of the date of the common control combination.

The comparative amounts in the consolidated financial statements are presented as if the entities or businesses had been combined at the previous balance sheet date or when they first came under common control, whichever is shorter.

Transaction costs, including professional fees, registration fees, costs of furnishing information to shareholders, costs or losses incurred in combining operations of the previously separate businesses, etc., incurred in relation to the common control combination that is to be accounted for by using merger accounting is recognised as an expense in the year in which it is incurred.

v) Current versus non-current classification

The Company presents assets and liabilities in the consolidated balance sheet based on current/ non-current classification.

An asset is treated as current when it is:

- Expected to be realized or intended to be sold or consumed in normal operating cycle
- Held primarily for the purpose of trading
- Expected to be realized within twelve months after the reporting period, or
- Cash or cash equivalent unless restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period

All other assets are classified as non-current.

A liability is current when:

- It is expected to be settled in normal operating cycle
- It is held primarily for the purpose of trading
- It is due to be settled within twelve months after the reporting period, or
- There is no unconditional right to defer the settlement of the liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period

The Company classifies all other liabilities as non-current.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are classified as non-current assets and liabilities.

The operating cycle is the time between the acquisition of assets for processing and their realization in cash and cash equivalents. The Company has identified twelve months as its operating cycle.

vi) Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost, net of accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any. The cost comprises purchase price and other directly attributable cost incurred in bringing the asset to its working condition for the intended use and initial estimate of decommissioning, restoring and similar liabilities. Any trade discounts and rebates are deducted in arriving at the purchase price. All other repair and maintenance costs are recognized in profit or loss as incurred.

Subsequent costs are capitalized on the carrying amount or recognized as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when future economic benefits associated with the item are probable to flow to the Group and cost of the item can be measured reliably.

The gain or loss arising on the disposal or retirement of an item of property, plant and equipment is determined as the difference between the sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and is recognized in the statement of profit and loss on the date of disposal or retirement.

vii) Depreciation on property, plant and equipment

Depreciation on property, plant and equipment is calculated on a pro-rata basis from the date on which the asset is ready to use, using written down value method ("WDV") over the useful lives of the assets estimated by the management, which are in line with the useful lives prescribed under Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013.

The Company has used the following rates to provide depreciation on its property, plant and equipment:

Asset Category	Useful lives estimated by management
Computers	3 years
Office equipment	5 years
Furniture and fixtures	10 years
Motor vehicles	8 years

The residual value of these assets has been considered at 5% of original cost to the Group.

The residual values, useful lives and methods of depreciation of property, plant and equipment are reviewed at each financial year end and adjusted prospectively, if appropriate.

viii) Intangible assets

Intangible assets acquired separately are measured on initial recognition at cost. Following initial recognition, intangible assets are carried at cost less accumulated amortization. Internally generated intangible assets, excluding capitalized development costs, are not capitalized and expenditure is reflected in the statement of profit and loss in the year in which the expenditure is incurred.

Intangible assets are amortized on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful economic life and assessed for impairment whenever there is an indication that the intangible asset may be impaired. The amortization period and the amortization method are reviewed at least at each financial year end. Changes in the expected useful life or the expected pattern of consumption of future economic benefits embodied in the asset are considered to modify the amortization period or method, as appropriate, and are treated as changes in accounting estimates. The amortization expense on intangible assets is recognized in the statement of profit and loss unless such expenditure forms part of carrying value of another asset.

Gains or losses arising from derecognition of an intangible asset are measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and are recognized in the statement of profit and loss when the asset is derecognized.

Research and development costs

Research costs are expensed as incurred. Development expenditure incurred on an individual project is recognized as an intangible asset when the Company can demonstrate all the following:

- The technical feasibility of completing the intangible asset so that it will be available for use or sale
- Its intention to complete the asset
- Its ability to use or sell the asset
- How the asset will generate future economic benefits
- The availability of adequate resources to complete the development and to use or sell the asset
- The ability to measure reliably the expenditure attributable to the intangible asset during development.

Following the initial recognition of the development expenditure as an asset, the cost model is applied requiring the asset to be carried at cost less any accumulated amortization and accumulated impairment losses. Amortization of the asset begins when development is complete and the asset is available for use. It is amortized on a straight line basis over the period of expected future benefit from the related project. Amortization is recognized in the statement of profit and loss. During the period of development, the asset is tested for impairment annually.

Annexure V

Notes to the Restated Ind AS Consolidated Summary Statements – Accounting Policies

A summary of amortization periods applied to the Group's intangible assets is as below:

Asset Category	Useful lives estimated by management
Computer software	5 years
Mobile application	4 years

ix) Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of an asset that necessarily takes a substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use or sale are capitalized as part of the cost of the asset. All other borrowing costs are expensed in the period in which they occur. Borrowing costs consist of interest and other costs that an entity incurs in connection with the borrowing of funds. Borrowing cost also includes exchange differences to the extent regarded as an adjustment to the borrowing costs.

x) Leases

The determination of whether an arrangement is (or contains) a lease is based on the substance of the arrangement at the inception of the lease. The arrangement is, or contains, a lease if fulfilment of the arrangement is dependent on the use of a specific asset or assets and the arrangement conveys a right to use the asset or assets, even if that right is not explicitly specified in an arrangement.

Group as a lessee

A lease is classified at the inception date as a finance lease or an operating lease. A lease that transfers substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership to the Group is classified as a finance lease.

Finance leases are capitalized at the commencement of the lease at the inception date fair value of the leased property or, if lower, at the present value of the minimum lease payments. Lease payments are apportioned between finance charges and reduction of the lease liability so as to achieve a constant rate of interest on the remaining balance of the liability. Finance charges are recognized in finance costs in the statement of profit and loss. Lease management fees, legal charges and other initial direct costs of lease are capitalized.

A leased asset is depreciated over the useful life of the asset. However, if there is no reasonable certainty that the Group will obtain ownership by the end of the lease term, the asset is depreciated over the shorter of the estimated useful life of the asset and the lease term.

Lease arrangements where the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of an asset substantially vest with the lessor are recognized as operating leases. Operating lease payments are recognized as an expense in the statement of profit and loss on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

xi) Impairment of non-financial assets

The Company assesses at each reporting date whether there is an indication that an asset may be impaired. If any indication exists, or when annual impairment testing for an asset is required, the Company estimates the asset's recoverable amount. An asset's recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's or cash-generating unit's ("CGU") fair value less costs of disposal and its value in use. The recoverable amount is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or groups of assets. Where the carrying amount of an asset or CGU exceeds its recoverable amount, the asset is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount.

In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. In determining fair value less costs of disposal, recent market transactions are taken into account. If no such transactions can be identified, an appropriate valuation model is used. These calculations are corroborated by valuation multiples, quoted share prices for publicly traded companies or other available fair value indicators.

Affle (India) Limited (formerly known as Affle (India) Private Limited)

Annexure V

Notes to the Restated Ind AS Consolidated Summary Statements – Accounting Policies

The Company bases its impairment calculation on detailed budgets and forecast calculation, which are prepared separately for each of the Group's cash-generating units to which the individual assets are allocated. These budgets and forecast calculations are generally covering a period of five years. For longer periods, a long term growth rate is calculated and applied to project future cash flows after the fifth year.

Impairment losses of continuing operations, including impairment on inventories, are recognized in the statement of profit and loss.

After impairment, depreciation is provided on the revised carrying amount of the asset over its remaining useful life.

An assessment is made at each reporting date as to whether there is any indication that previously recognized impairment losses may no longer exist or may have decreased. If such indication exists, the Company estimates the asset's or cash-generating unit's recoverable amount. A previously recognized impairment loss is reversed only if there has been a change in the assumptions used to determine the asset's recoverable amount since the last impairment loss was recognized. The reversal is limited so that the carrying amount of the asset does not exceed its recoverable amount, nor exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation, had no impairment loss been recognized for the asset in prior years. Such reversal is recognized in the statement of profit and loss.

xii) Financial instruments

A financial instrument is any contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity.

Financial assets

Initial recognition and measurement

All financial assets are recognized initially at fair value plus, in the case of financial assets not recorded at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs that are attributable to the acquisition of the financial asset.

Subsequent measurement

For purposes of subsequent measurement, financial assets are classified in four categories

- Debt instruments at amortized cost
- Debt instruments at fair value through other comprehensive income ("FVTOCI")
- Debt instruments, derivatives and equity instruments at fair value through profit or loss ("FVTPL")
- Equity instruments measured at fair value through other comprehensive income ("FVTOCI")

Debt instruments at amortized cost

A 'debt instrument' is measured at the amortized cost if both the following conditions are met:

- a) The asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets for collecting contractual cash flows, and
- b) Contractual terms of the asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest (SPPI) on the principal amount outstanding.

This category is most applicable to the Group. After initial measurement, such financial assets are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the Effective Interest Rate ("EIR") method. Amortized cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortization is included in finance income in the statement of profit and loss. The losses arising from impairment are recognized in the statement of profit and loss. This category generally applies to trade and other

Annexure V

Notes to the Restated Ind AS Consolidated Summary Statements – Accounting Policies

receivables.

Debt instrument at FVTOCI

A 'debt instrument' is classified as at the FVTOCI if both of the following criteria are met:

- a) The objective of the business model is achieved both by collecting contractual cash flows and selling the financial assets, and
- b) The asset's contractual cash flows represent SPPI.

Debt instruments included within the FVTOCI category are measured initially as well as at each reporting date at fair value. Fair value movements are recognized in the other comprehensive income (OCI). However, the Company recognizes interest income, impairment losses & reversals and foreign exchange gain or loss in the statement of profit and loss. On derecognition of the asset, cumulative gain or loss previously recognized in OCI is reclassified from the equity to statement of profit and loss (P&L). Interest earned whilst holding FVTOCI debt instrument is reported as interest income using the EIR method.

Debt instrument at FVTPL

FVTPL is a residual category for debt instruments. Any debt instrument, which does not meet the criteria for categorization as at amortized cost or as FVTOCI, is classified as at FVTPL.

In addition, the Company may elect to designate a debt instrument, which otherwise meets amortized cost or FVTOCI criteria, as at FVTPL. However, such election is considered only if doing so reduces or eliminates a measurement or recognition inconsistency (referred to as 'accounting mismatch').

Debt instruments included within the FVTPL category are measured at fair value with all changes recognized in the statement of profit and loss.

Equity Investments

All equity investments in scope of Ind AS 109 are measured at fair value. Equity instruments which are held for trading are classified as at FVTPL. For all other equity instruments, the Company may make an irrevocable election to present in other comprehensive income subsequent changes in the fair value. The Company makes such election on an instrument-by-instrument basis. The classification is made on initial recognition and is irrevocable.

If the Company decides to classify an equity instrument as at FVTOCI, then all fair value changes on the instrument, excluding dividends, are recognized in the OCI. There is no recycling of the amounts from OCI to statement of profit and loss, even on sale of investment. However, the Company may transfer the cumulative gain or loss within equity.

Equity instruments included within the FVTPL category are measured at fair value. All changes in fair value including dividend are recognized in the statement of profit and loss.

Derecognition

A financial asset is de-recognized only when

- The rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired, or
- The Company has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from the asset or has assumed an obligation to pay the received cash flows in full without material delay to a third party under a 'pass-through' arrangement; and either (a) the Company has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, or (b) the Company has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, but has transferred control of the asset.

Affle (India) Limited (formerly known as Affle (India) Private Limited)

Annexure V

Notes to the Restated Ind AS Consolidated Summary Statements – Accounting Policies

When the Company has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from an asset or has entered into a pass-through arrangement, it evaluates if and to what extent it has retained the risks and rewards of ownership. When it has neither transferred nor retained substantially all of the risks and rewards of the asset, nor transferred control of the asset, the Company continues to recognize the transferred asset to the extent of the Company's continuing involvement. In that case, the Company also recognizes an associated liability. The transferred asset and the associated liability are measured on a basis that reflects the rights and obligations that the Company has retained.

Impairment of financial assets

In accordance with Ind AS 109, the Company applies the expected credit loss ("ECL") model for measurement and recognition of impairment loss on the following financial assets and credit risk exposure:

- Financial assets that are debt instruments, and are measured at amortized cost e.g., loans, debt securities, deposits, trade receivables and bank balance

The Company follows 'simplified approach' for recognition of impairment loss allowance on trade receivables. The application of simplified approach does not require the Company to track changes in credit risk. Rather, it recognizes impairment loss allowance based on lifetime ECLs at each reporting date, right from its initial recognition.

For recognition of impairment loss on other financial assets and risk exposure, the Company determines that whether there has been a significant increase in the credit risk since initial recognition. If credit risk has not increased significantly, 12-month expected credit loss (ECL) is used to provide for impairment loss. However, if credit risk has increased significantly, lifetime ECL is used. If, in a subsequent period, credit quality of the instrument improves such that there is no longer a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, then the entity reverts to recognizing impairment loss allowance based on 12-month ECL.

Lifetime ECL are the expected credit losses resulting from all possible default events over the expected life of a financial instrument. The 12-month ECL is a portion of the lifetime ECL which results from default events that are possible within 12 months after the reporting date.

ECL is the difference between all contractual cash flows that are due to the Company in accordance with the contract and all the cash flows that the entity expects to receive (i.e., all cash shortfalls), discounted at the original EIR.

- All contractual terms of the financial instrument (including prepayment, extension, call and similar options) over the expected life of the financial instrument. However, in rare cases when the expected life of the financial instrument cannot be estimated reliably, then the entity is required to use the remaining contractual term of the financial instrument
- Cash flows from the sale of collateral held or other credit enhancements that are integral to the contractual terms

The Company uses a provision matrix to determine impairment loss allowance on portfolio of its trade receivables. The provision matrix is based on its historically observed default rates over the expected life of the trade receivables and is adjusted for forward-looking estimates. At every reporting date, the historical observed default rates are updated and changes in the forward-looking estimates are analyzed.

ECL impairment loss allowance (or reversal) recognized during the period is recognized as income/ expense in the statement of profit and loss. This amount is reflected under the head other expenses in the statement of profit and loss. For the financial assets measured as at amortized cost, ECL is presented as an allowance, i.e., as an integral part of the measurement of those assets in the balance sheet. The allowance reduces the net carrying amount. Until the asset meets write-off criteria, the Company does not reduce impairment allowance from the gross carrying amount.

Financial liabilities

Initial recognition and measurement

Financial liabilities are classified, at initial recognition, as financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss, loans and borrowings or payables, as appropriate.

All financial liabilities are recognized initially at fair value and, in the case of loans and borrowings and payables, net of directly attributable transaction costs.

The Group's financial liabilities include borrowings, trade and other payables.

Subsequent measurement

The measurement of financial liabilities depends on their classification, as described below:

Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss

Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss include financial liabilities held for trading and financial liabilities designated upon initial recognition as at fair value through profit or loss. Financial liabilities are classified as held for trading if they are incurred for the purpose of repurchasing in the near term. This category also includes derivative financial instruments entered into by the Group that are not designated as hedging instruments in hedge relationships as defined by Ind AS 109.

Loans and borrowings

After initial recognition, interest-bearing loans and borrowings are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the EIR method. Gains and losses are recognized in profit or loss when the liabilities are de-recognized as well as through the EIR amortization process.

Amortized cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortization is included as finance costs in the statement of profit and loss.

This category generally applies to borrowings. For more information refer Annexure XVII.

De-recognition

A financial liability is de-recognized when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as the derecognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability. The difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognized in the statement of profit and loss.

Offsetting of financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the balance sheet if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognized amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, to realize the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

xiii) Fair value measurement

The Company measures financial instruments at fair value at each balance sheet date.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The fair value measurement is based on the presumption

Affle (India) Limited (formerly known as Affle (India) Private Limited)

Annexure V

that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability takes place either:

- In the principal market for the asset or liability, or
- In the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability

The principal or the most advantageous market must be accessible by the Company.

The fair value of an asset or a liability is measured using the assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming that market participants act in their economic best interest.

A fair value measurement of a non-financial asset takes into account a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use the asset in its highest and best use.

The Company uses valuation techniques that are appropriate in the circumstances and for which sufficient data are available to measure fair value, maximizing the use of relevant observable inputs and minimizing the use of unobservable inputs.

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the financial statements are categorized within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

- Level 1- Quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities
- Level 2- Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is directly or indirectly observable
- Level 3- Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is unobservable

For assets and liabilities that are recognized in the financial statements on a recurring basis, the Company determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorization (based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) at the end of each reporting period.

At each reporting date, the management analyses the movements in the values of assets and liabilities, which are required to be re-measured or re-assessed as per the Company's accounting policies. For this analysis, the management or its expert verifies the major inputs applied in the latest valuation by agreeing the information in the valuation computation to contracts and other relevant documents.

xiv) Revenue from contracts with customers

Revenue is recognized to the extent that it is probable that the economic benefit will flow to the Group and the revenue can be reliably measured, regardless of when the payment is being made. Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable, taking into account contractually defined terms of payment and excluding taxes or duties collected on behalf of the government.

The specific recognition criteria discussed below must also be met before revenue is recognized:

Consumer Platform

Revenue from rendering of advertisement services is recognized on accrual basis as and when services are rendered based on the terms of the contract. The Group collects taxes on behalf of governments and, therefore, it is not an economic benefit flowing to the Group. Hence, it is excluded from revenue. In respect of consumer platform, the revenue is recognised over the period of time based on the activity of mobile users viewing the advertisements delivered by the Company.

Affle (India) Limited (formerly known as Affle (India) Private Limited)

Annexure V

Notes to the Restated Ind AS Consolidated Summary Statements – Accounting Policies

Enterprise Platform

Revenue from software development comprises income from time & material and fixed price contracts. Revenue with respect to time & material contracts is recognized when the related services are performed. Revenue from fixed price contracts is recognized in accordance with the proportionate completion method which is determined by reference to the milestone achieved as per the terms of the contract. The Group collects taxes on behalf of governments and, therefore, it is not an economic benefit flowing to the Group. Hence, it is excluded from revenue. In respect of enterprise platform, the revenue is recognised over the period of time based on the projects completed by the Company.

Contract balances

- Contract assets - A contract asset is the right to consideration in exchange for goods or services transferred to the customer. If the Group performs by transferring goods or services to a customer before the customer pays consideration or before payment is due, a contract asset is recognized for the earned consideration that is conditional.
- Trade receivables - A receivable represents the Group's right to an amount of consideration that is unconditional (i.e., only the passage of time is required before payment of the consideration is due). Refer to accounting policies of financial assets in clause xii) Financial instruments – initial recognition and subsequent measurement.
- Contract liabilities- A contract liability is the obligation to transfer goods or services to a customer for which the Group has received consideration (or an amount of consideration is due) from the customer. If a customer pays consideration before the Group transfers goods or services to the customer, a contract liability is recognized when the payment is made or the payment is due (whichever is earlier). Contract liabilities are recognized as revenue when the Group performs under the contract.

Interest

For all debt instruments measured at amortized cost, interest income is recorded using the effective interest rate (EIR). EIR is the rate that exactly discounts the estimated future cash payments or receipts over the expected life of the financial instrument or a shorter period, where appropriate, to the gross carrying amount of the financial asset or to the amortized cost of a financial liability. When calculating the effective interest rate, the Company estimates the expected cash flows by considering all the contractual terms of the financial instrument but does not consider the expected credit losses. Interest income is included in other income in the statement of profit and loss.

xv) Foreign currencies

The Group's consolidated financial statements are presented in Indian Rupees (INR), which is also the Company's functional currency. Each entity of the Group determines its own functional currency and items included in the financial statements of each entity are measured using that functional currency. Functional currency is the currency of the primary economic environment in which an entity operates and is normally the currency in which the entity primarily generates and expends cash.

Transactions and balances

Transactions in foreign currencies are initially recorded at their respective functional currency spot rates at the date the transaction first qualifies for recognition. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the functional currency spot rates of exchange at the reporting date. Differences arising on settlement or translation of monetary items are recognized in statement of profit and loss.

Affle (India) Limited (formerly known as Affle (India) Private Limited)

Annexure V

Notes to the Restated Ind AS Consolidated Summary Statements – Accounting Policies

Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the functional currency spot rates of exchange at the reporting date.

Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the dates of the initial transactions. Non-monetary items measured at fair value in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the date when the fair value is determined. The gain or loss arising on translation of non-monetary items measured at fair value is treated in line with the recognition of the gain or loss on the change in fair value of the item (i.e., translation differences on items whose fair value gain or loss is recognized in OCI or profit or loss are also recognized in OCI or profit or loss, respectively).

Group companies

On consolidation, the assets and liabilities of foreign operations are translated into INR at the rate of exchange prevailing at the reporting date and their statements of profit or loss are translated at exchange rates prevailing at the dates of the transactions. For practical reasons, the group uses an average rate to translate income and expense items, if the average rate approximates the exchange rates at the dates of the transactions. The exchange differences arising on translation for consolidation are recognized in OCI. On disposal of a foreign operation, the component of OCI relating to that particular foreign operation is recognized in profit or loss.

