FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This Draft Red Herring Prospectus contains certain “forward-looking statements.” These forward-looking statements include statements with respect to our business strategy, objectives, plans, prospects or goals. Bidders can generally identify forward-looking statements by words or phrases such as “aim”, “anticipate”, “believe”, “expect”, “estimate”, “intend”, “objective”, “plan”, “project”, “shall”, “will”, “will continue”, “will pursue” or other words or phrases of similar import. All forward-looking statements (whether made by us or any third party) are predictions and are subject to risks, uncertainties and assumptions about us that could cause actual results to differ materially from those contemplated by the relevant forward-looking statement.

Forward looking statements reflect our current views with respect to future events as of the date of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus and are not a guarantee of future performance. These statements are based on our management’s beliefs and assumptions, which in turn are based on currently available information. Although we believe the assumptions upon which these forward-looking statements are based are reasonable, any of these assumptions could prove to be inaccurate, and the forward-looking statements based on these assumptions could be incorrect.

Further, the actual results may differ materially from those suggested by the forward-looking statements due to risks or uncertainties associated with our expectations with respect to, but not limited to, regulatory changes pertaining to the industries in India in which we have our businesses and our ability to respond to them, our ability to successfully implement our strategy, our growth and expansion, technological changes, our exposure to market risks, general economic and political conditions in India, which have an impact on our business activities or investments, the monetary and fiscal policies of India, inflation, deflation, unanticipated turbulence in interest rates, foreign exchange rates, equity prices or other rates or prices, the performance of the financial markets in India and globally, changes in domestic laws, regulations and taxes, changes in competition in our industry and incidence of any natural calamities and/or acts of violence. Important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from our expectations include, but are not limited to, the following:

1. We may be unable to implement our growth strategies and develop and distribute an appropriate product mix for specific customer segments through our multiple distribution channels.
2. Any termination of, or any adverse change to, our relationships with or performance of our bancassurance partners, including HDFC Bank, could have a material adverse impact on our business, profitability, results of operations and financial condition.
3. Changes in regulation and compliance requirements could limit our ability to introduce new products, increase our operating expenses and reduce our operating flexibility.
4. Misconduct by our agents, employees, distribution partners or other third parties is difficult to detect and deter and could harm our brand and our reputation, or lead to regulatory sanctions or litigation against us.
5. Our Company and certain of our Subsidiaries, Directors, Promoters and Group Companies are involved in certain legal proceedings which, if determined against us, may adversely affect our business and financial condition.
6. Our results are dependent on the strength of our brand and reputation, as well as the brand and reputation of other HDFC group entities.
7. Variation in our persistency experience from our estimates, as well as concentrated surrenders, may materially and adversely affect our cash flows, results of operations and financial condition.
8. If actual claims experience and other parameters are different from the assumptions used in pricing our products and setting reserves for our products, could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.
9. Following the listing of the Equity Shares in the Offer, our Promoters will collectively control, directly or indirectly, approximately 81.30% of our outstanding Equity Shares (assuming full subscription to the Offer) and have the ability to nominate directors on our Board after the listing, subject to shareholder approval.
10. We depend on our leadership and key management and our actuarial, information technology, investment management, finance, frontline sales staff, underwriting and other personnel, and our business would suffer if we lose their services and are unable to adequately replace them.

For further discussion on factors that could cause our actual results to differ from expectations, please see “Risk Factors”, “Our Business” and “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” on pages 23, 194 and 525 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, respectively. Further, as required under the IRDAI Issuance of Capital Regulations, the Embedded Value Report and the Supplementary Embedded Value Report have been included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, which contains certain assumptions for the future, including assessment of appropriate assumptions for future experience. By their nature, certain market risk related disclosures are only estimates and could be materially different from what actually occurs in the future. As a result, actual gains or losses could materially differ from those that have been estimated.

We cannot assure Bidders that the expectation reflected in these forward-looking statements will prove to be correct. Given these uncertainties, investors are cautioned not to place undue reliance on such forward-looking statements and not to regard such statements as a guarantee of future performance.

We, our Directors, our Promoters, the Selling Shareholders, the Syndicate and their respective affiliates or associates do not have any obligation to, and do not intend to, update or otherwise revise any statements reflecting circumstances arising after the date hereof or to reflect the occurrence of underlying events, even if the underlying assumptions do not come to fruition. In accordance with the ICDR Regulations, our Company will ensure that investors in India are informed of material developments from the date of the Red Herring Prospectus until such time as the grant of listing and trading permissions by the Stock Exchanges. Each Selling Shareholder will ensure that investors are informed of material developments in relation to the statements and undertakings confirmed by each of them from the date of the Red Herring Prospectus until such time as the grant of listing and trading permissions by the Stock Exchanges.

SECTION II: RISK FACTORS

An investment in our Equity Shares involves a high degree of risk. You should carefully consider the risks described below as well as other information as may be disclosed in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus before making an investment in our Equity Shares. The risks described in this section are those that we consider to be the most significant to our business, results of operations and financial condition as at the date of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. In addition, the risks set out in this section may not be exhaustive and additional risks and uncertainties not presently known to us, or which we currently deem to be immaterial, may arise or may become material in the future. If any or a combination of the following risks or other risks that are not currently known or are now deemed immaterial actually occur, our business, prospects, results of operations and financial condition could suffer, the trading price of the Equity Shares could decline and you may lose all or part of your investment. Unless specified in the relevant risk factor below, we are not in a position to quantify the financial implication of any of the risks mentioned below. Any potential investor in the Equity Shares should pay particular attention to the fact that we are subject to a regulatory environment in India which may differ significantly from that in other jurisdictions. In making an investment decision, prospective investors must rely on their own examinations of us on a consolidated basis and the terms of the Offer, including the merits and the risks involved. Prospective investors should consult their tax, financial and legal advisors about the particular consequences of investing in the Offer. For further details, see “Our Business”, “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations”, the Embedded Value Report and the Supplementary Embedded Value Report on pages 194, 525, 564 and 603, respectively, as well as the other financial and statistical information contained in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

This Draft Red Herring Prospectus contains forward-looking statements that involve risks and uncertainties. Our actual results may differ materially from those anticipated in these forward-looking statements as a result of certain factors, including the considerations described below and elsewhere in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. See “Forward Looking Statements” on page 21 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Unless otherwise stated or the context otherwise requires, the financial information used in this section is derived from our Restated Financial Statements.

INTERNAL RISKS

Risks Related to Our Business

- 1. We may be unable to implement our growth strategies and develop and distribute an appropriate product mix for specific customer segments through our multiple distribution channels.

The Indian life insurance sector is highly competitive, and we may not be able to sustain our growth amidst intense competitive pressures, consolidation among competitors, or due to macroeconomic and other factors beyond our control. Any decrease in our growth rates, whether in absolute terms or relative to industry standards, could adversely affect our market share and future prospects. Any of the foregoing events may materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We have a broad, diversified product portfolio, covering five principal segments across the individual and group categories, namely participating, non-participating protection term, non-participating protection health insurance, other non-participating and unit-linked insurance products. As our capital requirements, pricing assumptions reserving requirements, profitability, and the profit patterns vary across our products, changes in the product mix for new business may affect our financial condition and results of operations. While we have strategically focused on certain products, such as protection, health and annuity products, and endeavour to create an optimal mix between participating and unit-linked products, there can be no assurance that our strategies will improve profitability and increase the value of our new business. An inability to continue to grow our product portfolio, achieve an increase in the relative proportion of our high margin products in our new business, maintain the proportion of products critical for our profitability or maintain our overall growth levels while developing additional products may adversely affect our market position, profitability and our VNB.

Our ability to develop and distribute appropriate insurance products for specific customer segments through our multiple distribution channels on a timely basis affects our business prospects and financial performance. We typically incur losses in the initial period of new life insurance policies when much of our development and marketing costs are incurred, while the profits, if any, from such policies emerge over the term of the insurance contract. A significant growth in new business, while potentially beneficial for our business in the long term, could result in us incurring significant losses in the short term, thereby affecting our results of operations and financial condition.

2. Any termination of, or any adverse change to, our relationships with or performance of our bancassurance partners, including HDFC Bank, could have a material adverse impact on our business, profitability, results of operations and financial condition.

Although we have developed a multi-channel distribution platform over the years, bancassurance remains the most significant distribution channel. Our bancassurance distribution channel contributed 69.6%, 71.5%, 68.2% and 66.6% of our annualised premium equivalent for Fiscal 2015, Fiscal 2016, Fiscal 2017 and the three months ended June 30, 2017, respectively. Prior to April 1, 2016, a bank was only permitted to act as a corporate agent to solicit and service insurance business for one life insurance company, and we had an exclusive bancassurance arrangement with HDFC Bank. We have historically relied significantly on HDFC Bank's contribution to our annualised premium equivalent. HDFC Bank contributed 64.8%, 65.6%, 59.0% and 54.1% of our annualised premium equivalent for Fiscal 2015, Fiscal 2016, Fiscal 2017 and the three months ended June 30, 2017, respectively.

Pursuant to the IRDAI Registration of Corporate Agents Regulations, which became effective on April 1, 2016, the Indian life insurance industry has transitioned into an open architecture environment. Each bank can now act as a non-exclusive corporate agent for up to three life insurers, three general insurers and three health insurers. Accordingly, any of our existing bancassurance partners may simultaneously act as a corporate agent of our competitors. Our bancassurance arrangement with HDFC Bank is no longer exclusive in nature, and HDFC Bank has entered into bancassurance arrangements with other life insurers. In addition, unlike certain of our competitors whose promoters are their main distributors, HDFC Bank does not have a direct interest in our Company's profitability and results of operations. Any of our other existing corporate agents have the option of ceasing to act as our exclusive corporate agent and may choose to act as a corporate agent of our competitors. Any failure to maintain our non-exclusive distribution arrangements with our new and existing bancassurance partners could significantly reduce the distribution of our products through our bancassurance channel. Further, our competitors may offer more favourable terms to our corporate agents, leading to a larger share of our competitors' products being sold. Certain of our corporate agency agreements and/or bancassurance partnerships can be terminated without cause by our corporate agents and/or bancassurance partners.

The termination of, disruption to, or any other adverse change to, our relationships with our bancassurance partners with whom we have corporate agency agreements, or the formation of any preferred partnership between our bancassurance partners and any of our competitors, could significantly reduce the sales of our products and our growth opportunities. We may also have to pay higher commissions to our bancassurance partners (subject to any statutory or regulatory limits) to remain competitive, which could increase our sales costs and adversely affect the profitability of our products. In particular, the success of our bancassurance channel is significantly dependent upon our ability to provide our bancassurance partners with an integrated information technology platform for the distribution of our products. If we are unable to upgrade our information technology platforms and introduce innovative digitisation tools in order to keep pace with increasing digitisation, our business could be adversely affected. In addition, we may need to invest substantial amounts of time and resources to develop relationships and integrate our information technology platforms with those of our new corporate agents.

Any of the foregoing could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

3. Changes in regulation and compliance requirements could limit our ability to introduce new products, increase our operating expenses and reduce our operating flexibility.

The regulatory and policy environment in which we operate continues to evolve and remains subject to changes which may be beyond our control. Our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects may be adversely affected if we are unable to suitably respond to and comply with changes in applicable law and policy.

Our business and product offerings have been affected by a number of regulatory changes pertaining to the insurance industry in India. In 2010, IRDAI overhauled the regulations affecting unit-linked insurance products and required insurance companies to cap charges and use prescribed minimum levels of sum assured, which caused a decrease in new business premiums across the Indian life insurance sector.

Health insurance regulations issued in 2016 prohibited life insurance companies from offering indemnity-based products, compelling us to withdraw HDFC Life Health Assure, one of our key health insurance products. The expenses of management regulations issued in 2016 (which specify expense limits for various categories of products) have allowed only 10% expenses (including commissions) for deferred annuity products, which has resulted in the pension business in our participating segment being unprofitable.

Other recent regulatory changes may have an impact on our business. The IRDAI (Payment of Commission or Remuneration or Reward to Insurance Agents and Insurance Intermediaries) Regulations, 2016 restrict our ability to incentivise our insurance agents and insurance intermediaries by imposing limits on the payment of commission or remuneration. The IRDAI (Outsourcing of Activities by Indian Insurers) Regulations, 2017 restrict our ability to outsource certain activities to third party service providers which could adversely impact costs. The IRDAI (Protection of Policyholders Interests) Regulations, 2017 prescribe the form and content in relation to, inter alia, policy documents and proposal forms, and specify procedures for expeditiously settling claims. The IRDAI Master Circular on Unclaimed Amount of Policyholders, issued in July 2017, requires our Company to transfer unclaimed amounts (that have remained outstanding for more than ten years) of policyholders to the Senior Citizens' Welfare Fund. For further details, see "Regulations and Policies" on page 235 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

The investment regulations prescribed by IRDAI require us to invest our funds for certain products in specified categories of assets and instruments, including bonds and securities issued by various government institutions. Under these regulations, we are required to invest a minimum of 50% of our life funds (funds other than those relating to our pension, general annuity and group businesses and unit reserves of our unit-linked business) in government securities, and a minimum of 15% of our life funds in housing and infrastructure sectors. Additionally, the IRDAI periodically issues exposure norms and prudential norms which govern the types and categories of securities in which we are permitted to invest.

The introduction of the Insurance Amendment Act and various regulations and guidelines issued thereafter by the IRDAI, such as the Listed Insurance Company Guidelines, IRDAI CG Guidelines, IRDAI Guidelines on Insurance e-commerce and IRDAI Registration of Corporate Agents Regulations, affect the industry in which we operate, restrict our operating flexibility, increase our operating expenses, and limit our ability to introduce new products. For further details of insurance regulations and guidelines, see "Regulations and Policies" on page 235 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. Future regulatory changes may require us to commit significant management resources, require significant changes to our business practices and could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

Uncertainty in the applicability, interpretation or implementation of any amendment to, or change in, governing law, regulation or policy, including by reason of an absence, or a limited body, of administrative or judicial precedent, may be time consuming as well as costly for us to resolve and may impact the viability of our current business or restrict our ability to grow our business in the future. Any inability or failure by us to comply with, or adapt adequately or promptly to, changes in our regulatory environment may have an adverse impact on our ability to remain competitive and have an adverse impact on our results of operations and profitability.

4. Misconduct by our agents, employees, distribution partners or other third parties is difficult to detect and deter and could harm our brand and our reputation, or lead to regulatory sanctions or litigation against us.

Misconduct by our agents, employees, distribution partners or other third parties could result in violations of law, regulatory sanctions, litigation or serious reputational or financial loss to us, as well as financial loss to our customers. Such misconduct could include:

- engaging in mis-selling, misrepresentation or fraudulent, deceptive or otherwise improper activities when marketing or selling products;
- binding us to transactions that exceed authorised limits;
- hiding unauthorised or unsuccessful activities, such as insider trading, resulting in unknown and unmanaged risks or losses;

- improperly using or disclosing confidential information;
- making illegal or improper payments;
- falsifying documents or data;
- recommending products, services or transactions that are not suitable for our customers;
- misappropriation of funds;
- engaging in unauthorised or excessive transactions to the detriment of our customers; or
- otherwise not complying with applicable laws or our internal policies and procedures.

Based on criminal complaints filed by our Company in Fiscal 2016 and Fiscal 2017, certain former employees of our Company were interrogated by investigating agencies for misappropriating insurance premiums from a number of our customers and others. We have cooperated fully with the investigating authorities in these matters, which remain ongoing. While we have taken steps to reduce instances of fraud, mis-selling and other forms of misconduct by our agents, employees and distribution partners, including taking action against malpractices, conducting training programs for employees and distributors and performing verifications prior to policy issuance, there can be no assurance that these measures will succeed in detecting or deterring misconduct or to provide sufficient evidence to conclude investigations of misconduct.

We may be subject to fraud and other misconduct committed by our customers or other third parties. In the past, we experienced a higher than expected number of claims in relation to our Click2Protect product, some of which were fraudulent. We created an internal council to prevent and investigate such claims, a majority of which were ultimately repudiated. While we have implemented specific initiatives to reduce the likelihood of such situations recurring in future, including enhanced due diligence measures for high risk cases and additional verification measures during the customer on-boarding process, there can be no assurance that we will not be subjected to fraudulent claims in the future. We may be also subjected to fraudulent behaviour and disclosures by customers and third parties in respect of other areas of operations, including money laundering and forgery, which may negatively impact our ability to comply with applicable regulations and have an adverse impact on our results of operations, profitability and reputation.

While we have implemented, and continue to implement, measures aimed at detecting and preventing fraud and other misconduct, we may not be able to detect or prevent such fraud or misconduct in a timely fashion, which may harm our reputation and adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

5. Our Company and certain of our Subsidiaries Directors, Promoters and Group Companies are involved in certain legal proceedings which, if determined against us, may adversely affect our business and financial condition.

Our Company and certain of our Subsidiaries, Directors, Promoters and Group Companies are involved in certain legal proceedings at different levels of adjudication before various courts, tribunals and appellate authorities. We face a significant risk of litigation, regulatory investigations and similar actions in the ordinary course of our business, including the risk of lawsuits and other legal actions relating to suitability, sales or underwriting practices, claims payments and procedures, product design, distribution, disclosure, administration, denial or delay of benefits and breaches of fiduciary or other duties. Any such action may include claims for substantial or unspecified compensatory and punitive damages, as well as civil, regulatory or criminal proceedings against our directors, officers or employees, and the probability and amount of liability, if any, may be significant or remain unknown for significant periods of time. We are also subject to various regulatory inquiries, such as information requests and books and records examinations, from regulators and other authorities in the geographical markets in which we operate.

In the event of adverse rulings in these proceedings or consequent actions by regulatory and other statutory authorities, our Company, Subsidiaries, Promoters or Group Companies may need to make payments or provisions for future payments, be subject to other liabilities, harm our reputation or adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations. For further details, see “Outstanding Litigation and Material Developments” on page 610 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

For further details of these matters, see “Outstanding Litigation and Material Developments” on page 610 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. Any decision against us may have an adverse effect on our profitability and results of operations.

Responding to or defending these regulatory or legal proceedings, regardless of their ultimate outcome, is time-consuming and expensive and can divert the time and effort of our senior management from our business. Moreover, our provisions for regulatory or legal proceedings may be inadequate. Given the uncertainties and complexity of many of these regulatory or legal proceedings, their outcome generally cannot be predicted with any reasonable degree of certainty.

A substantial liability arising from a lawsuit judgment or a significant regulatory action against us or a disruption in our business arising from adverse adjudications in proceedings against our directors, officers or employees could have a material adverse effect on our liquidity, business, financial condition and results of operations. Moreover, even if we ultimately prevail in the litigation, regulatory action or investigation, we could suffer significant harm to our reputation, which could materially affect our prospects and future growth, including our ability to attract new customers, retain current customers and recruit and retain employees and agents.

6. Our results are dependent on the strength of our brand and reputation, as well as the brand and reputation of other HDFC group entities.

Our results are, to a certain extent, dependent on the strength of our brand and reputation, as well as the brand and reputation of other HDFC group entities. While our brand is well-recognised, we can be vulnerable to adverse market and customer perception, particularly in an industry where integrity, trust and customer confidence are paramount. We are exposed to the risk that litigation, misconduct, operational failure, negative publicity (including through social media channels) or press speculation could harm our brand and reputation. Our reputation could also be adversely affected if our products or services do not perform as expected, whether or not the expectations are founded. In addition, our reputation could be affected by the conduct or performance of third parties over which we have no control, such as other entities that are part of our Promoter Group, including HDFC group entities. For example, in Fiscal 2014, the RBI imposed penalties on HDFC Bank and many other banks for certain irregularities and violations discovered by the RBI during its scrutiny conducted in the first half of 2013, such as non-adherence to KYC rules for walk-in customers (non-customers). As the “HDFC” brand is closely linked to our “HDFC Life” brand, any reputational harm to HDFC group entities may also negatively impact our brand and reputation.

We may also be exposed to adverse publicity relating to the insurance industry as a whole. An incident related to us, or the conduct of a competitor unrelated to us may taint the reputation of the industry as a whole and may affect the perception of customers, investors and the attitude of regulators. Further, negative publicity may result in greater regulatory scrutiny of our operations and of the industry generally. If we are unable to maintain our brand name and our reputation, or there is reputational harm to other HDFC group entities or the insurance industry as a whole, our business, financial condition and results of operations could be materially and adversely impacted.

7. Variation in our persistency experience from our estimates, as well as concentrated surrenders, may materially and adversely affect our cash flows, results of operations and financial condition.

Our product pricing and expected future profitability of our business is based on assumptions of future persistency of the policies. These estimates are based on our historical experience and the product features. If the actual persistency of our policies is different from our persistency assumptions, it could have a material adverse impact on our business, profitability and financial condition.

Under normal circumstances, it is generally possible for us to estimate the overall amount of surrenders in a given period. However, the occurrence of emergency events that have significant impact, such as sharp declines in customer income due to a severe deterioration in economic conditions, radical changes in relevant government policies, volatility in capital markets, loss of customer confidence in the insurance industry due to the weakening of the financial strength of one or more insurance companies or the severe weakening of our financial strength, may trigger massive surrenders of insurance policies. In addition, if we do not achieve satisfactory investment returns or underperform in relation to our competitors in the future, or if the market environment changes such that our products become less attractive, or there is an actual or perceived deterioration in our financial strength (whether due to a reduction in our solvency ratio, our relationship with HDFC and/or Standard Life Aberdeen group (including any downgrade in the credit ratings of HDFC and/or Standard Life Aberdeen group) or some other factor), existing customers may decide to surrender their policies.

If any of these were to occur, we would have to dispose of our investment assets, possibly at unfavourable prices, in order to make the significant amount of surrender payments. However, some of our investment assets, such as investments categorised as held-to-maturity debt securities and equity investments in private companies, have low liquidity, and we may be unable to sell our investment assets at favourable prices or in a timely manner to cover the significant level of surrender payments, which could materially and adversely affect our cash flows, results of operations and financial condition.

In the past, we have experienced instances of concentrated surrenders in certain unit-linked products, even when the performance of our investment funds has been good, thus providing the policyholder with an option to surrender the product without paying any surrender penalty. While the probability of higher surrenders at the end of the lock-in period (when policyholders no longer have to pay surrender penalties) for unit-linked policies has been included in the actuarial assumptions used for the calculation of expected profitability, we may, encounter higher than expected surrenders as well as experience concentrated surrenders at times other than at the end of such lock-in period, which may lead to lower expected profitability or, in extreme cases, an operating loss for a particular period. For further details, please refer to the sensitivity analysis in the Embedded Value Report on page 564 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

8. If actual claims experience and other parameters are different from the assumptions used in pricing our products and setting reserves for our products, could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

As is customary in the life insurance industry, our product pricing is based on assumptions and estimates for future claim payments and these assumptions are derived from our historical experience, industry data and data from reinsurers. If our actual claim payments are higher than expected, then the financial results from our operations could be adversely affected. While we derive information from industry sources, historical experience and market and industry data, the quality of information available to us at the time of pricing may not be independently verifiable. In addition, there is a higher degree of uncertainty in the assumptions used in some of our new products such as Cancer Care, Easy Health, Group Health Shield and optional benefits under our Click2Protect 3D Plus as these have only been recently introduced and may be the first of their kind in the India insurance market. Consequently, we do not have significant amounts of historical data in relation to policyholders of such products. If actual outcomes are not consistent with the historical data or our actual investment performance is worse than the underlying assumptions, our profitability may be materially and adversely affected, which may in turn cause negative variance in our Embedded Value, and have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

We establish and carry reserves as balance sheet liabilities to pay future policyholder benefits and claims. Due to the nature of the underlying risks and the high degree of uncertainty associated with the determination of the liabilities for unpaid benefits and claims, we cannot precisely determine the amount that we will ultimately pay to settle these liabilities. These amounts may vary from the estimated amounts, particularly when payments may not occur until well into the future. In addition, actual experience, such as lapse, mortality, expense and morbidity, can be different from the assumptions used when we establish reserves for and price our products or otherwise use such assumptions in the conduct of our business. Significant deviations in actual experience from our assumptions could materially and adversely reduce our profitability.

9. Following the listing of the Equity Shares in the Offer, our Promoters will collectively control, directly or indirectly, approximately 81.30% of our outstanding Equity Shares (assuming full subscription to the Offer) and have the ability to nominate directors on our Board after the listing, subject to shareholder approval.

Our Promoters and Promoter Group will continue to control a significant number of Equity Shares of our Company after the Offer. In view of this, HDFC individually, or together with Standard Life Mauritius, will, subject to applicable laws, have the ability to exercise, directly or indirectly, a controlling influence over our business, including matters relating to management, business strategies and policies, the timing and amount of the distribution of dividends, the issuance of new Equity Shares, the election of directors, any plans relating to mergers, acquisitions, joint ventures, investments or divestitures and amendments to the Articles of Association. In addition, under the Articles of Association, after listing and subject to shareholder approval, each of HDFC and Standard Life Mauritius shall have the right to: (i) nominate one Director on the Board of our Company for so long as it holds 10% or more (but less than 20%) of the paid up equity share capital of our Company; and (ii) nominate up to two Directors on the Board of our Company for so long as it holds 20% or more of the paid up equity share capital of our Company. In order to comply with the IRDAI requirements of being 'Indian owned and controlled', so long as these nomination rights are available to HDFC and Standard Life Mauritius, the total number of Directors nominated by HDFC to the Board of our Company shall be at least one more than the total number of Directors nominated by Standard Life Mauritius. Neither HDFC nor Standard Life Mauritius shall be entitled to these nomination rights upon their shareholding in our Company falling below 10% of the paid up equity share capital. These director nomination rights will be available to HDFC and Standard Life Mauritius subject to receipt of approval by the shareholders of our Company, including HDFC and Standard Life Mauritius, by way of a special resolution in a general meeting, following the listing of the Equity Shares in the Offer.

The interests of our Promoters as controlling shareholders of our Company could be in conflict with the interests of our other shareholders. We cannot assure you that our Promoters and Promoter Group will act to resolve any conflicts of interest in favour of our Company or the other shareholders. To the extent that the interests of our Promoters and Promoter Group differ from your interests, you may be disadvantaged by any action that our Promoters and Promoter Group may seek to pursue. For more information, see “Main Provisions of the Articles of Association” and “History and Other Corporate Matters—Details regarding material agreements, acquisition of business/undertakings, mergers, amalgamation and revaluation of assets—Material agreements—Shareholders’ Agreement” on pages 252 and 253 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, respectively.

10. We depend on our leadership and key management and our actuarial, information technology, investment management, finance, frontline sales staff, underwriting and other personnel, and our business would suffer if we lose their services and are unable to adequately replace them.

Our success is substantially dependent on our ability to attract and retain key personnel who have in-depth knowledge and understanding of our business, including members of our senior management, information technology specialists, experienced investment managers and finance professionals, frontline sales staff and other personnel. We also rely on the sound underwriting, product development, risk control, business development, investments and actuarial expertise of our senior management members and skilled actuarial, underwriting and other personnel. Our business could suffer if we lose the services of our personnel and cannot replace them adequately and on a timely basis.

As at June 30, 2017, we employed 15,406 full-time employees, including 10,828 frontline sales staff. Having a committed, competent pool of frontline sales staff is a key factor in our ability to increase our sales volumes and drive our business growth. Our Company, as with other companies within the life insurance industry in India, continues to experience high attrition levels among frontline sales staff. Therefore, we cannot assure you that we will be able to attract and retain qualified personnel or that they will not retire or otherwise leave us in the near future. Any replacement employees hired require substantial amounts of time and resources to train prior to deployment in our offices. Any loss of our employees could also lead to key management and operational positions remaining vacant for extended periods which may not allow us to provide services to our clients in a timely manner or at all and may lead to us having a reduced capacity to promote or distribute our products.

In particular, we rely on a limited number of actuarial personnel, including our Appointed Actuary. Actuaries work in a specialised profession and there are a limited number of persons qualified to practice as an actuary in India, given the stringent eligibility requirements prescribed for appointed actuaries under the IRDAI Regulations, including the recent IRDAI (Appointed Actuary) Regulations, 2017. Any failure on our part to attract, retain or find suitable replacements for any of our actuarial personnel, including our Appointed Actuary, could have a material adverse effect on our business.

Moreover, we may be required to substantially increase the number of our qualified personnel in connection with any future growth plans, and we may face difficulty in doing so due to the intense competition in the Indian life insurance industry for such personnel. In addition, we may need to increase employee compensation levels in order to retain our existing officers and employees and attract any additional personnel we may require. Any of these factors may result in an increase in our operating costs and may adversely affect our business and results of operations.

11. Adverse market fluctuations and economic conditions would have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

Our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects are significantly affected by market fluctuations and general economic conditions, particularly macroeconomic conditions in India, where we conduct most of our business and generate substantially all of our income. Our business depends on consumer confidence in the overall economy, and the life insurance sector in particular, as well as overall economic growth rates, household savings rates, consumer attitudes towards financial savings and demographic profile. We may be constrained in our ability to adjust to market changes and trends to mitigate market risk as we are subject to regulatory requirements on the asset categories and instruments we are permitted to invest in.

Adverse macroeconomic conditions in India may increase the number of policy surrenders and withdrawals, reduce the returns from our investment activities and otherwise adversely affect our results of operations, including in the following ways:

- Decreased sales of our products. An economic downturn or other adverse events may result in higher unemployment levels, lower family income, decreased corporate earnings and reduced business investment and consumer spending, which could in turn significantly reduce the demand for our products, particularly our participating products and non-participating protection products. In addition, our ability to sell certain investment products may be materially and adversely affected by excessive volatility in Indian or global capital markets.
- Losses from bonds and other secured instruments. An economic downturn or other adverse events may result in financial difficulties or default of issuers of bonds held in our investment portfolios. In addition, credit spread and benchmark interest rate variations could also reduce the fair value of these bonds. Under these circumstances, we may have to impair these bonds or may recognise losses realised upon their sale. Moreover, shareholders' equity and earnings and policyholders' funds may be affected by fair value re-valuations of the bonds held in our investment portfolios.
- Loan portfolio defaults and delinquencies. We may suffer losses due to delinquencies or defaults on our loans included in our investment portfolio. See "Risk Factors—Risks Related to our Group and our Industry—We are subject to the credit risk of our investment counterparties, including the issuers or borrowers whose securities or loans we hold".
- Equity price declines. We may suffer declines in the value of the equity securities held in our investment portfolio as a result of declining equity market conditions. For example, the decline in the BSE Sensex during Fiscal 2015 caused a decline in the value of our AUM, resulting in a corresponding decrease in our revenue from fund management charges from managing our unit-linked funds, which are valued marked to market.

12. Interest rate fluctuations may materially and adversely affect our profitability.

We are exposed to fluctuations in interest rates. As at June 30, 2017, our fixed income securities portfolio represented 57.4% of our total AUM. Under the IRDAI Investment Regulations, we are required to invest our investment assets forming part of our controlled fund in certain specified categories of assets and instruments, subject to thresholds prescribed for each category of investment. Given the restrictions on the manner in which our assets are held and in which our investments can be made, we may not be able to mitigate market risks, while making investments, in the same manner as non-insurance companies. Changes in prevailing interest rates (including changes in the difference between the levels of prevailing short-term and long-term rates) could reduce our investment returns and spread and thus materially and adversely affect our insurance businesses and investment returns, which in turn could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

Some of our insurance and investment contracts have guaranteed features. These contracts carry the risk that interest income from the financial assets backing such liabilities are insufficient to fund the guaranteed benefits payable as interest rates fall or fail to meet customer expectations for participating and non-participating products. During periods of declining interest rates, we may not be able to fully meet the guaranteed liabilities of our non-participating contracts. While we have hedging arrangements in place to mitigate this risk, it is possible that the impact may not be fully offset in a rapidly declining interest rate scenario, particularly where we experience a significant increase in the new business through products with guaranteed benefits. Additionally, an increase in hedging costs may also affect our profitability. For participating contracts, a decline in interest rates may result in lower bonus rates for policyholders, which may lead to policyholder dissatisfaction and therefore increased surrenders and decreased new business sales.

Increasing interest rates could result in the reduction in the fair value of our investments and generate unrealised losses, which could adversely affect our shareholders' equity and results of operations. Rising interest rates could also lead to higher levels of surrenders and withdrawals of existing policies as policyholders seek to buy products with perceived higher returns, which may require us to sell our invested assets and make cash payments to policyholders at a time when those prices of those assets are declining, which may result in realised losses.

In addition, we use assumptions on the future investment returns when pricing our products and setting our reserves. Actual investment returns that are lower than those projected could lead to us suffering significant losses on certain products and also cause us to increase the price of our products in the future, thereby affecting future business.

A sustained reduction or sharp decline in the interest rates may result in us reducing the interest rate assumption used for calculation of our policy liabilities thus increasing the reserves we need to hold for meeting these liabilities. Such increase in reserves could materially impact our financials and results of our operations.

Interest rates are highly sensitive to many factors, including monetary and tax policies, domestic and international economic and political considerations, inflationary factors, fiscal deficits, trade surpluses or deficits, regulatory requirements and other factors beyond our control. For example, between January 2015 and July 2017, the RBI reduced interest rates seven times, resulting in a reduction of the repurchase rate from 8.0% to 6.0%. The RBI or the Government of India may implement further measures in response to changes in the macroeconomic environment, which may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

13. Our Embedded Value and VNB information is based on several assumptions and may not be comparable to similar information reported by our peers.

In order to provide investors with an additional tool to understand our economic value and business results, information regarding our Embedded Value, as discussed in “Embedded Value Report” and “Supplementary Embedded Value Report”, has been included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. While we have obtained such reports from an Independent Actuary, there is significant technical complexity involved in embedded value calculations and the estimates used in such Embedded Value Report and Supplementary Embedded Value Report may vary materially if key assumptions are changed or if experience is different from assumptions. For example, based on our internal estimates, we reported an EV of ₹123,890 million at March 31, 2017. The difference between such figure and the EV of ₹124,705 million as reported by the Independent Actuary as set forth in the Embedded Value Report in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus is primarily due to changes in the methodology for calculating the time value of financial options and guarantees and cost of non-hedgeable risk. In addition, regardless of the appropriateness of the assumptions, there may be a risk that the model used to calculate Embedded Value itself may not be appropriate in spite of taking due care to ensure that models are appropriate as set out in section 4.3 of the Embedded Value Report on page 564 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. The Independent Actuary has determined our embedded value as at March 31, 2016, March 31, 2017 and June 30, 2017 using different assumptions and methodology than we used in the past.

In the future, the embedded value calculations may be performed internally by us. Moreover, the Indian Embedded Value method used to calculate our Embedded Value differs from the methodology used in other jurisdictions (including the European Embedded Value method or the Market Consistent Embedded Value method adopted by some European insurers) and may not be comparable to the Embedded Value methodology adopted by our peers. As a result, our Embedded Value results may not be comparable with those of other insurers.

In addition, the model used to calculate our VNB may be incorrect or our future experience may be different from the assumptions used in calculating our VNB. Therefore, care must be exercised when reading and interpreting the VNB presented in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus and the report of the Independent Actuary.

Since our actual market value is determined by investors based on a variety of information available to them, our Embedded Value and our VNB should not be construed as a direct reflection of our actual market value and performance, nor should they be construed to have any correlation with the price of our Equity Shares. Investors should read the discussion in “Embedded Value Report”, “Supplementary Embedded Value Report” and “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations—Key Performance Indicators” on pages 564, 603 and 531 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, use special care when interpreting Embedded Value and VNB results and should not place undue reliance on them. The inclusion of these values in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus should not be regarded as a representation of our future profitability by us, the Independent Actuary, the BRLMs or any other person. Furthermore, we do not intend to update or otherwise revise these values in the future, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise. References to the Embedded Value Report are to the report from the Independent Actuary dated August 17, 2017 and titled “Report on Indian Embedded Value as at March 31, 2017” and references to the Supplementary Embedded Value Report are to the report dated August 17, 2017 and titled “Results of Indian Embedded Value as at June 30, 2017”. References to the Embedded Value Report and the Supplementary Embedded Value Report should be read in conjunction with the disclaimers, context and assumptions set forth therein. See also “Forward Looking Statements” on page 21 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

14. Our risk management policies and procedures and internal controls, as well as the risk management tools available to us, may not be adequate or effective.

We have historically established a risk management system by developing internal control systems comprising an organisational framework, policies, procedures and methods to help us identify risks and develop mitigating measures that we consider to be appropriate for the scale of our business operations, and we have been dedicated to continuously improving these systems. For more details, see “Our Business—Risk Management” on page 228 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

However, due to the inherent limitations in the design and implementation of such a system, including internal control environment, risk identification and evaluation, effectiveness of risk control, and information communication, our systems may not be adequate or effective in identifying or mitigating our risk exposure in all market environments or against all types of risks. These methods may also fail to predict future risk exposures, which could be significantly greater than those indicated by historical measures. In particular, some methods of managing risk are based upon observed historical market behaviour and claims experience. Other risk management methods depend upon an evaluation of available information regarding operating and market conditions and other matters. This information may not be accurate, complete, up-to-date or properly evaluated. Moreover, the information and experience data that we rely on may quickly become obsolete as a result of market and regulatory developments, and our historical data may not be able to adequately reflect risks that may emerge from time to time in the future.

Management of operational, legal and regulatory risks requires, among other things, policies and procedures to properly record and verify a large number of transactions and events, as well as appropriate and consistently applied internal control systems. As part of our risk management procedures, we use models that rely on assumptions and projections that are inherently uncertain. These policies, procedures, internal controls and assumptions may not be adequate or effective, and our business, financial condition and results of operations could be materially and adversely affected by the corresponding increase in our risk exposure and actual losses experienced as a direct or indirect result of failures of our risk management policies and internal controls. Any hedging programmes that we may utilise may also not be fully effective or may not adequately cover our liabilities and may leave us exposed to unidentified and unanticipated risks.

We are mainly in the business of being paid to accept certain risks and provide relevant protection. Our employees and agents who conduct our business, including management, sales and product managers, sales agents and investment professionals, among others, do so in part by taking decisions that expose us to risks. These decisions include setting underwriting guidelines and standards, product design and pricing, investment decisions, and pursuit of business opportunities, among others. In addition, our employees and agents may make decisions beyond their scope of authority and that exposes us to excessive risks. Although we endeavour, in the design and implementation of our compensation and incentive plans and internal control system, to avoid giving our employees and agents incentives to take excessive risks, they may make decisions that expose us to risks regardless of the structure of our compensation and incentive plans and internal control systems. Similarly, due to the large size of our operations and the large number of our branches, we cannot assure that we will always be able to effectively monitor and control excessive risks taken by our employees and agents. For instance, in Fiscal 2012, our Company was censured by the IRDAI owing to, amongst other things, our inability to furnish copies of approvals granted to us by the IRDAI (in accordance with applicable regulations) for opening/closing branches in India. While charges were not pressed by the IRDAI, the impact of similar risks or mistakes could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects. Copies of approvals of certain branches are not available with the Company and we cannot assure you that the IRDAI will not initiate action against us in the future.

Any future expansion and diversification in our insurance product offerings and investments will require us to continue to enhance our risk management and internal control capabilities. Our failure to timely adapt our risk management and internal control policies and procedures to our developing business could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

15. Regulatory and statutory actions against us or our distributors could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects and cause us reputational harm.

We are subject to extensive laws and regulations issued by the IRDAI and other regulatory and/or statutory authorities in India, and, from time to time, we may be subjected to regulatory actions. Our Company has in the past received, and has been receiving, various queries and clarifications from the IRDAI, including in relation to inspection of policyholders' grievances, compliance with investment limits specified under the IRDAI Investment Regulations, alleged deficiencies observed by the IRDAI during an onsite inspection of our corporate agents, excessive payments by our Company to certain corporate agents, compliance with anti-money laundering laws, discrepancies in audited year end statistics submitted by our Company with the IRDAI and corporate governance compliance status reports. Failure to satisfactorily address these queries and clarifications in a timely manner or at all may result in our Company being subject to regulatory actions by the IRDAI and penalties. Further, responding to these regulatory actions, regardless of their ultimate outcome, requires a significant investment of resources and management's time and effort. Moreover, our provisions for regulatory actions may be inadequate. Given the uncertainties and complexity of many of these regulatory actions, their outcome generally cannot be predicted with any reasonable degree of certainty.

We are subject to periodic examinations by the IRDAI and other Indian governmental authorities. The IRDAI may issue directions or advices to the Company from time to time which may require certain expenses to be borne by the shareholders, such as remuneration to executive directors above ₹15 million per annum and penalties imposed by the IRDAI. The regulators may impose penalties and/or sanctions on us for non-compliance. For more details, see "Our Business—Legal Proceedings", "Outstanding Litigation and Material Developments" and "Regulations and Policies—Certain guidelines and circulars prescribed by the IRDAI" on pages 233, 610 and 235 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, respectively. Pursuant to the Insurance Act and the File and Use Guidelines, every insurance product offered by us, including the terms and pricing, as well as benefits payable under these products, is subject to prior approval by IRDAI.

For further details, please refer to "Outstanding Litigation and Material Developments—Actions by statutory or regulatory authorities against our Company (pending actions or any actions taken in the past five years)". There can be no assurance that similar events will not occur in future, which may result in imposition of penalties by IRDAI or other regulators for failure to comply with applicable regulations. These and future examinations or proceedings by regulatory authorities may result in the imposition of penalties and/or sanctions, withdrawal of top-selling and/or profitable products or issuance of negative reports or opinions, that could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects. These government examinations or proceedings may also result in negative publicity, which could significantly harm our corporate image and reputation.

We are also exposed to risks, including regulatory actions, arising due to improper business practices such as inadequate due diligence, including customer verification, non-adherence to anti-money laundering guidelines, and customer needs analysis, in the sales process.

Any fraud, sales misrepresentation, money laundering and other misconduct committed by our employees, agents and distribution partners could result in violations of laws and regulations by us and subject us to regulatory sanctions. Even if such instances of misconduct do not result in any legal liabilities on our part, they could cause serious reputational or financial harm to us.

In addition, our corporate agents, brokers and other intermediaries are also subject to regulatory oversight of the IRDAI, in addition to any other regulators within their industries. Any regulatory action against such partners could reduce our ability to distribute our products through them, harm our reputation and have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

Additionally, if any new developments arise, including a change in Indian laws or regulations or decisions adverse to us by the appellate courts or tribunals, we may face losses and we may have to make further provisions in our financial statements, which could increase our expenses and our liabilities. Decisions in such proceedings adverse to our interests may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

To the extent that we enter new geographies or new product markets, the complexity of our regulatory environment will increase, potentially increasing the cost of compliance and the risk of non-compliance.

16. Failure to secure new distribution relationships, as well as any termination or disruption of our existing distribution relationships, may have a material adverse effect on our competitiveness and result in a material impact on our financial condition and results of operations.

Apart from our bancassurance distribution channel, we have increasingly focused on developing our sales through our individual agents, direct, and brokers and others distribution channels. As these distribution channels become increasingly important in the Indian life insurance industry, if we fail to secure new distribution relationships or to maintain our existing relationships, our competitiveness may be materially and adversely affected. Many of our distribution relationships are non-exclusive.

We face intense competition to attract and retain our individual agents, and we compete with other companies for their services, primarily on the basis of our reputation, product range, compensation and retirement benefits, training, support services and financial position. We may not always be successful in attracting individual agents, and we cannot assure you that we will be successful in retaining our existing individual agents in light of the intense competition for talented individual insurance agents as a result of the rapid development of the Indian life insurance industry. In addition, the imposition of caps on the commissions payable to individual agents in respect of sales of unit-linked and traditional insurance products have led to an exit of individual agents from the India insurance industry. If we are unsuccessful in attracting and retaining individual agents, our ability to effectively market and distribute our products may be negatively affected, which would in turn have a material adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations. It is also time consuming and costly to recruit, train and deploy individual agents. Our direct distribution channel could be adversely impacted by the loss of frontline sales staff, improper activities when selling insurance products, mishandling of customer complaints, changing regulation and suspension of our direct marketing programmes. To the extent we are not able to maintain our existing distribution relationships or secure new distribution relationships, we may not be able to maintain or grow our premiums, and our financial condition and results of operations may be materially and adversely impacted.

17. Our operations could be disrupted by unexpected network interruptions caused by system failures, natural disasters, terrorist attacks, unauthorised tampering or security breaches of our information technology systems.

We, like all insurance companies, are exposed to many types of operational risk, and there can be no assurance that we will not suffer losses from operational risks in the future, and our reputation could be adversely affected by the occurrence of any such events. Our key operational risks include:

- human and systems errors when executing complex and high volume transactions;
- incorrect calculations of our net asset values;
- failure of technology in our processes causing errors or disrupting our operations;
- inadequate technology infrastructure or inappropriate systems architecture;
- failure to adequately monitor and control our various distributor partners;
- failure to replace end-of-life systems;
- failure to implement sufficient information security controls;
- an interruption in services by our service providers; and
- damage to physical assets, either IT assets or non-IT assets.

If any such operational risks, including any of the foregoing, were to occur, it could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects. Although, there have not been any major instances where operational risks have caused a material adverse effect on our business operations during the past three years, we cannot assure you that such instances may not occur in the future.

18. Failures of or inadequacies in our information technology systems could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial position, results of operations and prospects.

Our business depends heavily on the ability of our information technology systems to timely process a large number of transactions across different distribution channels and numerous product lines. In particular, transaction processes have become increasingly complex and the volume of transactions continues to grow at a significant rate.

The proper functioning of our financial controls, accounting, customer database, customer service and other data processing systems, including those relating to sales, underwriting and claims processing functions, together with the communications systems linking our headquarters, local operating units and main information technology centres, is critical to our operations and to our ability to compete effectively. Our business activities would be materially disrupted in the event of a partial or complete failure of any of these information technology or communications systems. These failures could be caused by, among other things, software bugs, computer virus attacks, malware and cybersecurity attacks, conversion errors due to system upgrading, failure to successfully implement ongoing information technology initiatives, natural disasters such as earthquakes and floods, war, terrorist attacks and unanticipated problems at our existing and future facilities. Although we maintain disaster recovery facilities for critical systems at a single location designed to be activated in the event of a system failure, we cannot assure you that our business activities would not be materially disrupted in the event of a partial or complete failure of any of these or other information technology systems or related processes.

We may be unable to prevent or address, any disruption to the operation of our information technology system in a timely manner, or upgrade our information technology or communications systems. Any such failure could result in our inability to perform, or result in prolonged delays in the performance of, critical business and operational functions, the loss of key business information and customer data, or a failure to comply with regulatory requirements. Any such failure could also affect our risk management and customer service functions, resulting in a material adverse effect on our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations. A failure of our information technology or communications systems could damage our reputation and have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

19. Higher expenses than expected could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial position and results of operations.

We price our products based on assumptions for expenses we expect to incur. The assumptions for expenses include policy issuance cost, infrastructure related costs, employee costs, policy maintenance cost and other support costs. Expenses may be higher than expected due to specific events and changes in macroeconomic conditions including inflation, changes in regulations, competition dynamics, distributor pressures, people and other factors. In addition, significant variation of actual inflation from our assumptions could also result in higher than expected expenses. If actual incurred expenses exceed the priced levels, it could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. There can be no assurance that we will be able to control or maintain our costs due to low productivity or increased competition. Any of these could cause higher than expected expenses and could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. Given the cap on charges on unit-linked products, the ability to absorb expenses in the pricing of our various products differs across products. Hence any shift in product mix could impact our segment level expense ratios and hence our financial condition and results of operations. In addition, since a portion of our expenses are fixed, if future sales are lower than expected, our expenses may not fall proportionally, or at all. This could adversely affect our margins, and thereby, our financial condition and results of operations.

20. We operate in a highly regulated industry and any changes in the regulations or enforcement thereof may adversely affect our business.

We are subject to a wide variety of insurance laws and regulations. The laws and regulations or the regulatory or enforcement environment may change at any time, which may have an adverse effect on the products or services we offer, the value of our assets or our business in general. Laws and regulations governing the insurance industry have become increasingly complex governing a wide variety of issues, including foreign investment, liquidity, capital adequacy, investments, money laundering, privacy, record keeping, marketing and selling practices. Any change in IRDAI policy, including in relation to investment or provisioning or rural and social sector obligations or norms, may result in our inability to meet such increased or changed requirements as well as require us to increase our coverage to relatively riskier segments.

There are a number of restrictions under the Insurance Act, which impede our operating flexibility and affect or restrict investors' shareholding or rights. These include the following:

- Investment restrictions: In terms of the Investment Regulations, we are bound to invest a fixed percentage of our controlled fund for certain products in certain specified categories of assets and instruments, including bonds and securities issued by various government institutions. For example our Company is required to invest a minimum of 50% of our life fund (funds other than those relating to our pension, general annuity and group businesses and unit reserves of all categories of our unit-linked business) in government securities and a minimum of 15% of our life funds in housing and infrastructure sectors. Additionally, IRDAI issues from time to time exposure norms and prudential norms which govern the types and categories of securities in which we are permitted to invest;
- Foreign investment and transfer restrictions: The total foreign investment in our Company is currently limited to 49%, and there are certain restrictions on transfers of Equity Shares of our Company. For further information, see "There are restrictions on transfers under the Insurance Act and the relevant IRDAI regulations" on page 62 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus;
- Restrictions on place of business: The Insurance Act and the IRDAI (Places of Business) Regulations, 2015 require that approval of the IRDAI be obtained prior to opening an office or branch inside or outside India;
- Approval for appointment of certain KMPs and the Remuneration Guidelines: Pursuant to Section 34A of the Insurance Act, no appointment, re-appointment or termination of appointment, or amendment to the terms of remuneration of a managing or whole time director, manager or a chief executive officer, of an insurance company may be effected without the prior approval of IRDAI. The IRDAI has also issued the Remuneration Guidelines which are guidelines on remuneration payable to non-executive directors, chief executive officers, whole time directors and managing directors. Further, in terms of the IRDAI Guidelines on 'Indian Owned and Controlled' dated October 19, 2015, the right to appoint any chairman who exercises a casting vote is required to be retained and exercised by the Indian promoters and/or investors and the appointment of any chief executive officer is required to be through the Board of Directors or by the Indian promoter/ investor;
- Obligations to rural and social sectors: The IRDAI (Obligation of Insurers to Rural and Social Sectors) Regulations, 2015, require an insurer to undertake certain insurance related business in rural and social sectors; and
- Format of Financial Statements: The IRDA (Preparation of Financial Statements and Auditor's Report of Insurance Companies) Regulations, 2002 require insurance companies to prepare financial statements in a prescribed format.

Further, the ICDR Regulations require the Company to disclose Restated Financial Information in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. The form and format of the Restated Financial Information prescribed under the ICDR Regulations are different from the form and format prescribed under the insurance laws and regulations and thus, the Company has complied with the said requirements of the ICDR Regulations to the extent applicable. The IRDAI Issuance of Capital Regulations also require additional financial information to be presented to it for a life insurer going public. Similarly, the Listing Regulations will be applicable to our Company immediately upon the listing of the Equity Shares with the Stock Exchanges. Upon listing, we will be required to comply with provisions pertaining to preparation of financial statements as provided therein. The form and format of the financial statements required under the Listing Regulations may be different from the form and format prescribed under the insurance laws and regulations. Additionally, compliance with Regulation 40 of the Listing Regulations with respect to effecting transfer of securities, shall be subject to the restrictions stipulated under insurance laws and regulations (including the Insurance Act and Listed Indian Insurance Companies Guidelines).

Ensuring compliance with these laws and regulations and the enforcement thereof could have a material adverse effect on the manner in which business is carried on thereby affecting our financial condition and results of operations. Future changes in laws and regulations and failure or the apparent failure to address any regulatory changes or enforcement initiatives could have an adverse impact on our business, our future financial performance and our shareholders' funds or policyholders' funds, harm our reputation, subject us to penalties, fines, disciplinary actions or suspensions of any kind or increase our litigation risks and have an adverse effect on the price of our Equity Shares.

- 21. Our Company is currently not in possession of certain of its secretarial records and filings for the period since its incorporation until 2010. There have also been inadvertent discrepancies in relation to certain secretarial records and filings by our Company. Accordingly, we cannot assure you that our Company will not be subject to any action, including monetary penalties, by the relevant regulatory authority in this regard.

We manage our internal compliance by monitoring and evaluating internal controls, and ensuring all applicable statutory and regulatory compliances. However, there can be no assurance that deficiencies in our internal controls will not arise, or that we will be able to implement, and continue to maintain, adequate measures to rectify or mitigate any such deficiencies in our internal controls, in a timely manner or at all.

For instance, our Company is currently not in possession of certain of its secretarial records and filings for the period since its incorporation until 2010. Accordingly, some of the information included in the section "Capital Structure" on page 106 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus is based on other documentation available with our Company, including annual returns and alternate secretarial records and filings. While we believe that these secretarial records and filings were prepared and submitted to the relevant regulatory authority by our Company, wherever applicable, we cannot assure you we will be able to locate these secretarial records and filings in the future. There have also been inadvertent discrepancies in relation to certain secretarial records and filings by our Company. Accordingly, we cannot assure you that our Company will not be subject to any action, including monetary penalties by the relevant regulatory authority on account of any inadvertent discrepancies in, or non-availability of, any of its secretarial records and filings, which may adversely affect our reputation.

- 22. The actuarial valuations of policies with outstanding liabilities are not required to be audited and if such valuation is incorrect, it could have an adverse impact on our financial position.

The actuarial valuation presented in our financial statements and elsewhere of liabilities for our policies with outstanding liabilities are performed by our Appointed Actuary. In India, the appointed actuary of an insurance company certifies such valuation and that in his/her opinion, the assumptions for such valuation are in accordance with the guidelines and norms issued by the IRDAI and the Institute of Actuaries of India in concurrence with the IRDAI. Our auditors rely upon our Appointed Actuary's certificate and do not review or audit such valuation independently, which might differ from practices in other jurisdictions. If the assumptions and/or models used to conduct such an actuarial valuation of our liabilities are incorrect, or if there is an error in a calculation, it could have an adverse impact on our financial condition, given that there is no independent assurance on the actuarial liabilities through an audit process.

We regularly monitor the assumptions used in the calculation of reserves such as discount rates, mortality, morbidity, expenses including expense inflation and persistency. If we, based on the review of assumptions, conclude that our assumptions need to be revised which may require us to increase our reserves and incur income statement charges for the period during which we make the determination, as well as lead to an increase in our pricing of certain products. Any of these changes could have material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

- 23. We have limited experience investing in certain asset classes that have only recently been permitted by IRDAI and investing in other asset classes that may be permitted in the future.

In recent years, IRDAI has significantly expanded the scope of permitted investments for Indian insurance companies. For example, IRDAI has recently allowed insurance companies to invest in real estate investment trusts and infrastructure investment trusts. We expect that IRDAI will continue to expand the list of permitted investments to include newer types of securities. When making investments in such new asset classes, we may face new and heightened risks due in part to our limited experience in investing in such asset classes. The risk and liquidity profiles of these new asset classes may be significantly different from those of the asset classes that we traditionally invest in, and investments in these asset classes may increase the overall risk exposure of our investment portfolio. While we have an investment management framework in place, our lack of investment experience in certain new asset classes could reduce our investment returns and cause our investment returns to fall below expectations, which could in turn have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

24. We are subject to the credit risk of our investment counterparties, including the issuers or borrowers whose securities or loans we hold.

Issuers or borrowers whose securities or loans we hold may default on their obligations to us. Any default in the payment of interest or repayment of the principal by the issuer of such instruments may have an adverse impact on our financial condition and cash flows. We are also subject to credit risk with the counterparties and clearing houses we transact with in the market.

Although we attempt to minimise the risks associated with investments through diversification, improving our credit analysis capability, monitoring current interest rate trends and using clearing houses for the settlement of equity, debt, money market and derivatives transactions, we cannot assure you that we are able to identify and mitigate credit risks successfully. As a result, the losses in fair value or realised losses we could incur on investments we hold as well as a significant downgrade in the credit rating of the debt securities owned by us could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects. Furthermore, the counterparties in our investments, including issuers of securities we hold, banks that hold our deposits and any such entity which has a financial obligation to us, may default on their obligations to us due to bankruptcy, lack of liquidity, economic downturns, operational failure, fraud or other reasons. We are also subject to the risk that our rights against these counterparties may not be enforceable in all circumstances.

25. Concentration of our investment portfolio in any particular asset class, market or industry may increase our risk of suffering investment losses.

Events or developments that have a negative effect on any particular industry, asset class, group of related industries, country or geographic region may have a greater negative effect on our investment portfolio to the extent that our portfolio is concentrated. These types of concentrations in our investment portfolio increase the risk that, in the event we experience a significant loss in any of these investments, our financial condition and results of operations would be materially and adversely affected. As at June 30, 2017, fixed income securities portfolio represented 57.4% of our total AUM, and we hold significant amounts of government and governmental agency bonds and corporate bonds. As a result, we have significant credit exposure to sovereign and corporate issuers.

We are not permitted to invest any of our policyholders' or shareholders' funds outside India, whether directly or indirectly. The performance of our fixed income securities investment portfolio is therefore particularly sensitive to market and macroeconomic conditions in India, including the financial performance and repayment ability of certain Indian state-related entities, some of which may depend on government support. As at June 30, 2017, 48.6% and 33.3% of our corporate bonds were held in the infrastructure facilities, and the financial and insurance activities sectors, respectively. In particular, since the financial and insurance activities sector is significantly dependent on macroeconomic conditions, such concentration could have an adverse impact especially during periods of economic volatility.

In addition, if we become subject to additional restrictions in future with regard to the asset classes that we are permitted to invest in, our portfolio may not be sufficiently diversified to mitigate the effects of potential concentration risk. For further details on the regulation of our investments, see "Regulations and Policies in India" on page 235 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

26. We are obliged to collect certain information in relation to our customers and counterparties and depend on the accuracy and completeness of information provided by or on behalf of such persons.

In deciding whether to issue policies to customers, pay out claims or enter into other transactions with counterparties, we necessarily have to rely on information furnished to us by or on behalf of our customers and counterparties, including personal details, their medical histories, income statements and other financial information. Our financial condition and results of operations could be negatively affected by relying on any incorrect, misleading or incomplete information sourced from customers and counterparties. Such information might include non-disclosure of pre-existing medical conditions, inaccurate, incomplete or forged income and financial statements, KYC documents, thereby leading to violation of laws including the anti-money laundering related laws. In the past, our Company has been subjected to caution by the IRDAI in connection with lapses in our Company's KYC and anti-money laundering ("AML") processes. In early 2013, online magazine Cobrapost accused us and several other financial institutions in India of deficient anti-money laundering practices. Pursuant to such accusations, IRDAI conducted inspections at certain of our branches and issued a show cause notice directing us to respond to charges of failing to comply with the Anti Money Laundering Guidelines issued by IRDAI. Thereafter, by way of an order dated February 11, 2014, IRDAI highlighted certain instances of non-compliance by us in respect of the AML Guidelines and directed us to maintain vigilance and comply strictly with the provisions of the AML Guidelines, including strengthening of KYC norms and STR monitoring.

In addition, pursuant to an amendment to Section 45 of the Insurance Act, all life insurance companies are prohibited from calling in to question a life insurance policy on any grounds, including misstatement of facts or fraud, at any time after three years from the date of the policy, i.e., the later of (i) date of issuance of policy, (ii) commencement of risk or (iii) revival of policy (or any rider to the policy). If we are unable to detect any such misstatement or fraud within the stipulated period, we could be subjected to higher morbidity, mortality and credit risks than those we have assumed. This could lead to higher claim payments to customers and could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

While we are implementing measures aimed at minimising the inaccuracy and incompleteness of information provided by or on behalf of our customers and counterparties, improving detection and prevention of employees' and external parties' frauds, sales misrepresentations, money laundering and other misconduct, we may not be able to timely detect or prevent such misconduct, which could harm our reputation and have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects. We also cannot assure you that such incidents will not recur, and any such recurrences could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and reputation.

27. We have entered into certain related party transactions in the past and may continue to do so in the future.

We have entered into transactions with related parties, including our Promoters and with certain Group Companies, pursuant to which we have made payments including commission expense, purchase of investments, payments towards display of publicity materials and space sharing at locations, dividends paid, name usage fees, income for sharing of resources, property valuation services and insurance premium expenses, on an arm's length basis. For more information on our related party transactions, see "Related Party Transactions" on page 311 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Certain related party transactions also require the approval of our shareholders (where the related parties are required to abstain from voting on such resolutions). There can be no assurance that such transactions will be approved. There can also be no assurance that we will be able to maintain existing terms, or in case of any future transactions with related parties, that such transactions will be on terms favourable to us in future. While we believe that all of our related party transactions have been conducted on an arm's length basis, we cannot assure you that we could not have achieved more favourable terms had such transactions been entered into with unrelated parties. In addition, it is highly likely that we will enter into further related party transactions in the future. Any future transactions with our related parties could potentially involve conflict of interests. There can be no assurance that such transactions, individually or in the aggregate, will not have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

28. We rely on third-party service providers in several areas integral to our operations and hence do not have full control over the services provided to us or our customers.

Our outsourcing activities are regulated by the IRDAI and we are not permitted to outsource certain activities. We rely on third parties in several areas of our operations on a regular basis. In particular, we have outsourced a portion of our operations, such as information technology, human resources, facility management, marketing and call centre services, to third parties, in compliance with applicable regulations. If any of these third parties were to terminate their contractual relationships with us, or fail to provide services to us for any reason, whether as a result of a lack of robust business continuity planning processes on their part or otherwise, and we were unable to secure an adequate alternative, our business and results of operations could be materially disrupted and our financial condition could be materially affected. In addition, if we or our third-party service providers fail to operate in compliance with regulations or corporate standards, we could suffer reputational harm, which could cause a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

29. Data privacy laws, rules and regulations could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We are subject to data privacy laws, rules and regulations that regulate the use of customer data. Compliance with these laws, rules and regulations may restrict our business activities, require us to incur increased expense and devote considerable time to compliance efforts. For example, data privacy laws, rules and regulations could limit our ability to leverage our large customer base, as well as the customer base of our distribution partners, to develop cross-selling opportunities. Applicable data privacy laws, rules and regulations could also adversely impact our distribution channels, such as our direct distribution channel, and limit our ability to use third-party firms in connection with customer data. Certain of our corporate agency agreements include provisions providing for the sharing of customer data between us and our bancassurance partners, which will be done in accordance with applicable laws, rules and regulations relating to data privacy.

Certain of these laws, rules and regulations are relatively new and their interpretation and application remain uncertain. Data privacy laws, rules and regulations are also subject to change and may become more restrictive in the future. For example, the Telecom Commercial Communications Customer Preference (Thirteenth Amendment) Regulations, 2013 issued by TRAI regulate unsolicited commercial communications received by consumers and has imposed restrictions, among others, on marketing and commercial calls made by insurance agents and other third parties. This has had a significant impact on the volume of marketing and commercial calls made by insurance agents and other third parties acting on our behalf. Changes or further restrictions in data privacy laws, rules and regulations could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

30. There is a risk that customer data could be lost or misused.

As a financial services group, we maintain significant amounts of highly sensitive customer data, both online and offline. Despite the security measures we have put in place, there remains a risk that such data could be lost and/or misused as a result of an intentional or unintentional act by internal or external parties. For example, we are exposed to cyber threats such as (a) phishing and Trojans-targeting our customers, where fraudsters send unsolicited mails to our customers seeking sensitive customer information or infect customer machines to search and attempt ex-filtration of sensitive customer information; (b) hacking, where attackers seek to hack into our website with the primary intention of causing reputational damage to us by disrupting our services; and (c) data theft, where cyber criminals may attempt to intrude into our network with the intention of stealing our data or information. Attempted cyber threats fluctuate in frequency but are generally not decreasing in frequency.

Any security breach, data theft, unauthorised access, unauthorised usage, virus or similar breach or disruption could result in loss or disclosure of confidential information, damage to our reputation, litigation, regulatory investigations or other liabilities. Actual or perceived concerns that our systems may be vulnerable to such attacks or disruptions may deter our customers from using services and result in negative publicity.

There is also the risk that our customers may incorrectly blame us and terminate their relationships with us for a cyber-incident or data theft which might have occurred on their own system or that was due to the acts of an unrelated third party. Any such loss or misuse of customer data could result in increased regulatory scrutiny, fines, the need to compensate customers, remediation costs and a negative impact on our reputation, with a consequential impact on sales volumes and persistency levels, and hence adversely impact our business, financial condition and results of operations.

31. In the event that HDFC and/or Standard Life Mauritius reduce the percentage of their respective shareholding in our Company, or the Name Usage Agreement is terminated, we may not be permitted to use the “HDFC” and/or “Standard Life” trademarks as part of our brand and name for our business.

“HDFC Life” and our other product names and intellectual property rights are important assets to us. Pursuant to the Shareholders’ Agreement, HDFC and Standard Life Mauritius had permitted us to use the word “HDFC” and “Standard Life” trademarks solely as part of our corporate or trading name, for no consideration. Subsequently, we entered into a Memorandum of Understanding with HDFC dated September 29, 2015 and a Name Usage Agreement with HDFC dated October 20, 2015 (the “Name Usage Agreement”), pursuant to which HDFC granted to our Company, a non-exclusive, non-transferrable and non-assignable license subject to certain conditions, to use and continue to use HDFC’s name and logo as a part of our corporate name or identity or as our brand/name/logo for any purpose related to our business or operations (and whether with or without conjunction with our Promoter’s brand/name/logo) and in the course of promoting, canvassing and publicising our products and services. Further, our Company has the right to use HDFC’s name and HDFC’s logo for the business and operations of its wholly owned subsidiaries or other group companies. The Name Usage Agreement is valid for an initial term of three years from October 20, 2015, and shall be renewed for subsequent three-year terms, unless specifically terminated in accordance with the terms of Name Usage Agreement, for a consideration (payable from April 1, 2015) of 0.3% to 0.5% of premiums earned by our Company, subject to a maximum of ₹1,000 million. The payment of consideration by our Company under the Name Usage Agreement is also subject to receipt of shareholder approval in accordance with the Companies Act in the event the actual amount to be paid as consideration, for a given Fiscal Year, exceeds the payment limits prescribed for such transactions under the Companies Act. For further details on the Name Usage Agreement, see “History and Certain Corporate Matters—Material Agreements—Other Agreements—Name Usage Agreement” on page 253 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

In the event that the Name Usage Agreement expires or is terminated, we may not be permitted to use “HDFC” as part of our brand and name for our and our subsidiaries’ business. Additionally, our right under the Shareholders’ Agreement to use the name “Standard Life” as a part of our corporate name or trading name will terminate with the termination of the Shareholders’ Agreement upon the receipt of listing and trading approval from the Stock Exchanges pursuant to the Offer. Upon termination of the Shareholders’ Agreement, we may be required to discontinue the use of the name “Standard Life” as a part of our corporate and/or trade name and/or take steps for changing our name and/or style. This could require us to expend significant resources to establish new branding and name recognition in the market as well as undertake efforts to rebrand our branches and our digital presence. This could have a material adverse effect on our financial performance.

For further information, see “Our results are dependent on the strength of our brand and reputation, as well as the brand and reputation of other HDFC group entities” on page 29 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

32. We cannot ensure that our intellectual property is protected from copy or use by others, including our competitors, and intellectual property infringement actions may be brought against us.