Any goodwill arising in the acquisition/ business combination of a foreign operation and any fair value adjustments to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities arising on the acquisition are treated as assets and liabilities of the foreign operation and translated at the spot rate of exchange at the reporting date.

Any goodwill or fair value adjustments arising in business combinations/ acquisitions, which occurred before the date of transition to Ind AS, are treated as assets and liabilities of the entity rather than as assets and liabilities of the foreign operation. Therefore, those assets and liabilities are non-monetary items already expressed in the functional currency of the parent and no further translation differences occur.

xvi) Retirement and other employee benefits

Retirement benefit in the form of provident fund is a defined contribution scheme. The Group has no obligation, other than the contribution payable to the provident fund. The Group recognizes contribution payable to the provident fund scheme as an expenditure in the statement of profit and loss, when an employee renders the related service.

The Group operates an unfunded defined benefit gratuity plan for its employees. The cost of providing benefits under this plan is determined on the basis of actuarial valuation at each year-end, using the projected unit credit method and charged to statement of profit and loss. Remeasurements, comprising of actuarial gains and losses, are recognized immediately in the balance sheet with a corresponding debit or credit to retained earnings through OCI in the period in which they occur. Remeasurements are not reclassified to the statement of profit and loss in subsequent periods.

Past service costs are recognized in profit or loss on the earlier of:

- The date of the plan amendment or curtailment, and
- The date that the Group recognizes related restructuring costs

Net interest is calculated by applying the discount rate to the net defined benefit liability or asset. The Company recognizes the following changes in the net defined benefit obligation as an expense in the statement of profit and loss:

- Service costs comprising current service costs, past-service costs, gains and losses on curtailments and non-routine settlements; and
- Net interest expense or income

Accumulated leave, which is expected to be utilized within the next 12 months, is treated as short-term employee benefit. The Group measures the expected cost of such absences as the additional amount that it expects to pay

Annexure V

as a result of the unused entitlement that has accumulated at the reporting date.

The Group treats accumulated leave expected to be carried forward beyond twelve months, as long-term employee benefit for measurement purposes. Such long-term compensated absences are provided for based on the actuarial valuation using the projected unit credit method at the year-end. Actuarial gains/losses are immediately taken to the statement of profit and loss and are not deferred.

xvii) Taxes

Income tax expense comprises current and deferred tax.

Current tax

Current income-tax assets and liabilities are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the tax authorities in accordance. The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the amount are those that are enacted or substantively enacted, at the reporting date in the countries where the Group operates and generates taxable income.

Current income tax relating to items recognized outside statement of profit and loss is recognized outside statement of profit and loss (either in other comprehensive income or in equity). Management periodically evaluates positions taken in the tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulations are subject to interpretation and establishes provisions where appropriate.

Deferred tax

Deferred tax is provided using the liability method on temporary differences between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts for financial reporting purposes at the reporting date.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognized for all taxable timing differences, except:

- When the deferred tax liability arises from the initial recognition of goodwill or an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss
- In respect of taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries, when the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences can be controlled and it is probable that the temporary differences will not reverse in the foreseeable future

Deferred tax assets are recognized for all deductible temporary differences, the carry forward of unused tax credits and any unused tax losses. Deferred tax assets are recognized to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences, and the carry forward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses can be utilized.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at each reporting date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be utilized. Moreover, deferred tax is recognized on temporary differences arising on investments in branches unless the timing of the reversal of the temporary difference can be controlled and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future.

The unrecognized deferred tax assets are re-assessed at each reporting date and are recognized to the extent that it has become probable that future taxable profits will allow the deferred tax asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the year when the asset is realized or the liability is settled, based on tax rates and tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date.

Deferred tax relating to items recognized outside statement of profit and loss is recognized outside statement of

Affle (India) Limited (formerly known as Affle (India) Private Limited)

Annexure V

profit and loss (either in other comprehensive income or in equity). Deferred tax items are recognized in correlation to the underlying transaction either in OCI or directly in equity.

Deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities are offset if a legally enforceable right exists to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and the deferred taxes relate to the same taxable entity and the same taxation authority.

Minimum Alternate Tax

Minimum Alternate Tax (“MAT”) credit is recognized as deferred asset only when it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the credit can be utilized. In the year in which the MAT credit becomes eligible to be recognized as an asset, the said asset is created by way of a credit to the statement of profit and loss account. The Group reviews the same at each balance sheet date and writes down the carrying amount of MAT credit entitlement to the extent it is no longer probable that the Group will pay normal income tax during the specified period.

xviii) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalent in the balance sheet comprise cash at banks and on hand and short-term deposits with an original maturity of three months or less, which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

For the purpose of the statement of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents consist of cash and short-term deposits, as defined above, net of outstanding bank overdrafts as they are considered an integral part of the Group’s cash management.

xix) Provisions

Provisions are recognized when the Group has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. The expense relating to a provision is presented in the statement of profit and loss net of any reimbursement.

If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are discounted using a current pre-tax rate that reflects, when appropriate, the risks specific to the liability. When discounting is used, the increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognized as a finance cost.

Provisions are reviewed at the end of each reporting period and adjusted to reflect the current best estimate. If it is no longer probable that an outflow of resources would be required to settle the obligation, the provision is reversed.

xx) Contingent liabilities

A contingent liability is a possible obligation that arises from past events whose existence will be confirmed by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events beyond the control of the Group or a present obligation that is not recognized because it is not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation. A contingent liability also arises in extremely rare cases where there is a liability that cannot be recognized because it cannot be measured reliably. The Group does not recognize a contingent liability but discloses its existence in the financial statements.

xxi) Share based payments

Employees (including senior executives) of the Group receive remuneration in the form of share-based payments, whereby employees render services as consideration for equity instruments (equity-settled transactions).

Equity-settled transactions

The cost of equity-settled transactions is determined by the fair value at the date when the grant is made using an appropriate valuation model.

Annexure V

That cost is recognized, together with a corresponding increase in share-based payment (SBP) reserves in equity, over the period in which the service conditions are fulfilled in employee benefits expense. The cumulative expense recognized for equity-settled transactions at each reporting date until the vesting date reflects the extent to which the vesting period has expired and the Group's best estimate of the number of equity instruments that will ultimately vest. The statement of profit and loss expense or credit for a period represents the movement in cumulative expense recognized as at the beginning and end of that period and is recognized in employee benefits expense.

Service conditions are not taken into account when determining the grant date fair value of awards, but the likelihood of the conditions being met is assessed as part of the Group's best estimate of the number of equity instruments that will ultimately vest.

No expense is recognized for awards that do not ultimately vest because service conditions have not been met.

xxii) Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share ("EPS") are calculated by dividing the net profit or loss for the year attributable to equity shareholders by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year.

Diluted EPS amounts are calculated by dividing the profit or loss attributable to equity holders of the Group (after adjusting the corresponding income/charge for dilutive potential equity shares) by the weighted average number of Equity shares outstanding during the year plus the weighted average number of Equity shares that would be issued on conversion of all the dilutive potential Equity shares into Equity shares.

xxiii) Segment reporting

Identification of segments

Operating segments are reported in a manner consistent with the internal reporting provided to the chief operating decision maker ("CODM"). Only those business activities are identified as operating segment for which the operating results are regularly reviewed by the CODM to make decisions about resource allocation and performance measurement.

Inter-segment transfers

The Group generally accounts for intersegment sales and transfers at cost plus appropriate margins.

Allocation of common costs

Common allocable costs are allocated to each segment according to the relative contribution of each segment to the total common costs.

Unallocated items

Unallocated items include general income and expense items which are not allocated to any business segment.

Segment accounting policies

The Group prepares its segment information in conformity with the accounting policies adopted for preparing and presenting the financial statements of the Company as a whole.

xxiv) Recent accounting pronouncements

Some amendments and interpretations apply for the first time in March 2019, but do not have an impact on the financial statements of the company. The company has not early adopted any standards or amendments that have been issued but are not yet effective.

(1) Amendment to Ind AS 38 Intangible assets acquired free of charge

The amendment clarifies that in some cases, an intangible asset may be acquired free of charge, or for nominal consideration, by way of a government grant. In accordance with Ind AS 20 Accounting for Government Grants and Disclosure of Government Assistance, an entity may choose to recognize both the intangible asset and the grant initially at fair value. If an entity chooses not to recognize the asset initially at fair value, the entity recognizes the asset initially at a nominal amount plus any expenditure that is directly attributable to preparing the asset for its intended use. The amendment also clarifies that revaluation model can be applied for asset which is received as government grant and measured at nominal value. These amendments are not applicable on the company.

(2) Appendix B to Ind AS 21 Foreign Currency Transactions and Advance Considerations

The appendix clarifies that, in determining the spot exchange rate to use on initial recognition of the related asset, expense or income (or part of it) on the derecognition of a non-monetary asset or non-monetary liability relating to advance consideration, the date of the transaction is the date on which an entity initially recognises the non-monetary asset or non-monetary liability arising from the advance consideration. If there are multiple payments or receipts in advance, then the entity must determine the date of the transactions for each payment or receipt of advance consideration. This Interpretation does not have any impact on the financial statements.

(3) Amendments to Ind AS 12 Recognition of Deferred Tax Assets for Unrealised Losses

The amendments clarify that an entity needs to consider whether tax law restricts the sources of taxable profits against which it may make deductions on the reversal of that deductible temporary difference. Furthermore, the amendments provide guidance on how an entity should determine future taxable profits and explain the circumstances in which taxable profit may include the recovery of some assets for more than their carrying amount.

These amendments do not have any impact on the Company as the Company has no deductible temporary differences or assets that are in the scope of the amendments.

(4) Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS) issued but not yet effective

On March 30, 2019, the Ministry of Corporate Affairs (MCA) issued the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Amendment Rules, 2019 which notified Ind AS 116, Leases. The amendment rules are effective from reporting periods beginning on or after April 01, 2019. This standard replaces current guidance in Ind AS 17 and is a far-reaching change in accounting by lessees in particular.

Ind AS 116 sets out the principles for recognition, presentation and disclosure of leases and requires lessees to account for all leases under a single on-balance sheet model similar to accounting for finance leases under Ind AS 17. The objective is to ensure that lessees and lessors provide relevant information in a manner that faithfully represents those transactions. This information gives a basis for users of financial statements to assess the effect that leases have on the financial position, financial performance and cash flows of an entity.

Ind AS 116 requires lessees to recognize a 'right-of-use asset' and a 'lease liability' for almost all leasing arrangements. Lessor accounting under Ind AS 116 is substantially unchanged from today's accounting under Ind AS 17. The lessor still has to classify leases as either finance or operating.

Ind AS 116 is effective for the Company w.e.f. April 01, 2019 using either one of the following two methods:

- (a) retrospectively to each prior reporting period presented in accordance with Ind AS 8 Accounting Policies, Changes

Affle (India) Limited (formerly known as Affle (India) Private Limited)

Annexure V

Notes to the Restated Ind AS Consolidated Summary Statements – Accounting Policies

in Accounting Estimates and Errors, with the option to elect certain practical expedients as defined within Ind AS 116 (the full retrospective method); or

- (b) retrospectively with the cumulative effect of initially applying Ind AS 116 recognized at the date of initial application (April 01, 2019) and providing certain additional disclosures as defined in Ind AS 116 (the modified retrospective method).

The Company continues to evaluate the available transition methods and its contractual arrangements. The ultimate impact on leases resulting from the application of Ind AS 116 will be subject to assessments that are dependent on many variables, including, but not limited to, the terms of the contractual arrangements and the mix of business. The Company's considerations also include, but are not limited to, the comparability of its financial statements and the comparability within its industry from application of the new standard to its contractual arrangements.

(5) Appendix C, Uncertainty over Income Tax Treatments to Ind AS 12, 'Income taxes'

The appendix corresponds to IFRIC 23, Uncertainty over Income Tax Treatments issued by the IFRS Interpretations Committee.

This amendment clarifies how the recognition and measurement requirements of Ind AS 12 'Income taxes', are applied where there is uncertainty over income tax treatments. An uncertain tax treatment is any tax treatment applied by an entity where there is uncertainty over whether that treatment will be accepted by the tax authority. For example, a decision to claim a deduction for a specific expense or not to include a specific item of income in a tax return is an uncertain tax treatment if its acceptability is uncertain under tax law. The amendment applies to all aspects of income tax accounting where there is an uncertainty regarding the treatment of an item, including taxable profit or loss, the tax bases of assets and liabilities, tax losses and credits and tax rates.

The interpretation is effective for annual periods beginning on or after April 01, 2019. The company is evaluating the impact of the amendment on the financial statements.

(6) Plan Amendment, Curtailment or Settlement, Amendments to Ind AS 19, Employee Benefits.

The amendments to Ind AS 19 clarify the accounting for defined benefit plan amendments, curtailments and settlements. They confirm that entities must:

- (a) calculate the current service cost and net interest for the remainder of the reporting period after a plan amendment, curtailment or settlement by using the updated assumptions from the date of the change
- (b) any reduction in a surplus should be recognised immediately in profit or loss either as part of past service cost, or as a gain or loss on settlement. In other words, a reduction in a surplus must be recognised in profit or loss even if that surplus was not previously recognised because of the impact of the asset ceiling
- (c) separately recognise any changes in the asset ceiling through other comprehensive income.

The interpretation is effective for annual periods beginning on or after April 01, 2019. The company is evaluating the impact of the amendment on the financial statements.

(7) Annual Improvements to Ind AS

- (a) Ind AS 23, 'Borrowing Cost'

The amendments clarify that an entity treats as part of general borrowings any borrowing originally made to develop a qualifying asset when substantially all of the activities necessary to prepare that asset for its intended use or sale are complete.

An entity applies those amendments to borrowing costs incurred or after the beginning of the annual reporting period in which the entity first applies those amendments. An entity applies those amendments for annual reporting periods beginning on or after April 01, 2019. This amendment is not applicable to the Company.

The Group offsets tax assets and liabilities if and only if it has a legally enforceable right to set off current tax assets and current tax liabilities and the deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities relate to income taxes levied by the same tax authority.

In assessing the realisability of deferred tax assets, management considers whether it is probable, that some portion, or all, of the deferred tax assets will not be realised. The ultimate realisation of deferred tax assets is dependent upon the generation of future taxable income during the year in which the temporary differences become deductible. Management considers the projected future taxable income and tax planning strategies in making this assessment. Based on the level of historical taxable income and projections for future taxable incomes over the years in which the deferred tax assets are deductible, management believes that it is probable that the Group will be able to realise the benefits of those deductible differences in future.

Annexure XXIX
Notes to Restated Ind AS Consolidated Summary Statement

1. Significant Accounting Judgements, Estimates and Assumptions

The preparation of the Group's financial statements requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of revenues, expenses, assets and liabilities, and the Grouping disclosures, and the disclosure of contingent liabilities. Uncertainty about these assumptions and estimates could result in outcomes that require a material adjustment to the carrying amount of assets or liabilities affected in future periods.

Judgements

In the process of applying the Group's accounting policies, management has not made any significant judgement, which have the most significant effect on the amounts recognised in the financial statements.

Estimates and assumptions

The key assumptions concerning the future and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the reporting date, that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year, are described below. The Group has based its assumptions and estimates on parameters available when the financial statements were prepared. Existing circumstances and assumptions about future developments, however, may change due to market changes or circumstances arising that are beyond the control of the Group. Such changes are reflected in the assumptions when they occur.

(a) Impairment of non-financial assets

Impairment exists when the carrying value of an asset or CGU exceeds its recoverable amount, which is the higher of its fair value less costs of disposal and its value in use. The fair value less costs of disposal calculation is based on available data from binding sales transactions, conducted at arm's length, for similar assets or observable market prices less incremental costs for disposing of the asset. The value in use calculation is based on a Discounted Cash flow ("DCF") model. The cash flows are derived from the budget for the next five years and do not include restructuring activities that the Group has not yet committed to or significant future investments that will enhance the asset's performance of the CGU being tested. The recoverable amount is sensitive to the discount rate used for the DCF model as well as the expected future cash-inflows and the growth rate used for extrapolation purposes. These estimates are most relevant to goodwill recognised by the Group. Refer Note 14(a) of Annexure XXIX for further disclosures.

(b) Allowance for impairment of trade receivables

Trade receivables do not carry any interest and are stated at their nominal value as reduced by appropriate allowances for estimated irrecoverable amounts. Estimated irrecoverable amounts are based on the ageing of the receivable balances and historical experience adjusted for forward-looking estimates. Individual trade receivables are written off when management deems them not to be collectible. For details of allowance for doubtful debts please refer Annexure XII.

(c) Taxes

Deferred tax assets are recognised for unused tax losses to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the losses can be utilised. Significant management judgement is required to determine the amount of deferred tax assets that can be recognised based on the timing, likely and the level of future taxable profits together with future tax planning strategies. Refer Annexure X for further disclosures.

(d) Defined benefit plans (Gratuity benefits)

The cost of the defined benefit gratuity plan and other post-employment medical benefits and the present value of the gratuity obligation are determined using actuarial valuations. An actuarial valuation involves making various assumptions that may differ from actual developments in the future. These include the determination of the discount rate, future salary increases and mortality rates. Due to the complexities involved in the valuation and its long-term nature, a defined benefit obligation is highly sensitive to changes in these assumptions. All assumptions are reviewed at each reporting date.

The parameter most subject to change is the discount rate. In determining the appropriate discount rate for plans operated in India, the management considers the interest rates of government bonds in currencies consistent with the currencies of the post-employment benefit obligation.

The mortality rate is based on publicly available mortality tables for India. Those mortality tables tend to change only at intervals in response to demographic changes. Future salary increases and gratuity increases are based on expected future inflation rates for India. Further details about gratuity obligations are given in Note 2 of Annexure XXIX.

(e) Revenue from contracts with customers

The Group applied the following judgements that significantly affect the determination of the amount and timing of revenue from contracts with customers:

- Determining the timing of satisfaction of services

(i) Consumer Platform

The Group concluded that revenue for consumer platform services is to be recognised over time because the customer simultaneously receives and consumes the benefits provided by the Group.

(ii) Enterprise Platform

The Group concluded that revenue for enterprise platform services is to be recognised over time because the Group's performance does not create an asset with alternative use and the Group has a right to payment for performance completed to date.

The Group determined that the input method is the best method in measuring progress of both the services because there is a direct relationship between the Group's effort and the transfer of service to the customer.

(Amount in INR million, unless otherwise stated)

Annexure XXIX
Notes to Restated Ind AS Consolidated Summary Statement

2. Employee Benefits

A. Defined Contribution Plans

Provident Fund:

The Group makes contribution towards employees' provident fund. The Group has recognised INR 9.09 million as an expense towards contribution to this plan.

B. Defined Benefit Plans

Gratuity:

The gratuity plan is governed by the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972. Under the Act, employees who have completed five years of service are entitled to specific benefit. The level of benefit provided depends on the member's length of service and salary retirement age. The employee is entitled to a benefit equivalent to 15 days salary last drawn for each completed year of service with part thereof in excess of six months. The same is payable on termination of service or retirement or death whichever is earlier.

The present value of the obligation under such defined benefit plan is determined based on an actuarial valuation as at the reporting date using the projected unit credit method, which recognises each period of service as giving rise to additional unit of employee benefit entitlement and measures each unit separately to build up the final obligation. The obligations are measured at the present value of the estimated future cash flows. The discount rate used for determining the present value of the obligation under defined benefit plans is based on the market yields on Government bonds as at the date of actuarial valuation. Actuarial gains and losses (net of tax) are recognised immediately in the Other Comprehensive Income (OCI).

This is a unfunded benefit plan for qualifying employees. The scheme provides for a lump sum payment to vested employees at retirement, death while in employment or on termination of employment. Vesting occurs upon completion of five years of service.

The following tables summarise the components of net benefit expense recognised in the statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income and amounts recognised in the balance sheet for the gratuity plan:

Changes in the present value of the defined benefit obligation are, as follows:

Particulars	For the year ended March 31, 2019
Balance as at the beginning of the year	9.45
Current service cost	2.72
Interest cost	0.71
Benefits paid	(0.47)

Annexure XXIX
Notes to Restated Ind AS Consolidated Summary Statement

2. Employee Benefits

Particulars	For the year ended March 31, 2019
Discount rate	7.65%
Future salary increase	8.00%
Withdrawal rate (per annum)
- Up to 30 years	20.00%
- From 31 years to 44 years	10.00%
- From 44 years to 58 years	0.00%
Retirement age (years)	58
Mortality rates inclusive of provision for disability	100% of IALM (2006 - 08)

The discount rate is based on the prevailing market yields of Indian Government Securities as at the Balance Sheet date for the estimated term of the obligations. The estimates of future salary increases, considered in actuarial valuation, take account of inflation, seniority, promotion and other relevant factors, such as supply and demand in the employment market.

Present Value of Obligation at the end of the year	12.65
Impact of the change in discount rate
Impact due to increase of 0.50 %	(0.67)
Impact due to decrease of 0.50 %	0.73
Impact of the change in salary rate
Impact due to increase of 0.50 %	0.73
Impact due to decrease of 0.50 %	(0.67)

The sensitivity analysis above have been determined based on a method that extrapolates the impact on define benefit obligation as a result of reasonable changes in key assumptions occurring at the end of reporting year.

The following payments are expected contributions to the defined benefit plan in future years:

Particulars	For the year ended March 31, 2019
Within the next 12 months (next annual reporting year)	0.88
Between 2 and 5 years	3.36
Between 5 and 10 years	8.41
Total expected payments	12.65

The average duration of the defined benefit plan obligation at the end of the reporting year is 8.48 years.

3. Commitments and contingent liability

a. Leases

Operating lease : Group as lessee

The Group has taken office premises on lease. The leases have been entered for a period ranging from one to nine years with renewal option. The Group has the option, under some of its leases, to renew the lease for an additional period of 3 years on a mutual consent basis. The lease payments amounting to INR 22.59 million has been charged to the consolidated statement of profit and loss.

Future minimum rentals payable under the operating leases are as follows:

Particulars	As at March 31, 2019
Within one year	22.59
After one year but not more than five years	4.69

b. Capital commitments

As at March 31, 2019, the Group has commitments on capital account and not provided for (net of advances) of INR 11.99 million.

c. Contingent liabilities

(i) Claims against the Company not acknowledged as debts includes the following:

- Income tax demand from the Income tax authorities of INR 4.6 million which is mainly on account of disallowance of amortization of goodwill as claimed by the Company in the income tax. The matter is pending before Commissioner of Income Tax (Appeals), Mumbai.

- demand from Goods and Service Tax authorities for payment of interest and penalty of INR 2.6 million upon completion of their tax investigation for fiscal 2012-13. The service tax demand is on account of interest and penalty calculated on the principal of service tax levied on import of customised software, by downloading electronically, as per provision of service tax, under Reverse Charge Mechanism. The principal demand of service tax was duly deposited on identification of the matter and management is of the contention that no interest and penalty is payable on it under provisions of revenue neutrality.

The Company is contesting the demands and the Management, including its tax advisors, believes that its position will likely be upheld in the appellate process. No tax expense has been accrued in the financial statements for the demand raised. The management believes that the ultimate outcome of this proceedings will not have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial position and results of operations.

(ii) Other:

There are numerous interpretative issues relating to the Supreme Court (SC) judgement on PF dated 28th February, 2019. As a matter of caution, the company has made a provision on a prospective basis from the date of the SC order. The company will update its provision, on receiving further clarity on the subject.

8. Statement of Fair Values

Set out below, is a comparison by class of the carrying amounts and fair value of the Group's financial instruments:

Particulars	Carrying value	Fair value
	As at March 31, 2019	As at March 31, 2019
Financial assets
A. FVTPL financial instruments:
Investments	0.26	0.26
B. Amortised Cost:
Loans	11.57	11.57
Trade receivables	478.83	478.83
Cash and cash equivalents	206.08	206.08
Other bank balances	98.83	98.83
Other financial assets	29.03	29.03
Total	824.60	824.60
Financial liabilities
Amortised Cost:
Borrowings	89.92	89.92
Trade payables	517.11	517.11
Other financial liabilities	198.75	198.75
Total	805.78	805.78

The management assessed that cash and cash equivalents, other bank balances, loans, trade receivables, borrowings, trade payables and other financial liabilities approximate their carrying amounts largely due to the short-term maturities of these instruments.

The fair value of the financial assets and liabilities is included at the amount at which the instrument could be exchanged in a current transaction between willing parties, other than in a forced or liquidation sale. Further, the subsequent measurements of all assets and liabilities (other than investments) is at amortised cost, using effective interest rate (EIR) method.

The following methods and assumptions were used to estimate the fair values:

Receivables are evaluated by the Group based on parameters such as interest rates, specific country risk factors, individual creditworthiness of the customer and the risk characteristics of the financed project based on this evaluation, allowances are taken into account for the expected credit losses of these receivables.

The fair value of unquoted instruments and other financial assets and liabilities is estimated by discounting future cash flows using rates currently applicable for debt on similar terms, credit risk and remaining maturities.

10. Financial Risk Management Objectives and Policies

The Group's principal financial liabilities comprise of borrowings, trade payables, other financial liabilities. The main purpose of these financial liabilities is to finance the Group's operations and to provide guarantees to support its operations. The Group's principal financial assets include trade and other receivables, and cash and cash equivalent that derive directly from its operations.

The Group is exposed to market risk, credit risk and liquidity risk. The Group's senior management oversees the management of these risks. The Group's senior management is responsible to ensure that Group's financial risk activities which are governed by appropriate policies and procedures and that financial risks are identified, measured and managed in accordance with the Group's policies and risk objectives. The Board of Directors reviews and agrees policies for managing each of these risks, which are summarised below.

a. Market risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of change in market price.

(i) Foreign currency risk

Foreign currency risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of an exposure will fluctuate because of changes in foreign exchange rates. The Group's exposure to the risk of changes in foreign exchange rates relates primarily to the Group's operating activities (when revenue or expense is denominated in a foreign currency).

The Group does not use derivative financial instruments such as forward exchange contracts or options to hedge its risk associated with foreign currency fluctuations or for trading/speculation purpose.

The amount of foreign currency exposure not hedged by derivative instruments or otherwise is as under:

Particulars	As at March 31, 2019

Effect of 10% weakening of INR against EURO	2.61	2.61
Effect of 10% weakening of INR against CAD	0.01	0.01

* Figures in bracket signifies credit to profit and loss account

b. Credit Risk

Credit risk is the risk that counterparty will not meet its obligations under a financial instrument or customer contract, leading to a financial loss. The Group is exposed to credit risk from its operating activities (primarily trade receivables) and from its investing activities, including deposits with banks and financial institutions.

A counterparty whose payment is due more than 90 days after the due date is considered as a defaulted party. This is based on considering the market and economic forces in which the Group operates. The Group write-off the amount if the credit risk of counter-party increases significantly due to its poor financial position.

All the financial assets carried at amortised cost were into Good category except some portion of trade receivables considered under doubtful category (Refer Annexure XII).

10. Financial Risk Management Objectives and Policies

Trade receivables

Trade receivables are typically unsecured. Credit risk is managed by the Group through credit approvals, establishing credit limits and continuously monitoring the creditworthiness of customers to which the Group grants credit terms in the normal course of business.

The Group is exposed to credit risk in the event of non-payment by customers. An impairment analysis is performed at each reporting date. The Group uses a provision matrix to measure the expected credit loss of trade receivables.

The ageing analysis of trade receivables as of the reporting date is as follows:

ECL rate	Particulars	2.42%	17.34%	27.33%	27.33%	34.46%	100.00%	Total
		0-90 days	90-180 days	180-360 days	1-2 year	2-3 year	> 3 year

Reconciliation of impairment allowance on trade receivables and contract asset

Particulars	As at March 31, 2019
Opening impairment allowance	29.00
Add: Asset originated	9.34
Closing impairment allowance	38.34

None of those trade receivables past due or impaired have had their terms renegotiated. The maximum exposure to credit risk at the reporting date is the fair value of each class of receivables presented in the financial statement. The Group does not hold any collateral or other credit enhancements over balances with third parties nor does it have a legal right of offset against any amounts owed by the Group to the counterparty. For receivables which are overdue the Group has subsequently received payments and has reduced its overdue exposure.

The Group evaluates the concentration of risk with respect to trade receivables as low, as its customers are located in several jurisdictions and operate in largely independent markets.

Financial instruments and cash deposits

Credit risk from balances with banks is managed by the Group's treasury department in accordance with the Group's policy. Investments of surplus funds are made only with approved counterparties and within credit limits assigned to each counterparty. Counterparty credit limits are reviewed by the Group's Board of Directors on an annual basis, and may be updated throughout the year subject to approval of the Group's finance committee. The limits are set to minimise the concentration of risks and therefore mitigate financial loss through counterparty's potential failure to make payments.

c. Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Group will not be able to meet its financial obligations as they become due. The Group monitors their risk of shortage of funds using cash flow forecasting models. These models consider the maturity of their financial investments, committed funding and projected cash flows from operations. The Group's objective is to provide financial resources to meet its business objectives in a timely, cost effective and reliable manner.

A balance between continuity of funding and flexibility is maintained through the use of borrowings. The Group also monitors compliance with its debt covenants. The maturity profile of the Group's financial liabilities based on contractual undiscounted payments is given in the table below:

Particulars	Contractual undiscounted value	0-1 year	1-2 years	2-5 years	More than 5 years
As at March 31, 2019

11. Capital Management

The Board's policy maintains a strong capital base so as to maintain investor, creditor and market confidence and to sustain future development of the business. The Board of Directors monitor the return on capital employed as well as the level of dividend to shareholders.

For the purpose of the Group's capital management, capital includes issued equity capital general reserves attributable to the equity holders. The primary objective of the Group's capital management is to maximise the shareholder value.

The Group manages its capital structure and makes adjustments in light of changes in economic conditions and the requirements of the financial covenants. To maintain or adjust the capital structure, the Group may adjust the dividend payment to shareholders, return capital to shareholders or issue new shares.

The Group monitors capital using a gearing ratio, which is net debt divided by total capital plus net debt. The Group includes within net debt, interest bearing loans and borrowings, trade and other payables, less cash and cash equivalents. The Group's policy is to keep the gearing ratio between 0% and 70%.

From the date of acquisition, Vizury has contributed INR 256.16 million of revenue to continuing operations of the Group. If the combination had taken place at the beginning of year ended March 31, 2019, the total Group's revenue from continuing operations would have been INR 2,686.09 million.

(c) Impairment testing of Goodwill

Goodwill acquired through business combinations have indefinite life. The Group performed its impairment test for year ended March 31, 2019. The Group considers the relationship between its value in use and its carrying value, among other factors, when reviewing for indicators of impairment.

The recoverable amount of the goodwill is determined based on value in use ('VIU') calculated using cash flow projections from financial budgets approved by management covering a period of five year period and the terminal value (after considering the relevant long-term growth rate) at the end of the said forecast periods. The Group has extrapolated cash flows beyond 5 years using a growth rate of 2%.

The said cash flow projections are based on the senior management past experience as well as expected met trends for the future periods. The projected cash flows have been updated to reflect the decreased demand for services. The calculation of weighted average cost of capital (WACC) is based on the Group's estimated capital structure as relevant and attributable to the Group. The WACC is also adjusted for specific risks, market risks and premium, and other inherent risks associated with similar type of investments to arrive at an approximation of the WACC of a comparable market participant. The said WACC being pre-tax discount rates reflecting specific risks, are then applied to the above mentioned projections of the estimated future cash flows to arrive at the discounted cash flows.

The key assumptions used in the determination of VIU are the revenue annual growth rates and the EBITDA growth rate. Revenue and EBITDA growths are based on average value achieved in preceding years. Also, the growth rates used to extrapolate the cash flows beyond the forecast period are based on industry standards.

Based on the above assumptions and analysis, no impairment was identified as at March 31, 2019. Further, on the analysis of the said calculation's sensitivity to a reasonably possible change in any of the above mentioned key assumptions / parameters on which the Management has based determination of the recoverable amount, there are no scenarios identified by the Management wherein the carrying value could exceed its recoverable amount.

Notes to the Restated Ind AS Unconsolidated Summary Statements – Accounting Policies

The Financial Information as at March 31, 2019, 2018 and 2017 and for the year ended March 31, 2019, 2018 and 2017; have been prepared on a historical cost convention, except for certain financial assets and liabilities that have been measured at fair value (refer accounting policy regarding financial instruments). The financial statements are presented in Indian rupees (INR) and all values are rounded to the nearest millions upto two decimals, except when otherwise stated. Amounts less than INR 1 million has been shown as “0”.

The Restated Ind AS Unconsolidated financial information were authorized for issue in accordance with a resolution of the directors on June 29, 2019.

ii) Business combinations and goodwill

Business combinations are accounted for using the acquisition method. The cost of an acquisition is measured as the aggregate of the consideration transferred measured at acquisition date fair value and the amount of any non-controlling interests in the acquiree. For each business combination, the Company elects whether to measure the non-controlling interests in the acquiree at fair value or at the proportionate share of the acquiree’s identifiable net assets. Acquisition-related costs are expensed as incurred.

At the acquisition date, the identifiable assets acquired and the liabilities assumed are recognized at their acquisition date fair values. For this purpose, the liabilities assumed include contingent liabilities representing present obligation and they are measured at their acquisition fair values irrespective of the fact that outflow of resources embodying economic benefits is not probable. However, the following assets and liabilities acquired in a business combination are measured at the basis indicated below:

- a) Deferred tax assets or liabilities, and the assets or liabilities related to employee benefit arrangements are recognized and measured in accordance with Ind AS 12 Income Tax and Ind AS 19 Employee Benefits respectively.
- b) Liabilities or equity instruments related to share based payment arrangements of the acquiree or share – based payments arrangements of the Company entered into to replace share-based payment arrangements of the acquiree are measured in accordance with Ind AS 102 Share-based Payments at the acquisition date.
- c) Assets (or disposal groups) that are classified as held for sale in accordance with Ind AS 105 Non-current Assets Held for Sale and Discontinued Operations are measured in accordance with that standard.
- d) Reacquired rights are measured at a value determined on the basis of the remaining contractual term of the related contract. Such valuation does not consider potential renewal of the reacquired right.

When the Company acquires a business, it assesses the financial assets and liabilities assumed for appropriate classification and designation in accordance with the contractual terms, economic circumstances and pertinent conditions as at the acquisition date. This includes the separation of embedded derivatives in host contracts by the acquiree.

If the business combination is achieved in stages, any previously held equity interest is re-measured at its acquisition date fair value and any resulting gain or loss is recognized in profit or loss or other comprehensive income, as appropriate.

Affle (India) Limited (formerly known as Affle (India) Private Limited)

Annexure V

Notes to the Restated Ind AS Unconsolidated Summary Statements – Accounting Policies

Any contingent consideration to be transferred by the acquirer is recognized at fair value at the acquisition date. Contingent consideration classified as an asset or liability that is a financial instrument and within the scope of Ind AS 109 Financial Instruments, is measured at fair value with changes in fair value recognized in profit or loss. If the contingent consideration is not within the scope of Ind AS 109, it is measured in accordance with the appropriate Ind AS.

Contingent consideration that is classified as equity is not re-measured at subsequent reporting dates and subsequent its settlement is accounted for within equity.

Goodwill is initially measured at cost, being the excess of the aggregate of the consideration transferred and the amount recognized for non-controlling interests, and any previous interest held, over the net identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed. If the fair value of the net assets acquired is in excess of the aggregate consideration transferred, the Company re-assesses whether it has correctly identified all of the assets acquired and all of the liabilities assumed and reviews the procedures used to measure the amounts to be recognized at the acquisition date. If the reassessment still results in an excess of the fair value of net assets acquired over the aggregate consideration transferred, then the gain is recognized in other comprehensive income (OCI) and accumulated in equity as capital reserve. However, if there is no clear evidence of bargain purchase, the entity recognizes the gain directly in equity as capital reserve, without routing the same through OCI.

After initial recognition, goodwill is measured at cost less any accumulated impairment losses. For the purpose of impairment testing, goodwill acquired in a business combination is, from the acquisition date, allocated to each of the Company's cash-generating units that are expected to benefit from the combination, irrespective of whether other assets or liabilities of the acquiree are assigned to those units.

A cash generating unit to which goodwill has been allocated is tested for impairment annually, or more frequently when there is an indication that the unit may be impaired. If the recoverable amount of the cash generating unit is less than its carrying amount, the impairment loss is allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill allocated to the unit and then to the other assets of the unit pro rata based on the carrying amount of each asset in the unit. Any impairment loss for goodwill is recognized in profit or loss. An impairment loss recognized for goodwill is not reversed in subsequent periods.

Where goodwill has been allocated to a cash-generating unit and part of the operation within that unit is disposed of, the goodwill associated with the disposed operation is included in the carrying amount of the operation when determining the gain or loss on disposal. Goodwill disposed in these circumstances is measured based on the relative values of the disposed operation and the portion of the cash-generating unit retained.

If the initial accounting for a business combination is incomplete by the end of the reporting period in which the combination occurs, the Company reports provisional amounts for the items for which the accounting is incomplete. Those provisional amounts are adjusted through goodwill during the measurement period, or additional assets or liabilities are recognized, to reflect new information obtained about facts and circumstances that existed at the acquisition date that, if known, would have affected the amounts recognized at that date. These adjustments are called as measurement period adjustments. The measurement period does not exceed one year from the acquisition date.

iii) Business combinations under common control

Common control business combination means a business combination involving entities or businesses in which all the combining entities or businesses are ultimately controlled by the same party both before and after the business combination, and that control is not transitory.

Affle (India) Limited (formerly known as Affle (India) Private Limited)

Annexure V

Notes to the Restated Ind AS Unconsolidated Summary Statements – Accounting Policies

The Company accounts for its business combination under common control using pooling of interest method of accounting as per Appendix C of Ind AS 103. The acquiree's identifiable assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities that meet the definition for recognition are recognized at their carrying amount at the acquisition date.

Transferor's reserves are preserved and are appeared in the financial statements of the transferee in the same form in which they appear in the financial statements of the transferor. Acquisition date is the beginning of the preceding period in case the common control is established prior to such date. However, if business combination had occurred after such date, the acquisition date is considered only from that date.

The financial statements incorporate the financial statements of the combining entities or businesses in which the common control combination occurs as if they had been combined from the date when the combining entities or businesses first came under the control of the controlling party.

The income statement includes the results of each of the combining entities or businesses from the earliest date presented or since the date when the combining entities or businesses first came under the common control, where there is a shorter period, regardless of the date of the common control combination.

The comparative amounts in the financial statements are presented as if the entities or businesses had been combined at the previous balance sheet date or when they first came under common control, whichever is shorter.

Transaction costs, including professional fees, registration fees, costs of furnishing information to shareholders, costs or losses incurred in combining operations of the previously separate businesses, etc., incurred in relation to the common control combination that is to be accounted for by using merger accounting is recognised as an expense in the year in which it is incurred.

iv) Current versus non-current classification

The Company presents assets and liabilities in the balance sheet based on current/ non-current classification.

An asset is treated as current when it is:

- Expected to be realized or intended to be sold or consumed in normal operating cycle
- Held primarily for the purpose of trading
- Expected to be realized within twelve months after the reporting period, or
- Cash or cash equivalent unless restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period

All other assets are classified as non-current.

A liability is current when:

- It is expected to be settled in normal operating cycle
- It is held primarily for the purpose of trading
- It is due to be settled within twelve months after the reporting period, or
- There is no unconditional right to defer the settlement of the liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period

The Company classifies all other liabilities as non-current.

Affle (India) Limited (formerly known as Affle (India) Private Limited)
(Amount in INR million, unless otherwise stated)

Annexure V

Notes to the Restated Ind AS Unconsolidated Summary Statements – Accounting Policies

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are classified as non-current assets and liabilities.

The operating cycle is the time between the acquisition of assets for processing and their realization in cash and cash equivalents. The Company has identified twelve months as its operating cycle.

v) Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost, net of accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any. The cost comprises purchase price and other directly attributable cost incurred in bringing the asset to its working condition for the intended use and initial estimate of decommissioning, restoring and similar liabilities. Any trade discounts and rebates are deducted in arriving at the purchase price. All other repair and maintenance costs are recognized in profit or loss as incurred.

Subsequent costs are capitalized on the carrying amount or recognized as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when future economic benefits associated with the item are probable to flow to the Company and cost of the item can be measured reliably.

The gain or loss arising on the disposal or retirement of an item of property, plant and equipment is determined as the difference between the sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and is recognized in the statement of profit and loss on the date of disposal or retirement.

vi) Depreciation on property, plant and equipment

Depreciation on property, plant and equipment is calculated on a pro-rata basis from the date on which the asset is ready to use, using written down value method ("WDV") over the useful lives of the assets estimated by the management, which are in line with the useful lives prescribed under Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013.

The Company has used the following rates to provide depreciation on its property, plant and equipment:

Asset Category	Useful lives estimated by management
Computers	3 years
Office equipments	5 years
Furniture and fixtures	10 years
Motor vehicles	8 years

The residual value of these assets has been considered at 5% of original cost to the Company.

The residual values, useful lives and methods of depreciation of property, plant and equipment are reviewed at each financial year end and adjusted prospectively, if appropriate.

vii) Intangible assets

Intangible assets acquired separately are measured on initial recognition at cost. Following initial recognition, intangible assets are carried at cost less accumulated amortization. Internally generated intangible assets, excluding capitalized development costs, are not capitalized and expenditure is reflected in the statement of profit and loss in the year in which the expenditure is incurred.