We have made applications for the registration of various trademarks associated with our business and operations. As at June 30, 2017, we had 24 trademark applications pending registration, and have registered the “HDFC Life” logo under the Trademarks Act. For complete details of our pending trademark applications and registrations, please see “Government and Other Approvals” on page 635 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

We cannot assure you that we will be able to register all of the trademarks applied for in our name, and such failure may materially and adversely affect our business prospects, reputation and goodwill. Pending completion of registration proceedings, any third-party claim on our “HDFC Life” brand or our other intellectual property may lead to erosion of our business value and our operations could be adversely affected. We may need to litigate in order to determine the validity of such claims and the scope of the proprietary rights of others. Any such litigation could be time consuming and costly, and a favourable outcome cannot be assured. Even if our trademarks are registered, we may not be able to detect any unauthorised use or infringement or take appropriate and timely steps to enforce or protect our intellectual property, nor can we provide any assurance that any unauthorised use or infringement will not cause material damage to our business prospects, reputation and goodwill. There is no assurance, however, that we will not receive an objection to the pending trademark applications. Any claim in relation to the use of the current “HDFC Life” logo by our Group in the future, regardless of its merits, may give rise to increased trademark prosecution and potential litigation costs.

We may also be subject to claims that we have breached our licensed use of software or otherwise infringed on the intellectual property of third parties, including infringement by service providers who use such licences to provide services to us.

Any of the above matters could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial performance and the trading price of our Equity Shares.

33. Catastrophic events, such as natural disasters, which are often unpredictable, may materially and adversely affect our claims experience, investment portfolio, financial condition and results of operations.

Even though our business is largely conducted in India, the threat of epidemics, international tensions in many parts of the world, terrorism, ongoing and future military and other actions, heightened security measures in response to these threats, natural disasters, climate change or other catastrophes may cause disruptions to commerce, reduced economic activity and market volatility.

The occurrence and severity of many catastrophic events is inherently unpredictable. Our insurance business exposes us to claims arising out of such events and catastrophes affecting a large segment of the population. In our group insurance business, a localised event that affects the workplace of one or more of our group insurance customers could cause a significant loss due to mortality or morbidity claims. In particular, our life insurance business is exposed to the risk of catastrophic mortality, such as an epidemic or other events that cause a large number of deaths. The extent of losses from a catastrophe is a function of both the total amount of insured exposure in the area affected by the event and the severity of the event. Most catastrophes are restricted to small geographic areas; however, pandemics, hurricanes, earthquakes and man-made catastrophes may produce significant damage in larger areas, especially those that are heavily populated. Catastrophic events could also harm the financial condition of our reinsurers and thereby increase the probability of default on reinsurance recoveries and could also reduce our ability to write new business. Furthermore, pandemics, natural disasters, terrorism and fires could disrupt our operations and result in significant loss of property, key personnel and information about our clients and their respective businesses if their business continuity plans fail to cope with the scale or nature of the catastrophe. Such events could adversely affect our business, results of operations, corporate reputation and financial condition for a substantial period of time.

Although we have reinsurance cover to reduce our exposure to catastrophic losses, such reinsurance may not be sufficient to adequately protect us against losses due to limitations in the underwriting capacity, terms and conditions of the reinsurance market and difficulties in assessing our exposure to catastrophes. If catastrophic events covered by our insurance occur with greater frequency and severity than expected, claims arising from such catastrophic events could materially reduce our profits and cash flows and have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. In addition, our investment portfolio, which consists primarily of debt and equity securities, comprises a significant portion of our assets, and catastrophic events may materially and adversely affect market prices for these investments, thereby causing decreased asset values during a period in which we may also experience increases in claims incurred. A decrease in asset value could result in, among other things, a write-down in the fair value of assets and other changes to our earnings, which would reduce our profitability.

34. We may be unable to obtain external reinsurance on a timely basis at reasonable costs and could be exposed to concentration risk with individual reinsurers.

We currently utilise the reinsurance markets primarily to limit our risk, support our growth and manage our capital more efficiently. We are exposed to concentration risk with individual reinsurers due to the nature of the reinsurance market and the restricted range of reinsurers that have acceptable credit ratings. For the three months ended June 30, 2017, our proportion of reinsurance ceded based on the sum at risk, with our largest reinsurance counterparty, Swiss Re Insurance Company, Singapore Branch, was ₹252.2 million, which accounted for 59.8% of our total reinsurance ceded. Reinsurance exposures are aggregated with other exposures to ensure that the overall counterparty risk is within appetite.

Our ability to obtain external reinsurance on a timely basis and at a reasonable cost is subject to a number of factors, many of which are beyond our control. In particular, certain risks that we are subject to, such as epidemics, are difficult to reinsure. While reinsurance agreements generally bind the reinsurer for the life of the business reinsured at generally fixed pricing, market conditions beyond our control determine the availability and cost of the reinsurance protection for new business. In certain circumstances, the price of reinsurance for business already reinsured may also increase. If we are unable to renew any expiring external coverage or obtain acceptable new external reinsurance coverage on terms that would provide us with adequate protection, our net risk exposure could increase or, if we are unwilling to bear an increase in net risk exposure, our overall underwriting capacity and the amount of risk we are able to underwrite would decrease. To the extent that we are unable to utilise external reinsurance successfully, our business, financial condition and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected.

In addition, although a reinsurer would be liable to us for the risk transferred pursuant to a reinsurance arrangement, such an arrangement does not discharge our primary liability to our policyholders. As a result, we are exposed to credit risk with respect to our current and future reinsurers. In particular, our reinsurers may default on their obligations to us under our reinsurance arrangements due to bankruptcy, lack of liquidity, downturns in the economy, operational failure, fraud or other reasons. We are also subject to the risk that our rights against our reinsurers may not be enforceable in all circumstances. As a result, although we seek reinsurance arrangements only with reputable and creditworthy reinsurers, a default by a reinsurer or the unenforceability of our rights against such reinsurer would increase the financial losses arising out of a risk we have insured, which would reduce our profitability and may have a material adverse effect on our liquidity position. We cannot assure you that our reinsurers will always be able to meet their obligations under our reinsurance arrangements on a timely basis, if at all. However, if our reinsurers fail to pay us on a timely basis, or at all, our business, financial condition and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected.

35. A significant proportion of our total new business premiums are generated by unit-linked products and participating products. Any adverse regulatory changes or market developments that adversely impacts sales of such products could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

Sales of unit-linked products contributed 57.5%, 53.8%, 51.7% and 54.2% to our total new business premium for Fiscal 2015, Fiscal 2016, Fiscal 2017 and the three months ended Fiscal 2017, respectively. While the contribution of unit-linked products to our total new business premium has decreased over the past few years, sales of unit-linked products continue to be a significant contributor to our business. If our unit-linked funds underperform their respective benchmarks or significantly underperform products offered by our peers, or if there is a significant decline in equity markets, we may not be able to market these products in the future and may be in a disadvantageous position as compared to our competitors. In addition, sales of participating products contributed 18.9%, 26.7%, 29.7% and 26.3% to our total new business premium for Fiscal 2015, Fiscal 2016, Fiscal 2017 and the three months ended Fiscal 2017, respectively. If our participating products generated lower than expected returns to policyholders, this may result in increased surrenders which would have an adverse impact on our new business premiums.

We cannot be certain that there will be no changes in regulations or customer preferences restricting or limiting the sale or marketing of these products in the future or that in the event of such changes, we would be able to suitably redevelop our product strategy. If we are unable to anticipate market developments, develop and exploit opportunities and create new products, we might be significantly disadvantaged as compared to our competitors willing to offer more attractive products in case of such changes.

Such changes, in the product categories that are significant for us currently or are likely to become significant to our new business in the future, could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

36. As a significant portion of our business is generated from relatively few regions, we are susceptible to economic and other trends and developments, in these areas.

The states of Maharashtra, Gujarat, Karnataka, Tamil Nadu and Delhi accounted for 58.5% and 63.4% of the total received premium from new business retail policies in Fiscal 2017 and the three months ended June 30, 2017, respectively. A decline in local economic conditions which affects the demand for insurance products, affects the ability of consumers to maintain their premium payments or affects the ability of our agents or partners in those regions to conduct their business, may have a greater effect on our financial condition, business and prospects than businesses that are more geographically diverse. Given our geographic concentrations, negative publicity regarding any of our products in these areas could have a material adverse effect on our ability to attract new customers. Other regional occurrences, such as local strikes, terrorist attacks, increases in energy prices, natural or man-made disasters or more stringent state and local laws and regulations, to the extent these affect the demand of insurance products, affect the ability for customers to make their premium payments, prevent our agents from consummating sales or cause concentrated surrenders could also have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

37. Our business and growth plans will depend on how successful we are in implementing our strategies and managing our future growth.

The India life insurance market in India has experienced significant growth in recent years, with total premium growing at a CAGR of 17% from Fiscal 2001 to Fiscal 2017, according to CRISIL. Implementing our strategies and managing our growth to date has required, and is likely to continue to require, significant management and operational resources. We intend to expand our business and operations, and the successful management of any such future growth will require us to, among other things:

- maintain stringent cost controls and a sufficient capital base;
- increase our marketing and sales activities;
- implement appropriate digital initiatives to improve our distribution value proposition and customer experience;
- hire and train sufficient numbers of new employees and agents;
- develop new products and review our existing products to keep pace with consumer trends and demands;
- continue to strengthen our financial and management controls and information technology systems; and
- continue to develop adequate underwriting and claim handling capabilities and skills.

We cannot assure you that we will be successful in implementing our strategies or managing future growth. If we are not able to implement our strategies or manage future growth successfully, our business and prospects may be materially and adversely affected.

38. Our business could be adversely affected if we are unable to obtain regulatory approvals or licenses in the future, or maintain or renew our existing regulatory approvals or licenses.

We require certain approvals, licenses, registrations and permissions for operating our business. Our Company has currently made applications to various governmental authorities in lieu of licenses and approvals that have expired. While we believe that our Company has applied for and obtained the requisite regulatory approvals for opening each of our branch offices, our Company is currently unable to locate certain of these approvals. For further information, please refer to “Government and Other Approvals” on page 635 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus and “Outstanding Litigation and Material Developments” on page 610 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

The failure to obtain or renew licenses required in relation to our business, may materially affect our ability to carry on or conduct our business. Further, any failure to obtain relevant licenses or to comply with the terms of any licenses that we are currently required to maintain, could subject us to penalties and restrict our ability to conduct certain lines of business.

39. We have obtained certain incentives under the ITES Policy, which may cease to apply if we do not obtain necessary approvals.

Our Registered and Corporate Office are located in Lodha Excelus, which is a 100% private sector Information Technology Park developed under the Maharashtra Information Technology / Information Technology Enabled Services Policy (IT / ITES) prevalent in state of Maharashtra from time to time (“ITES Policy”). Further, our Subsidiary, HDFC Pension, is also based out of the same office. We currently own the 11th, 12th, 13th and 14th floors of the building and have obtained certain incentives under the ITES Policy which is valid for a period of three years from January 1, 2016. If we fail to renew the relevant certifications under the ITES Policy, we may lose our ability to use our Corporate and Registered Offices and may incur substantial time and cost in order to obtain alternate office space.

40. Some of our distribution partners, including individual agents, corporate agents, insurance brokers and distributors, may not have obtained the requisite qualifications, licenses or registrations.

The distribution of insurance products is regulated in India. We engage a range of individuals and entities to distribute our products, including individual agents, corporate agents, brokers and other distributors, who are subject to strict eligibility criteria and qualifications and are also required to obtain a valid license or registration from IRDAI prior to distributing insurance products. Despite our internal guidelines and processes to confirm the qualifications of our distributors, the failure of our distributors to meet these requirements has subjected us to penalties in the past, and could subject us to penalties in the future. In addition, we may have to terminate our relationship with distributors who do not meet these requirements. Any of these could materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

41. Our investment portfolio is subject to liquidity risk, which could lead to fluctuations in its value.

Some of our investments may not have sufficient liquidity as a result of a number of factors, including a lack of suitable buyers and market makers, market sentiment and volatility, and size of our investments. Due to the significant size of some of our fixed income investments, relative to the trading volume/size and liquidity of the relevant types of investment in relevant markets, our ability to sell certain bonds without significantly depressing market prices, or at all, may be limited. As a large institutional investor in India, we may also hold significant positions in many of the listed stocks that we directly invest in, and any decision to sell or any perception in the market that we intend to sell could adversely affect the liquidity and market price of such security and, in turn, our returns on investments in such security. We also hold investments in unlisted equity and other investments which are not readily tradable on the market. As at June 30, 2017, unlisted equity comprised 0.60% of our total AUM. If we were required to dispose of these or other potentially illiquid assets on short notice due to significant insurance claims to be paid, surrenders and withdrawals of existing life and health insurance policies or other reasons, we could be forced to sell such assets at prices significantly lower than the prices we have recorded in our consolidated financial statements. As a result, our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects could be materially and adversely affected.

42. Consolidation of distributors of insurance, investment and pension products may have a material adverse effect on the insurance industry and the profitability of our business.

Many of our products are distributed through other financial institutions, such as banks, non-banking finance companies, micro-finance institutions and small finance banks. As industry consolidation increases, the number of financial institutions suitable for distributing our products decreases. A reduction in distributors of insurance, investment and pension products may negatively impact the industry's sales, increase competition for access to distributors, result in greater distribution expenses and potentially impair our ability to market our products to our current customer base or to expand our customer base. In addition, some banks and financial institutions in India are increasingly expanding into the origination, development and sale of insurance products in direct competition with us.

43. If we do not meet solvency ratio requirements, our Company could be subject to regulatory actions and could be forced to raise additional capital.

Indian laws and regulations require us to maintain a control level of solvency. The solvency ratio is the ratio of the excess of assets over liabilities to the required capital. If we fail to meet the relevant control level of solvency requirements, we may be required to submit a financial plan to the IRDAI, indicating a plan of action to correct the deficiency within a specified period not exceeding six months. The IRDAI may propose modifications to the financial plan so submitted if the IRDAI considers the same inadequate, and in such an eventuality, the IRDAI may impose such restrictions as it may deem necessary, including restrictions with regard to transacting any new business or appointment of administrator with respect to our business, or both. In certain exceptional circumstances, this could also potentially result in a suspension of our certificate of registration as a life insurance company. As at March 31, 2015, March 31, 2016, March 31, 2017 and June 30, 2017, our solvency ratio was 196.1%, 198.4%, 191.6% and 197.5%, respectively.

Our solvency ratio is affected by factors such as our amount of capital, product mix, business growth, inadmissible assets and profitability. If our share capital and profit cannot continue to support the growth of our business in the future, if the statutorily required solvency margin increases, if our financial condition or results of operations deteriorate, or for other reasons we cannot comply with the statutory solvency ratio requirements, we may need to raise additional capital in order to meet such requirements. In addition, the IRDAI may raise the control level of solvency or change the solvency regime from the current regime. Any such change, including a change to a risk-based solvency regime, could subject us to significant compliance costs and we may need to raise additional capital in order to achieve compliance with the changed requirement.

Finally, our solvency regime, including the type of assets that can be included in our calculation of available solvency margin, is different from those of other countries. Therefore our solvency ratio might not be comparable to that of insurance companies in other countries with which an investor in the Equity Shares might be familiar.

44. We may need additional capital in the future, and we cannot assure you that we will be able to obtain such capital on acceptable terms or at all.

We may require additional capital in the future in order for us to maintain our solvency ratio, remain competitive, enter new businesses, pay operating expenses, conduct investment activities, meet our liquidity needs, expand our base of operations and offer new products and services. To the extent our existing sources of capital are not sufficient to satisfy our needs, we may have to seek external sources. Our ability to obtain additional capital from external sources in the future is subject to a variety of uncertainties, including:

- our future financial condition, results of operations and cash flows;
- our ability to obtain the necessary regulatory approvals on a timely basis;
- any tightening of credit markets and general market conditions for debt and equity raising activities by insurance companies and other financial institutions; and
- economic, political and social conditions in the geographical markets in which we operate and elsewhere.

We cannot assure you that we will be able to obtain additional capital in a timely manner or on acceptable terms, if at all. In addition, our ability to raise capital is restricted as a result of the IRDAI (Other Forms of Capital) Regulations, 2015. See “Regulations and Policies in India” on page 235 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. Future debt financing could include terms that restrict our financial flexibility or restrict our ability to manage our business freely. Furthermore, the terms and amount of any additional capital raised through issuances of equity securities may result in significant dilution to our shareholders’ equity interests.

45. HDFC is a regulated entity. Any regulation could impact capital contribution and such other support that IRDAI prescribes from promoters.

Indian laws and regulations require us to maintain a certain level of solvency. The IRDAI typically requires, through conditions specified under the certificate of registration or otherwise through regulatory approvals, the shareholders of a life insurance company to contribute capital towards maintaining this prescribed solvency ratio.

Our Promoter, HDFC, is a regulated entity and is required to comply with various regulatory requirements prescribed by the National Housing Bank (“NHB”).

Our other Promoters, Standard Life Mauritius and Standard Life Aberdeen, are not individually regulated entities. Standard Life Aberdeen is the unregulated holding company of the Standard Life Aberdeen group of companies, which is a financial services group containing multiple regulated entities. The Standard Life Aberdeen group is subject to group supervision by the UK’s Prudential Regulation Authority in accordance with Solvency II, as implemented or applicable in the UK.

Regulations which limit the ability of our Promoters to provide capital contribution or such other support as permitted by the IRDAI may impact our ability to meet the prescribed solvency or other regulatory requirements. An inability to maintain the required control level of solvency could lead to regulatory action, which could affect our ability to continue our operations, acquire new business, or implement our growth strategies, thereby adversely affecting our business, financial condition and results of operations.

46. Our Promoters, Directors and Key Management Personnel have interests in us other than reimbursement of expenses incurred or normal remuneration or benefits.

Our Promoters are interested in our Company to the extent of any transactions entered into between them and their shareholding and dividend entitlement in our Company. Some of our Directors are also directors of companies in the Promoter Group. Our Company has entered into a Corporate Agency Agreement with HDFC, wherein HDFC is interested to the extent of receiving commissions in the capacity of a corporate agent from our Company. Our Company has also entered into a Name Usage Agreement to use and continue to use HDFC's name and logo as a part of our corporate name or identity or as our brand/name/logo for any purpose related to our business or operations. For further details, see "Our Promoters and Promoter Group" and "Financial Statements— Statement of Related Parties and Related Party Transactions" on pages 284 and 412 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, respectively.

Additionally, our Directors and Key Management Personnel are interested in our Company to the extent of remuneration paid to them for services rendered as Directors of our Company and reimbursement of expenses payable to them. Our Directors and Key Management Personnel may also be interested to the extent of any transaction entered into by our Company with any other company or firm in which they are directors or partners. Additionally, our Directors and Key Management Personnel may be interested in the Equity Shares held by them or entities with which they are associated as promoters, directors, partners, proprietors or trustees or held by their relatives or that may be subscribed by or allotted to the companies, firms, ventures, trusts in which they are interested as promoters, directors, partners, proprietors, members or trustees, pursuant to this Offer. For further details, see "Our Management" and "Financial Statements— Statement of Related Parties and Related Party Transactions" on pages 256 and 412 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, respectively.

47. We may undertake investments, acquisitions, distribution arrangements, partnerships and new business lines and strategies, which may not be successful.

As part of our overall strategy, we may acquire certain businesses, assets and technologies, as well as develop new products, distribution arrangements and operating procedures that are complementary to our business, whether in India, UAE or in other overseas jurisdictions.

Pursuant to Sections 35 to 37A of the Insurance Act, no insurance business can be transferred or amalgamated with the insurance business of another insurer other than in accordance with a scheme of arrangement and with the approval of IRDAI. Further, IRDAI has the authority to prepare and submit a scheme of arrangement between insurers, (i) in the public interest, (ii) in the interests of the policy-holders, (iii) in order to secure the proper management of an insurer; or (iv) in the interests of insurance business of the country as a whole, for amongst others, the transfer of the business, properties, assets and liabilities of one insurer on such terms and conditions as may be specified in the scheme. On August 8, 2016, we entered into an agreement to amalgamate our business with the life insurance business of Max Life and Max Financial. This transaction was mutually terminated on July 31, 2017 since the parties did not receive the requisite regulatory approvals.

Such transactions and initiatives could require that our management develop expertise in new areas, manage new business relationships and attract new types of customers. This may require significant attention from our management, and the diversion of our management's attention and resources could have a material adverse effect on our ability to manage our business. For example, between August 2016 and July 2017, the then-ongoing proposed amalgamation with Max Life and Max Financial demanded a significant amount of our resources and management attention, including resources and attention that would otherwise have been utilised to further our ongoing corporate initiatives. In addition, we cannot assure you that we will receive regulatory approvals for any future acquisitions or investments.

Even if we are successful in completing any investments or acquisitions, we may experience difficulties integrating any investments, acquisitions, distribution arrangements and/or partnerships into our existing business and operations. We cannot assure you that we will be able to successfully implement these initiatives or that we will be able to identify successful initiatives in the future. If we fail to successfully identify or undertake future investments, acquisitions, distribution arrangements, partnerships and new business lines and strategies, we may experience a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

48. Our Promoters, HDFC, Standard Life Mauritius and Standard Life Aberdeen, and/or certain of our Directors may be subject to conflicts of interest because of their interests in another insurance company which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

One of our Promoters, HDFC and/or certain of our Directors and related entities hold direct and indirect interests in HDFC ERGO General Insurance Company Limited (which is engaged in the general insurance and health insurance business) and HDFC Asset Management Company Limited (which is engaged in the fund management business). IRDAI permits general insurance companies and life insurance companies to offer products with health insurance features. Additionally, one of our Promoters, Standard Life Aberdeen, through its direct material subsidiaries, is involved in the life insurance and pension business (through Standard Life Assurance Limited) and asset management business (through Aberdeen Asset Management PLC and Standard Life Investments (Holdings) Limited).

It is possible that certain of our Promoters' affiliates may seek to offer life insurance products in some of our future geographical markets and compete with our life insurance business. Due to such conflicts of interest, our Promoters or some of our Directors may make decisions regarding our operations, financial structure or commercial transactions that may not be in our or other shareholders' best interests. They may also enable a competitor to take advantage of a corporate opportunity at our expense. Such decisions could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects. If competitive pressure posed to us by any of our Promoters' affiliates were to increase in the future and we were unable to compete effectively, our business and prospects could be materially harmed.

49. Our ability to pay dividends in the future will depend upon our future earnings, financial condition, cash flows, working capital requirements, capital expenditures and applicable Indian legal restrictions, as well as the terms of our financing arrangements we may enter into in future.

Any dividends to be declared and paid in the future are required to be recommended by our Company's Board of Directors and approved by its Shareholders, at their discretion, subject to the provisions of the Articles of Association and applicable law, including the Companies Act and the Insurance Act. For instance, Section 49 of the Insurance Act states that an insurer for the purpose of declaring and paying any dividend to shareholders is prohibited from utilising directly or indirectly any portion of the life insurance fund or any other such equivalent fund, apart from the surplus as represented in the valuation balance sheet submitted to the IRDAI as part of the actuarial abstract. Our ability to pay dividends will depend on our earnings, financial condition and capital requirements, and applicable Indian legal restrictions. Our business is capital intensive and we may incur additional expenses to grow and sustain our business. Our historical payment of dividends is not indicative of any payments of dividends in the future. We may be unable to pay dividends in the near or medium term and our future dividend policy will depend on our capital requirements, financial condition and results of operations. For further details, see "Dividend Policy" on page 312 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

50. Contingent liabilities could adversely affect our financial condition.

The table below sets forth our contingent liabilities as at June 30, 2017.

	As at June 30, 2017 (₹in millions)
Partly paid-up investments	8,850.0
Claims, other than against policies, not acknowledged as debts by the Company	7.7
Guarantees given by or on behalf of the Company	0.9
Statutory demands and liabilities in dispute, not provided for	997.3
Total contingent liabilities	9,855.9

For further details regarding our contingent liabilities, see “Financial Statements” and “Management’s Discussion and Analysis on Financial Position and Results of Operations—Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets—Contingent Liabilities” on pages 313 and 561 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus respectively.

Our contingent liabilities may become actual liabilities. In the event that any of our contingent liabilities materialise, our business, financial condition and results of operations may be adversely affected. Furthermore, there can be no assurance that we will not incur similar or increased levels of contingent liabilities in the current fiscal year or in the future.

- 51. The leave and license agreements entered into by our Company in relation to certain of our Company’s branches may be inadequately stamped and may not have been registered and as a consequence we may not be able to enforce our rights under such agreements, which could impair our operations, and which, in turn, could adversely affect our financial condition, cash flows and results of operation.

Certain of the leave and license agreements entered into by our Company in relation to certain of our Company’s branches may be inadequately stamped. As a result, these agreements may be inadmissible as evidence before a court of law. Documents which are insufficiently stamped are also capable of being impounded by a public offer. Further, certain of the leave and license agreements entered into by our Company in relation to certain of our Company’s branches may not have been registered. Accordingly, we cannot assure you that we would be able to enforce our rights under such agreements or in respect of such immovable properties on which such branches are located, and any inability to do so, could impair our operations, which could, in turn, adversely affect our financial condition, cash flows and results of operation.

- 52. Certain of our Group Companies have incurred losses in the preceding fiscal year and may incur losses in the future. One of our Group Companies may also have unsecured loans.

Certain of our Group Companies incurred losses in Fiscal 2015, Fiscal 2016 and Fiscal 2017. For further details of our loss making Group Companies, see “Our Promoters, Promoter Group and Group Companies—Loss making Group Companies” on page 310 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. There can be no assurance that our Group Companies will not incur losses in the future.

One of our Group Companies, Pentagram Properties Private Limited, has entered into borrowing arrangements with entities pursuant to which it has unsecured debt outstanding which are repayable on demand. There can be no assurance that the lenders will not recall such borrowings or our Group Companies will be able to repay loans advanced to them in a timely manner or at all.

- 53. This Draft Red Herring Prospectus contains information from the Industry Report which we have commissioned from CRISIL.

The information in the sections entitled “Summary of Industry”, and “Industry Overview” on pages 67 and 162 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus includes information that is derived from the Industry Report. We commissioned this report for the purpose of confirming our understanding of the industry in connection with the Offer. Neither we, any of the Selling Shareholders, any of the BRLMs, nor their associates or affiliates, nor any other person connected with the Offer has verified the information in the Industry Report. CRISIL has advised that while it has taken due care and caution in preparing the report based on information obtained from sources which it considers reliable, it does not guarantee the accuracy, adequacy or completeness of the Industry Report or the data therein and is not responsible for any errors or omissions or for the results obtained from the use of Industry Report or the data therein. The Industry Report highlights certain industry and market data relating to the Company and its competitors. Such data is subject to many assumptions. There are no standard data gathering methodologies in the industry in which we conduct our business, and methodologies and assumptions may vary widely among different industry sources. Further, such assumptions may change based on various factors. We cannot assure you that CRISIL’s assumptions are correct or will not change and accordingly our position in the market may differ from that presented in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. Further, the Industry Report is not a recommendation to invest or disinvest in our Company or any company covered in the Industry Report. CRISIL has stated that it is not responsible for any loss or damage arising from the use of the Industry Report. Prospective investors are advised not to unduly rely on the Industry Report when making their investment decision.

54. We have in the last 12 months issued Equity Shares at a price that could be lower than the Offer Price.

We have in the last twelve months prior to filing this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, issued Equity Shares at prices that could be lower than the Offer Price. For further details regarding such issuances of Equity Shares, see “Capital Structure—Notes to Capital Structure” on page 107 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. Going forward, our Company may continue to issue Equity Shares, including under the ESOP Scheme(s), at prices that may be lower than the Offer Price.

55. Our limited operating history in the pension fund management and reinsurance sectors makes it difficult to evaluate our results of operations and prospects. In addition, our newly-established reinsurance business exposes us to risks associated with international activities.

Our subsidiary, HDFC Pension, was only established on June 20, 2011 and has a limited operating history. HDFC Pension’s operating history makes the prediction of its future results of operations difficult and, therefore, past revenue growth experienced by HDFC Pension should not be taken as indicative of its future performance. Prospective investors should consider HDFC Pension’s business and prospects in light of the risks, uncertainties, expenses and challenges that it faces as an early-stage pension management company operating in a new, rapidly evolving and challenging market.

Our reinsurance subsidiary, HDFC International, was only incorporated on January 10, 2016 in the DIFC. We have limited experience operating in international sectors and in the reinsurance business, which may involve risks that are not generally encountered when doing business only in India. These risks include, but are not limited to:

- limited loss history and information regarding claims in the life insurance and reinsurance markets in the UAE and other countries in the Middle East;
- changes in foreign currency exchange rates and financial risks arising from transactions in multiple currencies;
- difficulty in developing, managing and staffing international operations because of distance, language and cultural differences;
- higher-than-anticipated labour costs due to high wage inflation across different international locations, differences in general employment conditions and the degree of employee unionisation and activism;
- business, political and economic instability in foreign locations, including actual or threatened terrorist activities, and military action;
- adverse laws and regulatory requirements, including a regulatory framework that is different from India;
- limitations on cross border insurance or currency controls;
- potentially more restrictive data privacy requirements;
- governmental policies or actions, such as consumer protection, labour welfare and trade protection measures;
- stringent competition and high barriers of entry; and
- taxes, restrictions on foreign investment, and limits on the repatriation of funds.

Any of the foregoing risks may adversely affect our ability to enter into new markets and to conduct and grow our business internationally.

56. A majority of our business operations are being conducted on leased premises. Our inability to seek renewal or extension of such leases may materially affect our business operations.

A majority of our business operations are being conducted on premises leased from various third parties. We may also enter into such transactions with third parties in the future. Any adverse impact on the title, ownership rights, development rights of the owners from whose premises we operate, breach of the contractual terms of any lease, leave and license agreements, or any inability to renew such agreements on acceptable terms may materially affect our business operations.

Risks relating to the Indian insurance industry

57. We face significant competition and our business and prospects will be materially harmed if we are not able to compete effectively.

We face significant competition in India in respect of our life insurance business and pension business. Our ability to compete is based on a number of factors, including premiums charged and other terms and conditions of coverage, product features, investment performance, services provided, distribution capabilities, scale, experience, commission structure, brand strength and name recognition, information technology and actual or perceived financial strength.

Our primary competitors include private and public life insurance companies in India. Our other competitors include non-life insurance companies (to the extent that they distribute health insurance products), health insurance companies, pension funds, mutual fund companies, reinsurance companies, banks and other financial services providers. We also face potential competition from commercial banks, which are permitted to invest in, or form alliances with, insurance companies to offer insurance products and services that compete against those offered by us. Closer integration between the insurance and banking sectors may potentially better align their economic interests and increase incentives for banks to distribute insurance products and services of their insurance business affiliates and partners instead of ours. Such potential competitors may further increase the competitive pressures we expect to face, especially in our bancassurance business.

In addition, insurance companies owned by public sector undertakings could increase competition in the life insurance market as their financial strength improves. Some of these companies have greater financial, management and other resources than we do, and may be able to offer a broader range of products and services than us. Consolidation, including acquisitions of insurance and other financial services companies in India, could result in additional competitors with strong financial resources, marketing and distribution capabilities and brand identities. The increased competitive pressures resulting from these and other factors may materially harm our business and prospects, as well as materially reduce our profitability and prospects by, among other things, reducing our market share, decreasing our margins and spreads, reducing the growth of our customer base and increasing our policy acquisition costs, operating expenses and turnover of management and frontline sales staff.

A decline in our competitive position could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

58. Customer preferences and demographic trends for insurance, health and pension products may change and we may not be able to respond appropriately or in time to sustain our business or our market share in the geographical markets in which we operate.

The life insurance, health and pension markets are constantly evolving along with our customer preferences. As a result, we must continually respond to changes in these markets, as well as and customer preferences and demographic trends, to remain competitive, grow our business and maintain market share in the geographical markets in which we operate. We face many risks when introducing new products. Our new products may also be rendered obsolete or uneconomical by competition or developments in the life insurance, health and pension industries. Furthermore, even if our current and anticipated product offerings respond to changing market demand, we may be unable to commercialise them. We also generally increase our marketing efforts in connection with the introduction of new products and advertising in regional languages to reach out to more people, which increases the costs associated with our business. These costs are likely to lead to initial losses that could have an adverse impact on our results. The failure of new products to be profitable or become profitable over time may adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

Moreover, potential products may fail to receive necessary regulatory approvals, be difficult to market on a large scale, be uneconomical to introduce, fail to achieve market acceptance or be precluded from commercialisation by proprietary rights of third parties. An inability to commercialise our products would materially impair the viability of our business. Accordingly, our future success will depend on our ability to adapt to changing customer preferences, demographic trends, industry standards and new product offerings and services. Any of these changes may require us to re-evaluate our business model and adopt significant changes to our strategies and business plan. Any inability to adapt to these changes would have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

59. The rate of growth of the life insurance and pension industries in India, as well as other countries in which we may operate in future, may not be as high or as sustainable as we anticipate.

Asia is the largest continent in terms of market share for life insurance, accounting for 38% of premiums collected, according to CRISIL. India's share of approximately 2.4% indicates vast potential for growth in India's life insurance industry, according to CRISIL. We expect the life insurance market in India to continue to expand and the insurance penetration and insurance density to continue to rise with the continued growth of the Indian economy, the reform of the social welfare system, favourable demographic patterns and rise in household financial savings.

However, the rate of growth of the life insurance and pension industries in India, as well as other countries in which we may operate in future, may not be as high or as sustainable as we anticipate. In particular, the insurance industry in India may not expand, and the low penetration rate of life insurance in India does not necessarily mean that a market has growth potential or that we will succeed in increasing our penetration into that market. The growth and development of the life insurance and pension industries in India is subject to a number of industry trends and uncertainties that are beyond our control.

60. Changes in taxation relating to our business and policies may materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Any adverse development in fiscal laws, such as increase in the concessional corporate tax rates of 14.42% (including surcharge and education cess) applicable to insurance companies, discontinuance of tax exemptions in relation to pension income, dividend income, tax free bonds, change in applicability of minimum alternate tax rates and any discontinuance of tax benefits to customers on purchase of insurance products, may materially and adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.

In respect of the specific provisions under the I.T. Act governing the taxation of policyholders in respect of the life insurance products and pension products, section 80C of the I.T. Act currently permits deductions of up to ₹150,000 per Fiscal year for premiums paid under life insurance products / schemes and section 80CCC of the I.T. Act which currently permits deduction up to ₹150,000 per fiscal year for contributions made to pension plans/schemes. Amendments to existing tax laws, particularly if there is withdrawal of any tax relief, or an increase in tax rates, or the introduction of new rules, may result in such levels of deductions being no longer available to policyholders, which may affect the future long-term business and the decisions of policyholders. We are unable to accurately predict the impact of future changes in tax law on the taxation of life insurance and pension policies in the hands of policyholders.

The Government of India has introduced a comprehensive unified GST regime with effect from July 1, 2017 that has combined various indirect taxes and levies by the central and state governments into one unified tax system. Introduction of GST, among other things, has increased the prices of life insurance services and will also increase the operational / compliance burden, which could have an adverse impact on our business, financial condition and results of operations. We are yet to experience the operational difficulties of such implementation and are unable to comment on its future impact. The GST implementation may further be subject to litigation which could arise on account of disputes between the state governments and the central government, which could have an adverse impact on our business, financial condition and results of our operations. Any future increase in GST rate may affect the overall tax efficiency of companies operating in India including us.

The provisions of Chapter X-A (sections 95 to 102) of the I.T. Act, 1961, relating to GAAR, are applicable with effect from assessment year 2018-2019 (Fiscal 2017 to Fiscal 2018). The GAAR provisions propose to identify any arrangement with the primary purpose or one of the main purposes of such arrangement is to obtain a tax benefit, and satisfies at least one of the following tests (i) creates rights, or obligations, which are not ordinarily created between parties dealing at arm's length; (ii) results, directly or indirectly, in misuse, or abuse, of the provisions of the Income Tax Act, 1961; (iii) lacks commercial substance or is deemed to lack commercial substance, in whole or in part; or (iv) is entered into, or carried out, by means, or in a manner, that is not ordinarily engaged for bona fide purposes. If GAAR provisions are invoked, the tax authorities will have wider powers, including denial of tax benefit or a benefit under a tax treaty. In the absence of any precedents on the subject, the impact of the application of these provisions is uncertain.

In addition, if international tax reforms such as the base erosion and profit sharing measures of the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development are adopted by India, we may be subject to enhanced disclosure and compliance requirements and a resultant increase in our costs related to such compliance. As the taxation regime in India is undergoing a significant overhaul, its consequent effects on the insurance industry cannot be determined at present and there can be no assurance that such effects would not adversely affect our business and future financial performance.

Changes in tax laws, tax regulations, interpretations of such laws or regulations or failure to comply with procedures laid down under the tax laws may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. If, as a result of a particular tax risk materialising, the tax costs associated with certain transactions are greater than anticipated, it could affect the profitability of those transactions. In addition, the design of our life insurance products takes into account a number of factors, including risks and taxation. The design of long-term insurance products is based on the tax laws in force at that time. Changes in tax laws or in the interpretation of tax laws may therefore, when applied to such products, have a material adverse effect on the financial condition of the relevant long-term business fund of the company in which the business was written and could also materially reduce the sales of certain of our products.

We cannot predict whether any tax laws or regulations impacting insurance products will be enacted, the nature and impact of the specific terms of any such laws or regulations will be or whether, if at all, any laws or regulations would have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

61. Our Restated Financial Information and other non-GAAP performance metrics included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus differ significantly from those of non-insurance companies and may be difficult to understand.

As our Restated Financial Information have been prepared in accordance with the Companies Act, the IRDAI Issuance of Capital Regulations, regulations framed and circulars issued thereunder by IRDAI and restated under the ICDR Regulations. Our Restated Financial Information, and the financial statements which will be prepared for the future accounting periods will, differ significantly from those of non-insurance companies and may be difficult to understand. In particular, while financial statements of non-insurance companies typically comprise an income statement, a balance sheet and a statement of cash flows, our financial statements comprise a revenue account (also known as the "policyholders' account" or the "technical account"), the profit and loss account (also known as the "shareholders' account" or "non-technical account"), balance sheet and our Receipts and Payments Account. Because of the technical complexity involved in our financial statements as compared to those of non-insurance companies, an investor may find them difficult to understand or interpret, and it may cause the investor to make a choice to invest in us which he or she would not otherwise make with a more complete understanding. Investors should read the Auditor's Report attached to our Restated Financial Information and the notes thereto on pages 314 and 417 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus carefully.

Our performance metrics, including APE, EV and VNB, are non-GAAP financial measures and are significantly different from those of non-insurance companies and may require certain estimates and assumptions in their calculation. These performance metrics are not part of our Restated Financial Information and are unaudited. Even among insurance companies, these metrics may be calculated differently by different companies. In addition, we present information related to the contribution of lapses to our profitability in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus due to the IRDAI requirements. There is no standard definition as to what constitutes profitability due to lapses and these have been calculated with certain estimates and assumptions. There can be no assurance that such estimates and assumptions are accurate or valid, or that such information accurately represents the profitability from lapses. An investor must exercise caution before relying on these metrics and these must be read along with our Restated Financial Information.

62. Certain financial information for our Subsidiaries used for the preparation of our Restated Consolidated Financial Information included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus has not been audited/examined.

Financial information in relation our Subsidiaries as at and for the three months ended June 30, 2017, which was used for the preparation of our audited consolidated financial statements, is unaudited and furnished by the management of our Subsidiaries. Further, restated financial information in relation to our Subsidiaries was furnished by the management of subsidiaries and was not examined by our Auditors in the Restated Consolidated Financial Information included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. Please see the examination report of our Auditors on the Restated Consolidated Financial Information on page 417 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

While we do not regard the total net assets, revenue, net profit/loss or net cash flows of the unaudited/note examined financial information of our Subsidiaries to be material, we may face risks associated with such financial information not being verified by an independent third party. If such financial information had been audited/examined, adjustments and modifications may have arisen during the course of audit/examination process, which could have resulted in differences, though not material, compared to those unaudited/not examined financial information which were furnished and relied on for preparation of our audited consolidated financial statements and Restated Consolidated Financial Information, respectively.

63. The enhanced supervisory and compliance environment in the financial sector increases the risk of regulatory action.

We and our Promoters are subject to a wide variety of banking, insurance and financial services laws, regulations and regulatory policies and a large number of regulatory and enforcement authorities. We are subject to regulatory oversight by a number of financial services, insurance, securities and related regulators. Collectively, these regulators oversee our operations and because of the distinct requirements of these regulators, we may be occasionally subject to overlapping, conflicting or expanding regulations. Regulators in general have intensified their review, supervision and scrutiny of many financial institutions. Regulators are increasingly viewing financial institutions as presenting a higher risk profile than in the past, in a range of areas. This increased review and scrutiny or any changes in the existing regulatory supervision framework, increases the possibility that we or our Promoters may face adverse legal or regulatory actions. These regulators have broad authority over our business, including our ownership control, shareholding structure, corporate governance, capital, solvency and reserving requirements, investment portfolio allocations, our ability to declare dividends and other distributions (including the timing of dividends and distributions), and any decisions to expand our operations, enter certain lines of business and markets, offer new products, underwrite certain risks, price our products and enter into certain distribution and outsourcing arrangements. Regulatory or government action may require us to underwrite certain unprofitable risks or restrict our ability to set product prices aligned with our product pricing and profitability criteria. There can be no guarantee that all regulators will agree with our and our Promoters' internal assessments of asset quality, provisions, risk management, capital and management functioning, other measures of the safety and soundness of our and their operations or compliance with applicable laws, regulations, accounting norms or regulatory policies. Regulators may find that we or our Promoters are not in compliance with applicable laws, regulations, accounting norms or regulatory policies, and may take actions in respect of the same. If we or our Promoters fail to manage legal and regulatory risk, our business could suffer, our reputation could be harmed and we would be subject to additional risks. We cannot predict the timing or form of any current or future regulatory or law enforcement initiatives, which are increasingly common for all financial institutions.

In addition, there could be a substantial increase in government regulation and supervision of the financial services and insurance industries in the future. For example, the Government may introduce unified legislation such as the Indian Financial Code of 2015, a draft of which was released by the Government in July 2015. The code proposed to merge regulation of all financial products which are presently regulated by sector specific regulators under a single financial services authority or regulator. The transition process from a sector specific regulator to a single regulator will involve various administrative and procedural challenges for us. Conversely, there may be significant delays in the implementation of regulations that could be beneficial to our industry and our business. We cannot assure you that any regulatory or government action would not have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

64. The limited amounts and types of long-term fixed income products in the Indian capital markets and the legal and regulatory requirements on the types of investment and amount of investment assets that insurance companies are permitted to make could severely limit our ability to closely match the duration of our assets and liabilities.

We seek to manage interest rate risk by matching, to the extent commercially practicable, the average duration of our investment assets and the corresponding insurance policy liabilities they support. Matching the duration of our assets to the corresponding liabilities reduces our exposure to changes in interest rates, because the effect of the changes could largely be offset against each other. However, restrictions under Indian insurance laws and related regulations, including the IRDAI (Investment) Regulations, 2016, as amended, on the type of investments and amount of investment assets in which we may invest, as well as the limited amounts and types of long-term investment assets in the Indian capital markets capable of matching the duration of our liabilities, may result in a shorter duration of assets than liabilities with respect to certain of our investments. Our exposure to interest rate risk may also worsen as we expand our business. We cannot assure you that the investment restrictions imposed on insurance companies in India will not be strengthened or the sizes and types of long-term fixed income products available in the Indian securities market may increase in the future. Our failure to closely match the duration of our assets to that of the corresponding liabilities will continue to expose us to risks related to interest rate changes, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

65. The insurance sector is subject to seasonal changes, which may cause fluctuations in our revenue and cash flows.

Our results of operations and cash flows typically fluctuate due to seasonal variations. Insurance volumes typically increase significantly in the last quarter of each fiscal year, which coincides with the end of the tax year in India, due to customers capitalising on income tax advantages that life insurance products offer. For the same reason, we typically experience lower business volumes in the first quarter of each fiscal year. Accordingly, the results of any given period are not necessarily indicative of annual results or continuing trends, and may vary.

66. Some of our Directors do not have documents evidencing certain of their qualifications.

We do not have all the documents evidencing the biographies of some of our Directors under the section “Our Management” on page 256 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. The information included in the section are based on the details provided by the Director and, to the extent that the relevant documentation is not available, are supported by way of an affidavit executed by each Director certifying the authenticity of the information provided. However, in the absence of original documents, we cannot assure you of the accuracy of all information relating to such Directors included in the section “Our Management” on page 256 of the Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

EXTERNAL RISKS

Risks relating to India

67. Political, economic and social developments in India could adversely affect our business.

Our current operations are conducted primarily in India and are subject to special considerations and significant risks typical for India. These include risks associated with, among others, the political, economic and legal environments and foreign currency exchange rate fluctuations.

Our results may be adversely affected by changes in the political and social conditions in India, and by changes in governmental policies with respect to laws and regulations, anti-inflationary measures, currency conversion and remittance abroad, and rates and methods of taxation, among other things. Volatility in social and political conditions in India may interrupt, limit or otherwise affect our operations. We continue to experience sporadic disruptions and disturbances at our branches located in certain states in India which tend to be more prone to protests or union activity involving persons other than our employees. Additionally, we cannot ensure that our employees may not join such unions in future. This could have an adverse effect on our business and results of operations in those states.

The central and state governments serve multiple roles in the Indian economy, including as producers, consumers and regulators, which have significant influence on the insurance industry and us. Economic liberalisation policies have encouraged foreign investment in the insurance sector, and changes in these governmental policies could have a significant impact on the business and economic conditions in India in general and the insurance sector in particular, which in turn could adversely affect our business, future financial condition and results of operations. In addition, any military activity, terrorist attacks or other adverse social, economic and political events could adversely impact our business prospects. The occurrence of any of these events may result in a loss of investor confidence, which could potentially lead to economic recession and generally have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition. Our insurance policies do not cover loss of business from terrorist attacks, war or civil unrest.

Any political instability in India may adversely affect the Indian securities markets in general, which could also adversely affect the trading price of our Equity Shares.

68. The Indian economy continues to sustain high levels of inflation.

India has experienced some of the highest levels of inflation measured by consumer price index of any of the 34 member states of the Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development (“OECD”), during the period from 2012 through 2014, according to the OECD. The inflation rate in India was 3.85% (provisional) for the month of April 2017 (over April, 2016) as compared to 5.29% (provisional) for the previous month and (1.09)% during April 2016 (Source: Index Numbers of Wholesale Price in India, Review for the month of April 2017, published on May 12, 2017 by Government of India, Ministry of Commerce and Industry). Although the Government has initiated several economic measures to curb the rise in inflation rates, it is unclear at this stage whether these measures will have the desired effect. A rise in inflation rates may adversely affect growth in the Indian economy and our results of operations.

69. It may not be possible for you to enforce a judgment obtained outside India, including in the United States, against our Company or any of our Directors and executive officers that are resident in India, except by way of a suit in India on such judgment.

We are incorporated under the laws of India and most of our Directors and executive officers reside in India. Furthermore, substantially all of our Company’s assets are located in India. As a result, you may be unable to effect service of process in jurisdictions outside India, including in the United States, upon our Company or enforce in Indian courts judgments obtained in courts of jurisdictions outside India against our Company, including judgments predicated upon the civil liability provisions of securities laws of jurisdictions outside India.

India has reciprocal recognition and enforcement of judgments in civil and commercial matters with a limited number of jurisdictions. A judgment from certain specified courts located in a jurisdiction with reciprocity must meet certain requirements of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, as amended, or the Civil Code. The United States and India do not currently have a treaty providing for reciprocal recognition and enforcement of judgments in civil and commercial matters. Therefore, a final judgment for the payment of money rendered by any federal or state court in a non-reciprocating territory, such as the United States, for civil liability, whether or not predicated solely upon the general securities laws of the United States, would not be enforceable in India under the Civil Code as a decree of an Indian court.

The United Kingdom, Singapore and Hong Kong have been declared by the Government of India to be reciprocating territories for purposes of Section 44A of the Civil Code. A judgment of a court of a country which is not a reciprocating territory may be enforced in India only by a suit on the judgment under Section 13 of the Civil Code, and not by proceedings in execution. Section 13 of the Civil Code provides that foreign judgments shall be conclusive regarding any matter directly adjudicated on except (i) where the judgment has not been pronounced by a court of competent jurisdiction, (ii) where the judgment has not been given on the merits of the case, (iii) where it appears on the face of the proceedings that the judgment is founded on an incorrect view of international law or refusal to recognise the law of India in cases to which such law is applicable, (iv) where the proceedings in which the judgment was obtained were opposed to natural justice, (v) where the judgment has been obtained by fraud or (vi) where the judgment sustains a claim founded on a breach of any law then in force in India. Under the Civil Code, a court in India shall, on the production of any document purporting to be a certified copy of a foreign judgment, presume that the judgment was pronounced by a court of competent jurisdiction, unless the contrary appears on record.

However, the party in whose favour such final judgment is rendered may bring a new suit in a competent court in India based on a final judgment that has been obtained in the United States or other such jurisdiction within three years of obtaining such final judgment. It is unlikely that an Indian court would award damages on the same basis as a foreign court if an action is brought in India. Moreover, it is unlikely that an Indian court would award damages to the extent awarded in a final judgment rendered outside India if it believes that the amount of damages awarded were excessive or inconsistent with Indian practice. In addition, any person seeking to enforce a foreign judgment in India is required to obtain the prior approval of the RBI to repatriate any amount recovered.

70. Significant differences exist between Indian GAAP and other accounting principles, such as U.S. GAAP and IFRS, which may be material to investors' assessments of our financial condition.

Our Restated Financial Information included in the Draft Red Herring Prospectus are prepared and presented in conformity with compliance to the Companies Act, the IRDAI Issuance of Capital Regulations and restated under the ICDR Regulations, consistently applied during the periods stated, except as provided therein, and no attempt has been made to reconcile any of the information given in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus to U.S. GAAP or IFRS or any other principles or to base it on any other standards. Indian GAAP differs from accounting principles and auditing standards with which prospective investors may be familiar in other countries, including U.S. GAAP or IFRS.

Accordingly, the degree to which the financial information included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus will provide meaningful information is dependent on your familiarity with Indian GAAP, Insurance Act, Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority of India Act, 1999, the Companies Act, the IRDAI Issuance of Capital Regulations and the ICDR Regulations. Any reliance by persons not familiar with Indian GAAP, or these laws and regulations, on the financial disclosures presented in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus should accordingly be limited.

In addition, our Promoter, HDFC, discloses certain financial information regarding our Company in Indian GAAP. In the past, our Promoters have also disclosed information regarding our business at different times than us and any such disclosure may not have the same presentation as any disclosure by us. We cannot assure you that our Promoters will not in the future disclose information regarding our business that we have not disclosed and with a different presentation from what investors in the Equity Shares are used to. All consideration of financial, and other, information with regard to an investor's decision whether or not to invest in this Offering should be made on the basis of the Restated Financial Information and other information herein presented and not to any documents published by our Promoters.

71. Changes in the accounting standards used in the reporting of our financial statements due to new pronouncements such as Ind-AS, interpretations, migration to new standards or even due to our own decision to change accounting policies may significantly affect our financial statements for the future years, and may materially and adversely affect our financial condition.

We currently prepare our statutory financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in India (Indian GAAP), in compliance with the accounting standards notified under section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 further amended by Companies (Accounting Standards) Amendment Rules, 2016, read together with paragraph 7 of the Companies (Accounts) Rules, 2014 and in accordance with the provisions of the Insurance Act, 1938 (amended by the Insurance Laws (Amendment) Act, 2015), Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority Act, 1999, and the regulations framed thereunder, various circulars issued by the IRDAI and the practices prevailing within the insurance industry in India.

The Ministry of Corporate Affairs (the "MCA"), in its press release dated January 18, 2016, issued a roadmap for implementation of Ind-AS converged with IFRS for scheduled commercial banks, insurance companies and non-banking financial companies. Subsequently, MCA issued the Companies (Accounting Standards) Amendment Rules, 2016 dated March 30, 2016 ("Amendment Rules") applicable for accounting periods commencing on or after March 30, 2016. The Amendment Rules require insurance companies to apply Ind-AS for the preparation and presentation of financial statements as notified by the IRDAI. Subsequently, pursuant to the IRDAI circular dated June 28, 2017, implementation of Ind-AS in the insurance sector has been deferred and will be applicable with effect from April 1, 2020.

The manner of application of certain Ind-AS accounting standards, particularly with respect to insurance companies, is somewhat uncertain, and further guidance on such application is expected to be provided by the IRDAI. In the absence of requisite guidance from the IRDAI on the interpretation and application of Ind-AS accounting standards and policies to insurance companies with effect from April 1, 2020, we are unable to determine with any degree of certainty the impact that the adoption of Ind-AS will have on the preparation and presentation of our financial statements. In the absence of established practice in India regarding the implementation and application of Ind-AS to insurance companies, we may encounter technical difficulties in implementing and enhancing our management information systems in the context of our transition to Ind-AS. In addition, there is increasing competition for the small number of Ind-AS-experienced accounting personnel available as more Indian companies begin to prepare Ind-AS financial statements.

From Fiscal 2019, our Promoter and holding company, HDFC, will be required to prepare its financial statements in accordance with Ind-AS and we will consequently be required to prepare special purpose financial statements in accordance with Ind-AS for consolidation with the financial statements of HDFC Limited. These special purpose Ind-AS financial statements may be significantly different from our Indian GAAP financial statements.

In this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, we have not made any attempt to quantify or identify the impact of the differences between Ind-AS and Indian GAAP as applied to our historical financial statements and there can be no assurance that the adoption of Ind-AS will not materially affect the preparation and presentation of our financial statements in the future. In addition, any future changes to accounting standards or related regulations, which may have a significant impact on our financial condition.

72. Any anticipated measures undertaken by the Government of India or any regulatory authority such as the recent demonetisation measures may adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

On November 8, 2016, the Government of India announced phasing out of large-denomination currency notes (₹500 and ₹1,000, representing the bulk of the total currency in circulation) as legal tender. These were immediately replaced with new ₹500 and ₹2,000 currency notes. Unexpected demonetisation weighed on economic growth in the third quarter of Fiscal 2017 and, to a certain extent, on the growth of some of our distribution partners. Any such unanticipated measures undertaken by the Government of India or any regulatory authority may adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

73. Public companies in India, including our Company, are required to compute income tax under the ICDS. The transition to ICDS in India is very recent and we may be negatively affected by such transition.

The Ministry of Finance had issued a notification dated March 31, 2015 notifying ICDS which creates a new framework for the computation of taxable income. The ICDS were to take effect from April 1, 2015. However, in view of the representations from stakeholders, the Central Board of Direct Taxes, Ministry of Finance, according to its press release dated July 6, 2016, has deferred the applicability of ICDS to Financial Year 2017 onwards, 2017 being the first assessment year. This will have an impact on computation of taxable income for Fiscal Year 2017 onwards. ICDS deviates in several respects from concepts that are followed under general accounting standards, including Indian GAAP and Ind-AS. For example, where ICDS-based calculations of taxable income differ from Indian GAAP or Ind-AS-based concepts, the ICDS-based calculations have the effect of requiring taxable income to be recognised earlier, increasing overall levels of taxation or both. On March 23, 2017, the Central Board of Direct Taxes issued a circular to clarify that life insurance companies were exempt from certain ICDS provisions, wherein ICDS is currently not applicable for life insurance companies. There can be no assurance that the adoption of ICDS will not adversely affect our business, results of operation and financial condition.

74. Our business and activities are regulated by the Competition Act, 2002.

The Competition Act, 2002, as amended (“Competition Act”), regulates practices having an appreciable adverse effect on competition in the relevant market in India. Under the Competition Act, any formal or informal arrangement, understanding or action in concert, which causes or is likely to cause an appreciable adverse effect on competition is considered void and results in the imposition of substantial monetary penalties. Further, any agreement among competitors which directly or indirectly involves the determination of purchase or sale prices, limits or controls production, supply, markets, technical development, investment or provision of services, shares the market or source of production or provision of services by way of allocation of geographical area, type of goods or services or number of customers in the relevant market or directly or indirectly results in bid-rigging or collusive bidding is presumed to have an appreciable adverse effect on competition. The Competition Act also prohibits abuse of a dominant position by any enterprise.

On March 4, 2011, the Government issued and brought into force the combination regulation (merger control) provisions under the Competition Act with effect from June 1, 2011. These provisions require acquisitions of shares, voting rights, assets or control or mergers or amalgamations that cross the prescribed asset and turnover based thresholds to be mandatorily notified to and pre-approved by the Competition Commission of India (“CCI”). Additionally, on May 11, 2011, the CCI issued Competition Commission of India (Procedure in regard to the transaction of business relating to combinations) Regulations, 2011, as amended, which sets out the mechanism for the implementation of the merger control regime in India.

The Competition Act aims to, among others, prohibit all agreements and transactions which may have an appreciable adverse effect on competition in India. Consequently, all agreements entered into by us could be within the purview of the Competition Act. Further, the CCI has extra-territorial powers and can investigate any agreements, abusive conduct or combination occurring outside India if such agreement, conduct or combination has an appreciable adverse effect on competition in India.

Risks Relating to the Offer and Investments in Our Equity Shares

75. The trading volume and market price of the Equity Shares may be volatile following the Offer and could adversely affect the price of the Equity Shares.

The market price of the Equity Shares may fluctuate as a result of, among other things, the following factors, some of which are beyond our control:

- quarterly variations in our results of operations;
- results of operations that vary from the expectations of securities analysts and investors;
- results of operations that vary from those of our competitors;
- changes in expectations as to our future financial performance, including financial estimates by research analysts and investors;
- conditions in financial markets, including those outside India;
- a change in research analysts’ recommendations;
- announcements by us or our competitors of significant acquisitions, strategic alliances, joint operations or capital commitments;
- announcements by third parties or governmental entities of significant claims or proceedings against us;
- new laws and governmental regulations applicable to our industry;
- additions or departures of key management personnel;
- changes in exchange rates;
- fluctuations in stock market prices and volume; and
- general economic and stock market conditions.

Changes in relation to any of the factors listed above could adversely affect the price of the Equity Shares.

76. Indian laws limit our ability to raise capital outside India and restricts the ability of non-Indian companies to acquire us.

Indian laws constrain our ability to raise capital outside India through the issuance of equity or convertible debt securities and restrict the ability of non-Indian companies to acquire us.

Aggregate foreign investment from all sources in an insurance company, is permitted up to 49% of the paid up capital under the automatic route, subject to verification by IRDAI. Pursuant to the Guidelines on 'Indian owned and controlled' issued by IRDAI on October 9, 2015, control of an insurance company, including the right to nominate the majority of directors (excluding independents), and appointment of the chairman of the board of directors, who enjoys a casting vote, must be necessarily retained and exercised by Indian promoters and/or investors. The Guidelines on 'Indian owned and controlled' also require that the chief executive officer's appointment should be either through the Board of Directors or by the Indian promoters and/or investors.

For further details on the restrictions applicable to the insurance sector, see "Key Industry Regulations and Policies in India" on page 235 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Further, in raising funding in the international capital markets, we will be required to comply with the unfamiliar capital markets laws of such countries.

77. There are restrictions on transfers under the Insurance Act and the relevant IRDAI regulations.

Under the Insurance Act and the IRDAI Transfer of Equity Shares Regulations, no transfer or issuance of Equity Shares which would result in change in our shareholding can be made, where (a) after the transfer, the total paid up holding of the transferee is likely to exceed 5% of our paid-up equity share capital, or (b) the nominal value of Equity Shares intended to be transferred by any individual, firm, group, constituents of a group, or body corporate under the same management, jointly or severally exceeds 1% of our paid-up equity share capital, unless the previous approval of the IRDAI has been obtained for the transfer. There can be no assurance that the IRDAI will grant such approval. Additionally, these transfer restrictions could negatively affect the price of the Equity Shares and could limit the ability of the investors to trade the Equity Shares in the market. These limitations could also have a negative impact on our ability to raise further capital which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

Additionally, the IRDAI on August 5, 2016 issued the Listed Indian Insurance Companies Guidelines. These guidelines are applicable to all insurance companies whose equity shares are listed on the stock exchanges and to the allotment process pursuant to a public issue. The guidelines, inter alia, propose self-certification of fit and proper criteria by a person intending to acquire equity shares of an insurer amounting to 1% or more, but less than 5%, of the paid up equity share capital of the insurer. However, if the person proposing to acquire equity shares is likely to result in (i) the aggregate holding of such person, his relatives, associate enterprises and persons acting in concert, increasing to 5% or more of the paid up equity share capital of the insurer or the total voting rights of the insurer, or the aggregate holding of such person along with the persons acting in concert, increasing to in excess of 10%, each such acquisition would require prior approval of the IRDAI. Investors intending to acquire Equity Shares amounting to 1% or more, up to 5%, of the paid up equity share capital of our Company in the Offer would be required to comply with the self-certification of fit and proper criteria set out in the Red Herring Prospectus. Additionally, investors intending to acquire Equity Shares in the Offer such that (i) the aggregate holding of such investor, his relatives, associate enterprises and persons acting in concert, would increase to 5% or more of the paid up equity share capital of our Company or the total voting rights of our Company, or (ii) the aggregate holding of the investor along with the persons acting in concert, increasing to in excess of 10% of the paid up equity share capital of our Company or the total voting rights of our Company, would require prior approval of the IRDAI.

78. Government regulation of foreign ownership of Indian securities may have an adverse effect on the price of the Equity Shares.

There are certain restrictions imposed by the IRDAI on the acquisition and transfer of shares in our Company. Any transfer or acquisition of the Equity Shares in breach of such restrictions prescribed by the IRDAI may result in voiding of the trade and may not be given effect to by our Company. There can be no assurance that any such instances of violation would not occur and that our Company and any shareholder or investor who breaches such limits, would not be subjected to penalties by IRDAI, which includes suspension of our license to carry on the insurance business.

These limitations could negatively affect the price of our shares and could limit the ability of investors to trade our shares in the market. These limitations could also negatively affect our ability to raise additional capital to meet capital adequacy requirements or to fund future growth through future issuances of additional equity shares, which could have a material adverse effect on our business and financial results.

The approval from the regulator or any government agency may not be obtained on terms favourable to a non-resident investor in a timely manner or at all. Because of possible delays in obtaining requisite approvals, investors in the Equity Shares may be prevented from realising gains during periods of price increases or limiting losses during periods of price declines.

79. Any future issuance of our Equity Shares may dilute prospective investors' shareholding, and sales of our Equity Shares by our Promoters or other major shareholders may adversely affect the trading price of our Equity Shares.

We may be required to finance our growth through future equity offerings. Any future equity issuances by our Company, including a primary offering, may lead to the dilution of investors' shareholdings in the Company. Upon completion of the Offer, our Promoters will continue to own an aggregate of 81.30% of our Equity Shares. Any future issuances of Equity Shares (including under our ESOS Scheme(s)) or the disposal of Equity Shares by our Promoters or any of our other principal shareholders or the perception that such issuance or sales may occur, including to comply with the minimum public shareholding norms applicable to listed companies in India, may adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares, which may lead to other adverse consequences including difficulty in raising capital through offering of the Equity Shares or incurring additional debt. There can be no assurance that we will not issue further Equity Shares or that the shareholders will not dispose of the Equity Shares. Any future issuances could also dilute the value of your investment in the Equity Shares. In addition, any perception by investors that such issuances or sales might occur may also affect the market price of the Equity Shares.

80. Foreign investors are subject to foreign investment restrictions under Indian laws that may limit our ability to attract foreign investors, which may have a material adverse impact on the market price of the Equity Shares.

Under the foreign exchange regulations currently in force in India, transfers of shares between non-residents and residents are freely permitted (subject to certain exceptions) if they comply with the pricing guidelines and reporting requirements specified by the RBI. If the transfer of shares is not in compliance with such pricing guidelines or reporting requirements or falls under any of the exceptions referred to above, then the prior approval of the RBI will be required. Additionally, shareholders who seek to convert the Rupee proceeds from a sale of shares in India into foreign currency and repatriate that foreign currency from India will require a no objection or a tax clearance certificate from the income tax authority. We cannot assure investors that any required approval from the RBI or any other government agency can be obtained on any particular terms or at all.

In addition, the Insurance Act has introduced a revision in the cap on aggregate holdings of equity shares by foreign investors, including portfolio investors, from 26% to 49% of paid-up equity share capital, provided the insurer is an Indian owned and controlled entity. The FDI Policy also permits total foreign investment up to 49% of the paid up equity capital of Indian insurance companies, under the automatic route, subject to verification by the IRDAI. For further details on the cap on foreign investment and calculation of foreign investment in insurers, see "Restrictions on Foreign Ownership of Indian Securities" on page 672 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. If the Company reaches the cap, our ability to attract further foreign investors would be curtailed, which may have a material adverse impact on the market price of the Equity Shares.

81. Holders of Equity Shares may be restricted in their ability to exercise pre-emptive rights under Indian law and thereby suffer future dilution of their ownership position.

Under the Companies Act, a company incorporated in India must offer its equity shareholders pre-emptive rights to subscribe and pay for a proportionate number of equity shares to maintain their existing ownership percentages prior to issuance of any new equity shares, unless the pre-emptive rights have been waived by the adoption of a special resolution by holders of three-fourths of the equity shares voting on such resolution. However, if the law of the jurisdiction that you are in does not permit the exercise of such pre-emptive rights without our filing an offering document or registration statement with the applicable authority in such jurisdiction, you will be unable to exercise such pre-emptive rights unless we make such a filing. If we elect not to file a registration statement, the new securities may be issued to a custodian, who may sell the securities for your benefit. The value such custodian receives on the sale of any such securities and the related transaction costs cannot be predicted. To the extent that you are unable to exercise pre-emptive rights granted in respect of our Equity Shares, your proportional interests in our Company may be reduced.

82. Rights of shareholders under Indian law may be more limited than under the laws of other jurisdictions.

Indian legal principles related to corporate procedures, directors' fiduciary duties and liabilities, and shareholders' rights may differ from those that would apply to a company in another jurisdiction. Shareholders' rights under Indian law may not be as extensive as shareholders' rights under the laws of other countries or jurisdictions. Investors may have more difficulty in asserting their rights as shareholder in an Indian company than as shareholder of a corporation in another jurisdiction.

83. We will not receive any proceeds from the Offer for Sale. Our Promoters, HDFC and Standard Life Mauritius, are the Selling Shareholders and will receive the entire proceeds of the Offer for Sale.

This Offer is being undertaken as an Offer of Equity Shares by the Selling Shareholders. The entire proceeds from the Offer for Sale will be paid to two of our Promoters, namely, HDFC and Standard Life Mauritius, and our Company will not receive any proceeds of the Offer. For further details, see "Capital Structure" and "Objects of the Offer" on pages 106 and 145 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, respectively.