Affle (India) Limited (formerly known as Affle (India) Private Limited)

Annexure V

Notes to the Restated Ind AS Unconsolidated Summary Statements – Accounting Policies

Intangible assets are amortized on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful economic life and assessed for impairment whenever there is an indication that the intangible asset may be impaired. The amortization period and the amortization method are reviewed at least at each financial year end. Changes in the expected useful life or the expected pattern of consumption of future economic benefits embodied in the asset are considered to modify the amortization period or method, as appropriate, and are treated as changes in accounting estimates. The amortization expense on intangible assets is recognized in the statement of profit and loss unless such expenditure forms part of carrying value of another asset.

Gains or losses arising from derecognition of an intangible asset are measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and are recognized in the statement of profit and loss when the asset is derecognized.

Research and development costs

Research costs are expensed as incurred. Development expenditure incurred on an individual project is recognized as an intangible asset when the Company can demonstrate all the following:

- The technical feasibility of completing the intangible asset so that it will be available for use or sale
- Its intention to complete the asset
- Its ability to use or sell the asset
- How the asset will generate future economic benefits
- The availability of adequate resources to complete the development and to use or sell the asset
- The ability to measure reliably the expenditure attributable to the intangible asset during development.

Following the initial recognition of the development expenditure as an asset, the cost model is applied requiring the asset to be carried at cost less any accumulated amortization and accumulated impairment losses. Amortization of the asset begins when development is complete and the asset is available for use. It is amortized on a straight line basis over the period of expected future benefit from the related project. Amortization is recognized in the statement of profit and loss. During the period of development, the asset is tested for impairment annually.

A summary of amortization periods applied to the Company's intangible assets is as below:

Asset Category	Useful lives estimated by management
Computer software	5 years
Mobile application	4 years

viii) Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of an asset that necessarily takes a substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use or sale are capitalized as part of the cost of the asset. All other borrowing costs are expensed in the period in which they occur. Borrowing costs consist of interest and other costs that an entity incurs in connection with the borrowing of funds. Borrowing cost also includes exchange differences to the extent regarded as an adjustment to the borrowing costs.

Annexure V

Notes to the Restated Ind AS Unconsolidated Summary Statements – Accounting Policies

ix) Leases

The determination of whether an arrangement is (or contains) a lease is based on the substance of the arrangement at the inception of the lease. The arrangement is, or contains, a lease if fulfilment of the arrangement is dependent on the use of a specific asset or assets and the arrangement conveys a right to use the asset or assets, even if that right is not explicitly specified in an arrangement.

Company as a lessee

A lease is classified at the inception date as a finance lease or an operating lease. A lease that transfers substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership to the Company is classified as a finance lease.

Finance leases are capitalized at the commencement of the lease at the inception date fair value of the leased property or, if lower, at the present value of the minimum lease payments. Lease payments are apportioned between finance charges and reduction of the lease liability so as to achieve a constant rate of interest on the remaining balance of the liability. Finance charges are recognized in finance costs in the statement of profit and loss. Lease management fees, legal charges and other initial direct costs of lease are capitalized.

A leased asset is depreciated over the useful life of the asset. However, if there is no reasonable certainty that the Company will obtain ownership by the end of the lease term, the asset is depreciated over the shorter of the estimated useful life of the asset and the lease term.

Lease arrangements where the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of an asset substantially vest with the lessor are recognized as operating leases. Operating lease payments are recognized as an expense in the statement of profit and loss on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

x) Impairment of non-financial assets

The Company assesses at each reporting date whether there is an indication that an asset may be impaired. If any indication exists, or when annual impairment testing for an asset is required, the Company estimates the asset's recoverable amount. An asset's recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's or cash-generating unit's (CGU) fair value less costs of disposal and its value in use. The recoverable amount is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or groups of assets. Where the carrying amount of an asset or CGU exceeds its recoverable amount, the asset is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount.

In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. In determining fair value less costs of disposal, recent market transactions are taken into account. If no such transactions can be identified, an appropriate valuation model is used. These calculations are corroborated by valuation multiples, quoted share prices for publicly traded companies or other available fair value indicators.

The Company bases its impairment calculation on detailed budgets and forecast calculations which are prepared separately for each of the Company's cash-generating units to which the individual assets are allocated. These budgets and forecast calculations are generally covering a period of five years. For longer periods, a long-term growth rate is calculated and applied to project future cash flows after the fifth year.

Affle (India) Limited (formerly known as Affle (India) Private Limited)

Annexure V

Notes to the Restated Ind AS Unconsolidated Summary Statements – Accounting Policies

Impairment losses of continuing operations, including impairment on inventories, are recognized in the statement of profit and loss.

After impairment, depreciation is provided on the revised carrying amount of the asset over its remaining useful life.

An assessment is made at each reporting date as to whether there is any indication that previously recognized impairment losses may no longer exist or may have decreased. If such indication exists, the Company estimates the asset's or cash-generating unit's recoverable amount. A previously recognized impairment loss is reversed only if there has been a change in the assumptions used to determine the asset's recoverable amount since the last impairment loss was recognized. The reversal is limited so that the carrying amount of the asset does not exceed its recoverable amount, nor exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation, had no impairment loss been recognized for the asset in prior years. Such reversal is recognized in the statement of profit and loss.

xi) Financial instruments

A financial instrument is any contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity.

Financial assets

Initial recognition and measurement

All financial assets are recognized initially at fair value plus, in the case of financial assets not recorded at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs that are attributable to the acquisition of the financial asset.

Subsequent measurement

For purposes of subsequent measurement, financial assets are classified in four categories:

- Debt instruments at amortized cost
- Debt instruments at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVTOCI)
- Debt instruments, derivatives and equity instruments at fair value through profit or loss (FVTPL)
- Equity instruments measured at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVTOCI)

Debt instruments at amortized cost

A 'debt instrument' is measured at the amortized cost if both the following conditions are met:

- a) The asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets for collecting contractual cash flows, and
- b) Contractual terms of the asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest (SPPI) on the principal amount outstanding.

Affle (India) Limited (formerly known as Affle (India) Private Limited)

Annexure V

Notes to the Restated Ind AS Unconsolidated Summary Statements – Accounting Policies

This category is most applicable to the Company. After initial measurement, such financial assets are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the Effective Interest Rate (“EIR”) method. Amortized cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortization is included in finance income in the statement of profit and loss. The losses arising from impairment are recognized in the statement of profit and loss. This category generally applies to trade and other receivables.

Debt instrument at FVTOCI

A ‘debt instrument’ is classified as at the FVTOCI if both of the following criteria are met:

- a) The objective of the business model is achieved both by collecting contractual cash flows and selling the financial assets, and
- b) The asset’s contractual cash flows represent SPPI.

Debt instruments included within the FVTOCI category are measured initially as well as at each reporting date at fair value. Fair value movements are recognized in the other comprehensive income (OCI). However, the Company recognizes interest income, impairment losses & reversals and foreign exchange gain or loss in the statement of profit and loss. On derecognition of the asset, cumulative gain or loss previously recognized in OCI is reclassified from the equity to statement of profit and loss (P&L). Interest earned whilst holding FVTOCI debt instrument is reported as interest income using the EIR method.

FVTPL is a residual category for debt instruments. Any debt instrument, which does not meet the criteria for categorization as at amortized cost or as FVTOCI, is classified as at FVTPL.

In addition, the Company may elect to designate a debt instrument, which otherwise meets amortized cost or FVTOCI criteria, as at FVTPL. However, such election is considered only if doing so reduces or eliminates a measurement or recognition inconsistency (referred to as ‘accounting mismatch’).

Debt instruments included within the FVTPL category are measured at fair value with all changes recognized in the statement of profit and loss.

Equity Investments

All equity investments in scope of Ind AS 109 are measured at fair value. Equity instruments which are held for trading are classified as at FVTPL. For all other equity instruments, the Company may make an irrevocable election to present in other comprehensive income subsequent changes in the fair value. The Company makes such election on an instrument-by-instrument basis. The classification is made on initial recognition and is irrevocable.

If the Company decides to classify an equity instrument as at FVTOCI, then all fair value changes on the instrument, excluding dividends, are recognized in the OCI. There is no recycling of the amounts from OCI to statement of profit and loss, even on sale of investment. However, the Company may transfer the cumulative gain or loss within equity.

Equity instruments included within the FVTPL category are measured at fair value. All changes in fair value including dividend are recognized in the statement of profit and loss.

Affle (India) Limited (formerly known as Affle (India) Private Limited)

Annexure V

Notes to the Restated Ind AS Unconsolidated Summary Statements – Accounting Policies

Derecognition

A financial asset is de-recognized only when

- The rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired, or
- The Company has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from the asset or has assumed an obligation to pay the received cash flows in full without material delay to a third party under a ‘pass-through’ arrangement; and either (a) the Company has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, or (b) the Company has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, but has transferred control of the asset.

When the Company has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from an asset or has entered into a pass-through arrangement, it evaluates if and to what extent it has retained the risks and rewards of ownership. When it has neither transferred nor retained substantially all of the risks and rewards of the asset, nor transferred control of the asset, the Company continues to recognize the transferred asset to the extent of the Company’s continuing involvement. In that case, the Company also recognizes an associated liability. The transferred asset and the associated liability are measured on a basis that reflects the rights and obligations that the Company has retained.

Impairment of financial assets

In accordance with Ind AS 109, the Company applies expected credit loss (ECL) model for measurement and recognition of impairment loss on the following financial assets and credit risk exposure:

- a) Financial assets that are debt instruments, and are measured at amortized cost e.g., loans, debt securities, deposits, trade receivables and bank balance

The Company follows ‘simplified approach’ for recognition of impairment loss allowance on trade receivables. The application of simplified approach does not require the Company to track changes in credit risk. Rather, it recognizes impairment loss allowance based on lifetime ECLs at each reporting date, right from its initial recognition.

For recognition of impairment loss on other financial assets and risk exposure, the Company determines that whether there has been a significant increase in the credit risk since initial recognition. If credit risk has not increased significantly, 12-month expected credit loss (ECL) is used to provide for impairment loss. However, if credit risk has increased significantly, lifetime ECL is used. If, in a subsequent period, credit quality of the instrument improves such that there is no longer a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, then the entity reverts to recognizing impairment loss allowance based on 12-month ECL.

Lifetime ECL are the expected credit losses resulting from all possible default events over the expected life of a financial instrument. The 12-month ECL is a portion of the lifetime ECL which results from default events that are possible within 12 months after the reporting date.

ECL is the difference between all contractual cash flows that are due to the Company in accordance with the contract and all the cash flows that the entity expects to receive (i.e., all cash shortfalls), discounted at the original EIR.

The Company uses a provision matrix to determine impairment loss allowance on portfolio of its trade receivables. The provision matrix is based on its historically observed default rates over the expected life

Affle (India) Limited (formerly known as Affle (India) Private Limited)

Annexure V

of the trade receivables and is adjusted for forward-looking estimates. At every reporting date, the historical observed default rates are updated and changes in the forward-looking estimates are analyzed.

ECL impairment loss allowance (or reversal) recognized during the period is recognized as income/expense in the statement of profit and loss. This amount is reflected under the head other expenses in the statement of profit and loss. For the financial assets measured as at amortized cost, ECL is presented as an allowance, i.e., as an integral part of the measurement of those assets in the balance sheet. The allowance reduces the net carrying amount. Until the asset meets write-off criteria, the Company does not reduce impairment allowance from the gross carrying amount.

Financial liabilities

Initial recognition and measurement

Financial liabilities are classified, at initial recognition, as financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss, loans and borrowings or payables, as appropriate.

All financial liabilities are recognized initially at fair value and, in the case of loans and borrowings and payables, net of directly attributable transaction costs.

The Company's financial liabilities include borrowings, trade and other payables.

Subsequent measurement

The measurement of financial liabilities depends on their classification, as described below:

Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss

Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss include financial liabilities held for trading and financial liabilities designated upon initial recognition as at fair value through profit or loss. Financial liabilities are classified as held for trading if they are incurred for the purpose of repurchasing in the near term. This category also includes derivative financial instruments entered into by the Company that are not designated as hedging instruments in hedge relationships as defined by Ind AS 109.

Loans and borrowings

After initial recognition, interest-bearing loans and borrowings are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the EIR method. Gains and losses are recognized in profit or loss when the liabilities are de-recognized as well as through the EIR amortization process.

Amortized cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortization is included as finance costs in the statement of profit and loss.

This category generally applies to borrowings. For more information refer Annexure XVI.

De-recognition

A financial liability is de-recognized when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially

Affle (India) Limited (formerly known as Affle (India) Private Limited)

Annexure V

different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as the derecognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability. The difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognized in the statement of profit and loss.

Offsetting of financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the balance sheet if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognized amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, to realize the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

xii) Fair value measurement

The Company measures financial instruments at fair value at each balance sheet date.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability takes place either:

- In the principal market for the asset or liability, or
- In the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability

The principal or the most advantageous market must be accessible by the Company.

The fair value of an asset or a liability is measured using the assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming that market participants act in their economic best interest.

A fair value measurement of a non-financial asset takes into account a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use the asset in its highest and best use.

The Company uses valuation techniques that are appropriate in the circumstances and for which sufficient data are available to measure fair value, maximizing the use of relevant observable inputs and minimizing the use of unobservable inputs.

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the financial statements are categorized within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

- Level 1- Quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities
- Level 2- Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is directly or indirectly observable
- Level 3- Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is unobservable

For assets and liabilities that are recognized in the financial statements on a recurring basis, the Company determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorization (based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) at the end of each reporting period.

At each reporting date, the management analyses the movements in the values of assets and liabilities which are required to be re-measured or re-assessed as per the Company's accounting policies. For this analysis, the management or its expert verifies the major inputs applied in the latest valuation by agreeing the information in the valuation computation to contracts and other relevant documents.

xiii) Revenue from contracts with customers

Revenue is recognized to the extent that it is probable that the economic benefit will flow to the Company and the revenue can be reliably measured, regardless of when the payment is being made. Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable, taking into account contractually defined terms of payment and excluding taxes or duties collected on behalf of the government.

The specific recognition criteria discussed below must also be met before revenue is recognized:

Consumer Platform

Revenue from rendering of advertisement services is recognized on accrual basis as and when services are rendered based on the terms of the contract. The Company collects taxes on behalf of the government and, therefore, it is not an economic benefit flowing to the Company. Hence, it is excluded from revenue. In respect of consumer platform, the revenue is recognised over the period of time based on the activity of mobile users viewing the advertisements delivered by the Company.

Enterprise Platform

Revenue from software development comprises income from time & material and fixed price contracts. Revenue with respect to time & material contracts is recognized when the related services are performed. Revenue from fixed price contracts is recognized in accordance with the proportionate completion method which is determined by reference to the milestone achieved as per the terms of the contract. The Company collects taxes on behalf of the government and, therefore, it is not an economic benefit flowing to the Company. Hence, it is excluded from revenue. In respect of enterprise platform, the revenue is recognised over the period of time based on the projects completed by the Company.

Contract balances

- Contract assets - A contract asset is the right to consideration in exchange for goods or services transferred to the customer. If the Company performs by transferring goods or services to a customer before the customer pays consideration or before payment is due, a contract asset is recognized for the earned consideration that is conditional.
- Trade receivables - A receivable represents the Company's right to an amount of consideration that is unconditional (i.e., only the passage of time is required before payment of the consideration is due). Refer to accounting policies of financial assets in clause xi) Financial instruments – initial recognition and subsequent measurement.
- Contract liabilities- A contract liability is the obligation to transfer goods or services to a customer for which the Company has received consideration (or an amount of consideration is due) from the customer. If a customer pays consideration before the Company transfers goods or services to the customer, a contract liability is recognized when the payment is made or the payment is due (whichever is earlier). Contract liabilities are recognized as revenue when the Company performs under the contract.

Interest

For all debt instruments measured at amortized cost, interest income is recorded using the effective interest rate (EIR). EIR is the rate that exactly discounts the estimated future cash payments or receipts over the expected life of the financial instrument or a shorter period, where appropriate, to the gross carrying amount of the financial asset or to the amortized cost of a financial liability. When calculating the effective interest rate, the Company estimates the expected cash flows by considering all the contractual terms of the financial instrument but does not consider the expected credit losses. Interest income is included in other income in the statement of profit and loss.

xiv) Foreign currencies

Functional and presentational currency

The Company's financial statements are presented in Indian Rupees (INR) which is also the Company's functional currency. Functional currency is the currency of the primary economic environment in which an entity operates and is normally the currency in which the entity primarily generates and expends cash.

Transactions and balances

Transactions in foreign currencies are initially recorded at their respective functional currency spot rates at the date the transaction first qualifies for recognition. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the functional currency spot rates of exchange at the reporting date. Differences arising on settlement or translation of monetary items are recognized in statement of profit and loss.

Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the dates of the initial transactions.

xv) Retirement and other employee benefits

Retirement benefit in the form of provident fund is a defined contribution scheme. The Company has no obligation, other than the contribution payable to the provident fund. The Company recognizes contribution payable to the provident fund scheme as an expenditure in the statement of profit and loss, when an employee renders the related service.

The Company operates an unfunded defined benefit gratuity plan for its employees. The cost of providing benefits under this plan is determined on the basis of actuarial valuation at each year-end, using the projected unit credit method and charged to statement of profit and loss. Remeasurements, comprising of actuarial gains and losses, are recognized immediately in the balance sheet with a corresponding debit or credit to retained earnings through OCI in the period in which they occur. Remeasurements are not reclassified to Statement of profit and loss in subsequent periods.

Net interest is calculated by applying the discount rate to the net defined benefit liability or asset. The Company recognizes the following changes in the net defined benefit obligation as an expense in the statement of profit and loss:

- Service costs comprising current service costs, past-service costs, gains and losses on curtailments and non-routine settlements; and
- Net interest expense or income

Accumulated leave, which is expected to be utilized within the next 12 months, is treated as short-term employee benefit. The Company measures the expected cost of such absences as the additional amount that it expects to pay as a result of the unused entitlement that has accumulated at the reporting date.

The Company treats accumulated leave expected to be carried forward beyond twelve months, as long-term employee benefit for measurement purposes. Such long-term compensated absences are provided for based on the actuarial valuation using the projected unit credit method at the year-end. Actuarial gains/losses are immediately taken to the statement of profit and loss and are not deferred.

xvi) Taxes

Income tax expense comprises current and deferred tax.

Current tax

Current income-tax assets and liabilities is measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the tax authorities in accordance with the Income-tax Act, 1961 enacted in India. The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the amount are those that are enacted or substantively enacted, at the reporting date. Current income tax relating to items recognized outside statement of profit and loss is recognized outside statement of profit and loss (either in other comprehensive income or in equity). Management periodically evaluates positions taken in the tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulations are subject to interpretation and establishes provisions where appropriate.

Deferred tax

Deferred tax is provided using the liability method on temporary differences between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts for financial reporting purposes at the reporting date.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognized for all taxable timing differences, except:

- When the deferred tax liability arises from the initial recognition of goodwill or an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss

Deferred tax assets are recognized for all deductible temporary differences, the carry forward of unused tax credits and any unused tax losses. Deferred tax assets are recognized to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences, and the carry forward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses can be utilized.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at each reporting date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be utilized. Moreover, deferred tax is recognized on temporary differences arising on investments in branches unless the timing of the reversal of the temporary difference can be controlled and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future.

The unrecognized deferred tax assets are re-assessed at each reporting date and are recognized to the extent that it has become probable that future taxable profits will allow the deferred tax asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the year when the asset is realized or the liability is settled, based on tax rates and tax laws that have been enacted or

Affle (India) Limited (formerly known as Affle (India) Private Limited)
(Amount in INR million, unless otherwise stated)

Annexure V

substantively enacted at the reporting date.

Deferred tax relating to items recognized outside statement of profit and loss is recognized outside statement of profit and loss (either in other comprehensive income or in equity). Deferred tax items are recognized in correlation to the underlying transaction either in OCI or directly in equity.

Deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities are offset if a legally enforceable right exists to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and the deferred taxes relate to the same taxable entity and the same taxation authority.

Minimum Alternate Tax (MAT)

Minimum Alternate Tax (MAT) credit is recognized as deferred asset only when it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the credit can be utilized. In the year in which the MAT credit becomes eligible to be recognized as an asset, the said asset is created by way of a credit to the statement of profit and loss account. The Company reviews the same at each balance sheet date and writes down the carrying amount of MAT credit entitlement to the extent it is no longer probable that the Company will pay normal income tax during the specified period.

xvii) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalent in the balance sheet comprise cash at banks and on hand and short-term deposits with an original maturity of three months or less, which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

For the purpose of the statement of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents consist of cash and short-term deposits, as defined above, net of outstanding bank overdrafts as they are considered an integral part of the Company's cash management.

xviii) Provisions

Provisions are recognized when the Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. The expense relating to a provision is presented in the statement of profit and loss net of any reimbursement.

If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are discounted using a current pre-tax rate that reflects, when appropriate, the risks specific to the liability. When discounting is used, the increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognized as a finance cost.

Provisions are reviewed at the end of each reporting period and adjusted to reflect the current best estimate. If it is no longer probable that an outflow of resources would be required to settle the obligation, the provision is reversed.

xix) Contingent liabilities

A contingent liability is a possible obligation that arises from past events whose existence will be confirmed by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events beyond the control of the Company or a present obligation that is not recognized because it is not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation. A contingent liability also arises in extremely rare

Affle (India) Limited (formerly known as Affle (India) Private Limited)

Annexure V

cases where there is a liability that cannot be recognized because it cannot be measured reliably. The Company does not recognize a contingent liability but discloses its existence in the financial statements.

xx) Share based payments

Employees (including senior executives) of the Company receive remuneration in the form of share-based payments, whereby employees render services as consideration for equity instruments (equity-settled transactions).

Equity-settled transactions

The cost of equity-settled transactions is determined by the fair value at the date when the grant is made using an appropriate valuation model.

That cost is recognized, together with a corresponding increase in share-based payment (SBP) reserves in equity, over the period in which the service conditions are fulfilled in employee benefits expense. The cumulative expense recognized for equity-settled transactions at each reporting date until the vesting date reflects the extent to which the vesting period has expired and the Company's best estimate of the number of equity instruments that will ultimately vest. The statement of profit and loss expense or credit for a period represents the movement in cumulative expense recognized as at the beginning and end of that period and is recognized in employee benefits expense.

Service conditions are not taken into account when determining the grant date fair value of awards, but the likelihood of the conditions being met is assessed as part of the Company's best estimate of the number of equity instruments that will ultimately vest.

No expense is recognized for awards that do not ultimately vest because service conditions have not been met.

xxi) Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share (EPS) are calculated by dividing the net profit or loss for the year attributable to equity shareholders by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year.

Diluted EPS amounts are calculated by dividing the profit or loss attributable to equity holders of the Company (after adjusting the corresponding income/charge for dilutive potential equity shares) by the weighted average number of Equity shares outstanding during the year plus the weighted average number of Equity shares that would be issued on conversion of all the dilutive potential Equity shares into Equity shares.

Identification of segments

Operating segments are reported in a manner consistent with the internal reporting provided to the chief operating decision maker (CODM). Only those business activities are identified as operating segment for which the operating results are regularly reviewed by the CODM to make decisions about resource allocation and performance measurement.

Inter-segment transfers

The Company generally accounts for intersegment sales and transfers at cost plus appropriate margins.

Allocation of common costs

Common allocable costs are allocated to each segment according to the relative contribution of each segment to the total common costs.

Unallocated items

Unallocated items include general income and expense items which are not allocated to any business segment.

Segment accounting policies

The Company prepares its segment information in conformity with the accounting policies adopted for preparing and presenting the financial statements of the Company as a whole.

xxiii) Recent accounting pronouncements

Some amendments and interpretations apply for the first time in March 2019, but do not have an impact on the financial statements of the company. The company has not early adopted any standards or amendments that have been issued but are not yet effective.

(1) Amendment to Ind AS 38 Intangible assets acquired free of charge

The amendment clarifies that in some cases, an intangible asset may be acquired free of charge, or for nominal consideration, by way of a government grant. In accordance with Ind AS 20 Accounting for Government Grants and Disclosure of Government Assistance, an entity may choose to recognize both the intangible asset and the grant initially at fair value. If an entity chooses not to recognize the asset initially at fair value, the entity recognizes the asset initially at a nominal amount plus any expenditure that is directly attributable to preparing the asset for its intended use. The amendment also clarifies that revaluation model can be applied for asset which is received as government grant and measured at nominal value. These amendments are not applicable on the company.

(2) Appendix B to Ind AS 21 Foreign Currency Transactions and Advance Considerations

The appendix clarifies that, in determining the spot exchange rate to use on initial recognition of the related asset, expense or income (or part of it) on the derecognition of a non-monetary asset or non-monetary liability relating to advance consideration, the date of the transaction is the date on which an entity initially recognises the non-monetary asset or non-monetary liability arising from the advance consideration. If there are multiple payments or receipts in advance, then the entity must determine the date of the transactions for each payment or receipt of advance consideration. This Interpretation does not have any impact on the financial statements.

(3) Amendments to Ind AS 12 Recognition of Deferred Tax Assets for Unrealised Losses

The amendments clarify that an entity needs to consider whether tax law restricts the sources of taxable profits against which it may make deductions on the reversal of that deductible temporary difference. Furthermore, the amendments provide guidance on how an entity should determine future taxable profits

Affle (India) Limited (formerly known as Affle (India) Private Limited)

Annexure V

and explain the circumstances in which taxable profit may include the recovery of some assets for more than their carrying amount.

These amendments do not have any impact on the Company as the Company has no deductible temporary differences or assets that are in the scope of the amendments.

(4) Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS) issued but not yet effective

On March 30, 2019, the Ministry of Corporate Affairs (MCA) issued the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Amendment Rules, 2019 which notified Ind AS 116, Leases. The amendment rules are effective from reporting periods beginning on or after April 01, 2019. This standard replaces current guidance in Ind AS 17 and is a far-reaching change in accounting by lessees in particular.

Ind AS 116 sets out the principles for recognition, presentation and disclosure of leases and requires lessees to account for all leases under a single on-balance sheet model similar to accounting for finance leases under Ind AS 17. The objective is to ensure that lessees and lessors provide relevant information in a manner that faithfully represents those transactions. This information gives a basis for users of financial statements to assess the effect that leases have on the financial position, financial performance and cash flows of an entity.

Ind AS 116 requires lessees to recognize a 'right-of-use asset' and a 'lease liability' for almost all leasing arrangements. Lessor accounting under Ind AS 116 is substantially unchanged from today's accounting under Ind AS 17. The lessor still has to classify leases as either finance or operating.

Ind AS 116 is effective for the Company w.e.f. April 01, 2019 using either one of the following two methods:

- (a) retrospectively to each prior reporting period presented in accordance with Ind AS 8 Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors, with the option to elect certain practical expedients as defined within Ind AS 116 (the full retrospective method); or
- (b) retrospectively with the cumulative effect of initially applying Ind AS 116 recognized at the date of initial application (April 01, 2019) and providing certain additional disclosures as defined in Ind AS 116 (the modified retrospective method).

The Company continues to evaluate the available transition methods and its contractual arrangements. The ultimate impact on leases resulting from the application of Ind AS 116 will be subject to assessments that are dependent on many variables, including, but not limited to, the terms of the contractual arrangements and the mix of business. The Company's considerations also include, but are not limited to, the comparability of its financial statements and the comparability within its industry from application of the new standard to its contractual arrangements.

(5) Appendix C, Uncertainty over Income Tax Treatments to Ind AS 12, 'Income taxes'

The appendix corresponds to IFRIC 23, Uncertainty over Income Tax Treatments issued by the IFRS Interpretations Committee.

This amendment clarifies how the recognition and measurement requirements of Ind AS 12 'Income taxes', are applied where there is uncertainty over income tax treatments. An uncertain tax treatment is any tax treatment applied by an entity where there is uncertainty over whether that treatment will be

Affle (India) Limited (formerly known as Affle (India) Private Limited)

Annexure V

accepted by the tax authority. For example, a decision to claim a deduction for a specific expense or not to include a specific item of income in a tax return is an uncertain tax treatment if its acceptability is uncertain under tax law. The amendment applies to all aspects of income tax accounting where there is an uncertainty regarding the treatment of an item, including taxable profit or loss, the tax bases of assets and liabilities, tax losses and credits and tax rates.

The interpretation is effective for annual periods beginning on or after April 01, 2019. The company is evaluating the impact of the amendment on the financial statements.

(6) Plan Amendment, Curtailment or Settlement, Amendments to Ind AS 19, Employee Benefits.

The amendments to Ind AS 19 clarify the accounting for defined benefit plan amendments, curtailments and settlements. They confirm that entities must:

- (a) calculate the current service cost and net interest for the remainder of the reporting period after a plan amendment, curtailment or settlement by using the updated assumptions from the date of the change
- (b) any reduction in a surplus should be recognised immediately in profit or loss either as part of past service cost, or as a gain or loss on settlement. In other words, a reduction in a surplus must be recognised in profit or loss even if that surplus was not previously recognised because of the impact of the asset ceiling
- (c) separately recognise any changes in the asset ceiling through other comprehensive income.

The interpretation is effective for annual periods beginning on or after April 01, 2019. The company is evaluating the impact of the amendment on the financial statements.

(7) Annual Improvements to Ind AS

(a) Ind AS 23, 'Borrowing Cost'

The amendments clarify that an entity treats as part of general borrowings any borrowing originally made to develop a qualifying asset when substantially all of the activities necessary to prepare that asset for its intended use or sale are complete.

An entity applies those amendments to borrowing costs incurred or after the beginning of the annual reporting period in which the entity first applies those amendments. An entity applies those amendments for annual reporting periods beginning on or after April 01, 2019. This amendment is not applicable on the Company.

The company offsets tax assets and liabilities if and only if it has a legally enforceable right to set off current tax assets and current tax liabilities and the deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities relate to income taxes levied by the same tax authority.

In assessing the realisability of deferred tax assets, management considers whether it is probable, that some portion, or all, of the deferred tax assets will not be realised. The ultimate realisation of deferred tax assets is dependent upon the generation of future taxable income during the years in which the temporary differences become deductible. Management considers the projected future taxable income and tax planning strategies in making this assessment. Based on the level of historical taxable income and projections for future taxable incomes over the periods in which the deferred tax assets are deductible, management believes that it is probable that the Company will be able to realise the benefits of those deductible differences in future.

Notes to Restated Ind AS Unconsolidated Summary Statement

1. Significant Accounting Judgements, Estimates and Assumptions

The preparation of the Company's financial statements requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of revenues, expenses, assets and liabilities, and the accompanying disclosures, and the disclosure of contingent liabilities. Uncertainty about these assumptions and estimates could result in outcomes that require a material adjustment to the carrying amount of assets or liabilities affected in future periods.

Judgements

In the process of applying the Company's accounting policies, management has not made any significant judgement, which have the most significant effect on the amounts recognised in the financial statements.

Estimates and assumptions

The key assumptions concerning the future and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the reporting date, that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year, are described below. The company has based its assumptions and estimates on parameters available when the financial statements were prepared. Existing circumstances and assumptions about future developments, however, may change due to market changes or circumstances arising that are beyond the control of the Company. Such changes are reflected in the assumptions when they occur.

(a) Impairment of non-financial assets

Impairment exists when the carrying value of an asset or CGU exceeds its recoverable amount, which is the higher of its fair value less costs of disposal and its value in use. The fair value less costs of disposal calculation is based on available data from binding sales transactions, conducted at arm's length, for similar assets or observable market prices less incremental costs for disposing of the asset. The value in use calculation is based on a Discounted Cash flow ("DCF") model. The cash flows are derived from the budget for the next five years and do not include restructuring activities that the Company has not yet committed to or significant future investments that will enhance the asset's performance of the CGU being tested. The recoverable amount is sensitive to the discount rate used for the DCF model as well as the expected future cash-inflows and the growth rate used for extrapolation purposes. These estimates are most relevant to goodwill recognised by the Company. Refer Note 12 of Annexure XXX for further disclosures.

(b) Allowance for impairment of trade receivables

Trade receivables do not carry any interest and are stated at their nominal value as reduced by appropriate allowances for estimated irrecoverable amounts. Estimated irrecoverable amounts are based on the ageing of the receivable balances and historical experience adjusted for forward-looking estimates. Individual trade receivables are written off when management deems them not to be collectible. For details of allowance for doubtful debts please refer Annexure XIII.

(c) Income taxes

Deferred tax assets are recognised for unused tax losses to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the losses can be utilised. Significant management judgement is required to determine the amount of deferred tax assets that can be recognised based on the timing, likely and the level of future taxable profits together with future tax planning strategies. Refer Annexure X for further disclosures.

(d) Defined benefit plans (gratuity benefits)

The cost of the defined benefit gratuity plan and other post-employment medical benefits and the present value of the gratuity obligation are determined using actuarial valuations. An actuarial valuation involves making various assumptions that may differ from actual developments in the future. These include the determination of the discount rate, future salary increases and mortality rates. Due to the complexities involved in the valuation and its long-term nature, a defined benefit obligation is highly sensitive to changes in these assumptions. All assumptions are reviewed at each reporting date.

The parameter most subject to change is the discount rate. In determining the appropriate discount rate for plans operated in India, the management considers the interest rates of government bonds in currencies consistent with the currencies of the post-employment benefit obligation.

The mortality rate is based on publicly available mortality tables for India. Those mortality tables tend to change only at intervals in response to demographic changes. Future salary increases and gratuity increases are based on expected future inflation rates for India. Further details about gratuity obligations are given in Note 2 of Annexure XXX.

(e) Revenue from contracts with customers

The Company applied the following judgements that significantly affect the determination of the amount and timing of revenue from contracts with customers:

- Determining the timing of satisfaction of services

(i) Consumer Platform

The Company concluded that revenue for consumer platform services is to be recognised over time because the customer simultaneously receives and consumes the benefits provided by the Company.

(ii) Enterprise Platform

The Company concluded that revenue for enterprise platform services is to be recognised over time because the Company's performance does not create an asset with alternative use and the Company has a right to payment for performance completed to date.

The Company determined that the input method is the best method in measuring progress of both the services because there is a direct relationship between the Company's effort and the transfer of service to the customer.

Annexure XXX

Notes to Restated Ind AS Unconsolidated Summary Statement

2. Employee Benefits

A. Defined Contribution Plans

Provident Fund:

The Company makes contribution towards employees' provident fund. The Company has recognised INR 6.38 million (March 31, 2018: INR. 5.29 million and March 31, 2017: INR 5.94 million) as an expense towards contribution to this plan.

B. Defined Benefit Plans

Gratuity:

The gratuity plan is governed by the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972. Under the Act, employees who have completed five years of service are entitled to specific benefit. The level of benefit provided depends on the member's length of service and salary retirement age. The employee is entitled to a benefit equivalent to 15 days salary last drawn for each completed year of service with part thereof in excess of six months. The same is payable on termination of service or retirement or death whichever is earlier.

The present value of the obligation under such defined benefit plan is determined based on an actuarial valuation as at the reporting date using the projected unit credit method, which recognises each period of service as giving rise to additional unit of employee benefit entitlement and measures each unit separately to build up the final obligation. The obligations are measured at the present value of the estimated future cash flows. The discount rate used for determining the present value of the obligation under defined benefit plans is based on the market yields on Government bonds as at the date of actuarial valuation. Actuarial gains and losses (net of tax) are recognised immediately in the Other Comprehensive Income (OCI).

This is a unfunded benefit plan for qualifying employees. The scheme provides for a lump sum payment to vested employees at retirement, death while in employment or on termination of employment. Vesting occurs upon completion of five years of service.

- demand from Goods and Service Tax authorities for payment of interest and penalty of INR 2.6 million upon completion of their tax investigation for fiscal 2012-13. The management assessed that cash and cash equivalents, other bank balances, trade receivables, capital creditors, trade payables and other financial liabilities approximate their carrying amounts largely due to the short-term maturities of these instruments.

The fair value of the financial assets and liabilities is included at the amount at which the instrument could be exchanged in a current transaction between willing parties, other than in a forced or liquidation sale. Further, the subsequent measurements of all assets and liabilities (other than investments) is at amortised cost, using effective interest rate (EIR) method.

The following methods and assumptions were used to estimate the fair values:

Receivables are evaluated by the Company based on parameters such as interest rates, specific country risk factors, individual creditworthiness of the customer and the risk characteristics of the financed project based on this evaluation, allowances are taken into account for the expected credit losses of these receivables.

The fair value of unquoted instruments and other financial assets and liabilities is estimated by discounting future cash flows using rates currently applicable for debt on similar terms, credit risk and remaining maturities.

7. Fair Value Hierarchy

All financial instruments for which fair value is recognised or disclosed are categorised within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is insignificant to the fair value measurements as a whole.

Level 1 : Quoted (unadjusted) prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2 : Valuation techniques for which the lowest level inputs that has a significant effect on the fair value measurement are observable, either directly or indirectly.

Level 3 : Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input which has a significant effect on fair value measurement is not based on observable market data.

The following table provides the fair value measurement hierarchy of the Company's assets and liabilities.

8. Financial Risk Management Objectives and Policies

The Company's principal financial liabilities comprises trade payables, other payables, capital creditors and employee related payables. The main purpose of these financial liabilities is to finance the Company's operations and to provide guarantees to support its operations. The Company's principal financial assets include trade and other receivables, and cash and cash equivalent that derive directly from its operations.

The Company is exposed to market risk, credit risk and liquidity risk. The Company's senior management oversees the management of these risks. The Company's senior management is responsible to ensure that Company's financial risk activities are governed by appropriate policies and procedures and that financial risks are identified, measured and managed in accordance with the Company's policies and risk objectives. The Board of Directors reviews and agrees policies for managing each of these risks, which are summarised below.

a. Market risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of a change in market price.

(i) Foreign currency risk

Foreign currency risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of an exposure will fluctuate because of changes in foreign exchange rates. The Company's exposure to the risk of changes in foreign exchange rates relates primarily to the Company's operating activities (when revenue or expense is denominated in a foreign currency).

The Company does not use derivative financial instruments such as forward exchange contracts or options to hedge its risk associated with foreign currency fluctuations or for trading/speculation purpose.

The amount of foreign currency exposure not hedged by derivative instruments or otherwise is as under:

Particulars	As at March 31, 2019		As at March 31, 2018		As at March 31, 2017
	Foreign currency	Amount (INR)	Foreign currency	Amount (INR)	Foreign currency	Amount (INR)

USD	0.82	56.52	0.25	16.47	0.89	57.55
SGD	0.01	0.64	0.01	0.49	-	-

The following table demonstrate the sensitivity to a reasonable possible change in USD exchange rates on profit before tax arising as a result of the revaluation of the Company's foreign currency financial assets and unhedged liabilities.

Particulars	Effect on profit before tax			Effect on pre-tax equity

Effect of 10% weakening of INR against SGD	0.06	0.05	-	0.06	0.05	-

* Figures in the bracket signifies credit to profit and loss account

b. Credit Risk

Credit risk is the risk that counterparty will not meet its obligations under a financial instrument or customer contract, leading to a financial loss. The Company is exposed to credit risk from its operating activities (primarily trade receivables) and from its investing activities, including deposits with banks and financial institutions.

A counterparty whose payment is due more than 90 days after the due date is considered as a defaulted party. This is based on considering the market and economic forces in which the Company operates. The Company writes-off the amount if the credit risk of counter-party increases significantly due to its poor financial position.

All the financial assets carried at amortised cost were into the Good category, except some portion of trade receivables considered the under doubtful category (Refer Annexure XIII).

Trade receivables

Trade receivables are typically unsecured. Credit risk is managed by the Company through credit approvals, establishing credit limits and continuously monitoring the creditworthiness of customers to which the Company grants credit terms in the normal course of business.

The Company is exposed to credit risk in the event of non-payment by customers. An impairment analysis is performed at each reporting date. The Company uses a provision matrix to measure the expected credit loss of trade receivables.

None of those trade receivables past due or impaired have had their terms renegotiated. The maximum exposure to credit risk at the reporting date is the fair value of each class of receivables presented in the financial statement. The Company does not hold any collateral or other credit enhancements over balances with third parties nor does it have a legal right of offset against any amounts owed by the Company to the counterparty. For receivables which are overdue the Company has subsequently received payments and has reduced its overdue exposure.

The Company evaluates the concentration of risk with respect to trade receivables as low, as its customers are located in several jurisdictions and operate in largely independent markets.

Financial instruments and cash deposits

Credit risk from balances with banks is managed by the Company's treasury department in accordance with the Company's policy. Investments of surplus funds are made only with approved counterparties and within credit limits assigned to each counterparty. Counterparty credit limits are reviewed by the Company's Board of Directors on an annual basis, and may be updated throughout the year subject to approval of the Company's finance committee. The limits are set to minimise the concentration of risks and therefore mitigate financial loss through counterparty's potential failure to make payments.

c. Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will not be able to meet its financial obligations as they become due. The Company monitors their risk of shortage of funds using cash flow forecasting models. These models consider the maturity of their financial investments, committed funding and projected cash flows from operations. The Company's objective is to provide financial resources to meet its business objectives in a timely, cost effective and reliable manner.

A balance between continuity of funding and flexibility is maintained through the use of borrowings. The Company also monitors compliance with its debt covenants. The maturity profile of the Company's financial liabilities based on contractual undiscounted payments is given in the table below:

The Company manages its capital structure and makes adjustments in light of changes in economic conditions and the requirements of the financial covenants. To maintain or adjust the capital structure, the Company may adjust the dividend payment to shareholders, return capital to shareholders or issue new shares.

Impairment testing of Goodwill

Goodwill acquired through business combinations have indefinite life. The Company performed its impairment test for the year ended March 31, 2019, March 31, 2018 and March 31, 2017. The Company considers the relationship between its value in use and its carrying value, among other factors, when reviewing for indicators of impairment.