84. The Offer Price of the Equity Shares may not be indicative of the market price of the Equity Shares after the Offer.

Prior to the Offer, there has been no public market for the Equity Shares, and an active trading market on the Stock Exchanges may not develop or be sustained after the Offer. Listing and quotation does not guarantee that a market for the Equity Shares will develop, or if developed, the liquidity of such market for the Equity Shares cannot be ensured. The Offer Price of the Equity Shares is proposed to be determined through a book-building process and may not be indicative of the market price of the Equity Shares at the time of commencement of trading of the Equity Shares or at any time thereafter. The market price of the Equity Shares may be subject to significant fluctuations in response to, among other factors, variations in our operating results, market conditions specific to the industry we operate in, developments relating to India, volatility in the Stock Exchanges, securities markets in other jurisdictions and changes in economic, legal and other regulatory factors.

85. You may be subject to Indian taxes arising out of capital gains on the sale of our Equity Shares.

Under current Indian tax laws, capital gains arising from the sale of equity shares within 12 months in an Indian company are generally taxable in India. Any gain realised on the sale of listed equity shares on a stock exchange held for more than 12 months will not be subject to capital gains tax in India if Securities Transaction tax ("STT") has been paid on the transaction. STT is levied on and collected by a domestic stock exchange on which equity shares are sold. Any gain realised on the sale of equity shares held for more than 12 months to an Indian resident, which are sold other than on a recognised stock exchange and on which no STT has been paid, is subject to long term capital gains tax in India. Further, any gain realised on the sale of listed equity shares held for a period of 12 months or less will be subject to short term capital gains tax in India. Capital gains arising from the sale of equity shares are exempt from taxation in India where an exemption from taxation in India is provided under a treaty between India and the country of which the seller is resident. Generally, Indian tax treaties do not limit India's ability to impose tax on capital gains. As a result, residents of other countries may be liable to pay tax in India as well as in their own jurisdiction on a gain on the sale of equity shares.

86. Payments on the Equity Shares may be subject to FATCA withholding after December 31, 2018.

Provisions under the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, (the "Code") and U.S. Treasury regulations promulgated thereunder commonly known as "FATCA" may impose a withholding tax on certain "foreign passthru payments" made by a non-U.S. financial institution (including an intermediary) that has entered into an agreement with the U.S. Internal Revenue Service (the "IRS") to perform certain diligence and reporting obligations (each such non-U.S. financial institution, a “Participating Foreign Financial Institution”). If payments on the Equity Shares are made by a Participating Foreign Financial Institution (including an intermediary), this withholding may be imposed on such payments if made to any non-U.S. financial institution (including an intermediary) that is not a Participating Foreign Financial Institution and is not otherwise exempt from FATCA or other holders who do not provide sufficient identifying information to the payor, to the extent such payments are considered “foreign passthru payments”. Under current guidance, the term “foreign passthru payment” is not defined and it is therefore not clear whether or to what extent payments on the Equity Shares would be considered foreign passthru payments. Withholding on foreign passthru payments would not be required with respect to payments made before January 1, 2019.

The United States has entered into intergovernmental agreements with many jurisdictions (including India) that modify the FATCA withholding regime described above. The Company has registered with the IRS as a financial institution pursuant to the intergovernmental agreement between the United States and India. It is not yet clear how the intergovernmental agreements between the United States and these jurisdictions will address “foreign passthru payments” and whether such agreements will require the Company or other financial institutions to withhold or report on payments on the Equity Shares to the extent they are treated as foreign passthru payments. Prospective investors should consult their tax advisors regarding the application of FATCA, or any intergovernmental agreement or non-U.S. legislation implementing FATCA, to their investment in Equity Shares.

87. If we are classified as a passive foreign investment company (“PFIC”) for U.S. Federal income tax purposes, U.S. investors may incur adverse tax consequences.

We believe that we were not a PFIC for taxable year ending March 31, 2017, and do not expect to be a PFIC for the current year or any future years. The determination of whether the Company is a PFIC is a factual determination made annually after the end of each taxable year, and there can be no assurance that the Company will not be considered a PFIC in the current taxable year or any future taxable year because, among other reasons, (i) the composition of the Company’s and its subsidiaries income and assets will vary over time, and (ii) the manner of the application of relevant rules, including the circumstances under which a non-U.S. company will be treated as predominantly engaged in an insurance business as the case maybe, is uncertain in several respects. If we are considered a PFIC, U.S. investors may suffer material adverse tax consequences, including with respect to any “excess distribution” received from us and any gain from a sale or other disposition of the Equity Shares.

SECTION III: INTRODUCTION

SUMMARY OF INDUSTRY

Global Life Insurance Industry

The growth in total premium of the global insurance industry has been subdued since the 2008 global financial crisis, compared with the total premium CAGR of 4% (in dollar, nominal terms) between 2003 and 2007. In advanced economies, total premium growth has stagnated since then. In 2016, total premium for advanced economies grew 0.7%, compared with 2.5% in 2015.

As per Swiss Re Institute sigma No 3/2017 report, in 2016, global life premiums are estimated to have increased 2.5%; premium growth declined in the advanced markets by 50 bps, but accelerated in the emerging markets. Life premiums in the emerging markets grew 17% in 2016 versus 12% in 2015, well above the overall growth of 2.5%.

In terms of the market share of life insurance, Asia is the largest continent, accounting for 38% of premium collected. The share of emerging markets¹ in the life insurance industry has also increased, from just 3% in 1995 to around 19% in 2016. Emerging markets in Asia recorded improved performance in 2016, partly due to strong growth in China, India and Hong Kong, with the main contributor being China, where premium growth accelerated to 20.6% in 2016, from 20% in 2015.

India's share is just ~2.4% in the global life insurance market as of 2016, indicating the vast potential for growth in India's life insurance industry. In India, the recovery over the last few years was propelled by both linked and non-linked products, growing 12% and 14% y-o-y, respectively.

Penetration & Density of Life Insurance

In the global insurance industry, around 55% of premium comes from life insurance and the rest from the non-life segment; in emerging markets, around 54% of premium comes from life insurance. By contrast, the share of life insurance is over 78% for India. Despite this, indicators, such as insurance penetration (premium as a percentage of GDP), insurance density (premium per capita) and sum assured to GDP indicate that the Indian market is still significantly underinsured.

India's life insurance penetration stood at ~2.7% in 2016, compared with 4.4% in 2009-10, suggesting that the penetration has substantially declined over the past few years. The average penetration for the life insurance industry globally is 3.5% as of 2016 which is 75 bps more than the Indian life insurance industry. Among comparable Asian counterparts, life insurance penetration for Thailand, Singapore and South Korea stood at 3.7%, 5.5% and 7.4%, respectively, as of 2016, much higher compared with India. This indicates the untapped potential of the Indian life insurance market. Also, the penetration for Indian industry is strictly not comparable to the developed markets, such as US and Australia, as mandatory pension contributions in the US and Australia are not included in the insurance pie.

Further, due to higher share of savings than protection in the premium, CRISIL Research believes the actual protection provided by insurance in India would be much lower compared with even other developing markets. The average insurance penetration in emerging markets increased to 3.2% in 2016 from 2.9% in 2015. The insurance density in India, at US$46.5 in 2016, remains low as compared to that of other developed and emerging market economies.

¹ Advanced economies include the US, Canada, Western Europe (excluding Turkey), Israel, Oceania, Japan and the other advanced Asian economies (Hong Kong, Singapore, South Korea and Taiwan). All other countries are classified as "emerging" and generally correspond to the IMF's "emerging and developing" economies

Life insurance coverage has increased appreciably

The total sum assured under the individual life insurance business was Rs 96 trillion as of fiscal 2017 in India. The sum assured for the individual insurance is estimated to have increased at a CAGR of 16% from fiscals 2011 to 2017. The total number of individual policies in force were 322 million as of fiscal 2017

Outlook

Life insurance industry outlook

New business premium to grow at robust pace

Current low penetration (2.72% in 2016) and density (46.5 USD in 2016) of Indian insurance market offers large growth potential. Going forward, the new business premium of life insurers is expected to grow at 11-13% CAGR to Rs 3,000-3,100 billion over the next five years. This growth is expected to be propelled by high historical nominal GDP growth, moderate-to-low inflation, improvement in the financial savings rate, initiatives undertaken by the government to ensure adequate social security, favourable demographics, growing awareness of insurance and regulatory changes, such as the increase in the foreign direct investment limit from 26% to 49% in 2015, which will bolster the financial position of existing players and open up the market for new players.

Share of ULIPs to improve

An improving economy and performance of corporate India is likely to have a positive impact on the country's stock markets. This will increase the demand for ULIPs, as it is highly correlated to the performance of the stock markets. Also, today, with operating expenses quite low, transparency in charges, ULIPs have become comparable to mutual fund investments, in terms of attractiveness. The enhanced value proposition for ULIPs is also because of lower discontinuous charges up to the fifth year, zero surrender penalty after the fifth year, and customised choice of risk allocation to suit the risk appetite of the customer.

Over the next few years, the performance of the stock markets is expected to improve on the back of healthy economic growth and an improvement in industrial performance. Consequently, the share of linked products is expected to rise gradually.

Improved cost efficiency, better cash flows to lift profit

In the medium-to-long term, new business premium is expected to grow at a healthy pace, propelled by an upswing in economic growth, higher financial savings aided by rising disposable income and benign inflation. Consequently, players with optimal scale of operations, better operating efficiency (as reflected in lower expense ratios), more efficient usage of distribution channels and healthy persistency ratios are likely to see profitable rise.

Bancassurance increasingly driving business of private players

For private players, the share of bancassurance in new business premium has been growing steadily over the past few years. In fact, players are increasingly using the synergies accruing from banking operations of their parent group to reach out to customers, minimise cost and improve efficiency. Even for other players, bancassurance is becoming strategically important. With bancassurance increasingly driving the business of many players, presence in rural and far-flung areas will prove to be a strategic asset for the business (for details, see distribution trends).

Steady Growth in FDI & Share of Private Players

When the sector was opened up to foreign investment, the foreign direct investment (FDI) limit was capped at 26%. Post privatisation, the number of life insurance companies zoomed to 24 in 2015-16 from a mere 5 in 2000-01. LIC is the only public player, with the remaining being private entities. Of the 23 private life insurance companies, 21 are joint ventures with foreign players. In 2015, the Parliament approved a hike in the FDI limit 49% with the aim of expanding the sector and infusing much-needed capital for many players. Since then, many foreign players have increased their stakes. On Individual WRP basis, their market share rose from 38% in 2013-14 to 54% in 2016-17.

Drivers

Key Recent Macro Trends

India is amongst top countries (3rd) when ranked on basis of GDP (PPP) and has been one of the fast growing countries in the world, aided by strong fundamentals like falling inflation, rising disposable income, largest working age population. Going forward, IMF expects India's economy to grow at 7.7% in 2018 from an estimated 7.2% in 2017. The improvement in growth is expected to be driven by a rebound in consumption demand, which got postponed after demonetisation. Also, the demonetisation has resulted in increased customer deposits with bank. In addition, innovations in operating architecture based on the JAM (JanDhan-Aadhar-Mobile) and e-KYC is expected to improve reach of insurance products and efficiency.

With rising income and inflation under control, the household savings rate (household savings as a percentage of GDP) is likely to increase gradually. Though the share of household savings has remained subdued since fiscal 2012, the proportion of financial savings has increased significantly during the period. In the past too, strong real income growth and low inflation had a positive spin-off effect on financial savings. During fiscals 2000 to 2008, the share of financial savings in household savings increased from 47% to 52%. Consequently, the share dipped sharply to 33% by fiscal 2012, due to rising risk aversion in the aftermath of the 2008 financial crisis and heightened inflationary pressures.

Furthermore, benign inflationary pressures would diminish the attractiveness of gold and real estate – which represent physical savings of households – as investment alternatives. Consequently, the share of financial savings within household savings is likely to rise further from 43% in fiscal 2016. The government's measures to curb black money will also help increase the share of financial savings, which would further aid the life insurance industry

CRISIL Research expects average CPI to stay around 4% this fiscal, assuming a favourable monsoon, especially in terms of adequate temporal and spatial distribution. CRISIL Research also expects lower food inflation resulting from normal monsoon to offset higher services inflation. Risks to inflation could emanate from 1) high protein inflation, which has recorded double-digit growth for 12 consecutive months; 2) service inflation, especially in rural areas, which is keeping core inflation high and sticky; 3) unfavourable temporal and spatial distribution of rainfall; and, 4) oil prices.

Demographic advantage

India is the world's second most populous nation, after China. More importantly, it is a nation of mostly young people. India had 356 million people in the 10-24 year age group, nearly 87 million more than in China, according to the United Nations Population Fund's State of the World Population report - 2014. A report by the IRIS Knowledge

Foundation in collaboration with UN HABITAT in 2013 estimated that 63% of India's population will be in the working age group by 2020.

India's population increased at a compounded annual growth rate (CAGR) of 2% from 439.2 million in 1961 to 1,210.9 million in 2011. The decadal CAGRs in 1971-1991, 2001 and 2011 were 2.2%, 2.0% and 1.6%, respectively. Going forward, as per an estimate by United Nations Department of Economic and Social Affairs, over 2011-2020E the population is estimated to increase at a CAGR of 1.5%.

In all the censuses held in India so far, including the latest 2011 census, the 0-14 year age group has always had the largest share of the population pie, with about 36.4% of the overall population falling in that age group in 1991, 33.2% in 2001 and 29.6% in 2011. Going forward, as per an estimate by United Nations Department of Economic and Social Affairs, the share of population within 15-59 is estimated to increase to 63% by 2020E from 62% in 2011 and for 60+ it is estimated to increase to 9.5% by 2020E from 8.4% in 2011.

This demographic advantage is what sets apart Asia's third-largest economy from other leading global economies, which are ageing fast. For life insurance companies, this is a compelling opportunity as the next few years are expected to represent a "pay-in" period because of the large percentage of people in the 'below 59' age groups. Steady economic revival shall also improve household incomes and put more disposable income in the hands of people, particularly in rural areas. India's middle class population is also expected to grow steadily in the years ahead.

Significant protection gap

As per Swiss Re Institute sigma No 3/2017 report, the protection gap for India stood at $8.5 trillion as of 2014, which was much higher compared with its Asian counterparts. The protection margin (measured as ratio between protection gap and protection needs as per Swiss Re Institute) for India at 92% was highest among all the countries in Asia Pacific as per the report. This means that for $100 of insurance protection requirement, only $8 was actually insured as of 2014. This indicates the absence or inadequacy of pure protection coverage (term insurance) for a large part of the population. Further, the penetration of retail loan products is also low in India and, with asset quality of corporate loans being poor, financiers are aggressively focusing on retail credit, the growth of which will support insurance offtake.

The decline in term-insurance premium rates, smoother onboarding process, increasing importance of online sales and product innovations, such as providing term products with a health wrapper, are expected to further drive the penetration of protection premiums.

Key Recent Trends:

Digitisation

The mobile and internet connectivity revolution is radically transforming way of life all over the world and India is no different. India currently has over one billion mobile users and recently surpassed the US as the world's second-largest market in terms of internet subscriber base. Its telecom subscriber base has also soared over past few years and the country is today one of the biggest markets for smartphones in the world.

New technologies are also being developed at an exponential pace and triggering changes in the way in which industries operate. Also the demonetisation measures that were implemented by the Indian government from November 2016 have accelerated the adoption of digital platforms across the financial services sector. The insurance industry is no exception. In fact, being a push product, insurance is an industry where digitisation can act as a growth multiplier.

In India, two major factors are driving digitisation: the government's ambitious financial inclusion agenda, and increasing use of new technologies to deliver products and services to citizens.

The government's financial inclusion agenda is powered by the realisation that as GDP growth gathers pace in years ahead, the best way to ensure equitable distribution of wealth and lift the average level of prosperity among the populace is inclusive growth.

The task is particularly daunting when one considers that currently more than a fifth of India's population is still living below the poverty line, and hundreds of millions have very little awareness and/or access to financial services.

Using technology, the government is developing three mass access channels, namely mobile banking, Aadhaar, and Jan Dhan Yojana, to propel financial inclusion, improve governance and vastly expand the reach of basic services. This will be supplemented by an overlay of innovations by the National Payment Corporation of India, such as Rupay cards and Immediate Payment System to substantially augment currency circulation through formal channels.

The key programs are discussed below.

Aadhaar: A force multiplier for financial inclusion

The Aadhaar identification program, started in 2012, has been kept in fast-forward mode by the Modi government. According to the Unique Identification Authority of India, the nodal agency for the program's implementation, 1.01 billion Aadhaar cards have been issued so far, covering about 93% of the population. According to 2016 Economic Survey of India, Aadhaar cards were issued in 2015 at the rate of 4 million cards per week. The Aadhaar Bill has also now been passed by both houses of Parliament, and will allow for smoother transfer of government subsidies to households.

PMJDY: Furthering financial inclusion

The PMJDY, announced in the first year of the Modi government, envisages universal access to formal banking by ensuring at least one basic bank account for each household. The program has had good success with 287.5 million Jan Dhan accounts being opened across the country as of May 2017.

Zero-balance accounts have decreased steadily since the launch of PMJDY mainly because of the government's move to route subsidies through this channel. Also, increased availability of low-cost financial instruments is popularising formal financial institutions among the previously unbanked. Since the launch of the Jan Suraksha schemes of insurance and pension in August 2015, the proportion of dormant accounts has fallen. According to a recent survey by Microsave, nearly a fifth of PMJDY account holders use it to access insurance at low costs.

Another positive is that a greater proportion of Jan Dhan accounts have been opened in poorer states such as Uttar Pradesh, Bihar, and Madhya Pradesh. Increasing access to banking through the program can also help reduce inter-state income divide.

Insurance initiatives linked to financial inclusion

To encourage people to open savings bank accounts, the PMJJBY was announced in Union Budget 2015. It is a one-year life insurance scheme, renewable from year to year, offering coverage for death due to any reason to people in the 18-50 age group (life cover up to age 55), who have a savings bank account and who consent to join and enable auto debit. For those who enrolled, the risk cover commenced from June 1, 2015. At a premium of Rs 330 per annum, one can avail a cover of Rs 2 lakh. One can exit and re-join the scheme in future years by paying the annual premium and submitting a self-declaration of good health.

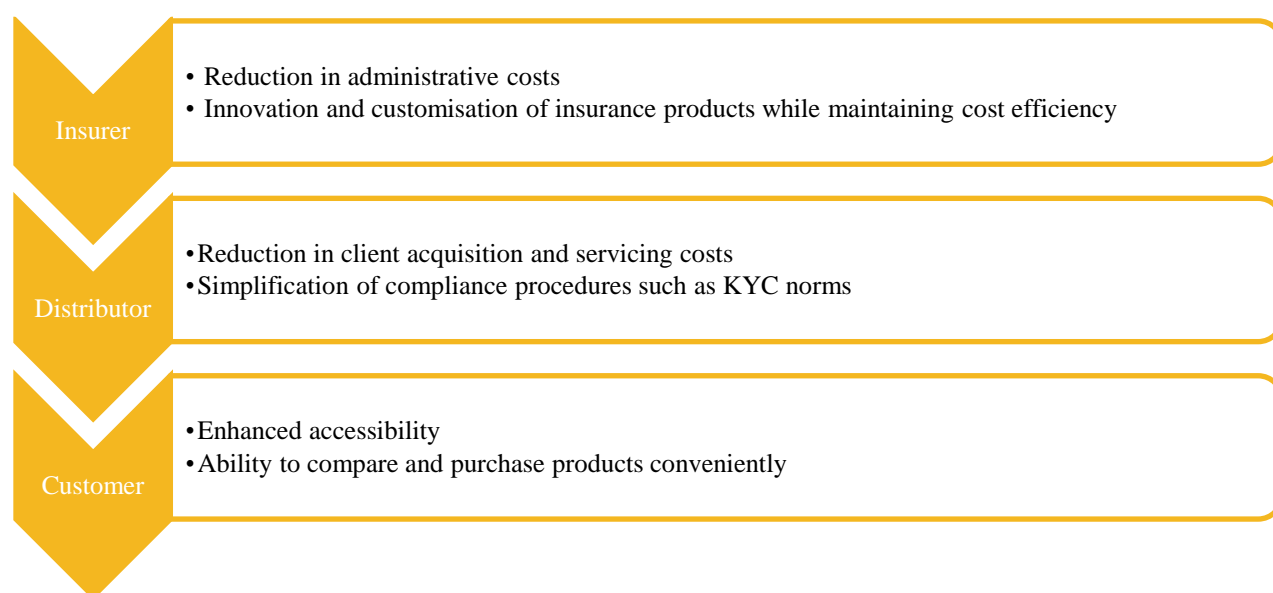

With the launch of insurance initiatives such as PMJJBY, PMSBY, RSBY, and Universal Health Insurance Scheme (UHS), the government has broadened the insurance market. By working towards financial inclusion, it has also not only brought the lower strata of society into the financial system but also initiated the spread of financial literacy among them.

Apart from the government, LIC and private players are also taking various initiatives linked to financial inclusion. Examples include LIC's Bima Bachat Yojana and group insurance platforms. The companies are also leveraging social media to launch initiatives to convey different themes like safety of parents and children.

However, while making premiums more affordable, there is also a need to improve access in rural areas, create insurance awareness, simplify products for the masses, design tailor-made products for different target audiences and focus on reviving and strengthening existing social security schemes.

Digitisation to benefit all stakeholders

With customers becoming more tech savvy, the launch of initiatives like mobile banking and trading, and tablet-based investments have helped further financial inclusion, including in the insurance field. Whether technological platforms are created in-house or via third party platforms, overall efficiency and decline in costs can be attained through the adoption of better technological processes.

Being a push product, insurance needs more effective on-the-ground distribution channels and personalised interaction. This has major implications for the insurance industry. In fact, digitisation will change the way the industry deals with customers, generates sales and handles day-to-day operations.

Not just customers, digitisation will also critically impact the way industry interacts with intermediaries. Digital platforms can make access to a large number of agents and intermediaries more efficient while lowering costs. Providing brokers, for instance, up to date information on products, and even tools to generate quotes, monitor claims, issue policies online and even communicate socially is much more efficiently managed through an agent portal, with many insurers offering hand-held devices with facilities to do precisely that. The portals can also be accessed securely via the internet across a range of mobile devices, including laptops, tablets and smart phones.

In many advanced countries, through digitisation, medical insurers are already registering, approving and paying hospital and medical claims online by simply swiping the insured patient's medical insurance card at the point of sale. Even in India, leading private players are rapidly scaling up their digital presence and hoping to shift a significant part of their business to e-commerce.

The government's digital India program thus has the potential to significantly improve awareness about financial savings and protection instruments and increase insurance penetration and density in the long term.

Healthcare market offers significant opportunities

More health insurance products launched as healthcare costs rise

In India, the insurance business is divided into four classes: Life, fire, marine, and miscellaneous insurance. While life insurers deal with life insurance, general insurers deal with the rest. Health insurance comes under miscellaneous insurance and is also now being increasingly offered by life insurance companies.

The health insurance business in India is classified into group health insurance (other than government sponsored), government sponsored health insurance and individual health insurance. The non-life health insurance industry grew at 19% CAGR during fiscals 2011 to 2017, outpacing the overall insurance industry. Over the past years, there has been a marked increase in the share of individual health insurance premium (including family floater) in total health insurance premium; it went up to 42% in fiscal 2016 from 37% in fiscal 2012.

On the other hand, the share of government-sponsored health insurance business in the total health insurance premium dropped to ~10% in fiscal 2016 from ~17% in fiscal 2012. The share of group health insurance business (other than government business) in total health insurance premium stood at 44-48% during this period.

Trend in health insurance premium

Today, many life insurance companies offer a variety of health insurance plans that offer protection against numerous critical illnesses. Although the basic concept of health insurance plans offered by life insurers is the same as the mediclaim policies offered by general insurers or the government's Employees' State Insurance (ESI), health insurance policies offered by life insurers are more broad-based.

The key feature of mediclaim is cover for hospitalisation and treatment towards accident and pre-specified illnesses for a specific sum assured limit. The mediclaim premium is based on the sum assured. The amount paid towards mediclaim premium for self/spouse/children provides tax exemption under section 80D for a maximum of Rs 25,000 (Rs 30,000 in case of senior citizens) with another Rs 25,000 benefit on mediclaim premium for parents (Rs 30,000 if parent(s) is/are senior citizens).

On the other hand, health insurance plans sold by life insurers include features such as comprehensive health cover against critical illnesses (as many as 30 illnesses in certain plans), discount on premium if sum assured exceeds a particular limit, flexibility to reduce premium/sum assured/policy term after a specified period. Like medical insurance, health insurance premium is also exempted from tax under section 80D.

Based on health indicators for India released by the World Health Organisation's world health statistics survey, CRISIL Research estimates the size of the Indian healthcare delivery industry in fiscal 2017 at 3 billion treatments in volume terms and Rs 4.8 trillion in value terms.

Overall healthcare delivery market in fiscal 2022

Source: CRISIL Research

In-patient department (IPD) comprised 84% share of the healthcare delivery industry as of FY2017 and out-patient department the balance.

CRISIL Research expects the healthcare delivery market to grow 14% CAGR to Rs 9.35 trillion by fiscal 2022 as a change in age demographics and rising incomes, improvement in health awareness, increase in life-related ailments, rising penetration of health insurance and increasing opportunities from medical tourism propel demand for healthcare facilities in India.

We expect expansion plans by major private players to be skewed towards illnesses related to IPD. Hence, the share of IPD by value is expected to increase from 84% in fiscal 2017 (estimated) to 85% in fiscal 2022. During the period, average cost for IPD treatments is forecast to increase at nearly 8% CAGR. For most households, out-of-pocket financing comprises a large chunk of their overall healthcare expenditure.

Hence, in the long run, there are vast opportunities for players who are able to evolve innovative healthcare plans for out-patient expenses.

According to IRDAI, only 359 million people had health insurance coverage, as of fiscal 2016. Only ~24% of this health insurance coverage is provided by non-government providers. The rest are covered under central or state government sponsored schemes, such as Central Government Health Scheme and Employee State Insurance Scheme. Low penetration levels, rising cost of healthcare, constraints on the ability of governments to spend, increasing demand for quality healthcare with rising income underscore the massive opportunity in health insurance for commercial insurance providers.

In the amendment to the Insurance Act in 2015, to increase the focus on the healthcare sector, the government has also mandated insurance players to record health insurance business as a standalone business.

Pension market a looming opportunity

A CRISIL Research study on the need to build pension net indicates that the number of people aged over 60 in India will triple from 112 million in 2014 to 300 million by 2050. Most of them will be financially insecure in their sunset years in the absence of a social security net. And, if a large number of the old end up having no pension by 2030, the government will have to bear the heavy fiscal burden of providing minimum sustenance to them. Our estimates indicate that the fiscal burden of providing pension would be high at 3.4-4.1% of GDP by 2030, and most of this outgo would be towards private sector workforce.

As of 2014, only around 8% of retirees within the private sector receive a pension; therefore, a multi-fold increase in pension coverage to the private sector workforce is an imperative. If 70% of private sector retirees are adequately covered by 2030, their retirement assets will rise to around 26% of GDP in 2030. And, if the entire private sector workforce, which will be over 60 in 2030, has an adequate retirement cover, then the size of the retirement corpus will rise to nearly Rs 276 trillion (or 38% of GDP) by 2050 and Rs 3626 trillion (or over 74% of GDP) by 2050. The provision of additional tax benefits to the extent of employers' contribution in the New Pension scheme is expected to provide an opportunity for growth of pension premium; however, there are further challenges in terms of annuity taxation.

Government push to boost awareness

In recent years, there have been a number of measures to increase the reach of life insurance, particularly to the people who are unable to afford it. In the past two years, the government introduced the Pradhan Mantri Jeevan Jyoti Bima Yojana (PMJJBY), a life insurance policy, and the Pradhan Mantri Jeevan Suraksha Bima Yojana (PMJSBY), an accidental death and disability cover. Earlier, in 2014, it launched the Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana (PMJDY), which provided insurance and health cover for people aged between 18 and 50, and having a savings bank account. As of May 2017, the enrolment across PMJJBY and PMJSBY had crossed 131 million.

Other government sponsored life insurance schemes include the Aam Aadmi Bima Yojana, the postal rural life insurance scheme, and health insurance schemes such asESIS and Rashtriya Swasthya Bima Yojana (RSBY).

In the years ahead, the government's massive push for greater financial inclusion through schemes such as Jan Dhan Yojana will increase awareness about the need, and benefits of life and health insurance, and support growth of life insurance.

SUMMARY OF OUR BUSINESS

Overview

We were the most profitable life insurer, based on Value of New Business (VNB) margin, among the top five private life insurers in India (measured on total new business premium) in Fiscal 2016 and Fiscal 2017, according to CRISIL. Besides consistently being among the top three private life insurers in terms of profitability based on VNB margin, we have also consistently been among the top three private life insurers in terms of market share based on total new business premium between Fiscal 2015 and Fiscal 2017, according to CRISIL. Our total new business premium for Fiscal 2015, Fiscal 2016, Fiscal 2017 and the three months ended June 30, 2017, was ₹54,921.0 million, ₹64,872.2 million, ₹86,963.6 million and ₹16,652.0 million. Between Fiscal 2015 and Fiscal 2017, our annualised premium equivalent grew by a CAGR of 14.5%. Our 13th month individual persistency ratio was 73.3%, 78.9%, 80.9% and 81.5% for the period ended March 31, 2015, March 31, 2016, March 31, 2017 and June 30, 2017, respectively.

We have a healthy balance sheet with total net worth of ₹41.5 billion and a solvency ratio of 197.5% as at June 30, 2017, above the minimum 150.0% solvency ratio required under IRDAI regulations. We generated Profit After Tax of ₹8,869.2 million and delivered a Return on Equity of 25.6%, Return on Invested Capital of 40.7% and Operating Return on Embedded Value of 21.7% during Fiscal 2017. As at June 30, 2017, we had total AUM of ₹947.5 billion and Indian Embedded Value of ₹132.2 billion. We have a track record of consistently delivering shareholder returns across business cycles. We are sufficiently capitalised and have not raised any capital during the last six years (except through issuance of ESOPs under our ESOS scheme(s)), while paying dividends (including dividend distribution tax) totalling ₹7.6 billion between our first dividend in Fiscal 2014 to Fiscal 2017.

We believe that our strong parentage and our trusted brand enhances our appeal to consumers. We were the first private life insurance company to register in India and were established as a joint venture between HDFC (one of India's leading housing finance institutions) and Standard Life Aberdeen plc (one of the world's largest investment companies), initially through its wholly owned subsidiary The Standard Life Assurance Company and now through its wholly owned subsidiary, Standard Life Mauritius.

Our focus on creating a multi-channel distribution platform has resulted in our market share among private life insurers in India in terms of total new business premium increasing from 15.8% in Fiscal 2015 to 17.2% in Fiscal 2017, according to CRISIL. We believe that we offer an attractive value proposition for our distribution partners, as demonstrated by our longstanding, successful relationships with our bancassurance partners through corporate agency or master policyholder arrangements. Our oldest bancassurance partner relationship was established in 2002. Our bancassurance partners include banks, non-banking financial companies, micro-finance institutions and small finance banks in India. Our number of major bancassurance partners grew from 31 as at March 31, 2015 to 120 as at June 30, 2017. Our top 15 bancassurance partners (in terms of total new business premium sourced for the period ended June 30, 2017) had over 11,200 branches across India as at June 30, 2017. We had 58,147 individual agents as at June 30, 2017, which comprise 6.1% of the all private agents in the Indian life insurance industry. We have a pan-India presence, comprising 414 branches and spokes across India as at June 30, 2017, supported by a dedicated workforce of 15,406 full-time employees.

We have a broad, diversified product portfolio covering five principal segments across the individual and group categories, namely participating, non-participating protection term, non-participating protection health, other non-participating and unit-linked insurance products. As at June 30, 2017, our product portfolio comprised 31 individual and ten group products, as well as eight optional rider benefits. Our wide product suite caters to specific needs of customers during each stage of their lives. It also provides us with the flexibility to operate successfully across business cycles, work with diverse sets of distribution partners and serve a range of consumers from mass market to high net worth individuals. It also provides us with the flexibility to adapt to changes in the regulatory landscape and mitigate concentration risk in respect of particular categories or types of products. We have a proven track record in identifying and tapping niche customer segments (such as with our HDFC Life Cancer Care product) through our innovative product solutions that have continued to draw strong customer demand.

In Fiscal 2012, we established our wholly-owned subsidiary, HDFC Pension, to operate our pension fund business under the National Pension System. As at March 31, 2017, HDFC Pension had approximately ₹11,629.8 million of AUM from customers enrolled under the National Pension System. HDFC Pension is the second largest private pension fund management company in India in terms of assets under management and subscribers in Fiscal 2017, according to CRISIL. In Fiscal 2016, we established our first international subsidiary in the UAE, HDFC International, to operate our reinsurance business. HDFC International has signed reinsurance treaties for two distinct lines of individual life business and entered into arrangements to offer reinsurance for group and credit life schemes. We expect our pension and reinsurance business to help us diversify our sources of revenue and profitability in future.

Going forward, we aim to continue to consolidate our position as a long-term player in the industry with our focus on better customer service, strong product propositions and steady profitability.

Our Competitive Strengths

We are positioned as a leading life insurer in one of the fastest growing economies in the world with a growing and under-penetrated life insurance market. With our focus on delivering consistent and profitable growth, which is supported by our customer-centric product development and sales approach, we have demonstrated an ability to deliver value to our customers, shareholders and distribution partners.

Strong parentage and a trusted brand that enhances our appeal to consumers

Our Company was established in 2000 as a joint venture between HDFC (one of India's leading housing finance institutions) and Standard Life Aberdeen plc (one of the world's largest investment companies), initially through its wholly owned subsidiary The Standard Life Assurance Company and now through its wholly owned subsidiary, Standard Life Mauritius. HDFC and Standard Life Mauritius respectively hold 61.41% and 34.86% of our Equity Shares as at the date of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Both HDFC and Standard Life Aberdeen are well known their respective business areas. HDFC is listed on the NSE and BSE. Over the years, the HDFC group has emerged as a recognised financial services conglomerate and was ranked as one of the best Indian brands in 2014 (according to Interbrand) with a presence in banking, life and general insurance, asset management and venture capital. Standard Life Aberdeen is headquartered in Scotland and is listed on the London Stock Exchange. The Standard Life Aberdeen group was formed by the merger of Standard Life and Aberdeen Asset Management PLC on August 14, 2017.

We believe that we have strong brand recall among Indian consumers. We have been selected as a Superbrand in India for three consecutive years from 2014 to 2016. We have also been declared as one of the most valuable brands in India, according to the BrandZ Top 50 Most Valuable Indian Brands list in 2016. See "Business—Brand Strength and Marketing" on page 230 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Strong financial performance defined by consistent and profitable growth

We believe that our focused execution has continued to deliver consistent and profitable growth to our stakeholders. We have a healthy balance sheet and delivered a Return on Equity of 25.6%, Return on Invested Capital of 40.7% and Operating Return on Embedded Value of 21.7% during Fiscal 2017. As at June 30, 2017, we had a solvency ratio of 197.5%, above the minimum 150% solvency ratio required under IRDAI regulations.

Our flexibility and ability to adapt to changes in the Indian life insurance industry has allowed our business to grow and our profitability to improve. Between Fiscal 2015 and Fiscal 2017, our overall total premium grew by a CAGR of 14.5% to ₹194.45 billion, driven by a CAGR of 12.6%, 43.6% and 7.3% in individual new business premiums, group new business premiums and renewal premiums, respectively. We have 57.9 million lives insured across our individual and group customers as at June 30, 2017. In addition, we improved our VNB margins from 18.5% in Fiscal 2015 to 22.0% in Fiscal 2017 by improving cost efficiencies, increasing our persistency ratios and selling a balanced product mix. Our share of protection in the individual and group new business premium increased from 12.0% in Fiscal 2015 to 21.8% for Fiscal 2017. Our Profit After Tax increased by a CAGR of 6.3% from ₹7,855.1 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹8,869.2 million in Fiscal 2017. Our insurance profit increased by a CAGR of 9.7% between Fiscal 2015 and Fiscal 2017.

We believe our profitability and high VNB margins have allowed our business to be self-sustaining. Between Fiscal 2015 and Fiscal 2017, the consistent increase in our VNB reflects our focus on long-term profitable growth. We are sufficiently capitalised and have not raised any capital during the last six years (except through issuance of ESOPs under the relevant ESOS scheme(s)), while paying dividends (including dividend distribution tax) totalling ₹7.6 billion between our first dividend in Fiscal 2014 to Fiscal 2017.

We believe that our strong financial performance and leading position in the industry will allow us to take advantage of growth opportunities in the under-penetrated Indian life insurance sector.

Growing and profitable multi-channel distribution footprint that provides market access across various consumer segments in India

We offer our individual and group customers access to our products through our diversified distribution network which comprises four distribution channels, namely bancassurance, individual agents, direct, and brokers and others. Our multi-channel distribution network provides us with the flexibility to adapt to changes in the regulatory landscape and mitigate the risk of over-reliance on any single channel. All our distribution channels have been independently profitable for each of Fiscal 2015, Fiscal 2016, Fiscal 2017 and the three months ended June 30, 2017.

Bancassurance remained our most significant distribution channel, generating 50.4%, 53.5%, 50.7% and 59.1% of our total new business premiums for Fiscal 2015, Fiscal 2016, Fiscal 2017 and the three months ended June 30, 2017, respectively. We have longstanding, successful relationships with our bancassurance partners through corporate agency or master policyholder arrangements. Our oldest bancassurance partner relationship was established in 2002. Our bancassurance partners include banks, non-banking financial companies, micro-finance institutions and small finance banks in India. Many of our bancassurance partners possess extensive distribution networks across India, providing us with significant opportunities to expand our market reach, access our bancassurance partners' customers and tap on their existing branch infrastructure. Our number of major bancassurance partners grew from 31 as at March 31, 2015 to 120 as at June 30, 2017. Our top 15 bancassurance partners (in terms of total new business premium sourced for the period ended June 30, 2017) had over 11,200 branches across India as at June 30, 2017.

Our individual agent network generated 10.0%, 7.6%, 7.5% and 6.4% of our total new business premium for Fiscal 2015, Fiscal 2016, Fiscal 2017 and the three months ended June 30, 2017, respectively. As at June 30, 2017, we had 58,147 individual agents (which comprise 6.1% of the all private agents in the Indian life insurance industry) who exclusively sell our life insurance products across our branches. Our individual agents network has been profitable for each of Fiscal 2015, Fiscal 2016, Fiscal 2017 and the three months ended June 30, 2017 and the quality of new business has improved. Each individual agent generated an average of ₹119,363 in terms of new business premium and sold an average of 2.3 new insurance policies during Fiscal 2017.

Our direct sales channel generated 37.0%, 36.8%, 39.8% and 31.8% of our total new business premium for Fiscal 2015, Fiscal 2016, Fiscal 2017 and the three months ended June 30, 2017, respectively.

Our brokers and others distribution channel generated 2.6%, 2.1%, 2.1% and 2.6% of our total new business premium for Fiscal 2015, Fiscal 2016, Fiscal 2017 and the three months ended June 30, 2017, respectively. As at June 30, 2017, had 45 broker and other tie-ups, comprising 18 individual insurance brokers and 27 insurance marketing firms.

We believe that our distribution model within each distribution channel gives us a significant footprint across customer segments. As a result of our focus on customer needs and distribution efficiencies, we have managed to build economies of scale across most of our distribution channels, while consistently maintaining profitability for each distribution channel between Fiscal 2015 to Fiscal 2017 and the three months ended June 30, 2017.

Focus on customer centricity enabling growth across business cycles

We are committed to providing a differentiated and superior customer service experience to our customers across the life of an insurance policy, from product development to customer on-boarding and policy issuance to customer service and claims settlement. Our commitment to customer centricity has resulted in long-term profitable growth, as reflected in the consistent increase in our EV at a CAGR of 18.4% from ₹88,882 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹124,705 million in Fiscal 2017.

Our integrated customer on-boarding process has enabled our frontlines sales team to facilitate customer convenience and includes "straight-through processing" of customer proposal forms, instant secure customer verification processes through our mobile applications and an automated underwriting engine which enables us to obtain key underwriting information from customers during customer on-boarding, reduces the documentation requirements from customers and helps us to improve our underwriting efficiency. These initiatives have resulted in improved turnaround times for the issuance of new policies. We believe that these initiatives have also resulted in higher customer satisfaction and have contributed to higher operating margins.

We strive to create one-on-one relationships with our customers by responding to their queries promptly and efficiently across traditional and non-traditional customer service channels. Our ability to provide quality customer service is supported by our increasingly automated service platform, which is available to our customers 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Our digital customer service platforms include our online customer portal, customer service mobile application and email service. We recently introduced additional automated elements, including a natural language-processing automation engine to respond to customer requests received by email, which have resulted in improved response times and contributed to providing a consistent customer service experience. We also have a separate service recovery team to address customer complaints. In Fiscal 2017, 99.0% of our customer complaints were resolved within the 15 calendar days turnaround time as prescribed by IRDAI. Our service recovery team also conducts a root cause analysis, which is shared with our senior management and distribution partners, in order to prevent recurring complaints of a similar nature. This is demonstrated by a decrease in the number of customer complaints per 10,000 new policies from 498 in Fiscal 2013 to 81 in Fiscal 2017.

Claimants can submit claims through various channels, including our existing branches, the branches of our distribution partners, our website, call centre and emails. We use rule engines and predictive technology to achieve accuracy and consistency in claims categorisation and processing, and have implemented a tiered authorisation system to manage claims of differing value and complexity and to facilitate rapid claims processing. The efficiency of our claims settlement has improved from Fiscal 2015 to Fiscal 2017, with the average turnaround time for claims settlement decreasing from ten days in Fiscal 2015 to five days in Fiscal 2017, upon receipt of all supporting documentation. For the three months ended June 30, 2017, 95.5% and 54.1% of our non-investigative claims were settled within three days and one day, respectively, upon our receipt of all supporting documentation. Our overall claims settlement ratio of 99.2% for Fiscal 2017 is among the best in the Indian life insurance industry. This is a testament to the quality of our customer service and customer on-boarding and underwriting processes.

Our Product Management Council consists of representatives across various key functions of our Company and analyses the needs of our prospective customers based on interactions with distribution partners and industry trends, which helps to guide our needs-based, innovative and customer-centric product development and sales strategy. As at June 30, 2017, our product portfolio comprised 31 individual and ten group products, as well as eight optional rider benefits. Our wide product suite caters to specific needs of customers during each stage of their lives.

We have a proven track record in proactively identifying and tapping niche customer segments through our competitive, innovative product solutions for such segments, which have continued to draw strong customer demand. We also have a specialised health insurance segment, and we believe this segment is under-penetrated compared to the life segment and provides significant opportunities for our distributors and customers. In Fiscal 2016, we launched our HDFC Life Cancer Care product, an award winning health insurance product in the Indian life and health insurance industry, which provides financial protection in the event of early and major stages of cancer. As at June 30, 2017, approximately 222,000 lives are insured through our HDFC Life Cancer Care product. We identified the need to focus on the increasing protection requirements of Indian consumers. We launched our first online term product, HDFC Life Click2Protect, in Fiscal 2012. Our range of Click2Series products sold through our online channel collectively generated annualised premium equivalent of ₹593.6 million, ₹905.0 million, ₹1,009.4 million and ₹341.6 million, in Fiscal 2015, Fiscal 2016, Fiscal 2017 and the three months ended June 30, 2017, respectively.

Our continued efforts to improve the quality of our new business, focus on needs-based selling, strong commitment to customer service and our efforts in streamlining the renewal premium payment process, has resulted in an overall improvement in our persistency ratio. Our 13th month persistency increased from 73.3% for the period ended March 31, 2015 to 80.9% for the period ended March 31, 2017 and our 61st month persistency increased from 39.8% for the period ended March 31, 2015 to 56.8% for the period ended March 31, 2017.

In recognition of our success, we were awarded the Finnoviti 2016 Award for innovations in BFSI for our HDFC Life Cancer Care product, as well as the Golden Peacock Innovative Product Award 2015 and Indian Insurance Awards 2014 — Best Product Innovation (Life Insurance) for our HDFC Life Click2Invest product.

Leading digital platform that provides a superior experience for customers and distributors

We believe that we have developed a leading digital platform that gives us a competitive edge across various distribution channels and customer segments. Given our focus on and investments in our digital platform, we believe that we are uniquely positioned to capitalise on the increasing digitisation of the Indian economy.

We have undertaken several initiatives and developed a mobility platform to streamline and digitise our customer on-boarding and policy issuance processes, with the aim of making such processes convenient and simple for our customers. Mobility initiatives have been successfully implemented across the value chain, resulting in improvements to the productivity of our distribution partners. During Fiscal 2017, 48.0% of our new applications were sourced through mobile devices. We have an advanced digital platform that is user-friendly, customer-centric and capable of guiding our customers and distribution partners from on-boarding to policy issuance within four days, which we believe has been a key contributor to our increased digital sales over the years. Introduction of new products and increased customer traffic can be managed through our digital platform with limited additional investment. This provides us with the requisite flexibility and headroom for exponential future growth in a rapidly evolving online space. Our annualised premium equivalent earned through online channels increased at a CAGR of 27.9% between Fiscal 2015 to Fiscal 2017.

We aim to enhance revenue earned by our distributors, while continuing to pursue profitable growth by improving sales productivity and efficiency, including through equipping our distribution partners with advanced online and digital sales solutions. We believe that we have developed a scalable distribution platform which can be implemented rapidly and efficiently by numerous distribution partners across various channels. Our “plug-and-play” on-boarding process has made it easier for our bancassurance partners to start selling our products, while providing us with access to their wide distribution networks. We believe that we offer our distributors an attractive value proposition through leveraging our information technology systems, investing in our sales support systems, creating a wider, customer-centric product suite, and providing our strong brand name to enable them to cross-sell and up-sell our products to their customer base.

Our information technology initiatives have received various industry awards, including the CIO 100 Asia award for achievements in strategic enterprise IT deployment, the CIO 100 International honoree award for innovation in IT development and the DL Shah Quality Award.

For details, see “Business—Operations” and “Business—Technology and Digital Initiatives” on pages 214 and 213 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, respectively.

Independent and experienced leadership team

We have an independent and experienced leadership team with capabilities and know-how across the banking, financial services and insurance sectors. None of our Key Management Personnel have been seconded by or transferred from our Promoters, which we believe contributes to the stability of our Key Management Personnel. As at June 30, 2017, our Key Management Personnel had an average of over ten years of experience in the financial services sector.

Our leadership team is committed to growing our business, as demonstrated by our track record in delivering consistent results across business cycles. Our Board of Directors evaluates our performance based on an objective range of performance indicators that we believe encourages us to calibrate our business strategies towards achieving long-term profitable growth.

We believe that the strength of our management team is a key competitive advantage and will help us implement our business strategies and adapt to evolving consumer preferences and changes in our business and regulatory environment.

Our Strategies

The India life insurance market is and will continue to be a growing and attractive market and offers significant headroom for growth. Indicators such as insurance penetration, insurance density and protection gap indicate that the Indian life insurance market is still significantly underinsured, according to CRISIL. The future growth of India’s life insurance market is supported by high historical real GDP growth, with an average growth rate of 7.1% between Fiscal 2013 and Fiscal 2016, increased levels of financial savings and initiatives undertaken by the Government to ensure adequate social security for its citizens. The Government’s emphasis on financial inclusion and growth opportunities will continue to drive the growth of the Indian life insurance sector. According to CRISIL, the demonetisation measures implemented by the Government have also resulted in increased customer deposits with banks, which we believe will further drive the penetration of life and health insurance. In addition, innovations in operating architecture based on the JAM (JanDhan-Aadhaar-Mobile) trinity and eKYC are expected to improve reach of insurance products and efficiency, according to CRISIL.

Our overall business strategy is to deliver profitable growth to our shareholders consistently across business cycles and to build a high quality, customer-centric franchise that provides superior value to our policyholders. We believe increasing distribution reach and strengthening our position as a leader in certain product niches is the key to capturing customer segments and improving our profitability. Given our track record of strong financial performance and investments made over the years, we believe we are well-positioned to be a multi-channel distribution specialist and a preferred partner for distributors. We believe that we will be able to capitalise on the increasing numbers of consumers who have a preference for purchasing insurance through non-traditional channels, such as our website, mobile applications and other e-commerce channels. We aim to drive innovation in product development and improve our distribution value proposition, which we believe will further increase our market share across product categories, as well as improve our profitability. We intend to leverage technology and automation and build economies of scale to further drive cost efficiencies. We have successfully navigated through a changing business and regulatory environment in the past, and we believe that we are well-equipped to overcome future challenges in the Indian life insurance industry.

Reinforce our agile, multi-channel distribution platform to fortify and diversify our revenue mix across business cycles

We intend to continue expanding the number of our partnerships and diversifying our sources of new business premiums. We aim to stay ahead of the curve in forming alliances with a variety of distribution partners, including banks, non-banking financial companies, micro-finance institutions and other non-financial services companies. We plan to reinforce our multi-channel distribution platform by increasing our reach across non-traditional distribution channels, while strengthening existing channels and relationships, in order to reduce dependency on any single distribution channel or partner. Our agile distribution platform and our key account managers have the ability to support the requirements of both traditional and non-traditional distribution partners. We intend to pursue increased profitability by improving the productivity and efficiency of our various distribution channels through the implementation of tailored strategy for each of the channels, while maintaining our quality and risk management standards. We will continue to engage with our distributors to enhance our distribution value proposition and to ensure that it stays relevant and competitive. In the evolving regulatory landscape of open architecture and greater choice, we will strive to be a preferred partner across all our distribution channels.

We believe that we can leverage on the large network of potential customers from our various distribution partners to distribute and cross-sell our products. In addition, we believe that our large and varied base of individual and group customers provides significant growth opportunities from increased cross-selling and up-selling. We intend to leverage our access to more than 52.5 million lives insured under our group products to cross-sell individual products and riders that provide enhanced coverage for individuals, over and above the coverage provided by group insurance policies. Our distribution partners can leverage on our unified customer and distributor interaction platform, which includes a database of customer information that can be accessed by each of our distribution partners. We also use analytics tools to identify target customers and to aid our distribution partners in determining the suitability of additional products for our customers, which facilitates cross-selling efforts by our distribution partners to our customers.

During Fiscal 2017, we began partnering with non-traditional players to distribute our products through their platforms. We have developed customised distribution methods with customer loyalty platforms, online payment and fintech companies. As at June 30, 2017, we have entered into partnerships with 12 companies across various non-traditional sectors and expect to increase the contribution of new business premiums through this distribution sub-channel over the next few years. We believe that non-traditional distribution partnerships have the potential to contribute to our business going forward, given the significantly under-penetrated life insurance market across tier-two and tier-three cities in India, and that our innovative product sales strategies within non-traditional distribution channels will continue to be a key competitive advantage for us.

For further details, see “Business—Distribution—Our distribution value proposition” and “Business—Customers” on pages 210 and 220 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, respectively.

Drive innovation in product sales to enhance customer value proposition and to capture niche segments

Our product strategy is designed to achieve an optimum balance between the needs of our relevant stakeholders including our customers, distributors and shareholders. We aim to offer needs-based and customer-centric products which address the core needs of our customers across each stage of their lives. Our track record has provided us with significant experience and know-how to develop and provide insurance products across various customer segments, economic conditions and market scenarios.

We intend to adopt the following initiatives as part of our product development pipeline.

- Protection. We intend to build on our position as a proactive provider of protection plans in both life and health segments to attract new consumers and appeal to the younger population. This will help us cross-sell and up-sell our savings and investments products, together with our policy riders, to our younger consumers across key stages of their lives. Our latest term product, HDFC Life Click2Protect 3D Plus, is an award-winning product and provides comprehensive cover against death, terminal illnesses and disability, along with competitive premium prices and flexible features such as whole life coverage, various income options and a top-up option that increases coverage against the inflation rate.
- Health. Given the low penetration of health insurance in India, we intend to explore further opportunities in this space in order to increase the spectrum of cover for other diseases. We intend to leverage on our existing individual and group customers to cross-sell appropriate health insurance products, while exploring alliances with specialist healthcare providers to expand our distribution opportunities. Following changes in regulations by IRDAI in Fiscal 2017 permitting life insurance companies to only sell fixed benefit health insurance products, we have received IRDAI approval for and expect to launch our Click2Protect Health product in August 2017, a joint product in partnership with Apollo Munich. This combines our HDFC Life Click2Protect 3D Plus product and Apollo Munich's Optima Restore health indemnity plan, which are both leading products in their respective categories. Customers can purchase Click2Protect Health at a discount to the aggregate price of both products while having the benefit of both life and health indemnity protection. We are the lead insurer (as defined by IRDAI) for Click2Protect Health, which is a combination product, and are in charge of product development, marketing and distribution of the product. We expect the health insurance segment to continue be a key focus area of our business.
- Retirement. The number of people aged over 60 in India will triple from 112 million in 2014 to 300 million by 2050, and approximately 8% of retirees within the private sector receive pension benefits as at 2014, according to CRISIL. We believe that there is strong business potential in the retirement segment, particularly for non-government employees in India who do not have Government pension benefits, given the Government's intention for India to transition into a pensioned society. We believe our annuity and pension plans will continue to gain popularity in the life insurance market and have established a dedicated pension fund management subsidiary, HDFC Pension, to sell National Pension System products.

In line with the Government's and IRDAI's goal of increasing life and health insurance penetration in India, we intend to continue to collaborate with small finance banks, non-banking financial companies and micro-finance institutions to develop additional individual and group products for the mass market segment in tier-two and tier-three cities in India.

As we continue to grow our product range, we believe that our ability to create innovative methods to sell our products will provide us with a competitive advantage. Our mobile technology platform has transformed the sales process for our frontline sales staff and has created a foundation for future innovation in our product sales. We intend to further integrate our mobile technology platforms with our distributors in order to make the sales process more convenient for both our distributors and customers.

We will continue to obtain feedback from our key distribution partners and customers, and widen our product offerings appropriately to stay relevant to distributors and customers. We believe that our innovative product offerings and sales strategies will help us strengthen and enhance our customer value proposition.

Invest in digital platforms to establish leadership in the growing digital space

We believe that digital distribution will continue to be a key, growing trend in the Indian life insurance industry and that smartphones and mobile devices will become a more integral part of how our customers purchase our products in the coming years. India currently has a total wireless subscriber base of approximately 1,187 million, out of which nearly 356 million are smartphone users. The number of smartphone users is likely to increase exponentially over the next five years owing to steep growth in 3G and 4G subscribers as well as increasing smartphone penetration, according to CRISIL. In addition, the demonetisation measures that were implemented by the Government in November 2016 have accelerated the adoption of digital platforms across the financial services sector. Many of these customers are younger than our average insurance customers and we believe that building a relationship with such customers will provide us with multiple opportunities to meet their insurance needs across key stages of their life.

We believe that maintaining our superior digital infrastructure will continue to be a key contributor to the growth of our business. Since Fiscal 2016, we have adopted a "mobile first" approach to the creation and design of all website and applications. We have implemented various digital initiatives in order to facilitate a seamless customer on-boarding process, provide a superior customer experience through increasing our customer service capabilities across multiple channels and enhance our operating efficiencies across the value chain. We intend to continue making substantial but targeted investments in areas such as mobility platforms, data science and analytics, cognitive automation and cloud computing. Our vision is to be a leader in the effective use of technology to meet the needs of our customers, our employees and our distribution partners. During Fiscal 2017, we evaluated the suitability of robotics and artificial intelligence solutions. We have since deployed these solutions across some of our back-office processes. We intend to introduce new digital platforms and mobile solutions to increase our outreach to customers, integrate our platforms with our distributors, rationalise our branch infrastructure and improve productivity of our individual agents and frontline sales staff. In addition, we have implemented multiple initiatives to provide skills development opportunities for our employees and have hired employees with specific e-commerce and digital experience to help us improve our technology platforms and reinforce our digital initiatives such as data analytics and robotics.

We intend to continue building on our strong brand recall in the online space and driving traffic to our website www.hdfclife.com by expanding our use of digital marketing tools, such as Facebook, YouTube, LinkedIn™, Twitter and other social media websites. We believe that digital media provides us with a low cost opportunity to engage significant numbers of consumers using multi-lingual content, which we intend to continue to leverage. We will continue to emphasise measures such as expanding our online product range and cross-selling and up-selling our products to customers by leveraging analytics tools to determine customer preferences. By communicating the benefits of buying online and digital insurance products to a wider range of customers, we aim to create scale and build on our strong market position within the digital space.

Continue to build economies of scale to ensure profitability and cost leadership

We have a proven track record of consistently growing our total premium and VNB over the past few years. We have increased our efficiency and reduced sales costs through implementing our strategies, including our productivity and cost savings initiatives. We aim to continue adding economic value to our shareholders by increasing total premium and VNB, while reducing our total operating cost ratio across business cycles. We intend to undertake appropriate investments to strengthen our sources of competitive advantage and make our business resilient and adaptable by building on intangible assets which cannot be easily replicated by our competitors, such as our brand, product offerings to customers and integrated distribution processes. An expanding universe of partners will also help create a wider customer base and reduce unit costs per policyholder, which we expect will improve our total operating cost ratio and allow us to continue to build scale across our business.

We will continue exploring organic and inorganic opportunities to improve our operating margins through scale and synergies, expand our distribution reach and improve our financial performance. Over time, we believe that our scale of operations will help us operate at lower operating costs than the industry average, ensure cost and profitability leadership and provide us with the necessary heft to forge additional distribution partnerships and invest in further customer-centric initiatives.

Further, as per section 71 of the Act, short-term capital loss or long-term capital loss for the year cannot be set-off against income under any other heads for the same year.
- As per section 74 of the Act, the balance short-term capital loss, which is not set off under the provisions of section 70 of the Act, is allowed to be carried forward for subsequent eight assessment years for being set off against subsequent years' short-term as well as long-term capital gains. However, the balance long-term capital loss of any year is allowed to be set off only against the long-term capital gains of subsequent eight assessment years.
- As per section 196D, no tax is to be deducted from any income, by way of capital gains arising from the transfer of securities referred to in section 115AD, payable to FII.

d. Computation of book profits under section 115JB of the Act

- Capital gains (whether long-term or short-term) arising on transfer of shares by foreign companies will not be subject to MAT under section 115JB of the Act if conditions prescribed in Explanation 4 to section 115JB(2) of the Act are satisfied.

Benefits available to Mutual Funds under the Act

Under section 10(23D) of the Act, any income earned by a Mutual Fund registered under the Securities and Exchange Board of India Act, 1992, or a Mutual Fund set up by a public sector bank or a public financial institution, or a Mutual Fund authorised by the Reserve Bank of India would be exempt from income-tax, subject to such conditions as the Central Government may by notification in the Official Gazette specify in this behalf.

Benefits available to Alternative Investment Funds (Category I and II) under the Act

Under section 10(23FBA) of the Act, income earned (other than income chargeable under the head 'Profits and gains from business or profession') by Category I and Category II Alternative Investment Funds is exempt from tax.

The income earned by the funds is taxable in the hands of the unit holder of such funds in the same manner as if it were the income accruing or arising to, or received, by such unit holder had the investments made by the funds been made directly by the unit holders.

Alternative Investment Funds (Category III)

There is no specific exemption provided under the Act for the income earned by the Category III Alternative Investment Fund. The taxability depends on the status of the Fund. In case the Fund is set-up as a 'Trust', the principles of trust taxation should apply based on the nature of the trust.

General Anti-Avoidance Rule

Under the Act, General Anti-Avoidance Rule ('GAAR') may be invoked by the income-tax authorities in case arrangements are found to be impermissible avoidance arrangements. A transaction can be declared as an impermissible avoidance arrangement, if the main purpose of the arrangement is to obtain a tax benefit and which satisfies one of the four below mentioned elements:

- The arrangement creates rights or obligations which are ordinarily not created between parties dealing at arm's-length;
- It results in directly / indirectly misuse or abuse of the Income-tax Act;
- It lacks commercial substance or is deemed to lack commercial substance in whole or in part; or
- It is entered into or carried out in a manner, which is not normally employed for bona fide purposes.

The provisions of GAAR are applicable with effect from financial year 2017-18 and onwards.

SECTION IV: ABOUT OUR COMPANY

INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

Introduction to Insurance

Insurance is a form of hedge against risk. By paying a small sum of money to an insurance company, a person can safeguard, in financial terms, against loss relating to life, disability, medical exigency, automobiles, housing and wealth. Not only is it a good risk management and wealth preservation tool, it is also an integral component of sound financial planning.

Overview of the insurance industry

Globally, the insurance industry can be broadly divided into two: life insurance and general insurance. While life insurance relates to risk cover for life or disability/accidents of an individual or a group of individuals, general insurance or non-life insurance covers risk to other insurable assets such as property, vehicles, health etc.

Many foreign and Indian life insurance players operated in India until 1956, when the government nationalised the life insurance industry. Consequently, there was only one player in life insurance - Life Insurance Corporation of India Ltd (LIC). In 1973, the general insurance industry was also nationalised. It was only in the 1990s that, as part of economic liberalisation, the industry was again thrown open to private players.

Since then, LIC remains the sole public player in life insurance. Private sector players have made substantial investments in capital, as reflected in the industry's net worth that soared from Rs 47 billion as of March 2005 to Rs 486 billion as of March 2016. After the Insurance Laws (Amendment) Act was passed in 2015, the foreign direct investment (FDI) limit in the insurance sector was increased from 26% to 49%; the FDI into the sector surged 764% y-o-y to US$2.8 bn in April-December 2016.

The life insurance sector can be classified on the basis of products and customer segments. On the basis of products, they are divided into non-linked products and linked products. Non-linked products are traditional products, with protection and savings built in, or pure protection products. As the name suggests, linked products offer returns that are linked to the performance of debt and equity markets. Linked products started gaining traction from 2004.

Non-linked saving products can be further divided into participating insurance products and non-participating insurance products. Participatory products have their returns linked to the performance of the insurance company.

As of 2016-17, non-linked products were the most popular, accounting for 87% of total premium collected. However, the private players' share was only 56%

The industry provides both individual and group policies, and premium payments can be made at the outset in one shot (called single premium) or on a regular basis. Individual policies accounted for 44% of new business premium collected in 2016-17.

The life insurance players have also started to offer health insurance products covering individuals and groups. As of 2016-17, health insurance premium collections was Rs 307 bn.

The IRDAI

The Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority of India (IRDAI) was constituted as an autonomous body to regulate and develop the insurance industry in 1999 and received the statutory status in April 2000. The IRDAI opened up the insurance sector for private participation in 2000. Until 2000, there were only one life insurer and four general insurers in the country, all being from the public sector.

Global Life Insurance Industry

The growth in total premium of the global insurance industry has been subdued since the 2008 global financial crisis, compared with the total premium CAGR of 4% (in dollar, nominal terms) between 2003 and 2007. In advanced economies, total premium growth has stagnated since then. In 2016, total premium for advanced economies grew 0.7%, compared with 2.5% in 2015.

As per Swiss Re Institute sigma No 3/2017 report, in 2016, global life premiums are estimated to have increased 2.5%; premium growth declined in the advanced markets by 50 bps, but accelerated in the emerging markets.

Life premiums in the emerging markets grew 17% in 2016 versus 12% in 2015, well above the overall growth of 2.5%.

In terms of the market share of life insurance, Asia is the largest continent, accounting for 38% of premium collected. The share of emerging markets¹ in the life insurance industry has also increased, from just 3% in 1995 to around 19% in 2016. Emerging markets in Asia recorded improved performance in 2016, partly due to strong growth in China, India and Hong Kong, with the main contributor being China, where premium growth accelerated to 20.6% in 2016, from 20% in 2015.

India's share is just ~2.4% in the global life insurance market as of 2016, indicating the vast potential for growth in India's life insurance industry. In India, the recovery over the last few years was propelled by both linked and non-linked products, growing 12% and 14% y-o-y, respectively.

¹ Advanced economies include the US, Canada, Western Europe (excluding Turkey), Israel, Oceania, Japan and the other advanced Asian economies (Hong Kong, Singapore, South Korea and Taiwan). All other countries are classified as "emerging" and generally correspond to the IMF's "emerging and developing" economies

Penetration & Density of Life Insurance:

In the global insurance industry, around 55% of premium comes from life insurance and the rest from the non-life segment; in emerging markets, around 54% of premium comes from life insurance. By contrast, the share of life insurance is over 78% for India. Despite this, indicators, such as insurance penetration (premium as a percentage of GDP), insurance density (premium per capita) and sum assured to GDP indicate that the Indian market is still significantly underinsured.

India's life insurance penetration stood at ~2.7% in 2016, compared with 4.4% in 2009-10, suggesting that the penetration has substantially declined over the past few years. The average penetration for the life insurance industry globally is 3.5% as of 2016 which is 75 bps more than the Indian life insurance industry. Among comparable Asian counterparts, life insurance penetration for Thailand, Singapore and South Korea stood at 3.7%, 5.5% and 7.4%, respectively, as of 2016, much higher compared with India. This indicates the untapped potential of the Indian life insurance market. Also, the penetration for Indian industry is strictly not comparable to the developed markets, such as US and Australia, as mandatory pension contributions in the US and Australia are not included in the insurance pie.

Further, due to higher share of savings than protection in the premium, CRISIL Research believes the actual protection provided by insurance in India would be much lower compared with even other developing markets. The average insurance penetration in emerging markets increased to 3.2% in 2016 from 2.9% in 2015. The insurance density in India, at US$ 46.5 in 2016, remains low as compared to that of other developed and emerging market economies.

Life insurance coverage has increased appreciably

The total sum assured under the individual life insurance business was Rs 96 trillion as of fiscal 2017 in India. The sum assured for the individual insurance is estimated to have increased at a CAGR of 16% from fiscals 2011 to 2017. The total number of individual policies in force were 322 million as of fiscal 2017

Indian Life Insurance Industry

Historical Evolution

Life insurance in India is a Rs 4.2 trillion industry on total premium basis. New premium constituted ~42% of total business premium in 2016-17. The assets under management (AUM) of the industry increased at 19% CAGR during 2000-01 to 2016-17 to ~Rs 30 trillion. Total premium also grew at impressive ~17% CAGR during the period.

For the domestic life insurance industry, the period since the opening of the sector to private players in 1999, can be segregated into four phases: 2001-03, 2004-08, 2009-2014 and 2015 onwards.

Phase I: Entry of private players 2001-03

The Indian life insurance industry consisted of only one player – LIC – during 1956 to 2000. Post privatisation in 2000, 10 private players entered the life insurance industry during 2000 to 2001. Among the current top five players in the industry, HDFC Standard Life was the first private company to register in 2000, followed by ICICI Prudential Life and Max Life Insurance in the same year. SBI Life and Bajaj Allianz entered the industry in fiscal 2002.

Phase II: Expansion of private players 2004-08

Total premium rose a sharp 32% CAGR between fiscals 2004 and 2008 owing to aggressive foray by private players. Growth for private players was driven by ULIP sales amid strong capital-market performance. Also, a favourable commission structure because of high upfront commission to agents led to higher sales of linked products. As of fiscal 2008, the industry mix for linked and non-linked products was 46% and 54% respectively. While, the mix for private players was 88% linked and 12% non-linked as of fiscal 2008

Phase III: During 2009-14, new business premium shrunk following downturn in ULIPs

For about five years ending 2010, in line with the booming economy and soaring stock markets, the industry grew by leaps and bounds, driven by the launch of innovative linked-insurance products and aggressive marketing by private players.