The recoverable amount of the goodwill is determined based on value in use (VIU) calculated using cash flow projections from financial budgets approved by management covering a period of five year period and the terminal value (after considering the relevant long-term growth rate) at the end of the said forecast periods. The Company has extrapolated cash flows beyond 5 years using a growth rate of 2% (March 31, 2018 : 2% and March 31, 2017 : 2%).

The said cash flow projections are based on the senior management past experience as well as expected met trends for the future periods. The projected cash flows have been updated to reflect the decreased demand for services. The calculation of weighted average cost of capital (WACC) is based on the Company's estimated capital structure as relevant and attributable to the Company. The WACC is also adjusted for specific risks, market risks and premium, and other inherent risks associated with similar type of investments to arrive at an approximation of the WACC of a comparable market participant. The said WACC being pre-tax discount rates reflecting specific risks, are then applied to the above mentioned projections of the estimated future cash flows to arrive at the discounted cash flows.

The key assumptions used in the determination of VIU are the revenue annual growth rates and the EBITDA growth rate. Revenue and EBITDA growths are based on average value achieved in preceding years. Also, the growth rates used to extrapolate the cash flows beyond the forecast period are based on industry standards.

Based on the above assumptions and analysis, no impairment was identified as at March 31, 2019, March 31, 2018 and March 31, 2017. Further, on the analysis of the said calculation's sensitivity to a reasonably possible change in any of the above mentioned key assumptions / parameters on which the Management has based determination of the recoverable amount, there are no scenarios identified by the Management wherein the carrying value could exceed its recoverable amount.

Notes to Restated Ind AS Unconsolidated Summary Statement

Ind AS statement of reconciliation of equity and profit and loss as per previous GAAP and Ind AS

Footnotes to the reconciliation of equity as at March 31, 2016 and March 31, 2017 and profit or loss for the year ended March 31, 2016 and March 31, 2017

A. Loans (Security deposits)

Under Indian GAAP (IGAAP), the security deposits paid for lease rent are shown at the transaction value whereas under Ind AS, the same are initially discounted and subsequently recorded at amortised cost at the end of every financial reporting period. Accordingly, the difference between the transaction and discounted value of the security deposits paid towards lease rent is recognized as deferred lease expense and is amortised over the period of the lease term (along with current and non-current classification). Further, interest is accreted on the present value of the security deposits paid for lease rent.

B. Deferred tax

IGAAP requires deferred tax accounting using the income statement approach, which focuses on differences between taxable profits and accounting profits for the period. Ind AS 12 requires entities to account for deferred taxes using the Balance Sheet approach, which focuses on temporary differences between the carrying amount of an asset or liability in the Balance Sheet and its tax base. The application of Ind AS 12 approach has resulted in recognition of deferred tax on new temporary differences relating to various transition adjustments which are recognised in correlation to the underlying transaction either in retained earnings or as a separate component in equity.

C. Trade receivables

Under IGAAP, the Company had created provision for impairment of receivables only in respect of specific amount for incurred losses. Under Ind AS, impairment allowance has been determined based on Expected Loss model (ECL).

D. Contract asset

Under IGAAP, the Company had created provision for impairment of contract asset only in respect of specific amount for incurred losses. Under Ind AS, impairment allowance has been determined based on Expected Loss model (ECL).

E. Prior period items

Under IGAAP, prior period errors are included in determination of net profit or loss of the period in which it is discovered. However, under Ind AS, errors need to be adjusted retrospectively.

F. Business Combinations

Under IGAAP, the goodwill on business combination was amortised to the statement of profit and loss over a period of 4 years. Under Ind AS, the goodwill is tested for impairment at the end of each reporting period and amortization of goodwill is not allowed. Accordingly, the amortization of goodwill recognised under IGAAP has been reversed.

G. Borrowings

Under IGAAP, the Company has charged transaction costs incurred in connection with borrowings upfront to the statement of profit and loss. Under Ind AS, transaction costs are included in the initial recognition amount of financial liability and charged to profit or loss using the effective interest method.

H. Share based payments

As per Ind AS 102 relating to share-based payment, the Company has recorded fair value of options provided to its employees by its ultimate holding company using an appropriate pricing model recognised over the vesting period. Under IGAAP, as per the Guidance Note issued by The Institute of Chartered Accountants of India on Accounting for Employee Share-Based Payments, the management was of the opinion that the stock options scheme were managed and administered by the ultimate holding company for its own benefit and do not have any settlement obligations on the Company. Further, the scheme pertains to shares of the ultimate holding company and the impact of compensation benefits in respect of such schemes is assessed and accounted for in the books of the ultimate parent company. Accordingly, the Company was not required to account for such expenses as per the said Guidance Note under IGAAP.

I. Employee benefits expense

Both under IGAAP and Ind AS, the Company recognised costs related to its post-employment defined benefit plan on an actuarial basis. Under IGAAP, the entire cost, including actuarial gains and losses, are charged to the statement of profit and loss. Under Ind AS, remeasurements comprising of actuarial gains and losses are recognised immediately in the balance sheet with a corresponding debit or credit to retained earnings through other comprehensive income (OCI).

J. Other comprehensive income

Under Previous GAAP, the company has not presented other comprehensive income (OCI) separately. Hence, it has reconciled Previous GAAP profit or loss to profit or loss as per Ind AS. Further, Previous GAAP profit or loss is reconciled to total comprehensive income as per Ind AS.

K. Statement of cash flows

The transition from Indian GAAP to Ind AS has not had a material impact on the statement of cash flows.

The Company, basis legal opinion obtained in earlier year, was reasonably confident of receiving approval/ condonation from the regulatory authorities with respect to the above non-compliance after incurring certain penalties. The Holding Company has guaranteed to reimburse any liability arising on the Company on account of such non-compliance and accordingly, the Company has recorded provision and corresponding indemnification assets of amounting Rs 7.50 million as at March 31, 2014. The Company has revised its estimate of provision due to regularization of the non-compliance and accordingly, has reduced the provision and indemnification asset at Rs. 2.20 million and Rs. 0.50 million as at March 31, 2015 and March 31, 2016 respectively.

This embezzlement was done by ex- director of the Company, by transferring the Company's car to the name of his father without any form of consent from the Company. Therefore, the Company has written down entire net book value of the Company's car amounting to Rs. 0.10 million (March 31, 2018: Rs. 0.15 million and March 31, 2017: Rs. 0.72 million) in the books.

17. The share application money pending allotment appearing in the books of the Company amounting to Rs. 0.00 pertains to two subscribers on account of the exchange differences.

18. The Company has appointed independent consultants for conducting a transfer pricing study to determine whether the transactions with associated enterprise were undertaken at "arm length price". The management confirms that all domestic and international transactions with associated enterprises are undertaken at a negotiated contracted price on usual commercial terms and is confident of there being no adjustment on completion of the study. Adjustment, if any, arising from the transfer pricing study shall be accounted for as and when the study is completed.

19. The Company enters into various transaction for the purchase and sale of services with overseas customers and vendors. As per the guidelines issued by RBI, payment for all imports should be made within a period of 6 months and collection for all exports should be made within a period of 9 months respectively, unless approved by the Authorized Dealer. As at March 31, 2019; the aggregate amount of payable outstanding for more than 6 months is INR 6.55 million and receivable outstanding for more than 9 months is INR 7.17 million. The Company has intimated the Authorised Dealer about the delays in recovery and expects to get relief from any penalties being imposed, once the transaction is completed and has, accordingly, not provided for any penalties in these financial statements.

2.1 Summary of significant accounting policies

(a) Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with Indian GAAP requires the management to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of revenues, expenses, assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent liabilities, at the end of the reporting period. Although these estimates are based on the management's best knowledge of current events and actions, uncertainty about these assumptions and estimates could result in the outcomes requiring a material adjustment to the carrying amount of assets or liabilities in future periods.

(b) Property, plant and equipment

Fixed assets are stated at cost, net of accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any. The cost comprises purchase price and directly attributable cost of bringing the asset to its working condition for the intended use. Any trade discounts and rebates are deducted in arriving at the purchase price.

Subsequent expenditure related to an item of fixed asset is added to its book value only if it increases the future benefits from the existing asset beyond its previously assessed standard of performance. All other expenses on existing fixed assets, including day-to-day repair and maintenance expenditure and cost of replacing parts, are charged to the statement of profit and loss for the period during which such expenses are incurred.

Gains or losses arising from derecognition of fixed assets are measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and are recognized in the statement of profit and loss when the asset is derecognized.

Notes to Restated Indian GAAP Unconsolidated Summary Statements-Accounting Policies (Amount in INR million, unless otherwise stated)*(c) Depreciation on property, plant and equipment

Depreciation on property, plant and equipment is calculated on a written down value using the rates arrived at, based on the useful lives estimated by the management. The identified components are depreciated separately over their useful lives; the remaining components are depreciated over the life of the principal asset. The company has used the following rates to provide depreciation on its property, plant and equipment.

Category	Useful lives estimated by the management (years)
Computer (including hardware and network Installation)	3 year to 6 year
Office equipment	5 Year

Based on an internal technical assessment, the management believes that the useful lives as prescribed under Part C of Schedule II of Companies Act, 2013 represents the period over which management expects to use its assets. The residual values, useful lives and methods of depreciation of property, plant and equipment are reviewed at each financial year end and adjusted prospectively, if appropriate.

(d) Intangible assets

Intangible assets acquired separately are measured on initial recognition at cost. Following initial recognition, intangible assets are carried at cost less accumulated amortization and accumulated impairment losses, if any.

Intangible assets are amortized on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful economic life. The company uses a rebuttable presumption that the useful life of an intangible asset will not exceed ten years from the date when the asset is available for use. If the persuasive evidence exists to the affect that useful life of an intangible asset exceeds ten years, the company amortizes the intangible asset over the best estimate of its useful life. Such intangible assets and intangible assets not yet available for use are tested for impairment annually, either individually or at the cash-generating unit level. All other intangible assets are assessed for impairment whenever there is an indication that the intangible asset may be impaired.

Following the initial recognition of the development expenditure as an asset, the cost model is applied requiring the asset to be carried at cost less any accumulated amortization and accumulated impairment losses. Amortization of the asset begins when development is complete and the asset is available for use. It is amortized on a straight-line basis over the period of expected future benefit from the related project, i.e., the estimated useful life of four years. Amortization is recognized in the statement of profit and loss. During the period of development, the asset is tested for impairment annually.

The amortization period and the amortization method are reviewed at least at each financial year end. If the expected useful life of the asset is significantly different from Indian estimates, the amortization period is changed accordingly. If there has been a significant change in the expected pattern of economic benefits from the asset, the amortization method is changed to reflect the changed pattern. Such changes are accounted for in accordance with AS 5 Net Profit or Loss for the Period, Prior Period Items and Changes in Accounting Policies.

Gains or losses arising from derecognition of an intangible asset are measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and are recognized in the statement of profit and loss when the asset is derecognized.

Research and development costs

Research costs are expensed as incurred. Development expenditure incurred on an individual project is recognized as an intangible asset when the company can demonstrate all the following:

- ▶ The technical feasibility of completing the intangible asset so that it will be available for use or sale

Notes to Restated Indian GAAP Unconsolidated Summary Statements-Accounting Policies
(Amount in INR million, unless otherwise stated)

- ▶ Its intention to complete the asset
- ▶ Its ability to use or sell the asset
- ▶ How the asset will generate future economic benefits
- ▶ The availability of adequate resources to complete the development and to use or sell the asset
- ▶ The ability to measure reliably the expenditure attributable to the intangible asset during development.
Based on an internal technical assessment, the management believes that the period of expected future benefit from the intangible asset will be four year.

(e) Impairment of tangible assets

The company assesses at each reporting date whether there is an indication that an asset may be impaired. If any indication exists, or when annual impairment testing for an asset is required, the company estimates the asset's recoverable amount. An asset's recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's or cash-generating unit's (CGU) net selling price and its value in use. The recoverable amount is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or groups of assets. Where the carrying amount of an asset or CGU exceeds its recoverable amount, the asset is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. In determining net selling price, recent market transactions are taken into account, if available. If no such transactions can be identified, an appropriate valuation model is used.

The company bases its impairment calculation on detailed budgets and forecast calculations which are prepared separately for each of the company's cash-generating units to which the individual assets are allocated. For longer periods, a long term growth rate is calculated and applied to project future cash flows. After impairment, depreciation is provided on the revised carrying amount of the asset over its remaining useful life.

An assessment is made at each reporting date as to whether there is any indication that previously recognized impairment losses may no longer exist or may have decreased. If such indication exists, the company estimates the asset's or cash-generating unit's recoverable amount. A previously recognized impairment loss is reversed only if there has been a change in the assumptions used to determine the asset's recoverable amount since the last impairment loss was recognized. The reversal is limited so that the carrying amount of the asset does not exceed its recoverable amount, nor exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation, had no impairment loss been recognized for the asset in prior years. Such reversal is recognized in the statement of profit and loss.

(f) Leases

Where the Company is lessee

Leases, where the lessor effectively retains substantially all the risks and benefits of ownership of the leased item, are classified as operating leases. Operating lease payments are recognized as an expense in the statement of profit and loss on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

(g) Revenue recognition

Revenue is recognized to the extent that it is probable that the economic benefit will flow to the Company and the revenue can be reliably measured, regardless of when the payment is being made.

The specific recognition criteria discussed below must also be met before revenue is recognized:

Annexure IV

Notes to Restated Indian GAAP Unconsolidated Summary Statements-Accounting Policies

Consumer Platform

Revenue from rendering of advertisement services is recognized on accrual basis as and when services are rendered based on the terms of contracts. The Company collects taxes on behalf of the government and, therefore, it is not an economic benefit flowing to the Company. Hence, it is excluded from revenue. In respect of consumer platform, the revenue is recognised over the period of time based on the activity of mobile users viewing the advertisements delivered by the Company.

Enterprise Platform

Revenue from software development comprises income from time & material and fixed price contracts. Revenue with respect to time & material contracts is recognized when the related services are performed. Revenue from fixed price contracts is recognized in accordance with the proportionate completion method which is determined by reference to the milestone achieved as per the terms of the contract. The Company collects taxes on behalf of the government and, therefore, it is not an economic benefit flowing to the Company. Hence, it is excluded from revenue. In respect of enterprise platform, the revenue is recognised over the period of time based on the projects completed by the Company.

Interest

Interest income is recognized on a time proportion basis taking into account the amount outstanding and the applicable interest rate. Interest income is included under the head “other income” in the statement of profit and loss.

(h) Foreign currency translation

Foreign currency transactions and balances

(i) Initial recognition

Foreign currency transactions are recorded in the reporting currency, by applying to the foreign currency amount the exchange rate between the reporting currency and the foreign currency at the date of the transaction.

(ii) Conversion

Foreign currency monetary items are retranslated using the exchange rate prevailing at the reporting date. Non-monetary items, which are measured in terms of historical cost denominated in a foreign currency, are reported using the exchange rate at the date of the transaction.

(iii) Exchange differences

Exchange differences arising on the settlement of monetary items or on reporting monetary items of the Company at rates different from those at which they were initially recorded during the period, or reported in Indian financial statements, are recognized as income or as expense in the period in which they arise.

(i) Retirement and other employee benefits

- Retirement benefit in the form of provident fund is a defined contribution scheme. The company has no obligation, other than the contribution payable to the provident fund. The company recognizes contribution payable to the provident fund scheme as an expenditure, when an employee renders the related service. If the contribution payable to the scheme for service received before the balance sheet date exceeds the contribution already paid, the deficit payable to the scheme is recognized as a liability after deducting the contribution already paid. If the contribution already paid exceeds the contribution due for services received before the balance sheet date, then excess is recognized as an asset to the extent that the pre-payment will lead to, for example, a reduction in future payment or a cash refund.

- The Company is liable for payment of gratuity. Gratuity liability is defined benefit obligation and is provided for on the basis of an actuarial valuation on projected unit credit method made at the end of each financial year. Actuarial gain and loss for the defined benefit plan is recognized in full in the period in which they occur in the statement of profit and loss.
- Accumulated leave are provided for based on actuarial valuation. The actuarial valuation is done as per projected unit credit method. The Company presents the entire leave as a current liability in the balance sheet, since it does not have an unconditional right to defer its settlement for 12 months after the reporting date.

(j) Income taxes

Tax expense comprises of current tax and deferred tax. Current income tax is measured at the amount expected to be paid to the tax authorities in accordance with the Indian Income Tax Act. Deferred income taxes reflects the impact of current year timing differences between taxable income and accounting income for the year and reversal of timing differences of earlier years.

Deferred tax is measured based on the tax rates and the tax laws enacted or substantively enacted at the balance sheet date. Deferred tax assets are recognized only to the extent that there is reasonable certainty that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which such deferred tax assets can be realized. In situations where the Company has unabsorbed depreciation or carry forward tax losses, all deferred tax assets are recognized only if there is virtual certainty supported by convincing evidence that they can be realized against future taxable profits.

At each balance sheet date, the Company re-assesses unrecognized deferred tax assets. It recognizes unrecognized deferred tax assets to the extent that it has become reasonably certain or virtually certain, as the case may be that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which such deferred tax assets can be realized.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets are reviewed at each balance sheet date. The Company writes-down the carrying amount of a deferred tax asset to the extent that it is no longer reasonably certain or virtually certain, as the case may be, that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which deferred tax asset can be realized. Any such write-down is reversed to the extent that it becomes reasonably certain or virtually certain, as the case may be, that sufficient future taxable income will be available.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The following discussion and analysis of our financial condition and results of operations is based on, and should be read in conjunction with, the Restated Ind AS Consolidated Summary Statements and the Restated Ind AS Unconsolidated Summary Statements included in the section "Financial Information" beginning on pages 237 and 311, respectively.

The Restated Ind AS Consolidated Summary Statements comprise the consolidated financial results of our Company, the Singapore Subsidiary and the Indonesian Subsidiary as at for the year ended March 31, 2019. Our Company did not have any subsidiaries or associates in Fiscals 2018 and 2017 and, hence did not prepare consolidated financial statements for any of those fiscal years. The Singapore Subsidiary was incorporated on April 1, 2018 and it acquired the business, intangible assets and all of the equity interests in the Indonesian Subsidiary from Affle Global with effect from July 1, 2018 (the "Affle Global Transaction"), which has been accounted with effect from April 1, 2018, i.e., the beginning of the earliest period of consolidated financial statements presented under IND AS pursuant to the fact that our Company, the Singapore Subsidiary, the Indonesian Subsidiary and Affle Global are under the common control of Affle Holdings, our corporate Promoter.

*Our Company acquired the Vizury Commerce Business in India, associated records, the brand name "Vizury" and other intellectual property rights and domain name credentials in India by way of a slump sale on an "as-is-where-is" basis (the "Vizury Commerce Business – India") from Vizury India with effect from September 1, 2018 and the Singapore Subsidiary acquired the brand name "Vizury" and certain other intellectual property in connection with the Vizury Commerce Business in Dubai and Singapore from Vizury Dubai and Vizury Singapore, both of which are affiliates of Vizury India, with effect from September 1, 2018 (collectively, the "Vizury Transactions"). In order to give potential investors a better understanding of what the consolidated results of operations for our Company and the the Vizury Commerce Business would have been had we been operating as one group for all of Fiscal 2019, we have prepared the unaudited proforma combined statement of profit and loss for the year ended March 31, 2019 for illustrative purposes, which gives effect to the Vizury Transactions as if they occurred on April 1, 2018. Each consumer profile represents a unique device id. The number of consumer profiles and the related data points have been added or refreshed during Fiscal 2019. The number of consumer profiles and the related data points in this Red Herring Prospectus as at March 31, 2019 are for our Affle Consumer Platform only and do not include the consumer profiles and the related data points of our Vizury Commerce Business. We are in the process of integrating the consumer profiles and the related consumer data points of our Vizury Commerce Business. In addition, we are in the process of integrating the consumer profiles and the related consumer data points of our RevX Platform (which we acquired on June 28, 2019) and our Shoffr Platform (which we acquired on May 18, 2019) with our Affle Consumer Platform. For details on our acquisitions of the RevX Platform Business and the Shoffr Platform Business, see "History and Certain Corporate Matters" on page 181.

The following discussion contains forward-looking statements that reflect our plans, estimates and beliefs. Our actual results could differ materially from those discussed in the forward-looking statements. See "Forward-Looking Statements" and "Risk Factors" on pages 19 and 20, respectively, for factors that could cause or contribute to these differences.

OVERVIEW

We are a global technology business. We have two business segments: our Consumer Platform; and our Enterprise Platform. Our Consumer Platform primarily provides the following services: (1) new consumer conversions (acquisitions, engagements and transactions) through relevant mobile advertising; (2) retargeting existing consumers to complete transactions for e-commerce companies through relevant mobile advertising; and (3) an online to offline (“O2O”) platform that converts online consumer engagement into in-store walk-ins. Our Enterprise Platform primarily provides end-to-end solutions for enterprises to enhance their engagement with mobile users.