In 2010, IRDAI released new guidelines on ULIPs that capped upfront charges, returns and commission, which severely affected the business dynamics of linked products. As a result, insurance companies reduced their focus on ULIPs and renewed their focus on traditional (non-linked) products.

A fall in household savings as a percentage of GDP, due to weak economic growth and subdued stock markets, also reduced the appetite for linked products among customers. The preference for traditional savings and protection products increased as ULIPs lost their shine due to downturn in the stock markets.

Consequently, total premium rose by 7.2% CAGR over FY09-14 (compared with 27.3% CAGR over FY04-09). The share of linked-insurance products in product mix for industry slumped from 41% in 2008-09 to 12% in 2013-14. For private players the slump was more prominent, the share of linked insurance products in product mix fell from 87% to 45% over the same period. Slowdown in economic growth and tepid returns from capital markets also impacted the demand of linked-insurance products.

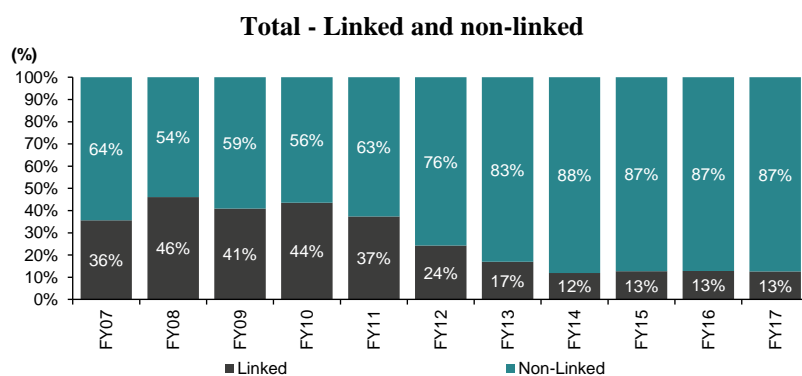

Phase IV: Revival in Growth post FY15

From 2014-15, the industry began showing signs of revival, primarily due to the improvement in performance of private players. For private players, Individual WRP (Individual Weighted Received Premium), which is an indicator of new retail business, grew by 16% on-year in 2014-15, 14% on-year in 2015-16, and 26% on-year in 2016-17.

The industry mix for linked and non-linked products has largely remained the same over FY15-17, with 13% for linked products and 87% for non-linked products. Similarly, for private players the product mix has largely remained constant for the period (Linked ~45% and Non-linked ~55%). This growth has been driven by expectations of improvement in economic growth, cooling inflation, increase in financial savings, and healthy returns provided by equity and debt markets.

The top five players accounted for more than 60% of the total premium collected by the private sector in 2016-17. Their dominance has increased in the last few years due to the relative strength of their brands and wider distribution network. The top private players are mainly driven by bancassurance channel, as they have promoter banks which have established branches across the country, leading to extensive geographic reach.

Classification of insurance policies

Life insurance policies can be broadly divided into two types: whole life and term life. In a whole-life policy, premium is paid until the death of the policy holder. In a term-life insurance, the policy remains in force only for a fixed time period.

Insurance policies also can be divided in three ways, namely:

- Linked and non-linked
- Participatory and non-participatory
- Pure protection and savings (investment)/protection

Linked and non-linked

In linked policies, a part of the premium is allocated to different types of funds, such as debt, equity, money-market, hybrid instruments. The holders bear the risk of the investment, but also has the flexibility to invest as per their risk appetite and financial commitments. The investment strategy can also be changed.

Non-linked policies are conventional plans that are invested in low-risk instruments and offer guaranteed maturity proceeds and bonus. The funds are invested as per the insurance company's strategy and discretion.

Participatory and non-participatory

Participating policies are those that provide not only the sum assured, but also allow the policyholder to participate in the company's profit. Sum assured is the amount that the customer receives on completion of the policy term or upon the insured's death, whichever is earlier. Premiums paid by the customers of participating policies are pooled to form a participating fund, which is invested by the insurance company. Based on the fund's returns, the company pays out a proportionate share of the profit to the policyholders. However, this profit is not guaranteed by the insurance company. Hence, participating policies are those that have both the guaranteed (sum assured) and non-guaranteed benefits.

Non-participating policies pay the policyholder the guaranteed benefit (except in unit-linked policies) when the policy term completes, i.e., the maturity benefit or the death benefit, in case of the death of the life insured. The customer does not participate in the profits of the company and is, therefore, not paid out bonuses or a share in profit.

Pure protection and savings (investment)/protection

In pure protection policies, the sum assured, and any other benefits, are paid out on death or any health or critical ailment of the policyholder occurs during the policy term. If the policyholder survives, there is no pay-out. Hence, their premiums are far cheaper compared with savings/protection policies.

In savings/protection policies, the policyholder gets the sum assured plus other benefits in both eventualities: death or survival. Consequently, the premiums in such policies are far higher.

Accordingly, unit-linked insurance policies (ULIPs), which also include some endowment plans, are a type of linked products, whereas others are non-linked ones. Term insurance, health and annuity plans are pure protection products, whereas all others are savings (investment)-cum-protection products.

ULIPs

ULIPs offer protection along with investments. A part of the monthly/yearly premium pay-out goes towards the insurance cover, whereas the rest is invested by the life insurance company in various types of funds that invest in debt and equity instruments. In that sense, ULIPs are more or less similar to mutual funds except that they offer the additional benefit of insurance.

The key features of ULIPs are:

Flexibility: ULIPs offer high-, medium- and low-risk investment options under a single policy, and the choice is left to individuals, based on their risk appetite. Customers can also switch between fund options without any additional expense for a specified number of switches. There is also the flexibility to choose the sum assured and investment ratio in the annual targeted premium. Customers can also avail of a one-time increase in the investment portfolio through top-ups to capitalise on any investment opportunity that arises either due to the external environment or due to higher income.

Transparency: The charge structure, value of investment and expected internal rate of return (IRR) - based on 4% and 8% rates of return for the policy tenure - are shared with the customer before purchase of the policy. Similarly, the annual account statement, quarterly investment portfolio and daily NAV reporting ensure that customers are kept abreast of the status of their investment portfolio at all times. Most companies publish latest NAVs on their respective websites every day.

Liquidity: ULIPs offer the benefit of partial withdrawal to meet any exigency. Customers can withdraw funds from the ULIP after five years, retaining the stipulated amount.

Other benefits: (1) discipline in savings; (2) bundled benefits; and (3) risk diversification.

Term insurance

These products are the most basic and affordable form of life insurance. They provide just life cover and offer no savings/profits components. Premiums are cheaper compared with those of other life insurance plans.

Most insurers now offer online term insurance plans as well, offering still lower premiums. A fixed amount (sum assured) is paid to the beneficiaries, if the policyholder expires during the policy term. On survival, there will not be any pay-out.

Endowment plans

Maturity benefit is the key differentiating factor between endowment plans and term plans. Term plans pay out the sum assured only in case of death (or in the event of any other riders) of the policyholder over the policy term. Endowment plans, on the other hand, pay out the sum assured in both scenarios – death and survival.

As a result, endowment plans charge higher fees/expenses, and thus higher premiums, for paying out the sum assured along with profits. The profits are an outcome of premiums invested in the equity and debt markets.

Whole-life policy

A whole-life insurance policy covers a policyholder over the life. The main feature of a whole life policy is that the validity of the policy is not defined, so the individual enjoys the life cover throughout life. The policyholder pays regular premiums until death, upon which the corpus is paid out to the family. The policy expires only in case of an eventuality, as there is no pre-defined policy tenure.

Money back policy

A money back policy is a variant of endowment plans. It pays periodically over the policy term. To that end, a portion of the sum assured is paid out at regular intervals. If the policy holder survives the term, he gets the balance sum assured. In case of death during the policy term, the beneficiary gets the full sum assured (prescribed death benefit can be greater than sum assured).

Insurance Riders

Riders offer additional protection and coverage via payment of a marginally higher premium. Any term insurance rider can be understood as an amendment to the actual term insurance policy. Riders are available for various purposes and can be chosen and attached to the base policy to reap extended benefits out of your term insurance policy

There are different types of riders

- Accidental death/permanent disability benefit rider. The policyholder receives benefits on an accident leading to death or permanent disability.
- Critical illness rider. The rider helps to protect the policy holder in the event of diagnosis of a critical illness during the term of the policy, where such illness are specified at the start of the contract.
- Guaranteed insurability: The rider allows the insured to increase the cover as per the terms and conditions of the policy without further medical examination.
- Term rider. Offers monthly income to nominee on death of life assured.
- Waiver of premium rider. The policyholder is not required to pay future premiums on the policy in the event of an accident or mishap as defined by the rider.
- Spouse insurance rider. This rider provides insurance coverage for the spouse without him or her having to purchase separate insurance policy

New insurance products

705 products were in-force in the life industry as of March 2017, with 536 products in the individual segment and 169 products in the group business segment. In fiscal 2017, 74 new products were introduced, with 13 in the group business segment and 61 in the individual business segment. HDFC Standard Life provides the highest numbers of products in the individual segment (30), followed by SBI Life and Tata AIA Life (29). In the group business, Kotak Mahindra Old Mutual Life provides the maximum number of products (14) in the industry, followed by LIC (12)

Reinsurance-supported products to gain traction as market expands

Reinsurance is an integral part of an insurance company's operations. For life insurance companies, reinsurance helps diversify risks, reduce liabilities and increase assets. This will enable them to provide a greater array of insurance coverage to consumers.

In India, GIC Re was the only domestic reinsurer until 2016. The Insurance Laws (Amendment) Act, 2015, permits foreign reinsurance companies to set up branch offices in India. So far, the Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority of India (IRDAI) has granted license to five global reinsurers for setting up branch offices in India.

To ensure that reinsurance capital remains within India, there are also restrictions on operations of foreign insurers. According to IRDAI, a foreign reinsurer branch cannot cede more than 50% of its total reinsurance placements made outside India with its parent company.

Current rules grant parity to all three parties, saying that every Indian insurer, in order of priority, should first offer an opportunity to the Indian reinsurer to participate in its reinsurance business or a foreign reinsurer who maintains a 50% minimum retention or to other Indian insurers.

In life insurance, keyman insurance (where key individuals in companies, or people who are critical to any operational activity are insured for high sums) is generally a reinsurance supported product. Reinsurers also provide a variety of life reinsurance products to life insurers, including individual and group life reinsurance, individual and group annuities reinsurance, individual and group major medical reinsurance, and individual and group long-term care and disability income reinsurance.

Through these products, life reinsurers provide insurers with mortality/morbidity risk transfer tools, lapse or surrender risk transfer tools, investment risk transfer tools, new business financing, risk selection assistance, specific product expertise, limits on catastrophic claims, limits on total claims, and capital planning and management. In addition, the life insurance company has access to the reinsurer's expertise.

The life reinsurance business is still at a nascent stage in India but is expected to grow steadily in the years ahead as business grows and more Indian and foreign players set up reinsurance operations

Outlook

Life insurance industry outlook

New business premium to grow at robust pace

Current low penetration (2.72% in 2016) and density (46.5 USD in 2016) of Indian insurance market offers large growth potential. Going forward, the new business premium of life insurers is expected to grow at 11-13% CAGR to Rs 3,000-3,100 billion over the next five years. This growth is expected to be propelled by high historical nominal GDP growth, moderate-to-low inflation, improvement in the financial savings rate, initiatives undertaken by the government to ensure adequate social security, favourable demographics, growing awareness of insurance and regulatory changes, such as the increase in the foreign direct investment limit from 26% to 49% in 2015, which will bolster the financial position of existing players and open up the market for new players.

Share of ULIPs to improve

An improving economy and performance of corporate India is likely to have a positive impact on the country's stock markets. This will increase the demand for ULIPs, as it is highly correlated to the performance of the stock markets. Also, today, with operating expenses quite low, transparency in charges, ULIPs have become comparable to mutual fund investments, in terms of attractiveness. The enhanced value proposition for ULIPs is also because of lower discontinuous charges up to the fifth year, zero surrender penalty after the fifth year, and customised choice of risk allocation to suit the risk appetite of the customer.

Over the next few years, the performance of the stock markets is expected to improve on the back of healthy economic growth and an improvement in industrial performance. Consequently, the share of linked products is expected to rise gradually.

Improved cost efficiency, better cash flows to lift profit

In the medium-to-long term, new business premium is expected to grow at a healthy pace, propelled by an upswing in economic growth, higher financial savings aided by rising disposable income and benign inflation. Consequently, players with optimal scale of operations, better operating efficiency (as reflected in lower expense ratios), more efficient usage of distribution channels and healthy persistency ratios are likely to see profitable rise.

Bancassurance increasingly driving business of private players

For private players, the share of bancassurance in new business premium has been growing steadily over the past few years. In fact, players are increasingly using the synergies accruing from banking operations of their parent group to reach out to customers, minimise cost and improve efficiency. Even for other players, bancassurance is becoming strategically important. With bancassurance increasingly driving the business of many players, presence in rural and far-flung areas will prove to be a strategic asset for the business (for details, see distribution trends).

Steady Growth in FDI & Share of Private Players

When the sector was opened up to foreign investment, the foreign direct investment (FDI) limit was capped at 26%. Post privatisation, the number of life insurance companies zoomed to 24 in 2015-16 from a mere 5 in 2000-01. LIC is the only public player, with the remaining being private entities. Of the 23 private life insurance companies, 21 are joint ventures with foreign players. In 2015, the Parliament approved a hike in the FDI limit 49% with the aim of expanding the sector and infusing much-needed capital for many players. Since then, many foreign players have increased their stakes. On Individual WRP basis, their market share rose from 38% in 2013-14 to 54% in 2016-17.

Drivers

Key Recent Macro Trends

India is amongst top countries (3rd) when ranked on basis of GDP (PPP) and has been one of the fast growing countries in the world, aided by strong fundamentals like falling inflation, rising disposable income, largest working age population. Going forward, IMF expects India's economy to grow at 7.7% in 2018 from an estimated 7.2% in 2017. The improvement in growth is expected to be driven by a rebound in consumption demand, which got postponed after demonetisation. Also, the demonetisation has resulted in increased customer deposits with bank. In addition, innovations in operating architecture based on the JAM (JanDhan-Aadhar-Mobile) and e-KYC is expected to improve reach of insurance products and efficiency.

With rising income and inflation under control, the household savings rate (household savings as a percentage of GDP) is likely to increase gradually. Though the share of household savings has remained subdued since fiscal 2012, the proportion of financial savings has increased significantly during the period. In the past too, strong real income growth and low inflation had a positive spin-off effect on financial savings. During fiscals 2000 to 2008, the share of financial savings in household savings increased from 47% to 52%. Consequently, the share dipped sharply to 33% by fiscal 2012, due to rising risk aversion in the aftermath of the 2008 financial crisis and heightened inflationary pressures.

Furthermore, benign inflationary pressures would diminish the attractiveness of gold and real estate – which represent physical savings of households – as investment alternatives. Consequently, the share of financial savings within household savings is likely to rise further from 43% in fiscal 2016. The government's measures to curb black money will also help increase the share of financial savings, which would further aid the life insurance industry.

CRISIL Research expects average CPI to stay around 4% this fiscal, assuming a favourable monsoon, especially in terms of adequate temporal and spatial distribution. CRISIL Research also expects lower food inflation resulting from normal monsoon to offset higher services inflation. Risks to inflation could emanate from 1) high protein inflation, which has recorded double-digit growth for 12 consecutive months; 2) service inflation, especially in rural areas, which is keeping core inflation high and sticky; 3) unfavourable temporal and spatial distribution of rainfall; and, 4) oil prices.

India is the world's second most populous nation, after China. More importantly, it is a nation of mostly young people. India had 356 million people in the 10-24 year age group, nearly 87 million more than in China, according to the United Nations Population Fund's State of the World Population report - 2014. A report by the IRIS Knowledge Foundation in collaboration with UN HABITAT in 2013 estimated that 63% of India's population will be in the working age group by 2020.

India's population increased at a compounded annual growth rate (CAGR) of 2% from 439.2 million in 1961 to 1,210.9 million in 2011. The decadal CAGRs in 1971-1991, 2001 and 2011 were 2.2%, 2.0% and 1.6%, respectively. Going forward, as per an estimate by United Nations Department of Economic and Social Affairs, over 2011-2020E the population is estimated to increase at a CAGR of 1.5%.

In all the censuses held in India so far, including the latest 2011 census, the 0-14 year age group has always had the largest share of the population pie, with about 36.4% of the overall population falling in that age group in 1991, 33.2% in 2001 and 29.6% in 2011. Going forward, as per an estimate by United Nations Department of Economic and Social Affairs, the share of population within 15-59 is estimated to increase to 63% by 2020E from 62% in 2011 and for 60+ it is estimated to increase to 9.5% by 2020E from 8.4% in 2011.

This demographic advantage is what sets apart Asia's third-largest economy from other leading global economies, which are ageing fast. For life insurance companies, this is a compelling opportunity as the next few years are expected to represent a "pay-in" period because of the large percentage of people in the 'below 59' age groups. Steady economic revival shall also improve household incomes and put more disposable income in the hands of people, particularly in rural areas. India's middle class population is also expected to grow steadily in the years ahead.

As per Swiss Re Institute sigma No 3/2017 report, the protection gap for India stood at $8.5 trillion as of 2014, which was much higher compared with its Asian counterparts. The protection margin (measured as ratio between protection gap and protection needs as per Swiss Re Institute) for India at 92% was highest among all the countries in Asia Pacific as per the report. This means that for $100 of insurance protection requirement, only $8 was actually insured as of 2014. This indicates the absence or inadequacy of pure protection coverage (term insurance) for a large part of the population. Further, the penetration of retail loan products is also low in India and, with asset quality of corporate loans being poor, financiers are aggressively focusing on retail credit, the growth of which will support insurance offtake.

The decline in term-insurance premium rates, smoother onboarding process, increasing importance of online sales and product innovations, such as providing term products with a health wrapper, are expected to further drive the penetration of protection premiums.

Regulations

IRDAI is the statutory regulator for the life insurance business since 2000

The life insurance industry is regulated by the Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority of India (IRDAI). In 1993, the government set up a committee led by the former RBI governor, RN Malhotra, to propose recommendations for reforms in the insurance sector. Based on the recommendations of the Malhotra committee report in 1999, IRDAI was formed as an autonomous body to regulate the insurance industry in India. IRDAI received statutory status in April 2000.

Before the 1990s, the life insurance business was directly controlled by the government under the Insurance Act, 1938, with only one player operating in the sector – Life Insurance Corporation of India (LIC). LIC had absorbed all the 245 Indian and foreign insurers operating in India in 1956, as the government passed an ordinance to nationalise the sector. It enjoyed total monopoly until the 1990s. However, the government began privatisation of the sector in 1990s and accordingly set up the Malhotra committee for recommendations on the life insurance sector.

Numerous regulatory changes with the inception of IRDAI

The key objective of the IRDAI is to regulate and promote competition through the opening up of the insurance market and to protect the interest of policyholders. The government opened the industry to private participation in August 2000, allowing 26% foreign ownership in insurance companies. The regulation immediately led to the launch of four private life insurance companies in fiscal 2001, and 23 private life insurance companies eventually being set up by fiscal 2012. However, there have been no additions thereafter.

Passage of the Insurance Law (Amendment) Act, 2015:

The government made certain key changes in the life insurance industry through the passage of the Insurance Law (Amendment) Act, 2015, in March 2015. The Act aims to further open up the sector for foreign investments while ensuring management control remains in hands of the Indian partners. The Act also tried to bring clarity to certain regulatory aspects of the insurance sector. Some of its key features are:

a. Increase in foreign ownership cap from 26 to 49%:

The cap on aggregate shareholding of foreign investors, including foreign portfolio investors, was raised from 26 to 49% of paid-up equity capital. However, ownership and control would still remain with Indian shareholders, as the Indian partners would have the right to appoint a majority of the directors or to control management or policy decisions, including by virtue of their shareholding or management rights, shareholders agreement or voting agreements.

b. Stricter norms for violations of required norms and regulations

The Act imposed stricter penalties on life insurance companies for failing to meet with rules mandated by IRDAI. Some of the violations, which attracted stricter penalties were:

- Failure to maintain required solvency margin;
- Non-disclosure of mandatory data with IRDAI;
- Payment of commission to unlicensed insurance agents; and
- Any false statement in documents furnished by the company

c. Omission of redundant clauses and amendment of some others

The Act also amended and omitted certain clauses such as the following:

- It omitted the clause which required Indian promoters to reduce their stake to 26% within 10 years of inception.
 - It included an amendment providing a facility to extend loans to the company's full-time employees.
 - The record can now be maintained only electronically without any need for maintenance of "register or record."
 - The Act introduced 'beneficiary nominees' and 'collector nominees'; previously, the nominee was only recipient of claims and not the beneficiary.
- d. Limitation of tie-ups for individual agents: The act limited any agent from doing business with more than one life insurer, one general insurer, one health insurer, as well as one of each of other mono-line insurers.
- e. Repudiation on insurance policy only for period of three years: The act limited any policy from being repudiated on any ground, including misstatement of facts after three years, post the commencement of the policy by the company.
- f. More powers to IRDAI: The Act empowered IRDAI to frame regulations to govern key aspects of the operations of an insurance company such as investments, solvency, commissions and expenses. However, as of May 2016, IRDAI is yet to spell out any changes in regulations pertaining to payment of commission and control over management expenses.

Key regulatory changes pertaining to customers

Changes in regulations for linked and non-linked products

- a. In 2010, the IRDAI made the following amendments with respect to linked and non-linked insurance products to protect consumers:
- b. Increased the lock-in period for ULIPs from three to five years, making the product a long-term investment product;
- c. Reduced the front-loading of costs for linked products;
- d. Mandated a certain fixed return to be attributable to policyholders under the health cover or on death of the policyholder;
- e. Set a cap on charges to be borne by policyholders on discontinuation of policies;
- f. Discontinued the "Highest NAV Guarantee" products and also mandated that, benefits for any linked product should not be linked to any other underlying fund and should be based on the product; and
- g. For non-linked products, the IRDAI mandated the minimum benefit on death of the policyholder; the policy on discontinuance was same as mandated for linked-products

The change in commission structure of the linked-insurance products led to a massive change in the portfolio mix for the industry. With the decline in commission and increase in the lock-in period, selling of linked products became a less-lucrative proposition for agents.

In December 2016, the IRDAI made further changes in the commission structure in order to bring more consistency into the commissions paid on regular premium based insurance products.

The commission on single premium was capped at 2% of the premium, and the premium on regular insurance products with a paying term of five years was capped at 15% in the first year and 7.5% thereafter.

In case of pension products, the commission was capped at 2% of the single premium and in case of regular insurance products, the commission was capped at 7.5% for the first year and 2% for each renewal.

Benefits illustration for life insurance products

In 2013, IRDAI amended regulations and mandated all insurance products to provide illustration to the prospective policyholder about the guaranteed and non-guaranteed benefits at gross investment returns of 4% and 8%, respectively, or as specified by IRDAI or Life Insurance Council from time to time.

Issuance of policies in electronic form on meeting laid-down criteria

IRDAI issued a regulation in June 2016 on issuance of electronic insurance policies, wherein it made it mandatory for the players to issue policies in electronic form if the sum assured or annual premium exceeded a pre-set amount. IRDAI also permitted the players to offer discounts in the premium rates to policyholders for electronic insurance policies in accordance with the rates filed under the product-approval guidelines.

Tightening of rules on expense management

In order to control the expenses incurred by the life insurance company to acquire customers, the IRDAI issued “Expenses of management of insurers transacting life insurance business” in May 2016. For insurance companies in operation for more than ten years, the regulator capped the expense at 80% of first year premium and 15% of renewal premium. For players with less than 10 years of operations, the IRDAI provided a higher cap on expense due to high costs involved in the first few years of operations. The expense was capped at 90% of first year premium and 20% of renewal premium. As per the regulations, expenses involved on account of branch expansion should also be included under the expense of management.

Key regulatory changes pertaining to distribution

Corporate agents allowed to tie-up with multiple insurance players

IRDAI amended its “Registration of Corporate Agents” Regulation in August 2015. As per the new regulation, corporate agents will now be allowed to tie-up with up to three life insurance players, as against only one allowed earlier. The policy will be especially beneficial for players with limited tie-ups with corporate agents currently to sell policies.

Introduction of web aggregators

In order to monitor the content on the websites of web aggregator insurance companies, the IRDAI introduced the “Insurance Web Aggregators” regulations in May 2017. The web aggregators are companies registered under the Companies Act and approved by IRDAI, which maintain or own a website and provide information on insurance products of different insurers. There are a total 10 Web aggregators registered with IRDAI.

Duties and functions of web aggregators

- a. Web aggregators shall display information pertaining to the insurers who have signed the agreement with them.
- b. Web aggregators are not allowed to promote or push any particular product of a particular company, either through its website or through distance marketing approaches.
- c. No charges are to be paid for generation of leads through web aggregators; in case of sales conversion, web aggregators will earn remuneration as applicable to insurance intermediaries.
- d. Use only RBI licensed payment gateways for collection and transfer of premium to insurers.
- e. Ensure the information systems, (both hardware and software) including aggregation website(s) / Portals, lead management systems and data centers hosting the website(s) / portals / LMS are in compliance with generally accepted information security standards.

Guidelines for corporate governance

To facilitate prudent corporate governance among insurance companies, IRDAI put in place guidelines for the same in May 2016. The guidelines encompass structure and composition of the boards of insurance companies, committees of the board, their responsibilities and meetings, appointment of MD/CEO, directors and key management persons (KMPs), appointment of auditors, reporting and disclosure requirements. While several insurance companies have put in place mechanisms for effective corporate governance, IRDAI's guidelines envisage harmonisation of corporate governance across insurance companies.

Some of the key features of the guidelines are:

- a. A minimum lock-in period of five years for transfer of shares from the date of commencement of business for the promoters;
- b. Mandatory committees for audit, investment, risk management, policyholder protection, nomination and remuneration and CSR for all the insurance players;
- c. Setting up of a liability asset management committee is mandatory for life insurance companies
- d. The board should have a minimum of three independent directors; this requirement though is relaxed to two independent directors for the initial five years from the grant of certificate of registration to insurers. Insurance companies that had less than three independent directors as on the date of notification of the guidelines were required to ensure that they complied with this requirement within one year.
- e. Mandatory to set-up a 'With Profits' committee for life insurance companies comprising an independent director from the board, the chief executive officer, the appointed actuary of the company and an independent actuary. The with-profits committee will carry out functions to determine the following:
 - The share of assets attributable to policyholders;
 - Investment income attributable to the participating fund of policyholders; and
 - Expenses allocated to policyholders
- f. The board of directors are required to formulate policy to control conflict of interest.

Investment guidelines as per IRDAI

Prudential guidelines

IRDAI has broadly defined two categories of investments: "approved investments" and "other investments."

Life insurance companies in India are allowed to invest in four broad categories, namely:

- Government securities
- Other approved securities
- Infrastructure and social sector
- Any other investment conforming to prudential norms specified in Regulation 5

According to IRDAI, at least 50% of life insurance assets should be invested in government securities (G-secs) or government-approved securities; at least 25% of these assets must be in G-secs. For pension and annuity assets, at least 40% should be in government securities or government-approved securities, of which at least 20% must be in G-secs.

At least 75% of investments in debt instruments must be in highly-rated securities (sovereign bonds, AAA-rated or equivalent); not more than 5% of investments should have rating of A or below.

Investments in infrastructure and social sector bonds cannot exceed 60% of pension and annuity assets and 5% of ULIP assets. At least 15% of life insurance assets should be in approved housing and infrastructure bonds; not more than 20% can be parked in other approved investments.

For life insurance assets, investments in instruments other than approved investments cannot exceed 15%; pension and annuity assets cannot be invested in anything other than approved investments. For ULIP assets, not more than 25% can be invested in instruments other than approved investments.

Life insurers can take exposure to stocks through exchange-traded funds (ETF) and investment in ETFs won't be considered while calculating the overall exposure to a particular stock. There are also limits on how much exposure an insurance company can have in a particular stock. Life insurers cannot hold stake of over 10-15% in any one company (10% is the limit for insurance companies with investment assets of up to Rs 50,000 crore, 12% for investment assets of less than Rs 250,000 crore and 15% for investment assets of above Rs 250,000 crore). Life insurers also cannot invest more than 10% of their total investment assets in securitised assets. Investment in immovable property also cannot exceed 5% of total investment assets

Major portion of investment in debt for industry

Share of investment in equity has declined gradually, from 36% in fiscal 2010 to ~25% in fiscal 2016. Share of debt has risen especially because of LIC. As of March 2016, LIC had 75-80% of its investments in debt against 55-60% by private players. Due to the long-term nature of the liabilities, the insurance companies invest large amounts in infrastructure bonds.

Investment mix for Indian insurance industry

Source: IRDAI

The life insurance industry's total assets under management (AUM) grew nearly 11% on-year in fiscal 2016 to Rs 2,502,068 crore, slower than 15% growth recorded in the preceding fiscal. As compared to the previous fiscal, when AUM growth for private insurers was better than for LIC (20% vs. 13% in fiscal 2015), private insurers' AUM growth was 7% vis-a-vis 12% growth for LIC in fiscal 2016. Also, share of ULIP fund narrowed to 14% of total AUM from 16% in fiscal 2015.

Key Recent Trends:

Digitisation

The mobile and internet connectivity revolution is radically transforming way of life all over the world and India is no different. India currently has over one billion mobile users and recently surpassed the US as the world's second-largest market in terms of internet subscriber base. Its telecom subscriber base has also soared over past few years and the country is today one of the biggest markets for smartphones in the world.

New technologies are also being developed at an exponential pace and triggering changes in the way in which industries operate. Also the demonetisation measures that were implemented by the Indian government from November 2016 have accelerated the adoption of digital platforms across the financial services sector. The insurance industry is no exception. In fact, being a push product, insurance is an industry where digitisation can act as a growth multiplier.

In India, two major factors are driving digitisation: the government's ambitious financial inclusion agenda, and increasing use of new technologies to deliver products and services to citizens.

The government's financial inclusion agenda is powered by the realisation that as GDP growth gathers pace in years ahead, the best way to ensure equitable distribution of wealth and lift the average level of prosperity among the populace is inclusive growth.

The task is particularly daunting when one considers that currently more than a fifth of India's population is still living below the poverty line, and hundreds of millions have very little awareness and/or access to financial services.

Using technology, the government is developing three mass access channels, namely mobile banking, Aadhaar, and Jan Dhan Yojana, to propel financial inclusion, improve governance and vastly expand the reach of basic services. This will be supplemented by an overlay of innovations by the National Payment Corporation of India, such as Rupay cards and Immediate Payment System to substantially augment currency circulation through formal channels.

The key programs are discussed below.

Aadhaar: A force multiplier for financial inclusion

The Aadhaar identification program, started in 2012, has been kept in fast-forward mode by the Modi government. According to the Unique Identification Authority of India, the nodal agency for the program's implementation, 1.01 billion Aadhaar cards have been issued so far, covering about 93% of the population. According to 2016 Economic Survey of India, Aadhaar cards were issued in 2015 at the rate of 4 million cards per week. The Aadhaar Bill has also now been passed by both houses of Parliament, and will allow for smoother transfer of government subsidies to households.

PMJDY: Furthering financial inclusion

The PMJDY, announced in the first year of the Modi government, envisages universal access to formal banking by ensuring at least one basic bank account for each household. The program has had good success with 287.5 million Jan Dhan accounts being opened across the country as of May 2017.

Zero-balance accounts have decreased steadily since the launch of PMJDY mainly because of the government's move to route subsidies through this channel. Also, increased availability of low-cost financial instruments is popularising formal financial institutions among the previously unbanked. Since the launch of the Jan Suraksha schemes of insurance and pension in August 2015, the proportion of dormant accounts has fallen. According to a recent survey by Microsave, nearly a fifth of PMJDY account holders use it to access insurance at low costs.

Another positive is that a greater proportion of Jan Dhan accounts have been opened in poorer states such as Uttar Pradesh, Bihar, and Madhya Pradesh. Increasing access to banking through the program can also help reduce inter-state income divide.

Insurance initiatives linked to financial inclusion

To encourage people to open savings bank accounts, the PMJJBY was announced in Union Budget 2015. It is a one-year life insurance scheme, renewable from year to year, offering coverage for death due to any reason to people in the 18-50 age group (life cover up to age 55), who have a savings bank account and who consent to join and enable auto debit. For those who enrolled, the risk cover commenced from June 1, 2015. At a premium of Rs 330 per annum, one can avail a cover of Rs 2 lakh. One can exit and re-join the scheme in future years by paying the annual premium and submitting a self-declaration of good health.

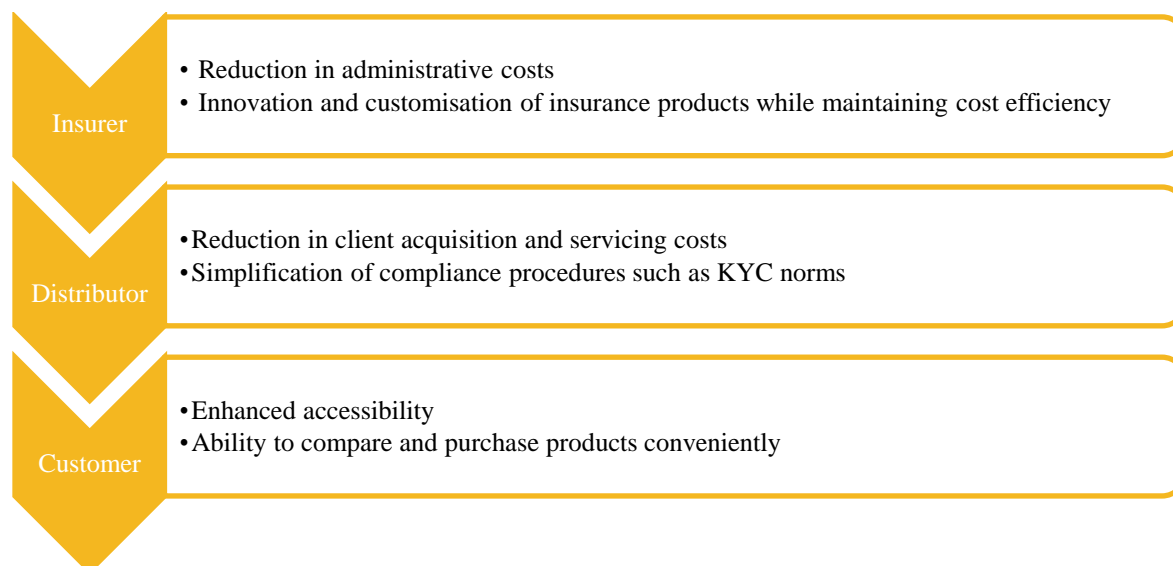

With the launch of insurance initiatives such as PMJJBY, PMSBY, RSBY, and Universal Health Insurance Scheme (UHS), the government has broadened the insurance market. By working towards financial inclusion, it has also not only brought the lower strata of society into the financial system but also initiated the spread of financial literacy among them.

Apart from the government, LIC and private players are also taking various initiatives linked to financial inclusion. Examples include LIC's Bima Bachat Yojana and group insurance platforms. The companies are also leveraging social media to launch initiatives to convey different themes like safety of parents and children.

However, while making premiums more affordable, there is also a need to improve access in rural areas, create insurance awareness, simplify products for the masses, design tailor-made products for different target audiences and focus on reviving and strengthening existing social security schemes.

Digitisation to benefit all stakeholders

With customers becoming more tech savvy, the launch of initiatives like mobile banking and trading, and tablet-based investments have helped further financial inclusion, including in the insurance field. Whether technological platforms are created in-house or via third party platforms, overall efficiency and decline in costs can be attained through the adoption of better technological processes.

Being a push product, insurance needs more effective on-the-ground distribution channels and personalised interaction. This has major implications for the insurance industry. In fact, digitisation will change the way the industry deals with customers, generates sales and handles day-to-day operations.

Not just customers, digitisation will also critically impact the way industry interacts with intermediaries. Digital platforms can make access to a large number of agents and intermediaries more efficient while lowering costs. Providing brokers, for instance, up to date information on products, and even tools to generate quotes, monitor claims, issue policies online and even communicate socially is much more efficiently managed through an agent portal, with many insurers offering hand-held devices with facilities to do precisely that. The portals can also be accessed securely via the internet across a range of mobile devices, including laptops, tablets and smart phones.

In many advanced countries, through digitisation, medical insurers are already registering, approving and paying hospital and medical claims online by simply swiping the insured patient's medical insurance card at the point of sale. Even in India, leading private players are rapidly scaling up their digital presence and hoping to shift a significant part of their business to e-commerce.

The government's digital India program thus has the potential to significantly improve awareness about financial savings and protection instruments and increase insurance penetration and density in the long term.

Healthcare market offers significant opportunities

More health insurance products launched as healthcare costs rise

In India, the insurance business is divided into four classes: Life, fire, marine, and miscellaneous insurance. While life insurers deal with life insurance, general insurers deal with the rest. Health insurance comes under miscellaneous insurance and is also now being increasingly offered by life insurance companies.

The health insurance business in India is classified into group health insurance (other than government sponsored), government sponsored health insurance and individual health insurance. The non-life health insurance industry grew at 19% CAGR during fiscals 2011 to 2017, outpacing the overall insurance industry. Over the past years, there has been a marked increase in the share of individual health insurance premium (including family floater) in total health insurance premium; it went up to 42% in fiscal 2016 from 37% in fiscal 2012.

On the other hand, the share of government-sponsored health insurance business in the total health insurance premium dropped to ~10% in fiscal 2016 from ~17% in fiscal 2012. The share of group health insurance business (other than government business) in total health insurance premium stood at 44-48% during this period.

Source: IRDAI

Today, many life insurance companies offer a variety of health insurance plans that offer protection against numerous critical illnesses. Although the basic concept of health insurance plans offered by life insurers is the same as the mediclaim policies offered by general insurers or the government's Employees' State Insurance (ESI), health insurance policies offered by life insurers are more broad-based.

The key feature of mediclaim is cover for hospitalisation and treatment towards accident and pre-specified illnesses for a specific sum assured limit. The mediclaim premium is based on the sum assured. The amount paid towards mediclaim premium for self/spouse/children provides tax exemption under section 80D for a maximum of Rs 25,000 (Rs 30,000 in case of senior citizens) with another Rs 25,000 benefit on mediclaim premium for parents (Rs 30,000 if parent(s) is/are senior citizens).

On the other hand, health insurance plans sold by life insurers include features such as comprehensive health cover against critical illnesses (as many as 30 illnesses in certain plans), discount on premium if sum assured exceeds a particular limit, flexibility to reduce premium/sum assured/policy term after a specified period. Like medical insurance, health insurance premium is also exempted from tax under section 80D.

Based on health indicators for India released by the World Health Organisation's world health statistics survey, CRISIL Research estimates the size of the Indian healthcare delivery industry in fiscal 2017 at 3 billion treatments in volume terms and Rs 4.8 trillion in value terms.

Overall healthcare delivery market in fiscal 2022

Source: CRISIL Research

In-patient department (IPD) comprised 84% share of the healthcare delivery industry as of FY2017 and out-patient department the balance.

CRISIL Research expects the healthcare delivery market to grow 14% CAGR to Rs 9.35 trillion by fiscal 2022 as a change in age demographics and rising incomes, improvement in health awareness, increase in life-related ailments, rising penetration of health insurance and increasing opportunities from medical tourism propel demand for healthcare facilities in India.

We expect expansion plans by major private players to be skewed towards illnesses related to IPD. Hence, the share of IPD by value is expected to increase from 84% in fiscal 2017 (estimated) to 85% in fiscal 2022. During the period, average cost for IPD treatments is forecast to increase at nearly 8% CAGR. For most households, out-of-pocket financing comprises a large chunk of their overall healthcare expenditure.

Hence, in the long run, there are vast opportunities for players who are able to evolve innovative healthcare plans for out-patient expenses.

According to IRDAI, only 359 million people had health insurance coverage, as of fiscal 2016. Only ~24% of this health insurance coverage is provided by non-government providers. The rest are covered under central or state government sponsored schemes, such as Central Government Health Scheme and Employee State Insurance Scheme. Low penetration levels, rising cost of healthcare, constraints on the ability of governments to spend, increasing demand for quality healthcare with rising income underscore the massive opportunity in health insurance for commercial insurance providers.

In the amendment to the Insurance Act in 2015, to increase the focus on the healthcare sector, the government has also mandated insurance players to record health insurance business as a standalone business.

Pension market a looming opportunity

A CRISIL Research study on the need to build pension net indicates that the number of people aged over 60 in India will triple from 112 million in 2014 to 300 million by 2050. Most of them will be financially insecure in their sunset years in the absence of a social security net. And, if a large number of the old end up having no pension by 2030, the government will have to bear the heavy fiscal burden of providing minimum sustenance to them. Our estimates indicate that the fiscal burden of providing pension would be high at 3.4-4.1% of GDP by 2030, and most of this outgo would be towards private sector workforce.

As of 2014, only around 8% of retirees within the private sector receive a pension; therefore, a multi-fold increase in pension coverage to the private sector workforce is an imperative. If 70% of private sector retirees are adequately covered by 2030, their retirement assets will rise to around 26% of GDP in 2030. And, if the entire private sector workforce, which will be over 60 in 2030, has an adequate retirement cover, then the size of the retirement corpus will rise to nearly Rs 276 trillion (or 38% of GDP) by 2050 and Rs 3626 trillion (or over 74% of GDP) by 2050. The provision of additional tax benefits to the extent of employers' contribution in the New Pension scheme is expected to provide an opportunity for growth of pension premium; however, there are further challenges in terms of annuity taxation.

Government push to boost awareness

In recent years, there have been a number of measures to increase the reach of life insurance, particularly to the people who are unable to afford it. In the past two years, the government introduced the Pradhan Mantri Jeevan Jyoti Bima Yojana (PMJJBY), a life insurance policy, and the Pradhan Mantri Jeevan Suraksha Bima Yojana (PMJSBY), an accidental death and disability cover. Earlier, in 2014, it launched the Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana (PMJDY), which provided insurance and health cover for people aged between 18 and 50, and having a savings bank account. As of May 2017, the enrolment across PMJJBY and PMJSBY had crossed 131 million.

Other government sponsored life insurance schemes include the Aam Aadmi Bima Yojana, the postal rural life insurance scheme, and health insurance schemes such asESIS and Rashtriya Swasthya Bima Yojana (RSBY).

In the years ahead, the government's massive push for greater financial inclusion through schemes such as Jan Dhan Yojana will increase awareness about the need, and benefits of life and health insurance, and support growth of life insurance.

OUR BUSINESS

We have included various operational and financial performance indicators in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, some of which may not be derived from our Restated Financial Information or otherwise subjected to an examination, audit or review by our auditors or any other expert. The manner in which some of the operational and financial performance indicators are calculated and presented, and the assumptions and estimates used in such calculation, may vary from that used by other insurance companies in India and other jurisdictions. For the purposes of this section of the document, for certain analysis we have used the historical methodology and internal categorisation to enable a consistent representation of our business. Some of these numbers may vary from similar information presented publicly in compliance with applicable regulations in India which is also reflected in our Restated Financial Information. Persistency ratios for period ending March and June have been calculated based on the relevant cohort of new business written from April to March and from June to May respectively measured with a one month lag to allow for grace period as per IRDAI regulations. The ratios may vary from similar information presented publicly either due to the cohort of business belonging to a different period or due to the methodology used in these information being based on regulations applicable at those points in time compared to the ratios in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus being based on a consistent methodology applied across all periods. Our fiscal year ends on March 31 of each year, so all references to a particular fiscal year are to the twelve-month period ended March 31 of that year.

Overview

We were the most profitable life insurer, based on Value of New Business (VNB) margin, among the top five private life insurers in India (measured on total new business premium) in Fiscal 2016 and Fiscal 2017, according to CRISIL. Besides consistently being among the top three private life insurers in terms of profitability based on VNB margin, we have also consistently been among the top three private life insurers in terms of market share based on total new business premium between Fiscal 2015 and Fiscal 2017, according to CRISIL. Our total new business premium for Fiscal 2015, Fiscal 2016, Fiscal 2017 and the three months ended June 30, 2017, was ₹54,921.0 million, ₹64,872.2 million, ₹86,963.6 million and ₹16,652.0 million. Between Fiscal 2015 and Fiscal 2017, our annualised premium equivalent grew by a CAGR of 14.5%. Our 13th month individual persistency ratio was 73.3%, 78.9%, 80.9% and 81.5% for the period ended March 31, 2015, March 31, 2016, March 31, 2017 and June 30, 2017, respectively.

We have a healthy balance sheet with total net worth of ₹41.5 billion and a solvency ratio of 197.5% as at June 30, 2017, above the minimum 150.0% solvency ratio required under IRDAI regulations. We generated Profit After Tax of ₹8,869.2 million and delivered a Return on Equity of 25.6%, Return on Invested Capital of 40.7% and Operating Return on Embedded Value of 21.7% during Fiscal 2017. As at June 30, 2017, we had total AUM of ₹947.5 billion and Indian Embedded Value of ₹132.2 billion. We have a track record of consistently delivering shareholder returns across business cycles. We are sufficiently capitalised and have not raised any capital during the last six years (except through issuance of ESOPs under our ESOS scheme(s)), while paying dividends (including dividend distribution tax) totaling ₹7.6 billion between our first dividend in Fiscal 2014 to Fiscal 2017.

We believe that our strong parentage and our trusted brand enhances our appeal to consumers. We were the first private life insurance company to register in India and were established as a joint venture between HDFC (one of India's leading housing finance institutions) and Standard Life Aberdeen plc (one of the world's largest investment companies), initially through its wholly owned subsidiary The Standard Life Assurance Company and now through its wholly owned subsidiary, Standard Life Mauritius.

Our focus on creating a multi-channel distribution platform has resulted in our market share among private life insurers in India in terms of total new business premium increasing from 15.8% in Fiscal 2015 to 17.2% in Fiscal 2017, according to CRISIL. We believe that we offer an attractive value proposition for our distribution partners, as demonstrated by our longstanding, successful relationships with our bancassurance partners through corporate agency or master policyholder arrangements. Our oldest bancassurance partner relationship was established in 2002. Our bancassurance partners include banks, non-banking financial companies, micro-finance institutions and small finance banks in India. Our number of major bancassurance partners grew from 31 as at March 31, 2015 to 120 as at June 30, 2017. Our top 15 bancassurance partners (in terms of total new business premium sourced for the period ended June 30, 2017) had over 11,200 branches across India as at June 30, 2017. We had 58,147 individual agents as at June 30, 2017, which comprise 6.1% of the all private agents in the Indian life insurance industry. We have a pan-India presence, comprising 414 branches and spokes across India as at June 30, 2017, supported by a dedicated workforce of 15,406 full-time employees.

We have a broad, diversified product portfolio covering five principal segments across the individual and group categories, namely participating, non-participating protection term, non-participating protection health, other non-participating and unit-linked insurance products. As at June 30, 2017, our product portfolio comprised 31 individual and ten group products, as well as eight optional rider benefits. Our wide product suite caters to specific needs of customers during each stage of their lives. It also provides us with the flexibility to operate successfully across business cycles, work with diverse sets of distribution partners and serve a range of consumers from mass market to high net worth individuals. It also provides us with the flexibility to adapt to changes in the regulatory landscape and mitigate concentration risk in respect of particular categories or types of products. We have a proven track record in identifying and tapping niche customer segments (such as with our HDFC Life Cancer Care product) through our innovative product solutions that have continued to draw strong customer demand.

In Fiscal 2012, we established our wholly-owned subsidiary, HDFC Pension, to operate our pension fund business under the National Pension System. As at March 31, 2017, HDFC Pension had approximately ₹11,629.8 million of AUM from customers enrolled under the National Pension System. HDFC Pension is the second largest private pension fund management company in India in terms of assets under management and subscribers in Fiscal 2017, according to CRISIL. In Fiscal 2016, we established our first international subsidiary in the UAE, HDFC International, to operate our reinsurance business. HDFC International has signed reinsurance treaties for two distinct lines of individual life business and entered into arrangements to offer reinsurance for group and credit life schemes. We expect our pension and reinsurance business to help us diversify our sources of revenue and profitability in future.

Going forward, we aim to continue to consolidate our position as a long-term player in the industry with our focus on better customer service, strong product propositions and steady profitability.

Our Competitive Strengths

We are positioned as a leading life insurer in one of the fastest growing economies in the world with a growing and under-penetrated life insurance market. With our focus on delivering consistent and profitable growth, which is supported by our customer-centric product development and sales approach, we have demonstrated an ability to deliver value to our customers, shareholders and distribution partners.

Strong parentage and a trusted brand that enhances our appeal to consumers

Our Company was established in 2000 as a joint venture between HDFC (one of India's leading housing finance institutions) and Standard Life Aberdeen plc (one of the world's largest investment companies), initially through its wholly owned subsidiary The Standard Life Assurance Company and now through its wholly owned subsidiary, Standard Life Mauritius. HDFC and Standard Life Mauritius respectively hold 61.41% and 34.86% of our Equity Shares as at the date of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Both HDFC and Standard Life Aberdeen are well known their respective business areas. HDFC is listed on the NSE and BSE. Over the years, the HDFC group has emerged as a recognised financial services conglomerate and was ranked as one of the best Indian brands in 2014 (according to Interbrand) with a presence in banking, life and general insurance, asset management and venture capital. Standard Life Aberdeen is headquartered in Scotland and is listed on the London Stock Exchange. The Standard Life Aberdeen group was formed by the merger of Standard Life and Aberdeen Asset Management PLC on August 14, 2017.

We believe that we have strong brand recall among Indian consumers. We have been selected as a Superbrand in India for three consecutive years from 2014 to 2016. We have also been declared as one of the most valuable brands in India, according to the BrandZ Top 50 Most Valuable Indian Brands list in 2016. See "Business—Brand Strength and Marketing" on page 230 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Strong financial performance defined by consistent and profitable growth

We believe that our focused execution has continued to deliver consistent and profitable growth to our stakeholders. We have a healthy balance sheet and delivered a Return on Equity of 25.6%, Return on Invested Capital of 40.7% and Operating Return on Embedded Value of 21.7% during Fiscal 2017. As at June 30, 2017, we had a solvency ratio of 197.5%, above the minimum 150% solvency ratio required under IRDAI regulations.

Our flexibility and ability to adapt to changes in the Indian life insurance industry has allowed our business to grow and our profitability to improve. Between Fiscal 2015 and Fiscal 2017, our overall total premium grew by a CAGR of 14.5% to ₹194.45 billion, driven by a CAGR of 12.6%, 43.6% and 7.3% in individual new business premiums, group new business premiums and renewal premiums, respectively. We have 57.9 million lives insured across our individual and group customers as at June 30, 2017. In addition, we improved our VNB margins from 18.5% in Fiscal 2015 to 22.0% in Fiscal 2017 by improving cost efficiencies, increasing our persistency ratios and selling a balanced product mix. Our share of protection in the individual and group new business premium increased from 12.0% in Fiscal 2015 to 21.8% for Fiscal 2017. Our Profit After Tax increased by a CAGR of 6.6% from ₹7,855.1 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹8,869.2 million in Fiscal 2017. Our insurance profit increased by a CAGR of 9.7% between Fiscal 2015 and Fiscal 2017.

We believe our profitability and high VNB margins have allowed our business to be self-sustaining. Between Fiscal 2015 and Fiscal 2017, the consistent increase in our VNB reflects our focus on long-term profitable growth. We are sufficiently capitalised and have not raised any capital during the last six years (except through issuance of ESOPs under the relevant ESOS scheme(s)), while paying dividends (including dividend distribution tax) totaling ₹7.6 billion between our first dividend in Fiscal 2014 to Fiscal 2017.

We believe that our strong financial performance and leading position in the industry will allow us to take advantage of growth opportunities in the under-penetrated Indian life insurance sector.

Growing and profitable multi-channel distribution footprint that provides market access across various consumer segments in India

We offer our individual and group customers access to our products through our diversified distribution network which comprises four distribution channels, namely bancassurance, individual agents, direct, and brokers and others. Our multi-channel distribution network provides us with the flexibility to adapt to changes in the regulatory landscape and mitigate the risk of over-reliance on any single channel. All our distribution channels have been independently profitable for each of Fiscal 2015, Fiscal 2016, Fiscal 2017 and the three months ended June 30, 2017.

Bancassurance remained our most significant distribution channel, generating 50.4%, 53.5%, 50.7% and 59.1% of our total new business premiums for Fiscal 2015, Fiscal 2016, Fiscal 2017 and the three months ended June 30, 2017, respectively. We have longstanding, successful relationships with our bancassurance partners through corporate agency or master policyholder arrangements. Our oldest bancassurance partner relationship was established in 2002. Our bancassurance partners include banks, non-banking financial companies, micro-finance institutions and small finance banks in India. Many of our bancassurance partners possess extensive distribution networks across India, providing us with significant opportunities to expand our market reach, access our bancassurance partners' customers and tap on their existing branch infrastructure. Our number of major bancassurance partners grew from 31 as at March 31, 2015 to 120 as at June 30, 2017. Our top 15 bancassurance partners (in terms of total new business premium sourced for the period ended June 30, 2017) had over 11,200 branches across India as at June 30, 2017.

Our individual agent network generated 10.0%, 7.6%, 7.5% and 6.4% of our total new business premium for Fiscal 2015, Fiscal 2016, Fiscal 2017 and the three months ended June 30, 2017, respectively. As at June 30, 2017, we had 58,147 individual agents (which comprise 6.1% of the all private agents in the Indian life insurance industry) who exclusively sell our life insurance products across our branches. Our individual agents network has been profitable for each of Fiscal 2015, Fiscal 2016, Fiscal 2017 and the three months ended June 30, 2017 and the quality of new business has improved. Each individual agent generated an average of ₹119,363 in terms of new business premium and sold an average of 2.3 new insurance policies during Fiscal 2017.

Our direct sales channel generated 37.0%, 36.8%, 39.8% and 31.8% of our total new business premium for Fiscal 2015, Fiscal 2016, Fiscal 2017 and the three months ended June 30, 2017, respectively.

Our brokers and others distribution channel generated 2.6%, 2.1%, 2.1% and 2.6% of our total new business premium for Fiscal 2015, Fiscal 2016, Fiscal 2017 and the three months ended June 30, 2017, respectively. As at June 30, 2017, had 45 broker and other tie-ups, comprising 18 individual insurance brokers and 27 insurance marketing firms.

We believe that our distribution model within each distribution channel gives us a significant footprint across customer segments. As a result of our focus on customer needs and distribution efficiencies, we have managed to build economies of scale across most of our distribution channels, while consistently maintaining profitability for each distribution channel between Fiscal 2015 to Fiscal 2017 and the three months ended June 30, 2017.

Focus on customer centricity enabling growth across business cycles

We are committed to providing a differentiated and superior customer service experience to our customers across the life of an insurance policy, from product development to customer on-boarding and policy issuance to customer service and claims settlement. Our commitment to customer centricity has resulted in long-term profitable growth, as reflected in the consistent increase in our EV at a CAGR of 18.4% from ₹88,882 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹124,705 million in Fiscal 2017.

Our integrated customer on-boarding process has enabled our frontlines sales team to facilitate customer convenience and includes “straight-through processing” of customer proposal forms, instant secure customer verification processes through our mobile applications and an automated underwriting engine which enables us to obtain key underwriting information from customers during customer on-boarding, reduces the documentation requirements from customers and helps us to improve our underwriting efficiency. These initiatives have resulted in improved turnaround times for the issuance of new policies. We believe that these initiatives have also resulted in higher customer satisfaction and have contributed to higher operating margins.

We strive to create one-on-one relationships with our customers by responding to their queries promptly and efficiently across traditional and non-traditional customer service channels. Our ability to provide quality customer service is supported by our increasingly automated service platform, which is available to our customers 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Our digital customer service platforms include our online customer portal, customer service mobile application and email service. We recently introduced additional automated elements, including a natural language-processing automation engine to respond to customer requests received by email, which have resulted in improved response times and contributed to providing a consistent customer service experience. We also have a separate service recovery team to address customer complaints. In Fiscal 2017, 99.0% of our customer complaints were resolved within the 15 calendar days turnaround time as prescribed by IRDAI. Our service recovery team also conducts a root cause analysis, which is shared with our senior management and distribution partners, in order to prevent recurring complaints of a similar nature. This is demonstrated by a decrease in the number of customer complaints per 10,000 new policies from 498 in Fiscal 2013 to 81 in Fiscal 2017.

Claimants can submit claims through various channels, including our existing branches, the branches of our distribution partners, our website, call centre and emails. We use rule engines and predictive technology to achieve accuracy and consistency in claims categorisation and processing, and have implemented a tiered authorisation system to manage claims of differing value and complexity and to facilitate rapid claims processing. The efficiency of our claims settlement has improved from Fiscal 2015 to Fiscal 2017, with the average turnaround time for claims settlement decreasing from ten days in Fiscal 2015 to five days in Fiscal 2017, upon receipt of all supporting documentation. For the three months ended June 30, 2017, 95.5% and 54.1% of our non-investigative claims were settled within three days and one day, respectively, upon our receipt of all supporting documentation. Our overall claims settlement ratio of 99.2% for Fiscal 2017 is among the best in the Indian life insurance industry. This is a testament to the quality of our customer service and customer on-boarding and underwriting processes.

Our Product Management Council consists of representatives across various key functions of our Company and analyses the needs of our prospective customers based on interactions with distribution partners and industry trends, which helps to guide our needs-based, innovative and customer-centric product development and sales strategy. As at June 30, 2017, our product portfolio comprised 31 individual and ten group products, as well as eight optional rider benefits. Our wide product suite caters to specific needs of customers during each stage of their lives.

We have a proven track record in proactively identifying and tapping niche customer segments through our competitive, innovative product solutions for such segments, which have continued to draw strong customer demand. We also have a specialised health insurance segment, and we believe this segment is under-penetrated compared to the life segment and provides significant opportunities for our distributors and customers. In Fiscal 2016, we launched our HDFC Life Cancer Care product, an award winning health insurance product in the Indian life and health insurance industry, which provides financial protection in the event of early and major stages of cancer. As at June 30, 2017, approximately 222,000 lives are insured through our HDFC Life Cancer Care product.

We identified the need to focus on the increasing protection requirements of Indian consumers. We launched our first online term product, HDFC Life Click2Protect, in Fiscal 2012. Our range of Click2Series products sold through our online channel collectively generated annualised premium equivalent of ₹593.6 million, ₹905.0 million, ₹1,009.4 million and ₹341.6 million, in Fiscal 2015, Fiscal 2016, Fiscal 2017 and the three months ended June 30, 2017, respectively.

Our continued efforts to improve the quality of our new business, focus on needs-based selling, strong commitment to customer service and our efforts in streamlining the renewal premium payment process, has resulted in an overall improvement in our persistency ratio. Our 13th month persistency increased from 73.3% for the period ended March 31, 2015 to 80.9% for the period ended March 31, 2017 and our 61st month persistency increased from 39.8% for the period ended March 31, 2015 to 56.8% for the period ended March 31, 2017.

In recognition of our success, we were awarded the Finnoviti 2016 Award for innovations in BFSI for our HDFC Life Cancer Care product, as well as the Golden Peacock Innovative Product Award 2015 and Indian Insurance Awards 2014 — Best Product Innovation (Life Insurance) for our HDFC Life Click2Invest product.

Leading digital platform that provides a superior experience for customers and distributors

We believe that we have developed a leading digital platform that gives us a competitive edge across various distribution channels and customer segments. Given our focus on and investments in our digital platform, we believe that we are uniquely positioned to capitalise on the increasing digitisation of the Indian economy.

We have undertaken several initiatives and developed a mobility platform to streamline and digitise our customer on-boarding and policy issuance processes, with the aim of making such processes convenient and simple for our customers. Mobility initiatives have been successfully implemented across the value chain, resulting in improvements to the productivity of our distribution partners. During Fiscal 2017, 48.0% of our new applications were sourced through mobile devices. We have an advanced digital platform that is user-friendly, customer-centric and capable of guiding our customers and distribution partners from on-boarding to policy issuance within four days, which we believe has been a key contributor to our increased digital sales over the years. Introduction of new products and increased customer traffic can be managed through our digital platform with limited additional investment. This provides us with the requisite flexibility and headroom for exponential future growth in a rapidly evolving online space. Our annualised premium equivalent earned through online channels increased at a CAGR of 27.9% between Fiscal 2015 to Fiscal 2017.

We aim to enhance revenue earned by our distributors, while continuing to pursue profitable growth by improving sales productivity and efficiency, including through equipping our distribution partners with advanced online and digital sales solutions. We believe that we have developed a scalable distribution platform which can be implemented rapidly and efficiently by numerous distribution partners across various channels. Our “plug-and-play” on-boarding process has made it easier for our bancassurance partners to start selling our products, while providing us with access to their wide distribution networks. We believe that we offer our distributors an attractive value proposition through leveraging our information technology systems, investing in our sales support systems, creating a wider, customer-centric product suite, and providing our strong brand name to enable them to cross-sell and up-sell our products to their customer base.

Our information technology initiatives have received various industry awards, including the CIO 100 Asia award for achievements in strategic enterprise IT deployment, the CIO 100 International honoree award for innovation in IT development and the DL Shah Quality Award.

For details, see “Business—Operations” and “Business—Technology and Digital Initiatives” on pages 214 and 213 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, respectively.

Independent and experienced leadership team

We have an independent and experienced leadership team with capabilities and know-how across the banking, financial services and insurance sectors. None of our Key Management Personnel have been seconded by or transferred from our Promoters, which we believe contributes to the stability of our Key Management Personnel. As at June 30, 2017, our Key Management Personnel had an average of over ten years of experience in the financial services sector.

Our leadership team is committed to growing our business, as demonstrated by our track record in delivering consistent results across business cycles. Our Board of Directors evaluates our performance based on an objective range of performance indicators that we believe encourages us to calibrate our business strategies towards achieving long-term profitable growth.

We believe that the strength of our management team is a key competitive advantage and will help us implement our business strategies and adapt to evolving consumer preferences and changes in our business and regulatory environment.

Our Strategies

The India life insurance market is and will continue to be a growing and attractive market and offers significant headroom for growth. Indicators such as insurance penetration, insurance density and protection gap indicate that the Indian life insurance market is still significantly underinsured, according to CRISIL. The future growth of India’s life insurance market is supported by high historical real GDP growth, with an average growth rate of 7.1% between Fiscal 2013 and Fiscal 2016, increased levels of financial savings and initiatives undertaken by the Government to ensure adequate social security for its citizens. The Government’s emphasis on financial inclusion and growth opportunities will continue to drive the growth of the Indian life insurance sector. According to CRISIL, the demonetisation measures implemented by the Government have also resulted in increased customer deposits with banks, which we believe will further drive the penetration of life and health insurance. In addition, innovations in operating architecture based on the JAM (JanDhan-Aadhaar-Mobile) trinity and eKYC are expected to improve reach of insurance products and efficiency, according to CRISIL.

Our overall business strategy is to deliver profitable growth to our shareholders consistently across business cycles and to build a high quality, customer-centric franchise that provides superior value to our policyholders. We believe increasing distribution reach and strengthening our position as a leader in certain product niches is the key to capturing customer segments and improving our profitability. Given our track record of strong financial performance and investments made over the years, we believe we are well-positioned to be a multi-channel distribution specialist and a preferred partner for distributors. We believe that we will be able to capitalise on the increasing numbers of consumers who have a preference for purchasing insurance through non-traditional channels, such as our website, mobile applications and other e-commerce channels. We aim to drive innovation in product development and improve our distribution value proposition, which we believe will further increase our market share across product categories, as well as improve our profitability. We intend to leverage technology and automation and build economies of scale to further drive cost efficiencies.

We have successfully navigated through a changing business and regulatory environment in the past, and we believe that we are well-equipped to overcome future challenges in the Indian life insurance industry.

Reinforce our agile, multi-channel distribution platform to fortify and diversify our revenue mix across business cycles

We intend to continue expanding the number of our partnerships and diversifying our sources of new business premiums. We aim to stay ahead of the curve in forming alliances with a variety of distribution partners, including banks, non-banking financial companies, micro-finance institutions and other non-financial services companies. We plan to reinforce our multi-channel distribution platform by increasing our reach across non-traditional distribution channels, while strengthening existing channels and relationships, in order to reduce dependency on any single distribution channel or partner. Our agile distribution platform and our key account managers have the ability to support the requirements of both traditional and non-traditional distribution partners. We intend to pursue increased profitability by improving the productivity and efficiency of our various distribution channels through the implementation of tailored strategy for each of the channels, while maintaining our quality and risk management standards. We will continue to engage with our distributors to enhance our distribution value proposition and to ensure that it stays relevant and competitive. In the evolving regulatory landscape of open architecture and greater choice, we will strive to be a preferred partner across all our distribution channels.

We believe that we can leverage on the large network of potential customers from our various distribution partners to distribute and cross-sell our products. In addition, we believe that our large and varied base of individual and group customers provides significant growth opportunities from increased cross-selling and up-selling. We intend to leverage our access to more than 52.5 million lives insured under our group products to cross-sell individual products and riders that provide enhanced coverage for individuals, over and above the coverage provided by group insurance policies. Our distribution partners can leverage on our unified customer and distributor interaction platform, which includes a database of customer information that can be accessed by each of our distribution partners. We also use analytics tools to identify target customers and to aid our distribution partners in determining the suitability of additional products for our customers, which facilitates cross-selling efforts by our distribution partners to our customers.

During Fiscal 2017, we began partnering with non-traditional players to distribute our products through their platforms. We have developed customised distribution methods with customer loyalty platforms, online payment and fintech companies. As at June 30, 2017, we have entered into partnerships with 12 companies across various non-traditional sectors and expect to increase the contribution of new business premiums through this distribution sub-channel over the next few years. We believe that non-traditional distribution partnerships have the potential to contribute to our business going forward, given the significantly under-penetrated life insurance market across tier-two and tier-three cities in India, and that our innovative product sales strategies within non-traditional distribution channels will continue to be a key competitive advantage for us.

Drive innovation in product sales to enhance customer value proposition and to capture niche segments

Our product strategy is designed to achieve an optimum balance between the needs of our relevant stakeholders including our customers, distributors and shareholders. We aim to offer needs-based and customer-centric products which address the core needs of our customers across each stage of their lives. Our track record has provided us with significant experience and know-how to develop and provide insurance products across various customer segments, economic conditions and market scenarios.

We intend to adopt the following initiatives as part of our product development pipeline.

- Protection. We intend to build on our position as a proactive provider of protection plans in both life and health segments to attract new consumers and appeal to the younger population. This will help us cross-sell and up-sell our savings and investments products, together with our policy riders, to our younger consumers across key stages of their lives. Our latest term product, HDFC Life Click2Protect 3D Plus, is an award-winning product and provides comprehensive cover against death, terminal illnesses and disability, along with competitive premium prices and flexible features such as whole life coverage, various income options and a top-up option that increases coverage against the inflation rate.