Our Consumer Platform comprises the following:

- our “Affle” branded consumer intelligence platform that deliver consumer acquisitions, engagements and transactions through relevant mobile advertising (the “Affle Consumer Platform”);
- Our “RevX” branded mobile only self-serve programmatic platform that delivers consumer acquisitions, engagements and transactions through relevant mobile advertising (the “RevX Platform”);
- our “Vizury” branded retargeting media business for e-commerce companies and our push notifications offerings for e-commerce companies on a software as a service model (the “Vizury Commerce Business”); and
- our “Shoffr” branded online to offline platform that converts online consumer engagement into in-store walk-ins and transactions (the “Shoffr Platform”).

Our Consumer Platform aims to enhance returns on marketing spend through delivering contextual mobile ads and reducing digital ad fraud, while proactively addressing consumer privacy expectations.

Our Consumer Platform is used by business to consumer (“B2C”) companies across industries, including e-commerce, fin-tech, telecom, media, retail and FMCG companies, both directly and indirectly through their advertising agencies.

Our Consumer Platform utilises user-intent indicators derived from behavioural signals, marketing attribution and transactional data, which are received in real time and accumulated over time, which increases our ability to predict a user’s likely interests. The accuracy of the prediction and recommendation algorithms for our Consumer Platform improve with every advertisement we deliver, as the systems incorporates new data, while continuing to learn from previous data. In addition, our Consumer Platform enhances our customers’ ad content with rich media experiences, including interactive videos, games and augmented reality. This paired with data-centric scientific targeting and retargeting enables a higher likelihood of consumer engagement, such as downloading an App or completing a transaction.

We primarily earn revenue from our Consumer Platform on a cost per converted user (“CPCU”) basis, which comprises user conversions based on consumer acquisition and transaction models. Our consumer acquisition model focuses on acquiring new consumers for businesses, which is usually in the form of a targeted user downloading and opening an App or engaging with an App after seeing an advertisement delivered by us. Our transaction model is usually in the form of a targeted user submitting a lead acquisition form or purchasing a product or service after seeing an advertisement delivered by us. We also earn revenue from our Consumer Platform through awareness and engagement type advertising, which comprises cost per thousand impressions (“CPM”), cost per view (“CPV”) and cost per click (“CPC”) models. These models are relevant for brand advertisers who want to build awareness and recall and engage users online to transact with them offline/online. We understand our customers’ business drivers and work with them to choose audience engagement models that are the most relevant for them, thereby delivering measurable business outcomes for them.

Our Consumer Platform benefits from broad access to mobile ad inventory through our relationships with publishers and data platforms. We encourage publishers to provide us with access to their mobile ad inventory by offering a platform through which they can tap into our advertisers’ marketing budgets and manage their inventory yields. We also have access to mobile display advertising inventory through real-time-bidding advertising exchanges. For each campaign, we bid for the consumer profiles we believe have a higher likelihood to transact on the basis of our data intelligence. Our proprietary optimization algorithm enables us to buy media efficiently and at high scale, giving us the ability to drive high volumes of CPCU-led campaigns at efficient prices.

We also provide end-to-end solutions for enterprises to enhance their engagement with mobile users, such as developing Apps, enabling offline to online commerce for offline businesses with e-commerce aspirations and providing enterprise grade data analytics for online and offline companies (collectively, the “Enterprise Platform”).

Our solutions are sold through our sales and marketing team, which as at May 31, 2019 comprised 51 persons across our six offices and one sales agent in Malaysia, and through referrals from existing customers. Our customers include the companies for which we undertake a mobile ad campaign as well as the advertising agencies acting for such companies.

Our Company's Consumer Platform (on an unconsolidated basis) comprises (1) our Company's "Affle" branded consumer intelligence platform that delivers consumer acquisitions, engagements and transactions through relevant mobile advertising ("our Company's Affle Consumer Platform"); and (2) the Vizury Commerce Business – India.

We utilise user-intent indicators derived from behavioural signals, marketing attribution and transactional data, which are received in real time and accumulated over time, which increases our ability to predict a user's likely

Acquisition of Affle Global's business, intangible assets and all of the equity interests in the Indonesian Subsidiary effective July 1, 2018 and the acquisition of the Vizury Commerce Business effective September 1, 2018

As part of the corporate restructuring that was undertaken in connection with the Offer, our Company incorporated the Singapore Subsidiary and it acquired Affle Global's business, intangible assets and all of the equity interests in the Indonesian Subsidiary effective July 1, 2018 for US$1.91 million (accounted for as ₹ 131.90 million in our accounting records). We paid US$1.44 million of the purchase consideration in Fiscal 2019 (accounted for as ₹ 98.33 million in our accounting records), and as per the terms of the agreement, as amended, the balance purchase consideration is required to be paid in four equal monthly instalments, with the final payment due on or before July 31, 2019. Affle Global was engaged in the same business as our Company outside India and Indonesia and used our Company's solutions. The Indonesian Subsidiary is engaged in the same business as our Company in Indonesia using our Company's solutions. Affle Holdings, our corporate Promoter, owns 100% of the issued shares in Affle Global. For more details, see "History and Certain Corporate Matters" on page 181. For selected financial results of Affle Holdings, our corporate Promoter, for Fiscals 2016, 2017 and 2018, see "Our Promoters and Promoter Group" on page 215.

As our Company and Affle Global were under the common control of Affle Holdings, our corporate Promoter, as per the principles of Appendix C to Ind AS 103, the Restated Ind AS Consolidated Summary Statements incorporate the financial information of the acquired business and assets from the beginning of the earliest financial period presented, i.e., April 1, 2018. As the Singapore Subsidiary had not acquired any assets, except intangible assets and the 100% equity interest in the Indonesian Subsidiary as at July 1, 2018, the profit attributable to shareholders of Affle Global for the three months ended June 30, 2018 of ₹ 59.94 million has been deducted from our consolidated profit for Fiscal 2019 under other equity in our consolidated summary statement of assets and liabilities as at March 31, 2019.

With effect from September 1, 2018, (a) our Company acquired the Vizury Commerce Business in India, associated records, the brand name "Vizury" and other intellectual property rights and domain name credentials in India, by way of a slump sale on an "as-is-where-is" basis (the 'Vizury Commerce Business – India') from Vizury India and (b) the Singapore Subsidiary acquired the brand name "Vizury" and certain other intellectual property in connection with the Vizury Commerce Business in Dubai and Singapore (the "Other Vizury Commerce Business Assets" and together with the Vizury Commerce Business – India, the 'Vizury Commerce Business') from Vizury Dubai and Vizury Singapore, both of which are affiliates of Vizury India. The consideration payable (a) by our Company to acquire the Vizury Commerce Business - India is a total of ₹ 85.07 million, comprising ₹ 106.44 million (equivalent to US$1.50 million at the exchange rate of US$1= ₹ 70.96) minus profit after tax of the Vizury Commerce Business – India for the period 15 May 2018 to 31 August 2018 of ₹ 21.37 million (equivalent to US$0.30 million at the exchange rate of US$1= ₹ 70.96), ₹ 53.22 million was paid during Fiscal 2019 and ₹ 31.85 million was required to be paid on or before May 15, 2019 and (b) by the Singapore Subsidiary to acquire the Other Vizury Commerce Business Assets is US$3.00 million (equivalent to ₹ 207.51 million), of which US$1.75 million (equivalent to ₹ 121.04 million) was paid during Fiscal 2019 and US$1.25 million (equivalent to ₹ 86.47 million) was required to be paid on or before May 15, 2019. For more details, see "Our Business-Our Products and Services-Our Consumer Platform-Vizury Commerce Business" and "History and Certain Corporate Matters" on pages 158 and 181.

In order to give potential investors a better understanding of what the consolidated results of operations for our Company and the Vizury Commerce Business would have been had we been operating as one group for all of Fiscal 2019, we have prepared the unaudited proforma combined statement of profit and loss for the year ended March 31, 2019 for illustrative purposes, which gives effect to the Vizury Transactions as if they occurred on April 1, 2018. For details, see "Proforma Financial Statements" on page 228 and "Risk Factors—Our Proforma Financial Statements are illustrative in nature and have not been prepared in accordance with accounting or other standards and practices generally accepted in any jurisdiction and accordingly should not be relied upon as if they had been prepared in accordance with those standards and practices" on page 45.

The acquisition of the RevX Platform Business

On June 28, 2019, but with effect from April 1, 2019, the Singapore Subsidiary acquired the RevX Platform Business by way of a slump sale on an “as-is-where-is” basis, for total consideration of US$4.50 million. For more details, see “Our Business-Our Products and Services-Our Consumer Platform-RevX Platform” and “History and Certain Corporate Matters” on pages 159 and 181, respectively. As we acquired the RevX Platform Business on June 28, 2019, but with effect from April 1, 2019, this acquisition had no effect on our consolidated financial statements as at and for the year ended March 31, 2019.

The expansion of our international business

As at March 31, 2019 on a consolidated basis, our Affle Consumer Platform had approximately 2.02 billion consumer profiles, of which approximately 571 million were in India and approximately 1,449 million were outside India. The table below sets forth the number of consumer profiles of our Affle Consumer Platform, our converted users delivered, Monetization Factor by market and average CPCU for Fiscal 2019 on a consolidated basis.

Market	Affle Consumer Platform’s consumer profiles for Fiscal 2019 (consolidated) ⁽¹⁾ (in millions)	Converted users delivered for Fiscal 2019 (consolidated) ⁽²⁾ (in millions)	Monetization Factor for Fiscal 2019 (consolidated) ⁽³⁾	Average CPCU for Fiscal 2019 (consolidated) ⁽²⁾ (in ₹)
India	571	39.3	6.9%	25.3
Other Emerging Markets	582	10.6	1.8%	60.2
Developed Markets	867	5.2	0.6%	114.1

Notes:

1. This does not include our Vizury Commerce Business consumer profiles. We are in the process of integrating our Vizury Commerce Business’s consumer profiles and the related consumer data points with our Affle Consumer Platform. In addition, we are also in the process of integrating the consumer profiles and the related consumer data points of our Shoffr Platform and our RevX Platform.
2. The converted users and average CPCU includes the users delivered and CPCU for our Vizury Commerce Business, respectively, from September 1, 2018 to March 31, 2019.
3. The Monetization Factor includes converted users delivered by our Vizury Commerce Business.

Even though the number of our consumer profiles outside India was 71.7% of our total consumer profiles and the average CPCU for Fiscal 2019 on a consolidated basis was more outside India (₹ 60.2 for Other Emerging Markets and ₹ 114.1 for Developed Markets) than in India (₹ 25.3), our revenue from contracts with customers outside India for Fiscal 2019 on a consolidated basis was 56.4% of our revenue from contracts with customers. We intend to increase the Monetization Factor (the percentage of converted users delivered relative to the number of consumer profiles on our Consumer Platform) for our consumer profiles outside India for our Consumer Platform by increasing our business development efforts to gain more customers outside India.

The growth of the digital ad market in India

India is our key market. For Fiscal 2019 on a consolidated basis, 43.6% of our revenue from contracts with customers was from India. As at March 31, 2019, our Affle Consumer Platform had approximately 571 million consumer profiles in India. According to Frost & Sullivan, we are a leading ad tech solution provider in India. We provide services across the value chain in digital advertising, spanning the areas of DMP, DSP/SSP, fraud detection and ad network. Further, we have increased our breadth of our service offerings, especially to e-commerce companies, following our acquisition of the Vizury Commerce Business. We are one of the very few companies that have products spanning the entire value chain. While some companies are more focussed on buy-side platforms, some others are focused on the publisher side. (Source: Frost & Sullivan Report). The ad tech market in India is fast growing, with a market size of US$304.9 million in 2017 and will likely grow at a CAGR of 39% to US$808 million by 2022. (Source: Frost & Sullivan Report).

We intend to continue devoting substantial resources on our research and development efforts. As at May 31, 2019, we had 100 full-time employees in our research and development team. We expect to expand our research and development efforts by recruiting more employees. We plan to continue to invest more in research and development into: artificial intelligence, machine learning and deep learning in identifying and classifying our consumer profiles; a combination of data science and artificial intelligence, machine learning and deep learning in identifying fraud; moving to cloud agnostic platforms to enable multi-cloud deployments; and using database pools that utilise multiple best of breed database technologies to distribute the data load, reduce costs and in some cases increase the speed of processing.

SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING JUDGEMENTS, ESTIMATES AND ASSUMPTIONS

The preparation of our Company's financial statements requires our management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of revenues, expenses, assets and liabilities, and the accompanying disclosures, and the disclosure of contingent liabilities. Uncertainty about these assumptions and estimates could result in outcomes that require a material adjustment to the carrying amount of assets or liabilities affected in future periods.

Our Company's significant accounting judgements, estimates and assumptions are the same on an unconsolidated and consolidated basis.

Judgements

In the process of applying our Company's accounting policies, our Company's management has not made any judgement that had a significant effect on the amounts recognised in the financial statements.

Estimates and Assumptions

The key assumptions concerning the future and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the reporting date that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year are described below. Our Company based its assumptions and estimates on parameters available when the financial statements were prepared. Existing circumstances and assumptions about future developments, however, may change due to market changes or circumstances arising that are beyond our control. Such changes are reflected in the assumptions when they occur.

Impairment of Non-financial Assets

Impairment exists when the carrying value of an asset or Cash Generating Unit (“CGU”) exceeds its recoverable amount, which is the higher of its fair value less costs of disposal and its value in use. The fair value less costs of disposal calculation is based on available data from binding sales transactions, conducted at arm’s length, for similar assets or observable market prices less incremental costs for disposing of the asset. The value in use calculation is based on a discounted cash flow (“DCF”) model. The cash flows are derived from the budget for the next five years and do not include restructuring activities that we have not yet committed to or significant future investments that will enhance the asset’s performance of the CGU being tested. The recoverable amount is sensitive to the discount rate used for the DCF model as well as the expected future cash-inflows and the growth rate used for extrapolation purposes. These estimates are most relevant to goodwill recognised by us.

Allowance for Impairment of Trade Receivables

Trade receivables do not carry any interest and are stated at their nominal value as reduced by appropriate allowances for estimated irrecoverable amounts. Estimated irrecoverable amounts are based on the ageing of the receivable balances and historical experience adjusted for forward-looking estimates. Individual trade receivables are written off when our management deems them not to be collectible.

Income Taxes

Deferred tax assets are recognised for unused tax losses to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the losses can be utilised. Significant judgement from our management is required to determine the amount of deferred tax assets that can be recognised based on the timing, likely and the level of future taxable profits together with future tax planning strategies.

Defined Benefit Plans (Gratuity Benefits)

The cost of the defined benefit gratuity plan and other post-employment medical benefits and the present value of the gratuity obligation are determined using actuarial valuations. An actuarial valuation involves making various assumptions that may differ from actual developments in the future. These include the determination of the discount rate; future salary increases and mortality rates. Due to the complexities involved in the valuation and its long-term nature, a defined benefit obligation is highly sensitive to changes in these assumptions. All assumptions are reviewed at each reporting date.

The parameter most subject to change is the discount rate. In determining the appropriate discount rate for plans operated in India, our management considers the interest rates of government bonds in currencies consistent with the currencies of the post-employment benefit obligation.

The mortality rate is based on publicly available mortality tables for India. Those mortality tables tend to change only at intervals in response to demographic changes. Future salary increases and gratuity increases are based on expected future inflation rates for India.

Share-Based Payments

The grant date fair value of employee stock options granted is recognised as an employee expense over the period that the employee becomes unconditionally entitled to the options. Estimating fair value for the share-based transactions require determination of the most appropriate valuation model, which is dependent on the terms and conditions of the grant. The estimation requires determination of the most appropriate inputs to the valuation model including the expected life of the share option, volatility and dividend yield and making assumptions about them.

Revenue from Contracts with Customers

Our Company applied the following judgements that significantly affect the determination of the amount and timing of revenue from contracts with customers:

Determining the Timing of Satisfaction of Services

Consumer Platform

Our Company concluded that revenue for the Consumer Platform services is to be recognised over time because the customer simultaneously receives and consumes the benefits provided by our Company.

Enterprise Platform

Our Company concluded that revenue for the Enterprise Platform services is to be recognised over time because our Company's performance does not create an asset with alternative use and our Company has a right to payment for performance completed to date.

Our Company determined that the input method is the best method in measuring progress of both the services because there is a direct relationship between our Company's effort and the transfer of service to the customer.

Our revenue from contracts with customers from our Company’s Consumer Platform increased by 45.2% from ₹ 529.81 million for Fiscal 2017 to ₹ 769.40 million for Fiscal 2018. Our revenue from contracts with customers from our Enterprise Platform decreased by 46.1% from ₹ 126.48 million for Fiscal 2017 to ₹ 68.16 million for Fiscal 2018. Our employee benefits expenses decreased by ₹ 16.71 million, or 9.5%, from ₹ 176.23 million for Fiscal 2017 to ₹ 159.52 million for Fiscal 2018. The number of our employees in our Enterprise Platform decreased as a result of the change of focus of our App development business, which is discussed above. Our other expenses decreased by 28.9% from ₹ 121.06 million for Fiscal 2017 to ₹ 86.12 million for Fiscal 2018, which was primarily attributable to decreases in most line items in other expenses, including a ₹ 7.63 million, or 51.7%, decrease in legal and professional fees, which was due to less litigation costs and the fact that we incurred some legal fees for the amalgamation pursuant to the 2017 Scheme in Fiscal 2017 but nil in Fiscal 2018, and a ₹ 5.95 million, or 30.8%, decrease in rent, which was due to our Company moving into new offices in Gurugram, India in April 2016 but we were unable to terminate the unexpired lease periods of the four offices we were using in the NCR prior to this, so we incurred more for rent in Fiscal 2017.

Tax Expense

Our total tax expense increased by ₹ 42.95 million from ₹ 4.70 million for Fiscal 2017 to ₹ 47.65 million for Fiscal 2018. CONTINGENT LIABILITIES

Claims against us not acknowledged, as debts on a consolidated basis comprised the following:

- (1) (a) Income tax demand from the Income tax authorities of ₹ 4.6 million which is mainly on account of disallowance of amortization of goodwill as claimed by the Company in the income tax. The matter is pending before Commissioner of Income Tax (Appeals), Mumbai.

(b) demand from Goods and Service Tax authorities for payment of interest and penalty of ₹ 2.6 million upon completion of their tax investigation for Fiscal 2012-2013. The service tax demand is on account of interest and penalty calculated on the principal of service tax levied on import of customised software, by downloading electronically, as per provision of service tax, under Reverse Charge Mechanism. The principal demand of service tax was duly deposited on identification of the matter and management is of the contention that no interest and penalty is payable on it under provisions of revenue neutrality.

Our Company is contesting the demands and the management and our Company's tax advisors believe that our Company's position will likely be upheld in the appellate process. No tax expense has been accrued in the financial statements for the demand raised. Our Company's management believes that the ultimate outcome of this proceedings will not have a material adverse effect on our Company's financial position and results of operations.

- (2) Other:

There are numerous interpretative issues relating to the Supreme Court's judgement on the Employee Provident Fund dated February 28, 2019. As a matter of caution, our Company has made a provision on a prospective basis from the date of the Supreme Court's order. Our Company will update its provision on receiving further clarity on the subject.

RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

For details in relation to related party transactions, see "Related Party Transactions" on page 225.

NON-GAAP FINANCIAL MEASURES

In evaluating our business, we consider and use non-GAAP financial measures such as Total Operating Expenses, EBITDA and EBITDA margin to review and assess our operating performance. These non-GAAP financial measures are not defined under Ind AS and are not presented in accordance with Ind AS. Total Operating Expenses, EBITDA and EBITDA margin for our Company may not be comparable to similarly titled measures reported by other companies due to potential inconsistencies in the method of calculation. We have included Total Operating Expenses, EBITDA and EBITDA margin for our Company because we believe they are indicative measures of our operating performance and are used by investors and analysts to evaluate companies in the same industry. Total Operating Expenses, EBITDA and EBITDA margin of our Company should be considered in addition to, and not as a substitute for, other measures of financial performance and liquidity reported in accordance with Ind AS. We believe that the inclusion of supplementary adjustments applied in the presentation of EBITDA and EBITDA margin of our Company are appropriate because it is a more indicative measure of our baseline performance as it excludes certain charges that our Company's management considers to be outside our core operating results. Therefore, these metrics should not be considered in isolation or construed as an alternative to Ind AS measures of performance or as an indicator of our operating performance, liquidity, profitability or results of operation. The presentation of these non-GAAP financial measures is not intended to be considered in isolation or as a substitute for the Restated Ind AS Consolidated Summary Statement of Profit and Losses and Restated Ind AS Unconsolidated Summary Statement of Profit and Losses included in this Red Herring Prospectus. Prospective investors should read this information in conjunction with the Restated Ind AS Consolidated Summary Statement of Profit and Losses and the Restated Ind AS Unconsolidated Summary Statement of Profit and Losses included in "Financial Information" on pages 237 and 311, respectively.

QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURE ON MARKET RISK

Market risk is the potential loss arising from changes in market rates and market prices. Our primary market risk is currency risk.