- Health. Given the low penetration of health insurance in India, we intend to explore further opportunities in this space in order to increase the spectrum of cover for other diseases. We intend to leverage on our existing individual and group customers to cross-sell appropriate health insurance products, while exploring alliances with specialist healthcare providers to expand our distribution opportunities. Following changes in regulations by IRDAI in Fiscal 2017 permitting life insurance companies to only sell fixed benefit health insurance products, we have received IRDAI approval for and expect to launch our Click2Protect Health product in August 2017, a joint product in partnership with Apollo Munich. This combines our HDFC Life Click2Protect 3D Plus product and Apollo Munich's Optima Restore health indemnity plan, which are both leading products in their respective categories. Customers can purchase Click2Protect Health at a discount to the aggregate price of both products while having the benefit of both life and health indemnity protection. We are the lead insurer (as defined by IRDAI) for Click2Protect Health, which is a combination product, and are in charge of product development, marketing and distribution of the product. We expect the health insurance segment to continue be a key focus area of our business.
- Retirement. The number of people aged over 60 in India will triple from 112 million in 2014 to 300 million by 2050, and approximately 8% of retirees within the private sector receive pension benefits as at 2014, according to CRISIL. We believe that there is strong business potential in the retirement segment, particularly for non-government employees in India who do not have Government pension benefits, given the Government's intention for India to transition into a pensioned society. We believe our annuity and pension plans will continue to gain popularity in the life insurance market and have established a dedicated pension fund management subsidiary, HDFC Pension, to sell National Pension System products.

In line with the Government's and IRDAI's goal of increasing life and health insurance penetration in India, we intend to continue to collaborate with small finance banks, non-banking financial companies and micro-finance institutions to develop additional individual and group products for the mass market segment in tier-two and tier-three cities in India.

As we continue to grow our product range, we believe that our ability to create innovative methods to sell our products will provide us with a competitive advantage. Our mobile technology platform has transformed the sales process for our frontline sales staff and has created a foundation for future innovation in our product sales. We intend to further integrate our mobile technology platforms with our distributors in order to make the sales process more convenient for both our distributors and customers.

We will continue to obtain feedback from our key distribution partners and customers, and widen our product offerings appropriately to stay relevant to distributors and customers. We believe that our innovative product offerings and sales strategies will help us strengthen and enhance our customer value proposition.

Invest in digital platforms to establish leadership in the growing digital space

We believe that digital distribution will continue to be a key, growing trend in the Indian life insurance industry and that smartphones and mobile devices will become a more integral part of how our customers purchase our products in the coming years. India currently has a total wireless subscriber base of approximately 1,187 million, out of which nearly 356 million are smartphone users. The number of smartphone users is likely to increase exponentially over the next five years owing to steep growth in 3G and 4G subscribers as well as increasing smartphone penetration, according to CRISIL. In addition, the demonetisation measures that were implemented by the Government in November 2016 have accelerated the adoption of digital platforms across the financial services sector. Many of these customers are younger than our average insurance customers and we believe that building a relationship with such customers will provide us with multiple opportunities to meet their insurance needs across key stages of their life.

We believe that maintaining our superior digital infrastructure will continue to be a key contributor to the growth of our business. Since Fiscal 2016, we have adopted a "mobile first" approach to the creation and design of all website and applications. We have implemented various digital initiatives in order to facilitate a seamless customer onboarding process, provide a superior customer experience through increasing our customer service capabilities across multiple channels and enhance our operating efficiencies across the value chain. We intend to continue making substantial but targeted investments in areas such as mobility platforms, data science and analytics, cognitive automation and cloud computing. Our vision is to be a leader in the effective use of technology to meet the needs of our customers, our employees and our distribution partners. During Fiscal 2017, we evaluated the suitability of robotics and artificial intelligence solutions. We have since deployed these solutions across some of our back-office processes. We intend to introduce new digital platforms and mobile solutions to increase our outreach to customers, integrate our platforms with our distributors, rationalise our branch infrastructure and improve productivity of our individual agents and frontline sales staff. In addition, we have implemented multiple initiatives to provide skills development opportunities for our employees and have hired employees with specific e-commerce and digital experience to help us improve our technology platforms and reinforce our digital initiatives such as data analytics and robotics.

We intend to continue building on our strong brand recall in the online space and driving traffic to our website www.hdfclife.com by expanding our use of digital marketing tools, such as Facebook, YouTube, LinkedIn™, Twitter and other social media websites. We believe that digital media provides us with a low cost opportunity to engage significant numbers of consumers using multi-lingual content, which we intend to continue to leverage. We will continue to emphasise measures such as expanding our online product range and cross-selling and up-selling our products to customers by leveraging analytics tools to determine customer preferences. By communicating the benefits of buying online and digital insurance products to a wider range of customers, we aim to create scale and build on our strong market position within the digital space.

Continue to build economies of scale to ensure profitability and cost leadership

We have a proven track record of consistently growing our total premium and VNB over the past few years. We have increased our efficiency and reduced sales costs through implementing our strategies, including our productivity and cost savings initiatives. We aim to continue adding economic value to our shareholders by increasing total premium and VNB, while reducing our total operating cost ratio across business cycles. We intend to undertake appropriate investments to strengthen our sources of competitive advantage and make our business resilient and adaptable by building on intangible assets which cannot be easily replicated by our competitors, such as our brand, product offerings to customers and integrated distribution processes. An expanding universe of partners will also help create a wider customer base and reduce unit costs per policyholder, which we expect will improve our total operating cost ratio and allow us to continue to build scale across our business.

We will continue exploring organic and inorganic opportunities to improve our operating margins through scale and synergies, expand our distribution reach and improve our financial performance. Over time, we believe that our scale of operations will help us operate at lower operating costs than the industry average, ensure cost and profitability leadership and provide us with the necessary heft to forge additional distribution partnerships and invest in further customer-centric initiatives.

Our Products

We have a broad, diversified product portfolio covering five principal segments across the individual and group categories, namely participating, non-participating protection term, non-participating protection health, other non-participating and unit-linked insurance products. As at June 30, 2017, our product portfolio comprised 31 individual and ten group products, as well as eight optional rider benefits.

Our wide product suite caters to specific needs of customers during each stage of their lives. It provides us with the flexibility to operate successfully across business cycles, work with diverse sets of distribution partners and serve a range of consumers from mass market to high net worth individuals. It also provides us with the flexibility to adapt to changes in the regulatory landscape and mitigate concentration risk in respect of particular categories or types of products.

Product Strategy and Development

We aim to offer needs-based and customer-centric products which address the core needs of our customers across each stage of their lives. Our products are designed to be easy for customers to understand and convenient for our distributors to sell. We also periodically evaluate our existing products to ensure that they meet our profitability, solvency and underwriting requirements and aim to achieve our targeted profitability through the designing and distributing the optimum product mix. Our product strategy is designed to achieve an optimum balance between the needs of our relevant stakeholders including our customers, distributors and shareholders.

We have a proven track record in proactively identifying and tapping niche customer segments through our competitive, innovative product solutions, which have continued to draw strong customer demand. We also have a specialised health insurance segment, and we believe this segment is under-penetrated compared to the life segment and provides significant opportunities for our distributors and customers. In Fiscal 2016, we also launched our HDFC Life Cancer Care product, a unique health insurance product in the Indian life and health insurance industry, which provides financial protection in the event of early and major stages of cancer. As at June 30, 2017, approximately 222,000 lives are insured through our HDFC Life Cancer Care product.

We identified the need to focus on the increasing protection needs of Indian consumers. We launched our HDFC Life Credit Protect and HDFC Life Credit Protect Plus products in Fiscal 2011 and Fiscal 2013, respectively, which provides protection term insurance coverage for loans obtained by retail customers. We developed such products to meet the needs of our customers, based on the increasing number of retail loans in India. We capitalised on our bancassurance relationships with institutions that focus on providing loans to retail consumers (including small finance banks, non-banking financial companies and micro-finance institutions) to distribute our Credit Protect products. We believe that we have since identified a niche for ourselves in the credit protection product segment.

In Fiscal 2012, we launched our first online term product, HDFC Life Click2Protect. Since then, we have expanded our range of Click2Series products, which are available online and offer a convenient and unique value proposition to our customers. In Fiscal 2015 and 2016, we launched two online unit-linked products, being HDFC Life Click2Invest and HDFC Life Click2Retire, respectively, which provide returns that are better or comparable to those provided by mutual funds, in addition to providing life insurance coverage. Our range of Click2Series products sold through our online channel collectively generated annualised premium equivalent of ₹593.6 million, ₹905.0 million, ₹1,009.4 million and ₹341.6 million, in Fiscal 2015, Fiscal 2016, Fiscal 2017 and the three months ended June 30, 2017, respectively. Customers who purchase our Click2Series products tend to be on average 36 years of age. We believe the popularity of our Click2Series products among this customer demographic provides us with significant potential to build long-term relationships with such customers and to provide them with customised insurance solutions across each stage of their lives. Our latest term product, HDFC Life Click2Protect 3D Plus, is an award-winning product and provides comprehensive cover against death, terminal illnesses and disability, along with competitive premium prices and flexible features such as whole life coverage, various income options and a top-up option that increases coverage against the inflation rate.

In recognition of our success, we were awarded the Finnoviti 2016 Award for innovations in BFSI for our HDFC Life Cancer Care product, as well as the Golden Peacock Innovative Product Award 2015 and Indian Insurance Awards 2014 — Best Product Innovation (Life Insurance) for our HDFC Life Click2Invest product.

Product Categories

Participating products

Participating products are contracts of insurance where the policyholders have a contractual right to receive a guaranteed sum insured, and a discretionary benefit in the form of bonuses. The bonuses consist of reversionary bonuses (being regular annual bonuses declared every year, based on the actuarial valuation of the assets and liabilities in the participating fund) and terminal bonuses (which are declared upon surrender or maturity of the policy, or the death of the policyholder, or upon the occurrence of certain specified events, provided such terminal bonus has been declared by our Company and such policyholder has held the policy for the minimum specified duration). In accordance with IRDAI regulations, surplus generated from participating funds is shared between policyholders and shareholders based on a 9:1 ratio.

Our range of participating products is available to meet both savings and retirement needs. We have both regular premium and limited premium payment options in our participating products, as well as varied benefit structures such as lump sum payment on maturity, benefit payments in instalments and benefit payments at certain milestones.

In Fiscal 2016 and 2017, we launched our HDFC Life Uday and HDFC Life Pragati savings plans, respectively, which have minimum monthly premiums of ₹500 and ₹100, respectively. This allowed us to tap the mass-market segment in tier-two and tier-three cities through individual agents, small finance banks, non-banking financial companies and micro-finance institutions.

As at June 30, 2017, we offered nine participating products, comprising eight individual products and one group product.

Non-participating protection (term) products

Individual non-participating protection (term) products offer a guaranteed lump sum benefit or an income stream (for a defined period) on the occurrence of a particular event (including the death, disability or illness of an individual) during the period of coverage. These are protection oriented products, and generally expire without value if the designated event does not occur.

We also offer group non-participating protection (term) products to banks and other financial institutions primarily to cover full or partial repayment of outstanding loan amounts in the event of death, disability or illness of the relevant individual borrowers. Beneficiaries of our Credit Protect products can apply the payouts from such products towards full or partial repayment of outstanding loan amounts in the event of death, disability or illness of the relevant individual borrowers. No benefits will be paid in the event of a loan default.

As at June 30, 2017, we offered nine non-participating protection (term) products, comprising three individual products and six group products.

Non-participating protection (health insurance) products

Our health insurance products provide morbidity or sickness benefits and include health and critical illness. Our health insurance products are in the form of fixed benefit plans (which offer fixed payouts in the event of critical illness and hospitalisation).

As at June 30, 2017, we offered two non-participating protection (health insurance) products for individuals.

Other non-participating products

Our other non-participating products include savings, pension and annuity products.

Savings products offer benefits that are guaranteed in absolute terms at the beginning of the policy and do not provide any upside potential from the underlying fund performance. These products are more suitable for customers who generally prefer lower but guaranteed returns.

Annuity products help to fund retirement for individuals. Individuals may purchase annuity products where annuity payments continue during the lifetime of the policyholder or for a fixed period of time, in return for a certain lump sum paid up front. Group customers may purchase annuity products to fully or partially provide for existing and/or emerging annuity liabilities.

As at June 30, 2017, we offered five other non-participating products, comprising four individual products and one group product.

Unit-linked insurance

We offer unit-linked insurance products where investment decisions and the risks associated with such investments are borne by the policyholders and non-investment risks such as mortality and morbidity are borne by us. Our unit-linked investment fund represents the investments allocated to different assets chosen by the policyholder. We provide insurance coverage for death, disability and critical illness. Charges for such services, which are subject to caps prescribed by IRDAI, are deducted from the unit-linked investment fund assets. The benefits payable to the policyholder will depend on the value of the underlying investments at the time of surrender, death or maturity of the policy. In addition, surrender benefits may be subject to surrender charges.

As at June 30, 2017, we offered 16 unit-linked insurance products, comprising 14 individual products and two group products.

Group insurance

Group insurance, which is typically marketed to corporations, government entities and associations, has been a driver of both our product volume and profitability growth. Our group insurance products provide term cover for employees, offer protection to loans provided by financial institutions and build superannuation and gratuity benefits for employees on both unit-linked and traditional platforms.

Employers (corporate or government entities) typically arrange group insurance coverage for their employees. The employers typically pay premiums for basic policies such as group term life and group medical coverage. Companies use fund-based group insurance products as investment vehicles to back their pension and gratuity liabilities. We offer various plans on unit linked and traditional platform that help institutions (employer-employee or non employer-employee groups) to provide superannuation, gratuity and savings benefit to their members and/or customers.

As at June 30, 2017, we offered ten group insurance products across our participating, non-participating protection (term), other participating and unit-linked insurance product segments.

Riders

We offer riders which are supplementary policies that can be attached to our individual as well as group life insurance products, such that additional death, disability or critical illness coverage can be provided to policyholders for a supplementary premium. Prospective customers or our policyholders can choose from any of the available riders to enhance their product benefits for an additional marginal cost.

As at June 30, 2017, we offered eight optional rider benefits, comprising three individual rider benefits and five group rider benefits.

HDFC Life is a licensed annuity service provider under the National Pension System. Subscribers of HDFC Pension have the option to purchase annuity products from HDFC Life for their retirement and pension needs.

HDFC International

In Fiscal 2016, we established our first international wholly-subsiary in the UAE, HDFC International, to operate our reinsurance business. HDFC International has signed reinsurance treaties for two distinct lines of individual life business, with Orient Insurance (one of the largest local insurers in the UAE in terms of premium and net income, according to Standard & Poor's). It has also entered into arrangements to offer reinsurance for group and credit life schemes with Orient Insurance and Al Ahlia Insurance (a leading insurer based in Bahrain).

Distribution

We offer our individual and group customers access to our products through our diversified distribution network which comprises four distribution channels, namely bancassurance, individual agents, direct, and brokers and others. Our multi-channel distribution network provides us with the flexibility to adapt to changes in the regulatory landscape and mitigate the risk of over-reliance on any single channel. All our distribution channels have been independently profitable for each of Fiscal 2015, Fiscal 2016, Fiscal 2017 and the three months ended June 30, 2017.

As at June 30, 2017, our distribution network comprised:

- 120 major bancassurance partners through corporate agency or master policyholder arrangements, comprising 21 banks, 76 non-banking financial companies, nine small finance banks and 14 micro-finance institutions;
- 58,147 individual agents, which comprise 6.1% of the all private agents in the Indian life insurance industry;
- over 1,200 frontline sales staff across our direct sales channels, including our group sales and online and digital sub-channels and web aggregators; and
- 45 broker and other tie-ups, comprising 18 individual insurance brokers and 27 insurance marketing firms.

The following table sets forth the contributions of our distribution channels to our total new business premium for the periods indicated.

Distribution value proposition

Our distribution value proposition is centered on the needs of our distributors. We aim to enhance revenue earned by our distributors, while continuing to pursue profitable growth by improving sales productivity and efficiency. Our distribution value proposition was formulated after a comprehensive assessment of the requirements of our distribution partners and is reviewed on an annual basis.

We believe that we have developed a scalable distribution platform which can be implemented rapidly and efficiently by numerous distribution partners across various channels. Our “plug-and-play” on-boarding process has made it easier for our bancassurance partners to start selling our products, while providing us with access to their wide distribution networks. All our key distribution partners are supported by account managers who manage our distribution partnerships and create further growth opportunities.

We have implemented several key initiatives to drive sales efficiency and customer convenience. Our “straight-through processing” functionality allows us to leverage on the existing databases of client information held by our distribution partners, together with other government databases such as Permanent Account Number and the Aadhaar services platform. This allows our distribution partners to eliminate the need to obtain additional documents from such customers and complete the customer on-boarding process rapidly. This results in improved turnaround times, increased customer and business partner satisfaction and improves our cost efficiency. We strive to ensure that our customer information is managed in accordance with robust data security protocols and compliance norms.

We equip our distribution partners with appropriate sales tools and mobile applications, which allows our distribution partners to complete customer sales at any time and at any place. We have implemented a unique service-to-sales framework for customers across all services, ranging from renewals, collections, direct marketing, branch operations to payouts processing, with the aim of generating potential sales opportunities.

We have a central planning and programme management team that monitors the progress and profitability of all our distribution channels and provides real-time operational support for various activities such as business planning, sales management, technology enablement, people and partner management. It also manages incentives and rewards and recognition programs, which are designed and customised for each distribution channel. We also provide our distribution partners with end-to-end support throughout the process, from customer on-boarding to claims settlement.

We have a dedicated team of business development professionals who systematically pursue new distribution partnerships. Many of our business development professionals have experience and relationships within the banking, financial services and insurance industry, which can be leveraged to expand and strengthen our distribution partnerships.

Bancassurance

Bancassurance remained our most significant distribution channel, generating 50.4%, 53.5%, 50.7% and 59.1% of our total new business premiums for Fiscal 2015, Fiscal 2016, Fiscal 2017 and the three months ended June 30, 2017, respectively.

We have longstanding, successful relationships with our bancassurance partners through corporate agency or master policyholder arrangements. Our oldest bancassurance partner relationship was established in 2002. Our bancassurance partners include banks, non-banking financial companies, micro-finance institutions and small finance banks in India. Some of our bancassurance partners are HDFC Bank, RBL Bank Ltd., Saraswat Bank Ltd., HDFC Sales Ltd. HDFC Securities Ltd., HDFC Credila Financial Services Pvt. Ltd., IDFC Bank Ltd., Bajaj Finance Ltd., Catholic Syrian Bank Ltd., Chola Insurance Distributions Services Pvt. Ltd., Suryoday Small Finance Bank Ltd., PNB Housing Finance Ltd., Equitas Small Finance Bank Ltd., Indiabulls Housing Finance Ltd., Janalakshmi Financial Services Ltd., Manappuram Finance Ltd., and Capital Small Finance Bank. Our bancassurance partners market and distribute our insurance products to their customers through their specified persons, or through direct mail and telemarketing and support from our bancassurance account managers, in exchange for sales commissions.

Many of our bancassurance partners possess extensive distribution networks across urban and rural areas in India. Our top 15 bancassurance partners (in terms of total new business premium sourced for the period ended June 30, 2017) had over 11,200 branches across India as at June 30, 2017. This provides us with significant opportunities to expand our market reach, access our bancassurance partners' customers and tap on their existing branch infrastructure. Our partnerships with small finance banks and micro-finance institutions enable us to serve the under-penetrated mass-market segment in tier-two and tier-three cities and rural areas and further strengthen our multi-channel distribution platform.

We established our relationship with HDFC Bank in 2002. This is our largest relationship in the bancassurance distribution channel in terms of annualised premium equivalent and contributed 64.8%, 65.6%, 59.0% and 54.1% of our total annualised premium equivalent (including group business) for Fiscal 2015, Fiscal 2016, Fiscal 2017 and the three months ended June 30, 2017, respectively, and 69.0%, 70.2%, 65.1% and 59.4% of our individual annualised premium equivalent for Fiscal 2015, Fiscal 2016, Fiscal 2017 and the three months ended June 30, 2017, respectively. Over the years, our life insurance products and innovative sales solutions have been embedded and integrated across HDFC Bank's traditional and digital platforms.

Our growing number of distribution partners is a testament to our reputation as a preferred bancassurance partner. The following table sets forth the number of our major bancassurance partners as at the dates indicated.

	As at March 31,			As at June 30,
Major bancassurance partners	31	58	117	120

During Fiscal 2016, eight of our bancassurance partners that were previously non-banking financial companies or micro-finance institutions were granted licenses to operate as small finance banks. As these partners expand their core businesses, our reach also increases with minimal fixed cost, while providing us with further opportunities to cross-sell and up-sell our products.

Our bancassurance partners sell a range of individual and group insurance products. We have implemented measures to encourage our bancassurance partners to sell our insurance products with preference over those of other insurance companies. These measures include providing training programs on product features and sales techniques to their employees, providing timely service assistance, and developing and implementing technology systems with our bancassurance partners that are integrated with our core business information technology system. In addition, each of our bancassurance partners are supported by key account managers from our Company. We obtain feedback from our wide network of bancassurance partners, several of whom are experienced in their respective markets and product categories, which helps us to continuously improve our value proposition and maintain our market position in an increasingly open and competitive bancassurance market. Given our experience and track record of working with a range of bancassurance partners, we believe we are well-positioned to capitalise on the opportunities provided by an open architecture bancassurance environment.

Individual agents

Our individual agent network continues to be our second largest distribution channel in the individual space, generating 10.0%, 7.6%, 7.5% and 6.4% of our total new business premium for Fiscal 2015, Fiscal 2016, Fiscal 2017 and the three months ended June 30, 2017, respectively.

We had 58,147 individual agents as at June 30, 2017. Our individual agents are not employees but typically enter into exclusive agency arrangements to sell our life insurance products in exchange for sales commissions. In line with current market practice in India, we designate agency managers to manage our agents. We primarily sell long-term savings and protection plans, as well as some unit-linked insurance products, through our individual agents distribution channel.

Our individual agents network has been profitable for each of Fiscal 2015, Fiscal 2016, Fiscal 2017 and the three months ended June 30, 2017 and the quality of new business has improved. This is reflected through the increase in our 13th month persistency ratio from 66.7% for the period ended March 31, 2015 to 86.4% for the period ended

June 30, 2017. Each individual agent generated an average of ₹119,363 in terms of new business premium and sold an average of 2.3 new insurance policies during Fiscal 2017. The number of our productive agents (being agents who sell at least one policy during the Fiscal year) as a percentage of our total number of agents increased from 47% in Fiscal 2015 to 61% in Fiscal 2017. We have continued to implement enhanced technology and mobile solutions to drive agent productivity and increase their earnings potential. Our agency channel was awarded the Agency Efficiency and Life Insurance (Large Companies Category) for highest premium generated per policy sold by individual agents at the Indian Insurance Awards 2015.

We conducted an in-depth analysis of our strengths and areas for development for our agency distribution channel and expect to implement these additional strategies in Fiscal 2018. These strategies include a greater focus on recruiting quality agents, improving agent training and productivity, fine-tuning our agent incentive schemes and equipping our agents to better serve our customers and win new business.

Direct sales

Our direct sales channel is engaged in selling our products directly to customers without the involvement of any intermediaries through both online (including through our website and web aggregators) and offline channels (including through frontline sales staff, branch sales and tele-sales).

Our direct sales channel is an important contributor to our business in terms of total new business premium, generating 37.0%, 36.8%, 39.8% and 31.8% of our total new business premium for Fiscal 2015, Fiscal 2016, Fiscal 2017 and the three months ended June 30, 2017, respectively, which includes sales of group term insurance products and group fund products.

We use our branch sales sub-channel to tap on opportunities to up-sell and cross-sell our products through our network of 414 branches and spokes across India as at June 30, 2017. Our dedicated frontline direct sales team works closely with our branch operations units to identify and recommend appropriate products for walk-in customers and their referrals. Our tele-assisted sales channel provides us with an alternative medium to solicit and sell insurance products to both our growing base of customers and to new customers. Prospective customers contact our call centre staff for product-related queries. Our call centre staff then explain our range of products and schedule follow-up appointments with our frontline sales team.

We have a dedicated direct sales team that caters to the group life insurance and corporate pension needs for group customers. As at June 30, 2017, we have built a diverse customer base of corporate clients, comprising public and private sector institutions, public sector undertakings and privately owned banks. We have also tapped our broad corporate customer base to market our National Pension System products through our subsidiary, HDFC Pension.

We established our online and digital sub-channel during Fiscal 2012. Since then, an increasing number of Indian consumers have begun purchasing insurance products through the online and digital space. We have an advanced online platform that is user-friendly, customer-centric and capable of guiding our customers and distribution partners from on-boarding to policy issuance within four days, which we believe has been a key contributor to our increased online sales over the years. Introduction of new products and increased customer traffic can be managed through our digital platform with limited additional investment. This provides us with the requisite flexibility and headroom for exponential future growth in a rapidly evolving online space. We have identified product areas and developed specific products which are best suited to be sold through our online and digital sub-channel and believe that we have established ourselves as one of the market leaders in this space. Our annualised premium equivalent from our online and digital sub-channel have increased by more than 77 times between Fiscal 2011 to Fiscal 2017. Our range of Click2Series products from online sales collectively generated annualised premium equivalent of ₹593.6 million, ₹905.0 million, ₹1,009.4 million and ₹341.6 million in Fiscal 2015, Fiscal 2016, Fiscal 2017 and the three months ended June 30, 2017, respectively.

We have an online presence across all product segments on some of the key life insurance web aggregators in India, including PolicyBazaar. Our digital and social marketing team utilises various tools (including search engine optimisation and email, content and mobile marketing) to attract new customers. We integrate our online platform with each of our external partners' online platforms in order to deliver a seamless online experience for customers who purchase our products.

We will continue to emphasise measures such as expanding our online product range and cross-selling and up-selling our products to customers by leveraging analytical tools to determine customer preferences. By communicating the benefits of buying online and digital insurance products to a wider range of customers, we aim to create scale and build on our strong market position within the digital space.

Brokers and others

Our brokers and others distribution channel generated 2.6%, 2.1%, 2.1% and 2.6% of our total new business premium for Fiscal 2015, Fiscal 2016, Fiscal 2017 and the three months ended June 30, 2017, respectively.

As at June 30, 2017, we had 45 broker and other tie-ups, comprising 18 individual insurance brokers and 27 insurance marketing firms, including tie-ups with Blue Chip India, Probus Insurance, NJ Insurance Brokers Pvt. Ltd. and Bajaj Capital Insurance. Insurance marketing firms offer a range of financial products for consumers and are permitted to tie up with up to two general insurance companies, two life insurance companies and two health insurance companies within a certain geographic area. We tied-up with insurance marketing firms in India during Fiscal 2016. Our arrangements with our partners in our brokers and others distribution channel are non-exclusive and allow such distribution partners to sell both our insurance products as well as products of other insurance companies. Such arrangements typically last for open-ended terms and include commission-based payment terms.

Over the next few years, we believe that other non-traditional players (such as Jet Privilege Private Ltd.) will begin opening up their technology platforms for the sale of life insurance products to their customer base. Given our strong brand name, credentials and experience, we believe that we are well-positioned to capitalise on the growing opportunities in this channel.

Technology and Digital Initiatives

We have embedded technology and digital solutions across our organisation as part of our initiatives to increase productivity, improve cost efficiencies and provide a superior customer experience, in line with our vision of being a digital insurer. Our information technology systems play a significant role in supporting our business and operations, including areas such as product development, actuarial practice, support for our sales teams and distribution partners, customer on-boarding, underwriting, customer service, claims management, financial management, statistical analysis and risk management.

Over the years, we have invested in enterprise grade products for all our critical systems (including our core policy administration, finance and other back-office systems) to ensure strong performance, reliability and security. We have a lean technology team whose primary objective is to understand our business, own, manage and run key aspects of technology and facilitate sales of our products by our employees and distribution partners. This allows for greater flexibility in day-to-day operations. Our data center operations, information technology operations and digital channels have been certified by the British Standards Institute (BSI) and our information security policy, data centre operations and digital channels are aligned with the latest ISO standards.

The following table sets forth the impact of our technology and digital initiatives for the periods indicated.

Operations

Our operations unit focuses on customer on-boarding and underwriting, customer service and retention, claims management and customer value management and advocacy. We have two operations hubs in Mumbai and Chennai.

Customer on-boarding and underwriting

We have undertaken several initiatives and developed a mobility platform to streamline and digitise our customer on-boarding and policy issuance processes, with the aim of making such processes convenient and simple for our customers. Mobility initiatives have been successfully implemented across the value chain, resulting in improvements to the productivity of our distribution partners. Our frontline sales staff have adopted mobile or tablet applications that enable the entire customer on-boarding process to be completed almost in real time via our mobility platform, which includes features such as direct uploads of snapshots of customer documents without any scanning required, optical recognition of customer data, automated data entry and verification of customer identity. During Fiscal 2017, approximately 97.0% of customer documents were uploaded by our frontline sales staff through our mobile or tablet applications. This largely eliminates the need for scanning and manual data entry for our customers and distributors, resulting in shorter turnaround times for policy issuance and decreasing the risk of manual errors. Our distribution partners and frontline sales staff can complete the customer on-boarding and policy issuance process entirely through our mobile and tablet applications at any time and any place. This resulted in an increase of the number of new applications sourced through mobile devices from 12.7% in Fiscal 2016 to 48.0% in Fiscal 2017. These initiatives have allowed us to grow our business rapidly and increased the number of policies issued within three business days from 25.6% in Fiscal 2015 to 45.8% in Fiscal 2017.

We have also established a pre-conversion verification process which involves verifying customer identity, completing know-your-client and anti-money laundering procedures and explaining product features to customers. We have integrated the customer verification process into our mobile applications, which can be completed by our frontline sales staff during their initial meeting with our customers. During Fiscal 2017, we completed over 190,000 new customer verifications via our mobile applications. In Fiscal 2017, we introduced fingerprint and iris scanning to allow customers to retrieve their information and implemented artificial intelligence software to automatically process policy applications. Since the introduction of the Aadhaar identification programme in Fiscal 2013, approximately 1.01 billion Aadhaar cards have been issued, covering 93% of the population, according to CRISIL. We have recently started using our customers’ Aadhaar cards as part of the customer verification process.

Our underwriting operations involve evaluating the type and the amount of risk that we are willing to accept during the customer on-boarding stage. We have a team of qualified underwriting professionals who typically specialise in certain products and distribution channels. Our underwriting operations are underpinned by our automated underwriting engine, which has also been integrated into the mobile or tablet sales applications used by our distribution partners and our frontline sales staff. This enables us to obtain key underwriting information from customers during the on-boarding stage, reduces the documentation requirements from customers and helps us to improve our underwriting efficiency.

We aim to continue to work with our reinsurers to improve our underwriting and non-medical limits based on our past experience. In Fiscal 2017, we introduced an initiative that allows certain customers to obtain an additional pre-approved sum assured over and above their existing insurance coverage. Such customers need not provide additional documents to increase the amount of their insurance coverage, which we believe has resulted in improved turnaround times for the issuance of new policies, higher operating margins and higher customer satisfaction. We intend to further develop this by introducing automation measures to determine whether new customers will be eligible for this initiative and to share such information with our distribution partners to drive our policy sales.

An insurance policy or contract is only issued after specific risks have been examined and approved for underwriting or fall within certain pre-established criteria, and the customer pre-conversion verification process is completed in accordance with our internal procedures. We believe that this has contributed to better persistency ratios and claims settlement ratios over the years and improved the quality of our new business.

Going forward, we will continue to explore the use of analytics tools to identify potential customer segments and policies that can be underwritten with reduced documentation requirements to further streamline our customer on-boarding and underwriting process.

Customer service and retention

We are committed to providing a differentiated and superior customer service experience to our customers and strive to create one-on-one relationships with them across various channels by responding to their queries promptly and efficiently.

In addition to customer service centres at all of our 414 branches and spokes as at June 30, 2017, we provide traditional channels such as our nationwide call centre, missed call service and interactive voice response system. Our centralised nationwide service helpline handled more than 700,000 queries during each of Fiscal 2015, Fiscal 2016 and Fiscal 2017, respectively. In Fiscal 2017, more than 84% of calls were answered within 20 seconds. Our potential customers can also discuss their insurance needs with our call centre staff, who will subsequently refer customers to our frontline sales staff.

Our ability to provide quality customer service is supported by our increasingly automated information technology platform. Our “My Account” online customer portal offers customers immediate access to their policy and fund information and allows them to pay their premiums through the internet banking platform. Our “HDFC Life” mobile application has been downloaded more than 200,000 thousand times as at June 30, 2017, and allows our customers to review their policy details and make online premium payments. Our email service handled more than 280,000 queries during each of Fiscal 2015, Fiscal 2016 and Fiscal 2017, with over 91% of customer queries resolved within 24 hours in Fiscal 2017. We recently introduced additional automated elements, including a natural language-processing automation engine to respond to customer requests received by email, which have resulted in improved response times and contributed to providing a consistent customer service experience.

We intend to continue increasing the internet-based self-service capabilities that we can offer our customers. Our “My Account” online customer portal, “HDFC Life” mobile application and email service are available to our customers 24 hours a day, seven days a week. During Fiscal 2017, we launched an interactive automated chat function through our website and our “My Account” online customer portal.

We also have a separate service recovery team to address customer complaints. In Fiscal 2017, 99.0% of our customer complaints were resolved within the 15 calendar days turnaround time prescribed by IRDAI. Our service recovery team also conducts a root cause analysis, which is shared with our senior management and distribution partners, in order to prevent recurring complaints of a similar nature. This is demonstrated by a decrease in the number of customer complaints per 10,000 new policies from 498 in Fiscal 2013 to 81 in Fiscal 2017.

In recent years, we have undertaken various initiatives to increase our persistency ratios. Our persistency department reminds customers to pay their renewal premiums through a structured payment reminder process and, where permitted, assists customers in reviving policies that have lapsed. Customers can make payment via electronic channels such as internet banking, national electronic funds transfers, auto debit facilities and standing instruction mandates, as well as traditional channels such as the branches of our distribution partners and common service centres, which we believe makes the renewal premium payment process more convenient for both urban and rural customers. As at March 31, 2017, 76.0% of our customers with in-force policies utilised auto-debit and online payment options for the payment of their renewal premiums, which substantially decreases instances of policy lapses due to non-payment of renewal premiums.

Our continued efforts to improve the quality of our new business, focus on needs-based selling, strong commitment to customer service and our efforts in streamlining the renewal premium payment process, has resulted in an overall improvement in our persistency ratio. Our 13th month persistency ratio increased from 73.3% to 80.9% for the period ended March 31, 2015 to the period ended March 31, 2017.

The following table sets forth the persistency ratios (based on original annualised premiums) for our individual business (which excludes our group and rural business) for the periods indicated.

The following table sets forth the segmental contribution of lapses and surrenders to our profitability for the periods indicated.

Total (attributable to shareholders)		-556.5	-832.0	-727.5	-149.2

We have calculated profitability arising from all contracts which have lapsed or been surrendered during the respective periods.

For non-linked contracts, profitability from lapses or surrenders has been estimated as asset share (which is the accumulation of premiums less actual expenses and mortality costs combined with actual investment returns, wherever available) less “surrender value”.

For linked contracts, this has been estimated as surrender penalty (the unit value to the credit of the policyholder less what is actually paid out at the time of surrender or transferred to the discontinuance fund) plus asset share (accumulation of charges, except mortality charges, less actual expenses combined with actual investment return, wherever applicable). For linked contracts, in addition to the profitability from lapses/surrenders as calculated above, the surrender penalty deducted on policies lapsed/surrendered in the respective periods is also provided.

Lapse/surrender profits of our participating business do not contribute to profitability of shareholders unless it is distributed as bonuses. Hence, it has been excluded from the total lapse profit (attributable to shareholders). Certain approximations and estimations have been made in the calculation methods and historical parameters of actual expenses, investment returns and mortality cost where unavailable.

Customer value management and advocacy

The purpose of our customer value management function is to enhance customer engagement across product life cycles and to take advantage of the significant growth opportunities from increased cross-selling and up-selling. Our distribution partners can leverage on our unified customer and distributor interaction platform that comprises a centralised database of customer information, including details such as customer demographics, contact details, policy details and credit history, which includes a database of customer information that can be accessed by each of our distribution partners. This platform has also been integrated with the Government’s Aadhaar services platform to facilitate the customer on-boarding process. We also use analytics tools to identify target customers and to aid our distribution partners in determining the suitability of additional products for our customers, which facilitates cross-selling efforts by our distribution partners to our customers.

We have established a customer advocacy and value management function, which acts as a link between customer service touch points and our distribution partners to provide a seamless experience to customers and to address any queries that they may have. This also provides our distribution partners with opportunities to cross-sell and up-sell products to existing customers. We reach out to and engage with our customers prior to key policy milestones, such as maturity payouts or scheduled policy payments, to ensure that payouts are processed in a timely manner (particularly for annuity products) and to understand further needs that customers may have. Such information is shared with our distribution partners and frontline sales staff to help improve the insurance portfolio of existing customers, which we believe leads to improved sales efficiency and increased premium income.

Claims management

We are committed to providing our customers with a superior claims settlement experience. Claims that we receive are processed and investigated in a structured manner. We have established claims settlement procedures and formulated various claims settlement guidelines which are updated on a regular basis.

Claimants can submit claims through various channels, including our existing branches, the branches of our distribution partners, our website, call centre and emails. We use rule engines and predictive technology to achieve accuracy and consistency in claims categorisation and processing for investigative claims. We have implemented a tiered authorisation system to manage claims of differing value and complexity and to facilitate rapid claims processing. For example, we have a three-tier approval process for certain complex and high risk claims. We also employ analytics-based investigative measures to detect and reduce the risk of fraudulent claims. Where appropriate, such claims are also escalated to our Claims Review Council for final approval. Once a claim is approved, we typically make payments within two business days, subject to completion of all required documents.

The efficiency of our claims settlement has improved from Fiscal 2015 to Fiscal 2017, with the average turnaround time for claims decreasing from ten days in Fiscal 2015 to five days in Fiscal 2017, upon receipt of all supporting documentation. For the three months ended June 30, 2017, 95.5% and 54.1% of our non-investigative claims were settled within three days and one day, respectively, upon our receipt of all supporting documentation. Our overall claims settlement ratio of 99.2% for Fiscal 2017 is among the best in the Indian life insurance industry. This is a testament to the quality of our customer service and customer on-boarding and underwriting processes.

The following table sets forth our settlement ratio (representing the number of claims that are settled as a percentage of the number of claims received) for the periods indicated. Our settlement ratio for the three months ended June 30, 2017 does not include pending claims in the number of claims received which are settled during the Fiscal year and hence may not be directly comparable to our settlement ratio for Fiscal 2015, Fiscal 2016 and Fiscal 2017.

Group customers	99.5%	99.5%	99.7%	99.2%
Overall	95.3%	97.4%	99.2%	97.6%

We have begun processing increasing numbers of health insurance claims internally instead of through a third party vendor in order to strengthen the quality of our claims settlement process for health insurance products. We expect to leverage on further economies of scale as we continue to introduce new health insurance products in future.

Customers

Our number of lives insured for individual and group customers grew at a CAGR of 15.0% and 101.7%, respectively, from Fiscal 2015 to Fiscal 2017.

The following table sets forth the number of lives insured, number of group customers and the number of new business policies held by our individual and group customers as at the dates indicated.

Our top ten largest customers contributed less than 0.65% of our individual annualised premium equivalent for each of Fiscal 2015, Fiscal 2016, Fiscal 2017 and three months ended June 30, 2017.

We believe that we can leverage on the large network of potential customers from our various distribution partners to distribute and cross-sell our products. In addition, we believe that our large and varied base of individual and group customers provides significant growth opportunities from increased cross-selling and up-selling. We have focused on our cross-selling efforts over the past few years by engaging with customers across multiple touch points, leveraging analytics tools to determine customer preferences and sharing such information on a real-time basis with our frontline sales staff and distribution partners. We intend to leverage our access to the 52.5 million lives insured across our group customers as at June 30, 2017 to cross-sell additional individual products and riders that provide enhanced coverage for individuals, over and above the coverage provided by group insurance policies.

The following table sets forth number of policies from existing group customers, total number of individual policies from existing group customers and cross-sell percentage for the periods indicated.

Reinsurance

In order to limit the financial impact of claims fluctuation, minimise exposure to large individual claims, expand our underwriting capacity and manage capital efficiently, we reinsure a portion of the mortality and morbidity risks that we underwrite. We enter into proportional reinsurance arrangements and surplus risk transfer arrangements for mortality risks at various retention levels for individual protection policies, savings plans, group term insurance and group credit insurance, as well as morbidity risks for indemnity-based health insurance products. Such retention levels are determined in accordance with IRDAI regulations and take into consideration our experience in the business, financial strength, underwriting capacity, volume of business and terms available. IRDAI regulations recommend minimum retention levels for each type of product, which increase over time based on the number of years of experience that an insurer has with a particular type of product. We also enter into catastrophe reinsurance arrangements on an excess-of-loss basis, which mitigates the potential concentration risks that may arise if a localised event affects the workplace of one or more of our group insurance customers.

Our total reinsurance ceded to third-party reinsurers in Fiscal 2015, Fiscal 2016, Fiscal 2017 and three months ended June 30, 2017 was ₹674.5 million, ₹1,342.0 million, ₹1,706.2 million and ₹421.9 million, respectively. See “Financial Information” on page 313 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus for additional information on reinsurance ceded to reinsurers. For the three months ended June 30, 2017, our proportion of reinsurance ceded based on the sum at risk, with our largest reinsurance counterparty, Swiss Re Insurance Company and its subsidiaries was ₹252.2 million, which accounted for 59.8% of our total reinsurance ceded.

Our criteria for selecting third-party reinsurers include type of risk, financial strength, terms of arrangement, capacity of the reinsurer to write the risk, level of support and expertise provided by the reinsurer and past claims payment history. We monitor the financial condition of our third-party reinsurers on a regular basis and have not experienced any third-party reinsurer default from Fiscal 2015 to June 30, 2017.

The following table sets out the ratings for the periods indicated therein for the reinsurers with whom we have reinsurance arrangements, according to Standard & Poor's.

Investments

We had total AUM of ₹947.50 billion as at June 30, 2017, of which 24.7% was held in participating policyholder investments, 13.8% was held in non-participating policyholder investments, 58.0% was held in unit-linked policyholder investments and 3.6% was held in shareholder investments. As at June 30, 2017, 57.4% of our total AUM were invested in fixed income instruments, with the remaining 41.7% invested in equity securities and preference shares and 0.9% in other investments.

Our investment management function is a key aspect of our business and creates significant value for our policyholders and shareholders. Our financial strength and ability to profitably underwrite insurance business depends significantly on the quality and performance of our investment portfolios. We invest the premiums received and other income generated from our insurance business to meet the future liabilities associated with the insurance products that we underwrite, as well as to generate a return for our business. We believe that our success in investment management contributes to the competitiveness of our products, financial strength, profitability and business reputation.

Investment Objectives and Processes

We have established a comprehensive investment framework to ensure that our investments are properly authorised, monitored and managed. Our investment portfolio is managed in accordance with our Investment Policy, Asset Liability Management ("ALM") Policy, in compliance with the relevant IRDAI Investment Regulations and Guidelines and the respective objectives of the various funds that we manage. Our ALM Policy that lays down the asset allocation and risk tolerance guidelines for different funds and aims to ensure that the risk-reward profile of our investments is matched to our liabilities as closely as possible.

Our Board has delegated investment review and approval authority to our Investment Committee. Our investment team, led by our Chief Investment Officer, carries out day-to-day investment activities and consists of experienced persons in the areas of research and analysis, fund management and dealing. Our investment activities are carried out in accordance with relevant IRDAI investment regulations and guidelines and our Investment Committee rules, while our regulatory and risk limits are independently monitored by our investment department's middle-office function and our risk department.

Our investments are made in accordance with relevant IRDAI investment regulations and guidelines, as further described in “Regulations and Policies” on page 235 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. Our Investment Policy outlines the process and the principles for the management of all the invested assets under different fund categories. Invested assets are all the investments made in market instruments using the policyholders' funds, shareholders' funds and reserves. Assets such as office premises, equipment employed in operations and real estate are excluded.

Investment Funds

Our AUM is divided into three categories of policyholders' funds, comprising (a) funds backing our life and health insurance business (b) funds backing our pension, annuity and group insurance business and (c) linked funds, as well as a fourth category of shareholders' funds. Our linked funds are different from our other two categories of policyholders' funds in that (i) the overall asset allocation is chosen by policyholders through their choice of specific unit linked funds (including an equity fund, a debt fund or a combination of both) (ii) the investment risk is directly borne by the policyholder. In all other funds, the choice of asset allocation is decided by us while the investment risk is largely borne by the shareholders.

Our total AUM for each of our policyholders' and shareholders' funds as at the dates indicated are set out in the table below.

	As at March 31,						As at June 30,
	2015		2016		2017		2017

Total	670.5	100.0%	742.5	100.0%	917.4	100.0%	947.5	100.0%

Unit-linked funds

Each of the individual funds under the unit-linked funds category is defined along with its own investment objective and mandate along with the asset allocation limits. The investment allocation and exposure norms defined by IRDAI are applicable at each individual fund level. Additional limits for allocation are defined as part of the mandate for each unit-linked fund.

Participating funds

The objective of our participating funds is to be able to meet all the guaranteed benefits through investment largely in fixed income assets and utilise any surplus for investment into 'higher risk assets' so as to generate higher returns to improve the levels of terminal bonuses. The key processes for achieving these objectives are appropriate asset-liability matching for the guaranteed payments and additional investments in higher risk assets to deliver superior returns to policyholders.

Non-participating funds

The objective of our non-participating funds is to meet all the projected benefits on all the policies through investment in fixed income assets. Since there are no variable and discretionary investment returns for the policyholders, the investment in higher risk assets is minimal. The key processes for achieving the objectives are appropriate asset-liability matching for the guaranteed payments.

Shareholders' funds

The primary objective of our shareholders' fund is to provide working capital for the company and to maintain the required solvency margin of 150%. The assets held under this fund are largely liquid in nature. Investments included as part of our available solvency margin comprise assets backing the sum-at-risk as well as assets backing the reserves for policies sold by us. Our shareholders' funds also include our investments in HDFC Pension and HDFC International.

Our Investment Fund Performance

We follow an investment philosophy of investing with a longer term horizon in mind, which has helped us to outperform benchmarks across the major fund categories over different time horizons. For most unit-linked funds, a performance benchmark index is identified (when a suitable benchmark is available) based on the fund objectives and fund performance is reviewed against such benchmark. As at June 30, 2017, funds representing 90% of our unit-linked funds with identified benchmarks under the equity, hybrid and duration bond fund categories performed better than their respective benchmarks over a five-year period.

The following table sets forth, at June 30, 2017, the performance of unit-linked funds, which have been in existence for at least three years and have a size of over ₹5 billion and for which benchmarks have been identified, for one-, three- and five-year durations, respectively.

REGULATIONS AND POLICIES

The following description is a summary of some of the relevant sector-specific statutes, regulations, guidelines and circulars prevailing in India that are applicable to our businesses. The information detailed in this section has been obtained from publications available in the public domain. The statutes/ regulations/ guidelines/ circulars set out below are not exhaustive, and this section is only intended to provide general information to the investors on the key regulatory aspects applicable to us and is neither designed nor intended to be a substitute for professional legal advice.

1) The Insurance Act, 1938, and the Insurance and Regulatory Development Authority Act, 1999 (as amended by the Insurance Laws (Amendment) Act, 2015), (the “Insurance Act” and the “IRDAI Act” respectively)

The Insurance Act was established for consolidating the law relating to the business of insurance and for regulating the insurance sector in India. It provides the broad legal framework from which IRDAI was derived. The IRDA Act established the IRDAI to regulate, promote and ensure orderly growth of insurance sector in India and protect the interests of policyholders.

The Insurance Act prescribes various parameters for controlling and regulating the insurance industry by mandating registration of insurance companies and insurance intermediaries, setting requirements in relation to capital, capital structure, voting rights and maintenance of registers of beneficial owners of shares, opening of new places of business, accounts and balance sheet, audit of financial statements, actuarial report and abstract, insurance intermediaries and agents, investment of funds, valuation of assets and liabilities, solvency margins, restriction on dividends, limits on expenses of management, reinsurance, provisions regarding investments and loans and restrictions with respect to the same. Under the Insurance Act, an insurer is required to be “Indian owned and controlled”. For further details, see “Guidelines on Indian Owned and Controlled (“IRDAI O&C Guidelines”)” on page 238 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Additionally, the Insurance Act also provides various powers to the IRDAI to issue directions, search and seize, conduct investigations and inspections, and exercise control over the management of insurance companies. Further, the Insurance Act has taken extra measures to regulate the insurance industry by providing a robust legal framework surrounding the amalgamation and transfer of insurance businesses. Penalties which can be imposed on insurance companies and insurance intermediaries are also set out under the Insurance Act.

As regards investment of assets, the Insurance Act mandates insurers to keep assets invested in a prescribed manner in Government securities and other approved investments. Further, these instruments are required to be held by the insurers free of any encumbrance, charge, hypothecation or lien. Certain restrictions on investments of assets and controlled funds have also been prescribed, including investment in shares or debentures of a private limited company. In this regard, the IRDAI has issued the Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority of India (Investment) Regulations, 2016 and a clarificatory circular in May 2017, on the same. For further details, see “Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority of India (Investment) Regulations, 2016 (“IRDAI Investment Regulations”) and the Master Circular on Investments, 2017” on page 236 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Any appointment, re-appointment or termination of appointment or amendment of the terms of remuneration, of a managing or whole-time director, manager or chief executive officer of an insurance company requires the prior approval of the IRDAI.

The IRDAI has issued the “Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority of India (Listed Indian Insurance Companies) Guidelines, 2016”, which are applicable to all insurance companies whose equity shares are listed on the stock exchanges and to the allotment process pursuant to a public issue. As regards such insurance companies, the transfer of equity shares are required to be undertaken in the manner prescribed under the aforementioned guidelines. For further details, see the “Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority of India (Listed Indian Insurance Companies) Guidelines, 2016 (“Listed Insurance Company Guidelines”)” on page 237 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

2) The Insurance Laws (Amendment) Act, 2015 (the “Insurance Amendment Act”)

The Insurance Amendment Act has introduced several changes in the scheme of the Insurance Act, amongst other things, in relation to ownership and control, capital, enhancement of enforcement powers of the IRDAI and the responsibilities of agents and intermediaries. As regards foreign investors, the cap on aggregate holding of equity shares by foreign investors, including portfolio investors, has been raised to 49% of the paid up capital from the erstwhile 26%, and insurance companies are required to be “Indian owned and controlled”. Therefore, both the ownership and control are required to remain in Indian hands. Further, the Insurance Amendment Act has permitted insurers to raise capital through instruments other than equity. In this regard, the IRDAI has issued regulations which permit insurers to raise capital through preference share capital and subordinated debt subject to receipt of prior approval from the IRDAI. It has also granted powers to the IRDAI to regulate several day to day activities of insurance companies. It has also eliminated certain redundant clauses such as those on acceptance of deposits by insurance companies, appointment of chief agent and principal agent etc. The Insurance Amendment Act has also enhanced penalties for insurers for contravention of any of the provisions of the Insurance Act ranging from ₹ 0.1 million for each day during which contravention continues, ₹ 10 million to ₹ 250 million for different kinds of violations. A person who carries on the business of insurance without obtaining a certificate of registration may be punishable with a penalty of up to ₹ 250 million and with imprisonment extending up to 10 years.

By virtue of the Insurance Amendment Act, no policy of life insurance can be called in question on any ground whatsoever after the expiry of three years from the date of the policy (i.e., from the date of issuance of the policy, date of commencement of risk, date of revival of the policy or date of the rider to the policy, whichever is later) except on the ground of fraud or on the ground that any statement or suppression of a fact material to the expectancy of the life of the insured was incorrectly made in the proposal or other document on the basis of which the policy was issued or revived, or rider issued, subject to the conditionalities stipulated under the Insurance Act. Further, the Insurance Amendment Act has simplified the process for payment to nominees of a policyholder and has also vested the policyholder with the power to assign an insurance policy, wholly or in part, provided that such assignment is bonafide, not contrary to public interest and not for the purpose of trading of the insurance policy.

3) Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority (Registration of Indian Insurance Companies) Regulations, 2000, as amended (“IRDAI Registration Regulations”)

The IRDAI Registration Regulations make it mandatory for any applicant desiring to carry on or partake insurance business in India to obtain a certificate of registration from IRDAI, prior to commencing insurance business. The IRDAI Registration Regulations also set out the overall process for seeking such registration, including eligibility criteria, fees for registration, grounds for rejection, action upon rejection, and effect of rejection of an application for registration. These regulations provide guidance with respect to renewal, cancellation and suspension of certificate of registration. These regulations also prescribe the manner in which foreign investment in an Indian insurance company is to be computed, and require compliance with the “Indian owned and controlled” requirements. Further, the IRDAI Registration Regulations prescribe that an insurer is required to pay an annual fee to the IRDAI.

4) Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority of India (Investment) Regulations, 2016 (“IRDAI Investment Regulations”) and the Master Circular on Investments, 2017

The IRDAI (Investment) Regulations have been issued by the IRDAI on August 1, 2016, in supersession of the IRDAI (Investment) Regulations, 2000. These regulations have segregated a life insurer’s total investment assets into three categories: (i) shareholders’ funds representing solvency margin, non-unit reserves of unit-linked insurance business, participating and non-participating funds of policyholders, funds of variable insurance products including one year renewable pure group term assurance business at their carrying value; (ii) policyholders’ funds of pension, annuity business and group business including funds of variable insurance products at their carrying value; and (iii) policyholders’ unit reserves of the unit linked insurance business, including funds of variable insurance products at their market value as per guidelines issued under these regulations, from time to time. The manner and limits up to which amounts can be invested out of these investment assets has been defined under these regulations and additionally, limits at various asset classes and exposure to credit instruments, including limits based on credit ratings, have also been prescribed under these regulations. The maximum exposure limits for a single ‘investee’ company, group of investee companies and for the industry sector to which the investee company belongs have been defined. Insurers are also required to implement investment risk management systems and processes, implementation of which is required to be certified by a chartered accountant’s firm and the same are subject to audit at least once every two financial years.

The IRDAI Investment Regulations also stipulate certain investment management mechanisms, including constitution of an investment committee, formulating an investment policy, risk management, and audit and reporting to management. Further, the net asset value of the insurer, computed in respect of each segregated fund shall be subject to a daily concurrent audit. The insurer is also required to have in place a model code of conduct, approved by the board of directors, to prevent insider/personal trading by officers involved in various levels of investment operations in compliance with Securities and Exchange Board of India (Prohibition of Insider Trading) Regulations, 2015.

5) The Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority of India (Listed Insurance Companies) Guidelines, 2016 (“Listed Insurance Company Guidelines”)

The Listed Insurance Company Guidelines are applicable to all insurers whose equity shares are listed on the stock exchanges and to the allotment process pursuant to the public issue. These guidelines:

- (i) require self-certification of fit and proper criteria by a person intending to acquire equity shares of an insurer amounting to 1% or more, but less than 5%, of the paid up equity share capital of the insurer. The self certification is to be filed with the insurance company and such filing is considered as deemed approval of IRDAI for the purpose of Section 6A(4)(b)(iii) of the Insurance Act;
- (ii) require prior approval of the IRDAI, if the acquisition of equity shares will/ is likely to take the aggregate holding of an acquirer, his relatives, associate enterprises and persons acting in concert with such acquirer, to 5% or more of the paid up equity share capital of the insurer or entitles such acquirer to exercise 5% or more of the total voting rights of the insurer; and
- (iii) provide that any existing major shareholder (i.e. a shareholder having or likely to have an ‘aggregate holding’ (as defined under these guidelines) of 5% or more of the paid up equity share capital of the insurer), who has previously obtained permission of the IRDAI as a major shareholder, may acquire up to 10% of the equity shares or voting rights of the concerned insurer without prior approval of IRDAI, subject to, inter alia, furnishing to the insurer, details of the source of funds for such incremental acquisition. However, if the shareholding of the major shareholder, along with persons acting in concert, results in the aggregate holding exceeding or likely to exceed 10% of the paid up equity share capital or of the total voting rights of the insurer, then such an acquisition would require prior fresh approval of the IRDAI.

In addition to the above, the Listed Insurance Company Guidelines also prescribe continuous monitoring obligations by insurers in case of major shareholders. These guidelines also prescribe the following shareholding limits for an insurance company:

Category of Shareholders	Promoter and Promoter Group (minimum) ⁽¹⁾	All shareholders in the long run (except promoters)
		Natural Person	Legal person
			Non-financial institution /entities	Financial institution
				Non-regulated or non-diversified and non-listed ⁽²⁾	Regulated, diversified and listed/supranational institution/public sector undertaking/government	Others ⁽³⁾
Shareholding Caps	50%	10%	10%	15%	30%	As permitted on a case to case basis.

(1) The promoter includes Indian promoter and also includes a foreign investor who has taken a stake in the concerned insurance company in such capacity. Where the present holding is below 50%, such holding shall be the minimum holding.

(2) In case of financial institutions that are owned to the extent of 40% or more or controlled by individuals, the shareholding would be deemed to be by a natural person and the shareholding will be capped at 10%.

(3) High stake/ strategic investment by non-promoters through capital infusion by domestic or foreign entities/ institution shall be permitted on a case to case basis under circumstances such as relinquishment by existing promoters, rehabilitation/ restructuring of problem/ weak insurers/ entrenchment of existing promoters or in the interest of the insurance company or in the interest of consolidation in the insurance sector, etc. The shareholders permitted to hold 10% or more in an insurance company will be subject to a minimum lock-in period of five years.

6) Indian Insurance Companies (Foreign Investment) Rules, 2015 (“Foreign Investment Rules”) and IRDAI O&C Guidelines, as amended from time to time

The Central Government has notified the Foreign Investment Rules for purposes of governing foreign investment in Indian insurance companies and for determining the quantum of such investments. Under these provisions, the ‘total foreign investment’ in an Indian insurance company should be calculated in accordance with the IRDAI Registration Regulations, read with the Consolidated FDI Policy of the Government of India. Under the Foreign Investment Rules, there is a restriction on the ‘total foreign investment’ in an Indian insurance company to not more than 49% of the paid up equity capital of such company. Further, it provides that the ownership and control of an Indian insurance company shall remain in the hands of resident Indian entities at all times.

The IRDAI has also prescribed the IRDAI O&C Guidelines dated October 19, 2015 in connection with the requirements for Indian insurance companies to be “Indian owned and controlled”. The key provisions under these guidelines with respect to “control” are as follows:

- A majority of the directors (excluding independent directors) on the board of an Indian insurance company are required to be nominated by the Indian promoter / Indian investor;
- Key management person(s) excluding the chief executive officer may be nominated by the foreign investor provided that such appointment is subsequently approved by the board of directors, wherein a majority of the directors (excluding independent directors) are nominees of the Indian promoter / Indian investor;
- The Chairman of the board of the Indian insurance company is required to be nominated by the Indian promoter / Indian investor, in the event such chairman has a casting vote;
- Control over significant policies should be exercised by the board of directors; and

- Quorum shall mean and include presence of majority of Indian directors, irrespective of whether a foreign investor's nominee is present or not.

7) Guidelines for Corporate Governance for insurers in India, 2016 (“IRDAI CG Guidelines”)

On May 18, 2016, the IRDAI has issued the IRDAI CG Guidelines, replacing the corporate governance guidelines issued on August 5, 2009. The IRDAI CG Guidelines are applicable from the financial year 2016-2017 onwards and encompass the corporate governance requirements stipulated under the Companies Act. These guidelines stipulate the governance structure in insurance companies, including board of directors, key management personnel, constitution of various mandatory committees, role of appointed actuaries, appointment of auditors, whistle blower policy and certain disclosure requirements in relation to financial statements, including quantitative and qualitative information on financial and operating ratios, actual solvency margin vis-a-vis required margin, description of risk management architecture, payments made to group entities from the policyholders funds and pecuniary relationships with non-executive directors.

8) Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority of India (Transfer of Equity Shares of Insurance Companies) Regulations, 2015 (“IRDAI Transfer Regulations”)

Section 6A(4)(b) of the Insurance Act stipulates that an unlisted insurance company shall not, without the prior approval of the IRDAI, register any transfer of its shares where: (i) after the transfer, the total paid-up holding of the transferee in the shares of the company is likely to exceed 5% of its paid-up capital; or (ii) where, the nominal value of the shares intended to be transferred by any individual, firm, group, constituents of a group, or body corporate under the same management, jointly or severally exceeds 1% of the paid-up equity capital of the insurer.

With a view to further regulate transfer of shares and ownership of unlisted insurance companies in India, the IRDAI has introduced the IRDAI Transfer Regulations, wherein the term ‘transfer of shares’ includes transfer of shares as well as transmission and fresh issuances of equity shares which lead to a change in the shareholding pattern of an insurance company. The requirement for approval of the IRDAI set out under Section 6A(4)(b) of the Insurance Act is also stipulated under the IRDAI Transfer Regulations. While granting approval, the IRDAI can impose lock-ins on promoters and/ or foreign investors and impose conditions in connection with funding of the insurance company to ensure that the company remains compliant with regulatory solvency requirements.

The IRDAI Transfer Regulations also prescribe ceilings on holdings of Indian investors. In case of one or more investors (excluding foreign investors) in an insurance company, an investor cannot hold more than 10% of the paid up equity share capital of such insurance company. Further, all such investors, excluding foreign investors, are permitted to jointly hold a maximum of 25% of the paid up equity share capital of such insurance company.

9) Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority of India (Issuance of Capital by Indian Insurance Companies Transacting Life Insurance Business) Regulations, 2015 (“IRDAI Issuance of Capital Regulations”)

Under the IRDAI Issuance of Capital Regulations, every insurer transacting life insurance business, proposing to undertake a public issue of its shares (whether as a fresh issue, offer for sale or a combination thereof) is required to obtain the approval of the IRDAI, prior to submitting its draft red herring prospectus with SEBI, and within one year from the date of issue of the IRDAI's approval, is required to file its draft red herring prospectus with SEBI. The IRDAI Issuance of Capital Regulations, inter alia, prescribe the manner and procedure for issuance of capital, timelines for IRDAI approval, the considerations for grant of approval and the conditions that the IRDAI may impose while granting approval.

10) File and Use Guidelines

The file and use guidelines are prescribed from time to time by the IRDAI, in relation to the products that life insurance companies are entitled to introduce in the market. Each product, along with product designs, key features of underlying policies and premium range proposed to be charged, is required to be pre-approved by the IRDAI, before such product can be introduced in the market by our Company. Once a product has been approved by the IRDAI, no changes to the product are permitted unless prior approval of the IRDAI has been obtained. Deviations from the approved product may potentially attract penalties prescribed under the Insurance Act, 1938.

The IRDAI has issued a circular dated March 7, 2017 for “File & Use procedure for minor modifications under existing products and riders offered by Life Insurers”. By virtue of this circular, certain minor modifications to approved products and riders will be allowed without following the complete procedure prescribed under the File and Use Guidelines.

47) Other Regulations and Circulars

One of our subsidiaries, HDFC International, is required to comply with applicable laws and regulations administered by the Dubai International Financial Centre Authority (DIFCA) and applicable laws, rules and policies administered by Dubai Financial Services Authority (DFSA).

On July 12, 2016, the IRDAI issued a circular in relation to operationalisation of the Central KYC Records Registry (the “CKYCR”), in order to facilitate banks and financial institutions with Know Your Customer (“KYC”) related information, so as to avoid multiplicity of undertaking KYC each time any financial product(s) or service(s) are availed of by a customer. The Central Registry of Securitisation and Asset Reconstruction and Security Interest of India (the “CERSAI”) has been authorized to perform the functions of CKYCR, which includes receipt, storage, safeguarding and retrieving of KYC records of a client in digital form. The CERSAI has finalised the KYC template for individuals and the operating guidelines for uploading KYC records by reporting entities to CKYCR. Life insurers are required to upload KYC records only in respect of individual policyholders where policies are completed on or after July 15, 2016. In addition, insurers are required to submit a monthly statement of the number of KYC records to be uploaded and records actually uploaded to the IRDAI.

In addition to the above, our Company and its subsidiaries are required, to the extent relevant, to comply with the provisions of the Companies Act, FEMA, labour laws, various tax related legislations, various other IRDAI related regulations, notifications and guidelines, and other applicable statutes and policies along with the rules formulated thereunder for their day-to-day operation.

A shareholders' agreement dated January 15, 2002 ("SHA") was entered into between HDFC and Standard Life Assurance Company ("SLAC") to set out the terms and conditions of their relationship as shareholders of our Company and certain matters connected therewith. Under the SHA, the business of our Company is to provide inter-alia, life assurance and savings products to the general public in India. HDFC and SLAC subsequently entered into a memorandum of agreed understanding dated August 23, 2007 in order to facilitate attainment of the objectives encapsulated in the SHA. The SHA was amended by way of an amendment agreement dated November 16, 2015 ("Amendment Agreement") between HDFC, Standard Life Mauritius and our Company, wherein it was acknowledged and agreed amongst the parties that Standard Life Mauritius, having acquired shares of our Company from and taken the place of SLAC as a shareholder in our Company, shall be entitled to all the rights available to, and to perform the obligations undertaken by SLAC under the SHA, as if Standard Life Mauritius was, and always had been, a party to the SHA.

The key provisions of the SHA are summarised below:

- (a) Board of directors: In terms of the SHA (as amended by the Amendment Agreement), HDFC can nominate three directors and Standard Life Mauritius can nominate two directors on the Board of our Company. The Board of our Company appoints the key managerial personnel and personnel at senior executive level. Further, subject to the approval of the Shareholders at a general meeting by way of a special resolution, the Articles provide each of HDFC and Standard Life Mauritius post Offer rights in relation to the nomination of Directors on the Board, subject to maintaining their respective shareholding in the Company as prescribed, and the number of Directors nominated by HDFC being at least one more than the number of Directors nominated by Standard Life Mauritius. For details, please see "Main Provisions of our Articles of Association" on page 731 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.
- (b) Transfer of shares: The SHA contains certain transfer restrictions vis-a-vis the Equity Shares of our Company. For example, where a shareholder desires to sell its Equity Shares, a right of first refusal would be available to the other shareholder(s). Further, there are certain bring-along rights (i.e. tag along rights) also set out under the SHA.

- (c) Veto rights: As per the SHA, there are certain matters pertaining to our Company in respect of which no decisions or actions can be taken except with the prior consent of each of HDFC and Standard Life Mauritius, and in case of such matters being brought before the board of directors of our Company, without the prior consent of the nominee directors of HDFC and Standard Life Mauritius. These include making any changes to our memorandum and articles of association, making any changes in the name of our Company, applying for listing of any shares or debt securities on any recognized stock exchange or the trading of any of the shares or debt securities on a regulated market, and permitting the registration of any person as a member of our Company.
- (d) Restrictions in relation to use of words “Standard Life” and “HDFC”: In terms of the SHA, our Company is not permitted to use the words “Standard Life” and/or “HDFC” in any manner, except as a part of its corporate name or trading name. The SHA also lists out certain events on the occurrence of which, HDFC and/or Standard Life Mauritius may direct our Company to discontinue the use of the words “Standard Life” and/or “HDFC” as a part of its corporate name. For further details in relation to the usage of “HDFC”, please refer to “Name Usage Agreement”.