Currency Risk

Foreign currency risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of an exposure will fluctuate because of changes in foreign exchange rates. Our exposure to the risk of changes in foreign exchange rates relates primarily to our operating activities (when revenue or expense is denominated in a foreign currency). To the extent that our revenue or receipts and costs or payments are not perfectly matched in the same currency or there are time gaps between revenue recognition and actual receipts and between cost recognition and actual payments, we will be exposed to foreign exchange fluctuations. We do not use derivative financial instruments such as forward exchange contracts or options to hedge our risk associated with foreign currency fluctuations or for trading or speculation purposes.

Following the Affle Global Transaction, the Vizury Transactions, the acquisition of the Shoffr Platform Business and the acquisition of the RevX Platform Business, we earn more revenue in foreign currency, which increases our foreign currency risk. Given that the reporting currency of our Company's financial statements is Rupees, in order to prepare our consolidated financial statements, we need to translate the financial statements of our Subsidiaries from USD or Indonesian Rupiah to Rupees, as the case may be, based on the average exchange rates prevailing over the relevant period of the profit and loss account and based on the closing exchange rates for the balance sheet. Therefore, depreciation of the USD against the Rupee and the Indonesian Rupiah against the Rupee may adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.

Civil proceedings

Affle Holdings (“Claimant”) entered into a share purchase agreement dated April 4, 2014 (“SPA”) with Saurabh Singh (“Respondent No. 1”), Snigdha Singh (“Respondent No. 2”), Abhinav Singh (“Respondent No. 3”) and Preeti Singh (“Respondent No. 4”) (collectively, the “Respondents”) inter-alia for the purchase of 10,000 shares (constituting the entire share capital) of Appstudios Technologies Private Limited (“ATPL”) by the Claimant for a consideration of ₹73.60 million inclusive of taxes and for the long term alignment obligations of the Respondents to continue managing the operations of ATPL as full-time employees for a minimum of three years following the share sale for a further consideration. The SPA also provided for a non-compete clause (“Non-compete Clause”) and assignment/ transfer of all intellectual property rights of ATPL and its employees. The Claimant agreed inter alia to transfer 219,325 equity shares of Affle Holdings to the Respondents subject to the long term alignment of the Respondents with the Claimant. Thereafter the Claimant allegedly discovered misrepresentations and breach of several representations and warranties made by the Respondents before and after entering into the SPA, including but not limited to the Non-compete Clause. The Claimant also allegedly discovered the transfer of various intellectual properties, money and contracts of ATPL to companies related to the Respondents. This constrained the Claimants to terminate the services of the Respondent No. 1, 3 and 4. The Claimant filed a petition bearing OMP No.1257/2014 before the High Court of Delhi (the “High Court”) against the Respondent No. 1 and 2 under Section 9 of the Arbitration Act, seeking an injunction restraining Respondent No. 1 and 2 from carrying on any competitive business or soliciting any employee of ATPL and transferring any intellectual property to third parties. By an order dated October 16, 2014, which was modified by the order dated October 17, 2014, the High Court granted the said injunction, which was subsequently re-confirmed by its order dated January 22, 2015 and May 18, 2015. The Respondents preferred an appeal against the said order. However, this appeal was withdrawn by them and such withdrawal was recorded through an order dated March 21, 2016.

In the interim the Respondents No. 1 and 2 had also filed an application bearing OMP No. 14/2015 before the High Court against the Claimant under Section 9 of the Arbitration Act seeking maintenance of status quo in relation to the unpaid shares of the Claimant held by the said Respondents. Through an order dated February 9, 2015, interim relief to maintain status quo was granted but without providing Respondents No. 1 and 2 with any beneficial rights in relation to the shares. Respondents No. 3 and 4 filed a civil suit bearing CS(OS) No. 385/2015 before the High Court. This suit was disposed of by the High Court with a direction that the suit may be re-filed only after suitable modifications.

In the interim the Claimant issued a notice dated December 3, 2014 to Respondent No. 1 and 2 and notice dated December 23, 2014 to Respondent No. 3 and 4 referring the dispute to arbitration as provided under the SPA. The Respondents rejected the referral by their responses dated January 2, 2015 and January 23, 2015, respectively. On account of the Respondent's failure to nominate an arbitrator the Claimant filed a petition bearing Arb. P. No 28/2015 before the Supreme Court of India ("Supreme Court") against the Respondents under Section 11(5) of the Arbitration Act seeking appointment of an arbitrator in respect of the dispute arising out of the SPA. Simultaneously Respondent No.1 and 2 filed separate statement of claims in the arbitration application (Arb. P. No 24/2015). The Supreme Court by its order dated August 3, 2015 appointed a sole arbitrator and the Claimant filed a statement of claims dated December 19, 2015 before the sole arbitrator alleging misrepresentations and fundamental breaches of the representations and warranties given by the Respondents under the SPA and claiming an amount of about ₹ 228.57 million. The Respondents through their statement of defence made a counter-claim of ₹ 109.29 million. The Respondent No. 1 intimated the sole arbitrator and the Claimants through an e-mail dated June 1, 2019, about an affidavit dated January 15, 2017, which quantified the damages in relation to the counter-claim thereby making the total amount, as ₹ 443.74 million inclusive of the counter-claim. Through an order dated June 3, 2019, the sole arbitrator confirmed that the arguments in relation to this matter stand concluded and the award has been reserved and shall be announced once it is ready, after notice to the parties. The matter is currently pending.

The Claimant has also filed a Contempt Petition against Respondent No.1 seeking the initiation of contempt proceedings, alleging deliberate and wilful violation of the orders of the High Court dated October 16, 2014 and May 18, 2015 passed in OMP No. 1257/2014, whereby Respondent No.1 had been inter-alia restrained from carrying on any business in competition with ATPL. The Respondent vide order dated February 2, 2018 was asked by the High Court to file an affidavit which along with the response filed by the Claimant was taken on record by the High Court by order dated May 14, 2018. Further the Respondents' personal appearance in the High Court has been directed by the said order of the High Court. The matter is currently pending.

Further in relation to the SPA and employment of the Respondent, FIR (No. 122/2015) was filed against the Respondent Nos. 1 and 2, Mobulus Technologies Private Limited and Appbulous Software Private Limited through an order of the Chief Judicial Magistrate, Gautam Budh Nagar, dated February 6, 2015, at the behest of Anuj Kumar, acting on behalf of Affle Holdings, alleging commission of offences under Sections 420, 408, 418, 468 and 120B of the Indian Penal Code, 1860 ("IPC"). Thereafter a charge-sheet dated May 21, 2015 was filed by the investigating officer against the accused and FIR was registered against Respondent No. 3 and 4. Respondent No. 3 and 4 filed a Criminal Miscellaneous Application No. 14608/2016 before the High Court of Allahabad for quashing of the charge sheet and stay of the proceedings initiated under FIR (No. 122/2015). Through its order dated August 5, 2016, the court directed that no coercive action shall be taken against Respondent No. 3 and 4 till the next date of hearing. Subsequently, Respondent No. 1 also filed Criminal Miscellaneous Application No. 24746/2016 before the High Court of Allahabad for quashing the charge-sheet dated May 21, 2015 arising from the FIR (No. 122/2015). Through its order dated August 19, 2016, the court directed that till the next date of hearing no coercive actions were to be taken against Respondent No. 1. The matters are currently pending.

Additionally, Respondent No. 1 had also filed a Complaint Case No. 2689/2014 before the Additional Chief Judicial Magistrate – II, Gautam Budh Nagar ("Magistrate") against Anuj Khanna Sohum, Anuj Kumar and Kapil Bhutani. The Magistrate issued a summons against the above-mentioned through its order dated January 28, 2016. In response to the summons Anuj Khanna Sohum, Anuj Kumar and Kapil Bhutani filed a Criminal Miscellaneous Application No. 22036/2016 before the High Court of Allahabad. Through its order dated July 22, 2016, the High Court of Allahabad stated that no coercive actions shall be taken against the above-mentioned till the completion of investigation. Additionally, a Corrective Application No. 224924/2016 was filed in order to modify the order dated July 22, 2016 through which a complete stay on the proceedings was granted. The matter is currently pending.

A FIR (No. 1072/2015) was filed against Anuj Khanna Sohum, Anuj Kumar and Kapil Bhutani at the behest of Respondent No. 1 for commission of offences under Sections 420, 406, 120B, 392, 393 and 506 of the IPC. Anuj Khanna Sohum, Anuj Kumar and Kapil Bhutani filed Criminal Miscellaneous Writ Petitions No. 26002/2015 and 26003/2015 before the High Court of Allahabad for quashing of the FIR (No. 1072/2015). Through its orders dated October 29, 2015, the High Court of Allahabad dismissed the petitions and issued a stay on coercive action against the above-mentioned, till the submission of the police report under Section 173(2) of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973. The investigating officer had filed final report dated September 1, 2016. Further, pursuant to CJM order dated April 29, 2017 to further investigate the matter, a report supporting the final report was filed by the investigating officer on June 4, 2017. The Magistrate, by order dated October 25, 2017, has ordered for further investigation in relation to the closure reports. In relation to the same, a Criminal Revision Petition (No. 18/2018) had been filed by Kapil Bhutani before the District Session Court to which Respondent No. 1 had filed his reply. However, pursuant to order dated September 11, 2018, the District Session Court, dismissed the Criminal Revision Petition (No. 18/2018). Being aggrieved, Kapil Bhutani had filed a criminal miscellaneous application number 34933 of 2018 before the High Court of Allahabad under Section 482 of Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973, seeking quashing of the order dated September 11, 2018 of the District Session Court and order dated October 25, 2017 of the Magistrate. From January 1, 2019, the UPI mechanism for RIIs applying through Designated Intermediaries was made effective along with the existing process and existing timeline of T+6 days. The same was continued till June 30, 2019

Considering the time required for making necessary changes to the systems and to ensure complete and smooth transition to the UPI Mechanism, the UPI Circular proposes to introduce and implement the UPI Mechanism in three phases in the following manner:

- a) UPI Phase I: This phase was applicable from January 1, 2019 till June 30, 2019. Under this phase, a Retail Individual Bidder had the option to submit the Bid cum Application Form with any of the intermediaries and use his / her UPI ID for the purpose of blocking of funds. The time duration from public issue closure to listing would continue to be six Working Days.
- b) UPI Phase II: This phase has become applicable from July 1, 2019 and will continue for a period of three months or floating of five main board public issues, whichever is later. Under this phase, submission of the Bid cum Application Form by a Retail Individual Investor through Designated Intermediaries (other than SCSBs) to SCSBs for blocking of funds will be discontinued and will be replaced by the UPI Mechanism. However, the time duration from public issue closure to listing would continue to be six Working Days during this phase.
- c) UPI Phase III: Subsequently, under this phase, the time duration from public issue closure to listing would be reduced to be three Working Days.

All SCSBs offering facility of making application in public issues shall also provide facility to make application using the UPI Mechanism. The issuers are to appoint one of the SCSBs as a sponsor bank to act as a conduit between the Stock Exchanges and NPCI in order to facilitate collection of requests and / or payment instructions of the Retail Individual Bidders into the UPI Mechanism.

- (d) In case the total amount (i.e., original Bid Amount plus additional payment) exceeds ₹ 200,000, the Bid will be considered for allocation under the Non-Institutional Portion in terms of the RHP/Prospectus. If, however, the RII does not either revise the Bid or make additional payment and the Issue Price is higher than the cap of the Price Band prior to revision, the number of Equity Shares Bid for shall be adjusted downwards for the purpose of allocation, such that no additional payment would be required from the RII and the RII is deemed to have approved such revised Bid at Cut-off Price.

the Bid or make additional payment and the Issue Price is higher than the cap of the Price Band prior to revision, the number of Equity Shares Bid for may be adjusted downwards for the purpose of allotment, such that no additional payment is required from the Bidder/Applicant and the Bidder/Applicant is deemed to have approved such revised Bid at the Cut-off Price.

5.6 BASIS OF ALLOCATION

- (a) The SEBI ICDR Regulations, 2009 specify the allocation or Allotment that may be made to various categories of Bidders/Applicants in the Issue depending on compliance with the eligibility conditions. Certain details pertaining to the percentage of Issue size available for allocation to each category is disclosed overleaf of the Bid cum Application Form and in the RHP / Prospectus. For details in relation to allocation, the Bidder/Applicant may refer to the RHP / Prospectus.
- (b) Under-subscription in any category (except for the QIB Portion) is allowed to be met with spill-over from any other category or combination of categories at the discretion of the Issuer in consultation with the BRLMs and the Designated Stock Exchange and in accordance with the SEBI ICDR Regulations, 2009. Unsubscribed portion in QIB category is not available for subscription to other categories.
- (c) In case of under subscription in the Offer, spill-over to the extent of such under-subscription may be permitted from the Reserved Portion to the Offer. For allocation in the event of an under-subscription applicable to the Issuer, Bidders/Applicants may refer to the RHP.

(d) Illustration of the Book Building and Price Discovery Process

Bidders should note that this example is solely for illustrative purposes and is not specific to the Issue; it also excludes bidding by Anchor Investors.

Bidders can bid at any price within the Price Band. For instance, assume a Price Band of ₹ 20 to ₹ 24 per share, Issue size of 3,000 Equity Shares and receipt of five Bids from Bidders, details of which are shown in the table below. The illustrative book given below shows the demand for the Equity Shares of the Issuer at various prices and is collated from Bids received from various investors.

Bid Quantity	Bid Amount (₹)	Cumulative Quantity	Subscription
1,000	23	1,500	50.00%
1,500	22	3,000	100.00%
2,000	21	5,000	166.67%
2,500	20	7,500	250.00%

The price discovery is a function of demand at various prices. The highest price at which the Issuer is able to Issue the desired number of Equity Shares is the price at which the book cuts off, i.e., ₹ 22.00 in the above example. The Issuer, in consultation with the BRLMs may finalise the Issue Price at or below such Cut-Off Price, i.e., at or below ₹ 22.00. All Bids at or above this Issue Price and cut-off Bids are valid Bids and are considered for allocation in the respective categories.

(e) Alternate Method of Book Building

In case of FPOs, Issuers may opt for an alternate method of Book Building in which only the Floor Price is specified for the purposes of bidding ("Alternate Book Building Process").

The Issuer may specify the Floor Price in the RHP or advertise the Floor Price at least one Working Day prior to the Bid/ Issue Opening Date. QIBs may Bid at a price higher than the Floor Price and the Allotment to the QIBs is made on a price priority basis. The Bidder with the highest Bid Amount is allotted the number of Equity Shares Bid for and then the second highest Bidder is Allotted Equity Shares and this process continues until all the Equity Shares have been allotted. RIIs, NIIs and Employees are Allotted Equity Shares at the Floor Price and allotment to these categories of Bidders is made proportionately. If the number of Equity Shares Bid for at a price is more than available quantity then the allotment may be done on a proportionate basis. Further, the Issuer may place a cap either in terms of number of specified securities or percentage of issued capital of the Issuer that may be allotted to a single Bidder, decide whether a Bidder be allowed to revise the bid upwards or downwards in terms of price and/or quantity and also decide whether a Bidder be allowed single or multiple bids.

SECTION 6: ISSUE PROCEDURE IN FIXED PRICE ISSUE

Applicants may note that there is no Bid cum Application Form in a Fixed Price Issue. As the Issue Price is mentioned in the Fixed Price Issue therefore on filing of the Prospectus with the RoC, the Application so submitted is considered as the application form.

Applicants may only use the specified Application Form for the purpose of making an Application in terms of the Prospectus which may be submitted through a Designated Intermediary.

ASBA Applicants may submit an Application Form either in physical form to any of the Designated Intermediaries or in the electronic form to the SCSB or the Designated Branches of the SCSBs authorising blocking of funds that are available in the bank account specified in the Application Form only ("ASBA Account"). The Application Form is also made available on the websites of the Stock Exchanges at least one day prior to the Bid/ Issue Opening Date.

In a fixed price Issue, allocation in the offer to the public category is made as follows: minimum fifty per cent to Retail Individual Investors; and remaining to (i) individual investors other than Retail Individual Investors; and (ii) other Applicants including corporate bodies or institutions, irrespective of the number of specified securities applied for. The unsubscribed portion in either of the categories specified above may be allocated to the Applicants in the other category.

For details of instructions in relation to the Application Form, Bidders/Applicants may refer to the relevant section the GID.

SECTION 7: ALLOTMENT PROCEDURE AND BASIS OF ALLOTMENT

The allotment of Equity Shares to Bidders/Applicants other than Retail Individual Investors and Anchor Investors may be on proportionate basis. For Basis of Allotment to Anchor Investors, Bidders/Applicants may refer to RHP/Prospectus. No Retail Individual Investor will be allotted less than the minimum Bid Lot subject to availability of shares in Retail Individual Investor Category and the remaining available shares, if any will be allotted on a proportionate basis. The Issuer is required to receive a minimum subscription of 90% of the Issue (excluding any Offer for Sale of specified securities). However, in case the Issue is in the nature of Offer for Sale only, then minimum subscription may not be applicable.

7.1 ALLOTMENT TO RIIs

Bids received from the RIIs at or above the Issue Price may be grouped together to determine the total demand under this category. If the aggregate demand in this category is less than or equal to the Retail Category at or above the Issue Price, full Allotment may be made to the RIIs to the extent of the valid Bids. If the aggregate demand in this category is greater than the allocation to in the Retail Category at or above the Issue Price, then the maximum number of RIIs who can be Allotted the minimum Bid Lot will be computed by dividing the total number of Equity Shares available for Allotment to RIIs by the minimum Bid Lot ("Maximum RII Allottees"). The Allotment to the RIIs will then be made in the following manner:

- (a) Bidders may be categorised according to the number of Equity Shares applied for;
- (b) The total number of Equity Shares to be Allotted to each category as a whole may be arrived at on a proportionate basis, which is the total number of Equity Shares applied for in that category (number of Bidders in the category multiplied by the number of Equity Shares applied for) multiplied by the inverse of the over-subscription ratio;
- (c) The number of Equity Shares to be Allotted to the successful Bidders may be arrived at on a proportionate basis, which is total number of Equity Shares applied for by each Bidder in that category multiplied by the inverse of the over-subscription ratio;
- (d) In all Bids where the proportionate allotment is less than the minimum bid lot decided per Bidder, the allotment may be made as follows: the successful Bidders out of the total Bidders for a category may be determined by a draw of lots in a manner such that the total number of Equity Shares Allotted in that category is equal to the number of Equity Shares calculated in accordance with (b) above; and each successful Bidder may be Allotted a minimum of such Equity Shares equal to the minimum Bid Lot finalised by the Issuer;
- (e) If the proportionate allotment to a Bidder is a number that is more than the minimum Bid lot but is not a multiple of one (which is the marketable lot), the decimal may be rounded off to the higher whole number if that decimal is 0.5 or higher. If that number is lower than 0.5 it may be rounded off to the lower whole number. Allotment to all bidders in such categories may be arrived at after such rounding off; and
- (f) If the Equity Shares allocated on a proportionate basis to any category are more than the Equity Shares Allotted to the Bidders in that category, the remaining Equity Shares available for allotment may be first adjusted against any other category, where the Allotted Equity Shares are not sufficient for proportionate allotment to the successful Bidders in that category. RESTRICTIONS ON FOREIGN OWNERSHIP OF INDIAN SECURITIES

Foreign investment in Indian securities is governed by the provisions of the FEMA Regulations. Foreign investment is permitted (except in the prohibited sectors) in Indian companies, either through the automatic route or the approval route, depending upon the sector in which foreign investment is sought to be made. The DIPP makes policy announcements on FDI through press notes and press releases which are notified by the RBI as amendments to the FEMA Regulations. In case of any conflict, the FEMA Regulations prevail. The regulatory framework, over a period of time, thus, consists of acts, regulations, press notes, press releases, and clarifications among other amendments. The Government of India has from time to time made policy pronouncements on FDI through press notes and press releases. The DIPP issued the Consolidated Foreign Direct Investment Policy notified by the D/o IPP F. No. 5(1)/2017-FC-1 dated August 28, 2017 which with effect from August 28, 2017 (the “FDI Policy”), consolidates and supersedes all previous press notes, press releases and clarifications on FDI issued by the DIPP that were in force and effect prior to August 28, 2017. The Government of India proposes to update the consolidated circular on FDI Policy once every year and therefore, the FDI Policy will be valid until the DIPP issues an updated circular.

The transfer of shares between an Indian resident and a non-resident does not require the prior approval of the RBI, provided that (i) the activities of the investee company are under the automatic route under the foreign direct investment policy and transfer does not attract the provisions of the Takeover Regulations; (ii) the non-resident shareholding is within the sectoral limits under the FDI Policy; and (iii) the pricing is in accordance with the guidelines prescribed by the SEBI and the RBI.

As per the existing policy of the Government of India, OCBs cannot participate in this Offer.

The above information is given for the benefit of the Bidders. Our Company and the BRLMs are not liable for any amendments or modification or changes in applicable laws or regulations, which may occur after the date of this Red Herring Prospectus. Bidders are advised to make their independent investigations and ensure that the number of Equity Shares Bid for do not exceed the applicable limits under laws or regulations.