Gains or losses arising from hedge ineffectiveness, if any, are recognised in the Revenue Account. Costs associated with derivative contracts are considered as at a point in time cost.

C) Impairment of investments

A brief of the methodology used for various lines of business is as given below:

1. The policy liabilities are valued on policy by policy basis, i.e. each policy is valued separately.
2. The reserves for linked business (individual and group) comprise unit reserves and non-unit reserves. The unit reserves are determined on the basis of NAV of the units outstanding as at the valuation date and non-unit reserves are calculated using gross premium method.
3. The liabilities for individual non-linked non-participating and participating business are calculated using gross premium method and are subject to the minimum floor of surrender value. Additionally, individual non-linked participating policies also have a reference to the asset share of policies at valuation date.
4. The liabilities for one year renewable group protection business are calculated on the unexpired risk premium basis. For other than one year renewable group protection business, the liabilities are calculated using gross premium valuation method.

5. The liabilities for the group non-linked savings products are determined as the higher of policy account balances (including accrued interest/bonuses) and reserves calculated by gross premium valuation method.
6. The liabilities in respect of rider benefits are determined as the higher of unexpired premium reserves and reserves calculated by gross premium valuation method.
7. Additional reserves are determined to:
 - a. allow for the claims that may have occurred already but not yet reported (Incurred But Not Reported)
 - b. allow for the servicing of existing policies if the Company were to close the new business one year from the valuation date (Closure to New Business).
 - c. meet the expected liabilities that would arise on the revival of lapsed policies, on the basis of the proportion of the policies expected to be revived based on the revival experience of the Company (Revival Reserve)
 - d. allow for the additional amount required to be paid on account of cancellation of policies due to look in, on the basis of the proportion of the policies expected to exercise the look-in option based on the experience of the Company (Look-in Reserve)
 - e. allow for the cost of guarantees, wherever applicable

The recoverable amount is the higher of the asset's net selling price and their value in use, which is the present value of the future cash flows expected to arise from the continuing use of asset and its ultimate disposal. When there is an indication that an impairment loss recognised for an asset in earlier accounting periods is no longer necessary or may have decreased, such reversal of impairment loss is recognised, except in case of revalued assets.

e) Provision for free-look period:

If a policy which is in force as at the valuation date is subsequently cancelled in the free-look period then there could be a strain in the policyholder fund on account of the amount payable on free-look cancellation, to the extent the amount is higher than reserves held for that policy. In order to avoid the future valuation strain as a result of the free look cancellations, reserves on account of the above are held. The free look reserve is calculated as total strain for all policies that are eligible for free look cancellations at the valuation date, multiplied by a factor, representing the expected assumptions for free look cancellations.

f) Bonus rates:

The bonus rates for the participating business as required to be declared in the future is based on the interest expected to be earned as per the valuation assumptions.

5. Employee Stock Option Scheme (ESOS)

The Company has granted options to employees under the ESOS 2005, ESOS 2010, ESOS 2011 and ESOS 2012 schemes. These schemes are administered by the HDFC Standard Life Employees Stock Option Trust. The Trust had subscribed to the capital of the Company and also acquired shares of the Company from Housing Development Finance Corporation Limited, the holding company. The options are granted to the employees from these tranches of shares. The exercise price of ESOS 2005 is based on the holding cost of the shares in the books of the Trust and that of ESOS 2010, ESOS 2011 and ESOS 2012 is based on the fair market value as determined by the Category I Merchant Banker registered with SEBI.

Annexure XXIV: Significant Accounting Policies and Notes to the Restated Standalone Financial Information

The Company has also granted options to its employees under the ESOS 2014 scheme, ESOS 2015 scheme and ESOS 2016 scheme. The said schemes are directly administered by the Company. The exercise price of ESOS 2014, ESOS 2015 and of ESOS 2016 schemes is based on the fair market value as determined by the Category I Merchant Banker registered with SEBI.

The Company follows the intrinsic value method of accounting for stock options granted to employees. The intrinsic value of the options issued under the above referred schemes is 'Nil' as the exercise price of the option is the same as fair value of the underlying share on the grant date and accordingly, no expenses are recognised in the books. Method of computation of fair value of options:

The fair value of options has been calculated using the Black-Scholes model. The key assumptions used in Black-Scholes model for calculating fair value of options as on the date of grant are given below:

ESOS Scheme	Risk Free Interest Rate	Expected Life	Expected Volatility*	Expected Dividend Yield
ESOS 2005	6.15% - 9.37%	1.55 - 5.50 years	42.63% - 65.48%	0.00%
ESOS 2010	7.19% - 7.72%	3.50 - 6.50 years	48.80% - 51.88%	0.00%
ESOS 2011	8.28% - 8.30%	3.50 - 5.50 years	46.75% - 48.12%	0.00%
ESOS 2012	8.19% - 8.74%	1.37 - 3.45 years	30.44% - 36.53%	0.00%
ESOS 2014	7.73% - 8.28%	1.75 - 3.75 years	33.23% - 37.15%	1.06%
ESOS 2015	7.41% - 7.58%	1.75 - 3.75 years	34.21% - 38.38%	1.04%
ESOS 2016	6.57% - 6.80%	1.75 - 3.75 years	10.00%	0.88%

* Volatility of a matured enterprise in the industry which is listed on BSE has been used as a basis for estimation of expected volatility of options. In the case of ESOS 2016, the expected volatility has been assumed at the rate of 10% since the company is unlisted.

14. Derivative contracts:

In accordance with the IRDAI circular no. IRDA/F&I/INV/CIR/138/06/2014 dated June 11, 2014 ('the IRDAI circular on Interest Rate Derivatives') allowing insurers to deal in rupee interest rate derivatives, the Company has in place a derivative policy approved by Board which covers various aspects that apply to the functioning of the derivative transactions undertaken to substantiate the hedge strategy to mitigate the interest rate risk, thereby managing the volatility of returns from future fixed income investments, due to variations in market interest rates.

a) The Company has during the preceding 2 financial years (i.e. year ended March 31, 2017 and year ended March 31, 2016), as part of its Hedging strategy, entered into exchange traded Interest Rate Future (IRF) transactions to hedge the interest rate sensitivity for highly probable forecasted transactions as permitted by the IRDAI circular on Interest Rate Derivatives.

Exchange Traded Interest rate futures are standardised interest rate derivative contracts traded on a recognised stock exchange to buy or sell a notional debt security or Government Bond (GOI) or Treasury Bill (T-Bill) of at a specified future date, at a price determined at the time of the contract with an objective to lock in the price of an interest bearing security at a future date.

The fair value for IRF instrument is considered as the daily settlement price on NSE. If the settlement price is not available on NSE, then the daily settlement price on BSE is considered for valuation of IRFs.

Qualitative Disclosures on risk exposure in Fixed Income Derivatives:

Overview of business and processes:

a) Fixed Income Derivative Hedging instruments:

Annexure XXIV: Significant Accounting Policies and Notes to the Restated Standalone Financial Information

Derivatives are financial instruments whose characteristics are derived from the underlying assets, or from interest and exchange rates or indices. These include forward rate agreements, interest rate swaps and interest rate futures.

The Company uses derivative instrument (IRF) to minimise exposure to fluctuations in interest rates on plan assets and liabilities. This hedge is carried in accordance with its established policies, goals and applicable regulations. The Company does not engage in derivative transactions for speculative purposes.

b) Derivative policy/process and Hedge effectiveness assessment:

The Company has well defined Board approved Derivative Policy and Process document setting out the strategic objectives, regulatory and operational framework and risks associated with interest rate derivatives along with having measurement, monitoring processes and controls thereof. The accounting policy has been clearly laid out for ensuring a process of periodic effectiveness assessment.

The Company has clearly identified roles and responsibilities to ensure independence and accountability through the investment decision, trade execution, to settlement, accounting and periodic reporting and audit of the Interest Rate Derivative exposures. The overall policy, risk management framework for the Interest Rate Derivatives are monitored by the Risk Management Committee.

c) Scope and nature of risk identification, risk measurement, and risk monitoring:

The Risk Management Policy and Derivative Policy as approved by the Board sets appropriate market limits such as sensitivity limits and value-at-risk limits for exposures in interest rate derivatives.

As the IRFs are traded and settled by the recognised stock exchanges i.e. National Stock Exchange or Bombay Stock Exchange, the risk of counterparty failure would not exist, however the following risks pertaining to hedging using IRFs still exist:

i) Roll over risk

Futures contracts traded in the markets usually expire in 1-3 months. Since the period for which the hedge is established is longer, it necessitates frequent roll-overs from contracts approaching expiry into new contracts. Roll over risk is the cost involved in rolling over futures contracts. The financial impact of this risk can be reduced by actively managing the roll-over from existing contracts into new contracts.

ii) Basis Risk

Basis risk is the risk arising out of a mismatch in the tenure of the risk to be hedged and the tenure of available interest rate future contracts. The financial impact of this risk can be reduced to some extent by purchasing futures contracts so as to match the tenure of the risk to be hedged.

All financial risks of the derivative portfolio are measured and monitored on periodic basis.

Quantitative disclosure on risk exposure in Exchange Traded Interest Rate Futures

A hedge is deemed effective, if it has a high statistical correlation between the change in value of the hedged item and the hedging instrument (IRF). Gains or losses arising from hedge ineffectiveness, if any, are recognised in the Revenue Account.

The tenure of the hedging instrument may be less than or equal to the tenure of underlying hedged asset/liability

- As per the hedging strategy, the derivatives exposure required as at June 30, 2017 is Nil
- ^ This represents a part of the portfolio targeted to be hedged
- Method & Assumptions:
 - Term structure of interest rates: Source – Clearing Corporation of India Limited official website
 - Methodology for computation of PV01:
 - Discounted cash flow method
 - Flat cut of 1 bps in the current term structure of interest rates
- The notional principal amount of derivatives reflect the volume of transactions outstanding as at the Balance Sheet date and do not represent the amounts at risk
- The Company evaluates the industry exposure limit for exchange traded IRFs against the Central Counter Party i.e. Clearing Corporation in line with the IRDAI circular on Interest Rate Derivatives.

The industry exposure limit has been calculated on the basis of Credit Equivalent Amount using the Current Exposure Method (CEM) as detailed below:

The Credit Equivalent Amount of a market related off-balance sheet transaction calculated using the CEM is the sum of

- the current credit exposure (gross positive mark to market value of the contract); and
- Potential future credit exposure which is a product of the notional principal amount across the outstanding contract and a factor that is based on the mandated credit conversion factors as prescribed under the IRDAI circular on Interest Rate Derivatives, which is applied on the residual maturity of the contract.

Where no reliable estimate can be made, a disclosure is made as contingent liability.

In 2014, the Pension Fund Regulatory & Development Authority ("PFRDA") issued a Request for Proposal ("RFP") to select new pension fund managers. HDFC Pension's bid to this RFP was rejected by the PFRDA on the ground that it did not meet certain eligibility criteria under the RFP. The Hon'ble Delhi High Court, however, set aside the rejection and allowed HDFC Pension to continue its business. It also directed the PFRDA to issue a letter of appointment to HDFC Pension. While the PFRDA issued a letter of appointment to HDFC Pension, it also challenged the Hon'ble High Court's decision before the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India by way of a Special Leave Petition ("SLP"). The Hon'ble Supreme Court, by its order dated July 31, 2017, has dismissed the PFRDA's SLP and refused to interfere with the Hon'ble High Court's decision. Accordingly, HDFC Pension's appointment as a pension fund manager stands confirmed.

4. Actuarial assumptions

The policyholders' actuarial liabilities are determined based on assumptions as to the future experience of the policies. The principal assumptions are related to interest, expenses, mortality, morbidity, persistency, and additionally in the case of participating policies, bonuses and tax. The assumptions are based on prudent estimates of the future experience, and hence include margins for adverse deviations over and above the best estimate assumptions. A brief of the assumptions used in actuarial valuation is as below:

a) Interest rate assumptions:

The valuation rate of interest is determined based on the expected return on existing assets, current asset mix and expected investment return on the future investment taking into consideration the asset classes mix and expected future asset mix. The interest rates used for the valuation vary according to the type and term of the product and are in the range as follows:

Particulars	For the quarter ended June 30, 2017	For the year ended
		March 31, 2017	March 31, 2016	March 31, 2015	March 31, 2014	March 31, 2013
Interest Rates Range	5.2 % - 7.4%	5.2% - 7.4%	5.2% - 7.0%	5.2% - 7.0%	5.2% - 7.0%	5.2% - 7.0%

b) Mortality assumptions:For the year ended March 31, 2013

The mortality assumptions used for assurance benefits were based on published Indian Assured Lives Mortality (1994-1996) table

For the year ended March 31, 2014, March 31, 2015 and March 31, 2016

The mortality assumptions are set in accordance with Schedule 5(5) of the Asset Liability Solvency Margin guidelines, 2000 in reference to the published Indian Lives Assured Mortality (2006-08) table and based on the latest experience analysis of the business at the time.

For the year ended March 31, 2017 & quarter ended June 17

Mortality assumptions are set in accordance with Clause 5(2) of Schedule II of the IRDAI, Assets Liabilities and Solvency Margin of Life Insurance Business) Regulations, 2016 in reference to the published Indian Assured Lives Mortality table (2006-08) and are based on the latest experience analysis of the business.

In the case of annuity benefits, mortality assumption is based on the LIC Annuitants (1996-1998) table for all reported period/years.

c) Expense assumptions:

The expense assumptions are set on the basis of the expense analysis. These are fixed renewal expenses and investment expenses charged as a % of fund. The renewal and claim expenses are increased at an inflation rate of 7.5% p.a till year ended March 31, 2017 and 6.5% p.a in for the quarter ended Jun 30, 2017.

d) Persistency assumptions:

The persistency assumptions are also based on the most recent experience of the Company and vary according to the premium frequency and type of the product.

e) Provision for free-look period:

If a policy which is in force as at the valuation date is subsequently cancelled in the free-look period then there could be a strain in the policyholder fund on account of the amount payable on free-look cancellation, to the extent the amount is higher than reserves held for that policy. In order to avoid the future valuation strain as a result of the free look cancellations, reserves on account of the above are held. The free look reserve is calculated as total strain for all policies that are eligible for free look cancellations at the valuation date, multiplied by a factor, representing the expected assumptions for free look cancellations.

6. Employee Stock Option Scheme (ESOS)

The Company has granted options to employees under the ESOS 2005, ESOS 2010, ESOS 2011 and ESOS 2012 schemes. These schemes are administered by the HDFC Standard Life Employees Stock Option Trust. The Trust had subscribed to the capital of the Company and also acquired shares of the Company from Housing Development Finance Corporation Limited, the holding company. The options are granted to the employees from these tranches of shares. The exercise price of ESOS 2005 is based on the holding cost of the shares in the books of the Trust and that of ESOS 2010, ESOS 2011 and ESOS 2012 is based on the fair market value as determined by the Category I Merchant Banker registered with SEBI.

The Company has also granted options to its employees under the ESOS 2014 scheme, ESOS 2015 scheme and ESOS 2016 scheme. The said schemes are directly administered by the Company. The exercise price of ESOS 2014, ESOS 2015 and of ESOS 2016 schemes is based on the fair market value as determined by the Category I Merchant Banker registered with SEBI.

The Company follows the intrinsic value method of accounting for stock options granted to employees. The intrinsic value of the options issued under the above referred schemes is 'Nil' as the exercise price of the option is the same as fair value of the underlying share on the grant date and accordingly, no expenses are recognised in the books. Had the Company followed the fair value method for valuing its options, the charge to the Consolidated Revenue Account / Consolidated Profit and Loss Account, impact on Profit(loss) after tax considering additional charge and basic/diluted earnings per share would be as follows:

The exercise price of ESOS 2005 is determined based on the holding cost of the shares in the books of the Trust. This exercise price is then applicable to all options vested and available for exercise by employees for a particular period. Since the exercise price is not a static number, it is not possible to provide weighted average exercise price of stock options for options that might be exercised in the future. Weighted average exercise price is available only for options already exercised.

The exercise price of stock options outstanding at the end of the year/quarter depends upon the quarterly exercise price. A summary of status of ESOS 2005 in terms of exercise price is as given below:

Method of computation of fair value of options:

The fair value of options has been calculated using the Black-Scholes model. The key assumptions used in Black-Scholes model for calculating fair value of options as on the date of grant are as follows:

ESOS Scheme	Risk Free Interest Rate	Expected Life	Expected Volatility*	Expected Dividend Yield
ESOS 2005	6.15% - 9.37%	1.55 - 5.50 years	42.63% - 65.48%	0.00%
ESOS 2010	7.19% - 7.72%	3.50 - 6.50 years	48.80% - 51.88%	0.00%
ESOS 2011	8.28% - 8.30%	3.50 - 5.50 years	46.75% - 48.12%	0.00%
ESOS 2012	8.19% - 8.74%	1.37 - 3.45 years	30.44% - 36.53%	0.00%
ESOS 2014	7.73% - 8.28%	1.75 - 3.75 years	33.23% - 37.15%	1.06%
ESOS 2015	7.41% - 7.58%	1.75 - 3.75 years	34.21% - 38.38%	1.04%
ESOS 2016	6.57% - 6.80%	1.75 - 3.75 years	10.00%	0.88%

* Volatility of a matured enterprise in the industry which is listed on BSE has been used as a basis for estimation of expected volatility of options. In the case of ESOS 2016, the expected volatility has been assumed at the rate of 10% since the company is unlisted

15. Derivative contracts:

In accordance with the IRDAI circular no. IRDA/F&I/INV/CIR/138/06/2014 dated June 11, 2014 ('the IRDAI circular on Interest Rate Derivatives') allowing insurers to deal in rupee interest rate derivatives, the Company has in place a derivative policy approved by Board which covers various aspects that apply to the functioning of the derivative transactions undertaken to substantiate the hedge strategy to mitigate the interest rate risk, thereby managing the volatility of returns from future fixed income investments, due to variations in market interest rates.

- a) The Company has during the preceding 2 financial years (i.e. year ended March 31, 2017 and year ended March 31, 2016), as part of its Hedging strategy, entered into exchange traded Interest Rate Future (IRF) transactions to hedge the interest rate sensitivity for highly probable forecasted transactions as permitted by the IRDAI circular on Interest Rate Derivatives.

Exchange Traded Interest rate futures are standardised interest rate derivative contracts traded on a recognised stock exchange to buy or sell a notional debt security or Government Bond (GOI) or Treasury Bill (T-Bill) of at a specified future date, at a price determined at the time of the contract with an objective to lock in the price of an interest bearing security at a future date.

The fair value for IRF instrument is considered as the daily settlement price on NSE. If the settlement price is not available on NSE, then the daily settlement price on BSE is considered for valuation of IRFs.

a) Fixed Income Derivative Hedging instruments:

Derivatives are financial instruments whose characteristics are derived from the underlying assets, or from interest and exchange rates or indices. These include forward rate agreements, interest rate swaps and interest rate futures.

The Company uses derivative instrument (IRF) to minimise exposure to fluctuations in interest rates on plan assets and liabilities. This hedge is carried in accordance with its established policies, goals and applicable regulations. The Company does not engage in derivative transactions for speculative purposes.

b) Derivative policy/process and Hedge effectiveness assessment:

The Company has well defined Board approved Derivative Policy and Process document setting out the strategic objectives, regulatory and operational framework and risks associated with interest rate derivatives along with having measurement, monitoring processes and controls thereof. The accounting policy has been clearly laid out for ensuring a process of periodic effectiveness assessment.

The Company has clearly identified roles and responsibilities to ensure independence and accountability through the investment decision, trade execution, to settlement, accounting and periodic reporting and audit of the Interest Rate Derivative exposures. The overall policy, risk management framework for the Interest Rate Derivatives are monitored by the Risk Management Committee.

c) Scope and nature of risk identification, risk measurement, and risk monitoring:

The Risk Management Policy and Derivative Policy as approved by the Board sets appropriate market limits such as sensitivity limits and value-at-risk limits for exposures in interest rate derivatives.

As the IRFs are traded and settled by the recognised stock exchanges i.e. National Stock Exchange or Bombay Stock Exchange, the risk of counterparty failure would not exist, however the following risks pertaining to hedging using IRFs still exist:

i) Roll over risk

Futures contracts traded in the markets usually expire in 1-3 months. Since the period for which the hedge is established is longer, it necessitates frequent roll-overs from contracts approaching expiry into new contracts. Roll over risk is the cost involved in rolling over futures contracts. The financial impact of this risk can be reduced by actively managing the roll-over from existing contracts into new contracts.

ii) Basis Risk

Basis risk is the risk arising out of a mismatch in the tenure of the risk to be hedged and the tenure of available interest rate future contracts. The financial impact of this risk can be reduced to some extent by purchasing futures contracts so as to match the tenure of the risk to be hedged.

All financial risks of the derivative portfolio are measured and monitored on periodic basis.

Quantitative disclosure on risk exposure in Exchange Traded Interest Rate Futures

A hedge is deemed effective, if it has a high statistical correlation between the change in value of the hedged item and the hedging instrument (IRF). Gains or losses arising from hedge ineffectiveness, if any, are recognised in the Consolidated Revenue Account.

The tenure of the hedging instrument may be less than or equal to the tenure of underlying hedged asset/liability

Notes-

- As per the hedging strategy, the derivatives exposure required as at June 30, 2017 is Nil
- ^ This represents a part of the portfolio targeted to be hedged
- Method & Assumptions:
 - Term structure of interest rates: Source – Clearing Corporation of India Limited official website
 - Methodology for computation of PV01:
 - Discounted cash flow method
 - Flat cut of 1 bps in the current term structure of interest rates
- The notional principal amount of derivatives reflect the volume of transactions outstanding as at the Balance Sheet date and do not represent the amounts at risk
- The Company evaluates the industry exposure limit for exchange traded IRFs against the Central Counter Party i.e. Clearing Corporation in line with the IRDAI circular on Interest Rate Derivatives.

The industry exposure limit has been calculated on the basis of Credit Equivalent Amount using the Current Exposure Method (CEM) as detailed below:

The Credit Equivalent Amount of a market related off-balance sheet transaction calculated using the CEM is the sum of

- the current credit exposure (gross positive mark to market value of the contract); and
- Potential future credit exposure which is a product of the notional principal amount across the outstanding contract and a factor that is based on the mandated credit conversion factors as prescribed under the IRDAI circular on Interest Rate Derivatives, which is applied on the residual maturity of the contract.

Overview

We were the most profitable life insurer, based on Value of New Business (VNB) margin, among the top five private life insurers in India (measured on total new business premium) in Fiscal 2016 and Fiscal 2017, according to CRISIL. Besides consistently being among the top three private life insurers in terms of profitability based on VNB margin, we have also consistently been among the top three private life insurers in terms of market share based on total new business premium between Fiscal 2015 and Fiscal 2017, according to CRISIL. Our total new business premium for Fiscal 2015, Fiscal 2016, Fiscal 2017 and the three months ended June 30, 2017, was ₹54,921.0 million, ₹64,872.2 million, ₹86,963.6 million and ₹16,652.0 million. Between Fiscal 2015 and Fiscal 2017, our annualised premium equivalent grew by a CAGR of 14.5%. Our 13th month individual persistency ratio was 73.3%, 78.9%, 80.9% and 81.5% for the period ended March 31, 2015, March 31, 2016, March 31, 2017 and June 30, 2017, respectively.

We have a healthy balance sheet with total net worth of ₹41.5 billion and a solvency ratio of 197.5% as at June 30, 2017, above the minimum 150.0% solvency ratio required under IRDAI regulations. We generated Profit After Tax of ₹8,869.2 million and delivered a Return on Equity of 25.6%, Return on Invested Capital of 40.7% and Operating Return on Embedded Value of 21.7% during Fiscal 2017. As at June 30, 2017, we had total AUM of ₹947.5 billion and Indian Embedded Value of ₹132.2 billion. We have a track record of consistently delivering shareholder returns across business cycles. We are sufficiently capitalised and have not raised any capital during the last six years (except through issuance of ESOPs under our ESOS scheme(s)), while paying dividends (including dividend distribution tax) totaling ₹7.6 billion between our first dividend in Fiscal 2014 to Fiscal 2017.

Our focus on creating a multi-channel distribution platform has resulted in our market share among private life insurers in India in terms of total new business premium increasing from 15.8% in Fiscal 2015 to 17.2% in Fiscal 2017, according to CRISIL. We believe that we offer an attractive value proposition for our distribution partners, as demonstrated by our longstanding, successful relationships with our bancassurance partners through corporate agency or master policyholder arrangements. Our oldest bancassurance partner relationship was established in 2002. Our bancassurance partners include banks, non-banking financial companies, micro-finance institutions and small finance banks in India. Our number of major bancassurance partners grew from 31 as at March 31, 2015 to 120 as at June 30, 2017. Our top 15 bancassurance partners (in terms of total new business premium sourced for the period ended June 30, 2017) had over 11,200 branches across India as at June 30, 2017.

We have a broad, diversified product portfolio covering five principal segments across the individual and group categories, namely participating, non-participating protection term, non-participating protection health, other non-participating and unit-linked insurance products. As at June 30, 2017, our product portfolio comprised 31 individual and ten group products, as well as eight optional rider benefits. Our wide product suite caters to specific needs of customers during each stage of their lives. It also provides us with the flexibility to operate successfully across business cycles, work with diverse sets of distribution partners and serve a range of consumers from mass market to high net worth individuals. It also provides us with the flexibility to adapt to changes in the regulatory landscape and mitigate concentration risk in respect of particular categories or types of products. We have a proven track record in identifying and tapping niche customer segments (such as with our HDFC Life Cancer Care product) through our innovative product solutions that have continued to draw strong customer demand.

Going forward, we aim to continue to consolidate our position as a long-term player in the industry with our focus on better customer service, strong product propositions and steady profitability.

Factors Affecting Our Results of Operations and Financial Condition

The results of our operations and our financial condition are significantly affected by a number of factors, many of which may be beyond our control, including the macroeconomic and regulatory environment, competition, variance between actual experience and actuarial assumptions, our product mix, multi-channel distribution, fluctuations in market interest rates and equity markets and our ability to grow our business while controlling costs and improving productivity.

Macroeconomic environment

Our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects are significantly affected by macroeconomic conditions in India, where we conduct most of our business and generate substantially all of our income. While our business tends to benefit from increased consumer confidence in the overall economy, and the life insurance sector in particular, adverse macroeconomic conditions in India may reduce the demand for our products, increase the number of policy surrenders and withdrawals, reduce the returns from our investment activities and otherwise adversely affect our results of operations. Key factors affecting the performance of the growing but underpenetrated life insurance industry in India include overall economic growth rates, household savings rate, consumer attitudes towards financial savings and demographic profile. These factors affect the proportion of household savings invested in insurance products relative to other competing products ranging from physical assets, such as real estate and gold, to financial savings instruments, such as bank deposits, provident and mutual funds. Macroeconomic conditions also affect the mix of our investments across various asset classes.

See “Risk Factors—Internal Risks—Risks Related to Our Business—Adverse market fluctuations and economic conditions would have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects” on page 31 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Regulatory environment

Our business operations, which are conducted almost entirely in India, are highly regulated. The regulatory and policy environment in which we operate is evolving and subject to changes which may be beyond our control. Such changes may adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects, to the extent that we are unable to suitably respond to and comply with such changes in applicable regulations and policies. Our efforts to comply with changes in regulations may also lead to increased operating and administrative expenses.

Insurance regulations cover a variety of aspects which impact our business, including product design, new product approvals, capital requirements, investment guidelines, distribution of surplus, expense management and arrangements with distributors. Certain insurance laws, rules and regulations restrict our investment activities, which may limit our ability to diversify investment risks and improve returns on our investment portfolio, thereby affecting our results of operations.

In 2010, IRDAI overhauled the regulations affecting unit-linked insurance products, which caused a decline in the sales of unit-linked insurance products and caused a sector-wide decrease in new business premiums. In 2016, IRDAI prohibited life insurance companies from offering indemnity-based health insurance products and required all life insurance companies to withdraw existing indemnity based products, which resulted in the withdrawal of our HDFC Life Health Assure product, which had an impact on our new business premiums for that year. With effect from April 1, 2016, IRDAI allowed banks and corporate agents to act as non-exclusive corporate agents for up to three life insurers. While this ‘open architecture’ environment has created additional opportunities for us to expand our distribution network, it has also increased competition for distributors within the industry and could have a significant impact on our existing distribution arrangements. Future changes to insurance regulations could positively or adversely affect our results of operations.

As at June 30, 2017, we had a solvency ratio of 197.5%, above the minimum 150% solvency ratio required under IRDAI regulations. While we have established a comprehensive investment framework for our shareholders’ funds to maintain the statutory solvency ratio, IRDAI may restrict our distribution of dividends or impose a range of other regulatory sanctions if we are unable to comply with these requirements.

Any adverse development in fiscal laws, which includes an increase in the concessional corporate tax rates of 14.42% (including surcharge and cess) applicable to insurance companies, discontinuance of tax exemptions in relation to pension income, dividend income, tax free bonds, change in applicability of minimum alternate tax rates and any discontinuance of tax benefits to customers on purchase of insurance products, may materially and adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.

Our results of operations may also be affected by macroeconomic regulatory changes, such as the recent introduction of a comprehensive unified GST regime by the Government of India from July 1, 2017, under which insurance products will now attract GST instead of service tax.

See “Regulations and Policies”, “Risk Factors—Internal Risks—Risks Related to Our Business—Changes in regulation and compliance requirements could limit our ability to introduce new products increase our operating expenses, and reduce our operating flexibility” and “Risk Factors—Internal Risks—Risks Related to Our Business—Changes in taxation relating to our business and policies may materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations” beginning on pages 235, 24 and 54 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, respectively.

Competition

Our primary competitors include private and public life insurance companies in India. Indian life insurance companies operate in a highly competitive space with 23 private sector companies and the public sector insurer, the Life Insurance Corporation of India (LIC). Our other competitors include non-life insurance companies (to the extent such companies offer health insurance and protection products), standalone health insurance companies, pension funds, mutual funds companies, and other financial services providers offering a variety of financial investment products. We also face competition from physical asset classes, such as real estate and gold, as alternate avenues for investments. The recent transition to an open architecture environment, which allows banks and corporate agents to have the option of acting as a non-exclusive agent for any life insurance company, has had, and is expected to continue to have, a significant impact on the way we sell our insurance products through our bancassurance channel.

The change in regulations in the Insurance Laws (Amendment) Act, 2015 permitting foreign shareholding of up to 49.0% in insurance companies may lead to new entrants, better capitalisation of existing competitors and generally increase the level of competition. While increased competition may lead to overall growth in customer participation for the under penetrated insurance industry in India, prompt additional reforms for the sector and improve industry practices, it may also adversely impact our market share, margins, growth in new business premiums and customer acquisition. See “Risk Factors—Internal Risks—Risks relating to the Indian insurance industry—We face significant competition and our business and prospects will be materially harmed if we are not able to compete effectively” beginning on page 53 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Product mix and multi-channel distribution

We design and distribute a broad range of participating, non-participating, protection (term and health) and unit-linked insurance products for individual and group customers across our multi-channel distribution network.

Our revenue, profitability and future growth will be affected by our ability to successfully design and distribute suitable products through our multiple distribution channels and to identify products that are most suited for distribution through a specific channel. To achieve profitable growth, we are required to design and introduce insurance products that meet the needs of diverse customers, leverage the use of data analytics to better understand customer needs and provide our customers with a superior customer service experience. In addition, we need to distribute products and services on a long-term basis by effectively managing distribution channels (including our bancassurance and digital sales channels) in a highly competitive market, enhancing sales force training, improving sales skills and attracting, developing and retaining strong performers to ensure quality service across all our distribution channels. Our ability to implement these measures could impact our business, prospects, cash flows and results of operations.

We periodically evaluate our existing products to ensure that they meet our profitability, solvency and underwriting requirements and aim to achieve our targeted profitability through designing and distributing an optimum and balanced product mix. Pursuant to our strategy, our participating products increased from 21.6% of our individual APE for Fiscal 2015 to 34.7% for Fiscal, 2017, while unit-linked insurance products decreased from 62.1% of our individual APE for Fiscal 2015 to 52.6% for the Fiscal, 2017. Protection insurance for both individual and group comprised 12.0% of our new business premium in Fiscal 2015, and increased to 21.8% in Fiscal 2017.

Our business is particularly dependant on the success of our bancassurance relationship with HDFC Bank, which contributed 69.0%, 70.2%, 65.1% and 59.4% of our individual annualised premium equivalent for Fiscal 2015, Fiscal 2016, Fiscal 2017 and the three months ended June 30, 2017, respectively.

Our growth also depends on our ability to enter into new distribution partnerships, increase business with our current distribution partners and develop innovative methods of distributing our products. For example, our ability to maintain and grow our partnerships with traditional and non-traditional partners will impact our ability to reach the underpenetrated mass-market segment in tier-two and tier-three cities and rural areas.

See “Our Business—Product Strategy and Development”, “Risk Factors—Internal Risks—Risks Related to Our Business—We may be unable to implement our growth strategies and develop and distribute an appropriate product mix for specific customer segments through our multiple distribution channels” and “Risk Factors—Internal Risks—Risks Related to Our Business—Any termination of, or any adverse change to, our relationships with or performance of our bancassurance partners, including HDFC Bank, could have a material adverse impact on our business, profitability, results of operations and financial condition” on pages 204, 23 and 24 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, respectively.

Variance between actual experience and actuarial assumptions

Our results from operations and financial condition are affected by our claims, persistency and surrender experience, which may vary from the assumptions made when we priced our products and calculated our insurance contract liabilities.

Our claims experience varies over time, differs across product types and distribution channels, and may be impacted by specific events and changes in macroeconomic conditions, population demographics, mortality, morbidity and other factors. Our life and health insurance business is exposed to the risk of catastrophic mortality and illness, such as an epidemic or other events that may cause a large number of mortality and/or morbidity claims. In order to partly mitigate this risk, we enter into catastrophic reinsurance arrangements where catastrophic claims in excess of certain limits are covered by our reinsurers.

Our actual persistency and surrender experience may differ from our assumptions and expectations. Given the relatively nascent state of our operations, our assumptions may not be based on sufficient experience. Our persistency levels, which are measured by the proportion of customers who continue to maintain their policies with us over certain defined periods, is important to our results of operations. A higher persistency ratio has a favourable impact on our total revenues and profitability, and vice-versa. Persistency and surrender experience varies over time and because of various factors including type of product, change in consumer behaviour, regulatory developments, our investment performance and the claim experience.

See “Risk Factors—Internal Risks—Risks Related to Our Business—If actual claims experience and other parameters are different from the assumptions used in pricing our products and setting reserves for our products, could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition” beginning on page 30 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Fluctuations in market interest rates

The profitability of certain of our products and our investment returns can be sensitive to interest rate fluctuations. Interest rates are highly sensitive to many factors, including monetary and tax policies, domestic and international economic and political considerations, inflationary factors, fiscal deficits, trade surpluses or deficits, regulatory requirements and other factors beyond our control.

Our interest rate sensitivity varies across the different product lines, based on the nature of the returns due to our policyholders. In general, the investment risk in respect of investments made for unit-linked contracts is borne by policyholders of such products, whereas the investment risk associated with investments backing participating products is shared between our policyholders and shareholders, and the investment risk associated with non-participating products and shareholders’ funds is completely borne by shareholders. In addition, movements in interest rates may affect the level and timing of recognition of gains and losses on debt securities and other investments held in our investment portfolio. A significant portion of our investment portfolio is held in debt securities, particularly fixed income government securities. Our debt portfolio represented 52.1%, 61.0%, 58.8% and 58.2% of our AUM as at March 31, 2015, March 31, 2016, March 31, 2017 and June 30, 2017, respectively.

Some of our insurance and investment contracts have guaranteed features. These contracts carry the risk that interest income from the financial assets backing such liabilities may be insufficient to fund the guaranteed benefits payable as interest rates fall. During periods of declining interest rates, we may not be able to fully meet the guaranteed liabilities of our non-participating contracts. Declining interest rates generally have the effect of increasing the proportion of policyholders who elect to continue with products that have guaranteed benefits. While this may improve our persistency, it also increases the overall cost of providing such guarantees and therefore affects our financial results and profitability. While we have hedging arrangements in place to mitigate this risk, it is possible that the impact may not be fully offset in a rapidly declining interest rate scenario, particularly where we experience a significant increase in the new business premium through products with guaranteed benefits. For participating contracts, a decline in interest rates may result in lower bonus rates for policyholders, which may lead to policyholder dissatisfaction and therefore increased surrenders and decreased new business sales.

In addition, our insurance contracts' liabilities tend to have a longer duration than our investment assets, which may result in the re-investment returns of our maturing investments being lower than the average guaranteed pricing rate for our insurance policies in a declining interest rate environment

Rising interest rates could result in the reduction in the fair value of our investments and generate unrealised losses, which could adversely affect our shareholders' equity and results of operations. Rising interest rates could also lead to higher levels of surrenders and withdrawals of existing policies as policyholders seek to buy products with perceived higher returns, which may require us to sell our invested assets and make cash payments to policyholders at a time when the prices of those assets are declining, which may result in realised losses.

See “Risk Factors—Internal Risks—Risks Related to Our Business—Interest rate fluctuations may materially and adversely affect our profitability” and the Embedded Value Report on pages 32 and 564 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, respectively.

Fluctuations in equity markets

Fluctuations in equity markets may affect our investment returns and sales of our unit-linked and participating products.

Sales of unit-linked insurance products typically decrease in periods of protracted or steep declines in equity markets and increase in periods of rising equity markets. Policy loans, surrenders and withdrawals may increase at times of declining equity markets as customers shift to other products, although some customers may continue to hold on to the investments for future gains. In addition, lower investment returns for our unit-linked insurance products would also reduce the asset management and other fees we earn. Policy surrenders and withdrawals may also increase with rising equity markets because customers may exit their policies to realise their gains and invest directly in the equity markets.

A decline in the equity markets reduces our investment income and also reduces the fair value of investments held towards non-linked policyholder funds and shareholders' funds, which could adversely affect results of our operations. Lower equity returns could also lead to higher levels of surrenders of existing non-linked policies as policyholders seek to buy products with perceived higher returns. These surrenders and withdrawals may result in cash payments to policyholders requiring the sale of our equity investments at a time when the prices of those assets are adversely affected by market movements, potentially resulting in realised investment losses. These would impact our financial condition and results of our operations.

For additional details regarding sensitivity to equity markets, see “Embedded Value Report” and “Supplementary Embedded Value Report” on pages 564 and 603 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, respectively.

Ability to grow our business while controlling costs and improving productivity

Our profitability is affected by our growth in new business (including through building new distribution partnerships and strengthening existing distribution partnerships) and our ability to control costs (including our ability to consolidate resources and utilise existing resources efficiently). We strive to effectively control costs by improving our operational efficiencies through exploring cost effective modes of distribution, investing in our information technology platform (including our online and digital sales channels) and undertaking various initiatives with our distribution partners and our employees to increase productivity levels. We recently began utilising robotics and artificial intelligence solutions as an alternative to processes which previously required significant manpower and manual data processing. The upfront expenses that we incur in connection with technology initiatives and other measures intended to improve operational efficiencies may not necessarily result in an increase in new business premiums and renewals. Further, higher than expected expenses could also adversely affect our operating cost ratio and our margins, which could impact our financial condition and results of our operations. Our expenses may also be impacted by specific events and changes in macroeconomic conditions, including inflation, changes in regulations, competition, distribution costs, employee costs and other factors.

See “Risk Factors—Internal Risks—Risks Related to Our Business—Higher expenses than expected could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations” on page 37 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Key Performance Indicators

In evaluating our business, we consider and use certain non-GAAP financial measures and key performance indicators that are presented below, as supplemental measures to review and assess our operating performance. The presentation of these non-GAAP financial measures and key performance indicators is not intended to be considered in isolation or as a substitute for the Restated Financial Information included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. We present these non-GAAP financial measures and key performance indicators because they are used by our management to evaluate our operating performance and formulate business plans.

These non-GAAP financial measures are not defined under Indian GAAP and are not presented in accordance with Indian GAAP. The non-GAAP financial measures and key performance indicators have limitations as analytical tools. Further, these non-GAAP financial measures and key performance indicators may differ from the similar information used by other companies, including peer companies, and hence their comparability may be limited. Therefore, these metrics should not be considered in isolation or construed as an alternative to profit before tax, surplus before tax, net earned premiums, gross earned premiums or any other measure of performance or as an indicator of our operating performance, liquidity, profitability or results of operation.

The following table sets forth certain key performance indicators for the periods indicated therein.

(1) Data as at and for the Fiscal Year ended March 31, 2015 is as reported by the Company for that period.

- (2) Data as at and for the Fiscal Year ended March 31, 2016 is from the report of the Independent Actuary for that period which is not included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.
- (3) Data as at and for the Fiscal Year ended March 31, 2017 is from the Embedded Value Report included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.
- (4) Data as at and for the three months ended June 30, 2017 is based on the Supplementary Embedded Value Report included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

APE

APE is the sum of annualised premiums on regular premium policies, and ten percent of single premiums of individual and group business written by us, adjusted for new business cancellations, effected during the relevant period. For the purposes of calculating APE, we consider all premiums received in our group business and any top-up premiums as single premiums.

Our APE increased by 16.1% from ₹31,945.9 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹37,094.6 million in Fiscal 2016. Our APE further increased by 12.9% from ₹37,094.6 million in Fiscal 2016 to ₹41,881.7 million in Fiscal 2017. Our increased APE during the last three Fiscal Years was primarily driven by an increase in new business premium received across our distribution channels.

Our APE was ₹8,160.3 million for the three months ended June 30, 2017.

New business sum assured

New business sum assured represents the total sum insured by the Company for mortality and morbidity risks on the new business written in a given period. This is a useful indicator of the level of insurance protection provided by the Company on the new business written.

Our new business sum assured increased from ₹1,815,761.0 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹2,714,859.5 million in Fiscal 2016, and ₹3,887,574.7 million in Fiscal 2017, primarily due to our focus on protection business.

Our new business sum assured was ₹1,149,972.6 million for the three months ended June 30, 2017.

Total operating cost ratio

Total operating cost ratio is the ratio of total operating expenses (including shareholders' expenses, but excluding commissions) to the total premium reported for a period.

Our total operating cost ratio increased from 10.2% in Fiscal 2015 to 12.7% in Fiscal 2017, primarily due to: (a) our investments in various initiatives (such as brand visibility, technology and digital initiatives) to develop new distribution partnerships, strengthen our existing distribution relationships and increase our productivity levels; (b) an increase in business promotion expenses which contributed to growth in our business; and (c) an increase in the number of our frontline sales staff.

Our total operating cost ratio was 15.4% for the three months ended June 30, 2017. Our total operating cost ratio for the three months ended June 30, 2017 is not directly comparable to the corresponding values for full fiscal years due to our lower business volumes during the first quarter of each Fiscal Year as a result of the seasonal nature of premium received, while costs are partially of a fixed nature and partially variable. See “– Seasonality” on page 563 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Persistency

Persistency is the ratio of premium of policies remaining in force to the premium of all policies issued in a certain period. Persistency ratio is calculated with respect to policies issued in a 12 month period prior to the period of measurement.

Maintaining a high level of persistency is important to our results of operations, as a large block of in-force policies provides us with regular revenues in the form of renewal premiums. We believe that 13th month persistency is an important metric to assess the quality of our sales because it is the first opportunity for us to assess the likelihood of premiums being paid beyond the first year thereby reaffirming the policyholder's decision to buy the insurance policy and thus reflecting the quality of business written. Additionally, we believe that 61st month persistency is a helpful measure of long-term value creation, particularly for our unit-linked policies which have a high probability of surrender at 61 months due to the absence of any surrender penalties after five years. A high level of 61st month persistency reflects the success of products with a long-term horizon. A focus on this metric helps in averting high surrenders and retaining customers by reaffirming the insurance decision made at the time of sale of policy.

Our 13th month persistency for individual business increased from 73.3% in Fiscal 2015 to 78.9% in Fiscal 2016, 80.9% in Fiscal 2017 and 81.5% for the three months ended June 30, 2017.

Our 61st month persistency for individual business increased from 39.8% in Fiscal 2015 to 50.0% in Fiscal 2016 and 56.8% in Fiscal 2017, and declined slightly to 56.7% for the three months ended June 30, 2017.

Our continued efforts to improve the quality of our new business, focus on need-based selling, initiatives on increasing customer awareness on the benefits of continuing with the insurance policy and inclusion of persistency as one of the important metrics for our sales channels have resulted in increasing persistency trends.

VNB and VNB margin

VNB is the present value of expected future earnings from new policies written during any given period. We believe that VNB is an important metric of profitability as it reflects the additional value generated through the activity of writing new policies during any given period. VNB margin is the ratio of VNB to APE for the relevant period and is a measure of the expected profitability of new business in percentage terms.

The VNB for any period reflects actual acquisition costs incurred during that period.

Our VNB increased by 24.8% from ₹7,393 million in Fiscal 2016 to ₹9,225 million in Fiscal 2017.

Our VNB margin increased from 18.5% in Fiscal 2015 to 19.9% in Fiscal 2016 and 22.0% in Fiscal 2017, primarily due to an increase in the proportion of non-linked protection and non-linked savings business which are more profitable than other products.

Our VNB margin was 20.9% for the three months ended June 30, 2017, which is lower than the full year margin for Fiscal 2017 due to the seasonality of our business.

EV, EVOP and Operating Return on Embedded Value

EV is a measure of the present value of shareholders' interests in the earnings distributable from the assets of the business after an allowance for the aggregate risks in the existing business of the company for the relevant date. Our EV is calculated using various assumptions on the future performance on parameters impacting earnings, including, among others, persistency, mortality, morbidity and external factors such as interest rates and equity market performance. The two main components of EV are adjusted net worth and VIF. We separately monitor changes in our adjusted net worth and VIF. We believe that VIF is an important metric as it helps us to assess expected future profits from our existing business.

EVOP is a measure of the increase in the EV during any given period due to factors that can be influenced by parameters that are under the control of our management. It excludes changes in the EV due to external factors such as changes in economic variables and shareholder-related actions like capital injection or dividend pay-outs. Operating Return on Embedded Value is the ratio of EVOP for any given period to the EV at the beginning of that period.

Based on our internal estimates, we had reported an EV of ₹123,890 million at March 31, 2017. The difference between such figure and the EV of ₹124,705 million as calculated by the Independent Actuary as set forth in the Embedded Value Report in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus is primarily due to changes in the methodology for calculating the time value of financial options and guarantees and cost of non-hedgeable risk.

The increase in EV from ₹102,325 million at March 31, 2016 to ₹124,705 million at March 31, 2017 was due to EVOP of ₹22,193 million and non-operating profit of ₹187 million at March 31, 2017.

The EVOP of ₹22,193 million for Fiscal 2017, representing an EVOP % of 21.7%, was mainly due to:

- the expected investment income on our net worth and the impact of discounting the future cash flows for a shorter period, amounting to ₹9,592 million;
- a VNB of ₹9,225 million; and
- a positive operating variance of ₹2,880 million, reflecting a better experience vis-à-vis assumptions on most key parameters including persistency, mortality and morbidity.

The EV increased from ₹124,705 million at March 31, 2017 to ₹132,165 million at June 30, 2017 mainly due to

- the expected investment income on our net worth and the impact of discounting the future cash flows for a shorter period, amounting to ₹2,676 million;
- a VNB of ₹1,708 million;
- a positive operating variance of ₹1,112 million, reflecting a better experience vis-à-vis assumptions on most key parameters including persistency, mortality and morbidity; and
- investment variance of ₹1,067 million.

Insurance Profit

VNB and EV measure the present value of shareholder profits that are expected to arise during the term of the policy. These profit cashflows get recognised in the financials as and when they arise. Such shareholder profits that are recognised in the relevant period in the financials have two components: insurance profits and profits from shareholder assets.

Insurance profits relates to the part of shareholder profits that arises from the core insurance business reflected by the profits in the underlying policyholder segments.

The profit from shareholders assets is the investment income earned on the shareholder assets reduced by the expenses and tax in the shareholder fund. As profits from shareholder assets are not directly related to profits from the insurance business, we believe segregating the two sources of profits and reviewing the insurance profits as a key metric is important.

Insurance profits represent the combined impact of the surplus arising from existing business and the loss generated in writing new business (referred to as new business strain).

Insurance profit from existing business relates to the surplus generated as the profit cashflows are realized during the relevant period.

The new business strain arises when the premium income received on the issuance of the policy is not sufficient to cover the initial expenses including acquisition costs and setting up of policy liabilities for the new business written.

Our insurance profit increased by 9.0% from ₹6,241.7 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹6,802.5 million in Fiscal 2016 and increased by 10.4% from ₹6,802.5 million in Fiscal 2016 to ₹7,509.5 million in Fiscal 2017 due to increased profits from existing business, on the base of a growing portfolio. Our insurance profit was ₹2,522.2 million for the three months ended June 30, 2017, which is not directly comparable to the corresponding values for Fiscal 2017 due to the seasonality of our business. See “–Seasonality” on page 563 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Our insurance profit as a percentage of profit after tax increased from 79.5% in Fiscal 2015 to 83.3% in Fiscal 2016 and 84.7% in Fiscal 2017.

Our insurance profit as a percentage of profit after tax was 79.9% for the three months ended June 30, 2017

Net premium

Net premium during any period represents the net inflow from policyholders and is computed as premiums received less benefits paid to policyholders. We believe that net premium is an important metric as it reflects the net funds retained by the Company.

Net premium paid increased 22.5% from ₹65,751.7 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹80,572.1 million in Fiscal 2016 and increased 17.7% from ₹80,572.1 million in Fiscal 2016 to ₹94,824.5 million in Fiscal 2017, mainly due to increase in premiums collected relative to benefits paid.

Net premium was ₹10,747.4 million for the three months ended June 30, 2017.

AUM

Our AUM increased by 10.7% from ₹670,467.0 million as at March 31, 2015 to ₹742,472.3 million as at March 31, 2016. Our AUM increased by 23.6% from ₹742,472.3 million as at March 31, 2016 to ₹917,423.6 million as at March 31, 2017. The increase in our AUM is mainly attributed to the net premiums from policyholders, investment income from fixed income securities and mark-to-market gains on our unit-linked investment portfolio.

We had ₹947,502.8 million in AUM as at June 30, 2017.

Solvency ratio

Solvency ratio is a regulatory measure of capital adequacy for Indian insurance companies and is calculated by dividing an insurer’s available solvency margin by its required solvency margin, each as calculated in accordance with the guidelines of the IRDAI. The available solvency margin represents the capital available to meet regulatory solvency capital and is the excess of admissible assets over liabilities, mainly comprising shareholder funds and policyholders’ funds for future appropriation. The required solvency margin is computed by using factors specified by IRDAI for different lines of business, the factors being applicable on the reserves and the sum at risk. The minimum solvency ratio required to be maintained is the control limit of 150.0%, as set by IRDAI.

Our solvency ratio increased from 196.1% as at March 31, 2015 to 198.4% as at March 31, 2016, primarily due to growth in available capital, being marginally higher than the growth in capital requirements arising out of new business and renewal premiums paid on existing policies. Our solvency ratio decreased from 198.4% as at March 31, 2016 to 191.6% as at March 31, 2017, primarily due to the growth in capital requirements arising out of new business and renewal premiums paid on existing policies exceeding the increase in available capital, net of dividend payment (including dividend distribution tax).

Our solvency ratio was 197.5% as at June 30, 2017, which is higher than the control limit of 150.0% set by IRDAI. As at June 30, 2017, we had excess solvency capital of ₹10,833.3 million. We believe that our solvency ratio is at an optimal level that allows us to withstand situations such as significant variance between actual experience and actuarial assumptions as well as allow us to provide for increased capital requirements associated with high growth and at the same time reflecting an efficient use of capital.

	As at March 31,			As at June 30,
	2015	2016	2017	2017
	(₹ in millions, except percentages)
Available solvency margin ⁽¹⁾	28,011.6	34,268.9	42,109.9	45,042.1

Notes:

- (1) Being as the available assets in excess of liabilities in the Shareholders' and Policyholders' funds.
- (2) Being the required solvency margin that an insurance company is required to hold as per the guidelines prescribed by the IRDAI.
- (3) Based on the computation certified by our Appointed Actuary and excluding inadmissible assets as required by the IRDA (Assets, Liabilities and Solvency Margin of Insurers) regulations and directions received from IRDAI from time to time.

Recent Developments in Accounting Standards

We currently prepare our statutory financial statements in accordance with Indian GAAP, Companies Act and IRDAI regulations. IRDAI issued a circular dated March 1, 2016 regarding the implementation of Ind-AS in the insurance sector, requiring all insurance companies to comply with Ind-AS for the preparation and presentation of financial statements for accounting period beginning on or after April 1, 2018, with comparative for year ending March 31, 2018. IRDAI subsequently issued a further circular dated June 28, 2017, deferring the implementation of Ind-AS in insurance sector in India for a period of two years to be effective from Fiscal 2021, and requiring all insurance companies to continue the submission of proforma Ind-AS financial statements on quarterly basis till such future date. From Fiscal 2019, our parent company, HDFC, will be required to prepare their financial statements in accordance with Ind-AS and we will consequently be required to prepare special purpose financial statements in accordance with Ind-AS for consolidation with the financial statements of HDFC. These special purpose Ind-AS financial statements may be significantly different from our Indian GAAP financial statements.

This is an indicative analysis of significant developments in accounting standards and is provided for convenience only. It is not intended to be an exhaustive list. Investors should seek specific advice from their advisors in relation to the impact on our financial statements due to any amendment to the accounting standards rules.

See also “Risk Factors—External Risks—Risks relating to India—Changes in the accounting standards used in the reporting of our financial statements due to new pronouncements such as Ind-AS, interpretations, migration to new standards or even due to our own decision to change accounting policies may significantly affect our financial statements for the future years, and may materially and adversely affect our financial condition.” on page 59 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Significant Accounting Policies

Certain key accounting policies relevant to our business and operations have been described below. For a detailed description of our significant accounting policies, see Annexure XXIV of our Restated Consolidated Financial Information included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

These are amortised over the useful life of the software, subject to maximum of four years. Subsequent expenditure incurred on existing assets is expensed out except where such expenditure increases the future economic benefits from the existing assets, in which case the expenditure is amortised over the remaining useful life of the original asset.

Any expenditure for support and maintenance of our computer software is charged to our consolidated Revenue Account.

Employee benefits

Short-term employee benefits

All employee benefits payable within twelve months of rendering the service are classified as short-term employee benefits. Benefits such as salaries and bonuses, short-term compensated absences, premium for staff medical insurance (hospitalisation), premium for Employee Group Term Insurance Scheme, Employee State Insurance Corporation Scheme, Employee Deposit Linked Insurance Scheme and Employee Labour Welfare Fund Scheme are accounted for in the period in which the employee renders the related service. All short-term employee benefits are accounted for on an undiscounted basis.

Post-employment benefits

We have both defined contribution and defined benefit plans.

Defined contribution plans

We have defined contribution schemes for our employees, being the Superannuation Scheme, Employee Provident Fund Scheme and the National Pension Scheme. The contributions paid/payable under these schemes are made when due and charged to our consolidated Revenue Account on an undiscounted basis during the period in which the employee renders the related service. We have no further obligation beyond these contributions.

Defined benefit plans

We have a funded gratuity plan that includes gratuity benefits payable to our employees in accordance with the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972. The present value of our obligations under such defined benefit plan is determined on the basis of actuarial valuation using the projected unit credit method, which considers each period of service as giving rise to an additional unit of benefit entitlement and measures each unit separately to build up the final obligation. The discount rate used for actuarial valuation is based on the yield of government securities. The net ascertained liabilities under the plan are fully contributed to our Employees Group Gratuity Plan. We recognise the net defined benefit obligation of the gratuity plan, taking into consideration the defined benefit obligation using actuarial valuation and the fair value of plan assets at the Balance Sheet date, in accordance with Accounting Standard (AS) 15 (Revised), 'Employee Benefits'. Actuarial gains or losses, if any, due to experience adjustments and the effects of changes in actuarial assumptions are accounted for in our consolidated Revenue Account in the period in which they arise.

Other long-term employee benefits

Other long-term employee benefits include accumulated long-term compensated absences and long-term incentive plans. Accumulated long-term compensated absences are entitled to be carried forward for future encashment or use at the option of the employee, in accordance with our employee benefit policies, and are accounted for based on actuarial valuation determined using the projected unit credit method.

Long term incentive plans are payable subject to fulfilment of criteria prescribed by our Company and are accounted for at the present value of expected future expected benefits payable using an appropriate discount rate.

Actuarial gains or losses, if any, due to experience adjustments and the effects of changes in actuarial assumptions are accounted for in our consolidated Revenue Account, as the case may be, in the period in which they arise.

Taxation

Direct tax

In case of our Company, provision for income tax is made in accordance with the provisions of Section 44 of the Income Tax Act, 1961 read with Rules contained in the First Schedule and other relevant provisions of the Income Tax Act, 1961 as applicable to a company carrying on life insurance business.

In accordance with the provisions of the Accounting Standard (AS) 22, "Accounting for Taxes on Income", with respect to the carry forward of losses under the Income Tax regulations, we recognise deferred tax assets only to the extent that there is a high likelihood that future taxable income will be available for offset against such deferred tax assets.

Indirect tax

The Company claims credit of service tax on input services, which is set off against service tax on output services. Unutilised credits towards service tax on input services are carried forward for future set-off, wherever there is reasonable certainty of utilisation. Since the implementation of GST, such unutilised credit will be carried forward for future set-off against future GST liability.

Principal components of our Revenue Account (Policyholders' Account or Technical Account)

Premium (net of service tax)

Premium income includes premiums received by us on all individual and group business and is classified into first year, renewal and single premium. First year premium refers to premiums received during the first year of the policy. Renewal premium refers to premiums received during the years after the first year of the policy, until premium payment term is over or the policy lapses whichever is earlier. Single premium refers to premiums received on single premium policies and also includes top-up premiums, which are additional amounts of premiums that can be paid over and above basic premiums for unit-linked policies. Premium is always accounted for net of service tax.

Reinsurance ceded

Reinsurance ceded refers to the amount of reinsurance premium paid/payable to reinsurers in respect of the risk underwritten to them. Reinsurance ceded is shown as a deduction from premium (net of service tax).

Income from investments

Income from investments refers to the investment income earned by policyholders' funds on policyholders' investments made in accordance with IRDAI regulations and includes interest and dividend income, profit /loss on sale of investments, amortisation of premium/discount on investments and change in fair value of investments. Any changes in the fair value of unit-linked investments during the relevant Fiscal year are required to be valued at market value and are also reflected in our income from investments.

Investment income from unit-linked policyholder investments is linked to market changes and can be quite volatile. The investment income from unit-linked policyholder investments is directly attributable to policyholders and is reflected as a corresponding change in the unit reserves without any material impact on the surplus from our unit-linked products. Investment income from non-participating and participating policyholder investments is relatively stable as it is mainly based on amortised income of debt securities which are not market-linked. Realisation of gains/losses in equity investments from participating policyholder investments can affect investment income. For both non-participating and participating policyholder investments, investment income is reflected in an increase in policy liabilities.

Other income

Other income mainly comprises interest and charges collected on revival of policies for the period during which the policy has lapsed, the share of service tax cost borne by independent agents on commission payments, agent license fees, income on unclaimed amounts from policyholders and other miscellaneous charges.

Assets held for unclaimed amount of policyholders are created and maintained in accordance with the IRDAI regulations. Unclaimed amounts of policyholders are invested in money market instruments and / or fixed deposits of scheduled banks. Money market instruments are valued at historical cost, subject to amortisation of premium or accretion of discount over the period of maturity/holding on a straight line basis, while fixed deposits are valued at cost.

Income on unclaimed amount of policyholders is credited to unclaimed funds and is accounted for on an accrual basis. Amount payable for unclaimed amount of policyholders is accounted for on an accrual basis and is disclosed net of fund management charges. Unclaimed amount of policyholders liability is determined on the basis of net asset value of the units outstanding as at the valuation date.

Contribution from Shareholders' Account

The contribution from Shareholders' Account refers to the amount contributed by our shareholders to meet the deficit, if any, in our non-participating linked and non-participating non-linked segments.

Commission

This includes commission paid to intermediaries and our distributions partners for the purposes of sourcing new business. As with premiums, commissions are classified into first year, renewal and single premium commissions.

Operating expenses

Operating expenses include all expenses that are incurred for the purposes of sourcing new business and expenses incurred for policy servicing (which are known as maintenance costs). Our operating expenses include employee-related costs, computer, marketing, professional and infrastructure costs, as well as variable costs based on our volume of new business, including sales staff incentives, stamp duty, policy printing and medical fees.

Benefits paid

Benefits paid include the payouts made by us against claims, upon policy maturity, surrenders and withdrawals, discontinuance termination, as well as interest on unclaimed amounts by policyholders. Benefits paid are disclosed net of amounts recoverable from reinsurers.

Service tax on linked charges

Service tax on linked charges includes service tax recovered on all charges from our unit-linked business. These charges relate to policy administration fees, mortality charges, reinstatement fees, fund management charges, lapse charges, surrender charges and other miscellaneous charges. Service tax on these charges are recovered either by way of deallocation of units or reduction of the net asset value of the relevant unit-linked fund based on the amount of service tax payable. With the implementation of GST, all future tax on charges will be levied in accordance with applicable GST laws and regulations.

Provisions (other than taxation)

Provisions for diminution in value of investments

Provisions for diminution in value of investments includes provisions for impairment loss, representing the difference between the remeasured fair value of non-linked policyholders' investments and its weighted average acquisition cost reduced by such impairment loss. Such assessment for impairment is carried out at each balance sheet date, using internal and external sources based on our impairment policy, to assess whether there is any indication of impairment to investments. A reversal of impairment loss, earlier accounted in Policyholders' Revenue Account, is also included in the head 'Provision for diminution in value of investments'.

Provisions for standard and non-standard assets

Provisions for standard assets and non-standard assets comprise adequate provision made to cover amounts outstanding in respect of all standard and non-standard assets in accordance with the "Guidelines on prudential norms for income recognition, asset classification, provisioning and other matters in respect of debt portfolio" prescribed by IRDAI.

Change in valuation reserves

Change in valuation reserves represents the increase/decrease in policyholders' liabilities during the relevant period. Policyholders' liability are calculated using actuarial principles for all policies where a liability exists on valuation date or where a liability could arise in the future.

Transfer to Shareholders' Account

Surplus generated in non-participating policyholders' funds (including unit-linked non-participating funds) are transferred to our Shareholders' Account. For participating funds, the transfer to shareholders is based on the bonuses allocated to policyholders.

Funds for future appropriation (participating)

Funds for future appropriation in the participating segment represents the unappropriated surplus of our participating segment which has not yet been allocated to policyholders or shareholders. Changes in funds for future appropriation represents the surplus/(deficit) generated in the participating segment during the relevant period.

Principal components of our Profit and Loss Account (Shareholders' Account or Non-Technical Account)

Income is generated from i) post tax surplus from our Policyholders' Account to Shareholders' Account and ii) investment income earned on Shareholders' funds.

Expenses comprise contributions made by shareholders Profit and Loss Account to Policyholders' Revenue Account to meet the deficit in any segment of Policyholders Account, expenses other than those directly related to insurance business and any provision for diminution in the value of investments and provision for standard and non-standard assets.

Our income from unit-linked policyholder investments increased from ₹2,534.4 million in Fiscal 2016 to ₹85,568.3 million in Fiscal 2017, primarily due to mark-to-market gains in our unit-linked segment in Fiscal 2017 compared to losses in the Fiscal 2016. Our income from unit-linked policyholder investments is offset by a corresponding change in the valuation of our unit reserves and does not have any material impact on the surplus from our unit-linked segment. We experienced an increase of 68.2% in our investment income from our other segments from ₹15,371.3 million in Fiscal 2016 to ₹25,838.1 million in Fiscal 2017, mainly due to net realised gains increasing by ₹6,272.3 million in Fiscal 2017 compared to Fiscal 2016,

Other income (Revenue Account)

Our other income decreased by 29.1% from ₹591.1 million in Fiscal 2016 to ₹419.0 million in Fiscal 2017, primarily attributed to one-off interest of ₹229.6 million earned on our assessed income tax refund in our Policyholders' Revenue Account in Fiscal 2016.

Income on unclaimed amounts from policyholders (Revenue Account)

Our income on unclaimed amounts from policy holders was ₹616.3 million in Fiscal 2017. Our income on unclaimed amounts from policyholders is passed on to policyholders and is reflected as a current liability for policyholders.

Contribution from Shareholders' Account (Revenue Account)

Our contributions from our Shareholders' Account decreased by 6.9% from ₹380.0 million in Fiscal 2016 to ₹353.9 million in Fiscal 2017 as a result of surplus in our health segment in Fiscal 2017 as compared to a deficit in Fiscal 2016.

Commissions (Revenue Account)

The following table sets forth the split of commissions paid across first year premiums, renewal premiums and single premiums and the corresponding ratios of commissions paid to premiums received (net of service tax) for the periods indicated.

	Fiscal Year Ended March 31,
	2016		2017
	Commission paid (₹ in millions)	Commission ratio (%)	Commission paid (₹ in millions)	Commission ratio (%)
First year commission	5,751.2	17.1%	6,469.0	17.7%
Renewal commission	1,224.5	1.2%	1,376.9	1.3%
Single commission	42.8	0.1%	74.3	0.1%
Total	7,018.5	4.3%	7,920.2	4.1%

Our commissions paid to our distributors increased by 12.8% from ₹7,018.5 million in Fiscal 2016 to ₹7,920.2 million in Fiscal 2017, generally in line with the growth of our premium income and increasing proportion of participating policies. The increase in first year commission ratio from 17.1% in Fiscal 2016 to 17.7% in Fiscal 2017 reflects a higher proportion of participating policies (which has higher rates of commission compared with unit-linked and non-participating policies) sold during Fiscal 2017.

Operating expenses relating to insurance business (Revenue Account)

Our operating expenses relating to insurance business increased from by 27.4% from ₹18,718.3 million in Fiscal 2016 to ₹23,852.8 million in Fiscal 2017, driven by an increase in costs related to employees, infrastructure, marketing, operational, information technology related and business development expenses, in line with the inflation and growth in business.

Employee-related costs increased from ₹8,590.7 million in Fiscal 2016 to ₹11,042.0 million in Fiscal 2017, mainly due to an increase in the number of employees due to growth in business and salary revisions of employees due to annual increments in line with inflation.

Our business development, advertisement and publicity expenses increased from ₹4,477.9 million in Fiscal 2016 to ₹6,787.8 million in Fiscal 2017, mainly due to an increase in our investment in online digital and outdoor marketing to drive consumer awareness and focus on growth of our protection business.

Our general office expenses and legal and professional charges increased from ₹1,955.6 million in Fiscal 2016 to ₹2,182.9 million in Fiscal 2017, mainly due to higher business volumes and telemarketing expenses.

Our computer expenses increased from ₹542.1 million in Fiscal 2016 to ₹629.6 million in Fiscal 2017, mainly due to our strategy of focusing on digital initiatives to improve customer experience and ease of purchasing our products, and increase operational efficiencies.

Service tax on linked charges (Revenue Account)

Service tax on linked charges increased by 16.5% from ₹1,853.9 million in Fiscal 2016 to ₹2,160.7 million in Fiscal 2017, in line with the growth in the charges collected from our unit-linked business arising from growth in our AUM.

Our benefits paid to policyholders increased by 21.3% from ₹82,419.5 million for Fiscal 2016 to ₹100,004.0 million in Fiscal 2017, largely due to an increase in surrenders/withdrawals and maturity payouts.

Our benefits paid pursuant to surrenders and withdrawals increased by 11.6% from ₹57,887.5 million in Fiscal 2016 to ₹64,606.1 million in Fiscal 2017, which was lower as compared to increase in the total premium income during Fiscal 2017 due to our focus on needs-based selling and other persistency-related initiatives.

Maturity and money back claims increased in Fiscal 2017 due to a greater number of policies maturing and or reaching the eligibility period for money back payouts compared with Fiscal 2016, while annuity claims increased due to the growth in our annuity business during Fiscal 2017.

Our benefits paid pursuant to protection claims have increased by 53.7% from ₹3,580.5 million in Fiscal 2016 to ₹5,501.8 million in Fiscal 2017, primarily due to our increased protection business (including online term, group protection and health) written over the last few years.

Interim and terminal bonuses increased by 143.2% from ₹650.5 million in Fiscal 2016 to ₹1,582.2 million in Fiscal 2017. As a result of the above, surplus before tax decreased by 3.0% from ₹11,341.4 million in Fiscal 2016 to ₹10,996.2 million in Fiscal 2017, primarily due to decrease in surplus in our participating segment, partially offset by an increase in surplus in our unit-linked segment.

The following table sets forth our segmental surplus for the periods indicated.

	Fiscal Year Ended March 31,
	2016	2017
	(₹ in millions)

Provisions for tax in our Policyholders' Account decreased by 12.9% from ₹1,745.5 million in Fiscal 2016 to ₹1,519.8 million in Fiscal 2017, due to lower taxable surplus in participating segment.

As a result of the above, surplus from operations decreased by 1.2% from ₹9,595.9 million in Fiscal 2016 to ₹9,476.4 million in Fiscal 2017.

Bonuses paid to policyholders (Revenue Account)

Amount transferred from Policyholders' Account increased by 9.5% from ₹7,182.5 million in Fiscal 2016 to ₹7,863.4 million in Fiscal 2017, arising mainly from surplus generated in our unit-linked pension segment and partially offset by a decrease in the surplus from our unit-linked life and non-participating life segment.

Income from investments and other income (Profit and Loss Account)

Income from investments and other income increased by 26.7% from ₹1,817.8 million in Fiscal 2016 to ₹2,303.8 million in Fiscal 2017, mainly due to an increase in our income from investments by 34.5% from ₹1,712.1 million in Fiscal 2016 to ₹2,303.0 million in Fiscal 2017 resulting from favourable equity capital markets conditions and higher interest and dividend income on our investment portfolio.

Expenses other than those directly related to the insurance business (Profit and Loss Account)

Expenses other than those directly related to the insurance business increased by 202.4% from ₹253.8 million in Fiscal 2016 to ₹767.5 million in Fiscal 2017, primarily due to one-off expenses of: (a) ₹294.7 million relating to our proposed initial public offering and then-ongoing merger transaction with Max Life; and (b) ₹122.1 million in interest compensation paid to policyholders pursuant to an IRDAI order received during Fiscal 2017 regarding a property investment in Fiscal 2010.

Profits before/after tax (Profit and Loss Account)

As a result of the above, profits before tax increased by 9.1% from ₹8,333.8 million in Fiscal 2016 to ₹9,089.3 million in Fiscal 2017.

Provisions for tax increased by 32.7% from ₹165.9 million in Fiscal 2016 to ₹220.1 million in Fiscal 2017, mainly due to higher shareholders' surplus.

Total	29,514.7	93,650.9	25,133.4	33,683.7	98,621.4	30,824.6

Our gross premium income (net of service tax) increased by 10.0% from ₹148,299.0 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹163,129.7 million in Fiscal 2016, primarily due to strong growth in new business written under our individual and group business in participating, non-participating and unit-linked life segments and stable renewal premiums.

Our first year premiums increased by 14.1% from ₹29,514.7 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹33,683.7 million in Fiscal 2016, driven by strong growth due to increased size of our bancassurance distribution channels and the strength of our multi-channel distribution approach. We have seen growth across all our key distribution channels.

Our renewal premiums increased by 5.3% from ₹93,650.9 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹98,621.4 million in Fiscal 2016, reflecting the continued impact of the sales of our regular premium products during previous years, as well as the customer initiatives we have undertaken in improving renewal premium collection.

Our single premiums increased by 22.6% from ₹25,133.4 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹30,824.6 million in Fiscal 2016, mainly due to our focus on our protection business and growth in our group term insurance and fund-based business

Reinsurance ceded (Revenue Account)

Our reinsurance ceded increased by 99.0% from ₹674.5 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹1,342.0 million in Fiscal 2016, mainly due to (a) a change in the frequency of reinsurance premium payments from annually to quarterly with effect from Fiscal 2015 which resulted in a one-off reduction in our reinsurance premium payments for Fiscal 2015 and (b) an increase in reinsurance premium payments due to the growth in our protection term and health business across both individual and group segments.

Income from investments (Revenue Account)

The following table sets forth our income from policyholder investments for the periods indicated.

Our income from unit-linked policyholder investments decreased by 97.5% from ₹102,050.9 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹2,543.3 million in Fiscal 2016, primarily due to higher mark-to-market losses resulting from turbulent market conditions. Our income from unit-linked policyholder investments is offset by a corresponding change in the valuation of our unit reserves and does not have any material impact on the surplus from our unit-linked segment. We experienced a decrease of 22.8% in our investment income from our other segments from ₹20,441.8 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹15,371.3 million in Fiscal 2016, mainly due to lower realised gains on investments as a result of declining equity markets.

Other income (Revenue Account)

Our other income increased by 83.5% from ₹322.1 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹591.1 million in Fiscal 2016, primarily due to an increase in agent's license fees and one-off interest income earned on account of our assessed income tax refund of ₹229.6 million.

Contribution from Shareholders' Account (Revenue Account)

Our contributions from our Shareholders' Account decreased by 18.6% from ₹466.9 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹380.0 million in Fiscal 2016 as a result of lower new business strain in our annuity and non-participating life insurance group variable businesses, which was partially offset by an increase in new business strain in our health business.

Commissions (Revenue Account)

The following table sets forth the split of commissions paid across first year premiums, renewal premiums and single premiums and the corresponding ratios of commissions paid to premiums received (net of service tax) for the periods indicated.

	Fiscal Year Ended March 31,
	2015		2016
	Commission paid (₹ in millions)	Commission ratio (%)	Commission paid (₹ in millions)	Commission ratio (%)
First year commission	4,974.3	16.9%	5,751.2	17.1%

Single commission	58.5	0.2%	42.8	0.1%
Total	6,234.7	4.2%	7,018.5	4.3%

Our commissions paid to our distributors increased by 12.6% from ₹6,234.7 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹7,018.5 million in Fiscal 2016, generally in line with the growth of our premium income. The increase in first year commission ratio from 16.9% in Fiscal 2015 to 17.1% in Fiscal 2016 reflects a higher proportion of participating policies (which has higher rates of commission compared with unit-linked and non-participating policies) sold during Fiscal 2016.

Operating expenses relating to insurance business (Revenue Account)

Our operating expenses increased from by 25.7% from ₹14,888.3 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹18,718.3 million in Fiscal 2016, driven by an increase in costs related to employees, infrastructure, marketing, operational and computer expenses, in line with the inflation and growth in business.

Employee-related costs form a significant proportion of our expenses. While we continued to focus on consolidation of our branches and increasing employee efficiency, employee-related costs increased from ₹7,701.1 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹8,590.7 million in Fiscal 2016, mainly due to an increase in outsourcing manpower expenses due to growth in business and increased salaries of employees due to annual increments in line with inflation.

Our business development, advertisement and publicity expenses increased from ₹2,552.2 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹4,477.9 million in Fiscal 2016, mainly due to an increase in our investment in online digital marketing to promote future business growth, particularly for our protection and health insurance products

Our general office expenses and legal and professional charges increased from ₹1,506.6 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹1,955.6 million in Fiscal 2016, mainly due to higher business volumes and various customer-oriented initiatives.

Our computer expenses increased from ₹495.9 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹542.1 million in Fiscal 2016, mainly due to our strategy of focusing on digital initiatives to improve customer experience and increase operational efficiencies.

Service tax on linked charges (Revenue Account)

Service tax on linked charges increased by 21.0% from ₹1,531.8 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹1,853.9 million in Fiscal 2016, in line with the growth in the charges collected from our unit-linked business arising from growth in our AUM, as well as an increase in the service rate from 12.36% to 14.5% during Fiscal 2015.

Benefits paid (net) and interim/terminal bonuses paid (Revenue Account)

Our benefits paid to policyholders increased marginally by 0.1% from ₹82,337.6 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹82,419.6 million for Fiscal 2016, due to a decrease in the number of surrenders and withdrawals of unit-linked policies, which was partially offset by an increase in other benefits paid.

	Fiscal Year Ended March 31,
	2015			2016
	Unit-linked	Traditional	Total	Unit-linked	Traditional	Total
	(₹ in millions)

Total	64,885.4	17,452.2	82,337.6	66,131.9	16,287.6	82,419.5

Our benefits paid pursuant to surrenders and withdrawals decreased by 17.2% from ₹69,954.5 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹57,887.5 million in Fiscal 2016, due to various customer education and retention initiatives that we had implemented and is also reflected in our higher persistency.

Our benefits paid pursuant to maturity and money back (including annuity/pension) claims have increased by 16.9% from ₹8,797.4 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹10,286.0 million in Fiscal 2016. Maturity and money back claims have increased due to a greater number of policies completing their policy term and reaching the eligibility period for money back policy payouts, while annuity claims have increased due to higher business sold in previous years in line with actuarial projections.

Our benefits paid pursuant to protection claims have increased by 24.7% from ₹2,871.9 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹3,580.5 million in Fiscal 2016, primarily due to our increased protection business (including online term, group protection and health) written over the last few years.

Interim and terminal bonuses decreased by 8.9% from ₹713.8 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹650.5 million in Fiscal 2016 mainly due to a decrease in the number of participating policies maturing in Fiscal 2016 compared with Fiscal 2015.

The change in valuation of liability in respect of life policies decreased by 62.1% from ₹156,525.0 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹59,281.1 million in Fiscal 2016, mainly driven by a decrease in our unit reserves by 93.5% from ₹94,044.5 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹6,136.6 million in Fiscal 2016, due to a decline in our income from unit-linked policyholder investments as a result of mark-to-market losses from declining equity markets in Fiscal 2016.

Surplus/deficit before/after tax (Revenue Account)

As a result of the above, surplus before tax increased by 20.5% from ₹9,413.9 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹11,341.4 million in Fiscal 2016. This increase is mainly due to increase in surpluses in our participating and non-participating segments.

Total segmental surplus (net of contribution from Shareholders' Account)	8,947.0	10,961.4
Add: Contribution from Shareholders' Account	466.9	380.0
Surplus before tax	9,413.9	11,341.4

Provisions for tax in our Policyholders' Account increased by 46.3% from ₹1,193.4 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹1,745.5 million in Fiscal 2016 due to an increase in our total taxable surplus.

As a result of the above, surplus from operations increased by 16.7% from ₹8,220.5 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹9,595.9 million in Fiscal 2016.

Bonuses paid to policyholders (Revenue Account)

The following table sets forth our total bonuses paid to policyholders for the periods indicated.

	Fiscal Year Ended March 31,
	2015	2016
	(₹ in millions)
Interim bonuses paid	98.2	77.9
Terminal bonuses paid	615.6	572.6
Allocation of bonuses to policyholders	4,681.6	5,570.8
Total bonuses paid	5,395.4	6,221.3

The total bonuses paid to policyholders increased by 15.3% from ₹5,395.4 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹6,221.3 million in Fiscal 2016 reflecting the increase in the surplus shared with policyholders through bonuses.

Amount transferred from Policyholders' Account (Profit and Loss Account)

Amount transferred from Policyholders' Account increased by 7.1% from ₹6,708.6 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹7,182.5 million in Fiscal 2016, arising mainly from an increase in the surplus generated from our non-participating life segment, which was partially offset by a decrease in the surplus generated from our unit-linked segment.

Income from investments and other income (Profit and Loss Account)

Income from investments and other income decreased by 10.6% from ₹2,033.1 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹1,817.8 million in Fiscal 2016, mainly due to a decrease in income from shareholders' investments arising from lower net realised gains from sale of investments in Fiscal 2016 as compared to Fiscal 2015. Net realised gains from sale of shareholders' investments decreased by 90.0% from ₹517.2 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹51.9 million in Fiscal 2016 mainly due to weak equity market conditions. This was partially offset by higher interest income as a result of additional investments in fixed income instruments with the profits transferred to our Shareholders' Account from our Policyholders' Revenue Account.

Expenses other than those directly related to the insurance business (Profit and Loss Account)

Expenses other than those directly related to the insurance business increased by 10.3% from ₹230.0 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹253.8 million in Fiscal 2016 due to managerial remuneration charged to our Shareholders' Account (in excess of the IRDAI specified limit) and an increase in corporate social responsibility expenses.

Profits before/after tax(Profit and Loss Account)

As a result of the above, profits before tax increased by 3.6% from ₹8,045.8 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹8,333.8 million in Fiscal 2016.

Provisions for tax decreased by 13.0% from ₹190.7 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹165.9 million in Fiscal 2016 on account of lower shareholders' surplus.

As a result of all the factors mentioned above, profit after tax increased by 4.0% from ₹7,855.1 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹8,167.9 million in Fiscal 2016, arising mainly from strong profits generated from our existing non-participating business, which was partially offset by higher new business strain generated from our unit-linked individual business.

- (2) Includes fixed assets and loans.

Our total assets increased from ₹693,085.2 million at March 31, 2015 to ₹976,345.2 million at June 30, 2017, primarily due to an increase in assets held to cover linked liabilities and investments in our policyholders' accounts during each period, as a result of growth in new business premiums and renewal premiums.

Our total liabilities increased from ₹667,672.4 million at March 31, 2015 to ₹934,865.2 million at June 30, 2017, primarily due to increases in provisions for linked liabilities and policy liabilities.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Liquidity refers to the ability of a company to generate adequate amounts of cash from its normal operations, in order to meet its financial commitments. The liquidity needs of our life insurance operations are generally affected by outflows for claims (including through during surrender, deaths, maturities and bonus payments), commission and administrative expenses, which are offset by inflows from premiums and income from investments.

Liquidity requirements of our insurance operations are fully met on the basis of net cash flow generated by our Company in the ordinary course of business.

The following table sets forth a summary of our cash flow for the periods indicated.

	As at March 31,			As at June 30,
	2015	2016	2017	2017
Receipts and payments account	(₹ in millions)
Net cash flow generated from operating activities	44,594.9	56,874.5	62,302.5	4,763.9
Net cash flow used in investing activities	(35,144.7)	(39,590.9)	(51,752.1)	(16,943.8)
Net cash flow used in financing activities	(1,675.6)	(2,124.3)	(2,355.9)	34.5

Net cash flow from operating activities

Our cash flow from operations largely depends on our net profits. We have been profitable in each of Fiscal 2015, Fiscal 2016, Fiscal 2017 and the three months ended June 30, 2017, generating sufficient cash flow from our operations. We have been able to meet all our working capital requirements through the cash generated from our operations.

Our net cash flow generated from operating activities was ₹4,763.9 million for the three months ended June 30, 2017, primarily attributed to premium and other receipts, partially offset by policy benefits paid, operating expenses and commission paid.

Our net cash flow generated from operating activities increased from ₹56,874.5 million in Fiscal 2016 to ₹62,302.5 million in Fiscal 2017, primarily attributed to an increase in premium and other receipts partially offset by policy benefits paid, operating expenses and commission paid.

Our net cash flow generated from operating activities increased from ₹44,594.9 million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹56,874.5 million in Fiscal 2016, primarily attributed to an increase in premium and other receipts partially offset by policy benefits paid, operating expenses and commission paid.

Net cash flow used in investing activities

Our net cash flow used in investing activities is determined largely by our purchases and sales of investments.

Our net cash flow used in investing activities was ₹(16,943.8) million for the three months ended June 30, 2017, primarily attributed to purchase of investments and partially offset by interest and dividend received and sales of investments.

Our net cash flow used in investing activities increased from ₹(39,590.9) million in Fiscal 2016 to ₹(51,752.1) million in Fiscal 2017, primarily attributed to increase in purchase of investments and partially offset by interest and dividend received and sales of investments.

Our net cash flow used in investing activities increased from ₹(35,144.7) million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹(39,590.9) million in Fiscal 2016, primarily attributed to increase in purchase of investments and partially offset by interest and dividend received and sales of investments.

Net cash flow used in financing activities

Our net cash flow used in financing activities is primarily determined by the amount of our dividend payments. We paid dividends in Fiscal 2015, Fiscal 2016 and Fiscal 2017 and did not have outstanding borrowings as at June 30, 2017.

Our net cash flow from financing activities was ₹34.5 million for the three months ended June 30, 2017, attributed to securities premiums received from shareholders as a result of the issuance of ESOPs.

Our net cash flow used in financing activities increased from ₹(2,124.3) million in Fiscal 2016 to ₹(2,355.9) million in Fiscal 2017, attributed to increase in dividends paid (including dividend distribution tax) from ₹(2,161.0) million in Fiscal 2016 to ₹(2,644.8) million in Fiscal 2017 and cash flows from the issuance of ESOPs.

Our net cash flow used in financing activities increased from ₹(1,675.6) million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹(2,124.3) million in Fiscal 2016, attributed to an increase in dividends paid (including dividend distribution tax) from ₹(1,675.6) million in Fiscal 2015 to ₹(2,161.0) million in Fiscal 2016 and cash flows from the issuance of ESOPs.

We are of the opinion that, after taking into account the expected cash to be generated from operations, we have sufficient liquidity for our present as well for requirements and anticipated requirements for capital expenditure and working capital for 12 months following the date of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Contractual Obligations

Our contractual obligations with definitive payment terms primarily relate to policyholder liabilities, investment and fixed assets commitments, and repayments of our operating lease commitments in respect of properties.

The table below sets forth our contractual obligations with definitive payment terms as at June 30, 2017.

	As at June 30, 2017
	Total	Less than one year	Less than one year but no later than five years	Later than five years
	(₹ in millions)
Policy liabilities	889,579.3	123,973.0	219,612.0	545,994.3
Investment and fixed assets commitments	985.9	924.5	61.4	-
Operating lease commitments	185.3	67.3	118.0	-

Our policy liabilities of ₹889,579.3 million as at June 30, 2017 relate to amounts held by us for meeting our expected future obligations on existing policies.

Our investment and fixed assets commitments of ₹985.9 million as at June 30, 2017 relate to the estimated amount of commitments made and not provided for (net of advances).

Our operating lease commitments of ₹185.3 million as at June 30, 2017 principally relate to our minimum future lease rentals payable under non-cancellable operating lease payments for our various branches. The terms of our operating lease agreements do not contain any exceptional/restrictive covenants which will have a significant detrimental impact on our financials.

Off-Balance Sheet Transactions

Except as disclosed in our Restated Consolidated Financial Information or elsewhere in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, there are no off-balance sheet arrangements that have or are reasonably likely to have a current or future effect on our financial condition, revenues or expenses, results of operations, liquidity, capital expenditures or capital resources that we believe are material to investors.

Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets

Provisions

Provisions are accounted for in respect of present obligations arising out of past events where it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation and the amounts of which can be reliably estimated. Provisions are determined on the basis of best estimate of the outflow of economic benefits required to settle the obligation as at the date of the relevant balance sheet. Where no reliable estimate can be made, a disclosure is made as contingent liability.

Contingent liabilities

Contingent liabilities are disclosed in respect of (a) possible obligations arising out of past events, but their existence or otherwise would be confirmed by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within our control or (b) present obligations that arise from past events, which are not recognised because of remote probability that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligations or a reliable estimate of the amounts of the obligations cannot be made.

The table below sets forth our contingent liabilities as at June 30, 2017.

	As at June 30, 2017 (₹ in millions)
Partly paid-up investments	8,850.0
Claims, other than against policies, not acknowledged as debts by the Company	7.7
Guarantees given by or on behalf of the Company	0.9
Statutory demands and liabilities in dispute, not provided for	997.3
Total contingent liabilities	9,855.9

Partly paid-up investments include partly paid corporate bonds. We pay part of the principal amount upon issuance of such bonds (upon which interest is payable by the issuer) and the remaining principal amount in instalments over a defined period (with the last instalment due in January 2021). Based on the defined cash flows of the partly paid bonds we hold, the outstanding face value of such partly paid bonds as at June 30, 2017 is ₹8,850.0 million.

Statutory demands and liabilities in dispute, but not provided for, relate to the show cause cum demand notices/assessment orders received by us from the respective tax authorities. We have filed appeals against the show cause cum demand notices/assessment orders with the appellate authorities and have been advised by experts that our grounds of appeal are well supported in law, in view of which we do not expect any liability to arise. Our pending litigation comprises claims against our Company relating primarily to proceedings pending with tax authorities. We have reviewed all our pending litigation and proceedings and have adequately provided for, where provisions are required, and disclosed the contingent liabilities where applicable, in our Restated Consolidated Financial Information, including that we are currently involved in several proceedings against income tax authorities pending before various fora, including the Office of the Commissioner of Income Tax (Appeals), Income Tax Appellate Tribunal and the Bombay High Court. As at June 30, 2017, the aggregate amount of income tax, contested in these matters was ₹48,912 million. We do not expect the outcome of any of these proceedings to have a material adverse effect on our financial results as at June 30, 2017.

For further details, please see “Outstanding Litigation and Material Developments” on page 610 of the Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Contingent assets

Contingent assets are neither accounted for nor disclosed in our financial statements.

Seasonality

We are subject to seasonal fluctuations in results of operations and cash flow. Insurance volumes typically increase significantly in the last quarter of each fiscal year, which coincides with the end of the tax year in India, due to customers capitalising on income tax advantages that life insurance products offer. For the same reason, we typically experience lower business volumes in the first quarter of each fiscal year.

Significant Developments after June 30, 2017 that may affect our Future Results of Operations

Except as disclosed in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, to our knowledge, there is no subsequent development after the date of our Restated Consolidated Financial Information contained in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, which materially and adversely affects, or is likely to affect, our operations or profitability, or the value of our assets, or our ability to pay our material liabilities within the next twelve months.

Section 1 Introduction

1.1. Background

- 1.1.1. The Institute of Actuaries of India (“IAI”) has issued Actuarial Practice Standard 10, Version 1.02 (“APS10”) which sets out various requirements governing the determination and disclosure of the Indian Embedded Value (“IEV”), to be disclosed by life insurance companies in connection with an initial public offering (“IPO”) of securities issued by those companies.
- 1.1.2. Pursuant to the engagement letter dated 8 June 2017, Milliman Advisors LLP (“Milliman”, “we”, “us”, “our”) has been engaged by HDFC Standard Life Insurance Company Limited (“HDFC Life”, “you”, “your”, “the Company”) to prepare this report (“Report”) for disclosure purposes in connection with the planned IPO of the Company. Consequently, the methodology, assumptions, results and disclosures set out in this Report are developed to comply with the requirements of APS10.
- 1.1.3. This Report sets out the components of economic value of the Company comprising the IEV as at 31 March 2017; the value of one year of new business (“VNB”) for new business sold during the year ending 31 March 2017; an analysis of the movement of IEV from 31 March 2016 to 31 March 2017; and various sensitivity results on the IEV as at 31 March 2017 and sensitivity results on the VNB for new business sold during the year ending 31 March 2017 (together referred to as the “Results”).
- 1.1.4. The opinions expressed in this Report are those of the signatory to this Report. I, Richard Holloway (“I”, “me”, “my”) am a Fellow of the IAI and hold a Certificate of Practice from the IAI. I have worked alongside Mr. Nick Dumbreck, who is a Fellow of the Institute and Faculty of Actuaries in the United Kingdom, and has provided internal peer review support, and Mr. Sanket Kawatkar, who is a Fellow of the IAI.
- 1.1.5. The IRDAI (Issuance of Capital by Indian Insurance Companies transacting Life Insurance Business) Regulations, 2015, dated 17 December 2015 requires an Embedded Value Report prepared by one Independent Actuary (i.e. the ‘Reporting Actuary’) but does not require a report by a ‘Reviewing Actuary’. Compliance with APS10 has therefore been assessed disregarding the requirement outlined in paragraph 2.3 of the same, which states that peer review by a ‘Reviewing Actuary’ is also required.
- 1.1.6. Except where it is otherwise stated, the figures quoted in this Report are as at the applicable valuation dates of 31 March 2016 or 31 March 2017, and make no allowance for any developments after 31 March 2017. The various amounts specified are expressed in Indian Rupees (“INR”).

1.2. Scope and distribution

- 1.2.1. HDFC Life may publicly disclose the final version of this Report in its entirety, provided it is done in connection with the IPO.
- 1.2.2. This Report should be read in its entirety, including the reliances and limitations set out in Section 6, as individual Sections, if considered in isolation, may be misleading.

Section 2 Indian Embedded Value Results

2.1. Background

2.1.1. HDFC Life received its certificate of registration dated 24 October 2000 from the IRDAI. As at 31 March 2017, the shareholding pattern of the Company is as follows:

- HDFC Limited: 61.53%;
- Standard Life (Mauritius Holding) Limited: 34.94%;
- Azim Premji Trust: 0.95%; and
- Others: 2.58%.

2.1.2. The Company writes its business through a variety of distribution channels, including tied agents, banks, third party corporate agents, brokers and direct (including branch sales and on-line).

2.2. Overview

2.2.1. The Results set out in this Report are in respect of the Company and all subsidiary undertakings of the Company.

2.2.2. The IEV of HDFC Life consists of the Adjusted Net Worth ("ANW") and value of in-force business ("VIF"). The VIF is a measure of the value of the shareholders' interest in the covered business of the Company (where covered business is as defined in Section 2.2.6 below). The VIF represents the present value of the shareholders' interest in the earnings distributable from assets allocated to the covered business, after making sufficient allowance for the aggregate risks in the covered business. The allowance for risk is calibrated to match the market price for the risk, where reliably observable.

2.2.3. The VNB represents the additional value to shareholders created through the activity of writing new covered business during the year ending 31 March 2017.

2.2.4. The IEV only reflects in-force business as at the valuation date. In particular, the value of future new business (i.e. new business that may be written after the applicable valuation date) is excluded from the IEV.

2.2.5. HDFC Pension Management Company Ltd. ("HDFC PMC"), which writes pensions fund management business, and HDFC International Life and Re Company Ltd. ("HDFC IL"), which was established during FY2015-16 to write reinsurance business in the Dubai International Financial Centre, are wholly owned subsidiaries of HDFC Life.

2.2.6. For the Results, covered business refers to all business that has been written by HDFC Life and HDFC IL, including life insurance and pensions business, accident and health insurance business and group business.

2.2.7. The values of HDFC PMC and HDFC IL are reflected in the ANW at the amount at which they are carried in the audited balance sheet of the Company (i.e. at INR 1,128 million as at 31 March 2016 and INR 1,214 million as at 31 March 2017). The impact on the Results of not assessing the contribution by HDFC IL to the IEV and VNB via a cash flow projection method (as required by paragraph 5.1. of APS10) is assessed to be immaterial.

2.3. Results

Indian Embedded Value

2.3.1. The IEVs of HDFC Life as at 31 March 2016 and as at 31 March 2017 are set out in the table below:

Notes:

- (1) The equity values are decreased as at 31 March 2017.
- (2) Mass lapse rate assumptions (25% or 50%) are reflected by replacing the relevant assumptions made in the base scenario and not as an addition to the assumptions made in the base scenario.
- (3) Applicable for ULIPs.
- (4) A policy lapse is defined as premium discontinuance, after which a policy will be subject to forcible foreclosure at the end of a revival period, as specified in the policy terms and conditions.
- (5) RC is set equal to MRC.
- (6) It may be noted that the interest rate sensitivities have a different (and sometimes opposite) impact on different product categories. Hence the overall impact of such sensitivities may not be intuitive as it is due to the combined impact of how they affect different product categories.

Section 3 Formal opinion and statements

3.1. Overview

- 3.1.1. This Section sets out the various formal statements required under APS10 as well as my formal opinion in respect of the Results set out in Section 2.

3.2. Statement of materiality

- 3.2.1. As required under paragraph 2.6 of APS10, at its meeting held on 20 April 2015 the Board of Directors of the Company specified that for the derivation of the embedded value results to be prepared in accordance with the requirements of APS10, the criterion for materiality should be set at 2.5% of IEV at an aggregate level.
- 3.2.2. I note that the Results are based on the requirements of APS10 in all material respects. Based on the work carried out, it is estimated that the IEV included in this Report deviated from the requirements of APS10 by less than 0.5%.

3.3. Statements regarding signatory

- 3.3.1. I am a Fellow of the IAI and have the necessary experience to sign this Report. I am in possession of a Certificate of Practice from the IAI.
- 3.3.2. I have also had the benefit of technical expertise from staff of other group firms within Milliman Inc., including from Mr. Nick Dumbreck, a Fellow of the Institute and Faculty of Actuaries, who provided internal peer review support, and Mr. Sanket Kawatkar, a Fellow of the IAI.

3.4. Statements regarding conflict of interest and independence

- 3.4.1. I am a partner in Milliman Advisors LLP. I am signing this Report as a Fellow of the IAI.

3.7. Statement of compliance with APS10

- 3.7.1. I have fully complied with APS10 in producing the Results and this Report.

3.8. Policy data

- 3.8.1. HDFC Life has commissioned M/s. Haribhakti & Co. LLP ("Haribhakti") to review the policy data used in the calculation of the Results as per APS10 for completeness and accuracy.
- 3.8.2. We have provided input into the detailed scope of Haribhakti's work, and have seen the report issued by Haribhakti to HDFC Life setting out their findings. Haribhakti's report to HDFC Life concludes that subject to certain observations, the in-force policy data as at 31 March 2016 and 31 March 2017, the new business policy data for new business written during the year ending 31 March 2017, and the data relating to the movement of policy statuses from 31 March 2016 to 31 March 2017, are complete and accurate.

- 3.8.3. Based on our review of Haribhakti's report, we note that appropriate checks have been applied to the data used for the development of the Results and the observations made by Haribhakti do not give rise to any material concerns.

 - the assumptions used to develop the Results are reasonable;
 - the Results have been prepared materially in accordance with the methodology and assumptions described in this Report; and
 - the Results have been prepared in accordance with the requirements of APS10 and within the materiality limit set by the Board of Directors of the Company.

Section 4 Methodology

4.1. Overview

4.1.1. This Section sets out the significant aspects of the methodology used in the preparation of the Results.

4.1.2. HDFC Life writes the following lines of life insurance business, covering both individual and group products:

- Unit-linked Insurance Plans – premiums net of charges are credited to segregated funds (“Unit Funds”) at the prevailing unit price, with the balance invested in the non-participating fund. Investment income on assets held within the Unit Funds is credited to the Unit Funds and is reflected by a change in the unit price. Benefits paid under these plans are a combination of amounts from the accumulated Unit Funds and any additional benefits from the non-participating fund. Any surplus arising in the non-participating fund is transferred to the shareholders’ account following the annual statutory valuation.
- Participating insurance plans – premiums are credited to, and benefits and expenses debited from, segregated funds (the “participating funds”). Subject to surplus being available in the participating funds, policyholder benefits may be enhanced by the annual declaration of a bonus. A maximum of one-ninth of the cost of any bonus declared to policyholders may be transferred from the participating funds to the shareholders’ account. After the annual statutory valuation, should there be a surplus remaining in the participating funds after transfers to the shareholders’ account are effected, the surplus will be transferred to the Funds for Future Appropriation (“FFA”), and will be available to fund bonuses (and associated transfers to shareholders) in subsequent years.
- Traditional non-participating insurance plans - premiums are credited to, and benefits and expenses debited from, the non-participating fund. The maturity/survival benefits paid and premiums due are fixed at the inception of the contract. Any surplus arising in the non-participating fund is transferred to the shareholders’ account following the annual statutory valuation. This line of business includes savings products, term assurances, health assurances and annuities.

4.2. Reliance on policy data and other information

4.2.1. We have relied on the policy data and other information provided by the Company as outlined in Section 6.1.5. As noted in Section 3.8, we have also reviewed the various checks applied on the policy data used in the calculation of the Results.

4.3. Model checking and reliances

4.3.1. The Results were prepared using actuarial models developed by HDFC Life.

4.3.2. The scope of our engagement requires Milliman to independently check the actuarial models used to develop the Results for plans that represent a significant and material proportion of the total value of the in-force and new business portfolio.

4.3.3. Milliman has performed the following independent checks on the actuarial models used in the preparation of the Results:

- IEV and VNB under base scenario: Independent checking of the PVFP and VNB at an aggregate level for products comprising approximately 93% of the PVFP and 94% of the VNB;
- IEV and VNB under sensitivities: Independent checking of the PVFP and VNB sensitivity results at an aggregate level, in respect of ten products;
- Analysis of movement of IEV: Independent checking of the actuarial models used to develop analysis of movement cash flows for sample model points, for products equating to approximately 90% of the PVFP.

- 4.3.4. In addition to the independent checks of the IEV and VNB sensitivity results at an aggregate level for the ten products, we have also performed high level checks on the reasonableness of the results for all sensitivity analyses.
- 4.3.5. We have also carried out reasonableness checks on additional items (such as the release of 'global reserves' held by the Company) that are calculated outside of the actuarial projection models.
- 4.3.6. The checks referred to in 4.3.3 were performed for a selection of products from the main product categories of the Company, covering a wide variety of product features. We have not performed checks on the models for all of the Company's products.
- 4.3.7. Our focus has been on performing checks on the most significant product lines, by contribution to VIF and VNB. Our checks have focused on a sufficient range of products to give us confidence that the Results have been calculated in accordance with the specified methodology and assumptions.
- 4.3.8. Based on the results of the independent checking process, we are satisfied that the models used to derive the Results follow the methodology and assumptions set out in Section 4 and Section 5. No errors or issues identified in our checking process, which have a material impact on the Results, remain unresolved at the time of preparation of this Report.

4.4. IEV and VNB

Definition of IEV

- 4.4.1. The IEV set out in this Report consists of the following components:

- Adjusted net worth ("ANW"), consisting of:
 - Free surplus ("FS") allocated to the covered business;
 - Required capital ("RC"); and
- Value of in-force covered business ("VIF").

FS

- 4.4.2. The FS is the market value of any assets allocated to, but not required to support, the in-force covered business as at the valuation date.
- 4.4.3. The FS has been determined as the adjusted net worth of the Company (being the net shareholders' funds as shown in the audited financial statements, adjusted to revalue assets to market value), less the RC as defined below. The adjustment to market value reflected here is in respect of all assets of the Company other than those in the policyholders' participating funds, the market value of which is reflected in calculating the VIF arising from the participating business.
- 4.4.4. The Company has no subordinated or contingent debt.
- 4.4.5. The FFA, which comprises all funds, the allocation of which, either to policyholders or to shareholders, has not been determined at the valuation date, is reported as policyholders' funds in the audited financial statements of the Company. The Company has FFA only in respect of participating business. The shareholders have a 10% interest in the FFA in respect of participating business.
- 4.4.6. The FFA is not included in the ANW. The value of the shareholders' interest in the FFA is included in the VIF, with an allowance for taxation on the investment income earned on, and investment management expenses associated with holding, this FFA.

- 4.4.7. The audited Indian GAAP balance sheets of the Company as at 31 March 2016 and 31 March 2017 are summarized in the table below:

	As at 31 March 2016	As at 31 March 2017

- 4.4.8. A reconciliation between the ANW and the Indian GAAP balance sheet is set out in the table below:

Components	As at 31 March 2016	As at 31 March 2017
From Indian GAAP balance sheet
Total shareholders' funds (A)	31,586	38,387
Net worth (B = A)	31,586	38,387
Adjustments
Mark to market of assets, net of tax (C)	1,401	3,081
Adjustment for un-utilised credit for service tax advance (D)	(109)	(35)
Adjusted net worth (ANW) (E = B + C + D)	32,878	41,432

Amounts in INR million; Figures may not add up due to rounding

- 4.4.9. The adjustment labelled “mark to market of assets” in the table above is in respect of assets in the non-linked non-participating business and shareholders’ funds as reflected in the audited balance sheet, and is net of applicable tax payable thereon.
- 4.4.10. The adjustment made in the ANW for un-utilised credit for service tax advance removes these assets from the calculation of the ANW, as they are included in the calculation of VIF.

RC

- 4.4.11. RC is the amount of assets attributed to the covered business over and above that required to back liabilities for covered business, the distribution of which to shareholders is restricted. The amount of RC is presented from a shareholders’ perspective and is net of funding sources other than shareholder resources.
- 4.4.12. The RC is set equal to the higher of ‘Minimum Regulatory Capital’ (“MRC” or “solvency capital”) and the amount of capital required to meet internal objectives (“Internal Capital”), less the FFA in the participating funds.
- 4.4.13. The MRC is 150% of the factor-based solvency requirements as required by existing regulations, whereas the Company’s target is to maintain the Internal Capital at 170% of the factor-based regulatory solvency requirements.
- 4.4.14. The FFA in respect of participating business is assumed to be available to fund the capital requirements of the Company, in line with the actual practice adopted by the Company and as supported by an external legal opinion.
- 4.4.15. In projecting the RC the Company has also allowed for funding the same with the projected FFA.

VIF

- 4.4.16. The VIF consists of the following components:
- the present value of future profits (“PVFP”); adjusted for
 - the time value of financial options and guarantees (“TVFOG”);
 - the frictional costs of required capital (“FC”); and
 - the cost of residual non-hedgeable risks (“CRNHR”).

PVFP

- 4.4.17. The PVFP is the present value of projected distributable profits to shareholders arising from the in-force covered business, determined by projecting the post taxation shareholder cash flows from the in-force covered business and the assets backing the associated liabilities.
- 4.4.18. The distributable profits also include the release to shareholders of amounts from the participating business FFA, calculated based on the policyholder bonuses projected to be declared from such amounts.
- 4.4.19. For products with reviewable rates and charges, the projection of future cash flows assumes that the scales of rates and charges as at the valuation date remain unchanged.
- 4.4.20. The projection of future distributable profits arising from the covered business is carried out using ‘best estimate’ non-economic assumptions and market consistent economic assumptions. Assumptions are discussed further in Section 5.
- 4.4.21. Distributable profits are determined by reference to liabilities calculated in accordance with the Indian statutory requirements for life insurance companies and relevant professional guidance issued by the IAI.
- 4.4.22. The Company holds ‘global reserves’ (e.g. reserves for incurred but not reported claims, reserves for additional expenses under a 'closure to new business' scenario etc.) as at the applicable valuation dates that are calculated outside of its actuarial models. Wherever appropriate, the shareholders' interest in the assets backing such global reserves is calculated by assuming a suitable release pattern of such reserves.

TVFOG

- 4.4.23. The TVFOG reflects the value of the additional cost to shareholders that may arise from the embedded financial options and guarantees attaching to the covered business in the event of future adverse market movements. The intrinsic value of such options and guarantees is reflected in the PVFP.
- 4.4.24. APS10 requires that a stochastic approach is used to determine the TVFOG using methods and assumptions consistent with the underlying embedded value. Economic assumptions are chosen such that projected cash flows are valued in line with the price of similar cash flows that are traded in the capital markets.
- 4.4.25. In accordance with APS10, in arriving at the Results, the TVFOG has been considered for all non-linked products and ULIPs that contain financial options and guarantees.
- 4.4.26. The main types of investment guarantees in the Company's portfolio are as follows:
 - Unit-linked business:
 - a. For the 'Crest' product, the Company offers a highest net asset value guarantee ("Highest NAV"), wherein the NAV used to calculate maturity benefits is guaranteed to be not lower than the higher of:
 - Highest NAV attained during the seven years from the launch of the Highest NAV fund; and
 - INR 15 per unit.
 - b. For the products launched since the IRDAI (Linked Insurance Products) Regulations, 2013 took effect, the Company is required to add non-negative clawback additions ("NNCA") to a policy after the fifth policy year, if the gap between the yield earned by the policyholder (ignoring the mortality charges) and the yield on the underlying unit fund is more than the stipulated levels.
 - c. For some individual pension products, there are minimum investment return guarantees on maturity and death of the policyholder.
 - d. For pension group fund management business, the benefit on exit of a member is guaranteed to be not less than the premiums paid.
 - Participating business: the sum assured and any accrued bonuses are guaranteed on death and maturity.
 - Traditional group fund management products: The account value paid on exit is subject to limits on the applicability of market-value adjustments.
- 4.4.27. Based on the analysis performed by the Company, it was determined that the TVFOG in respect of guarantees other than that for ULIP NNCA and Highest NAV and participating business as described above would be small and can be ignored.
- 4.4.28. For the Highest NAV guarantees, an estimated cost of the guarantees (based on the accumulated guarantee charges received on this business) is reflected in the calculation of PVFP and hence no separate TVFOG is calculated for the same.
- 4.4.29. Where a TVFOG is calculated, stochastic methods are used. The economic assumptions underlying the stochastic model used are described in Section 5.

4.4.30. With the exception of the participating business, where regard is had to the management actions available to the Company in line with the internal bonus management framework, no other management actions are material for the assessment of the TVFOG.

4.4.31. No allowance was made for dynamic policyholder behaviour under different scenarios. This simplification is considered to have an immaterial impact on the evaluation of the TVFOG.

FC

4.4.32. The VIF includes an allowance for the FC of RC for the covered business. The FC represents the investment management expenses and taxation costs associated with holding the RC.

4.4.33. The VIF also includes an allowance for the FC in respect of the capital invested in the Company's subsidiaries, HDFC PMC Company and HDFC IL.

CRNHR

4.4.34. The CRNHR is an allowance for risks to shareholder value to the extent that these are not already allowed for in the TVFOG or the PVFP. In particular, the CRNHR makes allowance for:

- asymmetries in the impact of the risks on shareholder value; and
- risks that are not allowed for in the TVFOG or the PVFP (e.g. operational risk).

4.4.35. As required under paragraph 6.15 of APS10, we have also considered whether an additional allowance is required for uncertainty in the 'best estimate' of shareholder cash flows resulting from non-hedgeable risks (both symmetric and asymmetric).

4.4.36. The only material risks identified which are not taken into account in the calculation of PVFP or TVFOG are:

- operational risk;
- mortality and lapse experience (including mass lapse) risk;
- mortality catastrophe risk; and
- expense risk.

4.4.37. Out of these material risks identified, mortality catastrophe risks, operational risks and mass lapse risks are expected to have an asymmetrical impact on shareholder value.

4.4.38. The CRNHR has been determined for the Results using a cost of capital approach. The CRNHR is the present value of the cost of capital charge levied on the projected capital in respect of the material risks (both symmetric and asymmetric) identified above. The Company has determined the cost of capital charge to be 4.0% per annum as at 31 March 2016 and 3.5% per annum as at 31 March 2017.

4.4.39. The projection of capital required to calculate the CRNHR is determined as follows:

- As required under paragraph 6.18 of APS10, the capital required as at the valuation date in respect of each residual non-hedgeable risk was determined using an economic capital model developed by the Company. The approach is based on the method and parameters set out in the Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2015/35 issued on 10 October 2014 by the European Commission ("Solvency II").
- The quantum of capital for each risk factor was determined by considering the impact on the PVFP of applying a shock intended to be a reasonable estimate of the 99.5th percentile for that risk over a one year time horizon. These shocks are based on those specified in Solvency II.
- The model evaluates capital in respect of mortality, lapse (including a 'mass' lapse), expense, mortality catastrophe and operational risks.

- The aggregate capital required in respect of the residual non-hedgeable risks as at the valuation date was determined after allowing for diversification of these risks using a risk correlation matrix. Allowance was made for diversification only amongst the non-hedgeable risks.
- The capital required in respect of non-hedgeable risks was projected over the remaining life of the in-force portfolio in line with identified drivers of capital requirements for each risk. These drivers were chosen having regard to the nature of the particular risks.

4.4.40. For the calculation of VNB, the CRNHR is estimated by deducting the CRNHR as at 31 March 2017 in respect of the business that was in-force as at 31 March 2016, from the CRNHR as at 31 March 2017 in respect of the total business in-force at that time.

New business and renewals

- 4.4.41. The VIF includes the value of expected renewal premiums on the in-force business, including any foreseeable variations in the level of renewal premiums, but excludes any value relating to future new business (i.e. the new business that may be written after the applicable valuation date).
- 4.4.42. The VNB calculated reflects the additional value to shareholders created through the activity of writing new business over the year ending on the valuation date, and includes the value of expected renewal premiums on that new business. The VNB is calculated as at the valuation date (in the same way as the VIF), by accumulating the cash-flows during the year preceding the valuation date to the valuation date using the risk free yield curve applicable to the quarter in which the business was written (see Section 4.4.46).
- 4.4.43. New business is defined as that arising from the sale of new contracts during the year ending 31 March 2017. New business does not include top-up premiums received on ULIPs, which are reflected in the calculation of VIF. However, any additional contribution on group business (due to increased membership or increase in contributions) or increased benefits on individual protection products is classified as new business.
- 4.4.44. The new business comprises both individual and group policies sold during the year ending 31 March 2017, including the expected renewal premiums and expected future contractual alterations to those contracts.
- 4.4.45. The revival of lapsed policies during the year ending 31 March 2017 is not included in the new business, but is reflected in the calculation of VIF.
- 4.4.46. The VNB is based on the non-economic assumptions applicable as at 31 March 2017. The economic assumptions are based on the reference rates at the beginning of each financial quarter during which the new business is sold.
- 4.4.47. The VNB takes into account acquisition commissions and acquisition expenses at the unit cost level incurred in the full year up to 31 March 2017.
- 4.4.48. Along with the VNB, the “VNB Margin” and PVNBP are also calculated. These are derived as follows:
- VNB Margin: VNB divided by new business APE written during the year ending 31 March 2017. The new business APE is calculated as the sum of instalment premiums, multiplied by the frequency of premium payment (i.e. 1 for annual, 2 for semi-annual, 4 for quarterly and 12 for monthly) in respect of the regular premium new business written, plus one-tenth of single premiums for single premium new business written.
 - PVNBP: This is calculated at the point of sale, by discounting the future premiums for the new business written during the year ending 31 March 2017. The discount rates used are as follows:
 - a. During the period from point of sale until 31 March 2017 – the reference rates used in the calculation of VNB; and

b. For the period after 31 March 2017 – the reference rates used in the calculation of VIF.

4.5. Analysis of movement of IEV

4.5.1. The various components of the analysis of movement of IEV are derived as set out in the table below. These are presented in the sequence in which the calculations are performed, as opposed to the sequence in which the results are presented in the table in Section 2.3.6.

Components	Description
Opening IEV as at 31 March 2016	Opening IEV using the opening economic and non-economic assumptions.
Opening adjustments (modelling changes)	Modelling changes from the opening IEV to closing IEV.
Change in operating assumptions	Change of non-economic assumptions from opening IEV to closing IEV. Also includes all changes in statutory reserving basis from opening IEV to closing IEV.
VNB added during the period	As per the approach described in Section 4.4.42.
Change in economic assumptions	Calculated as the change in the opening VIF and the VNB due to the update of the reference rate yield curves assumed from opening IEV (or quarter specific VNB calculations) to closing IEV.
Expected return on existing business	Calculated as: (1) Unwind of the opening VIF at the opening reference rates; (2) Expected investment income on ANW at opening reference rates; and (3) Expected excess 'real world' investment return during the year over the opening reference rates on VIF, ANW and VNB.
Expected transfers from VIF and RC to FS	Calculated as: (1) Profits / losses that are expected to be generated from the opening VIF during the first projection year that would be transferred to FS; and (2) Change in RC expected from the opening VIF to closing VIF.

Components	Description
Variance in operating experience	(1) These are analysed at a policy level, by considering the actual change in the policy status from the opening IEV to the closing IEV dates. (2) The calculation is carried out in the following order as the difference between 'actual' and 'expected': <ol style="list-style-type: none"> All policy cancellation / lapse / surrender rates (net of reinstatements), partial withdrawal rates, and premium discontinuance rates (net of premium revival) Mortality / morbidity rates Expenses. (3) A parameter is left at the 'expected' level until the variance from the parameter is analysed, after which, it is left at the 'actual' level. (4) At the aggregate level, the modelled cash-flows during the year are compared against the revenue account of the Company for the year ending 31 March 2017 for consistency and the differences are allocated as operating variances in different parameters as set out above. Any remaining difference is recognized and shown as 'other variance'.
Economic variances	The difference between the actual investment return and the expected 'real world' rates during the year ending 31 March 2017.
Capital contributions / (dividends paid out)	Actual capital infusions from / dividends paid to the shareholders (including dividend distribution tax incurred) during the year ending 31 March 2017.
Closing IEV as at 31 March 2017	Calculated using the closing economic and non-economic assumptions.

4.6. Sensitivity results

- 4.6.1. The various sensitivity analyses carried out are listed under Sections 2.3.7 and 2.3.8 earlier in the Report.
- 4.6.2. The sensitivity analyses are carried out for one parameter at a time and do not include changes in other parameters not explicitly mentioned.

Section 5 Assumptions

5.1. Overview

- 5.1.1. This Section provides a detailed description of how each of the assumptions used in the calculation of the Results are derived.
- 5.1.2. The economic assumptions are chosen so as to be internally consistent and are determined, so far as possible, with the intention that projected cash flows are valued in line with the prices of similar cash flows that are traded on the capital markets in India as at the applicable valuation date.
- 5.1.3. Paragraph 7.1 of APS10 requires that the assessment of appropriate assumptions for future experience should have regard to past, current and expected future experience and to any other relevant data.
- 5.1.4. The environment in which HDFC Life operates is dynamic and has been changing rapidly. Although the Company has significant operating experience covering mortality and lapses for many product classes that has been used to derive the 'best estimate' assumptions for such classes, there is a shortage of relevant experience data and hence uncertainty regarding future experience for other risk factors. As specified in paragraph 7.3 of APS10, consideration has also been given to the general experience within the Indian life insurance industry where relevant.
- 5.1.5. As required under paragraphs 6.14 and 7.1 of APS10, the non-economic projection assumptions are set to be 'best estimate' assumptions (where 'best estimate' reflects the mean expectation of outcomes of that risk variable) and have been determined on a going concern basis, assuming the continuation of the economic and legal environment currently in place in India.
- 5.1.6. The assumptions set are reasonable and not inconsistent with our understanding of wider industry experience.

5.2. Mortality and morbidity

- 5.2.1. The best estimate mortality and morbidity assumptions, specific to different product types, are set based on the Company's own recent experience up to 31 December 2015 (in respect of IEV results as at 31 March 2016) and up to 31 October 2016 (in respect of IEV results as at 31 March 2017).
- 5.2.2. Allowance is made for future improvement in policyholder longevity for annuities.
- 5.2.3. The assumed mortality rates are based on the standard mortality table for assured lives, Indian Assured Lives Mortality (2006-08) Ultimate (IALM06-08) for non-annuity products, and LIC (a) (96-98) Ultimate for annuity products, for each age and adjusted for the Company's own experience for each product class, gender and other factors.
- 5.2.4. The assumed morbidity rates are based on pricing assumptions and adjusted for the Company's own experience, wherever credible.

5.3. Policy / premium discontinuance rates, partial withdrawal rates and revival rates

- 5.3.1. The best estimate policy / premium discontinuance assumptions, the partial withdrawal rates and the revival rates, specific to different product types and duration in-force, are set based on the Company's own experience (if credible) up to 31 December 2015 and 31 December 2016 in respect of IEV results as at 31 March 2016 and 31 March 2017 respectively, or on pricing assumptions / industry benchmarks (otherwise). These assumptions for the top five products (by contribution to each of VIF and VNB) are summarised in Appendix A.
- 5.3.2. As required by APS10, the historical persistency rates over the past three years ending 31 March 2017 are set out in the Appendix A.

5.4. Commission and expenses

- 5.4.1. The expense assumptions are set after considering an analysis of the Company's actual expenses for the year ending 31 March 2016 and 31 March 2017 for the IEV results as at the applicable valuation dates respectively. These expenses were analysed between those relating to the acquisition of new business, the renewal and maintenance of business and investment expenses. All expenses incurred by the Company (except the one-off costs of INR 266 million in relation to IPO preparatory work and other transactions) have been reflected in the assumed unit costs.
- 5.4.2. The IEV makes an allowance for investment expenses and all future renewal and other maintenance expenses required to manage the in-force business.
- 5.4.3. When setting the expense assumptions no productivity gains / cost efficiencies have been anticipated after the applicable valuation date.
- 5.4.4. The commission rates for different products are based on the actual commission payable (if any) to the distributors.
- 5.4.5. As required in Appendix A of APS10, the actual expense levels (excluding commissions) over the past three years ending 31 March 2017 are set out in the table below:

Category	FY2014-15	FY2015-16	FY2016-17
Expenses reflected in the IEV and VNB
Acquisition	13,077	16,647	21,546
Maintenance (including investment expenses and claims expenses)	1,805	2,015	2,201
Sub-total (A)	14,882	18,662	23,747
Service Tax (B)	8	57	106
Total expenses as per Schedule 3 of the financial statements (C = A + B)	14,890	18,718	23,853

Amounts in INR million; Figures may not add up due to rounding

5.5. Inflation

- 5.5.1. There is no deep and liquid market of Indian Rupee index-linked securities, from which a market consistent estimate of future price inflation might be derived. Consequently, the expense inflation assumption is based on the Company's estimate of long-term inflation of its operating expenses.
- 5.5.2. The assumed expense inflation rate applied to per policy expense loadings is 7.5% p.a. for the valuations as at 31 March 2016 and 31 March 2017.

5.6. Policyholder bonuses

- 5.6.1. In accordance with the Company's internal bonus management framework policyholder bonuses are set to ensure, amongst other things:
- pay-outs that reflect the experience of the policy during the period the policy participated in the profits of the participating fund;
 - pay-outs on maturity/death that are fair between different policy types and different generations of policyholders; and
 - pay-outs on surrender that are fair between the leaving policyholders and remaining policyholders.

- 5.6.2. In determining the Results, future bonuses on participating business have been projected in a manner consistent with this bonus policy, the projected future investment returns assumed to be earned on the assets deemed to back the policies, and relevant statutes and regulations.
- 5.6.3. The projection carried out in respect of the participating business includes a projection of the participating FFA, with an allowance for taxation on the investment income earned on, and investment management expenses associated with holding this FFA. The projected FFA is assumed to be used to meet the projected capital requirements of the Company.
- 5.6.4. After ten years from the applicable valuation date, a part of the projected FFA is used to increase bonus payments to policyholders each year thereafter, with the associated transfer to shareholders included in the computation of the value to shareholders arising from the participating business.
- 5.6.5. At the end of the projection period, some assets ("residual FFA") remain in the participating funds as unallocated surplus. In line with relevant regulations and the Company's practices, the shareholders' interest in the residual FFA is taken to be 10% of its market value. In practice, the residual FFA could have been distributed earlier in the projection period.

5.7. Reinsurance

- 5.7.1. The cost (and benefit) of reinsurance is allowed for in the Results. Reinsurance cash flows for proportional reinsurance treaties are modelled explicitly at the policy level.

5.8. Asset values

- 5.8.1. The IEV results are based on the market value of assets as at the applicable valuation date. No smoothing is applied to the market values.

5.9. Reference rates

- 5.9.1. The reference rate is a proxy for a risk free rate appropriate to the currency, term and liquidity of the liability cash flows.
- 5.9.2. The reference rates were derived from the prices of Indian government securities using data supplied by the Clearing Corporation of India Limited ("CCIL"). CCIL derives the yields using a Nelson-Siegel-Svensson ("NSS") curve fitting process applied to market data.
- 5.9.3. For the IEV as at 31 March 2016, the yield curve is extrapolated beyond 30 years by changing the yields for each successive year up to year 40, by the average of the difference in yields from years 27 and 30. For the IEV as at 31 March 2017, the yield curve is available up to year 40. Beyond year 40, the yields are assumed to remain the same as those applicable at year 40.
- 5.9.4. The reference rates used for calculating the VIF were derived as at the applicable valuation date (i.e. either 31 March 2016 or 31 March 2017), whereas those for VNB were derived as at 31 March 2016; 30 June 2016; 30 September 2016 and 31 December 2016 for the new business sold during the first four quarters of the year ending 31 March 2017 respectively. The extrapolation methods for the reference rates used in VNB calculations are consistent with those described in Section 5.9.3.
- 5.9.5. A test is performed on the yield curves so derived to ensure that they produce the market value of the Government securities held by the Company as at the applicable valuation dates and financial quarter ends.
- 5.9.6. For the non-participating annuity liabilities, the same reference rate was used as for other business. In principle, the reference rate could have been modified to include an illiquidity premium reflecting the ability of the Company to match the illiquid annuity liability cash flows with appropriate long-dated securities earning an illiquidity premium. The effect of this assumption is not material in the context of the Results. The non-participating annuity liability reserves amounted to approximately INR 9.2 billion as at 31 March 2016 and INR 12.8 billion as at 31 March 2017 (approximately 1.3% and 1.5% of statutory reserves as at these dates respectively).

Tenor (years)	Reference rates
	For VIF		For VNB
	31 March 2017	31 March 2016	31 March 2016	30 June 2016	30 September 2016	31 December 2016
1	6.18%	7.17%	7.17%	6.99%	6.72%	6.36%
5	7.61%	8.15%	8.15%	8.02%	7.32%	7.32%
10	7.85%	8.27%	8.27%	8.17%	7.50%	7.52%
15	7.86%	8.33%	8.33%	8.14%	7.51%	7.53%
20	7.86%	8.39%	8.39%	8.12%	7.50%	7.53%
25	7.86%	8.43%	8.43%	8.11%	7.49%	7.53%
30	7.86%	8.45%	8.45%	8.11%	7.49%	7.53%

5.10. Investment returns and discount rates

- 5.10.1. The PVFP was determined assuming that assets earn, before tax and investment management expenses, the reference rates, and discounting all cash flows using reference rates which are gross of tax and investment management expenses.
- 5.10.2. In the analysis of movement of IEV, the assumed 'real world' investment returns for the year ending 31 March 2017 are set by line of business, based on the strategic allocations to various asset classes and the expected returns on these asset classes for each line of business.

5.11. Stochastic asset model

- 5.11.1. A risk-neutral stochastic model has been used to evaluate the TVFOG for those products where the TVFOG is material.
- 5.11.2. Interest rates and equities were covered by the stochastic model. In particular:
- The stochastic interest rate model is a 2-factor Cox-Ingersoll-Ross model. Although the model does not exactly replicate the input yield curve, it is ensured that the differences between the input yield curve and the modelled yield curve are minor.
 - The remaining parameters were chosen to reflect best estimate interest rate volatility over the long term. The long term volatility parameters have been calibrated to the following swaption surface:

At-The-Money Swaption Implied Volatility Surface
Option Expiry (years)	Swap Tenor (years)

- The stochastic model used to calculate the opening IEV results as at 31 March 2016 use the equity volatility surface from the same source as given above, based on the valuation date as at 31 March 2016.
- The correlation parameter between the equity prices and the interest rates are set based on historical prices. For equity prices, the NIFTY index is used and for interest rate prices, INR overnight index swap curve indices are used.

5.12. Taxation

- 5.12.1. In calculating the Results, allowance has been made for future taxes expected to be incurred by the Company. This includes both corporate tax and service tax.
- 5.12.2. The Company has exhausted its historical tax credits as at the applicable valuation date (i.e. there are no Deferred Tax Assets) and hence no value is placed on the same.
- 5.12.3. The rate of income tax applied to surplus emerging from life assurance business is set equal to 12.5% (increased by the tax surcharge of 12% and the education cess of 3%). The resulting effective tax rate is 14.42%. The rate of taxation applied to pension business is zero. The taxation reflected in the Results assumes that a proportion of projected profits are tax exempt, given the tax deductions available to the Company on account of dividend income from investments in equity shares and income from investments in tax free bonds being considered as exempt from income tax. This assumption results in an additional value of INR 2.0 billion as at 31 March 2016 and 1.7 billion as at 31 March 2017 as reflected in the IEV, and INR 0.3 billion as reflected in the VNB.
- 5.12.4. The Company charges service tax on premiums from non-linked products and charges under ULIPs. The Company also receives credit for service tax included in the expenses incurred.
- 5.12.5. As discussed in Section 4.4.10, the service tax assets not included as part of ANW are reflected in VIF by releasing the same at the start of the projection. The allowance for future service tax is reflected in the projection models as follows:
 - for traditional business, the future renewal premiums are modelled net of service tax;
 - for ULIPs, the service tax on various charges is deducted from the unit fund and is assumed as an immediate outgo;
 - any reinsurance premiums are modelled net of service tax;
 - the expense loadings are based on net of service tax expenses of the Company; and
 - the distributor commission modelled is net of service tax charged to the distributor (wherever applicable).

5.12.6. The assumed service tax rates are as follows:

- from 1 April 2016 to 31 May 2016: 14.5%; and
- from 1 June 2016 onwards: 15%.

5.13. Statutory reserving and capital requirements

5.13.1. The projections have been prepared assuming the application of and continuation of the valuation basis which complies with regulations and professional guidance applicable to statutory valuations, as selected by the Appointed Actuary of the Company as at the applicable valuation dates. The assumptions used in the statutory valuation are best-estimate but with an additional margin for adverse deviation. The approach adopted in calculating reserves is broadly described as follows:

- For ULIPs, the statutory reserve is set as the sum of the value of units allocated to the policy, plus a non-unit reserve. The non-unit reserve uses a Gross Premium Valuation methodology ("GPV") considering charges, expenses and any non-unit benefits, subject to a minimum of one month's unexpired risk charge.
- For participating plans, the reserve is the higher of the GPV and surrender value at a policy level, with a minimum floor of asset shares at a product level, wherein the GPV considers all future premiums, benefits, expenses, future reversionary and terminal bonuses consistent with the valuation rate of interest and shareholder transfers and taxes based thereon. The asset share represents the retrospective accumulation of premiums with actual investment return earned and deductions for expenses, cost of providing mortality benefits, cost of capital, tax etc.
- For traditional non-participating plans, the reserve is calculated as the greater of a GPV calculation (considering premiums, benefits and expenses) and the surrender value.

5.13.2. Additional reserves are established for other lines of business and also for other risks identified by the Appointed Actuary such as to provide for incurred but not reported claims, or to provide for additional expenses in a new business discontinuance scenario, or to provide for the risk of strain upon revival of a lapsed policy etc.

5.13.3. The MRC is calculated in accordance with the applicable regulatory requirements.

5.13.4. For the various sensitivity analyses, the reserves are re-calculated using the assumptions as applicable for the given sensitivity.

Section 6 Reliances and limitations

6.1. Reliances

- 6.1.1. As set out in our engagement letter dated 8 June 2017, the scope of our work covers the following:
- to review the methodology and assumptions adopted by the Company for compliance with the relevant IEV principles;
 - to conduct independent checking of HDFC Life's actuarial models for plans that represent a significant proportion of the total value of the in-force and new business portfolio;
 - to review the IEV as at 31 March 2017, the analysis of movement of IEV over the past one year, the VNB for the year ending 31 March 2017 and the various sensitivity analyses as required by APS10;
 - to draft this Report;
 - to prepare 'internal documentation' for HDFC Life summarizing the work carried out as part of this review.
- 6.1.2. This Report has been prepared solely for use by the management of HDFC Life for inclusion in the formal disclosures required as part of the IPO process. It should not be relied upon for any other purpose but may be provided to the Company's advisors on the IPO for use in conducting and documenting their due diligence of the Company, in connection with the offering of securities in the IPO.
- 6.1.3. The Report is intended to provide certain actuarial information and analyses that would assist a qualified actuary, technically competent in the area of actuarial appraisals, to develop an estimate of the components of economic value as described earlier in this Report. In order to fully comprehend the Report, any user of the Report should be advised by an actuary with a substantial level of expertise in areas relevant to this analysis to appreciate the significance of the underlying assumptions and the impact of those assumptions on the Results. The Report must be considered in its entirety as individual Sections, if considered in isolation, may be misleading.
- 6.1.4. In carrying out the work and producing this Report, we have relied on information supplied by the management and staff of HDFC Life. Reliance was placed on, but not limited to, the general accuracy of all the information provided to us.
- 6.1.5. In particular we have relied on:
- the Prophet actuarial model and other models developed by the Company to derive the various Results. However, we have applied various checks on the models of the Company as set out in Section 4.3;
 - the accuracy and completeness of the policy data covering in-force and new business policies and the various checks applied thereon;
 - details of product features, policy terms and conditions including surrender and cash value bases as set out in the 'File and Use' documents provided to us by the Company for each of the products;
 - information on reinsurance arrangements and terms and conditions as provided to us by the Company;
 - experience investigations relating to current and historical operating experience of the Company;
 - information on expense experience analyses performed by the Company;
 - audited financial statements for the years ending 31 March 2016 and 31 March 2017 as provided to us by the Company;

- the Appointed Actuary's report on the statutory liability valuation of the Company for financial years ending 31 March 2016 and 31 March 2017;
- asset valuations (book and market value) for investments of the Company as set out in the audited financial statements at 31 March 2016 and 31 March 2017, and the market value adjustments as provided to us by the Company;
- information on the Company's practices in determining bonuses on participating business;
- the Company's internal economic capital model used for the purpose of calculation of the CRNHR; and
- the Company's economic scenarios used in the determination of the TVFOG, although we have reviewed the results of the statistical tests applied to the economic scenarios and believe they are appropriate for the purposes of APS10 paragraph 6.3.

6.1.6. We have obtained a management representation letter from HDFC Life, stating that the data and information provided to us is accurate and complete and that there are no material inaccuracies and omissions therein and as represented in this Report.

6.1.7. The Report is based on the data and information available to Milliman up to 17 August 2017 and takes no account of the data, information and clarifications received after that date. We are under no obligation to update or correct inaccuracies which may become apparent in the Report as a consequence of this.

6.2. Limitations

6.2.1. Unless explicitly stated, we have performed no audit or independent verification of the information furnished to us. To the extent that there are any material errors in the information provided to us, the Results may be affected as well.

6.2.2. An IEV disclosure necessarily requires assumptions to be made about future operating experience and for these to be reflected in the determination of the components of the IEV. As per APS10, none of the Results in this Report are intended to represent forward-looking statements for the purposes of Securities and Exchange Board of India ("SEBI") listing rules.

6.2.3. An actuarial assessment of the components of value of a life insurance company will not necessarily be consistent with the value of a life insurance company or a portfolio in the open market and should not be interpreted in that manner. Rather, it is derived from a projection of future earnings and, therefore, reflects the value of the earnings potential of a block of in-force or new business under a specific set of assumptions. The value of any business enterprise is a matter of informed judgment. Different parties will arrive at different values depending upon their outlook, their assessment of the future operating assumptions, and upon the opportunities they see for the Company in the future. Judgements as to the contents of this Report should be made only after studying the Report in its entirety, together with the rest of the Draft Red Herring Prospectus ("DRHP"), Red Herring Prospectus ("RHP") or Prospectus, as a review of a single section or sections on an isolated basis may not provide sufficient information to draw appropriate conclusions. Milliman does not authorise or cause the issue of the DRHP or RHP and takes no responsibility for its contents other than this Report.

6.2.4. The Results shown in this Report are based on a series of assumptions as to the future operating experience. It should be recognised that actual Results will differ from those shown in the Report, on account of changes in the operating and economic environment and natural variations in experience. To the extent actual experience is different from the assumptions underlying this Report, the future projected profits from which the Results are derived will also differ. This Report includes various sensitivity results to illustrate how vulnerable the various results are to changes in assumptions for the key risks. The Results shown are presented at the applicable valuation dates stated in this Report and no warranty is given by Milliman that future experience after these applicable valuation dates will be in line with the assumptions made.

- 6.2.5. The projections and values presented in this Report have been determined on a “going concern” basis, and assume a stable economic, legal and regulatory environment going forward. The reader of this Report should be aware that any change in the general operating environment would add a high degree of uncertainty to the Results presented.
- 6.2.6. Unless explicitly stated, the Results do not consider any external (including regulatory and taxation) developments after 31 March 2017.
- 6.2.7. None of the values or projections set out in this Report include any allowance for withholding or other taxes (such as dividend distribution tax) that may apply to the payment of future shareholder dividends or on remittances out of India.
- 6.2.8. The allowance for taxation reflected in the Results is based on Company’s interpretation of the applicable taxation laws in India. It may be noted that neither Milliman nor its employees are experts in taxation matters. Given this, we do not make any representation on the appropriateness or otherwise of the approach adopted in allowing for taxation in the Results.
- 6.2.9. In the Results presented in this Report, no allowance is made for any claims against HDFC Life other than those made by policyholders under the normal terms of life insurance business and reflected in the Company’s audited financial statements.
- 6.2.10. In the preparation of this Report, we had access to other advisors of HDFC Life in connection with the IPO and have discussed the Report with them. We have also reviewed the relevant accompanying statements made by the Board of Directors of the Company and information provided to the Securities and Exchange Board of India in the DRHP.

6.3. Distribution

- 6.3.1. HDFC Life may publicly disclose the final signed version of this Report in its entirety. Milliman does not intend to benefit or create a legal duty to any third party recipient of its work.

Results of Indian Embedded Value as at 30 June 2017

Dear Sirs

1. Introduction

- 1.1 Pursuant to the engagement letter dated 8 June 2017, Milliman Advisors LLP ('Milliman', 'our', 'us' or 'we') has been engaged by HDFC Standard Life Insurance Company Limited ('HDFC Life', 'you', 'your' or 'the Company') to prepare a report for disclosure purposes in connection with the proposed initial public offering ('IPO') of the Company. Accordingly, the report entitled 'Report on Indian Embedded Value as at 31 March 2017' dated 17 August 2017, which is developed following the Actuarial Practice Standard 10, Version 1.02 ("APS10") issued by the Institute of Actuaries of India ("IAI") (referred to as the "APS10 Report") is submitted to the Company for inclusion in the IPO disclosures.
- 1.2 You have also requested us to prepare this report ("Supplementary Report"), which sets out the components of economic value of the Company, viz. Indian Embedded Value ("IEV") as at 30 June 2017 and the value of new business ("VNB") for new business sold during the three months ending 30 June 2017 (the "Supplementary Results").
- 1.3 For the Supplementary Results, the set materiality limit is the same as that specified by the Company's Board of Directors as noted in the APS10 Report, i.e. the criterion for materiality should be set at 2.5% of IEV at an aggregate level.
- 1.4 The Supplementary Results have been prepared using a methodology and assumptions consistent with the framework set out in APS10. However, we have not included all disclosures as required by the APS10 in this Supplementary Report. Consequently, this Supplementary Report should not be considered to be an APS10 disclosure. Moreover, this Supplementary Report should be read in conjunction with the APS10 Report and be read in its entirety, including the reliances and limitations, as this Supplementary Report or individual sections, if considered in isolation, may be misleading.
- 1.5 This Supplementary Report is subject to the terms and conditions specified in our engagement letter with the Company dated 8 June 2017.

2. Methodology

- 2.1 The methodology used to derive the Supplementary Results is consistent with that detailed in Section 4.4 of the APS10 Report.

- 2.2 A reconciliation between the adjusted net worth (“ANW”) and the Indian GAAP balance sheet is set out in the table below:

Balance sheet	As at 30 June 2017
From Indian GAAP balance sheet
Total shareholders' funds (A)	41,610
Net worth (B=A)	41,610
Adjustments
Mark to market of assets, net of tax (C)	5,512
Adjustment for un-utilised credit for service tax advance (D)	(7)
Adjusted net worth (ANW) (E= B + C + D)	47,115

Amounts in INR million; Figures may not add up due to rounding

3. Assumptions

- 3.1 The assumptions used to derive the Supplementary Results are the same as the assumptions detailed in Section 5 of the APS10 Report, with the following adjustments:
- a. Reference rates: The reference rates used in the calculation of the Supplementary Results have been derived from the same source as detailed in the APS10 Report (i.e. Clearing Corporation of India Limited) on the applicable dates. The reference rates are set out below:

Tenor (years)	Reference rates
	For Value of In-Force Business (VIF)	For VNB
	30 June 2017	31 March 2017
1	6.42%	6.18%
5	7.29%	7.61%
10	7.52%	7.85%
15	7.54%	7.86%
20	7.54%	7.86%
30	7.54%	7.86%

- b. Service tax / Goods and Services Tax (“GST”): As per the APS10 Report, the calculation of the IEV and VNB as at 31 March 2017 allowed for a projected service tax assumption of 15% p.a. With effect from 1 July 2017, following the implementation of the GST, the assumed rate of service tax (now GST) is increased from 15% p.a. to 18% p.a.

4. Model checks and reliances

- 4.1 We have relied on the policy data and other information provided by the Company as outlined in the Reliances and Limitations at the end of this Supplementary Report. The Supplementary Results were prepared using actuarial models developed by HDFC Life.
- 4.2 The scope of our engagement requires Milliman to independently check the actuarial models used to develop the Supplementary Results for plans that represent a significant and material proportion of the total value of the in-force and new business portfolio.
- 4.3 Milliman has performed independent checking of the Present Value of Future Profits (“PVFP”) of in-force business as at 30 June 2017 and VNB of new business sold during the three months ending 30 June 2017 at an aggregate level, for products comprising approximately 94% of the in-force PVFP and 95% of the VNB.
- 4.4 These checks were performed for a selection of products from the main product categories of the Company, covering a wide variety of product features. We have not performed checks on the models for all of the Company's products.

- 4.5 Our focus has been on performing checks on the most significant product lines, by their contribution to the VIF and VNB as at 30 June 2017. Our checks have focused on a sufficient range of products to give us the confidence that the Supplementary Results have been calculated in accordance with the specified methodology and assumptions.
- 4.6 We have also carried out reasonableness checks on the additional items (such as the release of 'global reserves' held by the Company) that are calculated outside of the actuarial projection models.
- 4.7 Based on the results of the independent checking process, we are satisfied that the models used to derive the Supplementary Results follow the methodology and assumptions set out in this Supplementary Report. No errors or issues identified in our checking process, which have a material impact on the Supplementary Results (the concept of 'materiality' for this purpose is discussed in Section 3.2.1 of the APS10 Report), remain unresolved at the time of preparation of this Supplementary Report.

6. Conclusion and opinion

6.1 Based on the work carried out and subject to the reliances and limitations set out in this letter, we conclude that:

- the methodology and assumptions used to develop the Supplementary Results are reasonable;
- the Results have been prepared materially in accordance with the methodology and assumptions described in the Supplementary Report; and
- the Results have been prepared in accordance with the requirements of APS10 and within the materiality limit set by the Board of Directors of the Company.

7. Reliances and Limitations

Reliances

7.1 The scope of this Supplementary Report covers the following:

- a. to review the methodology and assumptions adopted by the Company; and
- b. to review the IEV as at 30 June 2017 and the VNB for the three months ending 30 June 2017 and to conduct independent checking of HDFC Life's actuarial models for plans that represent a significant proportion of the total value of the in-force and new business portfolio.

7.2 Although this Supplementary Report provides the Supplementary Results following the framework as set out in the APS10, we have not included all disclosures as required by the APS10 in this Supplementary Report. Consequently, this Supplementary Report should not be considered to be an APS10 disclosure.

7.3 This Supplementary Report has been prepared solely for use by the management of HDFC Life for inclusion in the disclosures as part of the IPO process. It should not be relied upon for any other purpose but may be provided to the Company's advisors on the IPO for use in conducting and documenting their due diligence of the Company, in connection with the offering of securities in the IPO.

7.4 This Supplementary Report is intended to provide certain actuarial information and analyses that would assist a qualified actuary, technically competent in the area of actuarial appraisals, to develop an estimate of the Supplementary Results as described earlier in this Supplementary Report. In order to fully comprehend this Supplementary Report, any user of this Supplementary Report should be advised by an actuary with a substantial level of expertise in areas relevant to this analysis to appreciate the significance of the underlying assumptions and the impact of those assumptions on the Supplementary Results. This Supplementary Report must be considered in its entirety as individual sections, if considered in isolation, may be misleading.

7.5 In carrying out the work and producing this Supplementary Report, we have relied on information supplied by the management and staff of HDFC Life. Reliance was placed on, but not limited to, the general accuracy of all the information provided to us.

7.6 In particular we have relied on:

- a. the Prophet actuarial model and other models developed by the Company to derive the various Supplementary Results. However, we have applied various checks on the models of the Company as set out in Section 4 of this Supplementary Report;
- b. the accuracy and completeness of the policy data covering in-force and new business policies and the various checks applied thereon;
- c. details of product features, policy terms and conditions including surrender and cash value bases as set out in the 'File and Use' documents provided to us by the Company for each of the products;

- i. asset valuations (book and market value) for investments of the Company as set out in the audited financial statements as at 30 June 2017, and the market value adjustments as provided to us by the Company;
 - j. information on the Company's practices in determining bonuses on participating business;
 - k. the Company's internal economic capital model used for the purpose of calculation of the CRNHR; and
 - l. the Company's economic scenarios used in the determination of the TVFOG, although we have reviewed the results of the statistical tests applied to the economic scenarios.
- 7.7 We have obtained a management representation letter from HDFC Life, stating that the data and information provided to us is accurate and complete and that there are no material inaccuracies and omissions therein and as represented in this Supplementary Report.
- 7.8 This Supplementary Report is based on the data and information available to Milliman up to 17 August 2017 and takes no account of the data, information and clarifications received after that date. We are under no obligation to update or correct inaccuracies which may become apparent in this Supplementary Report as a consequence of this.

Limitations

- 7.9 Unless explicitly stated, we have performed no audit or independent verification of the data and information furnished to us. To the extent that there are any material errors in the data and information provided to us, the Supplementary Results may be affected as well.
- 7.10 An embedded value disclosure necessarily requires assumptions to be made about future operating experience and for these to be reflected in the determination of the components of economic value. None of the Supplementary Results in this Supplementary Report are intended to represent forward-looking statements for the purposes of Securities and Exchange Board of India ("SEBI") listing rules.
- 7.11 An actuarial assessment of the components of economic value of a life insurance company will not necessarily be consistent with the value of a life insurance company or a portfolio in the open market and should not be interpreted in that manner. Rather, it is derived from a projection of future earnings and, therefore, reflects the value of the earnings potential of a block of in-force or new business under a specific set of assumptions. The value of any business enterprise is a matter of informed judgment. Different parties will arrive at different values depending upon their outlook, their assessment of the future operating assumptions, and upon the opportunities they see for the Company in the future. Judgements as to the contents of this Supplementary Report should be made only after studying the Supplementary Report in its entirety, together with the APS10 Report, the rest of the Draft Red Herring Prospectus ("DRHP"), Red Herring Prospectus ("RHP") or Prospectus, as a review of a single section or sections on an isolated basis may not provide sufficient information to draw appropriate conclusions. Milliman does not authorise or cause the issue of the DRHP or RHP and takes no responsibility for its contents other than this Supplementary Report.
- 7.12 The Supplementary Results shown in this Supplementary Report are based on a series of assumptions as to the future operating experience. It should be recognised that actual results will differ from those shown in this Supplementary Report, on account of changes in the operating and economic environment and natural variations in experience. To the extent actual experience is different from the assumptions underlying this Supplementary Report, the future projected profits from which the Supplementary Results are derived will also differ. The Supplementary Results shown are presented at 30 June 2017 and no warranty is given by Milliman that future experience after this date will be in line with the assumptions made.
- 7.13 The projections and values presented in this Supplementary Report have been determined on a "going concern" basis, and assume a stable economic, legal and regulatory environment going forward. The reader of this Supplementary Report should be aware that any change in the general operating environment would add a high degree of uncertainty to the Supplementary Results presented.
- 7.14 Unless explicitly stated, the Supplementary Results do not consider any external (including regulatory and taxation) developments after 30 June 2017.
- 7.15 None of the values or projections set out in this Supplementary Report include any allowance for withholding or other taxes (such as dividend distribution tax) that may apply to the payment of future shareholder dividends or on remittances out of India.
- 7.16 The allowance for taxation reflected in the Supplementary Results is based on Company's interpretation of the applicable taxation laws in India. It may be noted that neither Milliman nor its employees are experts in taxation matters. Given this, we do not make any representation on the appropriateness or otherwise of the approach adopted in allowing for taxation in the Supplementary Results.

- 7.17 In the Supplementary Results, no allowance is made for any claims against HDFC Life other than those made by policyholders under the normal terms of life insurance business and reflected in the Company's audited financial statements.

Distribution

- 7.18 HDFC Life may publicly disclose the final signed version of this Supplementary Report in its entirety. Milliman does not intend to benefit or create a legal duty to any third party recipient of its work.

Yours sincerely,

Richard Holloway FIAI
Partner

4. Our Company received a show cause notice from IRDAI on October 3, 2016, subsequent to an onsite inspection conducted by IRDAI in September 2013, alleging violations of the provisions of Insurance Act and certain regulations, guidelines and circulars prescribed by IRDAI thereunder. Pursuant to a personal hearing held on November 30, 2016, IRDAI passed an order dated January 11, 2017, imposing a penalty aggregating to ₹ 1.5 million, for allegedly violating, inter alia: (i) applicable file and use guidelines

IRDAI issued a show cause notice to our Company dated August 6, 2013 in relation to non-compliance with the provisions of the IRDAI circular no IRDA/F&A/079/Feb-05 dated February 25, 2005, which pertains to the transfer of investments (assets) from shareholders’ account to policyholders’ account. Our Company had purchased immovable property for ₹ 653.50 million as ‘investment property’ during FY 2010-2011 and transferred the same to ‘fixed assets’ during the FY 2011-2012. The show cause notice states that the IRDAI circular no. IRDA/F&A/079/Feb-05 dated February 25, 2005 envisages transfer of ‘securities’ only. While our Company responded to the show cause notice as well as further clarifications sought by IRDAI, IRDAI, by virtue of its order dated June 3, 2016, held that the reclassification of the property from ‘investment property’ to ‘fixed asset’ was not acceptable. IRDAI directed our Company to ensure that policyholders’ funds are compensated to the extent of: (i) value of the property as on the date of transfer (as valued by an independent valuer); and (ii) interest compounded annually at the rate of interest on bank account calculated on the market value of the property for the period from the date of transfer to the date of infusion of policyholders’ funds. IRDAI further directed our Company to: (i) make a detailed disclosure of its direction in the matter under notes to accounts in the ensuing annual accounts; (ii) apply the revaluation reserve, if any, created on revaluation of the ‘investment property’ in accordance with the IRDA (Preparation of Financial Statements and Auditor’s Report of Insurance Companies) Regulations, 2002; (iii) place the order of IRDAI before our Board in the ensuing Board meeting; and (iv) file a report with IRDAI confirming compliance with its directions. Our Company has confirmed compliance to IRDAI by way of a letter dated May 18, 2017 issued by our Company to IRDAI. We have also presented the contents of the order of IRDAI to the Audit Committee of our Board at its meeting held on July 19, 2016.
7. Pursuant to a personal hearing held on February 14, 2012, IRDAI passed an order dated June 27, 2012 imposing a penalty aggregating to ₹ 14.70 million alleging absence of an effective internal control system, including penalties for various actions allegedly in violation of certain provisions of the Insurance Act, including, inter alia, increasing stake in a private company and the same being made from life fund, wrongful payments of marketing expenses made to corporate agents, soliciting insurance business from unlicensed individuals and entities, issue of claim cheques in favour of master policy holders of various unorganised affinity groups, and rejection of death claims on the ground of a 90 day waiting period which IRDAI had specifically asked to be excluded previously and ordering our Company to reopen all the 21 claims and settle them within 30 days of receipt of the order. By virtue of our letters to IRDAI dated July 4, 2012, July 12, 2012, July 26, 2012, October 8, 2012 and May 23, 2013, our Company has paid the penalty amount and confirmed compliance with all directions contained in the IRDAI order dated June 27, 2012.

Our Company responded to the show cause notice on October 31, 2013 and pursuant to a personal hearing on January 2, 2014, IRDAI gave its final order on February 11, 2014, advising our Company, inter alia, to put in place systems to comply with the anti-money laundering guidelines issued by IRDAI, reopen and review all transactions involving acceptance of multiple demand drafts to report suspicious transactions, put in place effective procedures to ensure that business is sourced only through licensed specified persons, and confirm compliance of the same within 15 days from February 11, 2014. By virtue of letters dated February 26, 2014 and March 13, 2014 issued by our Company to IRDAI, and by virtue of a letter dated March 12, 2014 by our Company to the Financial Intelligence Unit – India, our Company has confirmed compliance of this order.

IRDAI held that our Company had discriminated in allowing varied death benefits to different blocks of the same class of policyholders (who are paying the same amount of premiums) and directed our Company to provide similar death benefits to all policyholders of such products. The enhanced death benefit provided to policyholders from April 1, 2012 was required to be offered to all policyholders who have opted for such products prior to April 1, 2012, also. Further the cases of death claims since the launch of these products until the issuance of these directions were to be reopened by our Company and the differential amount of death benefit was to be settled within 60 days from September 3, 2013 as if the underlying benefits were for the higher death benefit. Our Company has taken the necessary actions to comply with the directions of the IRDAI and has confirmed compliance to IRDAI by way of our Company's letter dated August 3, 2017 to IRDAI.

The above timetable, other than the Offer Closing Date, is indicative and does not constitute any obligation on our Company or the Selling Shareholders or the Managers. While our Company and the Selling Shareholders shall ensure that all steps for the completion of the necessary formalities for the listing and the commencement of trading of the Equity Shares on the Stock Exchanges are taken within six Working Days from the Offer Closing Date, the timetable may be extended due to various factors, such as extension of the Offer Period by our Company and the Selling Shareholders, revision of the Price Band or any delay in receiving the final listing and trading approval from the Stock Exchanges. The commencement of trading of the Equity Shares will be entirely at the discretion of the Stock Exchanges and in accordance with the applicable laws. The Selling Shareholders confirm that they shall extend reasonable co-operation required by our Company and the Managers for the completion of the necessary formalities for listing and commencement of trading of the Equity Shares (offered by each Selling Shareholder in the Offer) at all Stock Exchanges within six Working Days from the Offer Closing Date.

Offer Closing Date
Submission and revision in Bids	Only between 10.00 a.m. and 3.00 p.m. (IST)

On the Offer Closing Date, the Bids shall be uploaded until:

- (ii) until 5.00 p.m. IST or such extended time as permitted by the Stock Exchanges, in case of Bids by Retail Individual Investors.

On the Offer Closing Date, extension of time may be granted by Stock Exchanges only for uploading Bids received by Retail Individual Investors after taking into account the total number of Bids received and as reported by the Managers to the Stock Exchanges.

It is clarified that Bids not uploaded on the electronic bidding system or in respect of which the full Bid Amount is not blocked by SCSBs would be rejected.

Due to limitation of the time available for uploading the Bids on the Offer Closing Date, Bidders are advised to submit their Bids one day prior to the Offer Closing Date and, in any case, no later than 3.00 p.m. IST on the Offer Closing Date. Bidders are cautioned that, in the event a large number of Bids are received on the Offer Closing Date, as is typically experienced in public offerings, some Bids may not get uploaded due to lack of sufficient time. Such Bids that cannot be uploaded will not be considered for allocation under the Offer. Bids will be accepted only on business days i.e. Monday to Friday (excluding any public/ bank holiday). Our Company, or any of the Selling Shareholders or the members of the Syndicate are not liable for any failure in uploading Bids due to faults in any software/hardware system or otherwise. Any time mentioned in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus is Indian Standard Time.

In case of any discrepancy in the data entered in the electronic book vis-à-vis the data contained in the physical or electronic Bid cum Application Form, for a particular Bidder, the details of the Bid file received from Stock Exchanges may be taken as final data for the purposes of Allotment.

Our Company and the Selling Shareholders, in consultation with the Managers, reserve the right to revise the Price Band during the Offer Period, provided that the Cap Price shall be less than or equal to 120% of the Floor Price and the Floor Price shall not be less than the face value of the Equity Shares. The revision in the Price Band shall not exceed 20% on either side i.e. the Floor Price can move up or down to the extent of 20% of the Floor Price and the Cap Price will be revised accordingly.

In case of revision in the Price Band, the Offer Period shall be extended for at least three additional Working Days after such revision, subject to the Offer Period not exceeding 10 Working Days. Any revision in Price Band, and the revised Offer Period, if applicable, shall be widely disseminated by notification to the Stock Exchanges, by issuing a press release and also by indicating the change on the terminals of the other members of the Syndicate.

Minimum subscription

The requirements for minimum subscription are not applicable in case of the Offer. However, if our Company does not comply with the minimum Allotment requirements as specified under Rule 19(2)(b)(i) of the SCRR, including devolvement of Underwriters, if any, within 60 days from the date of Offer Closing Date, our Company and the Selling Shareholders shall forthwith refund the entire subscription amount received. If there is a delay beyond the prescribed time, our Company and the Selling Shareholders shall pay the requisite interest as prescribed under applicable law.

Further, our Company and the Selling Shareholders shall ensure that the number of prospective Allottees to whom the Equity Shares will be Allotted shall not be less than 1,000 in compliance with Regulation 26(4) of the SEBI Regulations and subject to the provisions of the Depositories Regulations.

Arrangements for disposal of odd lots

Since our Equity Shares will be traded in dematerialised form only, the market lot for our Equity Shares will be one and therefore no arrangements for disposal of odd lots are required.

Restriction on transfer and transmission of shares

Except for (i) the lock-in of the pre-Offer Equity Shares, (ii) the minimum Promoters' contribution, (iii) Anchor Investor lock-in, pursuant to the Offer, (iv) the five-year lock-in, up to March 29, 2021, applicable to 179,539,209 Equity Shares held by Standard Life Mauritius, as imposed by the IRDAI in terms of its letter dated March 30, 2016 as detailed in "Capital Structure" on page 106 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus; (v) the Insurance Act, and the rules and regulations framed thereunder, and (v) as provided in "Main Provisions of our Articles of Association" on page 731 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, there are no restrictions on transfers of Equity Shares. Further, there are no restrictions on transmission of shares/ debentures and on their consolidation/ splitting except as provided in our Articles of Association. For details, please see "Main Provisions of our Articles of Association" on page 731 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

The Insurance Act requires prior approval from the IRDAI where the nominal value of the shares intended to be transferred by any individual, firm, group, constituents of the group, or body corporate under the same management, jointly or severally exceeds 1% of the paid-up share capital of our Company. The Insurance Act also prohibits any transfer of equity shares of an insurer in the event the total paid-up capital held by the transferee is likely to exceed 5% of the paid up share capital of the insurer after the transfer, unless a prior approval has been granted to the acquirer by the IRDAI in this regard. Accordingly, our Company shall not Allot Equity Shares pursuant to the Offer to any Bidder in the event the total post-Offer paid up share capital of our Company held by such Bidder is likely to exceed 5% of the paid up share capital of our Company after Allotment, unless prior approval of the IRDAI has been obtained by the acquirer.

Additionally, IRDAI on August 5, 2016 has issued the Listed Indian Insurance Companies Guidelines, which are applicable to all insurance companies whose equity shares are listed on stock exchanges, and to the allotment/ transfer process pursuant to a public issue. The Listed Insurance Company Guidelines propose, amongst other things, filing of self-certification of fit and proper criteria with the insurer by a person intending to acquire equity shares of an insurer amounting to 1% or more, but less than 5%, of the paid up equity share capital of the insurer, which shall be considered as deemed approval of the IRDAI for purposes of Section 6A(4)(b)(iii) of the Insurance Act. However, if the person proposing to acquire equity shares is likely to result in (i) the aggregate holding of such person, his relatives, associate enterprises and persons acting in concert, increasing to 5% or more of the paid up equity share capital of the insurer or the total voting rights of the insurer, or (ii) the aggregate holding of such person along with the persons acting in concert, increasing to in excess of 10%, each such acquisition would require prior approval of the IRDAI.

Accordingly, Bidders intending to acquire Equity Shares amounting to 1% or more, but less than 5%, of the paid-up equity share capital of our Company pursuant to the Offer would be required to comply with the requirement of self-certification of 'fit and proper' criteria set out on page 681 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. However, in case of Bidders intending to acquire Equity Shares in the Offer such that (i) the aggregate holding of such Bidder, his relatives, associate enterprises and persons acting in concert, would increase to 5% or more of the paid up Equity Share capital of our Company or the total voting rights of our Company, or (ii) the aggregate holding of the investor along with the persons acting in concert, increasing to in excess of 10% of the paid up Equity Share capital of our Company or the total voting rights of our Company, then each such acquisition would require prior approval of the IRDAI. For further details, see "Regulations and Policies" on page 235 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Option to receive Equity Shares in Dematerialised Form

In terms of Section 29 of the Companies Act, 2013, the Allotment of Equity Shares to successful Bidders will only be in the dematerialised form. Bidders will not have the option of Allotment of the Equity Shares in physical form. The Equity Shares on Allotment will be traded only in the dematerialised segment of the Stock Exchanges. In this context, the following agreements have been signed by our Company:

- Agreement dated [●] entered into between NSDL, our Company and the Registrar to the Offer;
- Agreement dated [●] entered into between CDSL, our Company and the Registrar to the Offer; and
- Agreement dated February 26, 2014 entered into between CDSL, our Company and Datamatics Financial Services Limited.

RESTRICTIONS ON FOREIGN OWNERSHIP OF INDIAN SECURITIES

Foreign investment in Indian securities is regulated through the Industrial Policy, 1991 of the Government of India, the FDI Policy, FEMA and circulars and notifications issued thereunder. FEMA regulates the manner in which foreign investment may be made. Specifically, the Insurance Act, read with the Foreign Investment Rules, permit foreign investment in Indian insurance companies, up to 49% of the paid up equity share capital of the company, under the automatic route while ensuring that its ownership and control remains at all times in the hands of resident Indian entities as determined by Department of Financial Services, Government of India and the IRDAI.. The Union Cabinet, as provided in the Cabinet Press Release dated May 24, 2017, has given its approval for phasing out the FIPB and accordingly, the process for FDI and its approval from the Government of India will now be handled by the relevant ministries or departments, in consultation with the DIPP.

The above restrictions on foreign investment in securities of an insurance company are also prescribed under FEMA and notifications issued thereunder. Foreign investments in a life insurance company, up to 49% of the paid up equity share capital of the underlying company, is permitted under the automatic route, subject to verification by the IRDAI. Further, the Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority (Registration of Indian Insurance Companies) Regulations, 2000, provides for calculation of shareholding of foreign investors in an insurer to be the aggregate of the quantum of paid up equity share capital held by the foreign investors (including foreign venture capital investors and foreign portfolio investors) in the insurer and the proportion of the paid up equity share capital held or controlled by such foreign investor(s) either by itself or through its subsidiary companies in the Indian promoter(s) or Indian investor(s) of the insurer, unless the Indian promoter or investor is a banking company other than foreign bank (or a branch of a foreign bank functioning in India) or a public financial institution.. For further details and particulars in this regard, please see the Section titled “Regulations and Policies” on page 235 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

The transfer of shares between an Indian resident and a non-resident does not require the prior approval of the relevant Ministry/ Department of the Government or the RBI, provided that (i) the activities of the investee company are under the automatic route under the FDI Policy and the transfer does not attract the provisions of the Takeover Regulations; (ii) the non-resident shareholding is within the sectoral limits prescribed under the FDI policy; and (iii) the pricing is in accordance with the guidelines prescribed by the SEBI and the RBI.

5.6 BASIS OF ALLOCATION

- (a) The SEBI ICDR Regulations specify the allocation or Allotment that may be made to various categories of Bidders in an Issue depending on compliance with the eligibility conditions. Certain details pertaining to the percentage of Issue size available for allocation to each category is disclosed overleaf of the Bid cum Application Form and in the RHP/ Prospectus. For details in relation to allocation, the Bidder may refer to the RHP/ Prospectus
- (b) Under-subscription in any category (except QIB Category) is allowed to be met with spill-over from any other category or combination of categories at the discretion of the Issuer and the Selling Shareholders in consultation with the Lead Managers and the Designated Stock Exchange and in accordance with the SEBI ICDR Regulations. Unsubscribed Category in QIB Category is not available for subscription to other categories.
- (c) In case of under-subscription in the Issue, spill-over to the extent of such under-subscription may be permitted from the Reserved Category to the Net Issue. For allocation in the event of an under-subscription applicable to the Issuer, Bidders/ Applicants may refer to the RHP.
- (d) Illustration of the Book Building and Price Discovery Process

Bidders should note that this example is solely for illustrative purposes and is not specific to the Issue; it also excludes Bidding by Anchor Investors.

Bidders can bid at any price within the Price Band. For instance, assume a Price Band of ₹ 20 to ₹ 24 per share, Issue size of 3,000 Equity Shares and receipt of five Bids from Bidders, details of which are shown in the table below. The illustrative book given below shows the demand for the Equity Shares of the Issuer at various prices and is collated from Bids received from various investors.

Bid Quantity	Bid Amount (₹)	Cumulative Quantity	Subscription
500	24	500	16.67%
1,000	23	1,500	50.00%
1,500	22	3,000	100.00%
2,000	21	5,000	166.67%
2,500	20	7,500	250.00%

The price discovery is a function of demand at various prices. The highest price at which the Issuer is able to Issue the desired number of Equity Shares is the price at which the book cuts off, i.e., 22.00 in the above example. The Issuer, in consultation with the Lead Managers, may finalise the Issue Price at or below such Cut-Off Price, i.e., at or below 22.00. All Bids at or above the Issue Price and cut-off Bids are valid Bids and are considered for allocation in the respective categories.

(e) Alternate Method of Book Building

In case of FPOs, Issuers may opt for an alternate method of Book Building in which only the Floor Price is specified for the purposes of Bidding (“Alternate Book Building Process”).

The Issuer may specify the Floor Price in the RHP or advertise the Floor Price at least one Working Day prior to the Bid/Issue Opening Date. QIBs may Bid at a price higher than the Floor Price and the Allotment to the QIBs is made on a price priority basis. The Bidder with the highest Bid Amount is allotted the number of Equity Shares Bid for and then the second highest Bidder is Allotted Equity Shares and this process continues until all the Equity Shares have been allotted. RIBs, NIBs are Allotted Equity Shares at the Floor Price and Allotment to these categories of Bidders is made proportionately. If the number of Equity Shares Bid for at a price is more than available quantity then the Allotment may be done on a proportionate basis. Further, the Issuer may place a cap either in terms of number of specified securities or percentage of issued capital of the Issuer that may be Allotted to a single Bidder, decide whether a Bidder be allowed to revise the bid upwards or downwards in terms of price and/ or quantity and also decide whether a Bidder be allowed single or multiple bids.

SECTION 6: ISSUE PROCEDURE IN FIXED PRICE ISSUE

Applicants may note that there is no Bid cum Application Form in a Fixed Price Issue. As the Issue Price is mentioned in the Fixed Price Issue therefore on filing of the Prospectus with the RoC, the Application so submitted is considered as the application form.

Applicants may only use the specified Application Form for the purpose of making an Application in terms of the Prospectus which may be submitted through the Designated Intermediary.

Applicants may submit an Application Form either in physical form to any of the Designated Intermediaries or in the electronic form to the SCSB or the Designated SCSB Branches of the SCSBs authorising blocking of funds that are available in the bank account specified in the Application Form only (“ASBA Account”). The Application Form is also made available on the websites of the Stock Exchanges at least one day prior to the Bid/Issue Opening Date.

In a fixed price Issue, allocation in the net issue to the public category is made as follows: minimum fifty per cent to Retail Individual Bidders; and remaining to (i) individual investors other than Retail Individual Bidders; and (ii) other Applicants including corporate bodies or institutions, irrespective of the number of specified securities applied for. The unsubscribed portion in either of the categories specified above may be allocated to the Applicants in the other category.

For details of instructions in relation to the Application Form, Bidders may refer to the relevant section of the GID.

SECTION 7: ALLOTMENT PROCEDURE AND BASIS OF ALLOTMENT

The Allotment of Equity Shares to Bidders other than Retail Individual Bidders and Anchor Investors may be on proportionate basis. For Basis of Allotment to Anchor Investors, Bidders may refer to RHP/ Prospectus. No Retail Individual Bidder is will be Allotted less than the minimum Bid Lot subject to availability of shares in Retail Individual Bidder Category and the remaining available shares, if any will be Allotted on a proportionate basis. The Issuer is required to receive a minimum subscription of 90% of the Net Issue (excluding any Issue for Sale of specified securities). However, in case the Issue is in the nature of Issue for Sale only, then minimum subscription may not be applicable.

7.1 ALLOTMENT TO RIBs

Bids received from the RIBs at or above the Issue Price may be grouped together to determine the total demand under this category. If the aggregate demand in this category is less than or equal to the Retail Category at or above the Issue Price, full Allotment may be made to the RIBs to the extent of the valid Bids. If the aggregate demand in this category is greater than the allocation to in the Retail Category at or above the Issue Price, then the maximum number of RIBs who can be Allotted the minimum Bid Lot will be computed by dividing the total number of Equity Shares available for Allotment to RIBs by the minimum Bid Lot ("Maximum RIB Allottees"). The Allotment to the RIBs will then be made in the following manner:

- (a) In the event the number of RIBs who have submitted valid Bids in the Issue is equal to or less than Maximum RIB Allottees, (i) all such RIBs shall be Allotted the minimum Bid Lot; and (ii) the balance available Equity Shares, if any, remaining in the Retail Category shall be Allotted on a proportionate basis to the RIBs who have received Allotment as per (i) above for the balance demand of the Equity Shares Bid by them (i.e. who have Bid for more than the minimum Bid Lot).
- (b) In the event the number of RIBs who have submitted valid Bids in the Issue is more than Maximum RIB Allottees, the RIBs (in that category) who will then be Allotted minimum Bid Lot shall be determined on the basis of draw of lots.

7.2 ALLOTMENT TO NIBs

Bids received from NIBs at or above the Issue Price may be grouped together to determine the total demand under this category. The Allotment to all successful NIBs may be made at or above the Issue Price. If the aggregate demand in this category is less than or equal to the Non-Institutional Category at or above the Issue Price, full Allotment may be made to NIBs to the extent of their demand. In case the aggregate demand in this category is greater than the Non-Institutional Category at or above the Issue Price, Allotment may be made on a proportionate basis up to a minimum of the Non-Institutional Portion.

7.3 ALLOTMENT TO QIBs

For the Basis of Allotment to Anchor Investors, Bidders may refer to the SEBI ICDR Regulations or RHP / Prospectus. Bids received from QIBs Bidding in the QIB Category (net of Anchor Portion) at or above the Issue Price may be grouped together to determine the total demand under this category. The QIB Category may be available for Allotment to QIBs who have Bid at a price that is equal to or greater than the Issue Price. Allotment may be undertaken in the following manner:

- (a) In the first instance allocation to Mutual Funds for up to 5% of the QIB Category may be determined as follows: (i) In the event that Bids by Mutual Fund exceeds 5% of the QIB Portion, allocation to Mutual Funds may be done on a proportionate basis for up to 5% of the QIB Portion; (ii) In the event that the aggregate demand from Mutual Funds is less than 5% of the QIB Category then all Mutual Funds may get full Allotment to the extent of valid Bids received above the Issue Price; and (iii) Equity Shares remaining unsubscribed, if any and not allocated to Mutual Funds may be available for Allotment to all QIBs as set out at paragraph 7.4(b) below;

- (b) In the second instance, Allotment to all QIBs may be determined as follows: (i) In the event of oversubscription in the QIB Category, all QIBs who have submitted Bids above the Issue Price may be Allotted Equity Shares on a proportionate basis for up to 95% of the QIB Category; (ii) Mutual Funds, who have received allocation as per (a) above, for less than the number of Equity Shares Bid for by them, are eligible to receive Equity Shares on a proportionate basis along with other QIBs; and (iii) Under-subscription below 5% of the QIB Category, if any, from Mutual Funds, may be included for allocation to the remaining QIBs on a proportionate basis.

7.4 ALLOTMENT TO ANCHOR INVESTOR (IF APPLICABLE)

- (a) Allocation of Equity Shares to Anchor Investors at the Anchor Investor Issue Price will be at the discretion of the Issuer and the Selling Shareholders in consultation with the Lead Managers, subject to compliance with the following requirements:
- i. not more than 60% of the QIB Category will be allocated to Anchor Investors;

- (c) The number of Equity Shares to be Allotted to the successful Bidders may be arrived at on a proportionate basis, which is total number of Equity Shares applied for by each Bidder in that category multiplied by the inverse of the over-subscription ratio;
- (d) In all Bids where the proportionate Allotment is less than the minimum Bid Lot decided per Bidder, the Allotment may be made as follows: the successful Bidders out of the total Bidders for a category may be determined by a draw of lots in a manner such that the total number of Equity Shares Allotted in that category is equal to the number of Equity Shares calculated in accordance with (b) above; and each successful Bidder may be Allotted a minimum of such Equity Shares equal to the minimum Bid Lot finalised by the Issuer;

If that number is lower than 0.5 it may be rounded off to the lower whole number. Allotment to all bidders in such categories may be arrived at after such rounding off; and
- (f) If the Equity Shares allocated on a proportionate basis to any category are more than the Equity Shares Allotted to the Bidders in that category, the remaining Equity Shares available for Allotment may be first adjusted against any other category, where the Allotted Equity Shares are not sufficient for proportionate Allotment to the successful Bidders in that category. 40C.4 HDFC and Standard Life will continue to be bound by the provisions of these Articles in relation to any Shares, which they continue to hold in the Company after their divestment of excess shareholding, is completed.

Alterations in share capital

40D.1 Subject to Article 40D.2, if the Company issues further share capital at any time for any reason including for reasons indicated in Article 40D.4, subject to the necessary approval of the Authority as may be necessary, the same shall be offered and allotted to the then existing Shareholders in the same proportion as existed prior to such further issue so that the shareholdings of Standard Life Group and of HDFC Group in the capital of the Company shall remain in the ratio between the two Groups existing prior to such issue PROVIDED HOWEVER if for any reason any HDFC Group member which is a Shareholder or any Standard Life Group member which is a Shareholder is unable or unwilling to take up all or part of its pro-rata entitlement then unless Standard Life and HDFC and the Company otherwise agree or the Authority otherwise directs them in each such case to the extent permitted by the Authority:-

40D.1.1 such entitlement to the extent is not taken up may be taken up by any other member of the same Group as was unable or unwilling to such take entitlement;

- 40D.1.2 HDFC or the Standard Life Group Shareholder as the case may be may nominate subscribers for such of its Group's entitlement not previously taken up, such nominees to be approved (in the case of shares not being taken by any HDFC Group Company) by Standard Life and (in the case of shares not being taken up by any Standard Life Group Company), by HDFC, any such approval not to be unreasonably withheld or unreasonably delayed;
- 40D.1.3 any entitlement not taken up pursuant to preceding provisions of this Article 40D.1.3 may be taken up by the members of the same Group as the party, which was entitled to give or withhold its approval pursuant to Article 40D.1.2;
- 40D.1.4 any shares not so subscribed for within 90 days of the date of their being first offered as aforesaid shall be offered by the Company first to other holders of shares in the capital of the Company (if any) pro-rata to their holdings of Shares, any surplus to be allocated between them in the case of competition pro-rata as aforesaid; and
- 40D.1.5 any shares not so subscribed for within 60 days of the date of the offer to other Shareholders as described in Article 40D.1.4 shall be offered to such third parties as the Company, HDFC and Standard Life may agree in writing.
- 40D.2 If any Authority at any time requires HDFC Group and Standard Life Group or either of them to reduce their aggregate percentage shareholding in the Company, this shall be achieved by a transfer of Shares and the transfer provisions of these Articles will apply, insofar as they are consistent with the requirements of the Authority. To the extent that the Authority requires reduction of any Shareholders' aggregate percentage shareholding in the Company to be achieved by an increase in the Share capital of the Company, subject to the provisions of Article 40D.1, then (unless otherwise agreed by HDFC and Standard Life) if and to the extent so permitted by the Authorities this shall be achieved by an increase in the issued share capital of the Company and this be offered by the Company by private placement (and to the extent this is not possible by a general offer of shares to the public) for subscription at par (or at such greater price as the Authorities may permit and as may be agreed between HDFC, Standard Life and the Company) to a third party as may be agreed by the parties in writing, such price to be payable in full at the time of application of such number of Shares as is necessary to achieve such reduction, PROVIDED THAT
- 40D.2.1 to the extent permitted by the Authorities any such Group Company Shareholder as is so required to reduce its percentage holding shall be entitled to nominate subscribers (such person(s) if not members of its own Group to be approved by HDFC and Standard Life, such approval not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed) for such percentage of shares on offer as its then holding constitutes of the shares in issue immediately prior to such offer (and so that for example if Standard Life held 40 per cent of the shares in issue immediately prior to such offer and 200 shares were offered then Standard Life could so nominate subscribers for 80 shares);
- 40D.2.2 if and to the extent the Authorities require such reduction to be achieved by the sale of Shares each shall make available (pro-rata to its Group's then holding of Shares) for sale to such person or persons as each may nominate in respect of its Group's own holding (such person(s) if not members of its own Group to be approved by HDFC, if pertaining to Standard Life Group, or Standard Life, if pertaining to HDFC Group, such approval not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed) such number of Shares as may be necessary to achieve such reduction at such price and on such other terms as the Authorities may permit;
- 40D.2.3 if and to the extent the Authorities so permit any entitlement to Shares or unissued Shares not taken up pursuant to Articles 40D.2.1 or 40D.2.2 may be taken up by (A) members of the HDFC Group where the said Shares are not taken up by members of the Standard Life Group for any reason and (B) members of the Standard Life Group where the said shares are not taken up by members of the HDFC Group for any reason;
- 40D.2.4 to the extent Shares are not purchased within 100 days of the date of their being made available pursuant Article 40D.2.1 or 40D.2.2 then subject to any requirement imposed by the Authorities in their respect such unsold Shares shall be deemed to be the subject of a Sale Notice given on the last day of such 100 day period at the best price that the Authorities permit; such unsold Shares shall constitute “Offer Shares” for the purposes of Article 40F (such best price being the Vendor Price for the purposes of Articles 40F.4 and 40H), and the remaining provisions of Article 40F relating to Voluntary Transfers applying to such Shares (and for the avoidance of doubt neither any HDFC Group members nor any Standard Life Group members may be offered or may accept any Shares made available pursuant to the provisions of this Article 40D.2.4 without the prior agreement of both HDFC and Standard Life).

- 40D.3 Where at any time and from time to time Article 40D.2 applies and any HDFC Group member or any Standard Life Group member is required by any Authority to divest or otherwise reduce its percentage shareholding in the Company (and whether the same shall be effected by the selling of Shares or the failure to take up shares available for subscription or Shares available for purchase) HDFC and Standard Life shall (unless they and the Company otherwise agree) at the earliest opportunity after such divestment or other reduction and subject to the Authorities permitting the same, a member of the Group (which Group had to so divest or reduce) which hold Shares shall be entitled to be offered for subscription and/or purchase (and/or shall not be required to reduce its holding of Shares) and if appropriate to acquire such number of Shares as would following such acquisition or other event result in its Group’s holding such percentage of the issued share capital of the Company as such Group held before such requirement was imposed by the Authorities. For the avoidance of doubt any entitlement hereunder shall be cumulative.

40D.4 Financing

If and to the extent that share subscription money and the Company’s revenues prove or are considered likely to prove insufficient for meeting any solvency requirements imposed or to be imposed by any Authority to any working capital requirements then subject to the provisos to this Article 40D.4, HDFC and Standard Life shall endeavour to agree whether additional finance should be provided by way of further subscription for shares in the capital of the Company and/or (if then permitted by law) share capital not conferring voting rights at general meetings of the Company (where by way of themselves subscribing, public subscription or otherwise) and/or loans from the parties and/or by way of bank or other borrowing PROVIDED THAT notwithstanding the above:

40D.4.1 no party shall be under an obligation to provide or produce such additional finance;

40D.4.2 if and to the extent either Standard Life or HDFC wishes such additional finance to be provided by way of further subscription for shares as aforesaid then all the parties shall vote in favour of all necessary resolutions of the Company as the case may require to approve any increase in authorised share capital and any issue of shares in the capital of the Company (such shares being issued on such terms and with such rights as Standard Life / HDFC and the Company may agree) and any other resolution necessary to enable the same to be issued, and if and to the extent HDFC Group does not take up any HDFC Group member’s entitlement to such new shares the Standard Life Group member or members holding Shares may do so on the same terms and vice versa.

HDFC indemnity and guarantee to transfers

- 40E.1 For so long as HDFC has a greater percentage of shares than Standard Life; and HDFC wishes to transfer Shares in the Company after the Lock-In Period or there is a requirement to transfer shares, as a consequence of an Event of Default or requirements of the Authority for divestment, and Standard Life does not exercise:

- (a) its Bring-along Rights, as set out in Article 40G,
- (b) the pre-emption rights under the “Transfer of Shares” Article, Article 40F, and subject always to the requirements for divestment and alterations in share capital as set out in Articles 40C and 40D, HDFC shall procure that such third party transferee to which HDFC (or any member of HDFC Group), transfers Shares (“Guaranteed Transferee”) will be bound by the terms of these Articles as a Shareholder to the same extent and with the same rights and obligations of HDFC (or the HDFC Group as the case may be) and will, prior to any transfer of shares, procure that such transferee enter into a Deed of Adherence as set out in the Schedule to comply with all of HDFC’s (or the HDFC Group as the case may be) obligations under these Articles and that a copy of such Deed of Adherence be delivered to the Company and the other Shareholders.

TRANSFER OF SHARES

40F.1 No Transfer

40F.1.1 It is recognised that the Company being a public limited company is not by law a company with restrictions on transfers of shares. Nevertheless, HDFC, Standard Life and the Company have reached a common agreement and understanding that in good faith they will adhere to and comply with these Articles to restrict transfers of shares held in the Company.

40F.1.2 Subject to requirements of divestment, the Lock-in Period and Article 40F.2 below, and subject to the permission or license of the Authority, no sale, transfer, pledge, charge or other disposition of any Share shall be effected without the prior written consent of the HDFC Group and the Standard Life Group.

40F.1.3 No Shareholder will, and the Company will not approve to sell, transfer, mortgage, charge or encumber or otherwise dispose of any Share or other share, or any interest therein, except in accordance with the provisions of these Articles.

Nothing contained herein or under any other clause to the contrary contained in these Articles shall be deemed to restrict the HDFC Employees Welfare Trust from transferring such number of shares to such employees of HDFC and at such times as the Trust may determine, provided however that such transfer of shares shall not be registered in the records of the Company without the prior approval of the Board of Directors or its Committee formed for this purpose.

Nothing contained herein or under any other clause to the contrary contained in these Articles shall be deemed to restrict the HDFC Standard Life Employees Stock Option Trust from transferring such number of shares to such employees of HDFC Standard Life Insurance Company Limited and at such times as the Trust may determine, provided however that such transfer of shares shall not be registered in the records of the Company without the prior approval of the Board of Directors or its Committee formed for this purpose.

40F.2 Inter-Group Transfer

40F.2.1 Subject to the provisions of Articles 40A and B, any member of a Group may at any time after the Lock-In Period and from time to time (i.e. after the Lock-In Period), transfer any of the Shares registered in its name (the “Transferring Group Company”) to another member of the same Group (“Group Transferee”), provided that such Transferring Group Company will ensure that any Group Transferee who acquires the Shares in the Company pursuant to the provisions of this clause after the Lock-In Period, shall not do so without first executing a Deed of Adherence whereby such person agrees to become bound by the terms of these Articles, and each reference in these Articles to the Group Transferee were a reference also to it.

40F.2.2 The Transferring Group Company shall not be in any way relieved from any of its obligations and liabilities under these Articles and shall procure that such Transferring Group Company observes and performs all the provisions of these Articles and will indemnify and hold harmless the other parties from and against any breach, non-observance or non performance by the Transferring Group Company of any of such provisions.

40F.2.3 If the Group Transferee shall cease to be a Subsidiary of the Transferring Group Company at any time, then the Transferring Group Company will procure that the Group Transferee forthwith transfers back to the Transferring Group Company or other Subsidiary within the relevant Group, all of its Shares (or other shares in the share capital of the Company at the relevant time) free and clear of all Security Interests.

40F.2.4 Notwithstanding any other provision in these Articles if at any time HDFC itself holds Shares or another HDFC Group member holds Shares HDFC shall hold at least five per cent of the Shares then in issue, subject always to the requirement of the Authority, and at no time may Shares be held by more than four HDFC Group members (or such higher number as may be agreed between HDFC and Standard Life) at any one time in addition to HDFC.

40F.2.5 Notwithstanding any other provision in these Articles if at any time Standard Life itself holds Shares or other Standard Life Group member holds Shares, Standard Life shall hold at least five per cent of the Shares then in issue at any time subject always to the requirement of the Authority and at no time may Shares be held by more than four Standard Life Group Members or such higher number as may be agreed between HDFC and Standard Life) at any one time in addition to Standard Life.

40F.2.6 Where a right or obligation under these Articles is exercisable by a Standard Life Group member and more than one such member holds Shares, (or other shares in the Company at the relevant time) the relevant right will be exercisable by such Standard Life Group member as Standard Life may at any time and from time to time notify the Board of the Company in writing.

40F.2.7 Where a right or obligation under these Articles is exercisable by an HDFC Group member and more than one such member holds Shares, (or other shares in the Company at the relevant time) the relevant right will be exercisable by such HDFC Group member as HDFC may at any time and from time to time notify the Board of the Company in writing.

40F.3 Transfer Procedure

40F.3.1 At the end of the Lock-in Period, if at any time a Shareholder wishes to transfer Shares (other than to another member of the same Group) or a Default Notice is served by a Shareholder, such Shareholder (the “Vendor”) may cause to be issued and given to the Board a notice in writing (a “Sale Notice”) offering for sale any of the Shares (or all of the Shares in the case of a Default Notice) for sale held by its Group (the “Offer Shares”). Once given, a Sale Notice may not be withdrawn without the consent of HDFC and Standard Life. A Sale Notice will constitute the Board as the agent of the Vendor for the sale of the Offer Shares either at the price per Share which is the “Vendor Price” or (as the case may require) at the price per share which is the Sale Price determined in accordance with Article 40F.4 and 40H.

40F.3.2 Within 21 days of receiving the Sale Notice the Board as agent of the Vendor shall give a notice (the “Offer Notice”) to all the other Shareholders who are not members of the same Group as the Vendor (provided such Shareholders have not served a still current Sale Notice in respect of their own shareholding). The Offer Notice shall specify the Vendor Price or the Sale Price (as the case may require) and shall offer to its recipients the right to acquire the Offer Shares as nearly as may be in proportion to the numbers of Shares (or other shares in the share capital of the Company at the relevant time) already held by them respectively and shall further invite each recipient to state in its reply the number of additional shares (if any) in excess of its proportion which it desires to purchase (“Claims for Additional Shares”).

40F.3.3 The Offer Notice shall limit the time within which the offer if not accepted shall be deemed to be declined PROVIDED THAT the time fixed in the said notice shall not be less than 28 days nor more than 35 days (the “Prescribed Period”). Within the time stated in the Offer Notice the recipient shall be entitled to accept the said offer at the price therein stated being the Sale Price or the Vendor Price (as the case may be) and an offer to such recipient shall be deemed to be accepted by its offeree on the day notice of acceptance is received by the Board.

40F.3.4 If and to the extent the Offer Shares have not been accepted in full by any eligible Shareholder in respect of its respective proportions, the Offer Shares not so accepted shall be used to satisfy the Claims for Additional Shares by the remaining Shareholders as nearly as may be in proportion to the number of shares already held by them. In the event of competition for the Offer Shares, such Offer Shares shall not be capable of being offered without fractions thereof being offered to the members in proportion to their existing holdings. The Share or Shares which constitute such fractions (“Fractional Entitlement”) shall be offered by the Board in turn to each Shareholder who applied for such additional Offer Shares in the order such person was registered (in terms of chronology) as a Shareholder until all such Shares are accepted for purchase PROVIDED THAT on each subsequent occasion a Fractional Entitlement arises it shall be first offered to the Shareholder who was next in time registered as a Shareholder after the Shareholder who was first offered the last Fractional Entitlement to arise.

40F.3.5 Subject to Article 40D, where a Shareholder cannot take up an entitlement to Shares offered pursuant to this Article by reason of any Authority he can allocate his entitlement to any other person subject to the consent of HDFC and Standard Life, (such consent not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed) and the provisions of this Article shall be construed accordingly. For the avoidance of doubt, allocation to any other person as envisaged by this Article creates an absolute right for the third party and does not create a benami trust.

40F.3.6 Within five days of the notice of any valid acceptance of Offer Shares being received by the Board the Board shall so notify the Vendor and a purchase of the relevant Offer Shares must be completed within 21 days of such notification. The Board can appoint, if it in its absolute discretion shall think fit, a person as an attorney to act as attorney for any defaulting Vendor or for any defaulting proposed purchaser to complete such transaction if any sale agreed to be made pursuant to this Article would not otherwise be so completed.

40F.3.7 Subject to Articles 40C and 40D, any Offer Shares shall be offered by the Board at the Vendor Price or the Sale Price (as the case may be) to third parties within 14 days of non-acceptance or deemed non- acceptance under Article 40F.3. If and to the extent such Shares are not purchased within 28 days of the expiry of such 14 day period or, if Article 40F.3.4 applies, within 100 days of such election, the Vendor shall be free to offer the same to any third party at the Vendor Price or the Sale Price (as the case may be). Any such remaining Shares as are so offered must be sold and purchased within three months of the expiry of such 28 day or 100 day period (as the case may be). For the avoidance of doubt, in the event that the Shareholders do not exercise their rights to take up the Shares offered in the Offer Notice any Offer Shares offered to the third parties, must be so offered at the same Vendor Price or Sale Price, as the case may be. If not so sold the right to sell such remaining Shares pursuant to the relevant Sale Notice shall lapse. The Directors shall be obliged to register any such transfer to third parties subject to the transfer being of fully paid Shares and to the satisfaction of the other preconditions for the registration of share transfers as set out in the Articles which are expressly stated to apply notwithstanding the provisions of this Article 40F.

40F.4 Sale and Vendor Price

40F.4.1 Where a transfer does not result from the service of a Default Notice (and is thus a “Voluntary Transfer”) the Vendor may specify a price for each of the Offer Shares (the “Vendor Price”) which price shall be the relevant price per Share for the purposes of the relevant Offer Notice.

40F.4.2 Where a Sale Notice and Offer Notice are served or deemed served in a Voluntary Transfer specifying the Vendor Price, and if any of the Shareholders on whom the Offer Notice is served do not accept the Vendor Price, these Shareholders may, within the Prescribed Period and at their cost (the “Disputing Shareholder”) appoint an actuary independent of the Disputing Shareholder and the Vendor to prepare an Appraisal Value in respect of the Company at the cost of the Disputing Shareholder. Subject as follows the price per Share will be an amount equal to such Appraisal Value determined as at the date on which the relevant Offer Notice was given such amount being pro rated equally between all the Shares then in issue so as to give the price per Offer Share.

40F.4.3 If such actuary is not so agreed or does not accept such appointment within 14 days of the date of service of the relevant Offer Notice then such actuary (“the First Actuary”) shall be such person as may be nominated at the request of the Board but at the cost of the Disputing Shareholder by the President for the time being of the Faculty of Actuaries or Institute of Actuaries in the UK or the Society of Actuaries of the United States of America, or any successor body thereof.

40F.4.4 The First Actuary shall then report in writing to his appointers and the Board as to the price per Share. If either the Disputing Shareholder or the Vendor advise the Board within 15 days of the receipt of such valuation from the First Actuary that he objects or that they object to such price then a second independent actuary must be agreed or appointed and the provisions set out above in respect of the appointment of the first independent actuary shall apply mutatis mutandis in respect of such second actuary (“the Second Actuary”) SAVE THAT the price per Share will then be the average between the valuation of the First Actuary and the valuation of the Second Actuary.

40F.4.5 Where a Sale Notice is subject of this Article 16.4 the Directors shall delay the giving of the relevant Offer Notice until such actuarial valuation is received or any period of time stated during which such actuarial valuation can be objected to shall have expired.

40F.4.6 Any actuary appointed for the purposes of this Article 40F.4 shall be given full access to the books, records, accounts, actuarial computations, internal actuarial investigations and calculations and internal records of the Company and shall be entitled (to the extent he wishes) to receive representations from the Disputing Shareholder, any Vendor and the Board.

40F.4.7 Where a Transfer arises from the service of a Default Notice, the Sale Price will apply as calculated under the terms of Article 40H.

40F.5 Miscellaneous Transfer Provisions

40F.5.1 Where Shares may be offered to third parties pursuant to this Article 40F and Article 40H and 40I then, if at least one HDFC Director and at least one Standard Life Director so agree, any prospective bona fide third party purchaser and/or his agents and advisers will be entitled to examine (purely for the purposes of determining whether or not to acquire all or some of such Shares), books, records, accounts, actuarial computations, internal actuarial investigations and calculations of the Company subject to giving appropriate confidentiality undertakings to the Company.

40F.5.2 The Board shall register the transfer of any Shares made pursuant to the above provisions (and consistent with Article 40H and 40I) and shall ensure that all transfers be of fully paid Shares (or other shares as relevant), that any other requirements referred to in these Articles are satisfied and that the other formalities relating to the registration of transfers as set out in the Articles in relation to transfer of shares in the share capital of the Company are satisfied.

40F.5.3 Any Shares sold and transferred pursuant to these Articles shall be sold free of all Security Interests.

40F.5.4 No further Shares will be issued to HDFC Trust or HSLIC Trust unless a further class of non-voting shares is created and any further shares to be issued to HDFC Trust or HSLIC Trust will be from this new class of non-voting shares.

40G. Bring-Along and Restrictions By The Authority

40G.1 After the Lock-in Period, in the event that HDFC or any member of the HDFC Group wishes to, or is required by the Authority to transfer any of its Shares and Standard Life cannot exercise its rights to acquire any Shares under the transfer provisions of these Articles because of restrictions placed on Standard Life by the Authority or any other regulatory or governmental authority, HDFC Group may transfer and the Company will, notwithstanding any other provisions contained in these Articles but subject to any rights of any other Shareholders to acquire any pro-rated Shares, procure that the Board will approve the transfer of Shares in the Company for sale in terms of this Article 40G, in accordance with the following provisions:

40G.1.1 the relevant HDFC Group member may accept a bona fide offer (the “Bring-along Offer”) from a third party (the “Proposed Bring-along Purchaser”) for the purchase of any of the legal and beneficial interest in all Shares (or shares) owned by it in the Company for a consideration payable in cash without any deferred consideration terms and otherwise on arm’s length terms so long as the acceptance is conditional upon the terms of this Article being complied with in all respects and that condition is not waived by Standard Life.

40G.1.2 the HDFC Group member may complete a purchase pursuant to the Offer if:

40G.1.2.1 it dispatches a notice within 30 days of accepting the Bring-along Offer notifying Standard Life of the main terms of the Bring-along Offer and that it has contracted to accept the Bring-along Offer as permitted by this Article 40G, such notice to constitute a warranty and representation by the HDFC Group member to Standard Life that the Bring-along Offer and the HDFC Group member’s acceptance of it is bona fide in all respects to the best of the HDFC Group member’s knowledge, information and belief;

40G.1.2.2 the Proposed Bring-along Purchaser has made a binding written offer to Standard Life to purchase all its Shares at the same price per share and on terms that in the reasonable opinion of Standard Life are not worse than those in the Bring-along Offer that is kept open for at least 30 days from delivery of the notice sent by the HDFC Group member to Standard Life, and payment of the purchase consideration on completion is guaranteed by a reputable bank if this is requested by Standard Life; and 40G.1.2.3 the period mentioned in Article 40G.1.2.2 has elapsed or Standard Life has accepted or completed the offer made to it.

and HDFC and Standard Life shall procure that the Board approves such transfers as agreed in the Bring-Along Offer.

40G.2 In the event that a Default Notice is served on the HDFC Group and Standard Life cannot acquire all of the relevant HDFC Shares subject to a Default Notice, because of restrictions placed by the Authority or otherwise, Standard Life may, at its opinion elect that the HDFC Group member will (a) find a Proposed Bring- along Purchaser to sell the Shares held by the HDFC Group member and Standard Life at the Sale Price within 48 days of the Default Notice and at such price as is determined under Article 40H.2, (all as determined by Article 40H) or (b) agree to transfer its Shares to a third party nominated by Standard Life for such of Standard Life Group’s entitlement which it is unable to take up (in terms of Article 40F.3.4).

40H. TRANSFER OF SHARES ON DEFAULT

40H.1 Where a Sale Notice is served or deemed served pursuant to a Default Notice then, to the extent the Offer Shares are not taken up in accordance with the procedure in Articles 40F.3.1 to 40F.5 (inclusive), the Shareholder which served the Default Notice (“the Giver”) must no later than the expiry of 28 days itself purchase (or find third parties which shall purchase) within such period all the remaining Sale Shares at the Sale Price and if it shall fail to do so the Sale Notice shall lapse and be of no further effect and the Shareholder who gave or who was deemed to have given such Sale Notice shall not be required to sell any of the remaining Shares registered in its name pursuant to such Default Notice.

40H.2 Subject as follows the price per Share subject of any Offer Notice, which is issued or deemed to be issued as a result of any Default Notice shall be calculated as follows (such price being the Sale Price).

40H.2.1 On each occasion that a Default Notice is served the Shareholder serving the Default Notice (“the Giver”) and the person on whom such Default Notice is served (“the Defaulter”) shall appoint an actuary independent of the Giver and the Defaulted to prepare an Appraisal Value in respect of the Company at the cost of the Defaulter.

Subject as follows the price per Share shall be an amount equal to such Appraisal Value determined as at the date on which the relevant Default Notice was given such amount being pro rated equally between all the Shares then in issue as to give the price per Offer Share.

40H.2.2 If such actuary is not agreed or does not accept such appointment within 14 days of the date of service of the relevant Default Notice then such actuary ("the First Actuary") shall be such person as may be nominated at the request of the Board but at the cost of the Defaulter by the President for the time being of the Faculty of Actuaries or Institute of Actuaries in the United Kingdom or the Society of Actuaries of the United States of America or any successor body thereof.

40H.2.3 The First Actuary shall then report in writing to his appointers and the Board as to the price per Share. If either the Defaulter or the Giver advise the Board within 15 days of the receipt of such valuation from the First Actuary that he objects or that they object to such price then a second independent actuary must be agreed or appointed and the provisions set out above in respect of the appointment of the first independent actuary shall apply mutatis mutandis in respect of such second actuary ("the Second Actuary") SAVE THAT the price per Share will then be the average between the valuation of the First Actuary and the valuation of the Second Actuary.

40H.2.4 Where a Sale Notice is subject of this Article 40H the Directors shall delay the giving of the relevant Offer Notice until such actuarial valuation is received or any period of time stated during which such actuarial valuation can be objected to shall have expired.

40H.3 Any actuary appointed for the purposes of Article 40H shall be given full access to the books, records, accounts, actuarial computations, internal actuarial investigations and calculations and internal records of the Company shall be entitled (to the extent he wishes) to receive representations from the Defaulter, any Giver and the Board.

40H.4 A copy of any Default Notice shall be sent to the Board at the registered office of the Company at the same time as it is sent to the party to whom it is addressed. Such Default Notice if not invalid, shall be deemed to be a notice to transfer Shares given by the Shareholders to whom it is addressed on the date immediately prior to the date or occurrence of the relevant event prompting the Default Notice by the holder of the Shares which is a member of the Group to which the party or parties to whom it is addressed belong. The provisions of Article 40F shall then apply as if the transfer was not a voluntary transfer and Provided Always That for the purposes of the remaining applicable provisions of Article 40F, time shall run in respect of such deemed notice to transfer Shares as from and excluding the date the said copy of the relevant Default Notice is so received by the Board.

40H.5 In the event of restrictions by the Authority existing so that Standard Life may not be able to acquire any Shares divested by HDFC or any Shares created for allotment as part of and as a consequence of the divestment process to reduce any Shareholder's percentage of Shares in the Company, the provisions of Article 40H.2 will apply.

Events of default and transfer of shares after Lock-in period

40I.1 Either HDFC or Standard Life may:

40I.1.1 give a notice ("Default Notice") as specified in these Articles which may be served as set out in this Article 40I which stipulates the Defaulter and the event to which default is being applied. The giving of a Default Notice is without prejudice to any other provisions of these Articles relating to termination of share ownership and (as the case may be) any other rights, which any person may have in respect of the circumstances giving rise to such notice being given;

40I.1.2 give three months notice after the lock-in period, of its desire to transfer its shares, in which case if the transferring party is HDFC, the parties will comply with the transfer provisions of Article 40F, and the Bring-along Rights as set out in Article 40G, if applicable, to transfer the Shares at the Vendor Price.

40I.2 A Default Notice may be served by HDFC on Standard Life if:

40I.2.1 either Standard Life or any other Standard Life Group Shareholder shall commit any material breach or persistent breach of any term of the Shareholder Agreement and these Articles and fails to remedy such material breach within 30 days after the receipt of a request in writing from HDFC to so do;

40I.2.2 either Standard Life or any other Standard Life Group members which is then a Shareholder:

40I.2.2.1 has (as the case may be) a receiver, judicial factor, administrator or administrative receiver (if relevant) or person with equivalent powers appointed over the whole or any material part of its undertaking or assets; or

40I.2.2.2 (if relevant) passes an effective resolution for its own or has a winding up order made in respect of it by a court of competent jurisdiction and such order has become final; or

40I.2.2.3 enters into a composition or other voluntary arrangement or scheme of arrangement with its creditors generally.

40I.2.2.4 subject to the following as regards the UKICA (as hereinafter defined) transfers its life business under Section 49 and Schedule 2C of the ICA or reduces its contracts under Section 58 of the ICA.
